Spring--It's Wonderful

It's time for the rites of Spring!

The balmy weather is back, giving a lift to living around the Quinte district.

Even the weatherman had an extra contribution to make to the lilting scene this morning.

Showers forecast for the area today will not materialize, the duty forecaster at Trenton predicted.

Instead, weekend weather will continue mild with temperatures ranging through the mid-50s up to 60.

The balminess finally breaks the bonds of winter and with it district dwellers begin dipping into activities with a new vigor.

For some, it means a chance to clear the debris of another long winter from the domestic scene.

For others, the catalogues come out and the back lot, at last laid bare of winter's snow, is surveyed for another seeding season.

There's still ice on the Bay but this won't prevent boatsmen turning out for painting and touch-up chores.

Not that you need a whole waterway to navigate around.

There's always the ponds and pools suddenly formed overnight to sail your boat — or just splash around in and dream.

This of course, is for the youngsters — as is the opening of neighborhood ice-cream stands.

But then, Spring itself is the symbol of youth.

Auto Safety Rules Appealed to Court

DETROIT (AP) — All four major U.S. automakers filed suits in federal court Friday challenging three of the government's new safety standards for 1968 cars.

The auto-makers asked the 8th U.S. circuit court of appeals at Cincinnati to throw out the passenger impact protection standard. American Motors Corp. also challenged two others.

Key target of the industry is the standard setting specifications for equipment in the area of a passenger's head, knees and legs.

The standard is aimed at reducing the chances of a passenger being injured in an accident.

General Motors and Ford said they could not meet the standard.

"If the standard is not revised, Ford will be unable to produce automobiles for sale in the United States after Dec. 31, 1967—when the standard takes effect," Ford said.

Chrysler, which was the first to file in Friday's flurry of suits, said it would "suffer irrevocable harm" if forced to attempt to comply with the standard on 1968 cars.

AMC, the second to go to court, attacked two other standards—one requiring changes in door latches and hinges to keep doors from popping open in collisions, the other requiring that cars be built so the steering column can jam backwards no more than three inches even if the car is hit head on.

The national traffic safety agency rejected Thursday virtually all appeals by auto-makers for changes and deletions in the initial federal safety standards. It did grant a public hearing on the controversial interior impact protection standard. The hearing has not been set.

Garrison Asks Canada to Arrest JFK Case Witness

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — District Attorney Jim Garrison has asked Canadian and Texas authorities to arrest two men charged in an incident which Garrison's office says "may or may not be related" to his investigation of the Kennedy assassination.

Garrison telegraphed arrest warrants Friday in Montreal for Gordon Novel and in Dallas, Tex., for Sergio Arcacha Smith, based on charges of conspiracy to burglarize international bunker in 1961.

Garrison obtained a warrant for Novel's arrest last week as a material witness in the investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

The new charge accused Novel and Arcacha of conspiring with David W. Ferrie to commit simple burglary of a municipal dump in Houma, about 40 miles southwest of New Orleans.

Garrison has alleged that Ferrie, Lee Harvey Oswald and Clay L. Shaw plotted in mid-September, 1963, to kill Kennedy. Oswald and Ferrie are dead. Shaw, 54, a retired New Orleans executive, has been indicted on a charge of conspiring to kill the president.

Special investigator Bill Gurvich on Garrison's staff declined to say whether the burglary conspiracy was linked to an assassination plot.

The warrants for Novel and Arcacha were signed by Judge Thomas Brahney of the criminal district court, who set bond at $5,000 for each. Novel already had a $50,000 bond awaiting him on the warrant for his arrest as a material witness.

"We know where Arcacha is—he's in Dallas—but we are not sure where Novel is at this moment," Gurvich said. "But we expect to extradite them wherever they are."

Arcacha, head of the anti-Castro Cuban Revolutionary Council in New Orleans in 1961, said in Dallas he does not know whether he will fight extradition to New Orleans.

The state charge said the burglary conspiracy occurred between Aug. 1 and Aug. 31, 1961. It alleges that Novel and Arcacha "did wilfully and unlawfully conspire with David W. Ferrie . . . and others, not herein named, to commit simple burglary of a munitions bunker located in Houma, La., in order to obtain explosives and other forms of munitions belonging to Schlumberger Well Services, a corporation authorized to do business in the state of Louisiana."

"Where were you on November 22nd, 1963?"

Peterborough First to See Forces' Tattoo

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — The Canadian Armed Forces Tattoo, the services' principal contribution to Canada's Centennial opened its six-month run here Friday night, after its Trenton dress rehearsals.

The 4,000-seat Memorial Centre was packed for the first public performance of this multi-million-dollar extravanga that between now and Oct. 11 will be presented 142 times in 45 centres from Victoria, B.C., to St. John's, Nfld. An estimated 1,500,000 Canadians are expected to see the display of pageantry that tells the story of 300 years of Canada's military history.

After tonight's second performance here, it's "on the road" in a backbreaking schedule. As many as 1,700 soldiers, sailors and airmen participate in outdoor spectaculars in Victoria, Vancouver, Montreal, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., Quebec City, Ottawa, Toronto and Hamilton. For intermediate stops, the cast is 285.

Arid Aden's Gale Worst in Memory

ADEN (AP) — The worst storm in living memory flooded Aden today, bringing a temporary halt to terrorist activity.

The British port at the entrance to the Red Sea normally is lucky to get one inch of rain annually. Today, the streets were flooded in a depth of three feet and hundreds of shops and homes were inundated. Hundreds of Arab families fled their tin and cardboard homes.

U.S. Truck Firms Plan To Unite With Lockout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The giant Teamsters Union starts taking a strike vote today in its first coordinated showdown with the U.S. trucking industry.

A major segment of the industry threatened to lock out some 200,000 workers if the Teamsters carry out their strategy of striking a few companies at a time.

There will be an "immediate and complete cessation of our operations" in the event of a strike against any firms, said President Frank M. Gordon of Trucking Employers Inc.

Both Gordon and Teamsters officials said they saw little hope of an agreement in their national trucking contract talks during the weekend.

Trucking Employers Inc. represents 1,500 major transcontinental firms that carry about 65 per cent of U.S. truck cargoes.

A shutdown by these companies also would severely crimp another 10,000 smaller firms involved in the negotiations that serve largely as feeder lines between the big firms.

The crisis was the first for the 1,800,000 - member Teamsters Union since its president, James R. Hoffa, went to prison several weeks ago. The outcome could affect political manoeuvering for control of the world's largest union.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis: Southern Ontario will have another mild day today with afternoon temperatures generally in the 50s. An extensive area of showers and scattered thunderstorms covering Michigan and central Ontario is expected to weaken as it spreads southward across the lower Great Lakes. Colder air will drop temperatures throughout northern regions today and Sunday and scattered snowflurries are forecast.

Saskatchewan to Aid Victims of Violence

REGINA (CP) — Legislation providing for compensation for victims of crimes of violence was given third and final reading in the legislature Friday. Government members have said they consider it the first legislation of its type passed in North America.

Based on legislation in effect in two New Zealand states, it sets up a board which would consider applications from persons injured during crimes of violence or their dependents if the victim is killed.

Attorney-General D. V. Heald, who introduced the bill, said Britain and New Zealand currently are the only two countries in the world with similar plans.

Compensation could be paid to persons injured during certain crimes of violence or while trying to arrest offenders.

Tunnel to Montreal Bank Discovered

MONTREAL (CP) — Police, with five persons already in custody, may be seeking others in connection with the discovery of a virtually completed tunnel that led to within inches of a bank vault apparently marked for looting.

Officers said Friday night they did not want to release the names of the four men and one woman now detained. The five may be arraigned Monday on charges of conspiracy and attempted breaking and entering, police said.

The tunnel, 53 feet long and eight feet underground, led from the basement of a house on Trans Island Avenue in the northwestern Montreal district of Snowdon to a branch of the Montreal City and District Savings Bank on Decarie Boulevard, which is a parallel street.

Police closed in on the house Friday, by which time the tunnel had been abandoned and sealed with a fire detector were picked up elsewhere in the city.

"They were quiet people," was the only comment from a family living upstairs in the house, concerning the occupants downstairs.

One report said the burrowing with a big variety of instruments had been going on for eight months. Strange sounds were heard by persons in the basement of the bank.

Police, tipped about an unusually large number of persons seen about the house at 5416 Trans Island, began keeping a constant watch on the premises.

Officials of the bank branch at 5160 Decarie said the vault, which apparently contains strong boxes, was equipped with a modern alarm system that precluded any successful entry by the tunnel-makers.

But with their advancing system of access, measuring three feet high and 2½ feet wide, the diggers finally reached the point where they were able to break through the bank's foundations and drill 12 holes to within inches of the vault's floor.

The Women's Section of the Brighton Curling Club, not to be outdone by the male membership, played a better bonspiel for the district curlers and a couple of Quinte Curling rinks went up to try their luck and sure enough one of them came home with the steaks and the trophy. A rink of Mary Livingston, Jessie Baber, Betty Weymark with Ann Acton as skip won the spiel and in doing so beat a number of the best rinks in the district.

Mrs. Acton was not satisfied with winning that spiel but she took Kate Cook, Patsy Wamboldt, and Vera Fairman to the Trenton Curling Club the next week and came home with the trophy for the Grandmothers and great aunts bonspiel. The shelves on the clubhouse walls are getting heavily loaded with trophies picked up by the men and women curlers of the Quinte Curling Club. Ranks enlarged by Kae Pinder and Ena Corke won prizes at the Brighton spiel.

A rink of Peggy Chalmers, Lorna Bennett, Grace Knowlton with Ann Parsons as skip won the Belle Cleaners trophy, emblematic of the club championship for the Women's Section at the local rink on Friday morning. A rink of Doris Pettercrew, Fern Flintoff, Mary Livingston with Eza Corke as skip was defeated in the final game. Betty Sullivan, Burna Sills, Kate Cook with Hazel Blake as skip won the consolation round. The runners - up were a rink of E. Burgess, Ev Spinelli, Agnes Walker with Kae Pinder as skip. Gwen Monson, Ana Alexander, Jessie Baber with Helen McCorquodale as skip journeyed to Peterborough and came home with the Calvert trophy. A rink of Betty Walmsley, Claire Hopwood - Jones, Barbara Deacon with Betty Weymark as skip won three games at the Filly bonspiel at Peterborough in the vice skips' draw a rink of Jessie Baber, Ena Corke, Betty Gorsline with Kate Cook was all the marbles. It has been a good season for the girls of the club.

The closing exercises of the Quinte Curling Club will open next Monday with a mixed bonspiel and the prize will be the Northern Electric Company trophy. The event is closed next Saturday night with the distribution of prizes and social evening. After that the lockers will be cleaned out, renovations will start and next winter the curlers will come back to a new look in the same old game. The male members will meet on May 10th and close the season with the annual meeting and the election of officers. It has been a grand season and a successful one. Watch for the draw for the mixed spiel.

Hospital Here Operates Within Budget

The Belleville General Hospital is in an excellent financial position and during 1966 operated well within its annual budget approved by the Ontario Hospital Services Commission.

This was the good news heard yesterday by hospital governors as they received last year's annual hospital report.

At the same time it was shown that the Belleville hospital is very close to a three million dollar operation. Last year's hospital budget was $3,039,011 with actual expenditures for the year being $2,985,828.

Hospital costs for 1965 were $2,600,961.

Salaries and wages represented 66 per cent of the hospital's operating expenditures; medical and surgical supplies cost nine per cent, and other supplies and expenses 25 per cent. Eighty-five per cent of the hospital's income came from in-patient services.

The report of last year's board chairman A. McLean Haig emphasized that the hospital's financial affairs were in excellent condition and exceeding administrations during the past year were congratulated in continuing to keep hospital costs well within the budget approved by the OHSC.

Work on the new hospital addition was said reasonably well on schedule, although moving of the laboratory into new quarters will cause a two month delay behind the expected early April date.

Moving of the laboratory into new quarters is necessary to allow the construction of the nurses laboratory building so that work may proceed on the west end of the new building.

The report of the hospital controller, H. C. Mason, showed slightly fewer in-patients at the hospital last year, 102,025 as compared to 104,968 in 1965.

Admissions during the year totalled 9,073 adults and children with a total of 1,062 births. Operations admitted 4,009 per cent were from the city of Belleville, 39 per cent were from the County of Hastings and 13 per cent from other municipalities.

Mr. R. E. Kreps, acting hospital administrator, reported the hospital continued to operate at capacity in all department.

Overcrowding at the hospital continued despite the slightly lower number of patients admitted. The rated bed capacity of the hospital is 258 while the average occupancy for the year was 280. The total of beds set up is 308.

The average length of stay for patients discharged during the year was 11.4.

The total number of births — 1071 — was down from the 1,238 in 1965. The number of operations carried out totalled 3,943, again down from 3,716 in 1965.

Out patient services provided during the year included 30,815 emergency visits, 90 social service; 642 occupational therapy, 7,773 physiotherapy, 2,919 electrocardiography basal metabolism tests, 7; miniature chest X-rays 96; laboratory 2,470, X-ray 8,094, and radio-isotope, 54.

Hospital nurses put in a total of 870,518 hours while other personnel worked 740,825 for a grand total of 1,630,343 hours.

The hospital kitchen was also a busy place with a total of 549,402 meals being served — up 25,365 over the previous year.

New Hospital Continues to Grow

Exterior walls of the new $7,000,000 addition to Belleville General Hospital are fast being filled in, as bricklayers build up west end wall. Extension is reported well on schedule and should be ready for occupancy in November, with final completion in March or April of next year. Present laboratory building in foreground will be demolished to allow final completion of new building.

New Supervisor Of City Parks Is Appointed

The Belleville Parks Board has hired a new supervisor to look after the city's various park properties.

He is Mr. Arthur Southin, formerly parks superintendent at Brockville, who will take up his new duties in Belleville on April 17.

Although his official position will be that of parks supervisor, Mr. Southin in effect will be the assistant to Lloyd Syer, who became director of city parks at the first of the year. At the same time Lloyd Dorsn was named director of recreation and the arena.

The changes in the parks and recreation setup were found necessary because of the city's expanded parks operation and the stepped up recreational program.

The parks board is still looking for a parks gardener but so far there have been no applications for the position.

PLAN NEW FAIR

The first world's fair in the southwestern United States, called HemisFair '68, is to be held at San Antonio, Texas.

Board Officials Scan Annual Report

Hospital Board chairman Harleigh Hamilton (right), with vice-chairman Msgr. J. P. Sullivan, finance chairman J. B. Corke, and Mrs. W. G. Harvey, chairman of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary, check over 1966 report during yesterday's board meeting.

Ambulance Service in Napanee Carried on by Belleville Firm

The Napanee-district is without a home-based ambulance service today after local operators quit at midnight — with the introduction of new provincial licensing regulations.

A Belleville company plans on providing emergency service coverage for the area while the local situation is being sorted out.

Meantime, the owner of a Deseronto service says he will remain in business only to take calls within his town's limits.

The situation was triggered by the new legislation which set operating standards ambulance owners say they cannot afford.

Their response was to sign an agreement to go out of business immediately the new rules became effective today.

In Napanee, spokesmen for M. O. Tierney and Robert Wartman last night said the firms intended sticking by the agreement. In Odessa, Ross A. Jones had a similar reaction. At Tamworth, north of Napanee, Mrs. Gerald Hannah said her husband also intending quitting, although he would help the Belleville company in its coverage.

A spokesman for City Ambulance of Belleville said his company had assured Napanee municipal authorities they would provide service in the town "until they can make some other agreement."

"The company was geared to increased demands and its Belleville-area service would not suffer," he said.

At Deseronto, Peter Morris, who earlier indicated he would join the Lennox and Addington operators in their decision to quit, yesterday admitted he had changed his mind slightly after representations from town councillors.

"I'll take calls for the time being — but only in town, not outside on the highways."

He pointed out there was no other service in Deseronto capable of operating an ambulance and he didn't want to "leave the town stuck."

However, he had assured the Napanee operators he would not run a service in what was considered their territory.

The situation would be discussed at Monday's meeting of Deseronto council, said Mayor Gerald A. Lotz.

Mr. Morris said he had no intention of permanently continuing the service and was not interested in public subsidy.

"I'm not looking for any subsidy. I want to eventually get out of the ambulance business. There's no money in it."

Like Mr. Morris, other ambulance owners are funeral directors and claim they run the emergency service at a loss.

IN MEMORIAM

CRAGG — In loving remembrance of a dear wife and mother Mrs. Lauzal Cragg who passed away April 2, 1964.
There's a void that is haunting as time
There's a voice that we're longing to hear;
There's a smile we'll remember for ever
Though we try to forget every year.
Sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren.

There's a memory fond and true
There's a heart that beats for you
And heartache still for you.
—Lovingly remembered by husband Morley, and daughter Bernice, Mrs. Arnold and family.

POSTE — In loving memory of our beloved mother, Ruby Poste, who passed away April 2, 1962.
Mom left the room the other day
Without a last goodbye,
And in our sad and lonely hearts,
We keep on asking why.
There's just one broken hearted somewhere,
In the path God has planned
We must believe and trust in Him,
And someday we'll understand.
—Sadly missed by daughter Barbara, son-in-law Jack and grandchildren.

POSTE — In loving memory of Ruby Poste who passed away April 2nd, 1962.
Always smiling, happy and content,
Loved was my sister wherever she went.
To a heartfelt life came a sudden end,
Death took a heartache no one can heal.
Some may forget you now that you're gone,
But we will remember no matter when.
—Sadly missed by sister Everyone's Friend.
—Sadly missed by mother and Kenneth, George and Carman Poste.

Computers Subject To Talk

"Educational programs will be necessary in the future to train accounting personnel to understand the work of computers and to update knowledge and skills of executive accountants," G. G. Spence, CBA, RIA Director of Accounting, CBC Ottawa said Monday.

He was speaking to a joint meeting of the Bay of Quinte Chapter of the Institutes of the Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants and the Belleville-Trenton chapter of Certified General Accountants.

Mr. Spence outlined the improvements of computers in the last decade and discussed their vital assistance to accountants. He answered questions from members about the use of the computers which fill the gaps in the understanding of the business world.

Armed Forces Will Support Surgery Wing

Members of the Armed Forces — Navy, Army, Air Force — and their families, are supporting a bonds - items - the world Centennial Year project to bring health to many sick children at Vellore in Southern India.

The hospital at Vellore was started in 1900. It now has nearly 1000 beds, and a total staff of 1700, the largest, proportion of them Indian graduates trained by the brilliant American women who have given their services to the cause.

A children's surgery is urgently needed. Last year nearly 1,700 operations were performed on children — in the general operating rooms of the hospital.

The Canadian Forces (F) Chapel Guilds and congregations have undertaken to raise this fund, as a special Centennial project.

Yesterday and Today!

Spectators at Quinte Skating Club's Century Showcase ice carnival last night had a chance to study 100 years of costume contrasts. Soloist Peggy Foley as a modern miss surrounded by girls in opening number, demonstrates theme of show.

D.B. Sutherland Named Fleming Campus Prexy

Belleville meeting of Quinte district governors of the Ontario College of Applied Arts and Technology today was expected to discuss appointment of a president for the college's Belleville-area campus.

The meeting follows an announcement late yesterday, naming of the president of the college's Peterborough-district Sir Sanford Fleming campus.

He is David B. Sutherland, executive secretary of the Ontario Council of Regents.

The council is the governing body for the college board of governors.

Mr. Sutherland will assume his post May 1st.

A native of Fort William he taught English at the Ryerson Institute from 1857 until last year, when he was appointed to the council.

RAYMOND ALFRED ROBINSON

Raymond Alfred Robinson of R.R. No. 1 Plainfield died early this Saturday morning in Kingston General Hospital. He was in his 20th year. He had been in failing health since October of 1966.

Mr. Robinson was born in Bancroft, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Elson Robinson. He lived in Plainfield for 13 years and had previously resided in Bancroft.

Mr. Robinson was an assistant on his father's farm at Plainfield and was educated at Plainfield and at Moira Secondary School where he spent two years. He was a member of Gospel Hall in Deseronto.

He is survived by his parents and five brothers, Wayne, Lawrence, Norman, Richard and Ronald; and two sisters, Brenda and Beverly. All are at home.

The funeral for Hugh Baker was held from the John R. Bush Funeral Home on Friday afternoon. Rev. H. M. Davis conducted the service in the chapel and also the committal rites at Elmwood Cemetery.

The bearers were Lee, Malcolm and Ray Bradshaw, Albert Wade, Merrill Everetles and Robert Conroy.

HAROLD MILLER

The funeral of Harold Miller, 20½ Dunbar Street was held from the Scarborough chapel of the McDougal and Brown Funeral Home. The service at the chapel was conducted by Rev. James Fralick with interment at Pine Hill Cemetery.

The bearers were Dr. George Moss, Percy Vaughan, Jack Poole, John Gledhill, James Taylor and William Griffiths.

The body rested at the Thompson Funeral Chapel in Belleville for two days prior to the funeral in Scarborough.

HUGH BAKER

The funeral for Hugh Baker was held from the John R. Bush Funeral Home on Friday afternoon. Rev. H. M. Davis conducted the service in the chapel and also the committal rites at Elmwood Cemetery.

The bearers were Lee, Malcolm and Ray Bradshaw, Albert Wade, Merrill Everetles and Robert Conroy.

Brilliant Carnival Depicts Dress, Life, Habits, Music of Canada for 100 Years

By GEO. H. CARVER

Packaged in musical gaily-garbed miniature, time rolled back 100 years here last night.

"Century Showcase," the Quinte Skating Club's Centennial extravaganza depicted in variable sequence the dress, habits and music of the lighter side of life in Canada since confederation.

The show with brilliant costumery, timely music, a gay setting and marked by individual and collective artistry of the cast is perhaps the most elaborate production in the club's long history.

Apart from histrionics, "Century Showcase" brings out very strongly the results of fine coaching and training especially in the younger members of the cast.

The show is well produced by club pros Harold Cresskand and Mrs. Bonny Boundy. The choreography is excellent, the music timely and the sequence does not lag.

Ensemble numbers are well executed. Soloists delighted the audience with outstanding performances.

The setting is Centennial. Silver tinsel encases the ice, dotted with Ontario coats of arms and other decorations. Centennial emblems freckle a dark back drop. Lighting is softened to a suffusing glow.

For sheer artistic brilliancy the guest stars, Anna Forder and Richard Stephens, 1966 junior pairs champions stole the show. In striking poetry of motion the youngsters glided through their routines with the artistry of champions.

The costuming in keeping with the theme of the show is likely the most colorful and variable of any previous presentations.

The music taped and spaced by Dr. Bill Beattie leaves nothing-to-be-desired.

The show opens with a stately presentation of "Memory Lane" where a dozen mesdames of the late 19th century slowly and gracefully glide through a routine garbed in the fanciful dress of milady of the period.

In a colorful replica of "Mary Poppins," tiny tots and black-garbed chimney sweeps produce a clever skating pantomime.

A bit of the show were the youngest members of the cast with their presentation of the children and the toys. All youngsters, some of them stumbling perhaps in the exuberance of the thing, were colorfully garbed in various toy representations.

Then came the Canadian reel. How the boys and gals did their version of the square dance, the fur trot and what not is colorfully portrayed in brilliant costume effect with the rollicking music of the era.

Austerity marks the garb of the cast in the "Our Suffragettes" number. The slim "gaunt" youngsters paraed in rhythmic step carrying banners, "Emancipation for Women" and "Women for Men."

"Carousel" perhaps is the most colorful number of the sequence. It provides a whirling of color as the cast dances under a ballooned replica of a carousel.

The "Swingtime" of inc early twenties brought out the skate-dance versatility of the youngsters in the presentation of the dances of the era. Bowler-hatted men danced with short-dressed girls in the "Charleston," the fox trot and other steps of the era featuring the old fashioned waltz, gracefully done by adult members of the cast.

The Big Band "brought down the house." Male members of the cast in a bit of uproarious comedy staged "South Pacific" with Gordon Davies doing a man's job as a dame. Plus skirts and all. It was the funniest bit of the show.

Bringing the sequence to modernity was the "Discotheque." Rounds of applause greeted a young squadron of dancers who did the routine from the "Watusi" to the "Monkey."

The show rounds out in a fine Confederation motif The "Centennial March" is excellently executed by the young ladies of the cast garbed in the military garb of the late eighties. It was cleverly done.

The finale ends on a colorful note. The older members of the cast form a pretty picture in formation in centre ice while the lights are dimmed. The spotlights pick out the flag of Canada and music plays "O Canada" in muted tones. It is a fitting and colorful climax to a grand show.

"Century Showcase" will be repeated this afternoon and tonight starting at eight o'clock.

This afternoon crippled children, retarded children and others will be the guests of erous minded citizens. generous minded citizens.

Computerized Society

Death and taxes . . . these, we are reminded all too often, are the prime inevitabilities of life.

What else is sure and certain in this uncertain world? War? Famine? Earthquake and Pestilence?

What of mankind itself. How much are we in control of our destiny? Precious little, or so it would seem much of the time as Government, Big Business and computers loom larger and larger in our daily lives.

More and more, a Belleville businessman suggested in a recent conversation, industry is turning to the computer for answers and for guidance. Consider the big auto firms for instance. "What type of model will we push this year? What are the market predictions for it? What about cost . . . safety features . . . competition of other companies?"

These are the kind of questions the computers are handling. It is the same throughout industry, and there is no doubt the computer can deal with problems the human brain can solve only in laborious fashion.

This is all to the good — but only up to a point, as society becomes increasingly computerized, turning to the machine not only for answers to problems but almost in a spirit of worship . . . "Oh master, how many cars can we expect to sell this year? Should we increase the prices?" And so on.

The danger of course is that the machine is taking over, indeed has taken over, while fallible mankind — and particularly the little man with no great say in affairs — is being pushed into the background.

We could be wrong. If only people would not be so blindly accepting in the affairs of life. Most of us go through the weeks and months and years virtually uncomplaining (except to ourselves), docilely, with "quiet desperation," as Thoreau put it, accepting everything (like rising prices and taxes and a host of foolish laws) almost without a murmur.

For instance, The Kingston Whig-Standard complains that "ours is a country which is dominated by power groups who use their influence to impose upon the citizenry whatever pattern it is deemed should prevail at any given time."

Certainly there is room for more individualism in society, more mavericks and protesters — not only so long as their protest and the form it takes are positive efforts toward improving the world. We have had enough of the negative and destructive type of protest favored by so many student and anti-war groups.

The absence of individual responsibility is all too prevalent. The Houston (Texas) Post puts it this way: "Modern man has found an easy way to drop out of life's responsibilities. He merely shrugs and says, 'What can I do? I'm only one person.'"

The Post went on to describe a lone campaign by a Mrs. Ruby Ellison, 38, to have an area of wooded ground known in Houston as The Jungle cleaned up. With the help of neighbors she succeeded, after they had approached the city and a railroad that owned the right-of-way through the area.

What kind of person is Mrs. Much — if he simply puts mind and heart and determination into all his efforts. Mrs. Ellison is one who knows the truth of this.

Feminine "Mystique"

Never underestimate the power of a woman — and particularly the supercharged power of a dozen young women — students at the University of British Columbia — in full cry after a male undergraduate.

We have all heard of those raids the boys make on the women's dormitories, and we recall reading of a British student making off in triumph with a go-go dancer he had abducted from some night club stage.

Well out in Vancouver the President of the UBC commerce undergraduates, Peter Uitdenbosch, was also on stage recently. But an address he gave students apparently did not go down well with the girls.

What did he say? It would be interesting to know, but the report did not go into detail. Instead The Vancouver Sun ran a picture of Uitdenbosch, with a martyr's look on his face, about to be thrown bodily into a swimming pool at the university.

The girl hanging on to each arm and foot, he's stretched out like a hammock, the other girls are crowding around, and he's about to get the old heave-ho.

And they didn't even pick a decent day for the ducking. Yes — it was raining out there in Vancouver, as the umbrellas held by some of the girls indicated. But then, it was all in a day's fun!

Canada's Culture Queen, LaMarsh Cool Colorful Character

By RICHARD JACKSON

OTTAWA — Love that Judy LaMarsh.

Always doing and saying things.

Doing things like getting those wigs, the first of them a dark brown creation to match her own culture, the second a blonde job, and now a red mop-top.

And saying things — such things as she said to Centennial Commissioner John Fisher . . . "Forget that Fathers of Confederation jazz, they were all a bunch of damn Tories anyway."

LaJudy has a nifty change of quotable pace — she either charms or enrages 'em.

You should have seen her the other day giving the business to a Senate Committee.

She was filling them in on some of the Centennial hi-jinks. And while few, if any of them will be buck-and-winging-it at the Capital's Centennial Centre where every night the swingers — tourists and natives alike — are digging to the Canadian Rock, they like to hear about such carefree carryings-on.

So, in gratitude, they told her how nice it was to have "such a charming woman" keep them closed in on the Centennial scene.

And you know what she told them?

"You're all such dear old sweethearts. And you know this is just about the only place in the whole country where the men are sovereignly gallant enough to call a gal young at 52."

You could probably hear the old gaffers purring from where you sit, they were that pleased.

But Miss Judy isn't always so tres charmant.

For instance it is the LaMarsh girl who hung on Conservative Leader John Diefenbaker the nicknames he probably detests the most: "Old Mr. Bedlam?"

She tagged him with that one — and it bear more or less stuck to him in certain circles — when she headed the Liberal "Truth Squad" in the 1962 Federal general election, and sat there behind the platform at his campaign meetings, elaborately keeping track of what she called his "half-truths, untruths but never true-truths."

It was done, she sweetly smiled, in a spirit of "affection for the delightfully preposterous old gaffer."

But give LaJudy this — if she's rough with the Opposition, she's often just as tough with her own troops.

Like the other day when she was making routine noises and loudly assuring milk-and-water Centennial speech, of absolutely unexplosive content. Or so it started off.

Then, something crossed her thought patterns and she went away out of orbit on her text, remembering right off the top of her brown-blonde head how, suddenly, John Matheson, the Brockville MP who is one of Prime Minister Pearson's Parliamentary Secretaries, had surprisingly broken off a world tour, heading home for The Hill "before somebody managed to throw a bag over his head."

This was something of an "in" joke, entirely wasted, and a pity, on her audience too far removed from these political parties to dig Mr. Matheson's global gaddings.

He had flown out of Ottawa announcing he was going to Paris to fix up a few trade problems — thereby irritating Trade Minister Bob Winters. Then he was going to Rome to look into some immigration difficulties — which got him into Immigration Minister Marchand's wire-brush hair. And finally, he would be in India to see what could be done about famine relief — which happens to be the business more properly of External Affairs Minister Martin.

So that is why Judy figured maybe John Matheson's party better be "bagged" — before he alienated everybody in Cabinet.

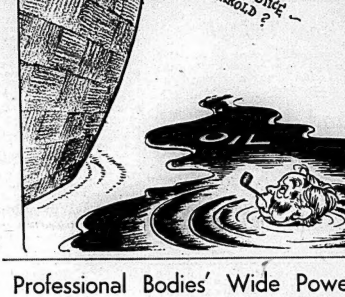
Then, there on the platform, just as suddenly as she had digressed from the text of her speech, Judy seemed to remember she was telling Cabinet tales out of school (Then which there is probably no greater political sin.)

"Maybe," she grinned, shrugging, "I'd better shut up before the Prime Minister flies home, body out here to throw a log over my head."

And "Oh boy," she sighed, as she came down off the platform, "am I going to hear about this when I get back to Ottawa!"

But that was Judy, Canada's Centennial "Queen of Culture."

A character, a boarder, a good kidder, and political fun-and-games girl. But competent. Keeps her canary cool.



No shrinking intellectual violet, Miss LaMarsh.

You and everybody else including the Prime Minister are usually very much aware of her — she may sometimes even scare the hell out of them — but she's a colorful and likeable all like her.

Which politically makes her a great operator.

Professional Bodies' Wide Powers

Toronto Star

In Canada as in Britain, governments have granted charters to the traditional professions which allow them to govern themselves.

Typically a college or council of each profession—such as the College of Physicians and Surgeons for doctors—controls admission into it by setting qualification and entry fees, imposes fees for services, sets ethical standards, and disciplines members for incompetence or misconduct.

The theory is that this results in better service to the public than the only conceivable alternative, which is to have the professions run by civil servants.

While there is no evidence which casts general doubt on the theory, the British Government has decided to find out whether all the practices of the professions really serve the public interests as well as their own.

It's a good question, and one that should arouse a general interest in federal and provincial governments in Canada.

The professions are monopolies. and the universal tendency of humans in monopoly situations, from the medieval guilds to modern industrial combines, is to make things cozy for themselves and to conclude that what is good for them is also good for the country.

The British government intends to make a thorough investigation of restrictive practices in the professions, including requirements for entry, the fixing of fees and limitations on the performance of services.

The inquiry is expected to cover doctors, lawyers, architects, accountants, dentists, veterinarians and pharmacists. But we can see no reason why such an inquiry, in Canada, should be limited to the recognized professions.

Other organized occupations have restrictive practices which equally deserve to be weighed against the public interest. Self-government by the Toronto Stock Exchange, for example, has not been conspicuously successful in stamping out abuses that mulct the investing public. Some craft unions impose apprenticeship requirements which are suspected of being out of all proportion to the difficulty of learning the craft. Some labor unions charge initiation fees and dues which appear to be a high tax on a laborer's right to work.

For the traditional professions, some interesting questions would be:

Has the medical profession, by an unduly restrictive admission policy, contributed to the shortage of doctors in Canada?

Is it too exclusive toward immigrant doctors?

Do some provincial law and architectural societies make extractive too difficult for lawyers and architects from other jurisdictions?

Similar questions could be asked about nursing, pharmacy and other professions. In Manitoba, for instance, a pharmacist must be a British subject in order to dispense drugs, and a veterinarian cannot qualify until he has at least applied for Canadian citizenship.

Old and New Are at Odds

Kingston Whig-Standard

It is difficult to escape the conclusion that youthful unrest all over the world these days is due to resentment over an increasingly arbitrary, controlled society. This situation is paradoxically accompanied by the gradual decay of many taboos—sexual, ethical, religious. The result is an explosive atmosphere, between the old and the new ideologies clash. The older people are too old to change. The young are too brash and ignorant to understand and compromise.

Welfare Issue in New York

New York Times

Four hundred thousand children are growing up on public relief in this city, the great bulk of them in fatherless homes. The decision of the State Board of Social Welfare requiring local welfare districts to make known the availability of birth-control services should help curb the steep rise in this huge total of children born into poverty and despair.

The new rule forbids pressure on welfare recipients to use birth-control devices or to limit the size of their families, but it also removes the senseless prohibition that heretofore had kept case workers from telling clients that there were facilities for guidance on how to stop having children they did not want.

So cruel were the effects of the old ban on volunteering information that many case workers risked their jobs by disregarding it. "It's illegal" to talk about birth control to clients, the chances are very remote that they would ever find out about it on their own," one Welfare Department social worker told a Times reporter recently.

Federal welfare authorities reported earlier this year than an overwhelming majority of mothers receiving public assistance did not want any more children but did not know how to keep from having them. No comparable knowledge gap exists for most women of greater affluence. The new ruling, which we have long advocated, guarantees that those sunk deepest in economic distress can now have the same information.

Mayor Lindsay and Welfare Commissioner Mitchell I. Ginsberg, who sought for six months to persuade the state board to remove the former taboo, have made a major contribution toward breaking the cycle of inherited poverty that condemns many New Yorkers to an extra burden of heartbreak. Every other community in the state will share in the benefit.

The technological revolution may still be stymied by the cautious and frugal man. A certain local council in Great Britain recently computerized its system of log department to speed its operation. A citizen who owed some money telephoned to see why he hadn't received his cheque—then two months overdue. The cheque was ready and had been for some time, he was assured. It just hadn't been sent out.

The explanation: "As the result of the mechanization of our accounting system, which is now processed for despatch much sooner. In order to reduce the adverse effect on the council's bank account, it has been arranged for cheques to be retained for a period." In other words, the desire to speed up work hasn't overcome the bureaucratic devotion to hang on the cheques as long as possible so as to continue to draw the interest.

Opening Car Vent Helped Driver With Sinus Trouble

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Your column has been very helpful to me. Now may I share a suggestion?

I noticed that my sinus problems were greatest when I was spending a great deal of time driving. I finally noted that the heater and fan were operating with the windows all tightly closed.

The excess air had no place to go so it became compressed and irritated the sinuses. Does this make sense? Since then I have made sure that there is a vent open, and I have had no more sinus problems. — MRS. C.C.

Thank you for your helpful suggestion but I strongly suspect that the reason for this success is a bit different. I cannot agree that air in the car could become compressed to a degree that would make any difference.

However, hot, dry air, forced by the fan, can create a dryness of the nasal membranes that can be decidedly irritating. Thus keeping a vent open can make a world of difference, as it did in your case. I am sure others will benefit.

There are other reasons, sometimes more urgent, for seeing that a cool or other vent is open, or the windows rolled down a bit. It is a safeguard against the leaky exhaust which can fill a car with a dangerous amount of carbon monoxide before you know it.

It also prevents icing of windows and windshield, or fogging which can cause a hazard however.

And while I'm on the subject of safety — how about your seat belt? Do you use it every time your drive?

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 78, broke my hip six years ago, and always carry a cane. Which side should I carry it on. I now carry it on the left, although it was the right hip that was broken.
— MISS A.G.

I gather that someone is trying to tell you that there's right side and wrong side. Well, there isn't. Carry the cane on the side that gives you the most support and sense of security and balance.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Does chocolate milk have the same nutrition as white milk? What is the difference if any? I am 12.
—M.T.

No difference except that the chocolate adds a few calories.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you tell me the difference between homemade and commercial sauerkraut and of potato pancakes and other pancakes for late middle-aged or elderly people, about once every week or three weeks? This question interests many. — M.A.P.

I can't see that there is room for any argument. Cabbage and potatoes are valuable foods, and they are cooked in a matter of taste.

There's too much emphasis on the idea that some particular food is "good for you" (or the reverse). Folks with ulcers or diverticulosis or other intestinal complaints must choose bland diets; those with edema or some forms of heart disease often must follow a low-salt diet; some have to avoid certain foods because they are allergic to them.

But aside from such broad necessities, most folks are best off when they eat what they like — always assuming that they choose foods which will provide a balanced diet! Enough protein, carbohydrate, a little fat, a variety of fruits and vegetables to provide vitamins and minerals.

Of the foods you mention, if they cause no distress in any individual, there's no reason to can't eat them when he's 100. But if he has an ulcer, he probably would find that the seasoning in sauerkraut would be irritating.

Watch Good Deeds

By Dr. Stuart E. Rosenberg

A Boy Scout leader had three young lads in his troop who had failed to perform a good turn that day. He suggested that they be dismissed from the meeting for a short while, in order to go out and do what every scout should do . . . a good deed every day.

About a half hour later they returned to the troop meeting in a state of very bad repair. The face of one was scratched, the second had a bloody nose, and the third had lost both his hat and his dignity.

The Scoutmaster, looking at them in sheer amazement, asked: "What in the world have you fellows been up to??"

"We were out doing our good deed, sir, and helping an old lady across the street."

"But why all the fuss and bother?" asked the Scoutmaster.

With all of the appropriate solemnity, the spokesman for the triumvirate responded, "Well, you see, sir, she didn't want to go!!"

We smile at the punch-line but repeatedly overlook similar misdirected energies of our own. Doing good is right and proper, but not if it destroys those we claim we help. Here's a little list to add to that old list: Why just didn't want to cross the street — not just then, at any rate:

Mothers who publicly permit their daughters all they wish, but privately insist on destruction.

Less permissiveness would be more welcome if the loss of confidence is the price of being "pally with O.K." No one wins when we "do good" this way.

Fathers who over-reach themselves playing the game of god. When parents "have only their children's welfare in mind," yet speak like martinets addressing a conquered people, they are doing good" badly.

Teachers who sometimes forget that they are less important than their slowest pupil. They are not teaching subjects, they are teaching children: they have no right beating a child down in the name of raising him up.

Clerics who seem hell-bent for heaven. They preach about fire and damnation as if they enjoyed searing the life out of people — all in the name of God.

Abraham Lincoln once said that you cannot add sense or religion into a man anymore than you can beat daylight into the cellar with a club.

Whenever, in the name of his improvement, we push the other fellow so hard that we look like those Boy Scouts, we had better take that big stick out of our hands!

East Germany Planning To Honor Martin Luther

WITTENBERG, East Germany (AP) — The grey-haired sexton picked up a wreath from another tomb and placed it in front of the stone beneath which Martin Luther lies buried in Wittenberg's Castle Church.

"It will look better for the picture," the sexton said. His concern was for an image of respect for one of Germany's most famous sons.

Luther, then a Roman Catholic Augustinian monk, nailed on the north door of the Castle Church the 95 theses that sparked the Protestant Reformation. That was Oct. 31, 1517.

Communist East Germany, where the old university town of Wittenberg now is located, plans to celebrate the 450th anniversary of Luther's deed and the Reformation in officially separate church - state observances. Like the old man with the wreath before Luther's tomb, each side is concerned with the image of Luther it wants reflected.

The church will emphasize the theological aspects of Luther and his scholarly career. Said one Western churchman concerned with the celebrations: "There is no doubt that the (East German) state will try to make of Martin Luther a sociological figure, a fighter for the people, a first revolutionary, and so forth. They will pull out all propaganda stops to seek advantage for their side." Such an approach, the churchman added, would clash with the generally accepted view of Luther's political conservatism.

The East German government plans a celebration and procession on Oct. 30 in Wittenberg and a street procession the afternoon of Oct. 31, capped by fireworks at night. The church will have an ecumenical celebration on the 30th and church services on the morning of Reformation Day, the 31st.

Visitors will have the opportunity, when he studied, and lies" — Wittenberg, Eisleben, where he was born and died, by bus to visit the "Luther city" the Wartburg, where he translated the New Testament into German.

Wittenberg is a picturesque city with a medieval city center, although the many East German cities it lacks attention because of a shortage of manpower for such things as street cleaning.

The Castle Church has a striking interior and is in good repair except for broken windows in its 250-foot tower. For the Western visitor a curiosity is signs in the church and tower that read, "Ne kupit," no smoking, in Russian.

Safe Boating Starts Young For Pupils of Squadronettes

The Bay of Quinte Squadronettes, distaff side of the Power Squadron here, believe that a boat is something more than a "thing of beauty and a joy forever" for the younger fry.

So they decided to do something about it.

With the co-operation of public schools officials, they initiated a course of instruction in safe boating for grade 7 pupils.

The result was surprising. Over 100 children applied. Shortage of available instructors limited the number to 60. Forty passed the written examinations.

The classes will be resumed this spring, starting April 18. This year five Squadronettes eight weeks before the summer holidays start.

The classes will be held once a week after school for a half-hour from 4 to 4.30.

A large part of the time is taken up with demonstrations and visual aids. Children are invited to ask questions, and in former classes this usually resulted in lively discussions.

Past Squadronette Commander June Reid, has compiled and written a manual for the spring classes. A teacher's manual is also being readied.

Power Squadron members P.C.C. Alex Neville AP; RC T. D. Deane Churchill, N. and V/C R. B. McCulloch N. have made contributions on weather, anchoring and small boat handling.

"IT'S THIS WAY . . ." Squadronette Thelma Pinkston illustrates her point to a class of Grade 7 pupils studying the fundamentals of safe and effective boating.

Legion News

THE COL. PHAY WILLIS BRANCH

The March meeting of the Col. Phay Willis Branch was held in the Legion Hall Monday evening, with the president, Dorothy Barriage, presiding.

A sterling silver maple leaf pin can now be purchased from Ontario Provincial Command for ladies branches of the Legion.

Ways and means chairman Billie Kirby stated that the St. Patrick's dance March 17 was a decided success. A bake sale is to be held in the near future.

Rev. Charles Savage, minister at Emmanuel Baptist Church has consented to be the new branch padre and was installed by the president. Ven. A. S. McConnell who has been the padre ever since the branch started has resigned due to other commitments.

Branch 99 has invited Branch 587 to take part in a square dance competition to be held at the Centennial Hall on April 21. Each branch in Zone F 3 is invited and it is hoped most of them will send a representative.

Membership chairman Doreen Burney is again rein- for new members. Branch 99 having a mass invitation in the near future and it is hoped that a number of ex-servicewomen will join the branch.

FISHERMEN'S PARADISE

"New Zealand waters offer fishing for every type of fisherman." — Dr. E. D. Lane.

* * *

"Aotearoa, the Land of the Long White Cloud, better known as New Zealand, is a haven for anglers and fish fanciers," says Dr. E. D. Lane, authority on marine life, who kindly compiled with our request to tell our readers about fishing in New Zealand. He was engaged in the Department of Fisheries and Marine Life by the New Zealand government for the Centennial Exhibition attended the University of Texas, (having previously obtained his B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of British Columbia), and received his doctorate in zoology.

At present, Dr. Lane is with the Canadian Department of Lands and Forests, Research Branch, at Glenora Fisheries Station, and with his wife Jo, (who vividly described their life in New Zealand for this column), and their two sons, lives at 163 Farley Ave. of this city.

"Although the country does not have the fantastic array of brilliant marine life found on a coral reef there are many equally fascinating marine fish," he continues. "There is a scarlet red coldfish that lives in the tide pools and just below the low tide mark: there are long ribbon fish such as the bandfish and oar fish.

"The granddaddy of all fish stories is the larval eel, about three feet in length. The amazing feature of this fish is that it is a larva and has yet to change into a juvenile. How big it will be when an adult we one knows. However these fish are rarely seen by the angler or casual observer.

"Big game fishing in New Zealand was first made famous by Zane Grey. In Zealand, the most northern province of the country, is the best known area for this type of fishing. Here from a charter boat one can catch various sharks, (white, the largest, up to 36 feet, and Mako, the most exciting, to 12 feet), kingfish, marlin, swordfish, dolphin and others.

"Surf fishing is a popular method of fishing in the sea. Mullet, trevally, bream and tarakihi are a few of the fish which provides pleasureable rewards in both the catching and the eating. New Zealand abounds in beaches which are a surf fisherman's dream.

"Also popular is boat fishing for the previously mentioned fish along with snapper, flounder, sole, etc. The most noted area for this type of fishing is the Marlebrough Sounds. These are fiord-like bays at the north of the South Island and provide wonderful fishing as well as superb cruising and sailing.

"The town of Picton is located here and is a popular boating and tourist area. An interesting book on the subject of sea-fishing is New Zealand Sea Anglers Guide by R. B. Doogue and J. M. Morel and is available from A. H. and A. W. Reed. Wellington, N.Z.

"Commercial fishing is almost totally restricted to the sea and is an important industry. Snapper, tuna, cod, flounder, hapuku (grouper), tarakihi and oysters are all caught as well as the famous New Zealand crayfish (lobster). Freshwater commercial fishery is small and restricted to eels and whitebait."

CLUB 4-H NOTES

CALICO CATS

The fifth meeting of Wall, bridge 3 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs. Omar Chisholm, Tuesday.

Plans were made for achievement day.

A demonstration was given of fitting a dress before sewing it together, putting in facings, and setting the sleeves.

Mrs. Chisholm demonstrated stitchings and understitching a collar facing, and, by using Lingo Duff's garment, she demonstrated setting in the sleeves.

Mayhew – Batten

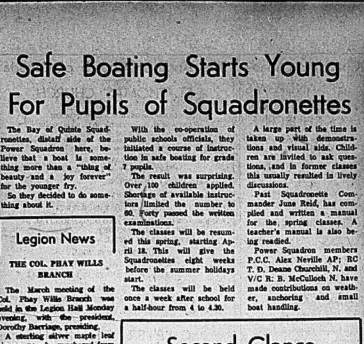
Elizabeth Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Batten, R.R. 3, Belleville and Edward Plaunt Mayhew of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Plaunt Mayhew of Picton, were married in the Protestant Chapel, Canadian Forces Base, Trenton, March 25, 1967, at 2 p.m. Sqdn. Ld. C. H. White, Protestant chaplain, was the officiating clergyman and the organist was Mrs. J. Moore of Trenton. Miss Sharon Pete of Toronto played a trumpet solo.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length Empire-waisted gown of French taffeta with yoke and elbow-length sleeves of Guipure lace. Her detachable train was edged with matching lace and her four tiered three - quarter length veil was held in place by a chaplet of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.



The bride's sister, Miss Lorna Batten, was maid of honor. She wore a floor - length Empire - waisted gown of aqua chiffon over yellow taffeta with aqua headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums. Miss Glenys Batten and Miss Linda Mayhew, bridesmaids, were dressed in gowns identical to that of the maid of honor.

John Takash attended the bridegroom and Gary Rose and Andy Mayhew ushered the guests.

The reception was held at the Sun Valley Motor Inn, Belleville. The bride's mother wore a turquoise brocade ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a shell pink crochet knit suit, matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

For her wedding trip to Quebec City, the bride chose a grey worsted double breasted suit with tangarine accessories.

On their return, the couple will live in Toronto.

Dried Beans In Demand

OTTAWA (CP)—The romance and drama of the Canadian baked bean is probably little known to the people who munch it at jolly bean suppers.

Harvested in the dewy morning, the bean is sprouged out of its pod and taken to a plant where an electric eye screens each bean more carefully than a beauty contest judge.

Tenderly matured in 90-foot elevators, the Canadian dried bean is much in demand in swinging Britain. Our red kidney beans may soon be exported to the exotic Caribbean.

An agriculture department bulletin says each Canadian eats 7½ pounds of beans a year, mostly baked or in soup.

It says the bean's mild flavor makes it a perfect mate for meat and spices in chili con carne. When serving baked beans, it suggests adding a wiener, so that a serving adds up to the same protein as a serving of meat.

An economical and nourishing food, just a pound of dried beans will serve six.

Dairy Food Price Hike Predicted

OTTAWA (CP)—Butter and skim milk probably will be more expensive in April because of new federal dairy support policies, the agriculture department says in its monthly forecast.

Here are their price predictions for the month:

Apples: The usual seasonal price rise is expected as supplies enter the market from controlled atmosphere storage.

Potatoes: Prices probably will continue at levels below last year as supplies are still plentiful.

Carrots: Supplies are heavy with prices below those of one year ago.

Eggs: Prices will decline slightly as the largest production season approaches.

Broiler chicken: Increased production is meeting the strong demand, with prices staying firm.

Dairy Products: Under the new dairy support program, the price increase of two cents a pound is expected for butter and soapy process dry skim milk.

Pork: Prices have declined and supplies will continue at fairly heavy volume.

Beef: Steady prices are expected for the next few weeks.

Know Your Antiques

This salver and three smaller ones and a cruet frame were dug up on a farm in Virginia. They seem to have been hidden during the Revolutionary War.
(Colonial Williamsburg, Williamsburg, Virginia)

Spade Turns Up Antique Silver

By RALPH and TERRY KOVEL

Sometimes it is possible to literally dig up a rare antique. During war families living near a battleground will bury the family silver and jewelry to keep it from being taken by pillaging soldiers.

During the Civil War many southern families put the antiques in the well or hid them in the backyard. Five pieces of English silver were dug up on a farm in Virginia in 1961. The silver was probably buried during the Revolutionary War.

All the silver was made in England and dated from the early 1770's. It was the type of silver that was used by the Virginia colonists.

Q. How old is a bottle with a glass label? It is a separate label in colors and is embedded in an indentation in the clear glass bottle.

A. Many different products were packed in glass labeled bottles. We have seen hair tonic, whiskey, and soft drinks on glass labels. The label seems to be of celluloid and decorated with gold leaf and color printing. It was placed under a piece of glass then sealed to the bottle. It fit exactly into an indentation in the bottle. The glass on both the back and front of the label protected it.

This type of bottle was expensive to make and was usually used as a store dispensing bottle, not as a regular retail package." Some can be dated to the year 1900, but we have not found the exact date of manufacture or the company that made the bottle.

Q. Was there really a woman named Kate Greenaway?

A. Kate Greenaway was an English artist who lived from 1846 to 1901. Her pictures of quaint little girls in simple dresses had an important influence on the world of fashion for children about 1900.

She was an illustrator for children's books and her designs were copied by dress manufacturers, lithographers, and others. Buttons, stamps, embroidery patterns and all sorts of clothing were made with pictures of the Greenaway girls or in the style of the clothes of the charming illustrations.

Q. We do not play Mah Jong but have an old set made of hand carved ivory. The cases, tiles, racks, and dice are in good condition. Is it of interest to anyone?

A. The 1967 American Mah Jong player can not use an old set because there are not enough tiles for the game. Extra Jokers and flower tiles have been added. Most sets are being made of plastic.

The old ivory tiles have been used in jewelry. They have been set into pins or hung on charm bracelets. The Mah Jong case can be used as a jewelry box.

Checks Three Times After Setting Alarm

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hope you won't think this problem is too goofy to print. I do need your help.

Every night before I get into bed I set my alarm clock. After I turn the light out I begin to have doubts — "Did I set the alarm or didn't I?"

Now mind you, Ann Landers, I know very well I set the alarm, but I am not satisfied until I turn on the light and check at least three times.

Can it be that I am cracking up at the age of 17? Please answer soon because I am not getting any younger. — FLIPPED OUT.

ANN LANDERS

DEAR FLIPPED: Almost everyone has some secret little compulsion. This is yours.

Here is a gimmick that might help you beat it. The next time you set the alarm clock, put a rubber band around your left wrist. When you begin to have doubts, feel for the rubber band. It will serve as evidence that you did indeed set the alarm.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I noticed in Wall Street Warrior Number Two's reply he said "As far as sex is concerned, forget it. That went dead in a dry martini."

I would like to know, whose martini? His or hers? This has been the basis for quite an argument between me and a friend. He says liquor intensifies the sex drive of a female but it diminishes the sex drive of a male. I say liquor intensifies the sex drive of both male and female. Who is right? — OPEN TO ELUCIDATION.

DEAR OPEN: Alcohol does not intensify the sex drive of either male or female; it simply removes the inhibitions. This does not mean booze makes people sexier, it merely means it impairs the judgment and people are inclined to do things they would not do if they were sober.

Individuals who have had a great deal to drink may find they are unable to function sexually because the booze has knocked out the mental machinery and no messages are reaching the brain.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your letter to the girl who had epilepsy entitles you to the heartfelt thanks of every person in the world who has the illness. You have done innumerable services for all kinds of people, Ann, but no service can be greater than giving an epileptic the courage to face his illness without shame.

Three years ago I was told I had epilepsy. After I got over feeling sorry for myself I thanked God I didn't have anything worse. But you can't imagine the change in people's voices when they discover you are an epileptic. I was so devastated by the reaction of my close friends that I decided never to tell anyone again.

Please, Ann Landers, mention this subject from time to time. You have a rare opportunity to educate the public in a way that no one else can. God bless you. — ONE WHO CAN'T EVEN SIGN HER INITIALS.

DEAR ONE: I have received hundreds of letters from epileptics who expressed gratitude for an understanding of the illness. My thanks to all of you for your generous comments.

If anyone wants educational material, including literature, films and general information, write to The Epilepsy Association of America, 111 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Ideal Letter to Serviceman Includes Chatter, Photos

Dear Doris: Just a hasty note prompted by your very good advice to the girl wanting hints about writing to her sailor boy friend. Because I'm a physiotherapist in a service hospital, and my fiance was in the army, writing letters to servicemen has taught me a few tricks.

First, as you said, the ideal letter is a friendly chat across the miles instead of face to face. I found it easiest to always keep a few pages of lined paper in an outgrown school clipboard. In this way it was handy to pick up and add a few lines perhaps morning and evening over a couple of days. As this letter was mailed, a new one was automatically started and as his letters were received an answer was incorporated into this running commentary.

The inclusion of articles in every other letter or so makes for an added delight. I have found three the best standbys:

1. Newspaper articles from home town papers. Also articles about the humorous side of forces life, e.g., the recent question raised whether interception was going to mean the army and air force were also going to get a daily ration of rum? Most articles in service life tend to be somewhat distorted when presented to civilians and the latest aliens is invariably humorous to those who know the "behind the scenes" story.

2. Jokes.

3. Humorous strips: "Peanuts" is a favorite with all service personnel.

4. Humorous postcard type motios.

5. Contemporary humorous cards cost a quarter and usually produce $10 worth of laughs. There's always one that's just right!

6. Photos: The candid snap of you at your worst as well as the carefully posed one, "just for him". —Soldier's Girl.

Dear Girl: Your soldier was a lucky boy. I'll give the other girls more of your ideas another day.

* * *

Dear Doris: I am a school teacher and I would like to know how to make printing with plain pelatine. I would love to print cards and words of Christmas carols for my students.

Mother used to make it, but it is a long time ago and she cannot recall exactly how to do it. She says music and words are done with purple ink on one sheet of paper which is set in a square cake pan. Now how can gelatine be poured over this without smearing?

When the gelatine is set you place plain paper on top and she says you can print many of same kind.—Hoping For Help.

Dear Hoping: It was quite a hunt but we have the answer, I think. You print or type on master sheets with special hecto-graph ink. This is pressed down against a pan of set, but tacky, gelatin. The ink is transferred.

There is now a "gelatin process duplicating machine" relatively inexpensive and does a smoother job than your kitchen pan will. I'm sending you the address to write to.

* * *

Confidential to Scared to Pet: And a wise fear, too. You play with fire when you pet; you avoid burning by not lighting the match in the first place. Avoid lovers' lanes, dark corners which provide the setting.

When you are with R., take charge of things. Start something new that's fun to do with your time; make a point of being with others, engaging in sports, dancing, musical binks. For better companionship: far less threatening to your self-respect.

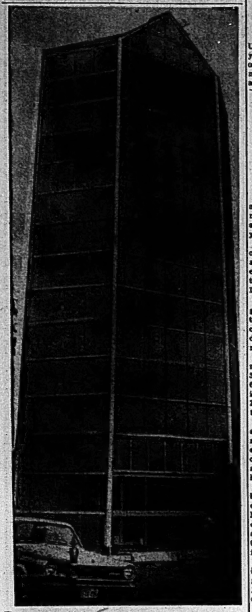
CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS
By Edward Tomsett
WHAT MAKES A STORE REPUTABLE?

TOMSETT

Every successful business is based upon public confidence and good will. These things cannot be bought, they must be "earned".

The public knows that certain stores are recognized as "reputable" and others are not.



And what is the secret ingredient of this important thing which every store wants - a good reputation? It is many things. It is reflected in everything the owner and his employees do in their business dealings and even in their civic and social activities.

It is the way the phone is answered. It is created by the type of advertising a firm does; by the service given to customers; by the manner complaints are handled; by the courteous and helpful attention given to customers by everyone from the sales people to the delivery men; by those little things above and beyond the call of duty" which every customer remembers - and - every good business man tries to do.

And, of course, it is the big things - good merchandise, fair prices, and integrity. You just can't beat this combination.

U.S. May Close Door Against Cheese Imports

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States, determined A year ago to trim the rising tide of living, opened the door for more cheese imports from Canada and elsewhere.

Now, Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman wants to close it again by another considerable political dissent in the U.S. farm belt.

Just what the impact will be on Canada is unclear. The chief market squeeze would fall on New Zealand, Australia, Belgium, Denmark and The Netherlands.

Both Canada and the U.S. farms they are paying more for have shifted in recent years their needs and getting less from ample dairy surpluses to from ample dairy surpluses to turn.

production at or even below demand. Both countries have sought to stimulate demand for some products by higher support prices.

Government figures just issued here say U.S. farm cash are at record high levels and the prices paid for farm produce are 26-per-cent below the record level of 1951.

But farm prices have fallen for seven consecutive months. Farmers in both countries complained demands for more

Oil Surge Flares Up, Issues Break Through to Yearly Highs

By LARRY DWORKIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The off - again - on - again oil surge flared up on Canada's major stock exchanges this week as issues broke through to yearly highs.

Sparked by rumors of takeover bids, oil finds and news of a proposed merger, the Toronto exchange's oil index soared 12.83 to 158.16. It touched a high of 159.25 at mid-afternoon Friday.

Most of the attention was given to companies drilling in the Rainbow-Zama Lake region of northwestern Alberta, deemed by some experts as a major oil field.

Dome Petroleum continued its red-hot pace, climbing 2¾ to 38¾ after touching a high of 40¼. Provo, which shares holdings with Dome in the Rainbow-Zama area, moved up 40 cents to 6.35 on 699,000 shares.

The companies have entered an agreement whereby one share of Dome will be issued in exchange for each eight shares of Provo. The agreement, must still be ratified by the shareholders.

In the last two months, Dome has jumped sharply on rumors of a takeover bid by a U.S. firm. However, these were denied by company officials. On one occasion the stock climbed more than five dollars and more than four on another.

Canadian Superior, which is involved with the Dome-Provo group in a number of properties, jumped 5% to 30 after touching a high of 30½.

Among other oils, Hudson's Bay advanced to 44¼ to 22¼, Home A 2¼ to 21½ while Scurry-Rainbow fell 1 to 24¾.

Bank stocks climbed to 1967 highs at the beginning of the week but lost ground at the close as a result of heavy profit taking.

The group strengthened on news that the Bank of Montreal will decrease its prime lending rate to 5¾ per cent from six per cent while increasing its interest rate on savings accounts to four per cent instead of the present three per cent.

However, most of the other major banks said they are not going to follow the move because it was "not justified at this time."

Royal Bank was down 2 to 75¾ after reaching a high of 81¼, Toronto-Dominion 1 to 66½ and Montreal ¼ to 65¾ after it touched 68. Imperial-Commerce gained 1 to 71 while Nova Scotia was unchanged at 76.

Among other industrials, B-A Oil was up 2¾ to 35, Imperial Oil 2¾ to 58¾ and Labatt's ¼ to 34. Moore Corp. rose 1¼ to 100¼ and was as high as 104. The company announced a proposed subdivision of its common stock on a four-for-one basis.

Base metals were mixed. Inco gained 4¼ to 90, Falconbridge 2½ to 81½ while Hudson Bay dropped 1 to 87 and Brunswick 25 cents to 5.90.

On the speculative side, PCE Explorations added 7 at 73 cents on 2,205,000 shares. The stock had touched a peak of 84 cents before being trimmed by profit takers.

On index, industrials were ahead 2.33 to 183.09, golds 3.27 to 152.30 while base metals eased .05 to 80.38. Volume was 14,887,000 shares compared with the four-day total last week of 9,064,000.

At Montreal, industrials were up 2.53 to 163.80, utilities 1.84 to 145.30 while banks fell .30 to 130 and papers .58 to 123.44. Volume was 4,180,000 shares compared with 2,658,000 last week.

Oil Refinery Planned

Plans for a $30,000,000 oil refinery at Come-By-Chance, Nfld., were announced Friday by Premier Joseph R. Smallwood.

The refinery, to be built by Newfoundland Refining Co., a subsidiary of Ocean Industries Inc., will have a capacity of 100,000 barrels a day.

Smallwood said the refinery will be in operation by the end of 1968 and will employ 1,000 persons.

Consumers Should Enjoy Pork Now

OTTAWA (CP) — Consumers better enjoy those good pork prices while they last, say agriculture department specialists.

They predict the current low prices for pork will creep a little lower between now and June, then start on a steady climb as production falls off.

Farmers, who last year were paid 43 cents a pound for hog carcasses, now are getting 30 cents.

The department says major producers who make hog-raising a full-time business will survive this depressed period in the hog cycle—one of the shortest depressions in years.

But hundreds of small farmers who plunged into small-scale production when it looked profitable are being forced out.

The Royal Bank has created a new and easy way to take the major worry out of buying or building your home

PRE-PLANNED MORTGAGES

With a Pre-Planned Mortgage, you can get all the facts from your Royal Banker now, even before you decide on the exact home you want to buy. You then go home-hunting, knowing that the Royal Bank is solidly behind you, all the way.

Pre-Planned Mortgages through the Royal Bank have an added advantage for you. Buying a home may represent the largest single investment you will make in your lifetime—and your Royal Banker can assist you professionally in many ways beyond simply arranging a mortgage. For example, he may point out pitfalls or potential headaches that might never occur to you!

Pre-Planned Mortgages are available from the Royal Bank for either National Housing Act loans up to $18,000 on new homes, or Conventional mortgages up to $40,000 on new or existing homes.

Pre-Planned Mortgages are available for up to 95% of the appraised value of new homes being financed by NHA mortgages; up to 75% of the appraised value of homes qualifying for conventional mortgages. And, if you need it, your Royal Banker may even be able to help you with additional financing.

Pre-Planned Mortgages can be obtained for periods of up to 25 years with easy-to-carry monthly payments.

Pre-Planned Mortgages contain very liberal prepayment privileges—you don't have to ask for them, they're automatically included.

What kind of home can you buy? Royal Bank Pre-Planned Mortgages are for urban homes. It can be a single dwelling, a duplex, or a triplex, but as the owner you will have to live in the home yourself. Our Pre-Planned Mortgages are for people, not for companies. They're for people like you, even if you're not one of our customers yet!

Who can qualify for Pre-Planned Mortgages? As long as you are a responsible person, with the earning capacity and ability to repay the mortgage, you'll normally qualify.

Can you re-finance your present home? Certainly. It may be your best possible method of getting a large sum of money you need for some worthwhile purpose. Your Royal Banker can give you sound advice based on his many years of financial experience.

Does pre-planning tie you down? Not at all. You can use your own builder or real estate agent, your own lawyer, your own insurance man. All the Royal Bank wants to do is help you with your mortgage.

What about the "fine print"? Don't expect to find any—you're dealing with the Royal Bank. We believe that all financial dealings should be kept as simple, direct and straightforward as possible. Your Royal Banker has just one simple rule: he must make certain that you understand everything before you sign anything.

Why mortgages from the Royal Bank? For years now, the Royal Bank has been helping people get better deals on buying cars and major appliances (even holiday trips) by helping them arrange their finance in advance. It has helped us get thousands of new customers. The Royal Bank is continually expanding the kinds of money management services we can offer our customers—as part of our aim to be available to you as your bank for everything. It's only good sense that we should be able to help you with your home financing, too.

Do we have mortgage money today? That's why we're advertising! But mortgage funds are still not as freely available as we would like, so there is a practical limit on the number of mortgages which your Royal Banker can negotiate at the present time. Moral: it may pay you to be an early bird.

Want to find out more? Just visit your nearest branch of the Royal Bank. Our manager has all the facts, and he's fully-knowledgeable about the area in which you're interested.

From High-hatted Bobbie to Friendly Cop
Police Have Come Long Way From Origin

By CHRISTOPHER ALMEY
(Staff Reporter)

Police forces as we know them have not been around very long. It was only 136 years ago that London, England created a police force.

At one time the average citizen there had to be his own policeman. When crime became so widespread that politicians became alarmed, it was apparent that professionals would have to maintain the law.

These men were morning clothes and tall hats, so sensitive were the people about their own freedom and uniformed policemen. They had visions of the police force in France, at that time, a secret service used to ferret out those who threatened the security of the country.

Ballistics, forensic science, fingerprinting, and liaison between police forces all developed slowly.

Comic strip readers probably saw 'Dick Tracy' forcing a slug through a piece of a gun barrel recently to obtain comparison marks with a slug removed from a corpse. It just can't be done.

Charlatan ballistics experts used to testify in court, and more likely than not sent innocent men to the gallows. They claimed, like Sir Arthur Conaf Doyle's super sleuth, Sherlock Holmes, that they could compare the markings on a bullet with a magnifying glass. Men were actually sentenced on this unscientific fallacy.

A modern police force such as Belleville has, has made full use of the Attorney General's laboratory in Toronto or the Royal Canadian Mounted Police laboratories to compare murder bullets. This is done with a microscope which holds two bullets at a time and will match grooves, if they are from the same gun.

The forensic scientists, also readily available to the Belleville police department, have a relatively easy task now to detect what type of poison was used to murder. But the groundwork was laid over years of painstaking research. Often, when the lab detectives had discovered a way to detect a poison and correctly identify it, another substance would be invented which could upheave all the rules. Insecticides, pills, metals and vegetable matter all contribute to the puzzles. Murder by poison is a rare occurence now, but those who would be tempted would be well advised to forget it. Toxicologists have developed unbelievable techniques.

If a hit and run accident happens, the Belleville police collect pieces of broken glass, paint scrapings or other debris and come up with the make and model of a car or truck. Evidence, more often than not, is insurmountable.

Detectives on the Belleville police force look for clues in the strangest of places. Paint scuffs even. Fingerprints, which don't tell lies, since everybody has his own, are invaluable; they have not been known to be duplicated. They can't be erased by skin graft either.

These prints can be checked with the RCMP in Ottawa which keeps everyone's prints until he is 75 or proven dead if he has ever been convicted of a criminal offence.

Science can tell if a stain on wood flooring is blood, whether it is animal or human, and what type.

Fibres and hairs of every description have been filed for comparison purposes. Pieces of thread from a suit could provide a clue which would clinch a case for local police. Sometimes though, they are just fortunate when they solve a series of crimes. It takes a lot of patience, however.

The police have ways of telling whether a person was drowned or placed in the water dead; they can decide between a fire victim or a corpse planted in a blazing building with the coroner's knowledge.

There is a liaison with the Ontario Provincial Police, the RCMP, other municipal forces and Interpol, the International Police with headquarters in Paris. Interpol, of course, has no jurisdiction in other countries, but it provides information and keeps track of the criminal element when it travels across the oceans.

Belleville police today are mobilized and radio equipped. They can't legally wiretap to gather information, but almost any other sophisticated electronic equipment is at their disposal. They have to have it to keep up with the crooks.

Despite all this array of brains and apparatus, most of the work is done by the man pounding a beat or in a cruiser. He is the one constantly in the public eye and dealing with people from all walks of life. He is the image maker of the force; the one youngsters use for a guide as to whether the policeman is a friend.

A policeman's tact and understanding mean a lot. It makes him acceptable in our society. And Canadians like their cousins of a 100 years ago, cherish dearly freedom and the right to enjoy it . . . protected of course, by the friendly cop.

Checking Prints

Identification Officer Dale Ashbury checks the fingerprints on a bottle to see if they match those of a known criminal. Altogether he handled 227 occurrences including hit and run accidents, break-ins, and arson.

Policeman's Lot Not A Simple One

What is a police constable's lot?

He can't go into the local beverage room. You might see him at the Legion or a night club. He must choose his friends carefully. Organization and discipline are along military lines.

In bygone days Ontario required its female teachers to be home even in the evening. Going out was forbidden. Life isn't that strictly regimented for a policeman, but he must set all times be above reproach in his conduct.

What inspires a man to become an officer of the law?

It is a job which demands keen intelligence. Patience is a dire necessity. So often a young constable will find himself making rounds in the middle of the night, checking doors, walking through the back alleys of the business district. He must be brave.

He has a gun, but is sworn to use it only to protect his own life or someone else's life. He walks and talks softly usually. But he carries, so to speak, a big stick. He is trained in unarmed combat.

A policeman in Belleville is not an employee of the city.

A police officer is not an employee in the traditional sense.

Under the common law, the position of constables or police officers is that they are holders of office of trust under the Crown, whose primary purpose is to exercise the rights and discharge the duties conferred or imposed upon the holders of that office by the common or statutory law.

From this has been established the rule that they are not servants or agents of the appointing municipality for whose wrongful acts the municipality is or may be liable at law; but are officers appointed to perform public duties of an executive character in the general administration of justice.

Taxpayers expect the constable to protect his youngsters, make his streets safe stable to protect their youngsters, make their streets safe robbers with guns, respond in any emergency.

For this, a constable start. ing out with the Belleville Police Force receives $3,250. He is prohibited from striking for higher wages and is on 24 hours a day call.

Finding the Hot Spots

Motorcycle Officer Ralph Petrie checks locations of accidents in 1966. The Belleville Police Department is hooked up with police across the nation. Last year 31,429 messages were handled.

Paint Chip Leads to Arrest

Chief of Police Takes Witness Stand

The following interview with Belleville Police Chief J. B. McLaughlan takes a look at what the future of the force may be. It also examines related matters, such as the attitude of the public towards the police department and the department's success in solving crimes.

Question: Would policewomen be an asset to the Belleville force? What could they be used for other than directing traffic?

Answer: Eventually we may call for one or two policewomen. They might deal with juvenile offenders, shoplifting episodes with women or juveniles. They might be dual purpose . . . policewoman, social worker, matron . . . an all-inclusive job.

We may look for a qualified social worker. But, we hesitate to push it right now. We don't want to duplicate services performed by other agencies.

Question: Granted, university does not endow a person with the 'ultimate of wisdom, but do you think the educational standard should be raised for new recruits? What is it now in Belleville?

Answer: There is a problem with this question. I don't know whether it can be answered in two or three lines. We are looking for the same type of people industry is. The minimum standards are set by the Police Act. Recruit recruits have completed at least Grade 12. We have taken a few who have not reached that standing, but after leaving school they have continued their education.

Question: Many police forces insist on a minimum of five feet, ten inches for a policeman. Then they encounter difficulties in getting new officers, such as Metro Toronto having to go to the British Isles for a new source of men. Do you think it is absolutely necessary to continue with this image of tall, imposing policemen? Wouldn't a man of five feet, six inches be just as good? It seems that potentially good policemen are being rebuffed because of this minimum height restriction. What is it in Belleville?

Answer: It is not just the image. We have to have a fairly well-built individual. Policemen are sort of looked upon as guardians. They must remain physically fit, especial-estimated at $198,000.

The police found that 1,171 drivers in the accidents were apparently normal, 102 had been drinking, 19 were drunk, 18 had their ability impaired, and two had physical defects. That is a total of 1,363 drivers.

Inattentive driving caused 450 of the accidents and two were due to high speed. Fourteen were arrested for following too closely, and improper turning caused another 62 accidents.

Police apprehended 18-hit-and-run drivers, but 29 got away.

Only Two Killed But 220 Hurt in Traffic Mishaps

There were two traffic fatalities last year according to the Belleville police department's annual report.

Two hundred and twenty persons were injured in accidents. There were 441 reportable accidents and 338 non reportable. Total damage was

What It Takes to Operate Police Force

What does it take to operate the Belleville Police Department?

Here are last year's statistics:

There were four police cruisers, a safety wagon and two motorcycles on round-the-clock duty, travelling a total of 164,823 miles.

There were 26 constables, four sergeants, six detectives, two inspectors, and the chief, who drew a total of $278,839 in salary.

What were the results of this?

There were a total of 342 charges laid under the Criminal Code, 2,112 laid under the Highway Traffic Act, 327 laid under the Liquor Control Act, and 1,408 laid under municipal by-laws.

Question: Does city council provide an adequate budget for the Belleville police department? Is the present headquarters adequate?

Answer: The budget has been creeping up every year. Salaries have been the main cause of increase. Each year we have been adding new equipment such as dark-room facilities, a projector for the safety officers, and a breathalyzer machine. This new headquarters is like a palace compared to what we had.

By Geo. H. Carver

From his hideaway in the hinterlands east of Kingston, my old feuding buddy Michael J. Redden, columnist, extraordinaire; record-holding former NHL referee and a renowned ex-football, hockey coach, rattles the tassels of a venerable typewriter.

The erudite Ed. Miguel expounds to some length on the recent world hockey fandango in Vienna; refereeing and the controversial question as to what team was the strongest to ever represent Canada overseas.

With Reddenesque modesty, Mike refers in the Belleville Hockey team to a coached here in 1941-42, "None of them" Mike admits, "ever advanced to the NHL. I think they at that they advanced themselves backward."

He digs into the past and you can almost hear the thunder of his typewriter as he pounded out, "The 1924 Granites were the strongest team ever to cross the pond and it was even stronger when they won the Allan Cup in 1923.

"It could be said," says Mike, "that overseas teams are now stronger than they were in 1924 but who could laugh off the 10-3 victory the 1923 Granites scored over the Stanley Cup winners Toronto St. Pats behind closed doors in Varsity arena?

"Getting back to realism," says Michael, "it can be said the CAHA powers-that-be made a monumental blunder when they agreed to accept dictation relative to playing rules that originated in he fertile mind of "Bunny" Ahearne, an opportunist Irishman who never played a game of hockey in his life."

"These rules handicap Canadian players but they do cater to clean play and they could not be faulted if only competent referees were placed in charge of games. I can tell you for sure that when players have confidence in referees they don't break rules and they don't recount trouble."

Mr. Rodden disagrees with the suggestion that henceforth a referee and two linesmen should handle overseas games. He claims, "a competent referee could handle a game without the assistance of linesmen' or an associate referee. I speak from experience having officiated in 2,864 games."

Mike who officiated in a record 1,187 NHL games says he could tell many factual stories about the incompetence of some of the referees with whom he toiled. Some of them, he says lasted just one night in the NHL.

"One night with the Bruins playing in Detroit I erased FIVE goals that had been scored by the Red Wings in my partner's end of the rink. Boston escaped with a 1-0 victory and Jack Adams hit the roof."

"On another occasion the Bruins prevailed by 1-0 in Pittsburgh after I had wiped out three goals which had been scored following offsides missed by Mickey Ion. Thereafter I refused to referee with Ion under any circumstances."

"The Nationals," says Mike, "might have been justified in protesting Russia's offside counter but the Nationals scored only one goal in that game and this did not portray anything even remotely resembling dominance."

"And let me say that the Belleville McFarlands who took Prague by storm were a much stronger team than were the Nationals — even if they did take you over with them as a consultant and thus left nothing to the whims of chance."

And El Miguel gently chides this department for not explaining why Kingston surpassed this city in senior and junior hockey this season.

Come, come, Mike me bucko. Back in the old days Belleville always bent over backwards to assist a sister city. Why two of the brightest stars of the Kingston senior club this year hailed from the banks of the Moira. And was it our fault years ago when we offered Bobby Hull to youse guys as a midget, you blokes turned him down?

Habs Can Sew Up Second - - If?

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The biggest word around the National Hockey League this weekend is "if."

With the NHL race for second place so close and with only one weekend of action remaining in the regular schedule, the word becomes the biggest one around for three clubs.

Montreal Canadiens, New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs are all in the fight for second spot. The Canadiens are second with 73 points but the Rangers are only one point behind in third place and the Leafs are also in the thick of it with 71 points in fourth place.

The Canadiens can sew up second by beating the league champion Chicago Black Hawks in Montreal tonight and Detroit Red Wings in Detroit Sunday.

If the Canadiens win and tie one they are in over Toronto but would be third on victories won if the Rangers lose both of their games — against the Leafs in Toronto tonight and against the Black Hawks in New York Sunday afternoon. The other weekend game has Toronto at Boston Sunday.

If Montreal splits its weekend action, the Rangers could get in by winning both games or piling up goals in a win and a tie. If the Canadiens win one and lose one while the Maple Leafs win twice, Toronto would take second on the strength of more victories during the schedule.

If it all sounds confusing, take Montreal coach Toe Blake's advice and wait until Sunday night.

"The only thing we have planned is the plane ride back from Detroit," Blake said Friday. "We'll make all playoff arrangements Monday morning."

Should the Canadiens finish second in open the semi-final series next Thursday and Saturday afternoon in Montreal, they will head into the Laurentians north of Montreal for a few days before the playoffs. Otherwise, they will take off for either Chicago, New York or Toronto for the series openers out of town.

The Canadiens have a nine-game unbeaten streak—six wins and three ties—and have lost only one of their last 13 starts.

A centre of interest tonight will be Chicago's Stan Mikita, looking for enough points to break the record for most points in a season, set by teammate Bobby Hull last season. Mikita has 94 points, four short of breaking the record of 97 points in one season. Also, Jean Beliveau of the Canadiens is bidding for his 400th NHL goal. HULL OUT

The Hawks will be without ace Bobby Hull, suffering from a knee injury. Hull, the league's top goal-getter with 52, suffered the injury against the Red Wings earlier in the week. Jean

The Hawks will also be without defencemen Most Ravlich, out for the remainder of the season with a fractured leg.

King Clancy, assistant manager - coach of the Maple Leafs, said Friday he believes the Rangers will be toughest in the semi-finals.

"They don't depend on individual stars and when they're healthy they can play as good as anyone in the league," Clancy said.

The Rangers will use the same lineup that beat the Leafs 4-0 in New York last Sunday. They also blasted a Red Wings 10-3 Wednesday night.

Red Gilbert broke a scoring slump in that game as he struck for three goals.

Vic Hadfield also appears to have found the mark. A couple of weeks ago, he switched from a straight blade to a curved-blade stick and now has four goals in four games.

Rich Pair For Golfers

TORONTO (CP) — Organizers of the $200,000 world golf championship said Friday that more than $100,000 in tickets has already been sold for the September classic.

The tournament, to be played over a special championship layout at the Toronto Board of Trade course in nearby Woodbridge Sept. 1-4, is the second half of a rich golf doubleheader.

Sponsor representative Bob Frewin said:

"The Westchester Classic for $250,000 is being held the week-end before, which means the professionals will be shooting for $450,000 in two successive weekends. None of them will pass up this doubleheader."

Wait Until Next Year?

Nationals; Down But Not Out!

MONTREAL (CP) — The toughest part of the year for Canada's national hockey team occurred Friday night — the team arrived back in Canada.

"For the first time in the four years I've been with the team I feel ashamed to come back to Canada," said assistant captain Marshall Johnston during a stopover at the airport en route to Winnipeg. The reference was to the club's final game, a 6-0 defeat by Sweden after their 2-1 loss to Russia had eliminated their chance for the title.

For Johnson and most of the other nine originals with the nationals, the game against Sweden concluded four years of frustration in international hockey.

It also increased their determination to defeat the Russians in the 1968 Olympic tournament at Grenoble, France.

"I want to beat those guys so bad I can hardly wait to play them," said Fran Huck, who suffered by a severe groin injury.

It is unlikely that any member of the team will return to pro hockey before the Olympics. Eight players are to complete university in the spring next year and intend to continue combining education and hockey. Most of the others live in Winnipeg.

In Ottawa, Health Minister MacEachen saluted the team on its arrival home and said he wanted to assure all the government's continued support and encouragement.

Johnston told reporters he has "never felt worse about a game."

"We were aiming for first place and the fact that we lost it, subconsciously affected us. I'm not saying that we didn't try or do our best. What can you say without it sounding like an alibi?"

Several players pointed to the first period of the Russian game as the turning point in their fortunes. Canada led 1 - 0 on Huck's goal but Russia bounced back to win 2-1.

The players didn't harp too much on the Russian goal they said was offside, but pointed to their first period miscues as the difference between them and the Russians.

"They showed it (the goal) on Austrian TV three times and it was definitely offside," said Johnston, "I saw the referees at a reception later. They just don't know what to call."

Other players said Russian successes were due to their undivided concentration on hockey throughout the complete season.

Members of Canada's national team are primarily students and these players face examinations in three weeks. Others must obtain a leave of absence to attend the world championships.

Teachers Johnston, Ken Brodrick and Ted Macdonald took examination papers over to mark. "Just no time to do it," said Johnston. "Here we can't concentrate on something like that with the world title at stake!"

All the team returned except the coach, Rev. David Bauer, who went to Grenoble to check facilities for the Olympic games next year, and Carl Brewer who is touring Europe with his wife.

Well, You Take Your Pick?

SEBRING, Fla. (CP) — If a Ford or a Chaparral does not win today's 12-hour Sebring endurance race the way is open for the undernourished Porsche to give their bigger rivals the horsepower laugh.

A new Mark IV Ford with Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., and Bruce McLaren of New Zealand sharing the driver's seat, is the fastest in the field by far.

One of the Ford Mark II models which won here last year and went on to the world sports car championship and a pair of Jim Hall's Chaparrals are the other speed cars.

They have bit seven-litre engines compared to the two-litre Porsches.

One driver problem cropped up for the Chaparrals when Phil Hill, former world champion from Santa Monica, Calif., was stricken with appendicitis Friday and taken to hospital.

Jim Hall, millionaire owner and developer of the unorthodox Chaparrals with their automatic transmissions, might return to the driver's seat he shared with partner Hap Sharpe in winning the Sebring endurance test two years ago.

But a pair of Canadians will be in the running as Gary Magwood of Toronto and Ray Gray of Whitby, Ont., share driving chores in an MGB entered by the Canadian Auto Racing team under manager Ted Minton of Whitby. They are entered in the two-litre class.

A third member of the Canadian team, Craig Fisher of Toronto, driving a Black Panther Camaro, did not finish in the second of a 12-race Trans-American sedan series won Friday by Jerry Titus of Sherman Oaks, Calif., in a Mustang.

Titus, who qualified Thursday at 98.53 miles an hour, won the four-hour grind at an average speed of 94.824 miles an hour, leading from start to finish.

Mark Donohue of Stoney Brook, N.Y., placed second, followed by Richard Thompson of Washington and Milton Minter of Fresno, Calif., in Mustangs.

Strathroy Tournament

STRATHROY, Ont. (CP) — Play in the peewee division of the Strathroy Minor Olympic hockey tournament ended Friday with a final match between Oakridge and Strathroy.

Oakridge won 7-1 to finish with 11 points and second position in the division. Lambeth ended with 12 points and Wallaceburg was third with 10.

In midget play Friday, division-leading Glencoe won both of its games to give it 12 points, two points ahead of St. Marys which also had its victory Friday, winning 8-2 over Strathroy. Harold McCutcheon was the St. Marys star, scoring three goals.

Belmont, which is tied for third place with Stoneybrook, each having eight points, won two games also, beating Petrolia 4-1 and Strathroy 6-4.

In the only other midget game of the day, Byron shut out Petrolia 3-0.

Sarnia shut out Watford 8-0 in a bantam game, with J. Nisbet getting three of the winning goals. In other bantam games Petrolia and Byron fought to a 2-2 tie and Lambeth met Strathroy.

Most powerful fertilizer ever developed –
7-28-28 IS THE ANSWER TO HIGHER CORN YIELDS

Take our high analysis 7-28-28, and compare it to 5-20-20. Add up the plant food units and you find 40% more plant food in Agrico 7-28-28.

What does this mean in savings for you?

First, you handle less fertilizer. You can see the difference in the two piles, yet both piles contain the same amount of plant food.

Second, you can make more rounds in the field with the planter, without refilling. Where you apply 8-20-20 at 280 lbs/acre, you need only 200 lbs/ acre of Agrico 7-28-28 to get the same amount of plant food into your soil.

Third, Agrico 7-28-28 is agronomically sound for the major crops and soils in Ontario. It's just right for corn and spring grain. Agrico 7-28-28 is high in phosphorous for early maturity and high in potash for sturdier stalks. Talk it over with your Agrico dealer and he'll get you started on an Agrico 7-28-28 program right away. You can get it in bulk or 50 lb. bag.

Lone Canadian Reaches Final!

WINDIPEG (CP) — Wayne Macdonald, Friday night became the first Canadian in nine years to reach the men's singles final in the Canadian open badminton championships.

Macdonald, who lives in Richmond, B.C., but is a member of the Vancouver racquets and Vancouver lawn tennis and badminton clubs, did it with a methodical 15-8, 7-15, 15-12 semi-final conquest of Suresh Goel of India.

His triumph pitted him against Erland Kops of Denmark, who kicked off the semi-final with a 15-12, 15-11 victory over Sweden's champion Sture Johnsson.

Kops is almost a legend in Badminton circles, a bearded Dane who since 1958 has won the open singles championships of Canada, England, France, West Germany, India, Mexico, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand and the United States.

Kops also entered the men's doubles when he and Rolf Paterson of Vancouver defeated Goel and Dinesh Khanna of India 15-10, 15-8 to earn a match with Colin Beacom and Roger Mills of England. The British boys beat Robert McCoig and James Sydie of Scotland 15-8, 15-10.

In the mixed doubles Paterson and Mimi Nilsson of Vancouver took a 15-11, 5-15, 15-3 semi-final decision over Kops and Barbara Nash of Vancouver. The other successful mixed pair consisted of Mills and Sharon Whitaker of Toronto, 15-3, 15-10 victors over Johnsson and Nancy McKinley of Toronto.

Sharing the spotlight in today's finals will be Jamie Paulson of Calgary, who defends his Canadian junior men's singles crown against Brian Dick of Calgary.

The 18-man foreign contingent —who teamed with Canadian girls in the mixed doubles—met stiff resistance from native players but were too deft.

Johnsson shaded Paulson 15-8, 8-15, 15-8 in the singles quarter-finals, where Bruce Rollick of Vancouver surrendered 12-15, 15-4, 15-8 to Goel. Rollick was a 15-7, 15-7 victim in Macdonnell's romp to a sixth closed title Thursday night.

Paulson and Yves Pare of Montreal, closed champions, lost 15-7, 15-8 to McCoig and Sydie in the men's doubles quarter - finals, the same stage at which 1966 closed champions Macdonnell and Bert Fergus of Vancouver fell 15-5, 15-12 before Goel and Khanna.

Beacom and Mills grabbed their men's doubles semi-final position by beating twins Geoff and Gregg Harris of Edmonton, Canadian junior champions, 15-12, 15-1. Kops and Paterson kept pace with a 15-10, 15-8 win over Rollick and Jim Carowath of Woodstock, Ont.

In the mixed doubles quarter-finals, Mills and Miss Whitaker defeated closed champions Pare and Pat Moody of Montreal 15-5, 8-15, 15-7; Kops and Miss Nash sidetracked Carowath and Marj Sheed of Toronto 15 - 10, 12 - 15, 15 - 13 and Johnsson and McKinley dumped the husband-wife team of Bruce and Judy Rollick 15-4, 15-4.

Marlies, Red Wings Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto Marlboros and Hamilton Red Wings each scored one goal to tie, the eight-point series continues today in Toronto.

Ronald LeClerc opened the scoring for Hamilton and Danny Lawson followed with two quick goals for a lead that held up through a scoreless third period.

Defenceman Rick Ley scored for Niagara Falls in the second period while Hamilton was shorthanded.

Hamilton now leads the best-of-seven series two games to one with the fourth game scheduled for Hamilton Sunday.

Jim Krulicki and Tim Eccleston scored for Kitchener which was outshot 36-26.

The line of Bayes, Hamill and Arnold accounted for 13 scoring points in the lopsided win. The series is now deadlocked at one game apiece with one game tied. The eight-point series continues today in Toronto.

Ronald LeClerc opened the scoring for Hamilton and Danny Lawson followed with two quick goals for a lead that held up through a scoreless third period.

Defenceman Rick Ley scored for Niagara Falls in the second period while Hamilton was shorthanded.

Memphis Wins In Overtime

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Defenceman Lou Marcon stepped in a long shot from the right point at 12:35 of a sudden-death overtime period Friday night to give Memphis Wings a 5 - 4 victory over Omaha Knights and a 1-0 edge in a best-of-seven semi-final series in the Central Hockey League.

Rod Lemieux scored for Memphis at 19:32 of the third period to tie the score and send the game into overtime.

Other Memphis scorers were Alex Faulkner, Ron Attwell and Ron Anderson. Barclay Plager scored twice for Omaha with other Knight goals coming from Jim Johnson and Gary Sabourin.

East Meets West In Finals

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Alberta and Ontario meet today to decide the Canadian centennial midget hockey championship.

Manitoba's 4-3 win Friday over the sixth round over Quebec enabled Edmonton Centennials to finish on top in the Confederation group, one point ahead of Quebec. Edmonton, in an afternoon round, had defeated Prince Edward Island 5-1.

Ontario edged Saskatchewan 3-1 to win the Centennial group competition with a 6-0 won-lost record. Saskatchewan had an undefeated record going into the game.

In other games Friday, Nova Scotia edged New Carolinas 3-2, Thunder Bay downed Northwest Territories 8-2, Newfoundland defeated the Yukon 6-3 and Kingston midgets defeated British Columbia 8-1 in an exhibition game.

Toronto, representing Ontario, scored the first three goals against Saskatoon, Saskatchewan's representative, and appeared headed for a shutout until Orest Kindrachuk scored with 28 seconds remaining. Rick Miller, Gaby Coulter and Doug Dunnamis scored for Toronto.

Manitoba, represented by Flin Flon Bombers, was awarded second place in the Confederation group on the strength of its win over Montreal, Quebec's representative. Both clubs finished with nine points, one fewer than Edmonton.

Under tournament rules, if two clubs end regular competition in a tie, the winner is decided by one club's performance against the team it is tied with.

Flin Flon held a comfortable 6-2 lead with less than six minutes remaining, but Montreal scored three goals, two with an extra forward, to close the gap.

Kelly Cross scored three goals for Flin Flon, with Dennis Hyndman, Jack Wesson, Garry McKay getting one apiece. Richard Forcier led Montreal with two goals and Alain Langlois, Rene Lamy and Pierre Paiement scored the others

Bob Cutler scored two goals for Edmonton in their win over P.E.I. Wayne Radomsky, Craig Dobsky and Ross Barros got the other goals. Colin Young and Ken Ellis scored for Charlottetown Canadiens, the P.E.I. entry.

Nova Scotia got two goals from Alden Huntley, and one from Lester Appleby to give Western Valley Flyers the win over Ottawa. Don Babcock and Brian Bonner scored for Ottawa.

John Szambelhurst scored three goals to lead Thunder Bay to its win over Yellowknife. Gold Kings of the N.W.T. Brian Vescio scored twice for Thunder Bay and single goals went to Bob Kennedy, Ron Duffy, Rick Bragnalo and Dave Kinsley. Leon Harder and Victor Mercredi scored for Yellowknife.

They're Not Taking Any Chances!

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Ellsworth and Mel Stottlemyre won't be satisfied until somebody succeeds them.

Friday, Ellsworth and Stottlemyre took early measures to make sure they don't repeat as the busiest pitchers in baseball.

Ellsworth, who dropped 22 games and won eight for Chicago Cubs in 1966, became the first pitcher this spring to go nine innings in,during Philadelphia Phillies past Cincinnati Reds 2-0 in an exhibition game Friday night.

Stottlemyre, whose 20 losses were high in the American League, pitched seven scoreless innings as New York Yankees downed Boston Red Sox 3-1 in the first major league exhibition ever played in the Virgin Islands.

Ellsworth, dealt to the Phillies in a winter trade for pitcher Ray Culp, tamed Cincinnati on only 103 pitches at Clearwater, Fla. He walked only one, struck out nine and was helped by three double plays.

Stottlemyre, who finished 12-20 as the Yankees tumbled to last place in 1966, stymied the Red Sox on two hits in his best showing of the spring.

Singles by Elston Howard and Bill Robinson drove in two New York runs and Steve Whitaker accounted for the third with his sixth exhibition homer.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell fired seven shutout innings as the Indians trimmed the Cubs 6-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz. He gave three hits while fanning five.

Seven-run innings carried Baltimore Orioles and Houston Astros to victories over Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers in other night games.

The Orioles exploded for seven runs with two out in the seventh and won 8-4 at Ponce, Puerto Rico. A double, two walks, four singles and Dave Johnson's triple did the damage.

Beacom and Miss Sydie scored in the first game of the mixed doubles final but Johnsson and Miss Nash came back to win 15-11, 15-12.

Johnsson shaded Paulson 15-8, 8-15, 15-8 in the singles quarter-finals, where Bruce Rollick of Vancouver surrendered 12-15, 15-4, 15-8 to Goel. Rollick was a 15-7, 15-7 victim in Macdonnell's romp to a sixth closed title Thursday night.

Paulson and Yves Pare of Montreal, closed champions, lost 15-7, 15-8 to McCoig and Sydie in the men's doubles quarter - finals, the same stage at which 1966 closed champions Macdonnell and Bert Fergus of Vancouver fell 15-5, 15-12 before Goel and Khanna.

Senior Curling

New Brunswick Wins 1st Title

MONTREAL (CP)—It took a tough playoff round to do it, but New Brunswick today has its first national men's curling title.

Jim Murphy's rink from the Saint John Thistle Club captured the national curling championship and the Seagram stone with a 10-8 win over the Jack Barry rink from Calgary Friday night.

Amazingly, Murphy, third Harry Farrell — who called the shots—second Don Beatsey and lead Walter Biddlecombe, have played fewer than 20 games as a unit.

"We've only played together for the 11 games of this series, six in the zone and provincials, played to get here and two in warm-up games," the amiable Murphy said.

Of these games, the new champions lost only two and both were in the third session edition of the seniors here.

"We were out - curled on both occasions," Murphy said of his losses to Stan Ferry's Montreal rink and Frank Avery's Vancouver foursome. The losses came in the fifth and eighth rounds by 10-2 and 7-6 margins.

Murphy said: "This is the first time Saint John and Thistle have ever had a national title and I think it's just tremendous. Nothing more exciting could have happened for myself and the other boys."

The skip said he came here with hopes of bettering the New Brunswick high of five wins and five losses in 1965.

The only other national curling title to find a resting place in New Brunswick was the women's, won at Moncton by Mabel De Ware of that city in 1963.

Outdoor Tips And Tricks

BY BOB BLAIND

This is probably the last weekend of ice fishing. Many northern lakes are becoming unsafe for travel. Air holes are forming, creek mouths opening up, ice is starting to leave the shoreline.

Pickerel and pike season officially closed March 31st. Just in time.

The pike have started to run in the creek and in the flood. Quinte and pickerel and walleyes will be running in the next couple of weeks.

Some nice speckled trout are being caught in some of the local creeks such as Moira, Rodden and Squires. These waterways are now open and although a spring flood conditions prevail some parts of these creeks can be fished.

The best bait to use at this time of the year is a big fat dew worm. Hook through the collar drifting along on the bottom and presented in such a manner that looks real and act like a worm flooded into the creek by the rising water.

Freshly caught dewworms are available locally.

As soon as the ice leaves the Bay, many modest fishermen will be trying their luck at the Belleville harbour off Victoria Park and at the Pump House cove.

The ice in the bay is getting rotten and will be out before too long and the boaters and fishermen will be able to start trolling again. For the next week, many yachtsmen have been busy readying schooners, sloops and all types of sailing vessels, at the Belleville harbor, sanding caulking and readying these boats for the water.

The Moira River from the CPR tracks north is almost free of ice and it will not be many days before the early warm current eats a channel far out into the bay to join the shallow water near the bay bridge. After this happens a warm rain and some wind will soon clear the bay of its winter cover of ice.

Woodchuck and crow hunters were quite successful over the week in many county farming sections.

The word to the wise — now approaching is an illegal season called fish poaching.

For many years the Quinte area, Salmon, Moira and Trent Rivers and surrounding creeks have been plagued by Dec-idiot, Knight Owl, Freedom Enjoying the spawning season by means of the spear. This type of fishing is illegal and has been heavily policed by Department of Lands and Forests wardens.

Pike and pickerel have suffered heavy losses during this spawning run. Now more than ever before we must let these fish spawn without being molested.

Pollution has been taking a toll of our local fish population and this last spring pollution had a great deal to do with poor pickerel run in the local rivers. If netting and poaching are not stopped we will be faced within the next few years, with a bay full of carp and silver bass but no game fish such as pike and pickerel.

Most of the pickerel fish, are females, full of eggs, which will be deposited in our rivers and creeks, fertilized and hatched into fingerling fish who will return to the Bay and grow into good sized game fish, if given a chance.

One female fish will deposit up to 60,000 eggs and a fair return of this would be 10% or around 6,000 small fish. Predators (other fish) and disease will take fish for each female allowed to spawn.

If 1,000 pickerel in each of the Moira, Trent and Moira River were able to reproduce 600 adult fish each. Bay of Quinte would again be a good fishing spot.

And since most of these fish are females, it means these selves why not take a walk down to the river and just watch and spear these fine eating game fish.

Riteways Lose Out To Amherst

BRAMPTON (Special) — Belleville Riteways were stopped out of competition in the two - games goals-to-count "B" semi - finals here Friday, bowing to Amherst, N.Y., 3-1 in the first game and 4-2 in the second encounter.

Riteways defeated Barrie and Sault Ste. Marie in the earlier rounds. They won $1,000 last year but lost out in the grand championship.

The Ritewaysmen deserved a better fate. They battled hard all the way but failed to come up with the necessary scoring punch.

Bruce Sutherland scored their only goal in the first game with Shuce and Huckmeyere scoring for Amherst.

In the second game Larry Watts and Scott James scored for the Bellevillite team with Peter Crawford and Ricky Collin getting assists.

Sylas with two, Kimmey and Lymetis scored for Amherst.

Peter Crawford was the teams top scorer over the tournamental here with 11 goals and two assists. Bruce Sutherland had seven goals and seven assists.

Pearson Runs Gauntlet of Anti-Vietnam-War Demonstrators

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson planned a quiet day today, following an active round of events Friday that was capped by another gauntlet - running of anti-Vietnam-war demonstrators.

Police had to use force to clear a path through about 100 demonstrators when the prime minister and Mrs. Pearson arrived for a Liberal party fund-raising dinner at the Hotel Vancouver.

Two rows of police, face to face, linked arms and pushed back against the demonstrators. Again, the slogan used Thursday night at the entrance to another hotel was screamed out: "Pearson, Martin, LBJ, how many kids have you killed today?"

The prime minister ignored the demonstrators. Earlier, at a press conference, he described the Vietnam war as a tragic matter.

He said he is refusing to speak bluntly about the war because "my feeling about the war would not be very helpful at the moment in bringing about an end to the war."

He said he sees no promise of an immediate peace.

Pearson said if there was anything he personally could do to bring about a Vietnam settlement, he would do it immediately—"no matter what I was doing in Canada."

The prime minister, who was to attend a Liberal coffee party today before leaving Vancouver Sunday to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of California, touched on a wide range of topics at his press conference and covered a few more at the dinner Friday night as speaker.

Although security and crowd control have been highly organized by police since Mr. Pearson's arrival Thursday, there was virtually no screening at the prime minister's press conference or the Liberal dinner.

As a result Mr. Pearson was badgered for a time at the conference by a Vancouver reporter-cum-protester.

The prime minister drank at length at the dinner Friday night on trade and the government welcomes foreign capital in Canada only if the investors abide by Canadian law and policy, and become Canadian in every respect.

At the press conference earlier, he said he was disturbed by reports that some wholly-owned subsidiaries of American companies had ordered their Canadian branches not to ship goods to Communist countries.

He said his government stands for the maximum possible free trade, but said the immediate removal of all barriers would mean chaos, not freedom. He warned against entering an exclusive trade club with the United States.

"While the U.S. remains Canada's most valuable market, our first preference is for the wider international approach rather than any exclusive North American arrangement," he said.

Your Car

Pinching Oil Pennies Can Be Expensive

By EUGENE B. MILMOE

Try to save by pinching pennies on engine oil and you're bound to lose on repair expenses. This is especially true when you regularly attist on oil changes, because dirt, sludge and gum is encouraged. That can lead to all kinds of engine ills.

Sometimes, pinching-on-the-lube, due to sticking, is first to develop. But more often, fouled valves are the result. If so, various symptoms such as noise, missing, stalling, power loss, rough idle or poor gas mileage will be your first clue.

Beware, too, if you think the cheapest grade oil is adequate. First of all, it's more readily contaminated and thus can foul engine parts more quickly. Secondly, low-grade oil thins out and loses all of rapidly under heat, so oil mileage is bound to be poor.

R. B. Asks: "Our car is a '53, six-cylinder sedan. Recently I noticed a leak from the fuel pump itself. Can this be repaired?"

It depends. If it's a gas leak, a worn diaphragm is probably the reason. If it's an oil leak, a damaged seal at the pump arm is at fault.

FROM S. A.: "At idle, my motor is rough, but when I step on the gas—whether moving or not—I can hear a definite burning noise. I'm taking something is loose in the carburetor, but I may be wrong."

It could be caused by looseness around the choke shaft. This can make the choke valve vibrate when you accelerate.

J. McT. writes: "When my '56 is used every day, it starts promptly. But, if I leave it in the garage for two or three days, I can't start it unless I prime the carburetor with a little gas."

That can be caused by slight seepage which is slowly draining the carburetor bowl when the car is not used.

R. W. asks: "I've noticed that only a hundred miles or so after an oil change, the oil becomes dark and dirty looking. Is this bad? I use a top quality detergent oil and the engine burns no more than a quart every 1,000 miles."

This is normal. Detergent oil, in cleaning the engine of sludge and carbon, holds these contaminants in suspension.

Compensation Board Centre Is Under Attack as Firetrap

TORONTO (CP) — Marcel Tinsm, described by other patients as a hero who saved 14 men in a fire at the Ontario Workmen's Compensation Board Hospital early Friday, says he wants to testify at any investigation into the fire.

"The place a firetrap," said Mr. Tinsm, 42, of Hamilton. In an interview Friday. It's hard to believe there could be conditions like this in a hospital where men were handicapped and crippled."

Francesco Gualtieri, 35, of Toronto died in the fire and two other men—James Lynch, 34, of Hamilton, and Norman Lowry, 54, of Oshawa—were in critical condition in hospital.

Fire officials who estimated damage at $150,000 said a false ceiling of paper-fibre tiles made the fire, which broke out about 1:30 a.m., spread rapidly along a central hall of the self-care unit of the hospital. Flames trapped about 85 men in the unit.

Martin Hurst, Ontario fire marshal, said paper-fibre tiles of the type used in the hospital ceiling have been prohibited in all the buildings checked by his department since 1958. The hospital was built in 1957.

Mr. Hurst said the hospital is not among those his department is responsible for checking.

Labor Minister Dalton Bales said it comes under the jurisdiction of the compensation board, a Crown agency.

Mr. Timm, a burly construction worker, took control of 14 men, many in a state of panic, in a large card room on the third floor. He knocked four men unconscious when they tried to leap from the window.

"We were trapped in there for half an hour, but I knew the firemen would get us with their ladders," Mr. Timm said. "They came and got us all."

NDP Member Has Until Monday To File Charges and Evidence

EDMONTON (CP)—Pale and tense, the only NDP member of the Alberta legislature stalked from the house Friday to consider his future after receiving a stinging rebuke from the Social Credit government and the other four members of the opposition.

Since Gerth Turcot last month questioned the propriety of actions by two government members, the case has lurked ominously beneath the surface of day-to-day proceedings.

Wednesday, it loomed to the surface when Premier E. C. Manning tabled notice of a motion passed Friday — which "declares the impropriety of (Mr. Turcot) in casting reflection on the character and reputation of other . . . members without presenting specific charges supported by evidence."

Thus, by a vote of 54 to 1, the fables were turned on Mr. Turcot, who now has until 2 p.m. Monday to file with the Speaker of the assembly specific charges and evidence concerning allegations of impropriety against the municipal affairs minister, A. J. Hooke, and the former provincial treasurer, E. W. Hinman.

Mr. Turcot asked for an extension of the time limit to 2 p.m. Tuesday but this was denied.

He said that despite the rebuke, he had no intention of resigning the seat he won in a 1966 byelection and that he is considering his position.

"My stated position is that I've filed more than enough evidence to justify a judicial inquiry."

Employment News

By J. R. STAVELEY, Manpower Counsellor

As yet, the advent of spring weather has not increased the local labor demand for additional workers. It is anticipated that this condition will show sharp improvement in the immediate weeks ahead. From the agricultural point of view, soil moisture conditions are excellent and local farmers are hoping for an early planting season, with its resultant harvest benefits and labor requirements. The considerable amount of planned highway and road improvement will entail the hiring of additional workers throughout the Community.

During Centennial year, with all roads leading to Expo, tourist and summer resort business operators are looking forward to another successful season. In anticipation, some of the owners have already planned their future labor requirements. Although the construction field has been somewhat slow in recent months, a number of general contractors, both rural and urban, have expressed the opinion that a busy season lies ahead. The industrial phase of construction activity presents generally a healthy employment picture. However, in a few cases there have been some lay-offs due to reduced or delayed production orders.

The Canada Manpower Centre is vitally concerned with not only local employment conditions but also those elsewhere across Canada. This information is essential in order that Canada Manpower Centres may serve the best economic and social interests of all.

The following employment opportunities are now available at the Canada Manpower Centre:

In the female division locally a person experienced in selling ladies' ready-to-wear clothing is required on a regular basis, to advise, display and sell women's coats, suits and dresses. A chain retail organization has an opening available for an experienced cashier. As yet unfilled, is a requirement calling for an experienced cosmetician. In demand also are reliable baby sitters, a housekeeper and waitresses, who must be 21 years of age or over. In urgent demand are registered nurses and registered nursing assistants.

In the male division, locally, the requirements continue for salesmen in life insurance, retail and automobile sales work. Career opportunities are available for High School graduates, grades 12 or 13, as manager trainees in the retail, financial and banking fields. Experienced general farm hands, both married or single, are required by local farmers. Also needed is a brush painter and experienced well-driller. Openings exist also for an order clerk trainee, an auto parts salesman and an office supervisory trainee. Urgently required by an area industrial plant is a qualified tool and die maker, a machine repair mechanic and a maintenance electrician. A canning company located in South Western Ontario is already seeking 300 men to harvest the coming asparagus crop. The starting date is approximately May 10, with the duration of employment 6 to 8 weeks. This company is guaranteeing $2.25 per hour or $50 per week or piece work, whichever is best for the worker.

If interested in any of these positions, seeking other employment or thinking of re-entering the labor market, contact the Canada Manpower Centre at 324 Church Street, Belleville.

Madame Vanier Packing

OTTAWA (CP) — Mme. Georges Vanier is packing her things and preparing to begin a new life in Montreal.

Friends have helped the widow of the Governor-General to arrange for the purchase of a house in downtown Montreal and she is expected to move there from Rideau Hall in about two weeks.

Friends say Mme. Vanier has relatives in Montreal and will not have to live alone. Still, the new life will be a severe wrench because for decades, as the wife of a senior military officer and diplomat and then chatelaine at Rideau Hall for 7½ years, many everyday household tasks did not have to occupy her hands or mind.

Budgetary Deficit About $470,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—The government starts a new fiscal year today with a big budgetary deficit for 1966-67 and prospects of a sharply higher spending in 1967-68.

On the basis of treasury accounts made public Friday night and the year - end accounting period that usually takes place, the old fiscal year probably ended with a deficit of $470,000,000.

In the new year, the government has already announced a 15 - per - cent increase in basic spending estimates, reaching $8,535,000,000 for the regular civilian and defence departments.

This includes $353,000,000 which normally would not have been put in the spending program until later in the year, and comparable with an original spending program for 1966-67 amounting to $7,906,500,000.

That program, however, mounted during the year to $8,795,800,000. In the first 11 months of the year, $7,297,800,000 was actually spent. And while government outlays generally run about $620,000,000 a month, March expenditures have in recent years jumped to $1,300,000,000.

This is because some accounts are charged to government departments only at the end of the fiscal year. The jump also represents some last-minute stocking by many departments before their spending authority runs out at midnight, March 31.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

Perhaps, After All, A Farm Is What You Need After 65

By THOMAS COLLINS

Marvin T. Kendall, who retired last year, has moved from the city to a farm, and thinks he has discovered a new design for retirement.

It is just possible that he has. And that for at least the next five years we'll have a bountiful life.

"My wife and I had no more business moving to a farm than any other city people," he says. "We couldn't grow a row of peas. But it was obvious, from reading the papers, that major changes were taking place in rural living, and that three of these changes had wiped out the well-known disadvantage of retiring to the country. . ."

The most important change, he explained, was the flight of the farm people into the cities, leaving behind some good soil and some substantial houses that could be bought at a bargain. The Kendalls bought a 32-acre tract with a rambling 11-room farmhouse. It cost them slightly less than they got from the sale of their city home.

"This couldn't have been done a few years ago," he says. "It can be done in many places today."

NO LONGER REMOTE

A second major change, Mr. Kendall says, was the superhighways. "Until recent times, the great danger of moving to the country was that you would be too remote from the hospital and city services your advancing years might call for. Our house is five minutes from a superhighway, and is 11 miles and 11 minutes from the turn-off into a city hospital. You couldn't live in town and do much better. . ."

The third change is the scattering of factories and larger industries all through the rural areas. "This means many more young families around, all with babies now, who can move into your house and protect you from the loneliness and fears that another bereft retired couple on a farm. The Kendalls have petitioned their house and are resting half of it to a young industrial technician whose plant is five miles away and whose wife and two small children are at home most of the day. "We act a very low rent for them. . .just enough to cover partwinning costs. . .because we wanted people around.

The idea that by moving to a farm you get out of reach of friends and visitors is not too realistic, Mr. Kendall thinks. "It's true that a lot of city people don't come visiting, and it takes a party for us to get old friends to drive out. But my observation is that this situation is about the same for retired people in the city, where friends don't often travel four blocks to see you."

The Kendalls have kept their membership in the city church and in a few civic organizations, but increasingly they are devoting their attention to a rural branch of their church, which is nearby, and to affairs of a consolidated high school three miles away. They are letting their farm grow wild except for some adventures in vegetables and flowers.

"The most interesting part of my retirement I have saved until last," Mr. Kendall says. "I have bought, for $750 out of savings, a half interest in a small crossroads store, a couple of miles down the road. My partner is a retired farmer who is the salt of the earth and who knows everything that has happened in these parts in the last 60 years.

"There's not much money in the store, of course, but I'm clearing about 15 per cent on my investment. . .and I'm getting about half the household needs at wholesale. My main reason for buying in was to get 'where the action is.' I am established as one of the boys now because the store is the unquestioned headquarters for the rural community."

Mr. Kendall has a vague vision of the future — to stay on the farm until infirmities start, then sell the land to a factory at a good profit, and move back into town.

CREDITORS MEET

SUDBURY (CP)—About 100 creditors of Prudential Finance Corp. from this area will meet Sunday to discuss their position. Headquarters of Parliament and Ontario legislature have been invited to meet the Creditors who claim almost of more than $500,000 in the collapse of Prudential Finance.

Many Television Stars Turn To Movies in Spare Time

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What do television stars do with their free time? If they have the money and fireworks agents—they make movies.

Every television star soon faces the time when stardom will dive and he must seek other employment.

Barbara Parkins, member of the Peyton Place cast, is starring in her first movie, Valley of the Dolls. The film also features Sharon Tate in her first venture away from her series.

Raymond Burr, a native of New Westminster, B.C., who starred in Perry Mason and now appearing in a new series Ironsides, is co-starring with Dina Pepparel in Criss Cross. The Hogan's Heroes crew — Bob Crane, Warner Klemperer and John Banner—have joined Elke Sommer and Maureen Arthur in The Wicked Dreams of Paula Schultz.

Buddy Ebsen of Beverly Hillbillies is zubbing through The One and Only Genuine Family Band. The Dobie Gillis also stars Walter Brennan, who is coming back to TV with his third series, The Guns of Will Sonnett.

David McCallum is using his vacation from The Man From Uncle to make another feature, Sol Madrid. The Road West seems to a dead end at the close of this season, and its partners are scattering to movies: Barry Sullivan to Twist of the Knife, Brenda Scott to Journey to Shiloh and Andrew Price to The Devil's Brigade.

Brian Keith took time out from Family Affair to appear in Reflections in a Golden Eye with Elizabeth Taylor and Marlon Brando.

Edward Zimbalist Jr. jumped from The FBI to play Academy Employment husband in Walk Until Dark. Lee Majors left The Long Valley to head West with Charlton Heston in Will Penny.

Wooler

WOOLER—Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilkins and family of Renfrew were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Austin at Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Kim Putnam and daughters Jocelyn and Jill and G. R. Putnam spent Monday in St. Catharines. Mrs. Putnam and Mrs. L. E. Bryant returned home with them after having spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. R. Rodgers and Mrs. A. Golding in St. Catharines.

Miss Ann Richards of Madoc spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Elgin McMaster.

Donna and David O'Neil of Trenton are spending the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dorland and Mr. and Mrs. Henry McColl.

Life of Christ To Be Shown In Color Films

Beginning Monday, April 3 at 7:00 p.m. a three-week series of color films on the life of Christ will be shown at Harry J. Clarke auditorium.

A film will be shown four nights each week, followed by a short lecture and conversation by Pastor Ramsay of Ottawa, the lecturer of Bible in Your Hand Crusade.

Rednersville

REDNERSVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haggerty have returned home from a holiday in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Dunbar and family spent the holiday week-end at Palmer Rapids as guests of Mrs. Dunbar's family.

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dunbar were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Francis of Oshawa.

Miss Rebecca Hatfield of Elmwood spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hatfield.

Erik Barrett and Elvin Higgins of Ottawa were home for the holidays.

Sympathy from the community is extended to Miss Marjorie Peck and Mrs. Lorna Bowerman next family in the loss of their mother, grandmother Mrs. Lena Peck.

Rednersville Sunday school held a games night in the church hall on Tuesday evening with a good crowd in attendance.

'Flags of Convenience' Likely To Suffer New Verbal Flogging

LONDON (CP)—The system of "flags of convenience" is likely to get a new verbal flogging following the spectacular wreck of the tanker Torrey Canyon, whose 118,000 tons of oil are befouling English beaches.

The disaster indirectly underlined a startling fact: For the first time, the British merchant fleet must take second place in gross tonnage to another nation, tiny Liberia in West Africa.

The American-owned Torrey Canyon was one of nearly 1,300 ships now registered in the steamy latin republic, founded as a haven for freed United States slaves and now boasting a population of 1,100,000.

After inspecting the wreck Wednesday, Prime Minister Wilson said the idea that "you can economize in the cost of oil imports or increase oil profits by using flags of convenience has received rather a rude shock."

The International Transport Workers Federation is expected to condemn the system at a meeting opening here Monday.

It is by escaping tax rather than by cutting safety that flags of convenience save money for shipowners.

In the past vessels flying certain flags were regarded as well below the standards of Britain, for instance. But the situation has changed.

The Torrey Canyon, built since the Second World War and "pensioned" in Japan four years ago, was classed in the highest category at Lloyds and the Italian master was regarded as highly experienced.

Some such special-flag ships are among the best in the world, said Anthony Cayzer, president of the United Kingdom Chamber of Shipping, at a Thursday press conference.

"In view of the financial advantages their owners enjoy over their competitors, this is understandable."

It was mostly United States and Greek money that gave Liberia a registry of 1,426 ships in 1966 compared with 853 in 1962. Its gross tonnage now is 21,550,000 tons compared with 1,000,000 in 1951 and about 1,000,000 greater than Britain's.

Other figures include Panama, 702 ships, 4,543,000 gross tons, and Lebanon 149 ships, 743,000 tons.

Beach Is Still Oil-free

Three vacationing London girls splash in the surf of St. Ives Bay at Penzance, England, some nine miles from Land's End, where tanker Torrey Canyon ran aground. Fishing boats in background spray detergent to kill the oil and a boom is strung along the beach to stop oil from the tanker from coming onto the beach. (AP Photo).

Government Is Pressed to Implement St. Lawrence Winter Navigation Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Winter shipping traffic in the upper St. Lawrence River appears to be levelling off and informants say it is leading to new pressure on the government to implement a still-secret plan that would give it fresh momentum.

Transport department officials are reluctant to be quoted about the subject because of the delicate political situation involved. Atlantic ports are fighting anything the loss of winter business to Montreal.

However, Transport Minister Pickersgill said in Commons on Jan. 9 that it would probably cost more than $100,000,000 to ensure an adequate channel for full winter navigation up to Montreal harbor.

In a Commons reply the previous day he said: "The matter is under study continuously but I have no special report to make at this moment."

Engineers are reported to have completed a plan by which ocean freighters could be guaranteed unimpeded passage to Montreal under all but the most severe winter conditions.

It involves a combination of channel improvements through Lake St. Peter and a series of anchored structures to restrict ice formation.

The plan has been tested on a working model of the St. Lawrence built near Montreal last year by the transport department. The $1,000,000 model, 800 feet in length, duplicates precisely the hydraulics of an 85-mile stretch of river below Montreal.

As recently as 1961 only seven ships made it to Montreal during the so-called closed period of river navigation between Jan. 1 and March 31. And only one of the seven was an ocean freighter.

Last season there were 199 arrivals, 36 of them ocean-going. When final figures are available this season's total is expected to be about the same with a slight gain in ocean arrivals which had reached 39 as of last Tuesday.

The increase, in Montreal's winter activity has already had severe effects on Saint John, N.B., and Halifax, the country's traditional winter ports.

Halifax dock workers say their total pay during the last three months was down 40 per cent, or $1,000,000, from the same period last year, despite higher hourly rates.

During January Saint John's dock workers had 72,440 hours of employment compared with 134,000 hours in January, 1966. Tonnage at the port has been nose-diving since 1964.

For years, Maritimers have been lobbying against the transport department's icebreaking activity in the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Quebec City.

Officially, the icebreakers are engaged in flood control. But the channels they open have been attracting an increasing number of ocean vessels that would otherwise have gone to the Atlantic ports.

No agency has ever made a definitive estimate of the saving in shipping costs that has resulted from this situation.

Advocates of full winter navigation in the St. Lawrence claim it reduces by up to 10 per cent the cost of moving goods to Europe.

Marinkers argue that the savings do not balance the cost to the government of keeping the channel open.

Shippers, however, have been lining up to get cargo space out of Montreal. For industries west of Montreal it cuts off 840 miles of costly overland freight charges to Halifax or 480 miles in the case of Saint John.

Even the higher winter ocean rates caused by added insurance premiums on river traffic are more than offset by the freight savings.

The transport department began to provide icebreaker assistance in the Gulf of St. Lawrence during the winter of 1957-58. Only four ships operated in the gulf that winter; this season the figure will be about 600.

This activity has provided an important outlet for pulp and paper industries along the Newfoundland coast, paper mills at Dalhousie, N.B., and the iron ore and aluminum ports on Quebec's north shore.

Saving in transport costs for the pulp and paper industries alone is estimated at $1,600,000 a year.

No Area Safe From Pollution

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Every year scores of conferences are held around the world on smoke abatement, decontamination, anti-pollution and other problems caused by man's technological advance.

And each year more rivers are polluted, more land befouled and more of nature's creatures destroyed as man struggles in a never-ending war against environmental poisons as damaging and catastrophic as military conflict.

The gnawing of the Torrey Canyon with her 118,000 tons of crude oil, as essential to civilization as it is damaging to marine and bird life, has jarred Britain from official complacency.

The government has called for an international conference to have a fresh look at the law of the sea in view of the increasing menace of tankers in accidents beyond territorial limits.

But Arthur Heakel, president of the International Union of Governmental Travel Agencies, points out that the Torrey Canyon is just a spot on the ocean which each year are contaminated by as much as 12,000,000 tons of crude oil washed overboard by tankers.

"No area in the world is safe from oil pollution," he says.

IN UNIVERSITY... OR ARE YOU GOING?

"Even if you plan to become a teacher, preacher, lawyer, doctor or engineer, you will profit remarkably from first receiving a course from a Business College.

"And I'm not joking, for I have had experience in various Liberal Arts colleges, such as Yale, North-Western, Smith College, George Washington University and a YMCA School of Commerce.

The value of Speedwriting-Shorthand and typewriting is undeniable for university students. Above the obvious assistance it lends for taking notes, typing reports, etc., it is also an excellent means to help you finance your university education by getting part time work utilizing these skills.

Use your summer spare time wisely, enroll with Ontario Business College now for a 2 or 3 month course in Speedwriting-Shorthand and Typing plus any other course of your choice. You'll be very glad you did... always!

Pearson Is on Fence On Thant Peace Plan

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail says Prime Minister Pearson has described as unrealistic a Vietnam peace plan proposed by Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations.

In a dispatch from Santa Barbara, Calif., by reporter George MacFarlane, Mr. Pearson is quoted as saying that he did not see how the United States could accept U Thant's proposal for a unilateral halt of hostilities.

"We would all like to see this happen, but we must be realistic," the prime minister said in an interview.

A spokesman for Mr. Pearson in Santa Barbara said "the prime minister denies the Globe and Mail story on the basis that it was published because he is not in a position to make a firm decision on the U Thant proposal until he returns to Ottawa Tuesday and studies the actual text."

He did not elaborate on his reference to the Globe and Mail story.

The secretary - general indicated Saturday at United Nations he is ready to appeal for a general standstill truce wherever somebody proposes a date and time for it.

Preliminary discussions of details of the truce are demanded by the United States and South Vietnam, would be "out of the question" because they would "not be acceptable to the other side."

"So long as the bombing of North Vietnam is going on," he said, "there will be no talks as far as the North Vietnamese concerned."

Mr. Pearson, in Santa Barbara to receive an honorary degree from the University of California, is quoted by The Globe and Mail as saying he felt the United States had been generous in recent overtures to the North Vietnamese.

The story quotes Mr. Pearson as saying:

"While I don't think the United States now has anything to gain from the war in Vietnam...I would certainly hesitate to endorse U Thant's proposal.

"In existing circumstances, Washington would find it impossible to accept it."

The prime minister said he will have more to say today on international affairs when he speaks at university ceremonies. He added that there would be nothing like the speech he gave two years ago at Temple University in Philadelphia, when he proposed for a halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam aroused the ire of President Johnson.

Galbraith Backs Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Kenneth Galbraith says the Vietnam war is "unnecessary" and "will be even more disastrous for the Democratic party."

Galbraith, born near St. Thomas, Ont., spoke Sunday as newly elected president of Americans for Democratic Action, which called Saturday night at its convention here for acceptance "without qualifications" of United Nations Secretary-General U Thant's proposals for ending the war.

The Thant proposals, however, were rejected Sunday by Nhan Dan, North Vietnam's official newspaper. The Hanoi publication was particularly critical of their lacking any reference to the Viet Cong.

Galbraith, ambassador to India under President John F. Kennedy, said when he heard generals "or high state department officials speak blithely of a five- or 10-year war I am willing to believe that they have not considered the political consequences."

ADA's Vietnam resolution asked immediate and unconditional cessation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and criticized policy which it said confuses the insurgency of national independence movements with the threat of communism."

Pressure Kept on Viet Cong

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. military headquarters today announced two new major ground sweeps—including the biggest operation so far by Australian forces in South Vietnam—aimed at steadily increasing the pressure on Communist units.

The U.S. command said 19 ground actions are currently under way seeking out Communist units from the highlands to the marshes of the Mekong Delta. But only scattered contact was reported, with 80 to 85 Communists killed.

The U.S. command also said the Australian guided missile cruiser Hobart, which joined U.S. forces off the coast last Friday, fired a Viet Cong assembly point below Quang Tri City. It was the first offshore bombardment by an Australian ship in the Vietnamese war.

The biggest U.S. ground operation of the war, Operation Junction City id Tay Ninh province near Cambodia, continued to run into significant numbers of Viet Cong troops in the area where a Viet Cong regiment lost at least 381 men last Friday and Saturday. A U.S. spokesman said U.S. troops reported killing 25 to 30 Viet Cong in scattered skirmishes today.

The Australian ground sweep in coastal Phuoc Tuy province began March 21 but was kept under security wraps until today. It numbers perhaps 4,000 men, including U.S. soldiers under Australian command.

Marine Slain on Leave

NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. marine sergeant on home leave from Vietnam was killed by a shotgun blast in Greenwich Village early today after going to the aid of another man in uniform.

Sgt. Michael Kroll, 21, was slain within a few blocks of his home.

Police sought a Negro youth and a white man who fled into nearby Washington Square park after the shooting.

Seaman Robert Crist, 19, of the U.S. Navy, told police he was accosted by a Negro youth about 4:30 a.m., and knocked the youth to the ground.

Kroll, who was passing in a car, stopped and got out. As he joined Crist, the Negro youth got up, produced a 15-gauge shotgun from beneath his jacket and fired at both, striking Kroll in the mouth.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis: Much cooler air has moved into Ontario. Across Northern Ontario overnight temperatures dipped well below the freezing mark and snowflurries are occurring in many areas. ## Flaming Protest in Aden

An Arab demonstrator leaps through flames of burning wood in Aden protesting against the arrival of a United Nations mission. The mission is to advise on the thorny problems posed by the South Arabian Federation's independence which the British have promised to grant by 1968.

Aden Riots Greet Mission From UN

ADEN (AP) — One Arab demonstrator was killed in a series of street clashes today between British troops and bomb-throwing Arab nationalists. Five soldiers and two Arabs were wounded following the arrival of a United Nations mission.

Hundreds of shouting Arabs ran through the narrow streets of Aden's Crater district. Royal Northumberland Fusiliers poured into the area in trucks and arrested a score of demonstrators.

The UN mission arrived Sunday night to explore and advise on problems related to British plans to give South Arabia independence next year.

ATHENS (Reuters)—Panayotis Kanellopoulos, leader of Greece's National Radical Union party, accepted a mandate from King Constantine to form a new government.

Red Guards Resume Demonstrations

PEKING (Reuters) — Thousands of Red Guards poured into Peking streets again today to condemn and demonstrate against Liu Shao-chi, China's head of state.

Marching with red banners and portraits of Chairman Mao Tse-tung, columns of demonstrators constantly chanted "Down with Liu Shao-chi, down with Teng Hsiao-ping, down with Tao Chu."

Teng is party general secretary and Tao Chu a former propaganda chief and vice-premier.

Both have been associated with Liu as leader of the "bourgeois reactionary line."

Today the Communist press revealed that demonstrations took place Sunday in other parts of China calling for Liu's downfall, as well as in Peking.

Today's Peking demonstrations were almost exclusively schoolchildren and students in contrast to the workers who paraded Sunday.

The official New China news agency reported today that demonstrators in Peking, Shanghai and Harbin "pledged themselves to overthrow the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road."

The agency described the demonstrations as a general offensive against the top party person marking "a new and more deep-going stage of the cultural revolution."

The news agency and the People's Daily, official organ of the Communist party, have never before in the cultural revolution reported demonstrations against senior Chinese leaders.

Safe After 58 Bitter Days

Bush Pilot Survives Arctic Ordeal

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—Northern bush pilot Robert Gauchie, given up for dead more than a month ago, was take by another flier Saturday found on a small sub-Arctic and brought to hospital here.

He will lose five toes from his frozen feet but was reported otherwise in good shape after his 58-day ordeal.

Gauchie, 36, of Fort Smith, N.W.T., was last seen Feb. 2 when he left Cambridge Bay, N.W.T., on a routine 350-mile flight southeastward to Yellowknife, on the north shore of Great Slave Lake, 600 miles north of Edmonton.

"Boy, am I glad to see you fellows," grinned the heavily-bearded Gauchie. Then he hefted his flight bag and shambled toward the PCE Explorations Ltd. aircraft that had found him by accident.

Glen Stevens, 29, of Yarmouth, N.S., engineer and co-pilot of the rescue aircraft, said he was 10 miles off his planned flight course from Yellowknife to Coppercine, N.W.T., when a bright flash of light attracted him to Gauchie's green-and-yellow, single-engine Beaver.

Stevens said he told pilot Ron Shearstown, 30, of Toronto, and they flew closer. With the two was passenger Mary Carmichael a school teacher in Coppermine.

Stevens spotted the plane.

"That's Gauchie," said Shearstown.

"He was pretty glad to see us . . . There he was, standing there with his suitcase packed," Stevens said.

Shearstown told the CBC he and Stevens had flown the same route regularly for five weeks.

"He saw us on several occasions and, if we happened to be on course . . . I know on occasion I must have gone right over top of him."

The flash which attracted Stevens was believed rays of the setting Arctic sun reflected by the downed plane's windshield.

Gauchie's rescue came more than a month after all hope—except the faith of his bed-ridden mother in Pembroke, B.C.—had been given up for finding him alive.

Gauchie, father of three daughters, waved away a waiting ambulance when the rescue plane arrived at Yellowknife and hitched a ride to hospital in a police car

Rene Gauchie said in a telephone interview that he "just couldn't believe it." The elder Gauchie, a retired postmaster from Barrhead, Alta., said he had last seen his son two years ago.

"I had given up all hope of seeing my boy again," he said. But he added that his wife had remained certain her son would be found.

"I got a telephone call from his wife in Fort Smith. She didn't say much—she was too overcome."

Mrs. Gauchie was flown to Yellowknife by RCAF aircraft from Fort Smith late Saturday.

Medical authorities informed her that three toes on Gauchie's left foot and two on his right would be amputated as a result of frostbite he had suffered when temperatures dropped to 50 degrees below zero.

The hospital refused to allow most visitors until Tuesday.

Air transport officials have said Gauchie's flight path appeared to be a wide arc, which started correctly on a southwestern direction but ended heading due west on a small lake, 62 miles east of Port Radium, on Great Bear Lake.

The officials speculated that instrument failure may have taken him off course. But he was 257 miles from his destination of Yellowknife.

The lake where he landed is near Samsodre Lake, 40 miles below the Arctic circle and just inside the northern timber line. The lake is 850 miles north of Edmonton.

Veteran fliers described Gauchie's survival as remarkable.

He had eight pounds of survival rations, which he portioned out for most of his 58-day ordeal. His only heat was from a few tin smudges lit in the snow but which apparently were unsuccessful.

The veteran flier had huddled under six sleeping bags in the front-covered plane and spent some of his time writing a diary.

Gauchie's weight dropped from 180 pounds to 135. The only supplement for his survival diet was from a 40-pound cargo of Arctic char—eaten raw.

"I talked to the wolves for the first 25 days and then they left me," Gauchie said in an interview with the CBC shortly after he arrived in Yellowknife.

"I tried to make X to shore once and I flaked out. So I stayed with the airplane after that. I thought I was tougher than I was . . . I couldn't even walk 50 yards."

He was 250 yards from shore and the wood which could have provided him a fire and shelter.

The lake where he landed is only a few miles beyond the northern extremity of the search area crossed by the RCAF in a 15-day hunt covering 284,000 square miles, and a smaller search later by private planes.

All Models--All Sizes!

Entrants and enthusiasts came from across Ontario and New York State to participate in drag-race opener at Deseronto Sunday. While program was curtailed by bad weather, the big cross-section entry resulted in a large variety of vehicles on display — like mechanical cross-breed above.

The Rains Came!

Heavy showers washed down some of the enthusiasm at another drag-racing season's opener at Mohawk airport, Deseronto, yesterday. But several thousand still stayed to watch, like the sheltering couple above.

Rural Development Course Opens Here

Details of the Federal Provincial rural development program being offered through ARDA are under discussion this week in Belleville at a provincial department of agriculture rural development training conference.

The conference, attended by approximately 45 government department officials, rural development officers and councillors and farm organization heads, got underway this morning at the Tops Motel and will last until Saturday.

The program consists of talks by department officials on the various phases of the ARDA program, followed by workshop discussions.

Opening remarks this morning were by K. E. Lantz, assistant deputy minister of the Ontario department of agriculture and food, followed by an outline of the federal-provincial rural development agreement by R. C. Hodges, federal regional director for ARDA.

Also heard this morning was Herbert Crown, director Ontario ARDA, who talked on Ontario policies and programs.

Tomorrow the role and responsibility of rural development officers and councillors will be discussed and on Wednesday land use and farm adjustment will be the topic, with particular emphasis on farm enlargement and consolidation.

Wednesday evening the group will visit the agricultural re-training course being held at the Quinte Secondary School in Belleville as part of the Program 5 retraining program.

Ontario department of agriculture and food course leaders at the conference include Assistant Deputy Minister K. E. Lantz; Director ARDA branch H. F. Crown; assistant director W. A. Montcalm and Nelson Jones, Kemptville Agricultural School.

Federal ARDA course leaders are R. C. Hodges, regional director, (Ontario) K. T. Bradley, community development services; W. H. Burns, chief, resource adjustment section; Don Buchanan, advisor to Federal ARDA on manpower; and R. G. Perret, Canada Land Inventory.

Other course leaders are Professor C. Hendry, University of Toronto School of Social Work; E. A. Lageer, chief, counselling services, Canada department of manpower; and E. L. Kerridge, supervisor of retraining, Ontario department of education.

Clayton Hall of Plainfield, recently appointed as ARDA counsellor for Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington, is the local ARDA representative attending the sessions.

Short Wave Listener Has Big Timetable

Bob Jones of 46 Mikel Ave. has his ears tuned in the six waves of the world. Now his mailman will probably know why he gets literature from such places as Cuba, Australia, Peking etc. One of his latest magazines came from the communist government of China, in Peking.

A letter inside said that it hoped Mr. Jones would find that "the pictorial will help you in understanding the present great proletarian cultural revolution of the Chinese people which is developing vigorously."

It is filled with photos of Chairman Mao Tse-tung, "The great teacher, great leader, great supreme commander and great helmsman of the Chinese people."

Asked if he was brainwashed yet, Mr. Jones, said no. He is what is called an SWL . . . a short wave listener.

Mr. Jones spends 30 to 40 hours a week listening to broadcasts from all points of the globe. "It is much more fun than TV: I can't stand it. You learn a heck of alot too," he said.

He monitors programs and sends a signal report to the sending station, and in turn receives all kinds of material.

Two Sundays ago he was listening to Norway. The station said it was the worst Easter the country had seen in 30 years. 12 skiers were killed in snowslides.

He has timetables for about 125 countries when they broadcast in the English language, and has been listening for about seven years. "My wife always knows where I am," he says. He has four receivers.

There are four members of the Canadian Short Wave Club in Belleville. Mr. Jones says he will occasionally call one up and they will kick around the information heard on short wave.

Judge Sets Payments In Accident

In a session of the County Court being held in this city, Judge W. S. Lane, held Josef Rydzewski, 63 per cent negligible and M. D. Brown, 35 per cent, in an auto accident which took place on April 23rd, of last year. Damages in the mishap totalled $570.

Pyrotenax Workers on Strike

TRENTON — The second major strike of an industry here was effected at Midnight Saturday as picketing began in front of the West St. plant of Pyrotenax of Canada Ltd.

About 80 production workers, members of Local 537, International Union of Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers of America, are involved in the walkout. Local 537 president Cyril White says "about one-third" of this number are female employees at the plant, the only Canadian subsidiary of a parent English firm.

In operation in Trenton since 1933, Pyrotenax specializes in the manufacture of various cable products, such as the types of heating cable used beneath driveways to facilitate snow removal.)

Mr. White said his local had been seeking a 30-cent hourly increase in one year, in addition to increased medical contract provisions and additional job classifications. "The company's counter-proposals with respect to wages had been in the neighborhood of a 20-cent hourly hike over two years," he said.

"The main issue at things stand is actually the wording of the contract proposals," added Mr. White, but did not elaborate.

Negotiation between union and company agents began in December. The last Local 537 pact with Pyrotenax expired Feb. 2, and subsequent conciliation attempts have proved unsuccessful.

Bargaining agent for this area of I.U.E. jurisdiction is William Miller of Brockville, who is expected to be in town this week to continue talks with company officials.

The last major union-management confrontation in Trenton involved the strike of 185 Canadian General Electric plant employees who, along with 8,000 fellow United Electrical Workers in Ontario, returned to work Feb. 27 after a three-week walkout.

Ironicaly, Trenton's Pyrotenax plant is located only about 20 yards from the C.G.E. works, and Local 37 strike headquarters are being set up in a trailer today, just as General Electric picketers did last month scarcely a stone's throw away.

One thing the two sets of strikers did not share in common, however, is the weather.

C.G.E. picketers began their walkout in raw winter temperatures which often slid to 10 below zero or more.

The initial shift of pickets at the Pyrotenax plant yesterday was confronted with the season's first bout of thundershowers, which doused the area with half an inch of rain.

Decision Reserved

A labor relations board inquiry has reserved its decision on charges a Belleville snack-foods company dismissed employees early this year when they tried to join a union.

The allegations were made against W. T. Hawkins Ltd., by the International Molders and Allied Workers Union.

The union claims the company unfairly discharged about 20 workers at its South Front Street plant "for their efforts in trying to become members of a union."

The company, located in Belleville about 12 years, manufactures potato chips and other novelty foods.

Both company and labor sides of the issue now are being studied by a three - man Ontario Labor Relations Board inquiry group which board sevidence Thursday and Friday in Belleville.

George Daicard, president of the Belleville - District Labor Council, said the company dismissed the workers in mid - January claiming a shortage of work.

Youth Lends Helping Hand To Centennial Arts Festival

Youth loaned a helping hand Saturday to Belleville's upcoming Centennial Arts Festival.

A score of hands in fact — and some vivid imagination.

The combination gave the festival a free publicity fillip, at the same time dabbing a dash of color on downtown Belleville.

The idea was to herald advance sales of single tickets for the four - day festival April 13-16 at Centennial Secondary School. The tickets now are on sale.

Festival organizers sent out a call for volunteers from art departments at all city high schools.

The call was answered Saturday morning when the students turned up at the boarded parking lot entrance on Front Street's west side.

The project called for them to cover the boarding with artistic motifs — their enterprise encouraged by competition for the best designs.

With materials donated by city stores they set to work, designing and painting through the morning and early afternoon.

By the time they were finished, hundreds of curious passersby were acquainted with the fact the city's having an arts festival — and the main street had an eye - catching showpiece.

As for the prizes — long - play records donated by music teacher Charles Kammer and the Plaza Shoppette — they were divided four ways. The winners were Linda Smith, Bob Dafoe, Jill Roulet and Justin Wonsecott.

Artist at Work: Prize Winner Jill Roulet

Playground Equipment Donated

The Stephens-Adamson Mfg. Co. of Canada Ltd. will donate playground equipment to the Belleville Parks Board of Management for use at Zwick's Island Centennial Park.

The offer of the playground equipment was accepted by the board at its last meeting. The donation of equipment will be part of the company's centennial project.

Included in the list is a pump - a - round, teeter, two climbers, metal slide, and swings.

The Imperial Tobacco Sales Ltd. will donate the single side equestrienne, being presently maintained by the company at the arena.

Body of Man Recovered From Trent

TRENTON — The body of 41-year-old Andor Borcs of Toronto, drowned in the Trenton River Jan. 31, was removed from the river, near the government dam, Saturday, around 4.30 p.m.

Borcs clung to an overturned aluminum boat below Dam No. 1 for 45 minutes while police and firemen attempted to put into action various rescue procedures. He was unable to grasp ropes thrown to him from the dam. Seconds before a helicopter from the search and rescue at the Canadian Forces Base came to the scene and while firemen were launching a borrowed boat, Borcs slipped beneath the icy water.

The body of Victor Varab, also of Toronto, who accompanied Borcs on a fishing trip, has yet to be recovered.

Leslie Kirs, 36, the third man in the boat, managed to reach his way to shore through the rapids, was treated for shock at Trenton Memorial hospital and returned to Toronto the day of the tragedy.

E. W. Henderson Dairy Expert Dies

Ontario Department of Agriculture dairy specialist for Hastings county and one time cheesemaker in the Quinte district, Mr. Ernest W. Henderson, 11 Northwood Cres., died Sunday in Kingston General Hospital.

He had been in failing health for some time and was admitted to Kingston hospital two weeks ago. He was in his 58th year.

Mr. Henderson's death removes a prominent figure from the dairy industry in the Quinte district.

Born in Melrose, he was the son of a cheesemaker, the late Joseph D. Henderson and Mrs. Henderson and had lived all his life in the area. Moving to Prince Edward county 31 years ago he made cheese at Black Creek and Cressy and played a prominent part in factory improvement competitions sponsored by the Prince Edward Dairymen's Association.

In 1944 he was appointed to the dairy branch working as dairy instructor and fieldman for Prince Edward and part of Hastings.

In January 1960 he was transferred to Belleville, headquarters in Stirling but lived in Belleville.

He served as president of the Dairy Branch Fieldmen's Association of Ontario; arranged many dairy displays at fairs in the district, judged these classes at many fairs, and promoted the industry through Dairy Princess competitions and assistance with the Empire Dairy Show and conventions held in Belleville.

Mr. Henderson was active in many phases of community life. He was a director of the Belleville Fair and also of Prince Edward County Agricultural Society of which he is a past president. He played a leading role when the Prince Edward Society erected its agricultural centre, assisted in early operation and served as chairman of the Centre Commission which operated it as an arena in the winter months.

A member of Prince Edward Lodge, AF and AM, No 18, he was also a member of the Royal Arch Masons, a Past Preceptor of St. George's Preceptory in Picton, and a member of Rameses Shrine, Toronto. He was the first Worthy Patron, and a life member of the Picton Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and was recently given an honorary membership in Minerva Chapter OES, Belleville.

While in Picton, Mr. Henderson served on the official board of the United Church, and in Belleville was a member of Eastminster United Church. He was formerly a member of Prince Edward and Belleville Horticultural Societies and for a time a member of Picton Rotary Club. He served as director for district 3, Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies for two years. Every good cause enjoyed his support and many benefitted by his able leadership. His friendly personality added to a host of friends over a wide area.

Besides his wife, the former Nellie Fleming, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Garnet (Bernadine) Ackerman of Picton; Mrs. Uwe (Gayla) Tischbein of Belleville, and Mrs. Paul (Joyce) Welsh of Oshawa.

Also surviving are four granddaughters, and two sisters, Mrs. Lee Smith of Smithfield and Mrs. Muriel Morgan of R.R. 1 Hilton.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Gwass Funeral Home in Belleville with interment in Smithfield Cemetery.

Loyalist Campus President May Be Named Within Week

The governors of the new Ontario College of Applied Arts and Technology will soon appoint a president for the college's Belleville-area Quinte campus.

The appointment was discussed Saturday at a meeting of the board of governors' sub-committee charged with handling matters pertaining to the campus.

The meeting followed the naming late Friday of David B. Sutherland, executive secretary of the Ontario Council of Regents as president of the college's Peterborough - area Sir Sanford Fleming campus.

Sub-committee chairman J. C. Anderson of Belleville, last night said an announcement could be made within a week confirming the Quinte campus appointment.

The committee received more than 40 applications for the post and interviewed two candidates at the Saturday meeting, the judge said.

Filling the post at the earliest opportunity is seen as vitally important by the governors, since the president must ready all administrative details for the college's opening next September in temporary quarters at Centennial Secondary School in Belleville.

Meanwhile, choice of a permanent site will take longer and there apparently is no promise of an immediate decision.

Judge Anderson said engineering consultants already have surveyed three possible sites and more are to be inspected.

No announcement could be expected "right away," said the Judge.

One site—midway between Belleville and Trenton — already has been offered by Sidney township school board, while others in the Bairwa and Rawdon township areas also are believed under scrutiny.

Chapels to Build Hospital

Lt.-Col. the Rev. J. Anderson Canadian Army Chaplain (P) of Oakville Ont., will be at Canadien Forces Base Trenton Wednesday, to speak about his visit to the Christian Medical Hospital at Vellore, India.

Padre Anderson will show colored slides of his trip. The meeting will be kept to about one hour so that school children may attend. This is an information meeting only. There will be no collection taken. The visit is sponsored by the Chapel Committee of CFB Trenton. The Centennial project for Protestant Chapels of the Armed Forces is to raise $39,000.00 to build a hospital for sick children in Vellore, India. All are invited to attend this treweigue Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Broadeur Senior School, Middleton Park, Trenton.

Two Airmen Commissioned From Ranks

Fire Inspector Retires

J. Darvell Honored

Fire Inspector Jack Darvell ended 32 years of excitement with the Belleville Fire Department on Friday. On Saturday night his fellow firemen held a banquet in his honor at the Club Canara.

Fire Chief Ted Poots said Mr. Darvell was conscientious of his position and had a fine way with people. "I was happy with him," the chief said.

Mr. Darvell is a lover of flowers, likes to travel and is waiting for the fishing season to open.

He was made an inspector in 1960. He joined the department in 1935 and his first big blaze was the John St. Church in October of 1936. No lives were lost but the stone church started to burn on a Saturday morning and flared all day, being brought under control in the afternoon.

1936 was the year the Moira overran its banks and flooded the downtown section. Mr. Darvell worked for 36 hours without rest rescuing people.

1948 was the next disaster Mr. Darvell was involved with. It was January and the thermometer read minus 25. The City Home for the Aged and the Jamieson Bone Building were ablaze. Two persons lost their lives.

One time the police and fire departments had a hockey match to raise money for crippled children, and went up to the Shriners' Club for a banquet. They had to leave in a hurry when a corner of Front and Bridge St. burst into flames. It was March 31, 1947 and the fire lasted until the next morning. $225,000 damage was done.

There were many, many more big fires over the years, but one of the most dangerous was in November 1956 when Bill Delise's premises on Coleman St. went up in smoke. Propane tanks kept blowing up in the $187,000 conflagration. "We were lucky nobody was killed," the retired fire inspector said.

The Industrial Grind

In our industrialized society is there no room for the intellectual — or the humanist?

Must everyone be channelled into the non stop executive-ulcer-convention grind that separates men from their wives and families and occasionally sends them to an early grave?

Certainly, one of the ideals of education today is the turning out of large numbers of young men with skills that will fit them for the maintenance of the industrial foundations of our society.

However, the intellectual sphere cannot be ignored either. New universities and colleges are springing up all over the country. They have to be staffed, and to do this Canada must have its quota of intellectuals, be they of the ivory-tower-thinker-researcher breed or the practical but equally creative men who find their way into scientific and technological spheres of activity.

So it was with dismay that we came upon a statement by a Toronto industrialist which tended to make light of those who want to be thinkers. And of course by thinkers, intellectuals, or whatever name they may be termed, the ideal is that the products of such thought should be of a practical nature that can be of overall benefit of mankind.

In any event, E. W. Rippingille Jr., president and general manager of Frigidaire Products of Canada Ltd. has been quoted as saying he is shocked at the reluctance of university graduates and undergraduates to compete in the world of industry.

"It's from the university graduates that I hear so frequently that they don't want to get involved. They want to be intellectuals."

Mr. Rippingille says high school graduates "show a better attitude to industry than college graduates." And he suggests educators and businessmen should meet more often to plan the transition of students from the classroom to the business world.

If in one respect, Mr. Rippingille summed up the prevailing attitude in our materialist society. "There is no place for nonconformism in industry or commerce." In other words, look alike, do alike, forget about the mystery and poetry and beauty of this world and get involved in the cut-throat world of business.

Well, not everyone is suited to that kind of life. Canada needs its intellectuals too. The universities train them — and so does industry. It is just a question of striking a balance between each.

Busy Inventors

Desperate situations often demand desperate remedies. Thus, the tanker oil that has been polluting British beaches in recent days has been taxing the ingenuity of scientists seeking ways of minimising the extensive damage already caused.

A Cornwall (Ontario) man, Henry Lalonde has come up with an invention for separating oil from water which is causing interest in British scientific circles.

Lalonde, a plumber by trade, and part-time inventor, was watching the Torrey Canyon disaster on television, and it gave him an idea that he went to work on in his basement workshop. The succeeding experiment was tested at the British High Commission in Ottawa, and its principles were subsequently cabled to Britain for consideration.

Similar concepts may have been evolved already, and of course the trouble is that the oil slick from the tanker has already caused grievous harm to the beaches, wildlife and tourist industry of southwest England.

The time when inventions such as Mr. Lalonde's was most needed had passed. Still, they may be of use in tackling similar situations in future. There is always room for ingenuity for contamination from oil in areas like the English Channel.

Wife Beaters

The people-are-the-same-all-over-the-world and all-men-are-equal syndromes are not necessarily axiomatic truths. Both can be bent considerably to the point where they become only half-truths.

North Vietnam, however, has furnished proof that in one respect at least the Oriental and the Occidental, or Western, peoples are much the same.

None other than Ho Chi Minh, leader of Communist North Vietnam, currently engaged in fighting the United States and South Vietnam, has gone on late radio to chastise North Vietnamese menfolk for beating their wives.

Granted there have been atrocities committed by both sides in Vietnam, but Ho Chi Minh is saying in effect that it is all right to kill off Americans and South Vietnamese and their allies by fair means or foul — "but please men, don't be beastly to your wives."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

April 3, 1947

General Manager of the Canada Cement Co. at Point Anne, J. H. Legate was named chairman of the board for the past 19 years.

for Belleville General Hospital when the board met in its annual meeting last week. Mr. Legate succeeds Mackenzie Robertson who had acted as chairman of the board for the past 19 years.

The visit of the Reverend E. Waldo Smith to the city this week will be of interest to the many friends in the city and district. He is to speak at Good Friday service of the three United Churches to be held in Bridge Street Church.

Responsible for the organization of the first Quinte Boy Scout troop at Point Anne 35 years ago, Mrs. Tillie MacDonald, Canada's first lady scoutmaster, is still vitally interested in the Boy Scout movement.

30 YEARS AGO

April 3, 1937

James Harris, who is retiring from the position of caretaker at the city hall after 25 years of faithful and efficient service, was presented with a Dunhill pipe and smoking set by the employees at the city hall.

At the home of Mrs. J. Scott, W. Moira St., yesterday afternoon the members of the Woman's Auxiliary in connection with Christ Church Parish, held a successful and enjoyable tea. Mrs. G. G. Wright assisted the hostess in receiving and the guests were invited to the tea room by Mrs. Ray Bailey.

A large number attended the Moose euchre and dance last evening.

40 YEARS AGO

April 3, 1927

Mr. and Mrs. B. Brown have returned to their home in Virginia City, Minn., after visiting relatives here.

Robert M. Chapman, who has been superintendent of the Jamieson Bone Construction Co. here for the past two years, will leave here May 1, for the Province of Quebec where he will engage in prospecting.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Macaulay are spending a few days in Toronto.

Large quantities of maple syrup were offered for sale on the market today. The price asked was 60 cents per quart.

50 YEARS AGO

April 2, 1917

The 8th annual meeting of the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club was held at the YMCA and the following officers were elected for this year: honorary presidents, A. S. B. Lazier and Thomas Ritchie, president, the Rev. C. G. Smith; vice presidents, Charles N. Salmon and the Rev. A. S. Kerr; secretary-treasurer, J. A. Campion; chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Scott.

During the first three months of this year the building permits have amounted to about $11,000.

Queen's Visit to Expo

Peterborough Examiner

The itinerary of the Queen's visit to Expo '67, which was announced recently, appears to be more than ordinarily timid. No one is under any illusion why her Canadian advisers have recommended that the visit to Canada be limited to the Expo '67 site itself, and to Ottawa. There are fears that a prolonged visit, accompanied by a tour, would cause resentment and bad-feeling in some parts of the country, probably to the detriment of the institution itself. Where there is smouldering, the reasoning goes, it is dangerous to fan the flame.

This neglects a considerable interest in other parts of Canada that could reasonably expect a visit from the sovereign in a Centennial year. The argument for the constitutional monarchy is that it is relevant to Canadian institutions and, indeed, that these institutions would collapse, if the monarchy were removed, to be replaced by something which would further jeopardize our independence in North America.

If these arguments have any validity at all, they will not be strengthened by fear of putting them forward in a tangible manner. The view of the death of the Governor-General, it is doubly important that the Queen appear in her proper role in Canada — that is as the first arm of our constitutional government.

Otherwise, a fleeting visit may give aid and comfort to those who already say that the monarchy is an anachronism which Canada can do without.

Today in History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

April 3, 1967 . . .

England's last possession in France, Calais, was lost 400 years ago today—in 1558—when the French war with the Holy Roman empire of Ioot Habsburgs was settled by the Peace of Cateau Cambresis. The English had joined in the war to support Spain and their fortress of Calais was captured after English victories at sea. When Queen Mary of England died she said if doctors were to open her body they would find the name Calais engraven on her heart.

1861—Gen. U.S. Grant occupied the Confederate capital of Richmond, Va.

1946—Canada took over the Alaska Highway from U.S. control.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1917—eight German and six British aircraft fell in combat over France; the French occupied three village on the Western Front; Germans defeated a Russian force at the Stokhod River.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1942—U.S. Flying Fortresses bombed Japanese ships in the Andaman Islands; Charles A. Lindbergh, transatlantic pilot and former isolationist leader, started work at a Ford aeronautical laboratory; the bases of USS Langley, USS Peary and HMS Heythrop were announced.

Quebec Discourages Immigrants

Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph

Quebec, like every other province, has always had the right to go all out in getting more immigrants. But up to now it has done little about it. On the contrary, even immigrants who came here on their own steam from France have returned disillusioned by the lack of warmth shown by bystanders.

During Quebec's long, Chinese years, when it tried to achieve by sheer procreation what it could not achieve otherwise, the immigrant was a suspect creature, to be denied job opportunities and kept out of the close "family circle."

Organizations like the St. Jean Baptiste Society, with their emphasis on the narrowest nationalism, based upon linguistic and religious criteria, made sure that any immigrant who settled in the province would remain an outsider.

All this, of course, fitted in with the great Canadian myth that this country, like the United States, was not going to become a melting pot.

The only trouble was that while French Canadians clung passionately to this no - melting pot concept, English - speaking Canadians did not show themselves to be quite so fussy.

The result is remarkable. While Quebec closed in upon itself and indulged in the fascinating but expensive game of navel-contemplating, Ontario went ahead with a concerted drive to get more immigrants.

Now Cultural Affairs Trembay talks of allowing Quebec officers to stamp immigrants, as though it was the lack of this particular office that prevented this province from getting immigrants or keeping those that came here.

The latest setting up of passport offices and immigration bureaus is not going to bring a stream of immigrants into Quebec; nor are the futile efforts being made inside the province to make immigrants comfortable (the women's organizations are the parties) going to make immigrants decide to stay with the French-Canadian group. Quebec has to provide an educational framework in which the immigrant will have the same opportunities as in an education system in another province.

Just now Quebec does not offer this. It's a case of take it or leave it. And most would-be immigrants are leaving it—to the profit of Ontario, British Columbia and other provinces.

Vatican Says "No" to Guitars

Manchester Guardian

The Vatican has said "No" to the electric guitar in church. For some three hundred years after the Reformation the Presbyterian Church regarded the organ as sinful. In the early centuries of the Christian Church all musical instruments were forbidden in religious ceremonies, as they were in Jewish synagogues at this time. Yet in the temple of Solomon "four thousand praised the Lord with instruments."

From the Renaissance on into the nineteenth century there were in Italy "a rich specialty" churches throughout Europe increasingly splendid orchestral and musical instruments were set to and the instruction on sacred music of Pope Pius X in 1903 forbade Church music of a theatrical style, and the use of instruments other than the organ required the permission of a bishop.

The latest Vatican instruction is reasonable enough in asking that nothing should be done in churches "unbecoming to the holiness of the place, the dignity of the liturgy, and the devotion of the faithful," though that is hardly a definition.

Saint Paul, characteristically, objected to women's voices because they lead to licentiousness (so he told the Corinthians). Even now women in choirs are not everywhere acceptable.

Then there has been argument through the ages about popular hymns, often related to secular song, which came into the Church from outside. The Salvation Army took a brisk line on this when it decided not to leave all the best tunes to the devil.

The arrival of twentieth-century popular music in Church —and in practice—is developing in a venerable historical tradition. But some of the experiments in jazz or pop mass animeals to Church ritual have not been lacking in reverence, though there may have been gimmicky and could easily upset the faithful merely by their unfamiliarity.

It is doubtful if theologians can set up a barrier between the sacred and profane in music. For as Sir Neville Cardus writes on another page, "music, more than any other of the arts, has gone beyond the phenomenal to the noumenal universe — as far indeed as mortal intuitions can lead."

Education of Franco-Ontarians

Ottawa Le Droit

Reaction of the Ontario minister of education, Mr. William Davis, to the Franco-Ontarian brief on bilingual secondary schools is somewhat disappointing. . . .

Newspapers do not know the full decision reached in the brief, but we all know that it was based on the collective decision of the Franco - Ontarians at a special meeting Feb. 18. Summarized briefly, this decision was to ask Toronto for secondary schools for Franco-Ontarians, that is schools where instruction would be mainly in their own language.

Mr. Davis hinted that the government is not ready to grant Franco - Ontarians a school system similar to that enjoyed by the English-speaking people of Quebec. We also know that we are not asking for such a thing. We are asking for a system more in keeping with our cultural traditions than the one we now have, but we are sufficiently conscious of the reality in Ontario and of the Anglo - Saxon context in which we must develop to accept and to hope to be able to make a living without difficulty, and this presupposes an excellent knowledge of English. . . .

However, one thing is sure and that is that the Franco-Ontario school system will be changed. It is to be hoped that in making the changes the east will be put before the horse, that teachers will be trained for French secondary schools before new institutions are established, that the changes will be brought about gradually. To act otherwise would be to condemn the new system to failure and to provide ammunition for those who would love to say: "You can see very well now that French instruction produces inferior beings.

Problems of Being in Debt

Hamilton Spectator

Seldom have we seen a more poignant and significant story than the one concerning the young mother who sent her five-year-old daughter in a taxi to a finance company after having her pay cheque cashed.

With the child went this note: "Here is my baby. Since you hold my cheque you can take care of her till I'm able to.

"I struggled and tried my best to take care of her but you need me say more. I can't do anything for her. I only see how you do. I hope you do better than I did.

"She needs a new pair of shoes.

"The ones she's got on are too little. . . .

"Her dress for Easter is on layaway. You can get it out. It only costs $3, but I don't owe that much now.

"Now it's up to you to take care of her."

While the mother was obviously being unfair to the finance company, the heartbreaking poignancy nevertheless points to a great need in our society today, and that is a long and serious look by responsible agencies at the entire credit system.

Surely there should be government-regulated agencies which would protect the very poor or the incorrigible irresponsible from getting hopelessly involved with debt they don't understand and can't handle. Banks, and other conservative lending institutions, will not make such loans for which, ironically, they have been blamed.

There is something sick about a credit system in which people who are close to being indigent to borrow money. And there is something crazy boastful about the system when a company can garnishee wages without even bothering to tell the person concerned. There is, after all, such a thing as good public relations, and a fair business deal is the one with the awesome power to garnishee.

Shades of the Glassco Report

Montreal La Presse

Four years ago, a lot of noise was made about a report of a commission of inquiry which recommended a big reduction and cut in the size of the federal administration, while at the same time increasing its efficiency. While the Diefenbaker and Pearson governments put many of the recommendations into effect, it cannot reably be said that they took account of the spirit of the Glassco report.

Mr. Maxwell Henderson, Canada's auditor - general, pointed out during the last four years the cost of the federal administration, far from being reduced, has increased by some $325,000,000. Since Oct. 1, 1964, the number of civil servants had increased by 71,445; last year alone, more than 10,000 new employees were hired by the government. Four years ago, there was one federal civil servant for each 97 inhabitants. Today there is one for every 76 inhabitants.

It seems that any desire to reduce the costs of the administrative machine is equivalent to tackling an impossible task.

April Election

West Germans Hope National Democrats Will Break Up

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Democratic - minded West Germans are hoping that the blows from which the National Democratic party is suffering turns out to be something fatal.

The main political parties, particularly, would be happy if the current struggle for the NDP-leadership tore the party to pieces before three forth-coming state elections in West Germany.

A more likely outcome, however, was pointed out by the interior ministry at Bonn when it said that the NDP could lurch even farther rightward and slip exclusively into neo-democratic hands.

That was how the federal government saw the strange affair of NDP Chairman Fritz Adolf Thielen and Deputy Chairman von Thadden flying one another —and von Thadden making it stick.

You Thadden — and Thielen, for that matter—denies that the NDP is neo-Nazi, but the message doesn't seem to come through. The story is told that a delegate turned up for the NDP convention in Karlsruhe with a swastika badge barely hidden by his lapel. He was thrown out of the party, not for his principles but for "political stupidity."

SHEER SURPRISE VOTE

The NDP, founded late in 1964 by amalgamation of two right-wing splinter parties, won a surprising two per cent of the popular vote in the federal election of 1965.

Last November's sensations, when "the NDP won seven per cent of the vote in the Hesse and Bavaria state elections, aroused world-wide speculation about a revival of Nazism.

The danger was discounted by West German authorities, but it was considered serious enough by the left and centre men of the federal and state interior ministers to hold a conference in Bonn.

They reached the conclusion that the party had passed the peak of its development. The flow of support from the ranks of the dissatisfied had largely dried up.

They recognized that the best means of combatting extremism would be stable governments in the federal and state capitals. They also recognized Adenauer's action to force the NDP to depart from its political generalizations and disclose its true policy.

HOPES RISE

Present difficulties of the NDP have encouraged hopes that the successes of Hesse and Bavaria will not be repeated in the state legislatures of Rhineland-Palatinate and Schleswig-Holstein in April 23 elections, and in Lower Saxony June 4.

The interior ministers undoubtedly were right in thinking to demanding that NDP adopt itself. It has been voted with a vague program and slogans such as "Germany for the Germans and Europe for the Europeans."

Overseas aid gets a slap: "We are handing over millions to foreigners on orders from abroad."

On morals: "Officialdom allows our young people to be exposed to profiteering with sex and to other unhealthy influences."

Perhaps the most significant generalization came from Thielen, who said the aim of NDP's is rejection: "What this party wants is so clear that everyone will understand."

Provinces Adopting Federal Deposit Insurance Scheme

OTTAWA (CP)—Most provinces are stopping all the way into the federal deposit insurance scheme.

All the Atlantic and Western provinces want their trust and loan companies to be covered under the Canada Deposit Insurance Corp. when it goes into business later this spring.

It is expected that the eight will not only allow but compel membership of the provincial institutions as a guarantee that small "depositors' savings are insured.

Bills have already been introduced to this effect in the Alberta and Manitoba legislatures. British Columbia has announced publicity that it will follow this course, and federal officials believe the others will follow suit.

Ontario was not willing to wait on Parliament and hurried its own temporary deposit insurance plan into law Feb. 10. Ontario intends to cancel its plan and compel membership of its west-banks in the federal scheme, but it has given the office of the federal superintendent of insurance no formal indication of when the switch will be made.

Quebec claims the federal plan should extend to notaries and credit unions. It may put a plan of its own into law, but both Ottawa and Quebec hope the mid-April federal-provincial conference on financial institutions will chart a solution to their differences.

The federal plan will automatically cover the public's deposits in all banks and federally-chartered trust and loan companies when it is proclaimed later this month. Provincially - licensed deposit - taking institutions will have to apply for their policies.

Individual accounts of up to $20,000 will be covered, and the institutions will pay an insurance premium of 1-30th of one per cent of their insured deposits.

Bylaws for operation of the scheme have been drafted and cabinet approval is expected this week. The bylaws include a definition of just what types of deposits will be eligible for coverage.

A late amendment to the bill provided for extension of coverage before a system of financial inspection is set up. The provinces are agreeing to this as well.

Inspection will be Ottawa's lever to force a program of minimum operating standards on a part of the financial system until now beyond its control.

But until inspection is under way, the provinces will be committed to paying any losses from defaults or failures of their near-banks.

The corporation will have access to $500,000,000 as a lender of last resort to assist any member institution facing a cash crisis.

Odd Fellows Hold Banquet And Dance

An enjoyable now event in the calendar of the Belleville Odd Fellows activities was celebrated on Saturday evening when a capacity crowd attended at a banquet and dance sponsored by Belleville Lodge No. 81 in the Odd Fellow's Temple.

The evening's program was designed as a salute to the ladies, the wives and friends of Odd Fellows who assist in so many ways the work of the Order.

Brother Earl Fox, Past Grand Master of Ontario Odd Fellows, brought a message of appreciation from Grand Lodge. He noted the urgent need for understanding between peoples and emphasized the duty of members of the order to develop their talents for leadership in this area. And then put it to work!

The banquet was served by the Mountain View United Church Women. The head table guests included Bro. Rev. Hackett and Mrs. Hackett, Bro. Rucks Easton and Sis. Easton, Bro. Earl Fox and Sis. Fox, Bro. Earl Boyle and Sis. Boyle, Bro. Harry Way and Mrs. Way, Bro. Bill Coveney and Mrs. Coveney, the Rev. and Mrs. Boehke, Bro. Al. Miller and Mrs. Miller.

Other distinguished guests included Bro. Ron Bonsor, District Deputy Grand Patriarch and Mrs. Bonsor, Bro. Harry Blakley and Mrs. Blakley, Bro. Blakley is Noble Grand of Brighton Lodge No. 302; also the Noble Grand of Trenton Lodge No. 183, Bro. Bob Galloway and Mrs. Galloway; District Joyce Fisher, Past District Deputy President of the Rebekah Lodge and Sis. Hazel Sills, Noble Grand of Quinte Rebekah Lodge.

After dinner several prizes were drawn, the winners being Sis. Ruth Charlton, Sis. Barbara Ellis, Sis. Alice Adams, and Mrs. Eileen Freeman.

Music for dancing was supplied by Sis. Tucker and her group of artists. Both squares dancing and round dancing were enjoyed. Special dance prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Clare Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Daniel and Mr. and Mrs. Basil Chilvers.

Skunks Seem To Thrive On Moth Balls

TRENTON — Cedar Street residents claim that skunks are "being allowed to run at will" throughout the town and that "local authorities are turning a deaf ear" to the problem.

One woman reports she poured a mixture of moth balls and lime (5 lbs.) down the skunk hole, to no avail. The skunks seem to thrive on what had been recommended as obnoxious to skunks. In fact, an unverified report has one skunk nibbling delicately at a moth ball.

Traps? One resident has set them out. But the wily skunks picked their way between the traps.

A suggestion that a hose be rigged up to the family car with a view to asphyxiating the skunks was turned down because once put to sleep, the skunks' bodies are still under the houses.

One area resident says the only way to get rid of them is to spray Raid down the holes. He reports getting rid of a family of skunks and a covey of snakes this way at his summer cottage.

Cedar Street residents, forced out of their homes by Mr. and Mrs. Skunk, are afraid now the "couple" may be laying plans to expand their housekeeping unit to include a nursery.

TORONTO STOCKS TODAY

TORONTO (CP)—Profit taking cut sharply into western oil issues in moderate morning trading today on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The oil index sold 1.41 to 156.09 after soaring more than 12 points last week.

Dome Petroleum suffered the sharpest drop, tumbling 3¼ to 36¾. Last week the Dome Petroleum group announced an agreement whereby eight shares of Provo would be exchanged for one share of Dome. Provo was unchanged at 6.35.

Among other oils, Canadian Superior fell 1 to 38 and Hudson's Bay ¼ to 32¼. Home B climbed ¼ to 23¼ and Home A ¼ to 21½.

Industrials eased as Dominion Stores slid ¼ to 19¼ and Imp. Oil ¼ to 34¼. Moore Corp., which announced it was seeking approval for subdividing its common shares on a four-for-one basis, gained ¼ to 102.

Decision moved up ¼ to 22¾ in base metals while Dome Mines declined ¼ to 44¼ in golds.

Candore was the session's most active issue, falling 3½ to 24 cents on 225,000 shares.

On index, industrials were off .09 to 165, golds 2.09 to 148.21 while base metals edged up .38 to 90.78. Volume by 11 a.m. was 957,000 shares compared with 790,000 at the same time Friday.

Over-books Plane

EDINBURGH (Reuters) — A capricious computer overbooked 11½ picnicloads of passengers for a British European Airways flight to London Saturday night. The turbo-prop Vanguard used for the flight holds only 126 passengers but 190 turned up at the airport. Airline officials said it seemed the computer, geared to shut out when a plane was fully booked, had gaily gone on accepting passengers.

Annual Dinner Meeting of C of C Called

TRENTON — This is Chamber of Commerce Week across Canada and the local chamber will mark the event at its annual dinner meeting in the country club this Thursday.

New directors for the year will be elected and they will choose a president for 1967-68 from their ranks. Harold Clark, last year's president, said last week he was in the running.

No special speaker has been arranged for; the directors and committee heads will submit reports to the meeting.

$1,846 RAISED

Rotarian Ralph Hotson of the hobol club reports $1,846 raised so far this year in the annual Easter Seal campaign. Many of the requests for donations, mailed out in the Trenton area, have yet to be returned, Mr. Hotson reports.

CAMPAIGN CALLED

The women's auxiliary at Trenton Memorial Hospital are holding their annual membership campaign during April and May. Current members and potential members are contacted by telephone with a personal follow up.

MAY DONATE GATES

The directors of the Trenton Rotary Club expect to make an announcement about a Centennial project to donate gates for Trenton's Centennial Park in a week or so.

If the membership decides to go ahead on this project, this will be the third Centennial "project" embarked upon by the local club. The club spearheaded the construction of the United Service Club's swimming pool in the high school and also introduced a Rotary tartan which may be adopted by Rotary International at the world conference in Mexico this year.

Picton Girls Fail in Hockey Bid

PICTON, (Staff) — They may not have the hockey ability of a Gordie Howe or Bobby Hull but for hundreds of Prince Edward and district hockey fans, they were much prettier to look at.

Eight women's teams from across the province battled for the Provincial Women's Hockey Association championship in a day-long tournament here Saturday.

The fan favorites, Picton's own "Amazin's," failed to win a championship but they came close. Wellesbury Hornettes came from behind to nip Dr. Lloyd Dockrill's Picton girls 3-2 for the Ontario B championship. The winning goal was scored late in the game.

The A title went to Don Mills' Saints's Angels with another 3-2 win, this one over Ajax in the championship match.

Earlier games saw Don Mills whip Wallaceburg 15-1, Brampton blank Richmond 13-0, Ajax whitewash Moose Creek 10-0 and Burlington stop Picton 6-0 in the opening round; Don Mills defeat Brampton 3-1, Wallaceburg edge Richmond 3-2, Ajax nudge Burlington 4-3 and Picton beat Moose Creek 5-0.

Individual awards went to Dana Phillips of Don Mills as best forward; to Donna Thompson of Brampton as best defenceman; to Jenny Doole of Ajax as best goalie and to Harry Lazarenko of Don Mills as best coach.

Election of officers for the Womens Provincial Hockey Association for the 1967-68 season was held during the tournament. Don Herels, of Ajax, was elected president; Jim Tokiwa, of Bendale, vice-president; Ricki Nichol, of Humberside, secretary-treasurer; Harold Hibson, of Wallaceburg, past president; and Merve McKenzie, president of the athletic commission for the province of Ontario, honorary president.

WEDDING

PHILLIPS — BAILEY

Trinity United Church, Modoc was the scene of a wedding on March 25, 1967, at 1.30 p.m. when Sharon Elizabeth Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey, Modoc, was united in marriage to Douglas William Phillips, son of Mrs. Luella Phillips, Modoc.

Rev. David Potter officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. James Thompson. Wedding music was played by Reg. Howe, Toronto, who accompanied the soloist, Alton Ward, Bay Ridge.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau-de-cele and lace. A bouffant veil edged with matching lace extended from a rose-shaped headdress. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations, delphinella and ivy.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Patricia Kincaid, Toronto, was attired in a floor-length gown of aqua brocade with a matching rose-shaped headdress.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Roseanne McAvoy, Toronto; Mrs. Carol Murdock, Toronto; Mrs. Karen Goodhand, Toronto and Miss Nancy Empey, Kingston, were attired in gowns identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of pink gladioli centred with Easter lilies.

Bruce Duffin, Kirkfield, was groomsman and Robert Taylor, Wawa; Bill Connor, Kingston; Bill Roscoe, Montreal and Charles Johnston jr., Hamilton, ushered the guests.

For the reception in the church basement, the bride's mother received the guests wearing a lacey turquoise dress with matching jacket, accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Assisting was the bridegroom's mother, who wore a pale blue lace dress with matching jacket, blue and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Leaving on a wedding trip to New York City and Bermuda the bride chose a continental pink suit with matching floral hat, grey fur jacket, black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The couple will reside at 2301 Lawrence Ave. E., Apt. 709, Scarborough.

Mrs. Pearson Shows PM How to Make Ideal Speech

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ralph Wesley Mills is a Vancouver chauffeur. Lester Bowles Pearson is prime minister of Canada. Fifty-two years ago, they were privates together, serving with the Canadian Army at Salonica, Greece.

Mr. Mills 71, chauffeured the Pearsons around Vancouver Saturday, as he has done on each West Coast visit since 1963. Although they served together at Salonica, the prime minister and Mr. Mills hadn't realized it until the chauffeur heard Mr. Pearson mention Salonica during a visit four years ago.

Mr. Pearson arose early, after a night of ballroom dancing at a Liberal fund - raising dinner where the entertainment included gogo dancers and brass bands.

His first public appearance was a coffee party attended by more than 200 persons. The prime minister mouthed a small stage, smiled pleasantly, then announced that he was going to have Mrs. Pearson "speak to you today, instead of myself."

He then waved a beckoning arm and said: "C'mon up here."

Mrs. Pearson mounted the dias, cleared her throat, and said: "How do you do."

She then stepped down.

"That's the kind of speech she's always after me to make," said the prime minister.

Following the coffee party, the Pearsons adjourned to their hotel room.

When lunch time came, one of the hotel's two main elevators was brought to the fifth floor. It was held there, doors ajar, waiting arrival of the Pearson party.

Suddenly the elevator next to it opened. Out stepped a swaying drunk who thought he'd reached the lobby. Realizing his error, he completed a full circle and entered the empty elevator.

He was removed and the prime minister and his party were directed into the elevator.

The doors closed on Mr. Pearson's elevator. Just as they did, the intoxicant pushed the "down" button.

Slowly, the doors on the Pearson elevator opened. The uniformed man made another attempt to board the elevator and again was rejected.

Two floors down, the elevator stopped again. A passenger boarded and rode down the rest of the way, completely unaware of whom he had accompanied.

As he does only rarely, the prime minister went to a public restaurant for lunch.

Next, Mr. Pearson drove to the university area to see a longtime friend and multi-millionaire lumber executive, H. R. MacMillan.

Mr. Pearson had visited Vancouver's other university district, Simon Fraser, the day before. On arrival she and the Mills of Senator John Nichol, left the limousine, and began walking about the campus.

A university official quietly sidled up to them and whispered: "We're rather excited around here today. The prime minister's wife is coming out for a visit."

Mrs. Pearson smiled and replied: "Oh, really?"

That quick, the car "sky-ride" carried the Pearsons up Grouse Mountain to close in the Grouse Loft.

The party was under the convenership of Mrs. Denyes and Mrs. Mae Kay with Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Pringle, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Brown and her social committee assisting.

Mrs. W. Finkle had charge of the prizes, with Mrs. F. Davidson assisting.

Moira Lodge Sponsors Ladies' Night

M-O-I-R-A to Masons in this community is associated with the name of one of the district's most ancient Masonic Lodges. To be guest speaker at the annual Ladies' Night of this lodge held at the Belleville Masonic Temple on Saturday evening, its letters designate five most important requisites for living a richer life.

To Very Worshipful Brother Dr. J. E. Stewart, "M" stands for mirth, an essential ingredient in living in an all too serious world.

"O" stands for order because without organization, lives lack pattern.

"I" stands for ideals or objectives in life.

"R" stands for religion.

"A" stands for action and actions speak louder than words.

Active efforts should be made to be friendly because friendships make life worthwhile, but require effort to maintain, Mr. Stewart said. Mirth, organization, ideals, religion, action, are essential to a better life. "Be happy and communicate happiness," he advised.

Mr. Stewart was introduced to the capacity audience by Wor. Bro. Clare Faulkner, Born in 1887 and educated at Paisley and the University of Toronto, he has spent 53 years as a minister in the Methodist and the United Church. He is now minister of Burnhamthorpe United Church in Copbrville. As a Mason, he is Past Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, and holds offices in the Order of the Eastern Star, and the Royal Arch Masons. The appreciation of the audience was expressed by Bro. Clifford Brown.

Wor. Bro. Ralph Swan, Master of Moira Lodge, presided over the banquet at tables decorated with candle and centennial flags. The invocation was given by Bro. Alfred Cooper. Head table guests were Wor. Bro. Paul Foster and Mrs. Foster, Bro. Stanley Reid and Mrs. Reid, Bro. Norman Browne and Mrs. Browne, Wor. Bro. Clare Faulkner and Mrs. Faulkner, Very Wor. Bro. Rev. J. Stewart and his daughter Mrs. Kelly, Wor. Bro. Ralph Swan and Mrs. Swan, Bro. Clifford Brown and Mrs. Brown, Bro. Alfred Cooper and Mrs. Cooper, Wor. Bro. Robert Smith, Master of Temple Lodge No. 666 and Mrs. Smith, Wor. Bro. George Mountford, Master of The Belleville Lodge No. 123 and Mrs. Mountford. The head table guests were introduced by Bro. Gordon Brown.

Caterers for the turkey supper were women of Plainfield Women's Institute. Entertainment during the banquet hour was provided by trumpet player Ned Baughn, accompanied by his father. A draw for the numerous prizes was conducted by Bro. Gordon Brown assisted by Bro. Ken Jones and the ladies of the head table. The toast to the ladies was given by Bro. Norman Brown and replied to by Mrs. Stanley Reid. Following the Junior Master's toast, the large group enjoyed bridge, euchre and dancing. Music was supplied by the Melody Riders.

Recipients of prizes for bridge and euchre were Mrs. Gordon Locklin for bridge, and Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Roy Hobbs, Mrs. Fred Mitchell and Mrs. Dale Ashbury for euchre.

Arrangements for the evening were under the direction of Bro. Gordon Brown, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Popping Question Harder The Second Time Around

DORIS CLARE

Dear Doris: I am in love with a very nice girl. She's 30 and I'm 40. We are both divorced.

We go out quite a bit. I try to help her as much as I can, like, taking her for groceries; but she claims she doesn't like a man. Sometimes she says I feel sorry for her more than just be the opposite. Won't even kiss me good night.

Do you think she wants someone else but doesn't know how to get the message across to Him? She is nice to other people, particularly one in the church. He's an usher and she seems overjoyed to see him.

Do you think that I'm jumping to conclusions or do you think I should stay away? The only thing is, she is all I want to live for.

Her children want me around. They can ask her why she doesn't marry me, but I couldn't dare ask her the way she acts. Do you also think she thinks that her marriage wouldn't work out again?

— Worried.

Dear Worried: Perhaps:

(1) She likes someone else.

(2) She would avoid a second marriage like the plague.

(3) You are just too, too available.

(4) She is acting appropriately independent; but would capitulate to a proposal.'

How do you know until you ask? If you wonder whether she cares about you, you'll have to tell her you care about her, first!

"He either fears his fate too much,

Or his deserts are small,

That dares not put it to the touch

To gain or lose it all."

Dear Doris: Everyone else at the party was 21 or older except me. I am 18. I guess I had a little too much to drink, because I was starting to feel kind of funny. And then Sam pulled me down on his lap and started kissing me. I tried to get up but he wouldn't let go. He said I could get up if I handed him, so I did.

Just as I did, Sam sees Bill (my steady) looking at us so he pushes me off. Bill almost dragged me into the next room. He closed the door and locked it after us. I was frightened because I had never seen Bill so mad.

He said there comes a time when a young woman must be punished, and this is one of those times. He pulled me across his knees and really spanked me. When he finished he said he didn't want me playing around with any other guys or I'll get it again. I walked home.

Bill keeps phoning me but I won't talk to him. Am I right in not speaking to him again, or is it just being childish because he spanked me?

— Still Smarting.

Dear S.S.: Better give him a chance to apologize.

Bill had no right to spank you. You might likely try to make he cared about you if he had kept you from drinking too much in the first place, and been handy to keep other half-lit fresh guys from pawing you.

A good friend does not use physical punishment as a means of bringing about a change of behavior. Would you marry a man you feared?

Dear Doris: Please send me the address where you can get mosaic materials.

I have done several of these pictures. It certainly is interesting work for anybody who's handy enough to do cross-eying or knitting on account of suffering of the joints, but who still wants a hobby.

— Dottie.

Dear Dottie: A fine idea! Readers will thank you for it. The address is on its way.

(Has Doris helped you with a problem? Write and tell her so!)

Ann Landers

Seems Real TV Action Never Reaches Screen

ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I applied for a job at a TV station and went to work last week. I am 23 years old and have worked in a department store and two offices. This TV job is so different from my previous jobs that I am having a difficult time getting accustomed to it. Please tell me if there's something wrong with me or is the people who work in TV?

Everyone around the studio kisses everyone else good morning and good evening. It is all so casual, nobody thinks a thing about it. They even kiss when they leave for lunch. There's a lot of nose-tweaking, cheek patting, lap sitting and fanny patting.

No one has a name. The girls are "Doll" or "Beautiful" or "Baby." The fellows are "Sexy" or "Tiger" or Big Daddy."

I am not suggesting that people who work in TV have looser morals than other people but the familiarity around this place is a bit too much. I confess my inability to fit in has made me nervous. Do you think I ought to leave or try to be "one of them?" — SQUARE PEG.

* * *

DEAR PEG: You'd better go back to one of those offices where they say "Good morning, Miss Smith." You'll be happier. In the meantime, after this letter appears in print there will probably be 2,000 applicants for your TV job.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It took a lot of courage for you to print the letter from that nut who accused you of being an animal hater. I would like to say a word on the subject.

On our block almost everyone has a dog. These dog owners say it is cruel to keep a dog tied up. They think it's perfectly all right to let a dog run loose, mess up the neighbor's lawn, dig tulip bulbs, bite delivery men and sometimes get hit by a car. Whenever I mention the leash law to a dog owner he yells something like, "Anyone who hates animals can't be trusted."

I have made up my mind that the next time a neighbor's dog messes on our lawn I am going to grab the owner by the nape of the neck and make him clean it up. I will probably end up hitting him in the mouth and paying a fine or going to jail, but it will be worth it. Do you go along with me? — BOILING POINT.

* * *

DEAR POINT: Go along where? To jail? Sorry, but it would hardly be an appropriate dateline for this column.

I hope by the time you read this you have cooled off. Hitting people in the mouth is no solution to any problem that I know of.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 19-year-old son went with a 17-year-old girl for two years. They were together night and day. When they weren't together they were talking on the phone. We kept telling them they were too young to be so serious.

They wouldn't listen and the next thing we knew she was pregnant. My husband and I were just sick about it but we could do nothing except let them get married.

Our son received his draft papers a few weeks ago and wants his wife to live with us. We told him she would have to live with her folks because we have no room. Our two youngest children share the second bedroom and we would have to put them in the living room.

Are we mean and have we let him down, as he says? — INDIANAPOLIS MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: No! And don't let your son and his wife draft you. Stick to your position or you'll wind up being nurse, sitter, maid and chief bottle washer.

Church Groups

ST. MARGARET'S EVENING GUILD

The regular meeting of St. Margaret's Evening Guild was held recently in the church hall. Plans were made for the dessert bridge May 1.

The Guild spent the remainder of the evening on their yearly project, the making and decorating of Easter eggs.

Mrs. C. A. Kemp and her group served lunch.

ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN'S GUILD

The March meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Guild was held at the church Tuesday evening with the president Mrs. V. Weir in charge. Mrs. K. Davidson read the Scripture.

The centennial committee is planning an old-fashioned garden party for June and an antique show for September.

The Sunshine group introduced Donald Larson from the Bell Telephone Co. who showed slides of Expo. The Loyal Group served refreshments.

Points for Parents

By MARY BRYSON

Mother: "Jim and I haven't been out in the evening for months, but I can't bear to leave the children. They fuss so when we have a sitter."

Young parents need to get away from their children now and then and have a little social life with other adults — and children need to learn they can be happy with someone else for awhile.

Have the baby sitter come and spend a few hours in your home when you are there so the children will be used to her and she can learn their ways.

Perfect Apple Pie Recipe Demands Repeat Appearance

By MARY MOORE

Some of our readers came to meet me when a local flower shop celebrated its 10th anniversary. They showered me with cooking questions. One enthusiast, just as she was moving away, wanted me, "Never lose that Perfect Apple Pie recipe". I held her back to ask, "Which one?" She said it had butter in with the apples.

On returning to the office we discovered it was given here in September, 1959. Because it was harvest time I used Gravenstein in it but you could use Spys or Courtlands or any cooking apples you can buy in your markets now.

MONDAY

Dinner Menu

Chicken Pie; Lettuce Wedges with Roquefort Dressing; Carrots; Corn Cobettes; Tea.

PERFECT APPLE PIE (repeated from September, 1959)

Pastry: (for one 2-crust 9" pie)

2 cups sifted all - purpose flour

1 tsp. salt

⅔ cup shortening, well chilled

2 tbsp. butter

¼ cup ice water

Filling:

5 to 6 cups pealed, cored sliced cooking apples

¾ to 2-3 cup sugar

¼ tsp. cinnamon

1 tbsp. butter

To make: Pastry mix and sift flour and salt. Cut in half the shortening with pastry blender or two knives until pieces are size of peas. Then cut in remaining shortening and butter, leaving some pieces larger than peas. Sprinkle water, a little at a time, over flour mixture and toss lightly with a fork. When adding more water moisten a dry portion each time. When just moist enough to hold together under slight pressure form into two balls. Moisten and chill while preparing filling for pie.

To make: Filling place half of dough on a lightly floured board and roll to a circle about 12" in dia. Line pie pan, being careful not to stretch dough. Combine sugar and spice. Place apples and sugar mixture in alternate layers on lower crust. Dot with butter. Roll out other half of dough and cut steam vents. Moisten edge of lower crust and place top pastry loosely over fruit. Trim pastry even with edge of pie pan, press and crimp edge. Brush top crust with egg yolk diluted with 2 tbsp. cold water. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. 40 to 45 min. Notes: Variations: 1) Sprinkle one tbsp. lemon juice over very sweet apples. 2) Cranberries, raisins, currants or mincemeat may be substituted for a portion of the apples. 3) A cheese crust may be made by adding ¼ cup grated old Cheddar to the dry pastry ingredients.

Humble Pea Here for Long Time

OTTAWA (CP)—One of the earliest vegetable travellers was the humble pea.

Christopher Columbus brought peas to the Caribbean in 1493, and when Jacques Cartier reached Hochelaga, now Montreal, he reported that the Indians were growing them.

Dried peas are still the easily-stored satisfying food the early explorers liked. They used to eat "pease porridge," a thick sticky dish. We prefer pea soup.

Manitoba produced two-thirds of the Canadian crop of 1,000,000 bushels of field peas last year. Most of the dried pea production goes into soup but some varieties can be served as a vegetable.

The consumer section of the federal department of agriculture says peas are a good source of vegetable protein and are economical too.

Directions on the package tell how to soak and cook them. Cooking makes them double in bulk. One cup of dried peas will serve four people.

Torrey Canyon Unlooses Legal Pandora's Box

LAND'S END, England (AP) The Seven Stones Lightship rides at anchor through the fiercest storms to warn against the Seven Stones Rocks, a reef off the southwest toe of England.

Two weeks ago Sunday, around 9 a.m., the lookout saw a big tanker heading north. Visibility was six to seven miles. The sea was moderate.

The lightship flashed a warning, but too late. Giant tankers need three miles to pull up, two miles to respond to the helm. The Torrey Canyon, ship and cargo insured at $18,200,000, drove on the rocks at 17 knots. Nearly 36,000,000 gallons of crude oil started spilling on to the sea.

The tanker, 38,562 gross tons and 974 feet long, was pinned on the rocks by the bows but kept an even keel.

Her Italian skipper, Pastrengo Rugiati, 38, and his 25 crew members stayed aboard the tanker, hopeful that tugs could pull them clear.

By next day, with the seas rising, all but the captain and three of his officers were brought ashore.

The Torrey Canyon, although visible from the cliffs of Land's End, was technically on the high seas. Her fate rested with her American owners and a Dutch salvage company hired to move her. For the British to act at this stage would technically be an act of piracy, officials argued.

But anything less looked like procrastination. The situation held no political dividends for Prime Minister Wilson. Orders went out for detergents to spray oil-patches and damaged beaches. Royal Navy ships and trawlers were fitted with makeshift sprayers, finally abandoned in favor of dumping detergent by the barrel. On the beaches, troops and volunteers scraped and sprayed.

Wilson set up a series of committees to look into possible cures. The commonest idea, and superficially the most practical, was to bring smaller tankers up and pump off the oil. This was theoretically possible, except for the weather. Soon the Torrey Canyon was clearly doomed.

Late Easter Sunday, the navy reported she was breaking.

Oil stretched to the horizon. A decision to bomb was made by Home Secretary Roy Jenkins.

Tuesday afternoon, the navy sent Buccaneer jets from Scotland. They used 1,000-pound explosives delivered, from 2,500 feet.

But the Torrey Canyon—issued after a California oil well that founded the fortune of her American owners—was a long time dying.

Much of the oil had burned, but the experts feared that the fire had removed only its most volatile elements and that a thick black clinker might land on beaches for years.

What happens now?

One certainty is a change in the rules of pilotage. All ports demand that ships take pilots in shallows and estuaries. The super-tankers have brought a new dimension to the danger.

Henceforth, they may expect strict limits on their routes and arrival of their pilots by helicopter long before they reach sight of shore.

Fish, Not Tourists, Of Major Concern

LONDON (CP) — The shipwrecked tanker Torrey Canyon, spewing more than 100,000 tons of oil into coastal waters, has dealt a "tremendous blow" to coastal fishermen, an authority said Sunday night.

He was questioned about a report that thousands of oil-poisoned fish were washed up at a cove in Cornwall's Lizard headland during the weekend.

The authority, Cmdr. W. R. Luard, chairman of the Cornwall Sea Fisheries Committee, said in a telephone conversation:

"Everyone around is the worried about the holiday industry and oil getting on the beaches. Doesn't anybody think of the fishing industry, which is far more important?"

Government ministers and officials had said the industry was not threatened but fishermen see a danger both from floating oil and the detergent used to fight it, said Luard.

"Of the two, the detergent is the worst, he added, emphasizing the danger to famed Cornwall oyster beds.

This was the time of year when all types of fishery—from lobstering to trawling — were normally furiously busy but "we just don't know what will be the long-term effects of the oil and detergents.

"The fish may even disappear because of a lack of their food-stuffs."

The industry employed some 600-500 full-time fishermen and approximately the same number on a part-time basis. This was the worst crisis in Luard's 21 years as committee chairman.

Inshore and coastal fishing, as well as shell-fishing, were hit but deep-sea fishing was not affected, Luard said.

The fish washed ashore at Gunwalloe Cove, on the Lizard, included large mackerel, cels, monk fish and sting fish. Some appeared blinded. Marine biologists were alarmed at what the pollution was doing to fish known for their hardiness. Limpets, tideline molluscs, and lice were among the casualties.

Luard said the detergent "is poisoning the plankton, off which the fish feed, and could easily harm our trade."

SPORTS SLICES

By Geo. H. Carver
Sports Editor

Two hockey-garbed moppets looked over the boards in Memorial Arena Sunday afternoon. They stared more or less gaggle-eyed for a minute or so then one said to the other: "Jeez, Bill, that shut the way the coach shows us how to play. Who are these guys?"

The youngsters were right.

What they didn't know is they were looking at a gaggle of puck-chasing semi-Methuselahs trying to recapture the thrills and spills of the hockey they played 20 years ago.

It was "Toots" Holway' juniors now flirting with both sides of forty holding the first half of their seventeenth annual reunion.

A lot of them fat and fortyish. Some of them lean and lithesome-like. Some with hair, a number greying and a few reaching the cue-ball stage. All had something in common — lack of wind.

None of them has forgotten how to skate and handle a hockey stick. A lot of them found it was much harder to get up than to fall down. Their shooting eyes were good but a little Bobby Hull propellant would have helped all of them.

And all of them proved that while you cannot teach an old new brick it takes a helava lot of years to make old dogs forget old ones.

They huffed and they puffed. They squeaked and they creaked. The wonderment uniforms they were sended up wringing wet. So did they.

Coach "Toots" Holway sporting a brand new set of melany greeted his former proteges with the old familiar dressing-room roar.

Amateurs all of 'em. They often helped pay their own way. When the management had money, Johnny Sennett told me "We got two bits for a sandwich if we lost — and 35 cents if we won."

The former administrative gang was there, at least most of them. Don Lee, ex-referee brought the famous whistle 20 years old with the nylon cord of a parachute attached. "Doc" Alore was there with the camera. So was Monty Reid and from Stirling came manager Jack Dorsan. A few fans of the era remembered.

There was Johnny Sennett and the one and only "Nobber" Day self-appointed masters-of-ceremonies. "Moe" Rollins, Junior Barrett and Al Meagher lost gallons of sweat. Kermit was unable to attend.

Johnny Markle came down from St. Mary's ("I haven't missed one yet"). There were Bruce Bisbey, Buck Reeves, Bill Reitzel, former mascot Dawg Dean, Tim Cook, goalie, Bobby Green a perennial goalie, and others.

Not forgetting the master-mind of the reunion, Doug Green down from his Toronto home and who did, as usual, a great job in organizing and conducting the get-together.

Then the period of rest and reminiscence.

A sad note entered the proceedings here when the juniors paid tangible and other tribute to former members who have passed on. These include the late Ranee Bush, Bill Greatrix and Jerry Moher.

Special tribute was paid to the late "Jerry" who was killed in a railroad accident last year.

Executed by Don Lee, a handsome memorial plaque was presented to the late Jerry's family through a brief address by Jerry O'Connor. A minute's silence was observed to memory.

The annual reunions form a fine tribute to the sportsmanship, spirit and camaraderie that has marked the former junior squad from their active playing days down through the years.

Then the period o frest and reminiscence not blessed with modern hockey facilities. They depended on the whims of the weather tans for ice. The Bay of Quinte and stone quarries were their practice surfaces. They bought their own equipment.

They travelled by cars loaned by staff and supporters. And a familiar cry, as the Nobber said, was "Who's gonna ride with Monty?"

I do not recall any records, but it seems to me there are not too many hockey squads of ten decades ago who can get enough about one another to get together every year just for "old times sake."

Junior "A"

Flyers, Rangers Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Niagara Falls Flyers and Kitchener Rangers helped rewrite the chapter on hockey psychology during the weekend by taking foreign-ice wins in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

But all they did was follow the lead set by Hamilton Red Wings and Toronto Marlboros last week in shaking the belief that familiar ice and partisan fans give the home team a mental edge.

Niagara Falls held Hamilton scoreless in the third period to take a 3-2 win Sunday and even the best-of-seven series at two games apiece. Hamilton had made Flyer fans shake their heads in disbelief Friday with a 3-1 victory.

In Toronto, Kitchener avenged an 11-2 drubbing by Marlboros in Kitchener by defeating Marlboros 6-4 Saturday.

Kitchener now has two two games in the best-of-seven series. One game is tied.

Steve Atkins and Jim Whittaker and Derek Sanderson scored Sunday for Niagara Falls. Lary Lawson scored both Hamilton goals.

Sic 'Em; Habs vs Blues; Hawks vs Leafs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

If Montreal Canadiens' play in recent weeks is any indication of what will happen in the Stanley Cup playoffs, it's not going to be all roses for their opponents in the best-of-seven B series semi-final.

The Canadiens finished the 1966-67 National Hockey League season with an 11-game unbeaten streak to clinch second place in a three-way fight that went down to the final weekend.

The Canadiens, defending Stanley Cup champions, swept a pair of weekend victories—3-1 over league champion Chicago Black Hawks in Montreal Saturday night and 4-3 over Detroit Red Wings in Detroit Sunday night.

They will begin their defence of the Stanley Cup in Montreal Thursday night against New York Rangers, who finished to fourth place by losing 5-1 too Toronto Maple Leafs Saturday night in Toronto and being dumped 8-0 by the Black Hawks in New York Sunday afternoon.

The Leafs also won Sunday night, defeating Boston Bruins 5-2 in Boston to finish third with 78 points, two fewer than Montreal and three more than New York. The Leafs open their best-of-seven semi-final A series against the Black Hawks in Chicago Thursday night.

John Ferguson scored a pair of goals for Montreal Saturday night and Henri Richard, Yvan Cournoyer and Dave Balon added one each. Dennis Hull, Stan Mikita, Phil Esposito and Eric Nesterenko scored for Chicago.

Bobby Rousseau, Richard, Leon Rochefort and Jean Beliveau scored for Montreal Sunday night. Bruce MacGregor and Dean Prentice replied for the Red Wings.

Bill Hay led the Black Hawks against New York with two goals and Len Lunde, Stan Mikita Hull, Wayne Smith, Lou Angotti, Doug Mohns and Ken Hodge added one each.

The Leafs had no trouble beating Ron Ranger as Jim Pappin connected for two goals and Jim Horton, Frank Mahovlich and Rookie Mike Walton added one each. Vic Hadfield scored the lone New York goal.

Bob Pulford scored two for the Leafs against Boston and Ron Ellis, Dave Keon and Mahovlich scored one each. John McKenzie and Wayne Rivers connected for Boston.

Ferguson's second goal against the Hawks Saturday came with less than seven minutes remaining to play and broke a 4-4 tie. That brought a shower of programme, rubbers and condoms other items onto the ice from a good portion of the 15,580 spectators.

"I'm glad I was able to come through at an important time like this," said the hardrock left winger who finished the season as the league's "bad boy" with 179 minutes in penalties.

The Canadiens fired 43 shots at Chicago goalie Denis Dejordy. The Black Hawks managed only 28 at rookie goalie Rogatien Vachon of the Canadiens.

The Canadiens took a 2-0 lead against the Wings on goals by Rousseau and Richard in the first period and wrapped it up with goals by Rochefort and Beliveau in the second.

The game was a wild, free-swinging affair and referee Art Skov handed out 45 minutes in penalties, 21 to Detroit. The game was stopped five times to break up fights.

The Rangers suffered defensive lapses in their weekend games as they gave up a total of 13 goals while scoring only once.

The Hawks became the highest scoring club in NHL history with a goals-for production for the 70-game schedule of 364. The previous record was 259, set by the Canadiens in 1961-62.

Stan Mikita of the Hawks got two assists against the Rangers Sunday and scored a goal against the Canadiens Saturday night to run his points total for the season to 97, tying the record set by teammate Bobby Hull last year.

Mikita said he considered that the 97-game schedule of 364. The league official in Montreal said two official scorers agreed that Mikita did not touch the puck before a goal scored by Mohns in the third period.

Mikita's third scoring championship in the last four years gave him a $1,000 bonus as over-all scoring leader and $250 as runner - up to teammate Bobby Hull in the second half. Hull, who finished the season with a high of 52 goals, was over-all runner-up and will receive a $500 bonus.

Dr Jordy kicked out 33 shots to register his fourth shutout of the season. He and veteran Glenn Hall will share the Vezina Trophy, awarded annually to the goalkeeper or goalkeepers having played a minimum of 25 games for the team with the fewest goals scored against it. Chicago gave up 170 goals.

The Hawk netminding combination will receive a total of $1,000 as over-all winners of the trophy, plus $250 as second-half leaders.

Chicago had 33 shots at goalie Ed Giacomin of the Rangers, who finished the season as the shutout leader with 7.

The Leafs were sharp around the net against the Rangers Saturday, taking a commanding 4-0 lead after two periods and firing a total of 37 shots at Giacomin.

Hadfield spoiled the shutout bid of veteran goalie Johnny Bower when he scored at 14:21 of the third period. Bower turned in a sparkling performance, kicking out 30 of 40 shots.

Pappin, whose two goals boosted his season production to 21, credited centre Pete Stemkowski with his scoring success.

"I knew I could play with the Leafs, but I could never find the net," Pappin said. "During the first half of this season, I had the same trouble. I couldn't get a shot on goal.

"They put me on a line with Stemkowski and that's what made the difference."

Bower turned in another dazzling performance Sunday night against the Bruins, stopping 28 shots before giving way to Terry Sawchuk in the final 10 minutes. Bower and Sawchuk allowed one goal each.

The Maple Leafs had only 28 shots at Boston goalie Ed Johnston.

The second game of the semi-final series between Chicago and Toronto will be played at Chicago Sunday. The second game between the Rangers and the Canadiens is scheduled for Saturday afternoon in Montreal.

Fuels Snatch Thriller From Sarnia

By GARRY ALEXANDER
(Staff Sportswriter)

MONTREAL (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks' netminding combination of veterans Glenn Hall and Denis DeJordy has captured the Vezina Trophy for the 1966-67 season, the National Hockey League announced Sunday night.

The trophy is awarded annually to the goalkeeper or goalkeepers having played a minimum of 25 games for the team with the fewest goals scored against it.

The Hawks, who captured the Prince of Wales Trophy as the league champions this season, allowed 178 goals in the 70-de game regular schedule.

The netminding combination will receive a total of $1,000 as super-all winners of the trophy, plus $250 as second-half leaders.

Montreal Canadiens finished second in goals against this season with 188 goals. The Canadiens' netminding combination will receive a total of $500 as over-all runners-up.

The Canadiens used four netminders during the regular schedule—Charlie Hodge, Lorne (Gump) Worsley, Rogatien Vachon and Gary Bauman.

An NHL spokesman said the Canadiens would be responsible for dividing the prize money among the chief goaltenders.

SARNIA — Two of the finest peewee hockey clubs in the provinces turned in efforts to match their reputations here Saturday in the opening game of the OMHA provincial finals.

Belleville Smith Fuels skipped Sarnia Rotary Club 2-1 and are now just one victory away from the championship.

Sarnia visits Belleville next weekend with the second game in the two-of-three series scheduled for 2:00 p.m. Saturday. If a deciding match is necessary it will be played at 1.00 Sunday afternoon.

The victory was especially sweet for the young Fuelmen since it avenged an earlier setback to Sarnia in the Port Huron Silver Stick Tournament. Belleville has lost two game in 45 this season.

Centreman Danny Lupenette was a star among stars in this one, scoring both his club's goals to highlight a great team performance.

The Fuelmen led 1-0 after one period and made it 2-0 early in the third.

Sarnia's strong club battled back and turned the contest into a real cliff-hanger with a goal at 14.15. But Belleville never quit skating and checking and prevented the home club from getting the equalizer.

Terry Merak, who got the nod to play goal in this one, and defenceman John Mulvihill were outstanding figures along with Lupenette and Danny Coulson in the Belleville victory. Merak stopped 17 of 18 shots, including several clutch grabs, and had no chance on the one that got by him. Mulvihill played 57 minutes, resting only when he served a minor penalty, and dished out some key checks to help stop Sarnia's big Negro defence duo. Mike McKegney, Right-winger Rick Crombeen, who scored the Sarnia goal, and McKegney appear the pick of a well-balanced crew.

Smith coach Tom Miller, overjoyed with his team's effort, warned his players that "we have to play just as well at home to beat this club," and said he looked for a tough battle next Saturday.

Lupenette skated miles going both ways as well as notching the goals, the first of which came at 5.20 of the game with his club playing shorthanded. Danny won a faceoff in the Sarnia end and hit the far corner on a low shot.

David Smith almost made it 2-0 when Sarnia was shy a man around 10:00 but Rotary goalie Terry McQuinn, who played a strong game, cut off his bid.

Lupenette was beaten twice on good chances early in the scoreless second heat. Rick Fraser caught the Belleville star later with a solid check but fellow Merak robbed Bryan Edwardson from point blank range.

Both goalies continued to stand out as McKegney bounced a blistering point shot off a post and McQuinn beat Smith at 18.00 and Lupenette at 18.00 when the latter picked his way through the defence for a clear shot.

The Fuelmen's skating and checking, especially against Crombeen and McKegney, highlighted the third after Lupenette made it 2-0 on a play with linemates Jim Richardson and David Smith. Richardson shot from the side and Lupenette slid the rebound home from directly in front at 2.10.

Sarnia survived two penalties before Crombeen and Worsley got behind the defence to bat McKegney's point drive past Merak.

Sarnia surged with the goal but Smith's met the challenge and Mulvihill's booming check stopped McKegney cold at the blueline on a dangerous rush at 17:10.

Belleville checked well enough to prevent Sarnia from lifting their goalie and in the last minute, Richardson was uncovered for two close-in shots at McQuinn, who saved both.

The winners outshot the losers 23-18 and drew two of five minor penalties.

Warnermen Suffer First Loss

Needing only one more victory to complete an undefeated season, Stewart Warner ran into a roadblock on Sunday.

Pepsi's whipped the Warnermen 6-1 for their first loss of the season in the third game of the best-of-five Commercial "B" hockey finals.

Belvedere Hotel topped American Optical 4-1 and leads the best-of-five semi-final series two games to one.

Both sets continue next Sunday with Stewart Warner and Pepsi's playing at 9.30, Belvedere and Optical at 10.30 a.m.

"Pug" Keller gave Stewart Warner a 1-0 lead, assisted by Hyzie Bryant, but Doug Dick-ey notched the equalizer on a play with Stu Muirhead.

Ralph Fleer triggered the game-winning goal on a penalty shot for Pepsi's before Ralph Boomhower, Dave Mulr, Dave with his second, and Muirhead completed the scoring Ron Smith and Keller added de-cided assists.

Larry Stewart and Jerry St. Denis paced the Belvedere victory. Stewart scored twice while St. Denis had one goal and three assists. John Smith also scored. Gerry Jones from Gary Ieat was the Optical scoring play.

There were a dozen minor penalties, a misconduct and a major in the finals game, seven minors and a misconduct in the consolation.

Melrose Juvenile Champions

Melrose captured the Belleville Minor Hockey Association's juvenile championship last night with a close 3-2 decision over the Tigers.

Melrose, playing in the BMHA for the first season, won the total goals series 7-6.

J. McLaughlin scored before for the champs, including the winner, with B. Pascoe getting a goal and assist and H. Pascoe an assist.

Tomaso and Middleton were Tigers' marksmen with Mulr and Jarrell picking up assists.

Centennials Beat All-Stars

Belleville Centennials defeated the North Hastings All-Stars 8-4 in exhibition hockey played at Bancroft Sunday.

Jim Woodcock scored three Belleville goals, Carl Boomhower and Dennis Jones two each and "Pug" Keller the other one.

North Hastings scorers were Donaldson, Williams, Mask and Green.

Canadian Badminton

Dane Wins Closed Singles Title

WINNIPEG (CP) — Erland Kops of Denmark has won more men's singles titles in the last 17 years than any other badminton player in the world.

Wayne Macdonnell of Richland, Wash., found out why Saturday.

The six-time Canadian closed champion had to scramble all over the court in pursuit of Kops' accurately - placed birds and finally went down 15-12, 15-11, 15-11 in the Canadian open championships.

Macdonnell, who was the Canadian closed singles for the sixth straight time Thursday night with a 15-7, 15-7 victory over Bruce Rollick of Vancouver, had to settle for being the first Canadian in the final in nine years.

For the bearded Kops, it was his third Canadian and 33rd singles championship in 13 countries — England, France, Germany, India, Mexico, The Netherlands, Scotland, Sweden, Switzerland, Finland, Thailand and the United States. His previous wins in Canada were in 1961 and 1963.

The Kops-Macdonnell match was the highlight of an array of badminton during which Canadian junior, closed senior and open championships were at stake.

Roger Mills and Colin Beacon of England won the open mixed doubles, defeating Ken Hall Paterson of Vancouver 15-6, 15-7.

Jamie Paulson of Calgary successfully defended his closed junior men's singles crown, turning back a challenge from Brian Dick of Calgary 15-3, 15-2.

Alison Daysmith of Vancouver upset Miss Whittaker, a former champion, in the senior women's closed singles final 12-11, 12-10.

In the closed senior women's doubles, Pat Moody and Jean Miller of Montreal upset defending champions Marj Sheed and Dorothy Tasiad of Toronto 15-12, 15-11.

It was the first time Miss Sheed had failed to at least share a Canadian closed title since 1953.

Mrs. Moody and Yves Pare of Montreal retained their closed senior mixed doubles champion-ship with a 15-13, 18-15 verdict over Paterson and Miss Nilsson.

Pare went partners with Paulson to shade Bert Fergus of Vancouver and Macdonnell, a member of the Vancouver Racquets Club, 15-9, 11-15, 15-10 in the closed senior men's doubles. Paulson and Pare beat brothers Rolf and Ed Paterson of Vancouver, the defending champions, in the semi-finals.

In junior company, Sherri Boyse took the women's singles for the third straight year with an 11-4, 2-11, 11-4 win over Sandra Kolb in an all-Calgary final.

Gregg and Geoff Harris, twin brothers from Edmonton, collected their third consecutive junior men's doubles trophy with a 15-13, 15-12 decision over Dick and Mike Paterson of Calgary.

Geoff Harris joined JoAnn Prowse of Calgary to take the junior mixed doubles 15-12, 10-15, 18-13 over Gregg Herrin and Betty Agnew of Calgary.

Centennial Midgets

Toronto Clean-Sweeps Title

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — The uniquely - named Toronto Butler Brees completed a clean sweep in the Canadian centennial midget hockey championship Saturday with a 3-2 win in the final over Alberta's Edmonton Centennials.

The Butler Brees, sponsored by a dairy organization and named after the beeps that replace the word "butter" in margarine commercials, went seven games without a defeat.

They finished first in the Centennial division of the tournament while Edmonton compiled a record of four wins and two ties in the Confederation division to enter the final.

The strong Ontario entry, with three 16 - year - olds adding a steadying touch to a group of 15-year-olds, took a 2-0 lead in first period. Edmonton made it 2-2 in the second but Toronto scored three goals in the third.

Gary Coulter scored two goals for Toronto. Rick Miller, Ernie McGowan and Doug Thommaire one each. Wayne Radomsky and Bob Cottier scored for Edmonton.

Edmonton coach Harry Allen blamed lack of competition for his team's loss.

"We've only had about 10 games together as a group and we've had to play juveniles for good competition," he said.

There were 14 teams in the tournament, served in each group. Saskatchewan was runner-up to Ontario in the Centennial group with a 3-1 record while Manitoba and Quebec chased Alberta to the final with 4-1-1 records.

Toronto scored 34 goals and gave up eight. Alberta netted 41 and yielded 16.

Tournament organizers received a pair of hockey gloves from Gordie Howe, Detroit Red Wing star, that were mounted on two separate trophies and given to the two teams in the final. The gloves will remain in the International Hockey Hall of Fame here.

In an exhibition game Saturday for the championship of the North, Yukon Huskies defeated Yellowknife Gold Kings of the Northwest Territories 5-2.

NHL Playoffs Dates

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Hockey League announced Sunday night that the Stanley Cup semi - finals will open in Chicago and Montreal Thursday night.

The A series will have Toronto Maple Leafs at Chicago Black Hawks Thursday and Sunday, April 6 and 9, with the third and fourth games at Toronto April 11 and April 13.

If a fifth game is necessary, it will be played Saturday afternoon, April 15, at Chicago. A sixth game, if necessary, would be played April 18 at Toronto, and should the best-of-seven series go the seven game limit the final game would be played April 20 at Chicago.

The Black Hawks clinched the regular - season championship this year with 94 points while the Maple Leafs finished third with 75, two behind second-place Montreal Canadiens.

The Canadiens will open their best-of-seven B series at home Thursday against New York Rangers, who finished fourth with 72 points. The necessary game of the series will be played Saturday afternoon, also in Montreal.

The third and fourth games will be at New York April 11 and April 13.

If a fifth game is necessary, it will be played April 15 at Montreal. If the A series needs a fifth game, the fifth game in the B series will be played Saturday afternoon.

Times of the afternoon games are not immediately known.

Should a sixth game be required to determine the winner of the B series, it will be played April 18 at New York. Should that series go the seven games, the final contest will be played April 20 at Montreal.

Harry Rollins Heads B.D. Softball Loop

Teams were scarce at the season's initial meeting of the Belleville and District Softball League last night but those in attendance came up with a slate of officers for 1967.

Harry Rollins, well-known in city and provincial softball circles, accepted the position of president on the third call for nominations.

Harold Bawden was named vice-president and Doug Reid returned as secretary treasurer. Bawden is also president of one of the city's two umpires' associations.

Frank Insley, of Trenton and last year's president, resigned previous to the election but later agreed to remain on the executive as past president.

The Belleville Bobcats and Madoc indicated they definitely intentions of playing in both the Belleville and District League and in the OASA. Trudeau Motors said they were a possible entry.

Rollins spoke to the turnout as approximately 15 persons regarding the OASA convention, being held in North York this coming weekend, and on team affiliation.

President Rollins has called another league meeting, to be held at his home, on Wednesday, April 12, at 8:00 p.m.

Toronto Takes Centennial Title

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Golding Park Saturday upset Ottawa Nationals 2-1 to win the Canadian centennial bantam hockey championship.

Keith Macdonald and Ricky Logan scored for Goulding Park while Dave Sowerby scored the Ottawa goal.

Earlier in the day, Quebec Aces defeated Winnipeg 3-0 in an exhibition contest for the Confederation Trophy.

Hornets Sting Bears

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

American Hockey League fans may have been given a foretaste of what the playoffs will look like in at least two of the three coming series.

Sunday, Hershey Bears, winners of the Eastern Division, dropped a second decision to Pittsburgh Hornets, Western Division champions, while Rochester Americans downed Cleveland Barons 4-2.

The Americans were second in the Western circuit and the Barons third and meet in semi-final play leading to the Calder Cup finals.

Baltimore Clippers, second in the East, showed the toll of the 72-game scheduled that ended Sunday, dropped a 9-1 decision to Rochester Saturday. Quebec Aces confirmed their hold on third place by defeating Springfield Indians 7-4 Sunday after losing 3-2 to Hershey Saturday.

Baltimore and Quebec meet in the eastern semi-final.

In other weekend games, Providence Reds clobbered Buffalo Bisons 11-3 Sunday after Cleveland edged Pittsburgh 3-2 and Springfield beat Providence 5-3 Saturday.

American League Playoffs

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The American Hockey League playoffs begin Wednesday night with games in Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Rochester, the league announced Sunday.

Hershey Bears, regular-season champions in the league's Eastern Division, visit Pittsburgh Hornets, who won the Western second title in the opener of a best-of-seven game semi-final series.

Quebec Aces are at Baltimore Clippers in the first game of a best-of-five set and Rochester Americans are at Cleveland Barons in the opener of another first - round series. Baltimore finished second and Quebec third in the East, Rochester second and Cleveland third in the West.

The winners in the Quebec-Baltimore and Cleveland-Rochester series will meet in a semi-final series, with the survivor racking the Hershey-Pittsburgh winner for the Calder Cup.

Blazers Knights Grab Wins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Oklahoma City Blazers took a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven Central Hockey League playoff with Houston during the weekend, defeating the Apollos 5-1 Saturday night and 3-1 in overtime Sunday.

In the other CHL playoff Omaha Knights tied their series with Memphis at one game apiece when they defeated the Wings 8-3 Saturday night.

The next games will be Wednesday night when Oklahoma City is at Houston and Memphis is at Omaha.

Saturday night, Oklahoma City scored twice in the first period and three times in the second before allowing Houston's goal by Gary Monahan in the third. Ron Buchanan scored twice for the Blazers and Ted Hodgson, Jean Pronovost and Ted Irvine added the others.

Sunday, Ross Lonsberry scored at 7:36 of the overtime period to give Blazers the victory. Hodgson scored the other Oklahoma goal in the third period. Houston tied the game on Mickey Redmond's goal.

In the Omaha - Memphis game, Paul Andrea scored twice for Omaha and Max Mestinsek and Bryan Campbell got the others. Andre Pronovost scored for Memphis.

Archers Win At Ottawa

Belleville Archery Club members captured two of the top four trophies at a shoot held in Ottawa yesterday.

About 60 archers, from Ontario and Quebec, participated.

Carol Armstrong won the trophy for women's highest score with a count of 267.

John Widdicky had the highest bare-bow score for men with 345.

Belleville had one other class winner, Eileen Donaldson, with 345.

NHL Stars

Exhibition Baseball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sammy Ellis, Curt Simmons and Juan Pizarro earned in good performances Sunday as they tried to erase lackluster baseball seasons in 1966, but Camilo Pascual's comeback took a turn for the worse.

Ellis, a 13-game loser last season, allowed two hits in five innings and combined with 18-year-old rookie Gary Nolan for a five-hitter as Cincinnati Reds beat Philadelphia Phillies 2-0.

Simmons allowed one run and three hits in seven innings as Chicago Cubs dropped California Angels 3-2.

Pizarro, bothered by arm troubles last year, limited New York Yankees to three runs in seven innings and his Pittsburgh Pirates teammates clobbered the Yankees 9-3 with Don Clendenon blasting two homers. Mickey Mantle hit his first homer of the spring for the Yankees.

Pascual, also injury-ridden in 1966, fared poorly against Minnesota, his former club, as the Twins bombed him for six runs and beat Washington Senators 10-6.

Los Angeles Dodgers and Houston Astros, playing like the regular season already has begun, struggled through 11 innings before Dick Schofield tripled home Jerry Buchek and Raymond's wild pitch for a 4-3 Dodger victory.

The Astros got homers from Rusty Staub and Jim Wynn. The Dodgers went hitless for 11 innings following Wes Parker's three-run double in the fourth inning.

Bob Gibson hit a two - run homer, allowed one hit and struck out 10 in six innings, leading St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-0 triumph over Kansas City Athletics. Rookie Reggie Smith and George Scott each homered as Boston Red Sox swamped New York Mets 8-2.

Baltimore Orioles' seven runs in the fourth inning routed Atlanta Braves 8-1 and Al Kaline capped a four - run seven hit inning with a two - run double as Detroit Tigers trimmed Chicago White Sox 7-5.

In Saturday's action, it was Atlanta 6 Minnesota 1, Baltimore 3 Pittsburgh 1, Cincinnati 3 St. Louis 1, the Cubs 6 California 0, Boston 13 the Yankees 4, Kansas City 8 Washington 3, the Mets 6 Philadelphia 3, Houston 7 Los Angeles 0 and the White Sox 5 Detroit 0 with San Francisco and Cleveland rained out.

Andretti Wins Sebring

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—Mario Andretti's easy Sebring victory for Ford Saturday sets the stage for a Ford - Ferrari factory showdown at Le Mans, which Enzo Ferrari calls "the track of truth."

With Ferrari shunning the 12-hour endurance race here, factory Fords grabbed first and second place. But of the two, only Andretti—in a new Mark IV prototype—was running at the end. The victory gives Ford 12 championship points to nine for Ferrari leading up to Le Mans.

Andretti averaged 102.323 miles an hour for a record in speed and distance. He covered 1,227 miles in 238 laps over the course.

The only serious threat to Ford's dominance were two Chevrolet - powered Chaparrals, both of which retired early with mechanical trouble.

The 218 - m.p.h. Mark IV—driven by Andretti and New Zealand's Bruce McLaren — roared across the finish line 10 miles ahead of the pack.

The second - place Mark II Ford piloted by A. J. Foyt of Houston and Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., took the checkered flag in the pits when its engine from 23 minutes short of the finish.

Gary Majwood of Toronto and Ray Gray of Whitby, Ont., dropped out of the race due to a broken wheel and steering trouble.

Nancy Gets $5,000 Scholarship

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett says a $5,000 scholarship will be presented to Canadian ski champion Nancy Greene.

Speaking Saturday night at the opening of Selkirk College at Castlegar in the province's Kootenay region, Bennett said the scholarship was to be presented for "Nancy's sacrifice" and because she is "such a symbol of young people today."

Miss Greene, 22, of Rossland, B.C., and winner of skiing's World Cup last week in the United States, returned to her studies last year after a five-year absence.

She is a first-year student at Notre Dame University in Nelson, home of the Canadian national ski team.

Stan Mikita, Chicago Black Hawks' little centre, finished the 1966-67 National Hockey League season with a record-equalling 97 points to capture his third scoring championship in the last four years.

Mikita picks up $1,000 in bonus money as over-all winner of the scoring race plus $250 as second-half runner - up to teammate Bobby Hull, who finished second in the scoring parade with 80 points, including a league-leading 52 goals. Hull gets $500 bonus money as overall runner-up to Mikita.

Mikita's 97 points equalled the record of 97 points in one season, set by Hull last year. Mikita's total includes a league high of 62 assists.

Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins failed to place anyone in the top 10 this season.

Top Five Retain Positions

LONDON (CP)—The top five clubs maintained the First Division places in Saturday's English League soccer matches.

Manchester United and Nottingham Forest, the two leading clubs, both won handsomely, 3-0 and 5-1, respectively. Leeds United and Tottenham Hotspur, their most likely challengers, also gained maximum points.

Liverpool, the reigning champion, although defeated 2-1 by Tottenham, maintained third place with 46 points. Liverpool has lost its vital sparkle in recent games.

Its chances of retaining the title seem slender compared with those of Manchester United with 51 points, or Nottingham Forest, with 49. Leeds and Tottenham both have 45 points.

In Scotland, Celtic, European Cup semi-finalists, was held to a goalless tie by Clyde in the semi-finals of the Scottish Cup. Aberdeen made certain of its place in the April 29 final by defeating Dundee United 1-0 in the other semi-final.

Liverpool, which was without its injured star centre-forward, Ian St. John, could not hold a lively Tottenham team which has not lost at home since Nov. 14.

England manager Sir Alf Ramsey probably penciled in Jimmy Greaves for England's Nations Cup qualifying game with Scotland in two weeks time after seeing Greaves score two fine goals.

Greaves's first goal came direct from a corner in the 43rd minute and the second in the 52nd minute with a lob over the goalkeeper's head from the edge of the penalty area. Peter Thompson scored for Liverpool 11 minutes from the end.

A crowd of 61,000 saw England international Bobby Charlton put Manchester United ahead in the second minute against West Ham United. George Best and Denis law added the other goals in the game's first three minutes.

Nottingham Forest, whose remaining six matches in the program look easier than those of its rivals, was always in control against Southampton, whose defeat took it nearer to relegation to the Second Division.

Another For Nancy

TAHOE CITY, Calif. (CP-AP) —The pressure was off Nancy Greene at the Far West Kandahar ski races here during the weekend but the tough, little competitor refused to let up.

Miss Greene won the second giant slalom of the day Sunday after finishing second in the first such event. She also finished second in the slalom Saturday.

The two giant slaloms were held Sunday to wrap up the races during the weekend. They were a day late starting due to a late-season blizzard and didn't get under way until Saturday.

Miss Greene had a combined time of 85.89 seconds to win the second giant slalom. Heidi Zimmerman of Austria won the women's slalom Saturday, edging out Miss Greene by six-hundredths of a second. Karen Korfesta of the United States won the first giant slalom Sunday.

Kari Schrenk of Austria won the men's slalom Saturday and the first giant slalom Sunday. Spider Sabich of the United States upset Schrenk and won the second giant slalom. Schrenk was sixth.

Ridings Get Ready

PC Convention Likely to Be Largest in Canadian History

MONTREAL (CP)—The Progressive Conservative party will swing into intense activity in the next three months as riding associations reorganize their structures and elect a record 2,540 delegates to the September leadership convention.

Each of the 264 ridings under the new electoral map has until June 30 to elect five voting delegates and five alternates under rules approved by the party executive at a weekend meeting here.

The 22-member executive will present drafted a five-day program for the Toronto convention, adding two days at the start for policy discussions by about 400 grass - roots representatives, members of Parliament, university professors and various "specialists."

The convention Sept. 3 - 8 likely will be the largest in Canadian history, with more than 6,000 delegates, alternates and observers expected in the party executive at a weekend meeting here.

The 22-member executive also announced early Saturday night, Sept. 9, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker has five announced rivals so far but is keeping his intentions a secret.

The national executive increased the number of alternate delegates from each riding to five from three after receiving many complaints that farmers and parents may find it hard to attend the convention because it will fall during the harvest and back-to-school preparations.

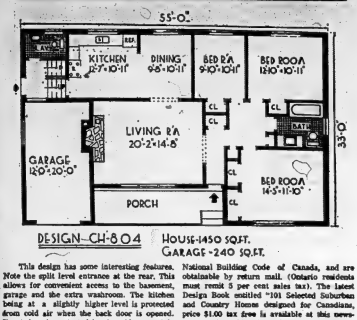
The convention planners also revised upward their estimate of ex-officio and at-large voting delegates to about 1,000. These will include 368 delegates at large to be named later by a four-member committee in each province, the 125 members of the national council, Conservative MPs and candidates nominated for the next federal election, provincial members, senators, convention officials and members of the women's and youth executives.

In all, an estimated 2,400 delegates will cast ballots Sept. 9, at least 1,000 more than at the 1956 convention that elected John Diefenbaker. Several ballots likely will be needed since 50 per cent of the votes plus one are needed to win.

Party Director James Johnston reported that the constituency associations are progressing well in reorganizing along the new riding boundaries. He said 140 new associations have been formed and 60 others would complete their organization shortly.

The non-organized ridings are mostly in Quebec and the Quebec PC Association president, Paul O. Trepanier, asked that the deadline to elect delegates be extended to Aug. 31.

The executive voted to maintain the June 30 deadline, but to review the situation at its next meeting, June 23 in Victoria.



The policy discussions will be Sept. 5 and 6. Participants will comprise one of the voting delegates from each riding, 50 MPs, 50 academics and 50 specialists representing agriculture, business and labor and the women's and youth sections.

Convention planners hope that detailed resolutions passed by this group will form the bulk of the party's platform for the next federal election.

A full-time convention staff will move into Toronto offices April 15 to make detailed arrangements for transport, accommodation and other problems. Hotel and motel rooms for nearly 8,000 persons have been retained already.

Lesage Unaware of Reform Meeting

QUEBEC (CP) — Liberal Leader Jean Lesage reacted with surprise Sunday night when informed that some of the top members of his party had been meeting behind his back.

Returning by plane from a weekend speech-making tour of western Quebec, the Opposition leader admitted to reporters who accompanied him that he knew nothing of a secret meeting of 20 or 30 prominent Liberals at Mont Tremblant in the Laurentians north of Montreal.

He did not know what the last meeting was about, or when it had been decided upon.

Published reports described the meeting as a gathering of the "reform element" of the provincial Liberal party, with the aim of reorganizing the party or perhaps of laying the groundwork for a new political party.

This was denied, however, by two former cabinet ministers who attended—Rene Levesque, former welfare minister, and Eric Kierans, former revenue minister and president of the Quebec Liberal Federation.

Mr. Kierans said the meeting was held to discuss the Quebec government's relations with Ottawa. Another participant said the party leadership "was not even discussed."

Among others who attended were Mrs. Claire Kirkland-Casgrain, transport minister in the former Lesage government which met defeat at the polls last June 5, Paul Gerin-Lajoie, former education minister, and Georges-Emile Lapalme, whom Mr. Lesage succeeded as party leader.

Dr. Roch Bauville, regional vice-president of the Liberal federation for the vast Lesage bay district, said in Sept-Iles—last stop on Mr. Lesage's week-end tour—that he also had attended the meeting.

He said the discussion had been about the necessity for the Liberals to develop an original policy based on Quebec in the North American context.

He said the meeting had considered the option of Quebec separatism, but this had been rejected by everyone present except Francois Aquin, a former president of the Liberal federation.

At a dinner given for Mr. Lesage by the Sept-Iles Young Liberals, Mr. Bauville said in a speech that Quebec "is in a state of emergency."

"It is urgent that we reform our political thinking—and that goes for all Quebec political parties, including the two major traditional ones. We are in a troubled period."

On his tour, Mr. Lesage told audiences that the recent "unpopular budget indicates that the Union Nationale does not plan an election this year. He also called on the government to make heavy investments in the province's economy or face diminishing private investment in Quebec.

Shipwrecked Couple Snatched From Sea

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — After three months shipwrecked on a tropical island and three days at sea on a submerged water-logged raft, Henri Bourdens told his wife he was sorry but he was going to die.

"I asked him: 'Please wait for me, we must go together,' and he said he would try to live one more day," Mrs. Jose Bourdens, 48, said today.

By the end of that day—Saturday—the Dutch Betty Jane had rescued the French couple whose yacht was wrecked by a cyclone on the shores of Bathurst Island in late December.

When reached by rescuers, the raft's deck was under three feet of water and "two people looking more like strange wild animals were sticking out of the water," a crew member of the Betty Jane said.

Awakened by his wife when she saw the Betty Jane, Bourdens set off a smoke bomb to attract attention, and it nearly scared the boat away. The crew first thought the raft was an artillery target but then decided to investigate.

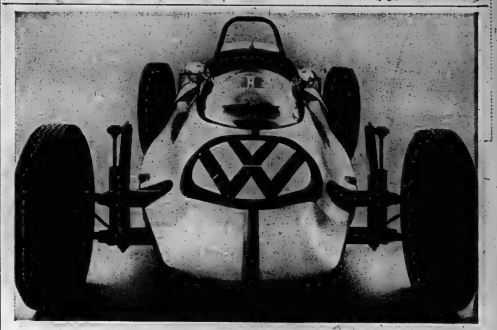
From his hospital bed in Darwin, Bourdens called the ordeal "a foretaste of hell."

His wife said they built the raft when they were certain they were dying of starvation.

"We lived on sea snails for most of the two months after the food from the yacht ran out —except for one small kangaroo shot by Henri," Mrs. Bourdens said.

She said three days they spent in a mangrove swamp on the island were the most terrifying of her life. For a while, they were trapped up to the waist in slimy water and often heard animals fighting around them, she added. They saw crocodiles and "hundreds of snakes, sometimes wrapped together like huge worms."

After they built the raft, Mrs. Bourdens wrote a long letter to their two children in France.



"I wanted them to know what had happened to us and I cried all the time I wrote it," she said.

On the raft, chest deep in water when they were sitting, "we never saw an airplane or a boat; we saw nothing but the sea," said Mrs. Bourdens.

The couple were trying to sail to France on a 45-foot yacht Bourdens had bought in Singapore. Hampered by water in their fuel, they tried to steer for the island of Timor but ended up 300 miles to the south, on the other side of the island.

The shipwrecked in an uninhabited area of Bathurst Island. They didn't know that a Roman Catholic mission was 40 miles away on the other side of the island.

Bourdens, a former airline pilot and author of several books, said as soon as they are able, they will try to resume the voyage.

There's a bit of the beast in every bug.

It doesn't take much to unleash the savage fury of a Volkswagen.

Take almost any old Volkswagen, replace the body, make a few simple adjustments, and you've got yourself a Formula Vee racer.

How can a mild-mannered, practical, everyday Volkswagen convert so easily into something so delightfully impractical?

In the words of the Formula Vee International Manual, "Volkswagen components seem to have been made expressly for use in a racing car."

"The engine, air-cooled and mostly aluminum, is light for its power output and already adapted to the rear-engine concept of modern racing cars."

"Its rugged construction provides a power plant which seems to be practically indestructible, even at racing speeds."

"And operating costs are amazingly low. One set of tires will ordinarily last more than a season, and it's next to impossible to burn five gallons of gas in an 80-mile race."

It seems that the same things that make the VW a sensible car for people who aren't in any particularly hurry to get somewhere also make the Formula Vee a sensible car for people who are in a big hurry to get nowhere.

Two Doukhobor Women Haven't Eaten in Year

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Mary Malakoff and Mary Astaforoff, two of the few Sons of Freedom Doukhobours who still actively protest that their religious sect is the victim of a miscarriage of justice, today begin their second year of a hunger strike in Kingston penitentiary for women.

Most of the Doukhobors in the Kootenay Mountain town of Krestova, B.C., have stopped their terrorism protests of bombing and burning but the two prisoners continue on their liquid diet of eggs, milk and chocolate, fed through nasal tubes because they will not eat.

The two women, both in their 50s, entered the prison in September, 1965, when each was sentenced to five years on charges of breaking and entering and arson.

They were accused of breaking into buildings on the farm of Walsh Konciewcz of Krestova, B.C., and setting fire to five sheds.

Confronted by RCMP officers in the summer of 1962, the two women stripped off their clothes and burned them. They stripped again the next day and had to be bundled in blankets for their preliminary court appearance.

During their trial they refused to talk and one woman had to be carried to and from the two-day sitting. Both refused to enter pleas.

The two women come from a religious sect with a history of terrorism, burning, bombing and nude parading in its 60 years in British Columbia. The sect originated in Russia.

The Sons of Freedom is a minority radical wing of the sect which broke with orthodox Doukhobors some 40 years ago and settled in the Kootenay Valley, 400 miles east of Vancouver.

Since then, by some accounts, the Freedomites have been charged with 800 acts of violence, burning their homes, bombing railroad tracks and destroying other property as signs of protest.

They often stripped and paraded nude to demonstrate equality before God.

Friction mushroomed over the years, culminating in the spree of terrorism which led to arrests, trials and construction of a special prison at Agassiz, B.C., in 1962.

Although the two women began their hunger strike a year ago today, their health was not considered in danger until April 16, 1966, when they were taken to the Canadian Penitentiary hospital here and fed intravenously.

They agreed to accept nourishment through tubes inserted in their nostrils and were taken back to the prison April 25.

Prison officials, however, became alarmed at their weakened condition by June and, on the advice of doctors who feared complications might strike, moved them back to the hospital June 10.

They continued to protest in hospital until Jan. 23, when army doctors decided they no longer needed hospital care.

The women are given nourishment twice a day, receiving 2,000 calories from their liquid diet.

The acting prison superintendent, Donald Clark, said they continue their hunger strike to provide an example of devotedness for sect members in B.C. He said their mental attitude is cheerful.

Dr. George Scott of Kingston, prison psychiatrist, said a hunger strike which originally starts for a cause may go on after the cause is lost because the fasting person is afraid to lose face.

Dr. Scott said the body may be inactive, but the mind is not and to compensate for physical inactivity, the mind creates fantasies.

He was forbidden by prison officials to speak of the Doukhobor women and spoke in general terms.

Dr. Scott said the inactivity can make a person susceptible to chest infections and if the body fluid balance is upset by the fast, kidney infections and skin diseases may result.

34 Accidental Deaths Mar Weekend in Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Of 34 accidental deaths reported across Canada during the weekend, 22 were in traffic mishaps.

A survey by The Canadian Press from 6 p.m. to midnight Sunday, local time, showed Ontario and Quebec with 12 deaths each.

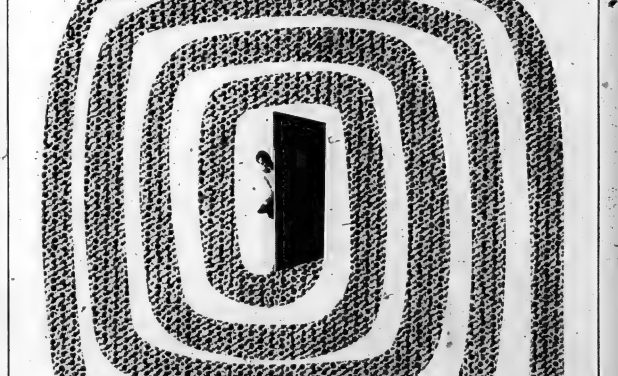
In Quebec, eight persons died in traffic accidents and one in a fire. Two persons died from carbon monoxide poisoning and a six-year-old boy was shot to death when playing with a rifle.

In Ontario, six died on the highway and four in fires. A man fell from the balcony of his Toronto apartment and a three-year-old girl died when a gun accidentally discharged while she was playing with her brother.

Saskatchewan and Alberta each reported four traffic fatalities.

British Columbia had two deaths, one in traffic and one in a fire.

Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Manitoba were fatality-free.



The survey does not include industrial and natural deaths, known suicides and slayings.

Mrs. Gandhi's Position Sapped By Defections From Her Party

NEW DELHI (AP) — Three weeks after her election as India's prime minister, Indira Gandhi's position is threatened by defections from her Congress party.

Congress party members have bolted in two Indian states, leaving the party with legislative majorities in only seven of 16 states. Some fear that the defection will reach the national level and reduce or wipe out the party's 30-seat majority in Parliament.

The cabinet Mrs. Gandhi formed last month after India's general elections could then fall on a parliamentary vote of confidence. Although Mrs. Gandhi's personal position appears in danger, observers expect the Congress party to retain power.

All six opposition parties in Parliament would have to unite and be joined by at least 15 defectors from the Congress to put together a new parliamentary majority, and there appears to be no conceivable prospect of this happening.

After ruling India unchallenged since the country became independent 20 years ago, the Congress party has declined both in appeal to the voters and party discipline. The party lost 82 parliamentary seats in the February elections and its nearly complete monopoly of the state legislatures was broken.

Seventeen party members joined opposition legislators in Uttar Pradesh state during the weekend and brought down the Congress government by a vote of 215 to 198.

The leader of the dissidents, 64-year-old Charan Singh, was sworn in today as the state's new minister to head a coalition of all major non-Congress parties. Singh cut his ties with the Congress after 45 years because of differences with local party leaders.

Uttar Pradesh, with 75,000,000 residents, is India's most populous state and Mrs. Gandhi's birthplace. Her personal popularity in the state seemed undimmed, as she was warmly received Sunday on a tour of its eastern regions to inspect drought damage.

Thirteen Congress party members defected in Haryana state two weeks ago.

In addition, the party's slim majorities in the legislatures of Assam, Andhra Pradesh and Mysore states are menaced by factionalism and disputes among party leaders. Opposition groups now control all the states of northern India.

Police Recover Part Of Armored Truck Loot

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Police Sunday recovered a small part of the more than $345,000 loot taken Saturday night when hijackers stipped into the cab of an armored truck while its guards were outside and sped off in a hail of bullets.

Police found four sealed bank bags from the truck but when the bags were opened a spokesman for the firm which owns the truck said they "contained mostly cheques."

The spokesman, David Connell of the Sekily Detective Agency, said: "There is some cash — a small amount."

Police said $120,000 of the loot was in cash and the rest in cheques.

Jonquiere Group Wins 3 Awards

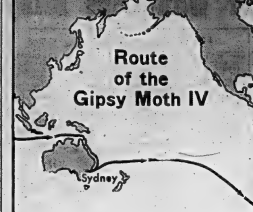
QUEBEC (CP)—A Jonquiere, Que., group was named winner of the Eastern Amateur Drama Festival at its conclusion here Sunday.

The group's production of L'Auberge des Morts Subites—The Inn of Sudden Death—by Felix Leclerc was described as a "creation of angelic imagination" by adjudicator Ann Wickham of Montreal.

In addition to winning the trophy for the best production of the festival, the group was awarded three others—for best visual production, best set design and best actor.



The last two went to Ghislain Bouchard, the set designer, and Michel Dumont for his interpretation of the role of Satan in the play.

L'Auberge des Morts Subites is a caricature of the religious complexity of humans.

The trophy for best actress went to Andree Aube of l'Union theatrale de Sherbrooke for her playing of Sister Justice in Adore Lacguyin's L'Oeil du Peuple.

Next week, Mrs. Wickham will adjudicate at the eastern Ontario Regional Drama Festival. Afterwards she will decide between the winning Eastern Quebec play and the winning Eastern Ontario play as to which will go forward to the Dominion Drama Festival at St. John's, Nfld., May 22-27.

An additional prize was presented Sunday night. It was $500 for the best new Canadian play at the festival, and it went to Serge Richard for his Ou "Est Pandemonium.

The World's Loneliest Voyage

Sir Francis Chichester, knighted by the Queen after he completed the first half of his around-the-world voyage alone on the Gipsy Moth IV, has rounded the awesome Cape Horn, the southern tip of South America, and headed into the Atlantic Ocean on the last lap of the homeward trip. Sir Francis left Sydney, Australia, Jan. 29. Crews of the great wool clipper ships, which plied the route in the last century, felt deep respect for the rounding Cape Horn, although they still had 8,000 miles of the 15,000-mile journey in front of them. # Dick Van Dyke May Run For Public Office in 1971

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Last year the voters of California might have been faced with a three-way contest for governor: Ronald Reagan, Edmund G. Brown—and Dick Van Dyke.

"Carl Reiner and I were seriously thinking of running me on independent ticket," Van Dyke says.

"We would have stumped the state in an attempt to split Reagan's votes and demonstrate how ridiculous it is for an actor to begin his electric career by running for governor of California.

"Only one thing stopped us: We were afraid we might get elected."

Although Van Dyke declined to run in 1966, his friends are speculating on the possibility of any wondering whether he might not be available for public office after 1971. That's the date when he plans to give up his acting career and devote himself to helping humanity.

The Hollywood crowd, which has never understood Dick Van Dyke, has viewed his so-called five-year plan with skepticism. He has announced that five years after scaling his. Mighty successful television series—that was just a year ago—he would abandon show business for more altruistic pursuits.

At this point he is not certain where the new life will take him. He is a Presbyterian and is likely to be active in church affairs. He also is interested in using films and television for religious and educational purposes.

Meanwhile, Van Dyke has engendered one of the heaviest production schedules of any film star. Since ending the TV series, he has made two movies, is in the midst of another and has taped a CBS special which will appear April 11.

He is under contract for two more specials and six movies. His schedule includes local cycles to be doubtful of Van Dyke's plan to quit the entertainment scene.

Best Play Almost Misses

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (CP)—The Vagabond Independent Players Theatre for Children of Charlottetown almost didn't win the best-play award for its production Saturday of The Dandy Lion in the two-day Prince Edward Island regional Dominion Drama Festival finals.

Jeanine Beaubien of Montreal, the adjudicator, first awarded the trophy for the best play to The Audition, presented by the Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown.

The adjudicator thought the trophy was for the best script, but when she discovered it was for the best production, it was quickly transferred to The Dandy Lion.

The Vagabond Players also won six other trophies for their presentation of the play by Pat Patterson and Dodi Robb.

Daytime and News Shows Being Plagued by Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The strike of the television performers union against the three major networks has played havoc with the daytime and news shows, but the filmed series from the Hollywood studios were unaffected.

Ed Sullivan's show Sunday was the only network offering of recent vintage. But NBC's Frank McGee, with his late afternoon report, was forced by a shortage of domestic picture stories to make his major subject a feature covering Italian tourists shooting song birds—larks and field finches—as a sport.

ABC staged a basketball game in Boston, used only one camera but struggled on in black and white. It seemed that NBC's College Bowl was suffering, too, from some erratic camera work.

Because of the strike, two daytime shows are postponed—ABC's One in a Million and NBC's Snap Judgment, both scheduled to start today.

ABC's Supermarket Sweep and One in a Million, that ran consecutively, will be replaced by reruns of Wagon Train that date back to its early days when the late Ward Bond was trailmaster.

Snap Judgment's half hour will be filled by episodes of The Life of Riley starring the late William Bendix.

NBC's soap opera Another World will have as its substitute reruns of short dramatic shows starring Jane Wyman. The Today Show, which is usually live, will revisit colonial Williamsburg and the Virgin Islands, since both journeys were reported by film.

ABC will return Father Knows Best to its schedule in place of General Hospital.

ABC announced that Batman will be reduced to a single 30-minute show next season and that lawyer F. Lee Bailey will be host on a weekly interview show, called Inside Out.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE ESSEX — Sandra Dee, George Hamilton, in the 1967 Cinemascope, TECHNICOLOR Film "A Rage to Live". Performances 7.00, 7.00 and 9.10. Feature at 1.30, 3.35 - 5.35.

AT THE PARK — All Color Show — "Judas Picture", Peter Cushing. 7.00 - 9.35. "Projected Man", 8.35.

Networks Expecting Long Siege

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three television-radio networks settled down to a lengthening strike siege today after union leaders walked out of negotiations, calling the latest contract offer for newscasters "insulting."

"You bet your life," chief union negotiator Donald Cosaway said when asked whether he was walking out of the talks called by federal mediators.

There was no indication after the blowup when further talks might be set between the networks and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists in the strike, now in its sixth day.

The networks first offered $300 a week plus a percentage of commercial fees for newscasters. The union rejected the offer as insulting $325 a week and a higher percentage of bonus commercial fees.

"This is more regressive and more insulting than the first offer," Cosaway said, without disclosing details of the new proposal.

Negotiators for both sides returned to New York after the fruitless two - day negotiating session called here by Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin.

Theatre in Gay Paree Now Facing Hard Times

PARIS (Reuters) — The theatre in gay Paree, traditionally regarded as one of the world's liveliest show centres, is facing hard times.

The city, with only half London's 8,000,000 - plus population, for a long time supported twice as many playhouses. But during the last few years, more than a half-dozen of the most famous Paris playhouses have closed down, and others will shut during the next few months.

Figures just released for the 60-odd professionally - run theatres in the French capital for 1966 show they drew 132,000 fewer people than in 1965.

Out of the 8,350,000 seats available at performances, only 3,500,000 were filled — about 42 per cent of capacity.

Receipts were up by more than three per cent over 1965 but this did not keep pace with the steady rise in operating expenses.

The main reasons for the decline are the increased popularity of television, the lack of good new plays and the choking traffic congestion in the city centre where most theatres are situated.

Next to close will be the huge Alhambra - Maurice Chevalier Theatre, with 2,500 seats the biggest of the Paris theatres and music halls. Demolition gangs will begin tearing down walls around which has echoed the applause of five generations of Parisians.

Soon afterwards, the curtain will fall on the last production of the Sacha Pitoeff Company at the nearby Theatre Moderne, which is losing 1,500 francs — about $300 — a day.

Paris audiences are notorious for their extreme reaction to new works. They can be expected to drown the players' dialogue with catcalls and boos, and hombard them with rotten tomatoes and eggs — or applaud wildly and strew the stage with flowers.

But theatre managements are generally agreed that for all this Parisians are comparable with London and New York audiences in their tastes.

A look at the recent productions that have enjoyed good box - office receipts indicates this.

Boeing - Boeing, the comedy about airline stewardesses by Marc Camoletis which was a smash hit in both London and New York, has passed its 2,900th performance in Paris.

Likewise, the French comedy Cactus Flower, now in its third year in Paris, is drawing large audiences on Broadway with its hilarious plot centred on an amorous dentist.

Unlike the fully commercial playhouses of Paris, the half-dozen national theatres here are experiencing a much less painful time.

Their attendances last year fell by 11,000. But this still left them with a 71-per-cent record

Morrisburg Captures Senior Title

MORRISBURG, Ont. (CP)—Morrisburg Combines defeated Shawville Pontiacs 7-5 Sunday to win the best-of-seven St. Lawrence Senior Hockey League final four games to one. Morrisburg now plays the winner of the Kingston Aces-Woodstock Athletics series in the next Allan Cup playoff elimination round.

Doug Casselman and Mel Tomaily each scored two goals for Morrisburg and Gord McMillan, Pat Brophy and Derek Holmes scored the others.

Brian Murphy scored twice for Shawville and Mac MacLean, Carson Ryan and Irving Campbell added single goals.

Barbara Stanwyck Likes TV But Says It's Tough Medium

NEW YORK (AP)—Barbara Stanwyck, moving happily toward her third season of playing what she calls the "blood and guts" matriarch of The Big Valley, says that "they still don't write strong women's parts in movies or television these days."

"Both have been men's industries for the past 12 years or so," says Miss Stanwyck. "It just isn't like the great days when they had strong men stars and strong women stars—William Powell and Myrna Loy, Clark Gable and Joan Crawford, Gary Cooper and Greta Garbo."

None of them, she says, were kids.

"The wheel turns," the actress said, "so we'll probably get back to that.

"But meanwhile I like to work—I'd like to make movies, but no one asks me. But I'm lucky because I have an interesting character to play in television."

Miss Stanwyck, also says a 20-year old and frankly 60, shrugged expressively.

"Obviously I can't play ingenues—and my kind of a love story is out since there is a Hollywood tradition that romance is for the young."

She likes playing Victoria Barkley in The Big Valley partly because she can play a vital, frankly mature woman who is almost as active as her children. But mostly, one suspects, it's because she enjoys the discipline of the profession that has kept her busy since she got into show business at 15 as a chorus girl in a New York cabaret.

Miss Stanwyck was in her native New York briefly, during the show's vacation period, to see some new shows and old friends.

She is one of the few actresses who has survived the years without a struggle, and certainly one of the few whose silver hair is not disguised.

"You can't turn off the years," she said. "And I'm not sure you'd want to."

The Big Valley got off to a slow start, but this season it has moved to a happier time spot and picked up considerable steam. Next season the audience battle may be tougher. It will have serious competition from both rival networks in the late Monday evening spot—NBC's Spy and CBS's new Carol Burnett Show, a variety hour.

"Television is the toughest medium," the actress said. "It is much harder than movies and it is even harder than doing plays. I first began in radio the way we used to do when there was vaudeville as well as movies and television.

"Doing an hour show in six days is like making a full-length movie in a few days."

Miss Stanwyck, twice divorced, the last time from Robert Taylor, lives in Beverly Hills in like a hermit when she's working in a show. When the pressures are light she does a lot of reading.

Thetford Takes Opener

THETFORD MINES, Que. (CP) — Thetford Mines Canadiens will be looking for their second victory in the best-of-seven Eastern Canadian Memorial Cup semi-final tonight when they meet Halifax Junior Canadiens.

Thetford Mines outclassed all opposition to capture the regular season Quebec Junior A Hockey League championship and coasted to superior form and skill into the provincial junior hockey playoffs, which it also won.

Sunday night, Thetford Mines came up with another strong performance and defeated Shawinigan 5-4 in the opening game of the Memorial Cup semi-final.

Gilbert Perreault provided an estimated 2,000 hometown fans with a hat trick as he scored a pair of goals to spark the winners. Pierre Roy, Odil Boutin and Jean Lor Duquette scored the other Thetford Mines goals.

Fraser Rice led Halifax with two goals and Errol Thompson and Bob Sheehan added one each.

Champions Renamed At Port Huron

PORT HURON, Mich. (CP)— Sarnia Black Hawks and Hamilton Red Wings retained their championships at the second annual Silver Blades midget hockey tournament Sunday.

Sarnia defeated Port Huron 4-1 in the AA division final and Leamington won 4-1 over Port Hamburg in the A division final.

Greg McCormack and Mike Barkley each scored two goals for Sarnia. Ed Burkbard scored for Port Huron.

Steve Glaser scored twice for Leamington. Kurt Bowness, Tom Barrie, Gary Bradbury and Ted Klym scored the others. Gary Stochie scored for New Hamburg.

In semi-finals Saturday, Sarnia defeated Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., 3-1 while Port Huron won 4-1 over Grand Rapids Cyclone in the day dcivided Oakville 3-1 and St. Thomas 4.

Leamington defeated Fraser, Mich., 10-0 while New Hamburg defeated Hamilton 4-2 in the A division semi-finals. Earlier in the day, Listowel defeated Dearborn Heights, Mich., 6-1 and New Hamburg downed Apple-wood, Ont. 2-1.

Overweight Boys Should Avoid Sweets

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son is 13. He is 4 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 115 which makes him overweight.

I would like to put him on a diet but am afraid this would interfere with is growth. Is there a remedy like growth hormones or other medications?

When could he start dieting? Obviously puberty is now beginning.—MRS. J.E.M.

The lad is within normal limits in height for his age. But as you say, he is overweight.

Depending upon his present eating habits, a simple restriction of sugars, confections, desserts and fats may be all he needs. Starches (including sugar) and fats are high in calories and can pack on the pounds, but they are not necessary for normal growth.

If he avoids sweets, he will still get such starches as he needs from other foods. If he stops eating fried foods and gravies, he will cut down his fat intake but will certainly get enough fat for his needs from other sources. American-size the average eat something like twice as much fat as they need or should eat.

Likewise he can drink skim milk instead of whole milk. This again will reduce his fat intake but will not deprive him of calcium and the other constituents of milk which he needs for strong, sound growth.

Your doctor may elect to put him on more specific diet of 1,000 to 1,200 calories but in that case you should follow his directions as to what the diet should contain.

It is, however, quite possible for you to reduce his total calories substantially without harming him and without retarding his growth.

One important matter to consider is whether the boy is getting plenty of exercise, or does he tend to be a sitter? Exercise is a normal way to use up excess calories as well as contributing to his general health.

As to growth stimulater (growth Hormone)—I would abandon that thought. First, there is no indication that the boy needs it. Second, it is not generally available except for experimental purposes. While a good deal has been printed and said about it, its use is aimed essentially at cases of dwarfism. If growth is what we need to learn a great deal more about it before we advise it for anyone who decided he would rather be taller than he is.

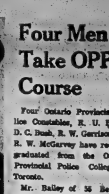
Ultimate height (and this lad has at least three or four years years to grow) is largely governed by heredity, and we ought to be very sure we know what we are doing before we interfere too casually with Nature's plans.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that eating too many pickles and olives can make your red blood corpuscles turn white. I eat at least one small jar of olives a week and five pickles.—C. M.

Forget it. There's nothing to the story.

* * *



Note to M.V.: Methods used by different laboratories in determining cholesterol levels result in some modest difference in setting a "normal" figure. Some use a reference level up to 220, others 200 milligrams per cent.

* * *

Note to Mrs. L.K.B.: Your friend is misinformed. I did not mention any operation that will restore hearing when the nerve is dead. Unless the auditory nerve retains some activity, I do not know of anything that will help.

Four Men Take OPP Course

Four Ontario Provincial Police Constables, R. U. Bailey, D. C. Bush, R. W. Garrison, and R. W. McGarvey have recently graduated from the Ontario Provincial Police College in Toronto.

Mr. Bailey of 35 Bertram Blvd. in Belleville was posted to the Bala detachment, No. 7 District. He is a graduate of Moira Secondary School.

Mr. Bush resides at 123 Rosseline, Bowmanville. He has been posted to the Madoc Detachment, No. 9 District, Mr. Bush graduated from Stirling Rawdon District High School with his Junior Matriculation.

Mr. Garrison who lives at 28 Hillcrest Avenue in Belleville, graduated from Moira Secondary School with his Junior Matriculation. He has been posted to the Westport Detachment No. 10 District.

Mr. McGarvey, another Moira Secondary School graduate has been posted to the Brockville Detachment, No. 16 District. He resides at 84 Murney Street in Belleville.

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto New Democrats have jumped for total immersion in municipal politics with a decision to field a full slate of candidates in the next civic elections in this metropolitan area.

Reporter Describes Scene Where Pilot Was Marooned

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—Pilot Robert Gauchie, found alive after 58 days on an Arctic lake, penciled a note in an advertising pamphlet to its author because "I don't know if I shall live to tell you in person."

The pamphlet was written by Al Oeming about the Alberta Game Farm, which he operates 14 miles east of Edmonton.

Mr. Gauchie wrote:

"To my good friend Al Oeming:

"I have your book here with me on the 47th day of Arctic survival. I don't know if I shall live to tell you in person so I am just making a note for you. The book has been wonderful reading and highly informative, and I have read it many times over, as the Lord knows I have had the time.

"From an old buddy, Bob Gauchie."

A reporter from the Edmonton Journal who went to Snowdrift Lake where the Gauchie plane was down 850 miles north of Edmonton reports:

"The Journal arrived at CF-10B, the Gauchie Beaver aircraft, at the mid-afternoon Sunday. The temperature was about 15 below zero, winds light. The ice is about 6 feet thick, mostly snow-smoothed lake on which the ski-wheel plane's undercarriage was drifted over.

"Around the area were wolf tracks. Within a mile, thousands of caribou tracks were seen in the distance. A few hundred yards away, a rock ledge on shore bore signs of bear growth. The aircraft seats set a few feet from the plane, askew in the snow.

"CF-10B was unscathed. The fuel was off one wheel. A search and rescue headquarters spokesman said crash position indicator device had been buried covered by snow near the plane. A bear box of frozen fish and several huge arctic char lay nearby.

"Inside the plane I found a rifle, maps, several dirty sleeping robes, an empty camera gadget bag, Eskimo soapstone cooking bowl bearing a smoke of engine oil and hydraulic fluid.

"Spotted around the cockpit were a fish net, cartridges, snare wire, tools, a mirror, a piece of chair, a makeshift stove, a brief case containing an Arctic survival manual, an opened box of bandaids. . . .

"The cardinal rule in far-north flight is to stay near the plane if downed. Next most important is to make a shelter, if possible, which will break the wind and contain whatever heat can be generated. Finally, food.

"Mr. Gauchie appears to have done his best to follow good survival practice.

"His greatest enemy appears to have been wasting out rescue. If anything. Two months—confined by Arctic weather to the cockpit of a metal plane—are a long, long time. Especially when, as Mr. Gauchie's were, one's feet are injured.

"As for the CF-10B, it will be reclaimed shortly by Bill Smith of Prince George, B.C., president of Northern Mountain Air-lines Ltd. Apparently a few minor repairs, gas, oil and warm-up should see the craft serviceable."

Pilot-engineer Glen Stevens of Glace Bay, N.S., was alone at the controls of a PCE Explorer-Nom Ltd. plane when he spotted the Gauchie plane Saturday just before sunset.

Pilot Ron Speardown, 30, was at the back of the Beaver aircraft talking to Mary Carmichael, a teacher who was catching a lift to her post at Coppermine, N.W.T., after Easter holidays.

"God, I see something on the lake," Mr. Stevens said. "Just for a split second there was a blink of light."

After a rough, ski landing on Samandre Lake they were met by Mr. Gauchie, who said "I'm sure glad to see you boys."

Mr. Stevens said Mr. Gauchie "was a little grubby looking, hair long, two months' growth of beard, his feet wrapped in rags over moccasins. (Gauchie) carried a huge suitcase as if he were walking out there to catch a bus.

"First thing Bob would let know was who the new-commissioner (of the Northwest Territories) was. I told him Stuart Hodgson."

Mr. Stevens said Mr. Gauchie had a diary with him.

"His wrist watch was only 10 minutes off correct time. He knew what date it was."

Onboard the rescue plane, Mr. Stevens added, the rescued pilot was silent on his experiences during two months on the barren lands. But Mr. Gauchie talked about the rescue plane.

"He wanted to know the technical aspects of our plane," Mr. Steven said.

"Mentally Bob was right on the bit"

Mr. Sheardown said it appeared the last pilot had circled, located a landing location and set down.

"The landing appears to have been good We understand Bob lost his vacuum, which means his instruments cooked out some time while he was airborne."

Mr. Sheardown said Mr. Gauchie reported having seen the PCE plane four times since Feb. 27 when the mining camp was set up, but apparently the sun angle was too low to reflect from the downed plane in the direction of the PCE aircraft.

Mr. Sheardown said the pilot had "made excellent decisions" during his lake-bound survival.

"I think Bob mainly tried to stay on his sleeping bags. He was in fine shape condition when we picked him up. We gave him an orange and some sticks of gum and chocolate bars. We thought he should be seen by a doctor first."

Gauchie, asked upon arrival at Yellowknife Airport why he looked so fit, pulled out his shirt to show the weight he had lost. His weight had dropped from a normal 180 to 135 pounds.

"Mostly I tried to keep warm," he added. "I talked to the wolves for the first 25 days and then they left me.

"Then I just tried to survive—just not to quit."

Two New Methods Help In Leukemia Treatment

PALM BEACH, Fla. (CP-AP) Significant results in the treatment of children's leukemia by researchers in Texas and Pennsylvania were reported during the weekend.

One method fights the almost invariably fatal disease—cancer of the blood—by a souped-up drugs treatment. The other is called by its researcher possessor in the April 3 edition of Newsweek magazine.

He said Dr. Hill is using substantially the same technique of attacking cancer cells selectively without doing harm to other body cells.

"We have done what the Newsweek article said would take a long time to do. We have successfully tested the new approach on a human being."

"Dr. Hill will not say this is a cure for cancer and neither would any other scientist; but the results of this treatment are so spectacular I do not know what could be classified as a cure if this is not one."

The Newsweek article on Dr. Old says the treatment is based on finding that some type of cancer cells are parasites and need amino acid to grow. Ex-made a complete recovery.

His father, Frank A. Hayes, said in an interview the boy will start back to school.

His illness was diagnosed as leukemia last September.

Wadley, in a speech, mentioned an article on experiments by Dr. J. J. Old of New York's Sloan Kettering Institute for Cancer Research appearing in the April 3 edition of Newsweek magazine.

He said Dr. Hill is using substantially the same technique of attacking cancer cells selectively without doing harm to other body cells.

"We have done what the Newsweek article said would take a long time to do. We have successfully tested the new approach on a human being."

"Dr. Hill will not say this is a cure for cancer and neither would any other scientist; but the results of this treatment are so spectacular I do not know what could be classified as a cure if this is not one."

The Newsweek article on Dr. Old says the treatment is based on finding that some type of cancer cells are parasites and need amino acid to grow. Experiments on dogs showed that injections of l-asparagine into an enzyme that destroys the amino acid, shrank the cancerous cells without harming healthy cells.

Dr. Djerassi, in a report to the American Cancer Society, said a drug called methotrexate has for about 15 years been used to fight leukemia, and has been effective temporarily. But the patient eventually develops "resistance" to the drug.

Under the new theory, the leukemic cells do not develop resistance to the drug — they merely become "more tolerant to it."

Thus, the new slant is based on the concept that "giving a larger dose should bring about a desired effect—much like a drug addict responding to a larger dose of morphine."

Beginner Dangerous Criminal

MONTREAL (CP)—The most dangerous criminal is not the hardened older man with a long police record but the youth under 18 nervously, commiting his first crime, says a Montreal police expert.

Guy Tardiff, assistant to Jean-Paul Gilbert, Montreal police director, described to delegates attending a criminology conference here Saturday his findings after a study of police reports on 482 murders, rapes, assaults and armed robberies committed in 1964.

He found that the male sex is responsible for 94 per cent of all violent crimes; that there is a close relationship between violent crime and sex, and that violence is often committed simply for its own sake.

Mr. Tardiff said that while the three other categories of crimes studied are usually reported at once to police, about one-third of rapes are not reported until at least a day later, "which makes us suspect the truth of one-third of rape reports."

The conference also was told that political offenders such as some Quebec terrorists who commit their crimes for ideological reasons should receive the same treatment as ordinary criminals.

McGill Professor Max Cohen, said Quebec is a "laboratory for political crime in Canada."

SESSION ENDS

REGINA (CP) — The fourth session of the 15th Saskatchewan legislature was prorogued Saturday.

Among the bills passed during the 41-day session was one providing compensation for victims of crimes of violence.

Anglicans Fight Union

TORONTO (CP)—A five-man council was established Saturday by Anglicans from five Ontario dioceses to oppose the proposed union of the Anglican Church of Canada and the United Church of Canada.

The committee was formed as a liaison group between Anglicans in the dioceses of Huron, Niagara, Ottawa, Algoma and Toronto and the Committee of 20, composed of 16 members from each denomination, now working on union proposals.

Rev. C. J. de Catanzaro of Peterborough was elected of the new council, said the group was formed to uphold Anglican principles endangered by union plans "in their present form."

Other members of the council are R. W. Dack, Kitchener; Vernon Orr, Peterborough; Rev. H. J. A. Reynolds, Toronto, and Prof. D. C. Masters, Guelph.

Mr. de Catanzaro said other councils would be established in Montreal and Winnipeg in the near future.

6th Tyendinaga

6TH TYENDINAGA — Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Goodman of Belleville spent Friday and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boldrick. Johnny and Wayne Boldrick are spending holidays with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boldrick.

Ronnie and Terry Mumley are spending a few days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne McKenzie.

Point Anne

POINT ANNE — The weekly euchre club met at the home of Mrs. Emma Soto. The winners were Mrs. Pearl Greenrose, Mrs. Dorothy Hart and Mrs. Ruth Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bradshaw and family of Altamont spent the Easter vacation with their families, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bradshaw of the Front Road.

Miss Penny Hart and Miss Patsy Hart spent Easter with their grandmother, Mrs. Hart of Rosin.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Gilmore and family have moved into a house on Front St.

Miss Pamela Akey and Miss Patricia Akey spent the holiday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Percy Akey of Consecon.

Perry Ellis of Peterborough was home for the holiday.

Mandy Macdonald has returned to his Point Anne home for a few days.

Hellyer Denies Split With PM on Forces

TORONTO (CP) — Defence Minister Hellyer denied Saturday suggestions that Prime Minister Pearson is having second thoughts on armed forces unification and is seeking a compromise solution.

"There's absolutely no difference in view between the prime minister and myself on the urgency of the permissive legislation we are seeking," he said in an interview.

News reports of a unification showdown were interpretations of a remark made by Mr. Pearson at a Calgary news conference, he said.

"Any similarity in those reports and the transcript of Mr. Pearson's press conference statement is purely coincidental."

Russian, U.S. Students Stage Vietnam Debate

TORONTO (CP) — The spectre of children dying under napalm bombs in Vietnam provided the emotional centre of an international student debate Sunday between two man teams from Russia and the United States.

The U.S. students, Mike Aronsenal, 21, and Patrick Hacker, 20, of the University of Wyoming, claimed that napalm bombs had killed only a few children and challenged the Russians to refute it.

In reply, Alexander Brychkov, 34, and Yevgeny Kuhlchev, 19, of the University of Moscow produced a square of tattered cardboard with large red splotches.

Brychkov, holding it high before the audience of some 300 at York University, claimed the splotches were made by blood from children killed with napalm.

Papers Have Gone to Bow-wows Ma Murray Tells Press Dinner

TORONTO (CP)—Never one to apologize for her selection of words, editor Margaret (Ma) Murray of Lillooet, B.C., said in her typically English accent one night that newspapers have gone to the dogs.

"They've gone to the bow-wows," she said. "They're too bloody busy ringing up their cash registers to bother about guiding the people."

Able at nearly 80—she hopes to celebrate that birthday in August—Mrs. Murray is the two-fisted and "damshur" publisher of the weekly Bridge River-Lillooet News in the caribboo lumbering and cattle town of Lillooet.

Here as guest speaker at the annual National Newspaper Awards dinner, she told how she "reached the third reader in school . . . and the dangling participles that hit you in the eye."

Then participles flew into journalese as she blasted out at the current newspaper crop, especially in Western Canada. "I don't get nothing to lose," she said.

She described two dailies published near her home as "illegitimates that go to bed together every night."

Turning to current political, she said she favors only two parties—"when you get splinters you get festers."

She said there was a minority government in Ottawa because the people can't make up their minds and the big newspapers aren't helping them make up their minds.

"But I can make up minds in little daisy communities," she said, referring to her own newspaper, considered by many to be the last of an outspoken era of rural weeklies.

Award winners at the dinner, sponsored by the Toronto Men's Press Club, were: Ralph Hancox, Peterborough Examiner, editorial writing; Robert Reguly and Robert McKenzie, Toronto Star, spot news reporting; Betty Lee, Toronto Globe and Mail, feature writing; David Oancia, Toronto Globe and Mail, staff corresponding; Norman James, Toronto Star, spot news photography; David Pearson, Vancouver Province, feature photography; Robert Chambers, Halifax Chronicle-Herald, cartooning; James Kearney, Vancouver Sun, sports writing.

Inter-American Press Assails Canadian Law

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (CP) — The Inter - American Press Association Saturday called on Brazil, Nicaragua and Canada to repeal laws it says restrict freedom of the press.

The board of directors of the association concluded a four-day meeting here by appealing to the three governments to remove from their statute books laws which, the board says, threaten free and unfettered publication.

The board approved an amendment requiring the IAPA "to continue to protest against laws in Canada and other countries which if declared to be "contrary to the traditions of a free press and which undermine hemispheric understanding of what is truly meant by freedom of the press."

The original resolution, as presented by the press freedom committee, cited Canada alone and urged a strong protest against Canadian legislation restricting advertising and tax exemptions to Canadian-owned publications.

The Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers Association has invited the IAPA to a meeting in Canada May 4 to discuss the legislation. The committee said it should select its "strongest possible delegation" to set forth its views.

The board requested Brazilian President da Costa Silva and the Brazilian Congress to repeal "all legislation in conflict with universally-held concepts of freedom of the press" after delegates criticized press and national security laws passed last month by former president Humberto Castello Branco.

It also asked for repeal of Nicaragua's new press law and other laws restraining freedom of the press.

The IAPA represents more than 700 newspapers and organizations in the Western Hemisphere.

In summary, this is the effect of Canadian legislation which came into force early last year: at the expense of placing advertisements in foreign publications, with no eye to adding goods on the Canadian market, is disallowed as a corporate income tax exemption. Also, the new law is designed to curb foreign take-overs of Canadian newspaper and magazine ownership. Canadian advertisers can claim their business expense deductions, the publications must remain 75 per cent or more Canadian-owned.

MPs Return to Commons Today To Face Three Major Issues

OTTAWA (CP)—MPs return to their Commons desks today for a final drive to end the current parliamentary session.

Three major subjects dominate their attention. But only the government's armed forces unification bill, is likely to engage them in much debate.

Prime Minister Pearson has indicated that early in the week, possibly after a cabinet meeting Tuesday, the name of the new Governor-General will be announced, succeeding the late Gen. Georges P. Vanier.

Current speculation on the appointee centres on Roland Michener, high commissioner to India and former Commons Speaker.

Almost as much interest has been evident about a cabinet shuffle.

It is generally expected that Justice Minister Cardin and Registrar - General Favreau will leave the cabinet. The former is said to be planning to return to private law practice and Mr. Favreau, recovering from a lengthy illness, to be headed for a Quebec board of posnment.

Works Minister McIlraith and Solicitor - General Pennell have been mentioned as possible successors to Mr. Cardin. Mr. McIlraith, government leader in the House, may also relinquish that job to Mr. Pennell.

Departure of two or more ministers would leave the way open for Mr. Pearson to give portfolios to former finance minister Walter Gordon and John Turner, both now serving as ministers without portfolio.

Mr. Pearson said when Mr Gordon returned to the cabinet in January that he would be given major cabinet responsibilities soon.

Mr. Gordon said last week he would not be surprised to be putting down a full ministerial job shortly.

Mr. Turner has been waiting in the wings for a portfolio since December, 1963. He has been mentioned as a successor to Mr. Favreau as registrar-general with wider responsibilities as a watchdog over consumer and corporate business.

In the last six or eight months there has been speculation about the list of ministers shifting to other portfolios or retiring from the cabinet.

Those mentioned as likely to leave their current portfolios are Transport Minister Pickersgill, Fisheries Minister Robichaud, Labor Minister Nicholson and Defence Production Minister Drury.

At a press conference last week, Mr. Pearson mentioned specifically three major items of business for the Commons, which will be holding its 32nd sitting of the current session.

One is the armed forces unification bill, a target for considerable opposition by the Progressive Conservatives in the Commons defence committee.

Length of the Commons debate on this bill probably will be the deciding factor, in when the session ends. Some Conservatives predict a month-long battle but others estimate the bill will get through by mid-April.

Eighteen more sitting days of the Commons would break the record of 248 days set in the 1964-65 session at which the new flag was adopted.

Another priority item is a report of a Commons rules committee, extending for another session, with some modification, the temporary rules under which the Commons has operated for several sessions.

The third item is a government request for interim spending now in Mr. May. Current spending authority extends only to April 30.

Once the present parliamentary session concludes, MPs may get only a weekend break before starting a new session.

It is uncertain whether the government will leave over to the new session its proposal that the music for O Canada be designated as the music of the national anthem, as recommended by a joint Commons Senate committee.

MRA Role Is Principal Issue In Mackinac Island Election

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) — Residents of this tiny resort island at the head of lake Huron vote today in an election centring on a long-smouldering feud between Islanders and Moral Re-Armament.

The mayoral race pits Frank (Chester) O'Brien, running as a self-proclaimed and - MRA candidate, against incumbent Mayor Ray Smith.

O'Brien, a 73-year-old retired railway employee, says: "I'm running against MRA, that's what. They're taking over the island."

MRA, worldwide anti - Communist organization which stresses moral rebirth, especially among youth, was founded in 1921 by the late Frank Buchman, a Lutheran minister.

The organization first purchased property on the island in the 1940s, but turned its 21-acre holdings, valued at $2,500,000, over to Mackinac College, a institution founded by MRA backers last year.

MRA's ideology advocates adherence to and practice of four principles: "Absolute honesty, absolute purity, absolute unselfishness and absolute love."

"I can't say I'm for 'em, but I'm certainly not against 'em," says Smith, 76, a veteran of 20 years in island government and holder room attendant at MRA headquarters.

O'Brien charges that the college is buying up property on the island and taking it off the tax rolls.

Coal Mine 'Blowout' In BC Kills Fifteen

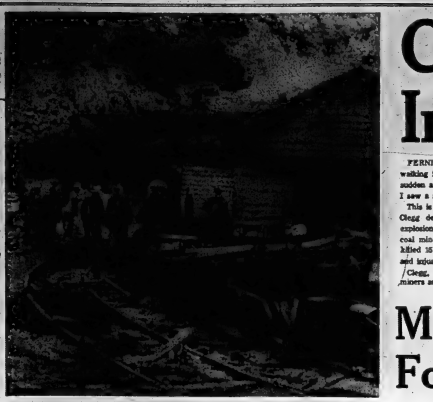
FERNIE, B.C. (CP)—"I was walking into the mine. All of a sudden a door came at me and I saw a flash."

This is the way miner Robert Clegg described a tremendous explosion that Monday turned a coal mine into a death pit, and killed 15 of his fellow workers and injured several others.

Clegg, 30, was one of 30 miners and four shift-bosses who at 4 p.m. entered the long tunnel that reached into the side of a mountain at Natal, 25 miles east of here.

Moments after the men entered the mine, there was a "blowout" that belched a tunnel of blackness from the tunnel's mouth and heaved debris 200 yards along the mountainside, said Mrs. Paul Chala, who lives 300 yards away.

A huge cloud of black dust hung 200-feet over the tiny mining community of 800 for 20 minutes.



When the first survivors staggered from the mine entrance, Larry Revai, manager of the Natal branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, said:

"I wouldn't have known them if they were my own relatives because of the way they were covered with mud and coal dust."

Dr. Sperling East, one of three doctors who worked on six survivors taken to Fernie hospital, said: "They were covered from head to foot in mud and coaldust, just black. And their hair was matted together, two inches thick."

Dr. East said all survivors he treated lost consciousness at one time or another. All had minor fractures and were covered with cuts and bruises.

"They must have been thrown 100 feet," he said.

Missing Pair Found Dead

NATAL, B.C. (CP) — Rescue crews recovered the bodies of two mechanics early today, bringing to 13 the number of men killed in an underground coal mine explosion Monday. Nine other men were seriously injured.

The bodies of Deinl Quarrie and Guy Benni, both of Natal, were found deep inside the mine about 5:30 a.m. PST, more than 13 hours after the huge explosion occurred.

Five rescue crews worked throughout the night, clawing their way through debris and deadly gas to reach the men. However, both were believed to have been killed outright in the explosion.

They were working overtime repairing machinery when the afternoon shift of 30 miners reported for work at 4 p.m. PST.

The bodies of 13 others were recovered within a few hundred feet of the mine entrance, scattered over an area of about 200 yards inside the 1½ - mile tunnel, which cuts straight into a mountain.

Coal dust and gas filled the shaft before the rescue crews were able to penetrate far into the mine, named Balmer North by officials of Crows Nest Industries Ltd.

The men were working into the tunnel of death when the explosion occurred.

"All of a sudden a door came at me and I saw a flash," said miner Robert Clegg, one of the survivors.

William Bairmore, another employee, said he had just gone off shift a half hour before the explosion. He said most of the men would have been about 200 yards into the tunnel when the first explosion occurred. It was followed by five or six more blasts within two minutes.

A witness said one victim was blown out of his boots, which were found some distance from his body.

Another eyewitness said battered hard-hats, lunch buckets and pieces of clothing were strewn over the mountainside.

Five men, delayed in reporting for work, were in a shack at one of the two entrances to the mine, and were saved.

When they heard the explosion, they threw themselves to the ground. The shack they were in was the only building near the mine left standing.

Mrs. Janet Grocutt, who lives three houses from the mine entrance, said dust and smoke "poured out of the tunnel, then flames shot across the valley." The blast shattered a building that contained fans and other ventilating equipment at the mine entrance.

Cause of the explosion was not known. Maintenance man Peter Zeith said an underground explosion occurred and an electric cable probably broke, producing sparks which set off the explosion.

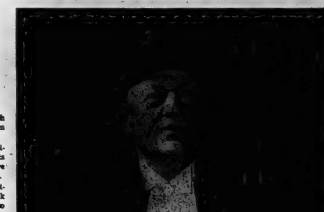
Zeith, who has worked in the area for 37 years, added:

"Those poor guys, they probably never knew what hit them."

Mrs. Herb Parsons Sr., whose two sons survived the disaster, said both "Herb Jr. and Art didn't know what had happened when I spoke to them at hospital."

Lewis Jance, a night - shift mechanic, said the blast threw to the scene people were taking to dead and injured out on stretchers.

W. L. Revell, Canadian Imperial Bank manager, said about the six survivors: "I wouldn't have known them if they were your own relatives." He said the disaster scene was one of "utter disbelief."



"People were galvanized right to the spot where they stood."

The first two survivors to emerge were unrecognizable because they were covered with black coal dust and moisture.

It took several hours to identify and recover the dead. Wives and children from the five nearby communities where the miners live stood around in vigil at the mine head for hour after the blast.

Miner William Gilmour said his shift finished at 3:30 p.m. and the mine was empty except for the two men working overtime. He said the explosion took out of the ordinary when he left the mine.

Everything had been in good working order, there had been sufficient air, even more dust than usual and no signs of gas, he said.

Roland Michener in Speaker's Robes

Michener to Be Governor-General

LONDON (CP) — The Queen will announce the appointment of Roland Michener as Canada's Governor - General later today, it was learned authoritatively.

The announcement will be made simultaneously by Buckingham Palace and by Prime Minister Pearson at Ottawa.

Michener, 66, currently is Canadian high commissioner to India, likely will stop off in London on his way back to Ottawa and receive his letters patent from the Queen personally.

As a Progressive Conservative, he captured the Toronto - St. Paul's seat in the House of Commons in 1935 and was elected Speaker in 1957. He was appointed high commissioner to India by the Liberal administration in 1964.

Since the death of Governor - General Georges Vanier in Ottawa March 5 speculation on the choice of his successor has narrowed until virtually only Mr. Michener's name remains.

Reports from New Delhi last week that Mr. Michener had instructed Indian government officials that he might be leaving there shortly, strengthened speculation that he is to be picked.

Initially the name of Mme. Vanier was among those most commonly mentioned to fill the Government House position.

However, last week it was learned Mme. Vanier has acquired a house in Montreal and is well along in preparations to settle there.

(For biography of Michener see Page 16.)

McNamara Hints Hawks' Demands to Be Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence Secretary Robert McNamara has indicated the Johnson administration will ignore congressional pressure for bombing of major airfields in North Vietnam—at least for the present.

McNamara, however, in his comments to a press conference Monday, left the door open for future U.S. air attacks on airfields used by Soviet-built MiG fighter-interceptors.

Assaults on these fields and certain North Vietnamese industries have been urged by Senator Stuart Symington (Dem. Mo.), the Senate preparedness subcommittee and others.

McNamara said the administration seeks to achieve limited political objectives with the fewest losses of American lives, while avoiding widening the war. As for the Communist airfields in the north, he said:

"We think that at least under present circumstances—and this belief can change as time goes by . . . the loss in U.S. lives will be less if we pursue the present target policy than they would be if we were to attack those airfields."

While McNamara was discussing U.S. policy on bombing, the preparedness subcommittee reported lower rates of desertion by South Vietnamese forces, despite heavy casualties in the last year.

The defence department conceded South Vietnamese desertions were "slightly over 11%, 000" last year, but said the desertion rate declined in the last half of 1966 and "the marked downward trend is continuing."

The preparedness subcommittee reported Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam at 282,400 as of last October—an increase to 250 battalions from 82 battalions in little more than a year despite "tremendous casualties. . . ."

But the subcommittee also found evidence of lagging Communist morale "in the inadequate race, lack of medicine, malaria and air strikes."

The state department expressed concern Monday that some 178 Americans believed held prisoner in North Vietnam are undergoing "mental and physical pressures" from their captors.

Robert J. McCloskey, state department spokesman, said there is evidence captive American are being harassed "to obtain confessions or statements critical of U.S. policy in Vietnam." His comments were generated by photographs in the current issue of Life magazine showing a navy pilot bowing to an unseen North Vietnamese authority.

Commenting on McNamara's statements, spokesmen said the administration fears that knocking out North Vietnamese airstrips might lead China to allow basing of Hanoi's MiG planes on its territory. This would present the United States with a sensitive problem of whether to pursue if MiG fighters based in China attacked U.S. planes raiding military targets in North Vietnam.

U.S. Air Raids Are Stepped Up

SAIGON (CP) — U.S. planes hammered North Vietnam Monday with the heaviest raids in five months as a spokesman disclosed the loss of the 300th American plane over the North in two years and two months of bombing.

Air force, navy and marine aircraft flying under the best weather conditions in weeks blasted storage areas, bridges, trucks and cargo barges in 147 missions. It was the heaviest attack since Nov. 4, when 155 missions were flown.

The 300th plane lost over the North was downed Sunday and the pilot was listed as missing. So far, up to 260 American flyers have been killed, captured or are missing over North Vietnam.

Official figures placed the confirmed number of airmen in Communist captivity between 120 and 140. The number missing is between 200 and 250. Many of these must be presumed dead.

The cost of training and equipping 200 flyers runs to more than $300,000,000.

Added to this cost, the U.S. air offensive has expended an average of 50,000 tons of bombs, rockets and missiles each month. This is close to the rate of airborne ammunition expended in the Second World War but three times the rate of the Korean War. One Pentagon estimate places the cost of munitions at $2,000 a minute, around the clock.

Ottawa Hears Cardin, Favreau Have Resigned

OTTAWA (CP) — Reports circulated here today that Justice Minister Lucien Cardin and Registrar - General Guy Favreau have tendered their resignations from the federal cabinet.

Mr. Cardin, 48, has been expected for some months to retire from federal politics. Mr. Favreau, 50 next month, is said to be headed for an appointment on the Quebec bench.

Official quarters declined comment.

Long List Of Disasters

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The death of 11 coal miners at Natal, B.C., is the latest in a long list of underground disasters that have hit the mining industry in both Eastern and Western Canada.

The worst ever recorded was at Hillcrest, Alta., in the same Crowsnest Pass area where Monday's explosion occurred. The Hillcrest disaster claimed 163 lives in 1914.

The Natal disaster was the 15th in British Columbia. Previous mine accidents claimed a total of 683 lives from 1887 to 1935.

World No Longer Split Into Two Blocs--PM

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said Monday it has become unrealistic to think of the world in rigid terms of Communist and anti-Communist blocs.

In a convocation address at the University of California, he said some Communist countries incre-asingly interpret Marxist theory in terms of their own national interests. This led to increasing contact and co-operation with the West.

If the permanent cold-war concept faded out, "the way would be opened to a real detente in the relations between the two sides in that cold war."

Pearson said that if this happens, the world might emerge at last from the post-war era of fear and hostility.

"Whether such exciting possibilities can be realized will largely depend, on the free-world side, on the policies and leadership of the United States."

Communism no longer was a solid and united force bent on world domination even at the risk of world conflict.

Communist countries still committed "indeed as a profession" in several parts of the world by giving external assistance to one side or another in a civil war.

"I feel strongly, however, that the problem should no longer be approached on the assumption that if a state goes Communist by domestic action, that state now automatically becomes a satellite of Moscow or Peking and thereby a threat to peace."

The Canadian leader praised the U.S. for exercising great power on the world scene with unprecedented restraint. Frankness was the best testimony of friendship between the two countries.

Pearson flew to Santa Barbara from Vancouver to accept an honorary degree from the state university. The text of his address was issued to the press.

In Belleville for Week

First Look at Caravan Goes to Dignitaries

JOHN ROBARTS

The Centennial Caravan — Canada's travelling exposition of its history and culture — will be first viewed by dignitaries when it visits Belleville starting July 5.

Current plans call for the caravan to set up for a week here, coinciding with the climax of city Centennial celebrations and the opening of Zwick's Island park project.

Premier Robarts is expected to officiate at the opening. The exhibition is expected to set up on the park site after an early-afternoon arrival from Picton.

However, Alderman Arthur Keegan, chairman of city ceremonial committee supervising caravan arrangements, said it will not be open to the public until the premier and the official party have first inspected the exhibition after opening ceremonies about 8 p.m.

"We want the caravan spotlessly clean for him and the dignitaries," said Ald. Keegan.

About 5,000 people are expected to visit the travelling exhibit of Canadiana the first day and, said the chairman, it would mean a big cleanup job if the public were admitted before the official visitors.

"However, it is not yet definite Premier Robarts will be able to attend.

Unforeseen circumstances — such as a provincial election — may intervene and the premier may have to designate a representative, said Ald. Keegan.

Officials are hoping the eight-trailer caravan will attract more than 100,000 Quinte district dwellers during stopovers in the area, which also include Trenton.

Party Politics Discussed By Member From Cariboo

"There is too much party and partisan politics in parliament," B. R. Lebco said last night. "We need to get on with the job."

Mr. Lebco Social Credit member for Cariboo was speaking to the Quinte New Democratic Youth at the Elwards Hall.

"There is much confusion in party politics today." He compared it to the confusion between the terms left wing and right wing. "We need accurate definition," he said.

Mr. Lebco remarked about the ridicule in parliament. "We need more straight answers. Ridicule is the weapon of the ignorant."

However, he did not seem optimistic about the cessation of parliamentary party bickering. "It is human nature to fight amongst ourselves instead of working together."

Mr. Lebco discussed Social Credit financial policy. "Instead of being concerned about how much money a person has we should be interested in what he is doing with that money."

Social Credit is for social services, but these social services should be increased as industrial production is increased."

"Money should be created for the purpose of effective distribution of goods and services to the people. People have an inherittence in what is taking place. Products are products of society, not the owner."

"We should stop investing money in money and invest in production. We have to buy back what is produced."

Mr. Lebco stated that the Social Credit would ensure enough purchasing power to buy goods for distribution. The Social Credit advocates a "continuity of income based on production."

Year Sentence For Break-ins

Leonard Wayne Bulpit, 21, of 27 Pearl St., was sentenced to 12 months definite and three months indeterminate in reformatory by Magistrate T. Y. Wills today.

Bulpit had broken into four schools in Belleville. The magistrate said he wanted the sentence to have a deterrent effect as well as giving Bulpit a chance to learn a trade to give him some standing in obtaining employment.

Then, Mr. Lebco discussed young people today. "Although young people are going to have headaches later on, they will be equipped to handle them."

"Young people," he said, "should reach out for reality and stop groping at noises, shadows and phantoms. They should get a grip on a real life and be responsible."

Mr. Lebco's speech was followed by a question period and he was asked about Canada's role in foreign affairs.

"We should assume the role of mediator. We should be more diplomatic as opposed to defensive." He still considered defence important, however.

Asked if he expected many political gains in the Social Credit and NDP he replied that he did not. "The NDP and the Social Credit are valuable, though, as opposition."

Magistrate Declines To Okay Argument

Dr. G. A. Morton, president, Cablevue (Belleville) Limited, today announced the appointment of Mr. A. R. 'Tooki' Holway as company sales representative. Mr. Holway assumes his new duties immediately.

Magistrate T. Y. Wills yesterday rejected a lawyer's claim that a police officer had induced a 17-year-old girl to sign statements which involved her in a garage burglary.

The allegation was made as the girl and three youths were before Magistrate T. Y. Wills charged in the theft of cigarettes from Paterson's Garage at Canifton.

Lorraine King, 17, of 360 MacDonald Avenue and Raymond Rombeaut, 20, 278 Cedar Street, were given a two-year suspended sentence. John Wagar, Canadian Forces Base, Clinton, was committed for trial by judge and jury. The magistrate reserved sentence to today on John Rombough, 19, of Foxboro.

A fourth youth, Gerald Wayne Lucas, 18, of West Street, already on a two-year suspended sentence for his offence, said the group was stopped by Belleville police as they drove through the city after the break-in.

A search revealed cigarettes in the car.

Defence lawyer R. J. Ord alleged a detective questioning the girl promised to "make it easy for her in court" if she would sign statements on the offence.

The officer said he only phoned the girl's parents about bail — a customary procedure with younger people.

The magistrate rejected Mr. Ord's claim.

Vimy Veteran Pictured in Magazine

Frederick Joy, a former Belleville resident and survivor of the assault on Vimy Ridge in the first World War, is one of the men pictured in a trench in the April 1 issue of Weekend Magazine.

A salesman here for 14 years, up to 1962, Mr. Joy now lives in Whitby.

A son Norman, Joy, lives at 45 Gilbert Street. Mr. Joy Jr. says his father was about 19 at the time he was taken during the assault at Vimy by the Canadian Corps. He served for some three years during the first war.

Rotary Club Celebrates Birthday

Memories of other days were recalled by Belleville Rotarians yesterday as the club celebrated its 47th birthday.

Founded in April 1920, the club went from strength to strength. Today it has a membership of just under 100 and currently is involved in community projects such as the Science Fair and Hobby Show and the Easter Seals campaign on behalf of crippled children.

Yesterday the club had expected to have a number of veteran members present as guests-of-honor, but for reasons of health this was not possible.

The club also held its annual elections. Vice-president Jim Marker, chief executive and owner of Belleville Airport, was elected president. Ken Wormald becomes vice-president.

Adam Stalker and Al Cameron remain secretary and treasurer respectively and both join the ranks of Directors with other directors besides the president are Ross Booth, Bill Holway, Bob Lannigg and Linton Read.

Past president Mac Haig addressed members on Rotary's early days in Belleville. The club was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Toronto and received its charter in April 1920.

Lamenting the fact there was no continuous chronicle of the club's history, Mr. Haig said that as accurate information had been kept from the club's inception until the late Jimmie Boon became secretary in 1932.

Mr. Boon had his weekly newsletters bound. Described by Mr. Haig as "real gems of humor, information and anecdote they cover his years as secretary from 1932 to 1934, and due to Mrs. Boon's generosity are in the possession of the club.

Mr. Haig said a committee on history and records, chaired by Bill Morrison, presented a report in 1959. It also had had difficulty gathering historical information and recommended that the weekly "Rotopics" be bound annually and preserved for future reference. The speaker urged that this be undertaken without delay.

"The spiritual birth of the club," he said, "arose from frequent visits to Belleville by one Norman Jowell. He was a broker in Toronto and his visits were because of his responsibility for the success of various Victory Loans of the time which brought him in touch with citizens, who became charter members.

Mr. Jowell was the main speaker on Charter Night. The district Governor, Hart Seeley, of Waverley, New York, was represented by Frank Stanton of Toronto.

Mr. Haig said the names of the charter members were interesting and read like a Who's Who of the Belleville of the day.

They reveal many connections with present local personalities both within and outside the club."

Mr. Haig's recollections of the personalities and events of those days will be presented more fully later this week.

Percy Maguire and Newt Thompson also addressed the anniversary meeting. And Jack Deacon reborn Mr. Haig recalled 'presenting a musical program back in 1835, along with Mrs. Deacon entertained members with solo presentations.

Rotary president Dr. J. F. McCorquodale presided.

IN MEMORIAM

SMITH — In loving memory of William Smith who died and passed away April 4, 1962.

Sadly we left you that day,
When we are alone,
Memories bring you only friend,
That great call can not be denied,
Like try on the withered oak,
When other things decay.
Our love for him will still be true.

Sadly missed and always remembered by son and daughter-in-law, Olive and Isaac Smith.

GULF STILL ICED UP

SYDNEY (CP)—The Gulf of St. Lawrence is not expected to be clear of ice before the end of May, the ice operations chief here for the federal transport department said Monday night. "The ice is still very heavy and it may not be held up," said Capt. E. L. Keiso in a telephone interview. The gulf ice is free of ice April 15 last year.

Staff Sergeant H.S. Gall Has Retired

Veteran of more than 36 years service with the Ontario Provincial Police, Staff Sgt. H. S. Gall has retired.

Head of the Belleville O.P.P. Detachment office for the past 10 years, Staff Sgt. Gall, came to this city from No. 5 district in Toronto. During his tenure with the force he served in many parts of the province, including Northern Ontario.

Staff Sgt. Gall was a conscientious police officer and served the force faithfully," said Deputy Commissioner J. McDougall at Belleville headquarters.

Superintendent McDougall said no replacement for Staff Sgt. Gall as detachment head has been named.

Council Requests Health Board To Clean Up Skunk Problem

TRENTON — Town council last night gave official notice of a request to Health Board chairman H. S. Fane for a report in the weeks of an irate Cedar St. woman's complaints of town inaction in the current "skunk" predicament.

Mrs. Eric Richter, of 14 Cedar St., reminded councillors last night that the problem was not a new one. She produced newspaper clippings from 1962 in which she claimed were councill's "promises" to do something about the problem.

"That was five years ago, and I am back again," she said.

At least two families in the Cedar St. area had to vacate their homes and have them fumigated recently after skunks moved their nests beneath the dwellings. A spate of proposals for removing the unlawful and odorous guests has been put forward by well-meaning neighbors but to no avail.

It has been reported the skunks skilfully elude traps laid for them, and have even been seen eating mothballs tossed into their lairs — supposedly a surefire method of exterminating the pests.

A health board meeting last week failed to yield any proposed solution to the affair, but following Mrs. Richter's petition to the town last evening, council passed a motion asking Mr. Fane to bring in a full report respecting complaints of Cedar St. area residents concerning "rodents, weeds, buildings, and other nuisances by April 10."

The brunt of Mrs. Richter's criticism was directed toward "what she called "breeding places" for vermin and rodents dwellings in her neighborhood.

Health Board Chairman Mr. Fane said last week he had inspected one home in the vicinity and found "two feet of garbage" on the floor of a shed adjacent to the house. He said it was this type of accumulation that was most likely responsible for attracting undesirable scavengers to the area.

Councillor D. R. Fraser suggested a possible course of action against the causes of the problems (which Mrs. Richter cited as "garbage, weeds and those shacks") might be reconsideration by council of the minimum standards bylaw for housing, which was not well received by council when presented before Christmas.

Indication was given that council's Public Works Committee would give further study to the proposed legislation in a revised form.

This gentlemen, I would really like to see kicked around," said Mrs. Richter. "It sounds like a laughing matter, but it isn't. I think if it happened to you, it would be a different story."

Mrs. Richter claimed to have been contacted by numerous Trenton residents with the same problem. She had even heard of one man in town who has caught 23 skunks, she said.

Remarked Councillor Paul Tripp, "There must be some authorities who have information on the subject. There must be some solution. Other cities and towns don't seem to be bothered with this problem."

Meanwhile, mothers in the Cedar St. neighborhood continue to send their children out to play with the usual "Watch out for cars" and an additional "... or the skunks, too."

Trenton Council Briefs

TRENTON — By-law no. 67-1215 was passed (7 last evening's council session, empowering the public utilities commission to install additional lighting on Bay St. east of Flindall St. and north of Elmwood Drive.

Approval was also recently given for the installation of additional street lights on Byron St.

TENDER ACCEPTED

A public works committee recommendation that the town purchase the Catharine St. gravel pit was tabled by council last night pending receipt of a public health report.

Council approved a public works recommendation that a quotation of $2,944 by Cedar Dale Tree Surgeons for the 1963 tree program be accepted. The tender was the lowest of three submitted.

ROAD WORK ORDERED

Road construction was a popular item on Monday evening's council agenda.

By-laws were passed authorizing purchase of property to allow widening of sections of Front and Fox streets, and council passed a recommendation of the public works committee calling for tenders to be done on Quinte St., from Fraser Park Dr. to Division St.

PASS BYLAW

—Council has passed a by-law to authorize contracts with G. McDonald, D. Scott, and H. Bassett for road and hydro materials to be supplied for 1967 public works projects.

UNIFORMS ORDERED

A tender of $1,389, plus five per cent provincial sales tax submitted by Couch-Nesbitt of Trenton was accepted by town council last night to provide winter uniforms for local firemen.

The only other tender was one from Vic Augery of Trenton for $1,587.39, including the sales tax.

Council accepted the recommendation of the protection to persons and property committee that the lowest bidder provide the fire department with a number of jackets, tunics, trousers, and shirts.

Trenton to Probe Ambulance Subsidy

TRENTON — A request by the town's only ambulance service operator to have his annual subsidy raised from $3,000 to $5,000 was formally presented to Trenton councillors last night. The submission, from R. Douglas Rushnell, had been referred to council for consideration at the last meeting of the town Health Board.

Councillors Paul Tripp and Edward Todd immediately called for a comprehensive report into the entire ambulance picture, and the matter was referred to council's Public Safety and Welfare Committee. Councillor Kinney promptly scheduled a meeting to discuss the question this Wednesday.

Mr. Rushnell requested the increased subsidy (which would be shared by the town and provincial governments) to meet costs of purchasing new equipment in order to comply with stringent regulations which came into effect Saturday governing ambulance operation in Ontario.

In his submission to council, Mr. Rushnell said he would operate at an estimated loss of $12,000 during 1967 unless he was given an increased grant.

Councillor Edward Todd commented on the "misconception" that the provincial government was at present sharing the $3,-000 paid Mr. Rushnell for maintaining a Trenton ambulance service.

"We haven't got any grant from the government yet"... we've been paying the full $3,-600."

NO DAMAGE

No damage was reported when firemen were called out shortly after 11 a.m. Monday to the home of Emett O'Malley at 182 Queen Street, where a chimney fire was in progress.

Select Site For Proposed Fire Hall

TRENTON — Two major steps were taken by town council Monday evening towards making the proposed new fire hall a reality.

It was moved and passed that the site of the structure would be on the east side of Front St., immediately south of the new D. J. MacDonald Bridge over the Trent River.

Council was informed that several officials of the department of transport had concurred with the town's traffic committee that the site was about the most central and accessible possible.

And the recommendation of the protection to persons and property committee under chairman Edward Todd was accepted that the Trenton consulting engineering firm of Lazsng and Associates be authorized to create plans and specifications for the proposed new hall.

Councillor Todd told council the building would be constructed with a tower, on the advice of the fire chief and the architects. This method of allowing the hose sections to dry naturally, rather than being heated, had been said to add substantially to the life of the equipment.

It was also noted that special traffic light devices could be installed in the new station so that all traffic in the vicinity could be halted if necessary to clear the way for trucks responding to an alarm.

The proposed site of the project was purchased previously by the town for $40,000.

The existing fire hall and its market square location are expected to be transformed into a modern downtown parking area.

Salvationists Conduct Quiet, Crucial Crusade to Reduce Human Casualties by Suicide

Cy Fisher is a lifesaver by a vocation whose most vital duties are performed in the common office telephone.

Backed up, of course, by a quick intelligence, basic sympathy, for humankind in trouble, the resources of the entire Salvation Army and the vast reservoir of goodwill fed by community agencies and individuals.

It's all necessary, for his job is one of the grimmer signs of our times, as he explained it in Belleville yesterday.

Brigadier Cyril Fisher heads the Army's Suicide Prevention Bureau, the organization's quiet and crucial crusade to reduce human casualties in the everyday battle with modern living stresses.

The growth of society's suicide rate is one of the uglier results of the fight.

The bureau is on round-the-clock call to counsel those pondering the ultimate self-inflicted solution to their troubles. A man who can get a sympathetic ear, a sensitive response and any follow-up advice it may be deemed necessary.

And, Brigadier Fisher hastens to add, results are showing success.

"It's a tremendous problem — bigger than it's a great opportunity to help people and get them established again in the basics of life," said the Brigadier. Brigadier Fisher, who counts a year in Belleville in 1953 among his Army postings, has been heading the bureau since last summer, after his return from working with Canadian forces in Europe.

The need for the bureau, established in 1961, now with 30 main centres across Toronto, is starkly emphasized by statistics.

Last year, in Metropolitan Toronto alone there were 189 deaths linked to suicide.

The Toronto bureau alone received 1,873 calls for help from victims of emotional distress, threatening or intimating suicidal intent of varying degrees.

"Of the 189 victims last year there were only one name of a person that had phoned us first," says Brigadier Fisher. "We feel this is an indication of a good record. If only we'd made contact with the others things might have been different."

Sometimes the distress calls are anonymous. Sometimes they reveal an identity along with the problems.

The problems, like the individuals in such a big urban sprawl, are multitude.

"In March alone this year we had 183 calls revealing the troubles of loneliness, financial and marital problems; sexual problems — those of lesbians and homosexuals.

"These are all people living under a cloud as we're stepping in and trying to help and I believe we're fairly successful."

Much of the strained mental pattern of individual living comes from the change in society, the Brigadier says. Opportunism and permissiveness has replaced traditional social values with "free living and free loving.

"It doesn't really pay. But, people are floating."

Many suffering the extreme effects "wind up in a telephone booth making contact with the bureau.

"They say lots of times people do this only to gain attention. I don't believe so," states the Brigadier. "I think they have a problem and they don't know just what to do."

Once contact has been made the Army goes to work and attempts to channel the case toward the most obvious solution.

"We're a great deal of referral work. We try to link it up with their ministers or social institutions."

Co-operation is gladly given by other agencies — even the law.

"The police are very glad for us to get into the picture first since after all, attempted suicide is a criminal offence."

Action by the Army can relieve a reluctant, and sympathetic police from being forced to follow the letter of the law.

But meeting the social threat should be shared by every human being, the Brigadier insists.

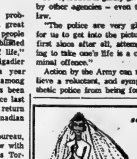
"There's a basic community responsibility for everyone to be a neighbor. Everywhere I travel in Canada I see places called "The Friendly City.' But just how friendly is everyone to each other."

One of the things that seems to have degenerated in modern community living, reflects Brigadier Fisher, is a quality commonly summed up as "trust."

People increasingly behave like strangers to each other. All of which compounds the disturbing human situations.

However, Brigadier Fisher is hopeful that his bureau — and other organizations sensitive to the needs of the area — may do much to offset the inhappy dividends of "free living."

"It would be a gloomy social picture if we couldn't step in and help those people," he said.



The Brigadier later addressed a similarly - minded Belleville organization at Holloway Street United Church.

Now in the process of expansion to "12-line" — a group, which in the next five months or so, hopes to have an instant — counselling service available for those baffled by sudden emotional conflicts.

Bargaining Agents Start Talks

TRENTON — A conciliation officer from the provincial department of labor is in Trenton today to mediate contract talks between the management of Pyrotenax of Canada's West St. plant and bargaining representatives of Local 537, International Union of Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers.

Some 80 members of Local 537 went on strike at midnight Saturday, after four months of negotiations to renew an agreement that expired Feb. 2 failed to yield a settlement.

Local 537 president Cyril Whalen said yesterday afternoon he would be one of three Trenton U.E. bargaining delegates to take part in today's discussions, which began at 10 o'clock in the Gilbert Centre.

Also present was William Miller of Brockville, the union area representative.

Under the watchful eye of Toronto conciliator J. W. McGuire, union and company representatives are expected to deal with the actual wording of union pacts, which Mr. White claims is the principle issue involved in the present strike.

He said yesterday that, although Pyrotenax has been contributing to hospitalization and pension plans, there has yet to be any actual stipulation laid down in previous contracts as to the amount of the contributions. Mr. White added Local 537 is bargaining for certain provisions for the creation of extra job classifications at the Trenton plant, only Canadian subsidiary of a parent English firm.

The Union wage objective is a 30-cent across - the - board hourly increase in one year. Company counter - proposals have offered a two-year contract allowing for an 18-cent boost for male and 15-cents for female employees. Female workers comprise about one-third of the membership of Local 537.

Present basic wage rates are $1.96 and $1.22 for male and female employees respectively.

Meanwhile, picket activity continues at the two Pyrotenax plant entrances, with three-hour shifts of 10 strikers each during daylight hours, and five-picket shifts taking over at night.

A company spokesman said Monday the work stoppage is the first serious labor-management confrontation in the Trenton plant's 16-year history.

Town Joins Health Unit For County

TRENTON — Council last night officially authorized the participation of Trenton in the Hastings County Health Unit, formation of which comes into effect July 1, subject to the approval of the minister of health.

Councils of the other municipalities involved — Hastings and Prince Edward Counties and the city of Belleville — had previously given their approval of the organization of the body.

The 15-member board governing the unit will consist of two appointees of the Lieutenant governor, three Hastings county representatives, two members each from Prince Edward county and Belleville, and one representative of Trenton's interests.

Although Trenton will pay only about 11 per cent of the unit's operating cost, which is based on a per capita basis, the town will receive a 50 per cent provincial subsidy for any cost incurred in the program.

One of the main proponents that the town join the public health service has been Dr. E. W. Dow, who recently tendered his resignation as Trenton's Medical Officer of Health after serving in that capacity for 13 years.

For an estimated total expenditure of $15,000 annually, Trenton would be provided with three public health inspector. One public health inspector. One medical officer of health would service the entire unit, operating out of a Belleville office.

Rides Bicycle Into Car's Path

TRENTON — Seven - year - old Christopher Andrews of 364 Front Street, escaped with a minor head abrasion yesterday around noon when he and his bicycle into the path of a taxicab as he turned to enter his driveway. He was treated at Trenton hospital and released.

Problems for Scientists

The purification of oil-polluted waters is a problem that has been in the forefront of the news lately.

But there are other aspects of marine and mineral life in which similar obstacles are being faced.

One example is the black sand that may be seen on the beaches of New Zealand and Tahiti. This results from iron deposits in the coastal belts of the two countries and other islands of the South Pacific.

For some years British experts have been experimenting with means of extracting the iron from the sand for commercial use, although with what results little has been said.

In Britain itself, the House of Lords recently discussed desalination of sea water. Lord Balfour of Inchrye asked what progress had been made with consideration of a scheme to combine a ten-million-gallons-a-day development plant for desalination of sea water with the Atomic Energy Authority's Dungeness reactor.

The reply of the Minister without Portfolio, Lord Shackleton, was of a negative character. He said: "We have not considered building a desalination plant at Dungeness. Consideration was given last year to the possibility of building a ten-million-gallon-a-day evaporation plant in Southeast England using steam from the Central Electricity Board's existing nuclear power station at Bradwell in Essex, but the consultants' report showed that under the conditions in that area it would have been too costly to build a demonstration plant which interfered with the operation of an existing baseload generating station in that way."

All of which left Lord Balfour of Inchrye probably wondering where the action was, and people like Jeremy Thorpe, the acid-tongued Liberal leader in the lower house, with fodder for further criticism. "The House of Lords," he was quoted as saying on one occasion, "is proof there is life after death!"

And Lord Balfour was left to ask rather lamely whether the Minister, "if we put down a Question in, say, six months from now, he thinks he will be able to give a positive and encouraging reply as to progress being made?"

To this Lord Shackleton replied with this gem: "My Lords, a great deal depends on whether the noble Lord's Question is directly relevant. I found some difficulty in answering his Question, since there never was a proposal in relation to Dungeness, so I do not quite know what form his future Question will take."

To return briefly to the theme of separation of oil from water, iron deposits in sand, and desalination of sea water, there is another situation of this nature here in Canada — in the oil deposits that occupy sandy areas out west, including parts of Alberta, and which have proved difficult to separate because of the sand.

These are all problems for the scientist, and for the young men entering this field of our high schools and universities. Moreover, they are all bound up with such related spheres as conservation and the opening up of new areas for food production.

The Simple Life

It is interesting to reflect that in lands not caught up with the materialist pursuits, where life is hard economically, the people are usually happy and contented.

The Mexicans and the Greeks, and Latins generally, have a warmth about them and seem to smile more often than do the people of northern climes.

They belie the words of one Martina Legge, who has said of adversity: "It inevitably destroys something; it robs away at joy or confidence or enthusiasm or love. And what may appear later as increased strength of character or understanding, is borne of using the knowledge to be gained through difficult situations."

Where else but in Greece could it be said: "We don't have psychoanalysis. We are a poor people, so we talk with each other."

And who said that? None other than Greek actress Melina Mercouri. If Miss Mercouri had been born an American she likely would have her analyst like many another performer in, say, Hollywood, or North American society at large.

Litter Bugs

Maybe it is because the snow is practically gone from the earth, but it seems that spring is synonomous with dusty streets and litter.

Side alleys are particularly dirty and unkempt these days. Walking across the footbridge over the Moira in the early morning one sees litter strewn all around, both on the walking surface and on the river banks.

A lot of it is candy paper dropped by children, and this betokens a lack of respect for the ideal of civic cleanliness. Children should be taught by their parents not to become litter bugs and to use the trash cans that are provided.

Suspense Builds In Mystery of CBC Television Gifts

By RICHARD JACKSON

OTTAWA — . . . will The Pontiac ever triumph over Batman and Boy Wonder? . . . will Fay, daughter of Ma Perkins, marry Paul? . . . will Big Sister Ruth separate from Dr. John? . . . and now that Parliament is back at work after the Easter Recess, will the CBC tell Conservative Leader Diefenbaker who got 104 of those 107 free color TV sets?

Well! You remember how long Ma Perkins and Big Sister kept us on the hook, and how the Dynamic Duo continued to outfox The Joker, The Black Widow, The Iceman, The Bidder, The Cat Woman—and all those other dastardly desperadoes in Gotham City?

The drama of Ottawa and the CBC could go on just as long.

Would you believe even longer?

When the sixth thrilling episode in this enthralling Parliamentary serial closed just before the Commons heeded home for Easter, it looked like the end for the CBC.

For on the Commons Order Paper was a motion, placed there by Cliff Smallwood, Conservative MP for Alberta's Battle River - Camrose constituency that "this House do issue an order for a copy of all correspondence, orders, memos and other documents since July 1, 1966, between the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the recipients of 104 color TV sets conferred GRATIS upon individuals within and without the Corporation."

EXPERTS IN NON-ANSWERS

That looked sort of final.

That it was a motion meant it would be debated if the Government refused or even hesitated to produce the documents.

And since Prime Minister Pearson already had told the Commons he would speak to the CBC about coming through with the information . . . and because the Honorable Members have been a little worked up about the CBC asking for a record $140,147,000 of the taxpayers' money this year . . . it certainly wouldn't do for that the Government would care to hesitate, much less refuse.

But don't bet on it.

For this particular CBC Parliamentary drama has been running some six weeks now and threatens to last the Spring and Summer — and, who knows, maybe even through this star-crossed Twenty-seventh Parliament.

The curtain went up early in February with these questions asked by Diefi.

"What are the names of those who are to be recipients of and have free use of colored TV sets recently purchased by the CBC for $80,000 . . . were they all officials of the CBC . . . and from what companies were the purchases made?"

Then Secretary Judy LaMarsh, among whose many duties is the responsibility of answering for the CBC in Parliament, replied that the free color sets went to "those in senior positions" — and 107 of those — whose duties require program viewing . . . and no, not all of them were in fact the CBC Brass.

But there were no names — except those of the companies making the sets, a piece of information LaJudy hastened to provide, to show the Government had spread the business around among all the manufacturers, and so was clean, political patronage-wise.

KEEP TRYING

That was all she knew, Judy explained, because that is all the CBC had told her.

Outraged, Diefi fired back a couple of days later that CBC was "defying" Parliament and asked Prime Minister Pearson to twist the Broadcasters' arms.

The PM said he would see what he could do — which turned out to be nothing.

Diefi kept punching and Judy-Baby came through with the latest flood of the news of who got gone to the PM, the GG and herself as Canada's "C-i Incre Queen" — which left only 107 to be accounted for.

Then OE, purred Diefi, let's have the accounting — and a week later Miss LaMarsh told how CBC would only say the 104 sets were used for "senior" officers who needed them "to assess program content and quality."

Back bounced Diefi—let's have the assessment then.

Not so fast, Swifty, she chided him eight days later — would he expect the CBC Brass to have to sell their hands by making "regular reports" on the "assessing," they were doing with their $80,000 worth of free TV color sets?

Diefi did expect it, and even more, he expected the CBC Brass to come through with some answers for him — or else.

Well, CBC told him through Macdonnaiselle LaMarsh, it looked like it would have to do else, because it didn't do business that way — Parliament or no Parliament.

So on and on, week through week it went, until Cliff Smallwood, breathing Opposition fire over CBC "arrogance," as he termed it, asked the PM to "introduce a bill compelling the taxpayer - supported broadcasters to bow to Parliament's will."

Speaker Lamoureux shot him down as out of order, so he placed his let's - have - the - documents Motion on the Order Paper.

So what now? Likely only the Shadow knows.

Tanker Disaster

Sea Lanes Need System of Traffic Control and Guidance

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

There is a simple reason why Jumbo oil tankers are on the increase: they save money.

It costs $3,000,000 to build a 20,000-ton tanker, while for $15,000,000 you can have nine times that capacity. It costs $5.50 a ton to carry oil from the Persian Gulf to Britain in an old-fashioned tanker while the jumbo size can get it here for less than $2.

The saving is obvious—until you consider the 30,000-ton Torrey Canyon and the 118,000 tons of oil she has been spewing off the English coast with incalculable damage.

Such ships as the Torrey Can-yon are able to offer much lower carrying charges even though they have to sail all the way around Africa from the Persian Gulf. They're too big for the Suez Canal.

The Torrey Canyon large as she is, compares modestly with some monsters already afloat and planned. The Japanese-built Idemitsu Maru, nearly one-quarter of a mile long, carries more than 200,000 tons and a 300,000-tonner now is on order in Japan.

One northeast England shipbuilder is reported ready to build a tanker of 1,000,000 tons if anybody wants to buy one. It would be built and launched in two sections and welded together at sea.

The Torrey Canyon disaster has brought home with a shock to Britain—and probably other countries as well—that such accidents are an even vaster scale can be expected in the future. Already there are 50 tankers larger—some of them greatly larger—than the Torrey Canyon.

Authorities say the entire East or West coasts of Canada and the United States could be polluted by the loss of one monster tanker. New international law is required to enable governments to take quick action.

In England, there is a precedent which may have caused the government to tread warily. The precedent was established in 1951 when the tanker Esso Hull ran aground near South-port and discharged 400 tons of oil to coat clear. A claim of damages against the owners eventually failed.

NEED TRACKING SYSTEM

Observers feel it is apparent that there must be some kind of double-check on the navigation of a ship carrying 100,000 tons of oil. The Torrey Canyon would hardly have hit the Seven Stones Reef if some outside body had been tracking her course.

One London newspaper has asked that the United States Coast Guard now operates an international service for ships in distress, with 17,000 ships from 60 nations voluntarily cooperating. They report their positions through a radio signal which teletypes the message to a New York computer to produce a regular picture of the sea-lane situation.

Says the newspaper, The Daily Telegraph:

"Here is a basis for nautical guidance on the lines of air traffic control. Vessels would report at frequent intervals and be warned—as the Torrey Canyon might have been—if they were heading into danger.

New Service

To Expo and Back in A Day

With Expo 67 just around the corner, and fresh demands being placed on public transportation, Canadian National Railways is facing a busy year. In the following article — the first of a series by Quinte-area contributors — HARRY J. FAST, manager of the Ridean area, discusses Canadian National's contributions to Expo itself and toward improved links between Toronto, Belleville and Montreal during Centennial Year. Succeeding articles will range from municipal affairs to the furtherance of the performing arts in Belleville and the cultural scene in Canada at large.

Canadian National's contribution to Centennial Year, on a system basis, will be a pavilion at EXPO 67, consisting of geometric cells linked to a 200-seat movie theatre. Cost of the pavilion — which includes exhibits and film production — will be about $1 million.

Designed to illustrate and celebrate in a captivating and imaginative way the 20th century in time and motion, the twin-theme was chosen because time and motion are subjects of universal interest and great importance. They are, as well, key elements in CN's day in and day out role of moving men, materials and messages.

The "time" exhibit will take place in the geometric cells while "motion" will be portrayed through a wide-screen 70 mm movie production projected on a 65-foot-wide screen in the octagonal theatre.

The nine individual exhibit cells, resembling large cut gems are 24 feet across at their widest part and have been designed to provide a walk-through exhibit space. They are raised from the ground, affording a shelter beneath for visitors waiting to enter the pavilion. Several cells are higher than others, the highest 56 which rises 50 feet from the ground.

The pavilion will show visitors the way in which time and motion affect their lives and the importance of each. At the same time, the total relevance of the two elements to CN will be noted.

The emphasis of the show will be on entertainment, but its objective will be to arouse interest, thought and excite the imagination.

The Time exhibit will be made up of a series of animated storytelling devices, which along with sound, colour and visual displays, will be controlled by an automatic programmer. Just about everything inside the exhibit cells will move and the visitor will be almost imperceptibly escorted through the cells by the sequence of action and the changing accents of the lighting and sound effects.

Rideau Area participation during 1967 has not been overlooked. Commencing May 1, the Company will introduce a fast passenger train that will transport passengers to EXPO at Montreal early in the morning and return home in the evening.

The new service will be known as Expoliner, will provide not only a swift journey but a lunch counter service.

The new train is the second one to be placed in operation by the Rideau Area. Just 18 months ago CN introduced a morning service to Toronto.

Another contribution by Canadian National for Montreal — Toronto passengers will be the introduction this summer of the greatest advance to railway technology in the past 100 years in the form of Turbo trains. Based on aerospace technology, the trains will be powered by gas turbine engines. Although the trains have a potential speed of 120 miles an hour they will not use that speed at first for planning. There will be five seven - car skeletonized Turbos breezing between Canada's two top largest cities.

The employee too has been thought of by CN during Centennial year. Just introduced is the first of 50 new lightweight cabooses — the railway man's home away from home. The new design is the result of many years of study, experiment and consultation between CN and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Improvements in the cabooses are many. Among them are those of electricity, refrigeration, hot plate, radio telephones, etc.

While the new caboose will notice CN's best foot forward in the form of new passenger trains freight shippers haven't been forgotten either. Rolling off car plants at various points across Canada are especially designed units ranging from container-units such as those used on the new express freight centre at Belleville, refrigerator cars, compartment mine cars and other specialized cars.

Democratic Rights Issue

Editor,
The Intelligencer.

There are two things that I would like to bring to the attention of the people of the city of Belleville.

Firstly, on Friday, March 31, I was summoned to appear as a witness at Belleville Magistrate's Court. I parked my car on Front Street and placed two nickles in the parking meter. Two hour later — even though the case was never raised — I returned to find that I had received a parking ticket. When this matter was brought to the attention of the authorities, I was told that there was nothing that could be done about it.

There are three things I would like to suggest to the authorities.

First of all, a Magistrate's Court should have adequate free parking.

Secondly, the city of Belleville should provide the required space for this parking.

Thirdly, the city council should represent the people, not the authorities.

My second complaint concerns the duties of the dog catcher. Is it not his responsibility to notify the person concerned when a dog which is not his is picked up and placed in the Animal Shelter? If this is not so, the dog catcher has another duty somewhere. If this is true then the dog catcher is not performing his duties.

I agree that dogs should not be allowed to run loose but is a $10.00 fine a just punishment? It is the dog in the end that suffers, not the responsible party.

Since we live in a democracy, why are matters such as these not put before the people?

JAMES ROSS.

Welfare Report

Mr. David's Stand Is Praised

Editor,
The Intelligencer.

We are extremely sorry that Mayor Ellis saw fit to make the disparaging remarks about Alderman David's interest in the Welfare Investigation.

It is sincerely hoped that the City Council will take all necessary remedial action as suggested by the Committee reports.

JEAN SMITH,
9 Eastwood Pr. Dr.
VIRGINIA LEWIS,
29 Queen Street.

We wish to commend the Intelligencer for the excellent editorial pertaining to the reports of the Welfare Investigating Committee. We sincerely admire the stand taken by Alderman Enos David who for years has been closely concerned with many different Welfare Agencies in Belleville and obviously has made it his business to know whereof he speaks.

Industry Asks for Lower Corporation Taxes

OTTAWA (CP) — The 4,300-member Canadian Manufacturers' Association Monday asked the federal government to make Canadian corporation taxes "significantly lower" than those in the United States, to attract capital to this country.

"Moreover, high corporation taxes impair and discourage the domestic formation of capital and are, therefore, inappropriate in Canada."

To reduce corporation taxes to a level below the U.S. rate of 48 per cent was essential for Canada's economic well-being. Present Canadian rate is 50 per cent.

Henri Joly of Quebec City, CMA president, A. A. Cumming of Toronto and Carl A. Pollock of Kitchener, Ont., past presidents, presented the brief to Finance Minister Sharp.

They also asked that personal income tax rates be reduced as conditions permit.

Personal rates now are so high, the CMA said, that individuals have little chance to save money to invest and employers have difficulty keeping trained workers in Canada.

Manufacturers urged the retention of anti-dumping laws to protect domestic industries. Canada may be asked to modify such laws in the Kennedy Round of trade talks, the CMA said.

In such circumstances many Canadian industries would find it "extremely difficult" to stand up to competition from strongly-industrialized countries.

Other CMA recommendations:

...Continued exemption from the U.S. Securities Acts for Canadian companies with a proportion of their shareholders living in the U.S., their stock listed on U.S. exchanges, and being a certain proportion of their business in the U.S.;

...Careful study of the Canada-U.S. auto agreement before expanding its provisions;

...Removal of the sales tax on all imported production equipment as soon as possible and lifting of duty on imported production machinery which cannot be easily manufactured in Canada;

...Amendment of the Excise Tax Act to remove the responsibility from the manufacturer of paying sales tax on goods whether or not he later collects it from his customer.

The town of Campbellford and the Township of Seymour were given donations of $6,011 from Ontario and Canada as an Ontario Community Centres Act grant of $10,000 for their joint Centennial project, the construction of a community centre. The municipalities are providing $130,278 themselves.

Union Members Attend Seminar

Four members of local 140 of the Canadian Union of Public Employees, all employed at Belleville city hall, attended a two-day seminar of their Ontario division held at Niagara Falls over the weekend.

Taking in the seminar were Evelyn Yott, Marjory Shepherd, Ross Vivian and N. C. Wager. The first two named attended the principal class, while the men sat in on the negotiations discussions.

Around Town

PLOWMEN'S OFFICERS

TYENDINAGA RESERVE — The Mohawk Plowmen's Association meeting Monday evening elected their officers for 1967. President is Melville Hill. Lewis Claus is vice - president. Francis John, secretary, and John A. Brant is treasurer. Directors are Clifford Marcoke, Albert L. Maracle, and William J. Brant. Honorary directors are W. M. McCracken, Gordon H. McDonald, and Stewart Hill. Albert A. Maracle and Timothy Brant are the auditors.

MINISTER DIES

The Rev. Walter Smith died in the Toronto General Hospital last Thursday, it was learned on the Tyendinaga Reserve Saturday. Mr. Smith was the rector of the parish for some time. This was his last parish before his retirement. He moved from to Toronto, where he was active until late last year, when he was hospitalized with a heart condition. He is survived by his wife. They had no children.

Changes Too Rapid, Club Told

PICTON (Staff) — Picton Kiwanis Club last night heard with keen interest one of the county's newest farmers, A/V/M Murray Lister, retired, speak on his transition from that of an active serviceman to the role of a farmer. His only complaint he said humorously was that prices seemed to go down just the year he decided to get into farming. Mr. Lister has been a resident of the county for a year and purchased a farm in the Cressy area where he and his wife, a calf, two dogs and a horse reside.

The retired A/V/M spoke on the integration policy adopted by the present government. A very large and complex subject, Mr. Lister thought the government is changing over to the new system too rapidly for the good of the services. It should take a number of years to make this changeover. "Some of the changes," he said, "have been good others not,so good." On the emotional side he stressed that a loss of tradition is involved. "In battle and this is what we keep fighting men for" he said, "traditions are important. The effect on moral should not be underestimated." He referred to Finks and in particular he said he did not like the concept. Flying Infantryman with naval knowledge. This is only for use he said as a U.N. Support Force. It is important we support the U.N. but we should also have forces prepared to stand beside our allies in the event of another war. This type of force could not be used.

The outcome of another war Mr. Lister felt will be determined by the outcome of supremacy of space. Space is not "Way-out" it is already here. He went on to describe the satellites and missiles used today and the sophisticated communications systems in use.

A/V/M Lister was thanked for his timely address by past president Jack Ward. "Also during the meeting said perhaps for the first time in the club's history a past president inducted his son-in-law into Kiwanis. Past president Jesse Mason performed the ceremony for his son-in-law Don Stewart. Kiwanis also presented a $100.00 cheque to Pr. Ed. Scout Council.

Joanne McNevin Wins

Joanne McNevin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McNevin of this city, and one of the better equestrians here,soon brought further honors to the Quinte Western Horse Association recently.

Joanne with her horse "King Crystal" took part in the first season show of the Ontario Barrel - Racing Association.

She defended all opposition and came home with two first-place red ribbons and two handsome trophies.

The Western Horse Association plans one of the biggest and best mo-ons this year since its inauguration.

Yemen Women Allowed To Visit Movie Theatres

SANA'A, Yemen (AP) — The veiled women of the capital of Yemen have won their latest battle for feminine rights—they now are allowed to leave the harem and go to the movies.

Two days a week — Wednesday and Saturday—the women line up outside a theatre named after the Queen of Sheba to see the latest pictures from Cairo.

Most of them carry a thermos bottle of water under one arm and a bundle of narcotic "qat" leaves under the other in case they take through the movement. Police stand guard outside to make sure no man—or boy over six years old—sneak into the show.

The new rule for seven days at the movies was announced recently sponsored by China.

When a Red Chinese spinning mill delegation visited Sana'a and treated about 300 women workers the first women factory hands in the history of Yemen, some of them wearing slacks—it set off a tornado of protest from the more conservative females of Sana'a.

To stop the complaints, officials decided to open up the movie theatre to female audiences so they could see what the rest of the world was like.

Yemen had no movies at all until 1962, and women in other Yemeni cities have been screen fans since then. But it was only in January this year that Sana'a permitted mixed audiences, except for once a year on Revolution Day.

Even now, the ladies must be home before sunset, because of Yemeni proverb that says "it is not wise to let wooden or the devil wander the streets in the darkness."

Just pour a ½ lb. package of Cow Brand Baking Soda into a tub of warm water. Lie back lazily and relax. Excellent for relieving hives, itching and tired muscles.

MR. AND MRS. PATRICK G. PATTERSON

Patterson – Fritz

Dorothy Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fritz of Amelisburg and Patrick Gerrard Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Patterson of Weston were married by Rev. Maurice McLeod, assisted by Richard Boehme, in Amelisburg United Church on March 25, 1967, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Morgan Sills played the wedding music and Miss Linda Stephenson was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece floor-length ensemble of white dress and white brocaded satin coat in lily-of-the-valley pattern. Her headdress of roses and lily-of-the-valley secured her shoulder veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Lawrence Foster, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length dress of light blue brocade with stovepipe sleeves and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Marleen Patterson was dressed identically to the matron of honor.

Flower girls were floor-length white gowns similar to those of the other attendants and carried pink and blue muffs.

Bill Crawford attended the bridegroom and the ushers were Glenn Fritz and Stan Fritz, both brothers of the bride.

At the reception in Amelisburg Town Hall the brides' mother received the guests, wearing a navy blue crepe suit, white and black hat, black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a suit of coffee colored brocade with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

For her wedding trip to Florida the bride chose a dark green satin brocaded three-piece suit with matching hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

On their return the couple will live in London, Ont.

Some Old Family Traditions Deserve to be Broken

Una Abrahamson, Canadian consultant on homemaking and the historical aspects of family life, thinks some family traditions are worth breaking.

The author of a centennial book, God Bless Our Home, Mrs. Abrahamson spoke at the convention in Toronto of 250 home economics teachers of the Ontario Educational Association.

"We are told the family as a unit is disintegrating," she said. "Perhaps this is so. But perhaps the family unit is changing because life has changed. There is always a tendency to look at the past through rose-colored glasses. It was, we feel, a time when children behaved better, there was no delinquency, no drop-outs, and the food was good. Yet every generation has deplored the antics of the young, the breakdown of the family unit."

In her centennial grant supported research into the 19th century family, Mrs. Abrahamson discovered father was a shadowy figure. He was a man who left the child-rearing atmosphere of the home for interesting outside pursuits and returned to make decisions, pass judgement and offer punishment. He preferred quiet, polite quiet. This is one traditional family figure the 20th century could do with-out, the speaker inferred.

"During the pioneer period, Mrs. Abrahamson said, "women played an active part both in running the home, making decisions and participating in all activities. They were wanted and needed."

"By mid-century a change was taking place. Gentility was in the air, women retired from activity. There was freedom for men but none for women. The sexes separated into men's interests and the woman's world. and there was a widespread growth of prostitution. Since respectable attitudes decreed downward, it was the poorer, rural woman who had comparative freedom, although she was too bowed with drudgery and lack of education to take advantages of it."

Mrs. Abrahamson painted this picture of the middle-class, urban, Victorian woman:

"Mother is secure; unlike her pioneer grandmother, she remains at home. She may no longer plays an active part in decision making; this would be unladylike. She now waves her duster from the front window — but she will use the back. To remain genteel in company she will never eat the leg of a chicken, but she will nibble on a wing. Some women are now so genteel that they cover the legs of the piano with a kind of lace panty.

"She is less well-educated than 19th century women and she rarely ventures out alone. She is in a gilded cage, lovely, adored, but remote from reality and ill-equipped for it. She gives advice without experience. She rules the family and feels like her tragic Queen. She lives her up-ended crafts such as waxing flowers, covering boxes with fish scales, and embroidering banners. She rarely reads a serious book but she is fond of romances and she subscribes to American or British magazines that give the latest on fashions, medicine, food, cards, and include a couple of royal stories.

"She often has her mother in the house. The old woman is deaf, cranky and feeble. She suffers from rheumatism and takes a patent medicine to cure all her ills. She is a strong temperance woman and little realizes that her medicines are pure alcohol plus some cayenne. She rocks the cradle with one foot and the baby by sleeps. No wonder. He was given some new patented teething syrup. We know it is tincture of opium and sugar. He may never wake up and will join the vast number of children in the churchyard.

Expectant Fathers Get Advice in New Booklet

LONDON (AP) — Britain's National Childbirth Trust has given birth to a booklet of advice for expectant fathers.

That's right—expectant fathers.

If the father-to-be has not yet been seized by the jitters of approaching parenthood, this well - intended and generally helpful pamphlet should do much to produce them.

For instance, he is advised to take a few lessons with his wife when she begins talking about buying a baby carriage.

The National Childbirth Trust says her husband will want his wife out of buying a baby carriage if he thinks is not just right for mummie.

The handle, the booklet urges, must be the correct height for pushing.

As old dad is going to do a lot of the pushing, what about a handle that is right for him? On this subject the strut is silent.

The booklet counsels the expectant father to organize his wife during the coming event by getting her to apply some basic and motion studies to such chores as cooking, bathing and cleaning the baby.

He is also exhorted to encourage his wife to attend ante-natal clinics.

More frightening than this, however, is the recommendation that the father-to-be should help the expectant mother in the daily exercises she is expected to do.

"Among other chores the expectant father is advised to assume a more careful attitude towards the family automobile, such as nightly checks of the battery, gasoline and oil.

He is told to learn in advance the quickest and smoothest route to the hospital.

And, in the event the expectant mother should decide to become a mother at her own home, or a great many British wives do — the husband should check all the electric wires in the house or apartment, lay in an extra supply for glitch repairs.

As almost any father knows, there are times before the great event when time hangs heavy on his hands as well as his wife's.

"Keep yourself amused with light household chores, music or a game of cards," is the advice to husbands.

Alouette Club Holds Annual Games Night

Last Saturday, the French Alouette Club for Belleville and region held the first of a series of special meetings on the occasion of the Centennial Year to permit members to get together, more often and friends to get acquainted better with the club.

A great number of members did not want to miss the opportunity of spending a night where they could play the games that they like best, either euchre, bridge, darts, quarts, 500, checkers, and others, and were in St. Joseph's Parish Hall on June 4th in the evening. The members of the entertainment committee had taken care of providing a television set for the night's hockey game, which was greatly appreciated.

Enjoyment of the games was genuine and even though every participant did not win, all of them had a good time.Mr. Jean Huliquist was once favored with a perfect hand at euchre. Those who were looking for Mr. J. A. C. Berube, president of the club and Mrs. Berube, were happily surprised to see them arrive in the middle of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Berube, having been in Toronto for a meeting of the Federation des Clubs France-Ontarien, were able to come back soon enough to meet everyone and participate in the friendly gathering.

Game prizes went, in order, to: Mrs. Rejeanne Morin, Mr. Armand Bedard, Mr. Rose Walters and Mrs. Blanche Sullivan. The evening ended with a light lunch prepared by the ladies of the club.

Mr. Donat Clement, chairman of the entertainment committee, expressed thanks to those who organized the meeting and the friends and members who attended to make it a pleasant evening.

Liberal Women Request Greater Role in Government

OTTAWA (CP)—A more active role for women in government was advised by delegates to the National Women's Liberal Federation convention Monday night.

Approval was given to resolutions asking for more qualified women on government boards, commissions and commissions, and requesting the prime minister to give "favourable consideration" to Liberal women when filling Senate vacancies.

A resolution asking for a separate department to ensure protection for consumers was amended to include the appointment of qualified women to such an organization.

Only half the 200 delegates to the three - day convention attended the four-hour resolutions session.

Legalization of birth control information was urged, and a commission to study "confused and conflicting" abortion laws "into conformity with the realities of Canadian life" was requested.

Three resolutions dealing with divorce asked that: Divorce laws be widened; suits for divorce be allowed in the province where the separation occurred rather than where the husband now lived; and establishment of the principle of domicile for women, separate from that of their husband or parents.

Delegates approved a resolution asking that the minimum marriage age be set across Canada at 16 with parental consent and 18 without. Resolutions committee chairman, Mrs. F. E. Underhill of London, said that in some provinces children of 13 can be married if their parents agree.

Delegates also voted to ask the government to remove any plane glue containing a "dangerous and habit - forming intoxicant" from the market.

Air Force Wives Map Plan To Make Move to New Base

MARVILLE, France (CP)—Operation Moniseu is under way.

That is the battle plan mapped out by air force wives to overcome all types of problems expected during the months they will be separated from husbands while the RCAF's No. 1 Wing moves to new headquarters at Lahr, West Germany.

The women and children must remain here until French forces vacate accommodation at the Marville air station and in Lahr itself.

All but a handful of men now have left and it will be several months, perhaps as late as autumn, before all families are reunited in Lahr's 335 air miles to the southeast.

To ease the worry both among the women and the men, the wives have banded up with their own organization to provide aid in times of emergency as well as to keep everyone informed by bulletin and by-sitting for those who require it.

This will have the last'men at Marville free to complete details involved in the shift.

Wives of servicemen are used to being separated from husbands and faced with moves," said Group Capt. R. G. Christie, commanding officer of No. 1 Wing. "But this is a rather unusual move. What the wives have done to meet the situation must be commended and it has certainly helped the morale.

"As long as the separation doesn't stretch too long I doubt there will be much domestic strain. It looks now as if most families can be together again sometime after Christmas."

In all about 4,500 dependents will be involved in the shift to Germany. Because they are scattered in various pockets around Marville and Metz, the one-time headquarters base for the air division in Europe, special groups have been formed by the wives in each area.

Each group has been given a list of telephone numbers and names of people she can call in time of need.

The plan was organized at a joint meeting of the Catholic Women's League and the Protestant Chapel Guild. The women felt an organized system of self-help would give the younger wives and mothers a greater sense of security.

To ease the worry among the men, Christie altered the normal routine of flying personnel to Germany.

During the initial period at Lahr men will be allowed to remain there for 10 days and then get four or five days off. That will allow them to spend several days with their families in Marville and Metz and still have time to travel by road to and from Lahr.

Among the first wives expected to leave for Lahr will be those without children or with pre - school youngsters. However, none will go until husbands have found accommodation.

Families with house trailers at Marville have said there either to the Lahr or civilians. The trailers cannot be taken to Lahr because of local restrictions.

Sqdn. Ldr. John A. Robertson, 42, of Metz who owns a trailer, said none suffered because they had to sell them.

"Eventually, we could have made a better deal if we were not forced to sell, but then we didn't lose as much as we could have under the circumstances. And no one will have to rent a house or apartment at the end of the school term. That gives us a chance to find something of Lahr."

Most dependents can look forward to finding accommodation on the air station, says Christie. About 1,130 units will be available, more than double the number at Marville.

"That means only about 430 will need to find accommodation in Lahr itself, but normally we would expect at least this many to want to live on the economy. In fact, unless we make the FMQs attractive and competitive with civilian accommodation we could be left with empty units on the base."

There will be no shortages of school facilities and it is hoped that by Oct. 1 an 1,800-unit area will be ready for use, the ice plant and other facilities being located to Lahr from the French Army.

"We also hope to sell other facilities here in France with non-public funds to the French and then get some of this back in time of need," said Christie.

OLDSTER WIN GRADE

FRUITLAND, N.M. (AP) — Mrs. Alfred Bowman has earned her high school diploma, 39 years after she started. An Instructional aide at the Indian boarding school here, she completed an Indian affairs adult education course. Her education began in 1928 at a New Mexico mission school.

CLUB 4-H NOTES

QUINTE 1 COTTON BELLES

The fifth meeting of the Quinte Homemaking Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Peggy Thomson.

The meeting was opened by the president, Linda Grills. The eight members gave ideas for club exhibits or demonstrations. The directions included fitting the dress, facings and sleeves.

For home assignments, each girl is to work on her dress and record book and practise good posture.

New Policies Advanced By Women

OTTAWA (CP)—As image of the thinking woman's Canada will come out of the National Women's Liberal Federation convention, the chairman of resolutions committee said Sunday.

About 300 delegates arrived Sunday night for the three-day convention.

After preliminary meetings of the nominating, constitution and resolutions committees, Mrs. F. E. Underhill, resolutions committee chairman, said programmes for women have had been brought forward by members "who have really thought."

About 35 resolutions for "a changed way of life" will deal with progressive law, police, the Election Act, the royal commission on the status of women and penal reform, said Mrs. Underhill, a London, Ont., lawyer.

Many Must Play Active Part In Promoting World Health

Dear Doris: I am ambitious to help with the problems of disease and undernourishment which are said to be so terrible in some parts of the world. Do I have to be a doctor to get into this work?
— Robert R.

Dear Robert: No indeed. To quote from a WHO man, Dr. M. G. Candau:

"The patterns of health are not limited to members of the health professions. The economist who helps to increase production and buying power, the road builder who makes it easier to get to a health centre, the educator who banishes illiteracy and widens his pupils' comprehension of the value of life, all contribute to prosperity and welfare.

"They create a demand for health and, at the same time, make it easier to satisfy that demand. They are responsible for a change in people's attitude towards health that is perhaps the most influential force of our times: the recognition that health is their birthright, that disease is not an inevitable burden which must be endured."

World Health Day is on April 7, 1967; a time when these Partners in Health are being honored. At the same time, every single person in any community must play an active part if there is to be a notable surge forward.

And not just in the underdeveloped countries. Here in Canada, we have complex problems like cancer, heart disease, mental illness, all scourges of the well-developed countries!

Pick your guiding star and work and study until you are part of the team.

Dear Doris: Will you ask your readers if any of them have an Ontario Second Reader they would like to sell? I have the Primer, Third and Fourth Readers but lack the Second.

In fact, I have two of the Third Readers and would gladly exchange one.
— Mrs. H.M.

Dear School Belles: What about it, ex-pupils of Ontario schools?

* * *

Dear Doris: When I read your column (which is always) I get worked up about mothers who are upset because their teen-age sons and daughters have a scene problems.

But what do you mothers think — that we teen-agers love having blotchy skin? I have a small problem but nothing as great as others I've seen. When my face does break out I don't enjoy wearing it any more than people like seeing it!

We teen-agers do try hard to keep ourselves presentable. Mothers, please understand and bear with us. Do you agree with me, Doris?
— Worked Up.

Dear Worked Up: O.K., simmer down. Mothers do bear with you.

If they complain it is because they care so very much!

One-shot Vaccine Prevents Measles

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hope you will let me use your column to spread a message that is vital to the health and lives of American children.

Measles is a dangerous disease. It can cause mental retardation, blindness, deafness and death. In this day and age no child needs to die measles. In 1963 a surefire vaccine was discovered and one inoculation — yes, I said one inoculation — can protect a child throughout his entire life.

The Public Health Service has provided enough vaccine to wipe out the disease in a single year. Children can get free shots at most county and city health departments if they do not have access to regular care from a family physician. Every child who has reached his first birthday is old enough to obtain this lifetime protection.

Please, Ann Landers, print this plea and urge parents to heed it. — GLENN W. SNYDER, Asst. Director, Oregon Immunization Program.

ANN LANDERS

DEAR GLEN SNYDER: Thank you for your letter, and now I would like to put a question to American Parents.

What do you have planned within the next 24 hours that is more important than protecting your child against potential blindness, deafness, mental retardation or death? Call your doctor or the Health Department and make an appointment.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A few months ago I became pregnant. Jason and I are both 17. In our state parents must sign for both parties if they are under 18 years of age.

I was willing to ask my parents but Jason refused to ask his. He said he just couldn't face the shame. I nearly went out of my mind with worry. I even considered killing myself. Finally I told Jason that if he wouldn't ask his parents to sign, I would go to them. We got into a terrible argument and I ended up unmasked and with a splitting headache. That night I had a miscarriage. It was early enough so that I didn't have to go to a doctor so my folks never did find out that I was pregnant.

Now I feel that Jason should marry me just in case something happens in the future. When two people are in love it is impossible to stay away from each other and I know darn well that as soon as Jason gets over the scare we will start in where we left off. He is like very cool to the idea of marriage and I need to know what to do to hold him. — CONSTANTINE.

DEAR CON: If you are considering "starting in where you left off," I can tell you that history will probably repeat itself — unless Jason gets smart and finds himself another girl, which I hope he does for your sake as well as his.

* * *

Confidential to TRUSTING FOOL: From the evidence you have presented in your letter, I would say he has done an amazing job of bamboozling everybody. I wouldn't be surprised if he would be busy when you'd like to see him. Don't count your fingers.

Dual-purpose Ham Pie Ideal For Meal or Midnight Snack

By MARY MOORE

Comments from nearby tasters: Too-busy Peady: "It was a comfort to have such a good dinner brought over tonight". Hungry Clara (chewing help): "It was so good — good like Yugoslav cooking". Rational Doris: "Why not shape it differently and call it Ham Loaf?". Entertainer Shirley: "Out in thin slices, you could serve it on crackers for a midnight snack." Practical me: "But it may say that suits your needs but for goodness sakes try it!"

I told you I would give you another recipe (following March 20th Ham Curry on Rice) for using up leftover ham.

TUESDAY

Dinner Menu

Baked Swiss Steak; Baked Potatoes; Brussels Sprouts; Celery Hearts; Perfect Apple Pie (see Mon.); Cheddar Cheese; Coffee.

TOPLESS — AND BOTTOMLESS — HAM PIE (serves 6 to 8)

NOTE: If this is to be served cold for a snack meal you can make it stretch for 12.

¾ cup fine stale bread crumbs (I used 60 per cent whole wheat bread — see below) one 6-oz. can (¾ cup) evaporated milk
2 eggs
3 cups ground cooked ham, fairly well packed
1 tbsp. brown sugar
1 tbsp. vinegar
1 tsp. Worcester sauce
¼ tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. pepper
¼ cup grated old Cheddar cheese (preferably from shaker package)

(To crumb my bread I buzzed two quartered slices in blender orbit and they measured ¾ cup.) Put crumbs in mixing bowl and add milk and eggs and mix. Let these soak while you grind and measure the ham. Add ham and all remaining ingredients except cheese.

Butter a 9" deep pie plate (preferably glass) and press mixture into it, smoothing the edges with your finger tips. Sprinkle cheese evenly over. Bake at centre of oven at 350 deg. Fahr. for 10 min., then reduce heat to 325 deg. Fahr. and bake ham pie 45 min. in all.

I served this ham pie hot cut into six wedges with creamed broccoli as an accompaniment. The one which I made to taste cold was equally good on the third day.

So if you are a busy mother or expect guests, double above recipe (if you have enough ham), make two "pies", serve one for current meal and refrigerate second "pie", well covered, for a late supper. A hot buttered French stick would be a wonderful accompaniment.

I should add it makes a good sandwich too.) I had one for lunch.

Clip and file this recipe. It will stand you in good stead many a time.

Church Groups

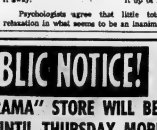
VOTA VITA
MISSION CIRCLE

Members of the Vota Vita Mission Circle met recently at Victoria Avenue Baptist Church with the president in the chair. Mrs. F. Travis gave interesting "lighthouse flashes".

Mrs. E. G. Price headed the group which took charge of the meeting with Miss Joan Brookes as guest soloist. Mrs. T. Sicevelli devotional theme was "He is risen".



Mrs. M. Hales introduced the guest speaker, Captain Jope Dwyer of the Belleville Salvation Army Citadel. She gave the history of the Army, various phases of progress into its current popularity and its two-fold function of evangelism and social welfare working throughout the world. There are 200 Citadels in Canada and many avenues of service. In Toronto alone are the receiving home, The Homestead, the children's home, House of Concord, and the Harbour Light, to name a few, which aid men, women and children in serious difficulty, who are unable to help themselves. Capt. Dwyer related several cases which had come to their attention.

At the Belleville Citadel the work has four divisions: evangelism, the welfare centre, correctional service and family counsel. This system plus a youth centre will be carried on in the new Citadel to be built in Belleville.

Mrs. Price thanked Captain Dwyer for her address.

Psychologists agree that little tots find comfort and relaxation in what seems to be an inanimate old rag.

Let your toddler cling to his old blanket or battered stuffed toy if he's unhappy without it. As he matures, he will forget about it and give it up of his own accord.

Trauma Training Dolls Are Born to Suffer

WOODSTOCK, N.Y. (AP)—A company that specializes in reproducing accidental wounds in plastic. Its current line includes 12 types of wounds.

The plastic wounds are used by first-aid instructors for training and observing or treating real injuries.

Some of the dolls have actual blood shot, with the aid of a handpump, spurts from a severed plastic arm in a manner similar to that of a car artery. The artificial blood also clots.

The company's major client is the U.S. armed forces, which buys kits containing every type of manufactured wound.

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids...and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved . . . Actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator).

Satisfaction or your money refunded.

Postmaster-General of U.S. Suggests Public Corporation Run Post Office

WASHINGTON (CP - AP) — Postmaster - General Lawrence O'Brien proposed Monday that a non-profit government corporation take over the operation of the U.S. post office department.

The post office now employs 707,000 and has a budget of $6,300,000,000 but its problems are worse than ever.

It is unable to pay its way. President Johnson is asking Congress for an increase of $700,000,000 in rates this year.

O'Brien, who said last month that the post office department is in a race with catastrophe, would like to see his post taken over by a professional heading a corporate - like government agency.

Under his plan, disclosed at a meeting of the Magazine Publishers Association, a board of directors appointed by the president and confirmed by the Senate would select a management expert to run the system.

Where that would leave Congress, which now acts as the board of directors, was not clear. It is certain to take a long, hard look at the proposal.

Even if O'Brien's public corporation plan fails through, he has a major modernization program under way and is studying several plans that call for voluntary efforts by business and individuals to ease the mail-man's load.

One possibility would be to have secretaries in some areas pick up the office mail on their way to work. Other studies are looking at the possibility of requiring standardized envelope sizes and using chartered cargo planes exclusively for mail.

Most domestic mail still moves by rail. But in the last 20 years, while mail volume has doubled, the number of mail-carrying trains has dwindled to 800 from 10,000.

Use of the missile has reached staggering proportions in the United States. An estimated 80,000,000,000 pieces will course through the system this year, more than is handled by the rest of the world's post offices combined.

O'Brien looked at the European systems last fall and may have got the idea for a public corporation from Britain, which is in the process of setting up something similar.

The costliest service the U.S. service provides is the delivery of magazines and newspapers of non-profit organizations at one-eighth of a cent each. The department figures that for every $1 it collects from the non-profit organizations it has to take $96 out of the treasury to cover costs.

Commercial newspapers and magazines and bulk-mailed advertising also are carried at costs considerably higher than they pay.

Pipeline Maple Sap Collection

Cyril Shaw, Eldorado district farmer, inspects plastic pipelife used to collect sap in Queensboro bush. Drop lines on trees drain into laterals which in turn are connected to main line.

Sap Gathering The Easy Way

Mr. Shaw uses tractor hauled gathering tank equipped with gasoline driven pump to pick up sap from collector tank in sugar bush. From gathering tank the sap is pumped into 1,000 gallon tank truck at roadside.

Unloading Sap at Evaporator Site

Cheese factory-type milk vats are used as storage for sap at the boiling site. Mr. Shaw unloads 1,000 gallon tank truck which pumps empty in 20 minutes.

Area's First Maple Sap Pipeline Taps 1,900 Trees in Two Bushes

New labor saving techniques have gone a long way toward making things easier for Bay of Quinte district farmers but there is one form of mechanization which has taken a long time to reach this part of Ontario.

It's the gathering of sap by plastic pipeline which came to the Hastings county area only a year ago.

Pipeline sap collection has been the vogue in the big syrup making areas of Quebec and Vermont for many years but in the Quinte area, the small size of most maple bushes apparently discouraged any switch from the conventional method.

That is until Cyril Shaw, young Eldorado district farmer decided last year to take the plunge and go into maple syrup production on a mass production scale.

This year Mr. Shaw is making syrup from approximately 2,500 trees, close to half of them on "pipeline." He personally gathers the sap from about 1,900 trees and purchases sap from another 1,600 trees.

He feels that with pipeline sap collection one man can do the work of at least three using the old fashioned method of gathering sap by hand.

This year he has about five miles of plastic pipe in two sugar bushes — one on the farm homestead and the other near Queensboro north of Madoc.

After making syrup in a small way for several years, Mr. Shaw last year decided to go in on a mass production scale.

So he discarded his small sap evaporator and with ARDA aid bought a large capacity machine which he set up on the farm homestead.

Now, with a 1,000 gallon tank truck, he hauls sap for distances of up to eight to 10 miles and purchases sap from neighboring farmers for which he pays six to eight cents per gallon, depending on the sugar content of the sap.

The sugar content of the purchased sap is determined by testing with a sap hydrometer which works something like a battery tester.

So far this year it has been a poor sap season with Mr. Shaw figuring the "run" as only half of normal.

The weather, of course, has something to do with it all, and the exceptionally high temperatures over the week-end cut the sap run to a mere dribble.

At mid-week last week there was still a foot or more snow in the bush but by Saturday it was nearly all gone. And any old time syrup maker will vouch for the fact that once the snow is gone from the bush the sap run can be figured to be about over for another season.

Pipeline sap collection has several advantages over the old-fashioned method of collecting it in buckets.

First, there is no need to wait until the sap season commences before tapping the trees.

"You can tap as early as you like, even as early as January," he says.

It apparently doesn't matter if the sap freezes in the line — the pipeline can take the expansion.

When the temperature warms, the pipeline will thaw out and the sap will run.

On the other hand with the old fashioned way the sap buckets get full of ice.

There are several sizes of plastic pipeline. First there are the "drop lines" which are attached to the plastic gallon which go into the tap holes in the tree trunks. These in turn connect with laterals which again, in turn, connect with the main lines which range upwards from one half inch in diameter.

The main lines drain into collector vats which are spotted in the lowest areas of the sugar bush.

Mr. Shaw has a 150-gallon tractor-hauled collecting tank with which he picks up sap from collection vats. This is used to fill the 1,000 gallon tank truck for transportation to the evaporator site.

At the evaporator site, Mr. Shaw has other innovations which either speed up the sap boiling operation or make it more convenient.

Depending on the sugar content, it takes from 30 to 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup. The excess is plain water which has to be boiled off in steam. And in the process the sap house is filled with dense steam which cuts visibility inside the saphouse to absolute zero.

Mr. Shaw has conquered the steam problem by fixing a cone shaped hood over the sap pans. This collects the steam and allows it to escape into the outside air through large pipe-like ducts.

Slabwood from district sawmills is used for fuel to stoke the evaporator furnace.

But to speed up the syrup making operation a smaller gas-fired auxiliary pan has been installed. With the separate "syrup" pan there is less need to check fires in the main evaporator furnace and the entire boiling operation is greatly speeded up.

But even with the sophisticated evaporator equipment, boiling sap from 3,500 trees can be a 24 hours per day operation.

During the day Mr. Shaw's wife Isabel, handles the evaporator chores. When night boiling is required to keep ahead of the sap volume, a neighbor takes over.

Trucking of sap from the small homestead bush is looked after by Mr. Shaw's father, Hedley, while Cyril does the long distance hauling from the Queensboro sugar bush.

Normally, this in itself would be a full time job, but not for Cyril Shaw.

On five days each week, Mr. Shaw knocks off early from syrup making chores and drives to Belleville where he is attending the farmer retraining course at Quinte Secondary School.

Sap Hydrometer

Maple sap purchased by Mr. Shaw is paid for according to sugar content. Here Mr. Shaw used hydrometer to test sap.

Pipeline Junction

This is how the pipeline laterals are joined with the main line which drains sap to collector vats in bush.

Hooded Pan Beats Steam

Sap boiling operation has traditionally been associated with lots of steam, but Mr. Shaw to some extent has solved the problem. Big sap pans are hooded to catch steam and convey it to outside air.

Junior Farmers See Wheels of Tragedy

NAPANEE — Provincial Constable James E. Elliott visited the Junior Farmers of the county last Thursday evening. The shock film, "Wheels of Tragedy" which he showed, brought some sobering reflections and the necessity of careful driving. The film, distributed by the Ohio State Highway Patrol, was a compoaite of pictures taken at the scene of accidents. Constable Elliott is the safety officer for the Napanee detachment of the O.P.P. Following the film, he gave a talk on defensive driving.

Announcement was made that plans for the trip to Expo 67 have been completed. A bus load will make the trip July 27, returning the following day.

The Junior Farmers have consented to present an act in "Spring Flaw", the amateur production being sponsored by the Napanee and District Jaycees on April 21. Plans for their act were discussed.

Announcement was made of the offer of the Richmond Township Council to turn over to the Junior Farmers, the schoolhouse on the Desoronto Road which is now closed. As there is no public hall in that area, it was suggested that the club could rent it for community gatherings, thus defraying part of the cost of insurance and maintenance. A committee was appointed to visit the school, and to meet with the Township Council Monday night. The young people welcomed the offer, but decided they should look at it from a financial standpoint before accepting.

Larry Wannamaker, the official delegate gave a report of the provincial conference at Guelph March 17 through 19, inclusive. Two projects of the provincial organization were explained. Financial support is to be given to the World Library of Canada; and an appeal has been made for assistance for the newly-established library in the North-West Territories. So far they have only 2,000 books, and have appealed for new or used books of all kinds, including text books. These books are to be collected by each County Junior Farmers' Club and are to be taken to Guelph by the provincial director when he attends the directors' conference in May. From a central point in the west, they will be sent by barge to the library after navigation opens in July.

There was an excellent attendance of enthusiastic young people. President for the year is Nancy Morrow. Wayne Parks is immediate past president and provincial director.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

A brand new Bay of Quinte Country Club clubhouse with expansional facilities for curling is "a dream not to be discarded — but we must hide our time."

"A new club house is badly needed. The present one has a certain charm and beauty, but it badly lacks the modern facilities that should be available to a growing membership," newly-elected country club president George O'Brien said today.

President O'Brien heads a 1967 board of directors that sees six new faces in the "seats of the mighty." These are Messrs. Stan Armstrong, Jack Belanger, Douglas Bennett, John Gee, Norman Henderson and Will Wermarck.

The president paid fine tribute to the work and efforts of the retiring directors Messrs. Don Lamb, Don Stanton, Everett Fairman, Rod Trill and Robert Michaud.

Former boards realizing the need of a new club house have held exploration meetings innumerable over the past few years. Committees were sent to other clubs of the province to study their situations. Chartered accountants met around the discussion table to talk financial ways and means. Nothing was left undone from a pre-planning standpoint.

Then the blow that stymied the financial situation fell. The national monetary system tightened causing a definite change in the financial set-up for the new club house.

This has brought exploration and other phases of the 1967 program to a temporary halt. President O'Brien feels confident that with the easing of the monetary set-up, it will become a reality.

"If and when this happens," he says, "I believe we can go ahead with the structure of the new club house with facilities for expanding to a curling additional."

The proposed new club house will replace the old one in its entirety. It has served a long and useful purpose but is badly lacking in very necessary facilities for membership.

"What is needed is larger locker rooms for both men and women — in fact more accommodation for practically every phase of golfing — a place for everything, as it were, but the proper places."

"We will never have anything until we get this kind of accommodation and facilities," he says.

As matters stand, President O'Brien pointed out, "all we can do at the present is the construction of a brand new pro shop, expected to be completed shortly, a new water system and certain improvements within and to the present club house."

These must do until the monetary situation eases itself to the point where capital expenditure for new construction can be secured, he said.

Another feature of the club this year is the appointment of Mr. Henry Guertin as course superintendent, a position held for the past dozen years by the club professional George Bains. Mr. Bains will handle his pro position and the pro shop again this year.

Mr. Guertin comes highly recommended. He has served as a similar capacity at the Ottawa Royal Golf Club and the Glen Shields Club of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Haines have been re-engaged as club stewards for the coming year. Les Lennox has been re-appointed secretary-treasurer of the club.

President O'Brien is no stranger in his 1967 position. He was president of the club three years ago and was largely instrumental in the inauguration of the club's annual "Festival of Golf" now a confirmed Civic Holiday feature of the club's course activities.

It is expected that club house facilities will be available by approximately April 17th.

Commercial Softball Meeting

President Ross Empey has called an organizational meeting for the Belleville Commercial Softball League. It will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) night, at the Crystal Hotel, at 8:00 o'clock.

Empey says an election of officers will be held and all of last year's clubs, as well as possible new entries, are invited to send a representative.

Six teams, Stewart Warner, Point Anne, Lightfoot Construction, City Hotel, Belvedere Hotel and Black Diamond Cheese, formed the league last season.

European Puck Fans Defect

VIENNA (AP)—The total of East European hockey fans who defected in Vienna has risen to 113, a spokesman at the Austrian interior ministry said today.

They include 95 Czechoslovaks, 16 Hungarians and two Poles.

Several thousand East European fans came to Vienna for the recent world hockey championships.

Black Hawks' Nest Lined With Gold

MONTREAL (CP)—The maximum amount of reward money Chicago Black Hawks could have won this season for regular - schedule play in the National Hockey League was $31,750 and they won all but $250 of it.

Final statistics released by NHL headquarters today show that the only player who prevented the Hawks from making a sweep of the awards was goalie Ed Giacomin of New York Rangers, who won $250 as the leading goaltender in the first half of the 1966-67 season.

The Black Hawks, who scored a record 264 goals on their way to their first NHL championship and "Prince of Wales Trophy," receive 21 units of $1,250 each while the Leafs will get 17 units of $750. The Rangers, who skipped to fourth place with 72 points, after finishing one place most of the season, will receive 21 units of $250 each.

Detroit Red Wings finished fifth and Boston Bruins were last for the sixth time in the last seven seasons.

In the individual awards, Stan Mikita of the Hawks captured the Art Ross Trophy as scoring champion with a record-tying 97 points, including a record 62 assists.

He gets $1,000 as champion plus $500 as first-half leader and $250 as runner-up to Giacomin. Bobby Hull in the second half. His total ties the mark set by Hull last season and the total total breaks the record of 59 he set in 1964-65.

STAN MIKITA

Hull, who led the league in goals with 53—the third time he has scored 50 or more goals in a season, including his record of 54 last season—finished second to the scoring with 80 points. He gets $500 as over-all runner-up plus $500 for leading in the second half when he scored 29 goals and 17 assists for 46 points, two more than Mikita had in the last half.

In the Vezina Trophy race among goaltenders, the Chicago combination of Glenn Hall and Denis DeJordy won the award with a total of 170 goals against and a combined season goals-against average of 2.43.

They share the Vezina Trophy and $1,000 which accompanies it since each played in more than 25 games. It is the third straight season the trophy has been shared by two goaltenders.

Montreal's goaltenders squeezed past Glenwood and Cesare Maniago of the Rangers during the final weekend to finish as runners-up to Chicago. The Canadiens will get $500. Four netminders—Lorne Worsley, Charlie Hodge, Rogatien Vachon and Gary Bauman—saw action for Montreal this season.

DeJordy and Hall will receive an additional $250, to be divided between them, as leaders in the second half of the season. Giacomin led the first half and also had nine shutouts. DeJordy had four shutouts and Hall had two.

Norm Ullman of Detroit was the third highest scorer this season, finishing with 79 goals and 44 assists for 70 points.

Fourth were veteran right wingers Ken Wharram of Chicago and Gordie Howe of Detroit, each with 63. Sixth was Bobby Rousseau of Montreal with 63, two more than Phil Goyette of the Rangers and Phil Esposito of the Hawks.

Doug Mohns, another Chicago player, was sixth with 60 points, including 25 goals, while Henri Richard of the Canadiens and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit tied for 10th place with 55 points each.

Chicago's Scooter line of Mikita, Wharram and Mohns scored a total 222 points, four short of the record established in 1956-57 by Detroit's trio of Howe, Ullman and Ted Lindsay.

There were 20 players with at least 20 goals this season compared with 26 in 1965-66. Chicago led with six. Detroit had five, Montreal and New York had three, Toronto two and Boston one.

Film Shows No Assist For Mikita

NEW YORK (CP)—Films of a controversial portion of Sunday night's game between Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers corroborated the official scorers' version that the Hawks' Stan Mikita did not earn an assist on a third-period goal by Doug Mohns.

The assist would have enabled Mikita to break the one-season National Hockey League record for total points. He finished with 97, tying the record set by Chicago's Bobby Hull last season.

Films of Mohns' scoring play were viewed Monday afternoon by official scorers Lamie Gervais and Frank Ashmore. The game, won by the Hawks 8-0, was the final one of the regular season for both teams.

Conacher Under Surgery

TORONTO (CP) — Charlie Conacher, a right winger who powered hockey's hardest shot during the 1930s, underwent a five-hour throat operation Monday.

"He came through very well," Dr. Douglas Bryce said of the one-time star of Toronto Maple Leafs' Kid Line. "The lymphatic results are good."

While details of his ailment were not announced Monday, it was earlier learned he had been under treatment for throat cancer.

Conacher, a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, was one of the great wingers in the National Hockey League, playing for 12 years with Toronto, Detroit Red Wings and New York Americans.

After his retirement from active play he turned to coaching junior hockey, returning to the NHL in 1947 as coach of Chicago Black Hawks for three years. He left hockey for good at the end of the 1949-50 season and now is semi-retired.

Record; Says Hawks Over Leafs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The records for the two clubs during the regular 70-game National Hockey League season were established Chicago Black Hawks as the favorite over Toronto Maple Leafs in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-finals.

The series opens Thursday in Chicago with the second game Sunday before the clubs move to Toronto for the third and fourth games.

The league champion Black Hawks defeated the Leafs eight times, lost four and tied two in their meetings this season. They were undefeated in seven home games against Toronto, winning six and tying one.

The Hawks also outscored the Leafs 55-37 in the 14 games.

The all-star centre, Stan Mikita, scored eight goals and assisted on 18 against Leafs. Scoring ace Bobby Hull collected 12 goals and six assists. Hull missed the final three games of the season with a knee injury.

A Black Hawk official said Monday Hull will be ready for the semi-finals along with defenceman Ed Van Impe, injured in the final game of the season Sunday against New York.

The Hawks will be without the services of Matt Ravlich, who suffered a fractured leg last week.

The Chicago club, accustomed to rehearsing in Rockford, Ill., 90 miles away from Chicago, during the playoffs of recent years, will remain at home and practise in a local arena, the official said.

Meanwhile, the Leafs Monday moved directly from Boston where they ended the season against Bruins Sunday to a site near Chicago.

The Toronto club has one player-left winger Larry Jeffrey—sidelined for the playoffs. Jeffrey suffered a separated shoulder in the Boston game and is finished for the rest of the season.

Thursday night's game will be carried nationally by CBC television. The Montreal Canadiens-New York Rangers semi-final game Thursday will be carried by CBC-TV's Quebec regional network.

Blank Grants 4-0

SACO Grabs 2-0 Lead

SACO, of the Quinte Hockey League, apparently has no intentions of being a bridesmaid twice in one season.

The club finished second to Grand Bailey during the regular schedule but with the two clubs now playing for the playoff title, it's a different story.

SACO whitewashed the Realty boys 4-0 last night to snatch of 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven similar series.

The third game will be played tomorrow (Wednesday) at 8:00 with the fourth on Saturday, at 7:00 p.m.

John Freech turned in another solid effort to earn the SACO shutout and had given up just one goal in the two finals games.

Doug Hallam gave the winners the only goal they needed on a play with D. Bradshaw early in the first period.

They added a pair in the second, Frank "Junior" Day completed a play with Ray Alkenbrod Hallam at 6:38 and Don Forsythe scored unassisted at 12:30.

Hallam picked up his third point of the night by scoring at 7:35 of the third, aided by Day, to complete the scoring.

Each side drew two penalties and SACO scored one powerplay goal and another when themselves shorthanded.

Here's How YOU Can Help!

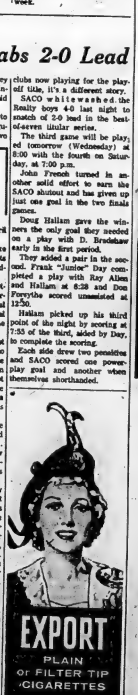
Mark down Wednesday, April 12 on your calendar.

That's the night you can take in a hockey game for two bits and assist local 2 standard children at the same time.

The Belleville Fire Department and the Downtown Optimists clubs "will play their annual "grudge" game at Memorial Arena next Wednesday. Game time is 7.30.

It is all in fun, of course, but money from your tickets will go a long way with assisting the retarded children's program in Belleville. And the 25 cent ticket will not only take you in to the game but will entitle you to a chance on the draw prizes as well.



Bob Bisaond is in charge of the Merchants team and Ed Wood is looking after the Firemen. Apparently they have a few "secret weapons" up their collective sleeves since neither has announced his lineup as yet.

It will be available shortly however and since the Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins have been eliminated from the NHL playoff picture, the lineups will bear watching for rangers such as Bobby Orr, Bryan Watsons or Gordie Howes.

Better buy a ticket even if you can't make the game. A quarter won't hurt but it sure can help.

SEEK RESTIC

TORONTO (CP)—Joe Restic, assistant coach of Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Eastern Football Conference, may take over as coach of the Toronto Argonauts replacing Bob Shaw. Lew Hayman, managing director of Argonauts, said Monday he has talked to Restic and that Restic is interested. "He's our first choice, if he'll come," said Hayman.

Crystal Ball; Habs To Retain Cup

By STERLING TAYLOR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Two guys with a coin's board and a gal with a crystal ball have figured it out—the Stanley Cup will stay in Montreal.

So at the risk of being charged with fortune telling or practising verse without poetic licence, they forecast the outcome of this year's Stanley Cup playoffs.

The three forecasters are Sid Smith and Danny Lewicki, retired National Hockey League forwards, and Madam Zaida, the medium with the message.

Smith, a left winger for 11 years with Toronto Maple Leafs, predicts: "Chicago Black Hawks won the National Hockey League championship this season and they've got a strong team, but they're not a good bet in the playoffs."

Smith, former Leaf captain, based his opinion on the performance of the Black Hawks during the last two playoff years, when they were beaten by Montreal in the 1965 finals and lost to the underdog Detroit Red Wings in the semi-finals last year.

"... Bobby Hull was hurt with three games left to play in the regular schedule. He's going to be a bit out of shape in the playoffs and everyone will be running at him.

"Stan Mikita hasn't been a good consistent player during the last two years of playoffs and who else have they got?

"The Rangers haven't got the experience to get past the Canadiens. . . ."

"Toronto will beat the Hawks in a long series and Montreal will beat the Leafs for the cup."

Lewicki, a left winger who played 14 431 games with Toronto, New York and Chicago, agreed that the Canadiens will be hard to beat.

"The team is the same one that won the cup last year, and although they got off to a slow start this season, they've turned it on.

"You have to discount the Hawks. They just don't know how to play in the playoffs. Besides, Hull is hurting. He was hurting last year in the semi-finals and the Wings beat them.

"The Rangers started the season great but they haven't produced when the pressure was on.

"Anyway, the Leafs will get past Chicago, but their aging defence will not hold up against Montreal. Allan Stanley is so slow now it's pathetic, and Tim Horton has only Tim Horton who can lug the puck out of his own end.

Madam Zelda eyed her teacup and called it thus:

"Chicago would really be a threat if they stopped selling beer in their own stadium. But when the fans throw the beer containers on the ice it halts the games and cools out the Hawks.

"Toronto will win the semi-finals.

"One good Canadian isn't enough to get the Rangers past Montreal," she said, referring to Boom Boom Geoffrion, who made a comeback with the Rangers this season after retiring from the Canadiens two years ago.

"The Toronto team is too old to beat the Habs. They've got no power play and a weak defence. And don't forget the leprechauns are King Clancy's property. They don't like Punch Imlach."

Clancy coached the Leafs over one of their most successful stretches this season while coach Imlach was in hospital.

Soccer Merger Looms

TORONTO (CP) — Two different soccer officials have taken opposing views on the agreement reached Sunday between the United Soccer Association and the Canadian Soccer Football Association.

Steve Stavro, owner of Toronto City of the USA, said at a press conference Monday the CSFA will receive a minimum of $750,000 from the league in the next 25 years. He said the money will be used to develop soccer at all levels.

In return, the USA received rights to operate teams in Montreal, Windsor, Calgary and other major Canadian centres. "It's a bit of a one-off," Stavro said. "But the league could operate out of all major cities in Canada."

Stavro said since soccer now is becoming popular in the United States, there would be a college draft similar to the one in baseball and football.

William Simpson of Toronto, elected to a third term as president of the CSFA, disputed Stavro's interpretation of the agreement, saying:

"The USA does not have rights to operate teams in other Canadian cities.

"USA officials tried to put through a clause to that effect, giving them sole rights to control soccer in Canada, but they were told negotiations would proceed until the clause was dropped."

Simpson said the CSFA gave Toronto and Vancouver clubs franchises as a 10-table rather against competition from new pro clubs.

He also said the CSFA insists on retaining control of soccer in Canada and no draft of Canadian players.

Stavro predicted that the United Soccer Association and the National Professional Soccer League will merge within the next year. Negotiations were underway and it was more a solution would be reached by 1968.

A merger had been rumored for several weeks.

APPEALS TO JOHNSON

CAIRO (AP) — Mohammed Oweida, secretary - general of the Egypt Council for Islamic Affairs, has appealed to U.S. President Johnson "in the name of 600,000,000 Moslems" to stop the U.S. Army induction of the heavyweight boxing champion, Mohammad Ali—Cassius Clay on April 28.

Oweida said Monday he had received petitions from Moslems in Africa, Asia, Europe and the United States denouncing the "arbitrary" decision to conscript Clay.

Stanley Cup Video

TORONTO (CP) — The CBC announced Monday the schedule for televising the first five games of this year's Stanley Cup best-of-seven semi-finals.

The first game of the A series between Chicago Black Hawks and Toronto Maple Leafs in Chicago Thursday night will be carried on the CBC national network. The first game of the B series, also being played Thursday night between Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers at Montreal, will be carried on the Quebec regional network.

The second game of the B series Saturday afternoon will be carried on the CBC national network as well as the CBS national network in the U.S. The second game of the A series Sunday night will be telecast nationally by the CBC.

The third game of each series will be played Tuesday, April 11, with the Montreal - New York game being televised only on the Toronto-Chicago carried on the Ontario regional network.

The fourth A series will be on the national CBC network April 13, while the B series will go on the Quebec regional network.

The April 15 game in both series will both be carried nationally by the CBC, with the Toronto-Chicago game in the afternoon also being telecast nationally in the U.S. by CBS.

Fife Leads Warkworth Into Finals

Glen Ross Raboin are wishing today that a hockey player named Moe Fife had kept his hockey talents in Scotland.

Fife, who served as a playing coach in Scotland a few years back, led the Warkworth team past Glen Ross and into the Inter - County Rural Hockey playoff finals last night.

Warkworth topped Glen Ross 8-6 and won the semi - final set two games to none. They will now meet Camp Picton for the championship.

Fife was on an alt but one of Warkworth's scoring plays last night. He fired four goals himself and assisted on three others.

Bob Delaney scored twice, Roger McGee and Gerry Doherty got one each to complete the win ners' scoring.

Tommy Glover paced Glen Ross with three goals and two assists. Andy Faulkner, Glen Hagerman and Jack Wright also scored and Phillipcar picked up a pair of assists.

The game was tied 1-1 after one period but Warkworth scored five without a reply in the second heat. Glen Ross trailed 8-2 in the third before scoring four in the last three minutes and 42 seconds.

Warkworth drew four of six minor penalties.

Alberta Captures Curl Title

WINNIPEG (CP) — Alberta clinched its fourth Dominion firefighters' curling championship in eight years Monday night by defeating Ontario 13-4 in the eighth round.

Skipped by 1964 all-star skip Don Monroe of Red Deer, the Albertans came from behind to defeat Nova Scotia's Dave Beck 13-10 in the seventh round before swamping Harvey Roberts of Markham, Ont., in the seventh.

Monroe is supported by two of the men he had on the winning team in the 1964 championship at Vancouver.

Third is Wayne Butts and lead is Dennis Calvert. New member is second Ed Nichol. Other Alberta firefighters won the event in 1963 and 1965.

All that's left for the champions is to play for the all-star berths in today's ninth round. They will meet defending 1966 champion Saskatchewan.

Arnie Tops Loot List

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Canadian George Knudson continues to rank among the top winners on the current golf tour, a bit lead by money winners showed Monday.

Knudson was ninth with total winnings of $17,788. That included $14,617.50 in official Professional Golfers Association tournaments.

Arnold Palmer, whose third-place finish in the Greensboro Open netted him $9,000 Sunday, moved to the lead with a total of $62,402.30 in winnings, including $54,673.21 in official PGA earnings.

Not among the top 10 was Jack Nicklaus, the top golf earner last season.

CANADIANS WINS

GAP, France (Reuters) — A team of hockey players from the Montreal Dorchester Hockey League defeated a Gap team 12-6 Monday night. The Canadians are led by Maurice (Rocket) Richard, retired Montreal Canadiens' star.

Caribbean Hop Shook Up Yankees

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees' recent Caribbean hop does not appear destined to go down as one of the more successful island excursions of all time.

For one thing, the Yanks won only one of the three weekend games they played in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. For another, the medical aftereffects of the trip were staggering.

Back at their spring training base in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Monday, the Yankees discovered that outfielder Lou Clinton and infielder Charley Smith were lost for up to three weeks because of injuries suffered in the islands.

X-rays showed that Clinton, hit by a pitch, had fractured a thumb and Smith had suffered a shoulder separation diving for a line drive.

The Yankees picked up John Kennedy in a trade with Los Angeles and named the good-field, no-hit infielder their starting shortstop. Pitcher Jack Cullen, outfielder - first baseman John Miller and about $25,000 went to the Dodgers, who also got infielder - outfielder Roy White on a one-year loan for Dodger - Spokane farm club.

The Yankees lost to Washington Senators 7-2 Monday night as Jim Bouton was cuffed for six hits, five walks and committed a wild pitch.

Willie Stargell pinch hit a two-run homer with two out in the ninth, sending Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-2 triumph over Chicago A'ths at Bradenton, Fla. Veale gave up one run in eight innings.

Jack Marichal allowed two hits in six innings and Bill Sorrell singled in the winning run in the 11th inning for a 3-2 San Francisco Giants victory over Cleveland Indians. Five straight walks in the 10th by Steve Bailey allowed the Giants to tie the score.

Jack Hamilton and Bill Denehy combined to limit Chicago White Sox to two hits and New York Mets won 4-1. The Mets scored three times in the first inning highlighted by doubles by Cleon Jones and Johnny Lewis.

Rico Carty drove in two runs with a double and triple in seven inning, lifting Atlanta Braves to a 2-1 decision over Philadelphia Phillies. Deron Johnson drove in four runs with two singles and a double, powering Cincinnati Reds to a 6-4 triumph over Detroit Tigers.

Orlando Cepeda drove in a run and scored two others and Mike Shannon had three hits as St. Louis Cardinals pounded Minnesota Twins 8-1. Harmon Killebrew hit his seventh home run of the spring for the Twins. Ted Savage connected for the Cardinals.

An error by shortstop Lee Eales in the fifth inning allowed the tie-breaking run to cross th plate and Los Angeles Dodgers beat Houston Astros 4-2.

Thetford Takes 2-0 Lead

THETFORD MINES, Que. (CP) — Thetford Mines Canadiens are almost unbeatable at home this year.

In 34 games on home ice, including playoffs, they have lost only two games — both during the Quebec Junior A Hockey League regular schedule.

Monday night, again at home, they blanked Halifax Junior Canadiens 7-3.

The victory was their second in as many nights and carried a 2-0 lead into the best-of-seven Eastern Canada Memorial Cup semi-final.

Jean Frederic sparked Thetford Mines in the rough, hard-hitting contest with three goals as the winners built up a 4-2 first-period lead and carried a 5-2 lead into the third period.

Andre Gaudette, Jean Luc Duquette, Gilbert Perreault and Rejean completed the Thetford Mines scoring.

Kibenka 10-1 Favorite

LONDON (AP) — Bookmakers Monday made four-year-old Kibenka 10-1 favorite for Wednesday's Lincolnshire Handicap, first big race of the English flat season.

The mile race carries the first of the year's Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes.

Kibenka will be ridden by Australian jockey Scobie Breasley, winner of the last two Lincolnshire events.

Second favorite is Lucky Bucanit at 11-1 and Christmas Review is third at 12-1.

Bookies also made movie star Gregory Peck's Different Class the favorite in the National steeplechase favorite at 9-1. The National will be run Saturday.

In the National, second and third favorites are Basmet at 8-1 and Freddie at 11-1.

Bobcats Tops In Darts League

Temple's Bobcats scored a 3-2 victory over Wil's B.P. Robinson Construction and moved up into first place in the Belleville and District Darts League standing with the win.

Bobcats finished with 103 points while the runner-up Barflies had 164. Barflies were beaten 74 by Legion in their final game.

Other scores were: ANAF Warriors 4, Quinte Roofers 3; RCAF Association A, Wilkes 3; Gameshots 9, City Cleaners 3; ANAF Dukes 6, Black Diamond 1.

High scores went to Phil Cornell with 140 and Norm Barrage with 135.

Horsemen May Close Aqueduct

NEW YORK (AP) — Horse owners and trainers have started their stretch run for bigger purses at Aqueduct race track by agreeing to withhold entries indefinitely starting Wednesday, which could close the track.

Some 200 members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association decided on the action in retaliation against the state legislature's failure to give them a substantial one-half of one per cent—about $3,500,000—of the handle for purses.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the state senate had approved the increase, but the state assembly shocked horsemen by letting the measure die Monday in committee when the legislature adjourned for the year.

At a result the NBPA, in its meeting Monday, not only voted the boycott, but raised its request to their original bid of one per cent.

The owners and trainers, who comprise the association, say the state realized about $77,000,000 in tax revenues, the largest amount of any state, from thoroughbred tracks last season and New York's present 2.25 per cent for purses is the smallest in the country.

PREDICTS MERGER

TORONTO (CP)—The United Soccer Association and the National Professional Soccer League will merge within a year, Steve Stavro, owner of Toronto City of the USA, predicted Monday. He said negotiations are proceeding between the two leagues. "It won't come this year but I'm sure that by 1968 we have worked out a solution to the problem," he told a news conference.

Knudson; Sharp And Hungry

The Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Amateurs are capable of winning the Masters but the pressure and the tournament's timing help stack the cards against them, says Deane Beman, onetime United States Amateur champion.

"When the best is on, everybody chokes," Beman added Monday after teeing up for Thursday's opening round of the tournament in which he heads a classy field of amateurs challenging such pros as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper in the 63-man international field.

"There are probably only three or four amateurs in the tournament who can play well enough to win, and there are about 70 pros, so the odds are 20 to 1 against us right off.

"With the Masters held this early in the year, most of the amateurs haven't had time yet to play much golf, while most of the pros have been on the winter tour."

Also hoping to beat out the pros besides Beman are Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., the reigning U.S. Amateur champion; British Open champion Bobby Cole, 18, of South Africa and Ron Cerrudo, muscular, 19-year-old San Jose State grad considered a top pro prospect. Cerrudo has had a 66 in practice.

Cowan said the timing of the Masters couldn't be worse for him because he can't start playing this early.

"But I think I've got an out-

GEORGE KNUDSON

side chance to win it, just like anyone else," the 28-year-old insurance man said. "I don't think you should automatically count the amateurs out. You see Bobby Cole, he can really play."

It just might be the year for the other Canadian amateur, 24-year-old George Knudson of Toronto.

Despite taking a three-week layoff prior to coming here, Knudson still is ninth ranked among this year's tour money winners with official winnings of $14,617.50 and unofficial winnings of $3,148.50. He also has a master amateur title and is pointing at this year since he placed 19th in 1963 and tied for sixth last year.

Reports on his practice play Monday indicate the rest from the tour problem has left him sharp and hungry.

Double Trouble For Clay

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit boxing promoter threatened to seek a court injunction today to prevent heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay from defending his title against Floyd Patterson in Las Vegas.

Jean Wilson, head of Z and J Sports Club, said the club's attorney, Eddie Kenrich, would ask federal court today to stop the fight from being held anywhere but in Detroit.

Clay, 25, and Patterson, 32, the former heavyweight champion, had been negotiating with Z and J to stage the fight in Detroit.

But an authoritative source told The Associated Press Monday night that negotiations fell through and Clay's managers decided to take the bout to Las Vegas.

"I just feel that there is some sort of conspiracy," said Mrs. Wilson. "We feel that Mr. Muhammad Ali's camp interfered with our completing a contract with Mr. Patterson."

Mrs. Wilson refers to be called Muhammad Ali, stopped Patterson in 12 rounds at Las Vegas Nov. 22, 1965. Clay's last title defence was March 22 when he knocked out Zora Folley in the seventh round at Madison Square Garden in New York.

The New York source said the Las Vegas fight would also be shown on closed circuit television in the United States and Canada and would be beamed via satellites to Japan and parts of Europe.

It would be Clay's 10th title defence and the eighth in the last 12 months.

Smith said Clay had a 10th title defence and the eighth in the last 12 months.

Smith said Clay had a 10th title defence and the eighth in the last 12 months.

Smith said Clay had been promised a $150,000 guarantee by Z and J.

Patterson was offered 20 per cent of the gate and $2,500 for traffic expenses, he said.

But Smith said Patterson's managers demanded a guarantee of $60,000 against 20 per cent of the gross gate, plus training expenses.

"At that rate you'd have to get a gate of $400,000 before you could break even," he said.

Drug Inquiry Prescribes Competition Cure for High Prices

OTTAWA (CP) — Price competition, not product rivalry, is the route to lower drug costs for consumers and Canadians can get on that road with prompt government industrial action, says the Commons drug prices inquiry.

The inquiry report, tabled Monday in the Commons by Dr. Harry Harley (L—Halton), sets out a series of proposals to lessen the protective barriers enjoyed by major drug manufacturers from cheaper drug imports. They would also mean doctors away from prescribing mainly by the more expensive brand-name drugs.

Dr. Harley, chairman of the 24-member Commons committee which spent 13 months studying the drug industry, held a press conference later to figure the consumer drug bill could be cut by one-quarter or one-third if the committee's recommendations are implemented.

The report urged quick action to lower prices because of impending medical care insurance and other welfare measures, which may cover drugs.

The committee's first conclusion is "that the price of drugs in Canada is at least higher than it need be."

It proposes a two - fold approach.

1. Protective barriers against cheaper imports would be lowered through legislative and administrative action on patent, tariffs, trade marks and taxes.

2. At the same time, government safety checks would be increased and a program would be launched to convince doctors and patients that drugs sold by chemical or generic name are just as safe as more-expensive brand-name drugs.

On the legislative and administrative fronts, the committee proposed:

1. Licensed patent protection by expanding the patent licensing system to permit for the first time imports of patented drugs by rivals of the patent holder.

2. Removal, of the 12-per-cent federal sales tax, paid on manufacturers sales, although an equivalent and rapid drop in consumer prices would not necessarily follow.

3. A tariff board review of the tariff structure and steps to prevent trademarks being used by the trademark owner to curtail imports by rivals.

4. Changes in customs laws and procedures to set duties on imports at costs of production plus an allowance for profit. The report notes the Alberta government proposal of a 10 - per - cent allowance rather than the present rate, ranging between 30 and 75 per cent.

5. Limitation of duties on imports to drugs of a kind actually made in this country rather than on virtually all pharmaceutical products as at present.

Accompanying these steps to promote competition for th manufacturers, the committee recommended that the federal food and drug directorate publish free a monthly newsletter to doctors giving full medical and cost information on various drugs.

Dr. William W. Wigle, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association of Canada, said the association will study the committee's recommendations before commenting. But in an address to the American drug manufacturers' last weekend he attacked the idea that brand-name and generic drugs are clinically equivalent.

The committee's report noted that the directorate had no evidence that drugs sold by generic names are just as safe as those sold by brand names.

PMAC members, overwhelmingly foreign-owned and concentrated in Quebec and Ontario, produce about 85 per cent of the dollar volume of prescription drugs sold in Canada, marketing most of them under brand names.

The committee maintains the drug manufacturers spend excessive sums promoting their products, suggesting that much of this—representing roughly 30 cents on the sales dollar—would be unneeded if doctors are supplied with non-biased information through the proposed newsletter.

The committee urges consumers to shop for the best price by having prescriptions filled since prices vary. And it criticizes the practice of coding whereby a prescription is marked so that on refills the druggists know how much was paid initially by the consumer.

Opposition Renews Its Battle Against Unification of Forces

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition MPs renewed their rearguard action against Defence Minister Hellyer's armed forces unification bill in the Commons Monday.

The bill, on Prime Minister Pearson's list of priority items to be cleared up before a controversial summer recess, was the first item of business as MPs buckled down after an 11-day Easter recess.

Although some Conservatives have promised a protracted fight against it, there was speculation outside the House that the debate would not extend past mid-April.

Mr. Hellyer laid down a 60-minute barrage to open clause-by-clause study of the bill's 45 sections. He aimed it mainly at "myths" he said have been proposed about unification.

Conservative and New Democratic MPs shot back, saying Mr. Hellyer had not made a case for unification.

Marcel Lambert (PC — Edmonton West) said the government had been caught up in a "management-and program" in the plumpiest for unification. Mr. Hellyer had yet to demonstrate that there were "demonstrable advantages, preponderant advantages, for the single force."

Andrew Brewin (NDP—Toronto Greenwood) said unification would only be a wise move if Canada was to adopt new roles for her forces. It made no sense if Canada continued a militarily - useless role in Europe.

If Canada was to create a mobile force with the main job of taking part in brushfire wars or peacekeeping operations, the people should be told. This would be a key argument for unification.

Mr. Hellyer said Canada does not intend to confine her forces to peacekeeping duty. She could meet and was meeting all defence commitments to NATO, North American air defence and the United Nations.

Charles - Arthur Gauthier (Creditiste - Roberval) promised his party's support for unification but said he disagreed that the defence budget continues to climb despite promises that integration and subsequent unification would trim costs.

Donald MacInnis (PC—Cape Breton South) said Mr. Hellyer's statement that there had been cost reductions of up to 40 per cent in some cases as a result of integration was "a lot of nonsense and hogwash."

Mr. Hellyer described the present bill as a "statement of intention" that a single service is the ultimate goal. Unification, if approved by Parliament now, would not be completed until 1972 or 1973.

This appeared to be a counter to arguments that the government was rushing into unification pell-mell without adequate planning, a main criticism of the bill in its progress through the Commons so far and in six meetings of the defence committee.

There would be no headlong rush to get servicemen into new would be done only after a series of user trials.

There was no intention to harm the unified service as long as a lack-of-all trades. Mr. Hellyer also said it was "absolute nonsense" to claim there was anything resembling conscription in making members of individual services arms part of a unified force.

He mentioned four points in favor of unification:

1. Servicemen would identify themselves with the forces as a whole.

2. The problem of service representation on combined staffs would be ended. The best officer available for any appointment would be named without regard to service.

3. It would be easier to change the roles and missions of the forces if and when this became necessary.

4. Future demands could be more easily met. If a space force was developed—there was no present intention of doing this—it could be done more easily without an inter-service battle over which arm would be top dog.

H. A. Olson (SC — Medicine Hat) suggested the government use a provisional rule to limit debate if discussion of the bill went on for two or three days with no sign of ending. Gordon Churchill (PC—Winnipeg South Centre), said this smacked of closure and that Mr. Olson often spoke for the government in procedural affairs. Mr. Olson denied this.

Mr. MacInnis said Liberal MPs on the committee voted for a form of conscription when they defeated a suggestion that each serviceman be allowed to say whether he wanted to become a member of the unified service.

"You voted for conscription," he said, emphasizing the word in directing the remark to Liberals from Quebec.

The Conservatives forced a formal vote on the bill at the start of clause-by-clause study.

Mr. Churchill called it on the routine motion that the Speaker leave the chair to open the way for detailed consideration.

The move appeared to catch the Liberals by surprise. But after division bells rang for about 20 minutes, the Conservatives were voted down 81 to 43.

Should a "non-swinger" visit swinging Britain?

Yes. Very definitely! Because Britain is just as lively or leisurely as you care to make it. It's simply a matter of choice. Some of our passengers fly to Britain for a swinging vacation. Others prefer the things which are uniquely British—the friendly pubs, the gentle countryside. The pomp. The pageantry.

Only BOAC with Air Canada flies direct to Britain, and this summer we offer you the choice of up to 12 jet services a day from Toronto and Montreal. And there are several flights a week from western Canada; including direct Western Arrow services to London.

Plan your trip now. See your BOAC travel agent and he'll get swinging with all the necessary arrangements.

Error Made In Report

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Press erroneously quoted Gen. Jean V. Allard Monday as saying that opposition to unification is mostly the result of political ambition.

As a result of a translation error, CP quote's Gen. Allard, chief of the defence staff, as telling a meeting of the International Relations Club of Montreal College here Saturday that opposition to members of the Commons hope to strengthen their chances of being reelected by opposing Defence Minister Hellyer's plan.

What Gen. Allard did say was that critics of his own favorable attitude toward unification have sought to explain it away by saying he has "political ambitions."

Disguising Cancer Cells in Overcoats Might Open Way to Effective Vaccine

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A new technique for heavily disguising cancer cells with chemicals — biological overcoats—might open the way to effective vaccines for treating or even preventing human cancer, a New Jersey scientist reported Monday.

And one of the key overcoat materials, he said, is a protein derived from cows.

Researcher Otto J. Plescia of Rutgers University said experimental vaccines containing mouse - cancer cells previously outfitted with such overcoats had done this:

They promoted significant degrees of resistance, in mice, to a purposely-induced form of cancer that ordinarily is such a sure-fire malignancy in such animals.

He told a science writers' seminar sponsored by the American Cancer Society the new technique — deemed ready for human trials as far as he is concerned—is based on this concept:

There is reason to believe a cancer, when it invades the body, has elements of a "transplanted tissue"—foreign to the host body. Therefore, in theory, a cancer should automatically "be rejected" just as transplants of normal tissue or organs from one person to another are ordinarily rejected, except under special circumstances.

But there is further theory that holds that the reason cancers do not get rejected is that they are not quite "foreign" enough to the host body.

So, said Dr. Plescia, his new technique, is aimed at artificially enhancing the "foreignness" of certain elements in a cancer cell—called antigens—so as to stimulate defensive antibodies.

This has been done so far by mixing mouse cancer cells with materials such as bovine gamma - globulin and certain complex sugars so the cells become heavily coated. Then the mixture is used to make a vaccine. And the unruly overcoats appear, in effect, to fool the mouse's system into believing the cancer-cells are super-foreign.

Dr. Plescia said that if the early encouraging findings in mice are extended—and if anticipated human trials further confirm the underlying theories—two possibilities suggest themselves.

1. Using cells from a person's existing cancer to make a treatment vaccine.

2. If further research reveals there are certain antigens common to all cancer, it might be possible to make vaccines that could be given to healthy persons to prevent the onset of cancer.

THEY RE-GREW HAIR!

IN 12 MONTHS IN 3 MONTHS

Hair Specialist Here Wednesday
-Will Show Men and Women How to Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

OTTAWA, Ont. New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Belleville, Wednesday, April 5th, 1967, Quinte Hotel.

Specialist B. Charbonneau will be in charge, representing the dynamic Roberts Hair & Scalp Specialists organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1.00 to 8.00 p.m.

This new treatment is neither "mail order" nor "course-like". It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked at regular intervals by a Roberts Specialist.

Who Can Be Helped?

Will the new Roberts' treatment cure baldness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually bring on excessive hair-loss — dandruff, itching, over-oiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or seborrhea — can be corrected by the Roberts home treatment if caught in time.

"DON'T WAIT UNTIL IT'S TOO LATE."

Baldness won't wait for doubters to be convinced, you're going to keep right on losing hair 'til you're bald — unless you get your scalp in healthy, hair-growing condition again.

Examine You Free

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation is to yourself. We do not accept cases that will not respond.

Guarantee Satisfaction

The Roberts' Specialists will give you a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within 30 days or it will cost you nothing.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems see the desk clerk for Mr. B. Charbonneau's room number. He does not make appointments, so come in at your convenience.

Examinations are given in private.

MLA Meets Challenge With Specific Charges

EDMONTON (CP)—An opposition member challenged to produce specific charges of government impropriety backed by evidence, submitted Tuesday 54 exhibits and four charges to the Speaker of the Alberta legislature.

Gerth Turcott (NDP—Pincher Creek-Crowsnest) received the ultimatum Friday and was given until 2 p.m. Monday to produce the charges. He did so with 35 minutes to spare.

An hour later, Speaker Art Dixon tabled the material.

Mr. Turcott, the only NDP member of the legislature, charged:

1. That Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke used or attempted to use his high office for the personal gain of himself, his friends and his business associates in conflict with his public duty.

2. That former provincial treasurer E. W. Hinman used or attempted to use his high office while a member of the government for his personal gain in conflict with his public duty.

3. That Mr. Hinman knowingly and deliberately misled the house by falsely declaiming any and all involvement in the affairs of the Edmonton Airport Hotel Co. Ltd., and Alberta Wood Forest Products Cor. Ltd.

4. That Premier E. C. Manning has wilfully and improperly questioned Mr. Turcott's integrity; that he has implied and insinuated wrongdoing on Mr. Turcott's part; and that he has moved a motion wherein he deplores the aforementioned alleged impropriety without presenting specific charges supported by evidence.

Friday's motion also rebuked Mr. Turcott for the allegations he first brought before the house last month.

Mr. Turcott at the time tabled documents, newspaper clippings and magazine articles, questioned some land dealings by Mr. Hooke and called for a judicial inquiry.

The Met's Lead Ballet Soloist

THE MET'S SOLOIST — Sally Brayley, 29-year-old Canadian, has been the lead soloist with the Metropolitan Opera's ballet company for the last five years. She is considering an invitation to become prima ballerina with the Kiel and Luebeck Ballet Company of West Germany but doesn't want to leave New York for a full season.

(CP Photo)

Met Cancels Its Ballet Night So Canadian Quits Soloist Job

NEW YORK (CP)—She has, if she wants it, a career of 10 to 15 years ahead of her as a lead soloist with major ballet companies.

"But I don't know," she muses. "Marriage . . . babies. Maybe I will give up dancing and, when I get married, just have babies."

Whatever her decision, Sally Brayley, the 29-year-old Canadian who became the Metropolitan Opera's lead soloist, probably will continue dancing for at least another year. But not with the Met.

She left the Met Dec. 30, partly for personal reasons, partly because a financial hassle had forced the Met to cancel its ballet night, leaving her with little to do for the rest of the season.

The head of the Kiel and Luebeck Ballet Company saw her dance at the Met last year and recently asked her to join the company.

But Miss Brayley , who was born in London and has called Montreal, Ottawa and Halifax home, doesn't want to leave New York for a year's season at a time.

So, if negotiations work out, she will become the company's guest artist, rather than prima ballerina, visiting West Germany a month at a time.

The company discussions between Kiel and Luebeck on the Baltic Sea near the border with East Germany.

Miss Brayley looks back on her four years with the Met with these words:

"It has been a great honor to dance at the old Met, because all the great ballerinas danced there, and it was a great honor to be one of the first to dance at the new Met.

"That's something I'll remember all my life."

Miss Brayley was 16 when she got her first professional job, dancing in the grandstand show at the Canadian National Exhibition. At 18, she joined a company, headed by Brian MacDonald, and danced in television shows, sometimes five a week, for a year.

In 1956, she joined the National Ballet of Canada and worked her way in six seasons from the back of the corps de ballet to soloist.

"It was a great experience. I learned discipline in that company which is lacking in other companies."

But "it was also the most miserable time of my life."

The pace and temperament of the company were getting her down and her marriage was on the rocks. Eventually, in 1965, she and Norman Tobias, a bassoon player, now with the Toronto Symphony, were divorced.

In 1962, Miss Brayley was dancing in summer stock in Connecticut when she decided it was time to make a move.

She auditioned for the Met and was accepted.

Within two months, she ripped a cartilage in her knee while dancing in Die Meistersinger on Christmas Eve.

"It was terrible, terrible, and I didn't know a soul in New York."

Within two months of her knee operation, she was dancing the lead in a production of the Met's ballet studio. Nevertheless, she didn't feel she was getting anywhere.

"But in 1963, they brought in Dame Alicia Markova as ballet mistress and because of that, I decided to stay."

Not surprising, considering she credits Markova with her decision as a little girl in Montreal in 1941 to study ballet. One night, her mother took her to see the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. She saw Markova dance in the prelude to Les Sylphides, and was entranced.

It was Markova who guided her toward her debut in the Met's ballet night—in the prelude to Les Sylphides.

With these ballet nights, Miss Brayley began receiving the critical acclaim that was to grow as she established herself as the Met's leading soloist.

Miss Brayley's stay at the Met was eventful in more than one way. She had several "traumatic experiences, all of which happened within six months."

On one occasion, she was one of the Three Graces in Tannhauser. They were being pulled across the stage in a box, with Miss Brayley the only Grace standing upright. The box got stuck in a crack in the old Met stage.

"Well, the stagehand gave one great yank on the rope, jolted the box forward and I did a double flip. I ran offstage in a terrible state. I came on again, but I couldn't do a thing right."

On another occasion, during a production of La Gioconda at the new Met, her partner was unwise enough to do his celebrating before the performance.

"There were 10 lifts and he dropped me in all of them," recalls Miss Brayley, who can smile about it now, but just.

Miss Brayley's first and last performances at the Met were in Faust.

"It was really wonderful, that last time. My favorite singer, Gabriella Tucci, was singing Marguerite, and the second ballet lead was my best friend, Naomi Marrit."

TV-Radio Column

Frail Shows in Daytime Schedules Due to Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The strike by the American Federation of Television Radio Artists has forced some hasty and temporary changes in daytime television, and ABC made some more Monday to Friday repair of frail morning shows.

First there was Dateline: Hollywood, a daily gossipy apparently designed for movie fans who don't get enough inside stuff on the film capital in fan magazines.

It opened with shots of Steve McQueen becoming the 123rd candidate for movie immortality by leaving his hand prints in the cement walk of a Hollywood cinema palace.

Actress Suzanne Pleshette was then interviewed by Suzanne Jerome Barnes on her attitudes toward life and success. Miss Pleshette thought women should be a little aggressive, was against equality for the sexes and believed the theory that a woman is washed up at 21 is "an American fallacy."

Scarcely had the viewer's pulse ceased pounding over this show than ABC unveiled its Children's Doctor, in which for five minutes—less commercial time — a pediatrician demonstrated the proper technique of feeding and burping a two-week-old baby.

While the soap operas have been replaced for the strike's duration by assorted reruns it is doubtful that sponsors will pull out of the daytime shows—even, as is likely, if there is a marked decrease in the housewife audience.

To balance the expected drop in viewers is the fact that there are no production costs in rerunning old Jack Benny or Loretta Young shows. Those savings could well be passed along to the sponsor. Some of the most popular serials charge as much as $8,000 a minute for commercial time, figure which would be cut by half during a period of emergency replacements.

Mel Ferrer Directs Wife Audrey Hepburn

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mel Ferrer, actress Audrey Hepburn's husband, now is, at least temporarily, her boss as well.

The arrangement works fine, he says:

"We help and complement each other. There's no question about who's boss."

Temperamentally, he said, she's actually the steadier of the two.

Ferrer's superiority in the Hollywood hierarchy is as producer, for the first time, of a movie in which his wife is merely the feminine star.

"I'm doing the same hours and driving to and from the studio together are ideal," he said.

"But we don't abuse the privilege.

"This is only the fifth time we've worked together."

They co-starred in Dodsne, on Broadway shortly before their marriage in 1954; in Mayerling on television and in War and Peace, on film in Italy. He directed her in Green Mansions at MGM.

As he spoke, between takes, the slim Miss Hepburn played a taut scene from Wait Until Dark, adopted from the Broadway play, in preparation for her role as a blind girl tormented by hoodlums, she donned an eye mask and worked with instructors at schools for the blind in Switzerland and New York.

Promptly at 4:30 on the set an ai-horn signalled a break for tea — an innovation of indulgent producer Ferrer.

"It's a chance to tell a few gags and let off steam," he said..The working hours are 10 to 7 instead of the usual 9 to 5.

"It's brutal to get up at 5:30 every morning," said Ferrer, "and a later hour helps conflict with the Camelot people." They are also working on the Warner Bros. lot.

"And there's less freeway traffic, so the crew has more time with their families."

Mel has directed four films and two stage plays, the latter including Cyrano de Bergerac starring the other Ferrer, Jose, not a relative. He has appeared in 17 movies and produced two recently in Europe.

TIME IS GOLDEN

An 18-inch hour glass, encrusted with precious stones and filled with 30 ounces of gold dust, figures in one of the key scenes of The Honey Pot, starring Rex Harrison and Capucine.

Tarzan Is Still A Swinger, Ratings Move Show to Top

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This television season has proved at least one thing: Tarzan is still a swinger.

The evidence is in the ratings. Although the critics were generally cool to hostile toward the ape man's advent on the boob screen, the new series netted a solid viewership. The NBC demographers are quick to say the audience is not entirely sexual fry. They say they can cite ratings that indicate Tarzan is the second most popular show with women aged 18 to 34.

Such a record made Tarzan a cinch renewal for 1967-68.

All this makes a happy man of Sy Weintraub, who has sunk several of his own millions into an investment he says can't pay off until three years hence.

"That's right," said the producer.

"With the cost of television production moving as it does, you can make a profit in the first three years. It's simply impossible to amortize a show like ours, which is the only one shot totally on location.

"And after a show goes four years—then the values are enormous. You can virtually name your own price.

Weintraub delights in toying with such notions today, but the fact remains he almost saw the whole venture washed away.

"We were washed out twice in Brazil" he said. "Our whole location was lost in the worst rain that Brazil had known for 30 years. We rebuilt and six months later we were wiped out by the second worst flood in 40 years."

The producer figures he lost $80,000 in the double disaster. Deciding the Brazilian location was hexed, he shifted the operation to Mexico City. Production began to move along, but it was touch and go with the network schedule.

To Your Good Health

Second Stroke Is Not Inevitable

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it true that if a person has a stroke he will have another one for sure?

I had a small stroke 3½ years ago which made my left side useless for 20 minutes. I am 58.

Somebody told me that I would get another stroke sometime in the future. I am taking blood pressure medicine. — J.P.

No, it is not true that a stroke is always followed by another and it doesn't seem to me that "Somebody" was either kind or helpful in telling you so.

A stroke is either a clogging or a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. There may be a weak spot. Or high blood pressure may be a factor. Or a clot may have lodged in a narrowed vessel.

If a stroke occurs, it is only good sense to take what ever precautions are indicated to prevent another. In your case you are under medication to keep blood pressure under control.

There is no way to say positively that another stroke cannot occur. But it is equally impossible to say that another one will occur because there are innumerable people who have had one stroke without having a subsequent one.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: The doctor says I have a tumor in the rectum and may need surgery. What causes it? Could it be cancer? Please send your booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," for which I enclose 30 cents in coin and a self - addressed, stamped envelope. — F.M.

A fissure is a split in the mucous membrane and can be the result of constipation or of some irritation or injury to the membrane.

Expansion and contraction can cause a small injury to grow into a longer split. You'll find further explanation in the booklet you request.

A similar injury elsewhere could be healed quite readily by keeping it clean, scrupulously it or splinting it to hold it still, and letting it heal.

But you cannot do these things to a rectal fissure, so surgery is often required to close it.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 70 and physically on a par with my age group except that I have a rectal polyp. Walnut size and just beyond the 20-centimeter range. What doctors are involved in determining whether this growth should be removed via a "freaks" or major surgery? M.T.

By "freaks" I presume you mean the instrument which snips the polyp off while the doctor uses a proctoscope.

Factors indicating necessity of removal would be changes in size or bleeding; since it is well within range of the proctoscope, it can be watched easily.

For the same reason — its accessibility — immediate removal should be seriously considered, because removal and examination is the only positive method of knowing whether it is malignant. Some rectal polyps are innocent, others cancerous.

Necessity of major surgery rather than the simpler method would be determined finally if the polyp is found to be malignant and surrounding tissue should be removed.

• • •

Note to Mrs. J.B.: I am delighted that that operation succeeded so beautifully in correcting your vitiligo (skin disease). The first hue to be given with precision, and the patient must be just as exact in proper exposure to ultraviolet light (sun or lamp). Even so, it does not always work — but sometimes it does, and I don't know of any other effective treatment for this loss of pigment in the skin.

Good Nature, Tact, Erudition, Wisdom Are All Combined in Roland Michener

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Roland Michener is a silvery-haired gentleman of imperturbable good nature, tact, erudition and a large supply of political wisdom.

Few Canadian public life have carried such impressive credentials of acceptability across political factions. A former Conservative Ontario cabinet minister and a Conservative-nominated Speaker of the Commons, he kept both sides of that House happy in an exacting office. And it was the Liberal government that gave him his later post of high commissioner to India.

As presiding officer of the Commons for five years during the Diefenbaker administration, he was regarded as one of the best since Confederation. Prime Minister Pearson revealed in 1963 that, after the Conservatives were turned out of office in 1963, he had approached the urbane Toronto lawyer about taking on the task of permanent Speaker, but the idea fell through, and Mr. Michener was not enthusiastic about returning to politics anyway.

Besides attaining distinction in politics, he has had successful careers as a corporation lawyer and in business. When he was named Commons speaker, he resigned from the boards of 26 companies.

As Speaker in a difficult period that included the launching of the first non-Liberal government in 22 years, he dispensed rulings with an even hand and spiced with good humor. On the side he studied French and it was during his tenure in charge of the Commons' internal housekeeping that the current system of simultaneous translation was started.

After going to New Delhi in 1964 to succeed the distinguished Chester Ronning, Mr. Michener took up the study of Hindi but confessed his lessons in French. Now he speaks it fluently.

At 66, he is a medium-sized man whose full head of once-black hair still carries its youthful crinkle. He wears a trim white mustache. A stylish dresser, he was known as one of the best-dressed men in Parliament during his stay there from 1953 to 1962.

He and Prime Minister Pearson have a friendship that goes back almost a half century. They first met at Oxford University in 1919, when they played on the college hockey team. Seven years later they were doubles partners in the Canadian open tennis tournament, going out in the first round.

"We used to argue politics," Mr. Michener once said. "I thought he'd be a Conservative. But neither of us changed the other."

There would have been little chance of Mr. Michener changing, at any rate, for he was a bred-in-the-bone Conservative.

His father was Edward Michener, leader of the Conservative party in Alberta and a legislature member for 10 years before he went to the Senate in 1917. Born at Lacombe and brought up at Red Deer as the eldest of eight children, Roly started campaigning at the age of 15 and recalls driving "over all the muddy roads of Alberta" on behalf of his father.

"Politics was part of our family life," he said years later. "I decided when I was a young man that I would go into public life. But I didn't get around to it until 1943."

In Red Deer he came to own a couple of cows, with which he supplied his family with milk and started up a dairy route for pocket money. He gave it up when he went to the University of Alberta, where he graduated with the Governor - General's Medal and a Rhodes Scholarship in 1919 after service with the Royal Air Force in 1918. On graduation from Oxford, he became a barrister of Britain's Middle Temple in 1923 and entered law practice in Toronto the next year.

Though he did not make his first bid for election in 1935 until 1943, he was an active worker in the Conservative party well before that. In 1942 he and a group of friends, concerned at the low ebb of the party's fortunes, organized a thinkers' session called the Port Hope Conferences and attended by delegates from across the country. At the Winnipeg convention later that year, where policy was overhauled and the party name changed to Progressive Conservative, he became assistant chief of policy.

He had been a member of the Toronto St. David's rifling association, and he made his first bid for the Ontario legislature there. He lost out to William Denison, a young CCF candidate who now is mayor of Toronto.

He turned the tables on Mr. Denison in 1943 and a year later became provincial secretary in George Drew's government. He lost his seat in 1948 — and ran unsuccessfully for the Commons in 1949. He made it in 1953, in Toronto St. Paul's.

Early in his career, Mr. Michener had this to say about his view of political life:

"My special approach to politics is the legal rights of the people and constitutional safeguards and observances. I think there is a fundamental contribution to be made in guaranteeing these rights."

In the Commons, Mr. Michener was a popular and hard-working back - bench private member with no particular interest in the maze of complex operating rules until John Diefenbaker tagged him for the speakership. Then he took a crash course on procedure, which he continued through his tenure.

If Mr. Michener was not a master of procedure, he made up for it with soft words, an occasional chuckle and a firm impartiality. He once declared Prime Minister Diefenbaker out of order during a warm debate, a ruling that did nothing to lessen the popularity with opposition members.

When he was unanimously re-elected Speaker in 1958, Mr. Pearson, then opposition leader, spoke of his tact, fairness and sense of proportion.

In sports, he won the Oxford Blue for track and half a blue for hockey, and in later years he engaged in tennis, squash, skiing and swimming. He once said that his sports days were responsible for one of his major preoccupations in life:

"A tolerant approach to everyone and a dislike of jealousy and inter - racial disharmony."

His wife is a lady of distinction in her own right. A native of Manitoba who grew up in Vancouver, the former Norah Willis has a PhD in philosophy from the University of Toronto, a rare accomplishment for a woman. She is the author of Marxism on the Nature of Man in a Christian Democracy, a study of French-born philosopher Jacques Maritain.

She graduated from University of British Columbia and began studying art at the Royal Conservatory in Toronto when she met her husband, who also plays the violin.

Like her husband, her interests are varied. She has joined him in active leadership in Vistas Interprovinciales. For some years she wrote a column on food and entertainment for Canadian Homes and Gardens magazine. When Mr. Michener was Commons speaker, she wrote a handbook for parliamentary wives detailing the customs and manners of life in official Ottawa. On one occasion, she represented him at a Rhodes Scholarship reunion in England.

She took easily to diplomatic protocol as chatelaine at New Delhi. She described the qualifications for the position once as simply "good manners, good sense and a consideration for others."

Her life was once described by a writer this way:

"With a talent for unhurried organization, she has welded all her activities into a serene and meaningful whole."

The Micheners have three daughters: Mrs. Leslie Lawrence of Toronto, a CBC producer who also writes under her maiden name, Wendy Michener, Mrs. Ronald Lohr, an artist and sculptor whose husband is head of the history department at Brown University, Providence, R.I., and Mrs. Roy Schatz, a biochemist in Toronto.

Kierans Favors Free Trade Area

MONTREAL (CP) — Eric Kierans, president of the Quebec Liberal Federation, attacked Canadian economic nationalism Monday night and came out in favor of a free trade area embracing Canada, the United States and Britain, a possible combination with other European nations.

This would reduce Canada's economic dependence on the United States, he said in an address to the suburban LaSalle Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Kierans, executive president of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges, later became revenue minister in the former Liberal government of Quebec.

LICENCING AND REGISTRATION

"Every owner of a dog within the City of Belleville shall procure annually on or before the first day of May, in each year, a licence for each dog owned by him within Municipality".

"Any owner of a dog who fails to procure a licence as provided by this Bylaw shall be guilty of an offence and upon summary conviction shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $10.00 and not more than $50.00 exclusive of costs, recoverable under the provisions of the Summary Conviction Act."

Licences may be obtained from the Office of the Treasurer, City Hall, or from the Animal Control Officer.

IMPOUNDING

"Every dog found running at large within the Municipality may be seized and impounded by the Animal Control Officer . . . . . ."

"The owner of a dog must reclaim the dog within 72 hours . . . . . and the dog will be delivered up to the owner upon payment . . . . . of the sum of $10.00."

"Every owner of a dog, within the Municipality, shall prevent such dog from running at large within the Municipality and the owner of any such found running at large within the Municipality shall be guilty of an offence and upon summary conviction shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $10.00 and not more than $50.00, exclusive of costs, recoverable under the provisions of the Summary Convictions Act."

The entire Bylaw may be read by any interested parties and is on file in the Clerk's Office, City Hall.

All dog owners are respectfully requested to note and adhere to the provisions of the Bylaw.

Six PEI Men Will Pull Boat Across Ice Pans to Mainland

BORDEN, P.E.I. (CP)—A 15-foot open boat with six men, a sack of potatoes and a bag of mail aboard will set out from here early Friday to re-enact a passed and almost forgotten era in Island history.

Premier Alex Campbell will be at the wharfside to wave the boat on its way.

Ice boats, stout wooden craft specially built to slide across ice pans, used to cross the Northumberland Strait in winter months between this ferry port and Cape Tormentine on the New Brunswick mainland carrying cargo and passengers.

Such boats continued in use until 1915, when steamships capable of smashing their way through the piled and treacherous strait ice came into service as ferries.

The expedition Friday is being organized by Arthur Clarke of Summerside, P.E.I., as a "per-sonal centennial project."

Alfred Groom of Summerside will be co-captain the trip with Kenneth Morrison, a crewman on one of the modern ferries which ply the strait year round. Other members of the ice boat's crew are Edward Arsenault, Robert Waugh, Richard Allen and Ken Judson.

The original ice boats weighed about 800 pounds and were equipped with a small sail, oars and special runners on the underside of the hull to make traversing the ice pans easier.

The boats would leave Borden at first light.

In open water, the boats would be sailed or rowed. But when ice blocked the passage, the crew would jump out, wrestle the boat onto the pans and then don heavy leather slings to push and pull the craft to open water again.

Women passengers were permitted to ride in the boat, but men walked along on the ice and were expected to lend a hand when the going got rough.

COULD TAKE 8 HOURS

The nine-mile crossing could take anything from four to eight hours, depending on weather, tide and ice conditions.

For Friday's crossing, Mr. Clarke purchased a heavy, 16-foot hull and had it outfitted under the supervision of 82-year-old Ed MacWilliam, last surviving captain of the original ice boats.

The boat's bottom has been sheathed in metal, runners attached and leather straps installed. Heavy oars have been specially built.

The sack of potatoes the boat will carry is addressed to Agriculture Minister Greene in Ottawa to promote P.E.I.'s best-known agricultural product and to dramatize the difficulties islanders are having in shipping potatoes to the mainland because of a shortage of rail cars.

The sack of mail will include letters from Premier Campbell to all other premiers in the Atlantic provinces suggesting a meeting to discuss Maritime unity. Letters will bear a special frank over the stamps with the words "Centennial Ice Boat Trip."

Cabinet Posts Awarded To Quebec Left-wingers

Mrs. Roland Michener

OTTAWA (CP)—Three young-blood MPs moved up Tuesday in a Quebec - centred cabinet shuffle that opened the way for a significant byelection test of the government's popularity.

Allist Guy Favreau and Justice Minister Cardin quit both their Commons seats and the cabinet in the long-rumored shuffle announced by Prime Minister Pearson.

Their joint departure from their Quebec seats leaves four federal seats vacant, with Sudbury, and Hull open for months after the deaths of their representatives. Byelections in those four seats and possibly one or two others that might open up are expected this spring, all together.

Two other Quebec members, Jean Chrétien, 33, and Pierre Elliott Trudeau, 48, were added to the cabinet. John Turner, 37, was promoted from minister without portfolio to registrar-general.

Walter Gordon, 61, also a minister without portfolio, was named president of the Privy Council. The post was vacated by Mr. Favreau, who has not yet fully recovered from a serious illness.

Mr. Favreau also gave up the registrar general's post, which Mr. Turner had been largely filling for months because of Mr. Favreau's health. Mr. Favreau, 60, was given a $20,000-a-year post as a Quebec Superior Court judge.

Only male Quebec MP to figure in the small-scale shakeup was Mr. Cardin, the former finance minister brought back into cabinet earlier this year. He represents Toronto Davenport.

The changes bolstered the cabinet's left wing, with Mr. Gordon's position upgraded and Mr. Trudeau, an erudite former NDP supporter, and Mr. Chrétien, another left-leaning MP, getting in to the select circle.

Mr. Cardin told his Richelieu-Verchères constituents he quit because of health and personal reasons. He had long been reported on the way out following his clash with Conservative leader Diefenbaker in the Gerda Munsinger affair.

For Mr. Favreau, it was a long - heralded departure that had its beginnings when a judicial inquiry in 1965 questioned his judgment, but not his integrity, in the handling of a bribe attempt by a ministerial aide in the Lucien Rivard deportation case.

At the time Mr. Favreau was Mr. Pearson's Quebec lieutenant as well as justice minister. Later his health broke, leading to a prolonged stay in hospital.

Mr. Trudeau's accession to justice caused some surprise, even though justice has been downgraded with the transfer of some of its responsibilities to other departments.

The new minister entered federal politics with a 1965 victory in Mount Royal in his native Montreal.

Mr. Trudeau, although a lawyer, does not fit the orthodox mould of the usual justice minister. He once showed up in the Commons wearing a silk scarf, slacks and sandals.

Mr. Chrétien, one of the youngest persons ever named to the cabinet, won St. Maurice-Lafleche in 1963 and later became parliamentary secretary to Finance Minister Sharp. He is married with one son. Mr. Trudeau is a bachelor.

Departure of Mr. Cardin and Mr. Favreau removes the last of the French - Canadian ministers who took office when the Liberals regained power in 1963.

Standings now are: Liberals 128; Conservatives 95; NDP 21; Creditistes 9; Social Credit 5; independent 3; vacant 4.

National Unity Aim Of Michener

OTTAWA (CP) — Each of the 10 governors-general of Canada has had in the last 100 years established something distinctive during his time at Government House, and the 30th — Roland Michener — is likely to do the same.

Mr. Michener is a lawyer, scholar, politician, diplomat, administrator, and — no less important for any man in such a post — has a quiet sense of humor.

Mr. Michener, 68, is also a First World War veteran of the RAF, a former university athlete and a musician. His wife, Norah, also studied music and, after their three daughters were grown, went back to university to earn a doctorate in philosophy.

Both are bilingual, and she also speaks some Italian. They have been active in Visitor Interprovincials, an organization which arranges exchange visits between English and French Canada. He was its president, as well as general secretary for Canada of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust.

With this background, the new vice-regal couple is expected by observers to play an active role in promoting higher education — a field in which the federal government would like to be more active but in which it is circumscribed by federal-provincial constitutional difficulties.

Shortly after the announcement of his appointment, Mr. Michener said in New Delhi a governor-general, "as the visible evidence of Canadian federal unity, can do a great deal to bring the various regions of Canada together." This he pledged to do, with periodic visits to all parts of Canada.

He said he does not expect to have any insurmountable problems "as long as I'm persona grata in all parts of Canada."

There is comment that the constitutional role of the Governor-General needs revision, but I do not anticipate that this will create problems for the incumbent."

He plans to leave New Delhi April 14 for London, where he will have an audience with the Queen, and for Ottawa where plans have been made to have him sworn into office April 17.

Allard Assailed as Arrogant Yes-man

OTTAWA (CP)—A band of Conservative snipers took dead aim at Defence Minister Hellyer and Gen. Jean V. Allard in the Commons Tuesday.

They promised a stout fight against Mr. Hellyer's bill to unify the armed forces and charged that the minister had misled the House and the people on the issue.

They also said that Gen. Allard, chief of the defence staff, had been unable to produce any argument for unification except his "strong conviction" it would be a good thing.

"Go ahead and use closure,"

Jack McIntosh (PC—Swift Current - Maple Creek) challenged the government. "We expect that from the Liberal party."

He described Gen. Allard as a "yes-man."

Hebert Small (PC — Simcoe North) was even harsher, accusing the general of "haughty arrogance" in his appearance before the Commons defence committee.

Mr. Smith said he thought disclosure of Admiral William Landymore had exaggerated when he told the committee he worried about the possibility of a military takeover in Canada. But hearing some of Gen. Allard's answers made Mr. Smith wonder whether the admiral "didn't have some basis" for his fears.

Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary North) and Gordon Churchill (PC—Winnipeg South Centre), both former defence ministers, repeatedly accused Mr. Hellyer of making the same false statements time and time again in pushing his bill.

The minister and Canada's top military man came under fire as the unification bill went through its second day of clause-by-clause study. It is the major item to be cleared away before the Commons can end the present overtime session and start a new one.

Gilles Gregoire (Ind — Lapointe) accused Mr. Harkness and Mr. Churchill of a "cynical" attitude in their attack on Gen. Allard for statements attributed to him in a weekend speech in Montreal.

He said they should withdraw their words and mentioned wether they would have voiced similar criticism of a defence chief who was not a French-Canadian.

Conservatives shouted "dance" at this and later speakers zeroed in on Gen. Allard's appearance before the defence committee.

Mr. McIntosh said the defence chief showed "inability to give intelligent answers" to committee questions.

Mr. Smith said the general's attitude was that committee members were mere civilians who couldn't be expected to understand defence matters. He said the general's appearance was tinged with political overtones.

No Quinte Winners
Four Canadians Win $150,000 On Ben Novus in Lincolnshire

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Four Canadians won prize of $150,000 each today with Irish Hospital Sweepstakes tickets on Ben Novus, winner of the Lincolnshire Handicap in Doncaster, England.

Four Canadians, Steven Theodore, won $60,000 each with tickets on second - place Aberdeen, and seven others won prizes of $30,000 each with tickets on the third finisher, Tudor.

Three Quinte district residents had tickets on horses but all of them finished out of the money.

A Belleville man, George Russell, 2 Thirel Street, a CN locomotive engineer, drew a ticket on Giddeby.

A Trenton man, Thomas J. Hickey, of the Canadian Forces Base, held a ticket on Chingou, while an undesignated Napanee man drew Jerry Thread.

All three holders are guaranteed something like $1100 for drawing a horse in the race.

Canadian tickets drawn but Thursday in Dublin on Ben Novus were listed Gen by Hospitals officials as follows, with ticket number, name or nom-de-plume and hometown:

Ben Novus—PTC 84725, Suzie Q, Montreal; PSM 80549, Zebe, Vancouver; NHQ 62353, Eloise Rookwood, Montreal; NMR 63018, Let's Win, Sarnia.

Two horses — Truckee and Shady Knight, finished in a dead heat for fourth place on the course made hard and firm by drying winds.

Truckee was 100 to 9 in the betting and Shady Knight 18 to 1.

The race starts one of the big betting splurges of the year for Britons. They try to couple the winner of the Lincolnshire and the Grand National in what is known as the spring double.

Ben Novus is a five-year-old by Ben Hawks out of Novelty.

Ben Novus won by half a length with four lengths separating second and third.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis: Warmer air which spread eastward across the southern half of Ontario Tuesday produced considerable cloudiness and one or two drizzles of rain overnight. This cloud now is thinning and some sunshine with temperatures in the 45-50 degree range can be expected during the day. In contrast, colder air slipped into northern regions giving some light snow and falling temperatures to that area. The colder air will reach the lower lakes this evening giving some cloudiness tonight in the south and mainly clear cold weather across central and Northern Ontario.

Prices Big Factor
National Product Rises 10 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's gross national product, measurement of all goods and services produced in the economy, increased 10.9 per cent in 1966 to $37,800,000,000.

The advance reflected strong market demands at home and buoyant export sales, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today in its annual GNP report.

But price increases, averaging 4.6 per cent across the economy, reduced the real terms of the growth to 5.9 per cent.

On this basis, 1966 was a year of slightly slower growth than 1965, when price increases averaging 3.1 per cent brought a GNP increase of 9.9 per cent down to a gain of 6.9 per cent in real terms. The 1965 GNP was $31,986,000,000.

DBS said the fourth quarter of 1966 brought a gain of two per cent. This compared with 4½ per cent for the first quarter, two per cent in the second quarter and less than one per cent in the third quarter when strikes were a major factor.

The report said consumer spending was nine per cent higher than in 1965. Because disposable income increased 8½ per cent, net personal savings were higher.

While over-all price increases averaged 4.6 per cent, the increases for consumer goods averaged 2½ per cent, compared with two per cent a year earlier.

Foreign demand for Canada's goods increased by 13½ per cent, compared with six per cent in 1965.

Spring--in A Hurry

The Moira River now has reached the crest of its annual spring runoff, and is a picture of healthy nature. However, the scene isn't all that healthy. For story see Page 3.

Reds Raid Police Post In Saigon

SAIGON (Reuters) — Viet Cong guerrillas disguised as government troops and police Tuesday night attacked a Saigon police station, killed eight persons in a 30-minute fight and destroyed the station, a government military spokesman said today.

He said an estimated company of guerrillas hit the police station in Cholon, Saigon's densely populated Chinese sector, with recoilless rifles and grenades.

The guerrillas wearing green camouflaged uniforms of the South Vietnamese Army and combat police, drove up to the post in three small buses, the most common form of public transport here and which normally carry about 18 passengers.

Other Viet Cong walked alongside the buses and still more opened fire on the station with recoilless cannon fire, he said.

Three of the dead were civilians. Six policemen were wounded and another six civilians wounded, the spokesman said.

Nine Die in Cornell University Fire

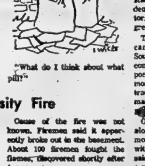
ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Nine persons died and at least six others were injured today in an early-morning fire that blackened the interior of a Cornell University residence hall.

Scores of others escaped through windows and doors. Some evidently tried to use sheet ropes.



The sheriff's department reported at first that the dead were all freshmen in an experimental course leading to doctorate degrees, but this later appeared in doubt.

The bodies, scattered in bedrooms, hallways and a lobby, could not be identified immediately.

Cause of the fire was not known. Firemen said it apparently broke out in the basement. About 100 firemen fought the flames; discovered shortly after 4 a.m.

Horizontal pases, plus shutters, on the modern building hampered some students in their escape attempts.

Classroom Set Up in City Gets Lecture From Kingston

The moving hand writes and, having writ, passes the message instantly from Kingston to Belleville.

The result is another testimonial to electronic education with a score of Belleville carpet men to bear witness to its significance.

The men are engineers from private business and public utility enterprises around Belleville.

Last night they completed a four-course lecture at the Bell Telephone engineering training school on Pinnacle Street from a professor they never saw — but who was very much in the classroom all the time.

It was done by wires — Bell Telephone wires.

In Kingston, Professor John Forsyth, Queen's University School of Business, sketched the equations and symbols of engineering economy problems onto an electronic pad.

In Belleville, a corresponding pad received and reshuffled the professor's pen movements signalled over the lines.

These —then were projected onto a screen flashed by speaker amplifying Professor Forsyth's voice carried simultaneously.

A two-way phone hookup allowed the engineers to fire questions back at the professor if they sought further clarification of his theories and explanations.

The result was a standard classroom, complete with all the basic communication needs — a blackboard, and a lecturer able to hear and answer student's quadaries.

The device which makes the process possible actually drew its identification from the classroom blackboard.

It's known as "Verb" — the familiar tag for Visual Electronic Remote Blackboard.

School supervisor Roger Harvey explains the process already in use at the Pinnacle Street centre for telephone company employees.

However, the Queen's lecture series is a pilot project underway between Queen's and several remote classrooms — one being Belleville.

Last night, interested observers in Ottawa were invited to sit in on the demonstrations.

It also was the last night for the courses, sponsored by the Engineering Institute of Canada.

However, not all the project's educational methods were ultra-modern, its schedule revealed.

The students still departed with a changeless chore fastened in all forms of school life through the ages — homework.

Dog Licences Are Due

City dog owners this week are getting their annual warning from city hall regarding licencing and registration of the family pet and at the same time are being advised of the possible consequences should their dog be allowed out without a leash.

An advertisement appearing in The Intelligencer yesterday quoted parts of the city dog by-law which calls for all dogs to be licenced before May 1 and sets out the duties of the city animal control officer.

City personnel officer Gerald R. Ryde says that so far this year the dog bylaw hasn't been rigidly enforced. He warns, however, that from this date on, this will be the case.

Persons not purchasing a licence for their dog are liable to a penalty of not less than $10 and if the dog is allowed to run at large the minimum tab could be another $10 — plus costs in both instances.

The bylaw sets out that the animal control officer must make an attempt to notify the owner when a dog is picked up and placed in the city pound.

Following notification the owner has 72 hours in which to reclaim his pet — for another $10.

MRS. LEO C. BELLINGER
(Cardiff, Ont.)

Former resident of this city and for the past three years living at 32 Spruce Ave., at Cardiff, near Bancroft, Mrs. Carmel Claire Bellinger, died in Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday. She was in her 67th year.

Born in Dover, England, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John J. O'Shea. Mrs. Bellinger was a member of St. Michael's Church in Belleville and also belonged to the Catholic Women's League and the Belleville General Hospital Women's Auxiliary. She had been ill only for a brief period.

Mrs. Bellinger is survived by her husband, Leo C. Bellinger; two sons, Leo D. Bellinger of New Zealand, and Anthony M. Bellinger of Madawaska, Maine.

Also surviving are several grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. John (Donna) Nuside of Cardiff.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at the O'Brien — Rutledge Funeral Residence with interment in St. James' Cemetery.

RAYMOND ALFRED ROBINSON

The funeral for Raymond Alfred Robinson was held Monday in the John R. Bush Funeral Home Chapel.

Mr. Timothy Kember and Mr. Murray McLeod officiated. G. P. Taylor from Desoronto and A. T. Stewart from Detroit assisted at the graveside which was in Desoronto Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Ron Badgley, Reg Badgley, Clarence Davis, William Root, Norman Allport, and Charlie Allport.

JOHN PETER LASKARIS

On Tuesday in the John R. Bush Funeral Home Chapel a private service was held for John Peter Laskaris. Father Gus Giallelis officiated. Interment is Belleville Cemetery.

The bearers were Gus Christopher and Robert Stewart.

JOHN F. O'NEILL

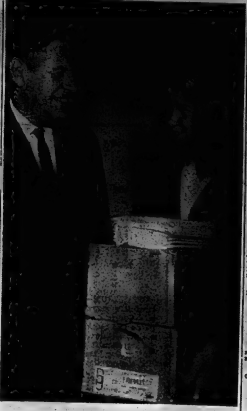
TRENTON — Funeral of John F. O'Neill, 6 Delaney Crescent, Toronto, was held Monday morning from the Weaver-Funeral Home in Trenton, to St. Peter's Church. Very Rev. J. G. Clancy celebrated the Mass. Interment was in St. James' Cemetery, Belleville.



Bearers were Stan Osborne, W. L. Davidson, A. T. Ellacott, Clare Cannings, R. Greenough, and Howard Wilson, all members of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Mr. O'Neill died Saturday, April 1st, in Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto. He was in his 72nd year.

Born in London, England, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Neill, he had been employed by Stephens & Adamson Co. of Belleville Ltd. prior to his retirement in 1955. He was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Predeceased by his wife, Rose O'Neill, Mr. O'Neill leaves two daughters, Lena (Mrs. John O'Neil) of Trenton and Kathleen (Mrs. L. Dickie) of Ottawa and one son, John O'Neill, of Toronto.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Neil O'Brien of Windsor, eight grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Moira Secondary School student Janice Gillespie gives a lift to booklets on economics being presented to graduating high school students. Looking on is Gerald Wishart, chairman of Chamber of Commerce education committee.

C of C Gives Students Booklet on Economics

Thanks to a Centennial project on the part of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, approximately 1,000 Grade 12 and 13 students of Belleville secondary schools are receiving booklets outlining the importance of economics in their every day lives.

The booklets are the Centennial Edition of "Economics and You" prepared by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

This morning Chamber Education committee chairman Gerald Wishart, made a representative presentation of one of the booklets to a Moira Secondary School student during the morning assembly period.

Grade 12 and 13 students in Moira and Quinte Secondary schools, Belleville Collegiate, Nicholson Catholic College, Albert College and the Ontario School for the Deaf will receive the booklets.

At Moira Secondary School this morning Mr. Wishart outlined the organization of the Chamber of Commerce and pointed out the more important aspects of Chamber programs in the community.

He said the presentation of the booklets was being made because of the Chamber's interest in education.

"It is hoped that it will serve a useful purpose in helping to remind us of the fact that ours is a developing system of checks and balances, which, whatever its faults, has brought to citizens a greater share of the world's material goods than was dreamed possible even a century ago," Mr. Wishart said.

C of C Week

Local Chamber Has Many Tasks

This week April 2 to April 8, is Chamber of Commerce week in Canada and the United States. The Belleville Chamber of Commerce is one of the such Canadian chambers that observe this week.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce was founded in 1865 and is "a group of public-spirited citizens banded together to work for the betterment of the community, supporting free enterprise and democracy."

"The community chamber is a stabilizing influence on a community. It is instrumental in focusing greater attention on Municipal, Provincial and National affairs. It brings about a greater understanding among various groups of the community and it makes the community a better place in which to live."

The chamber is made up of representatives of industry, commercial and retail businesses, and professional men.

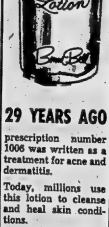
The Belleville chamber has an active membership in excess of 320 local businessmen. Their president is S. D. Hagerman, the manager is Stewart - Warner Corporation, Canada Limited.

The policy of the Chamber is directed by the president, the vice-president and ten directors.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce has many tasks. It has a Business Consumer Protective Bureau which assists 1865 local citizens in problems with merchants, a especially door-to-door salesmen.

It has a register of coming events and assists clubs and social organizations in setting dates for their activities so that the dates do not conflict.

The chamber works with Provincial Federal chambers in such fields as Conservation and Education.



It has various special committees such as, the Education Committee, the Civic and Provincial and National Affairs Committee, the Industrial Committee, the Commercial and Retail Committee, the Tourism and Publicity Committee and the Civic Development Committee.

At present, the chamber is working on an elaborate, long-term downtown redevelopment scheme and a short - term program of downtown clean - up. It adopted the clean - up will follow the Norwich Plan which provides for store repainting and better lighting.

An observance of Chamber of Commerce week the Belleville Chamber of Commerce is distributing 1,000 copies of the booklet, "Economics and You" to Belleville's Secondary Schools, including Ontario Business College, Nicholson Catholic College, and Albert College, for grades 12 and 13 students.

"The booklet was written in the belief that a greater understanding and appreciation of our economic system is necessary if Canada is to continue on the pathway of freedom and prosperity."

It is proposed that G. A. Wishart, Chairman of the Education Committee present these booklets through secondary school assemblies.

Runoff Reaches Crest

Moira River Drains 1,000 Square Miles of Watershed

Anyone expecting spectacular signs of spring in the swirling stream of the Moira River can cool it.

The spring runoff which annually sends the river sweeping down to the Bay of Quinte has reached its peak in the past 24 hours.

The crest came in the wake of heavy rains early this week, says J. H. McLeod, secretary - treasurer of the Moira Conservation Authority.

After this it will start to recede, taking with any layover beyond its banks in lowlying areas along its lengthy course.

However, it still is pouring enough water southwards to maintain its status as the Bay of Quinte's most-important tributary after the Trent River.

Draining a thousand square miles of watershed, it also is swollen with the runoff from three tributaries of its own.

The trio — the Black, Clare and Stronhomata rivers — reinforce the parent Moira's rush in the Tweed area.

By the time it approaches Belleville, the Moira is shooting a sizeable supply of water through the district — ready for every service, from distilling whiskey to dousing fires.

However, the scene of a lively-running stream has its moral — and a grim-enough warning.

The sheer abundance of the waterway is deceptive; its steady flow is not perpetual — thanks, mainly, to human intervention.

Within months what little there is to be seen of the Moira will be a stark contrast of today's powerful push of water through Belleville and district.

Statistics are a stark revelation.

Right now, says secretary-treasurer McLeod, the Moira is probably pushing a peak of 4,000 cubic feet of water every second past the main recording station at Foxboro.

At its lowest ebb — in the dry days of fall — that abundant flow will have fallen by as much as 250 per cent!

The ugly contrast is a matter of record.

For instance: In 1965 the peak flow was 7,720 cubic feet per second, the low 15 cubic feet. The 1966 ratio: 3,900 feet to 18 feet.

"That's why a dam to stem the flow is important," says Mr. McLeod, "and get reservoirs to hold it back until we need it."

Nothing may be certain in nature — but the annual dry-leg-up of the Moira is constant in the local conservation charts. It begins gradually — the day the spring flow passes its peak.

Right now the Moira seems healthy, in the full gusto of a spring spate.

But, what it really means, say conservationists, is that the river is wasting away for another year.

Right in Your Own Backyard

As spring runoff peaks, the Moira River seeps over banks in low-lying areas. Sometimes it comes almost to the doorstep, like this scene at Corbyville, Tuesday.

Trenton Approves Capital Budget

TRENTON — The second instalment of Trenton's five-year capital works budget approved this week by council, forecast gross expenditures of $900,143 for 1967.

Biggest allocation goes to sanitary sewers and will total $250,000.

Projects include extension of Bay Street trunk sewer and a new Dufferin Avenue installation.

Other major budget items are: Road construction ($140,800); Old post office redevelopment ($67,900); East-side library ($40,000); Front Street subway at Highway 33 ($42,000); Street lighting $(25,000).

Roadwork will include reconstruction of Quinte, Ford and Front streets.

The library project is a proposed east-side branch of the downtown library, expected to be built near Marmora Street public school.

A down-payment of $13,836 already has been forwarded to Crown Assets Disposal Corporation for purchase of the former post office property.

Major public works in progress for which debentures already are approved by the Ontario Municipal Board are the new D. J. MacDonald bridge ($300,000) and Front Street trunk sewers ($51,660).

The major capital debt assumed by the town is one of $1,836 towards the County Court House in Belleville.

Debt charges for 1967 will be 13.22 mills.

The total forecast expenditures now will be forwarded to the Ontario Municipal Board for approval.

Individual items must also receive OMB approval as they are undertaken.

School Addition Approved by Town Council

PICTON (Staff) — Members of Picton Town Council at the regular monthly meeting this week gave unanimous support to a resolution to accept financial responsibility for adding public school accommodation up to a maximum of $600,000. Council took the action after receiving notification from the Ontario Municipal Board that "tentative approval" as the council had earlier voted on was not sufficient.

Before the Board would approve the project it wanted full approval from council for the estimated amount. The move was the latest in a series of debates over what steps to take as far as the proposed public school project is concerned.

The addition will replace present accomodation at York Street School and Mary Street School and also allow for enrolment increases and expanded curriculum.

Tax Rate Hike: Slightly Over 5 Mills Approved

PICTON (STAFF) — A tax hike of slightly over five mills, for public school supporters, in both residential and commercial taxes was approved with town council's passing of the by - law at the regular April meeting Monday night. The by-law permits a slight easing of less than half a mill down for separate school supporters.

The actual rates passed, last year's in brackets are: public school residential 80.78 (94.67), public school commercial 107.27 (102.40), separate school residential 94.30 (94.45) separate school commercial 101.77 (102.16). Of the total budget of $680,231 the mill rates will raise $358,058 of that amount based on a total assessment of $5,728,200. The remaining $94,293 revenue required comes mainly from grants and other sources of revenue and also includes a surplus from 1966 of $7,321.

The greatest single cause of the mill rate rise was a jump in the streets and property committee. Mr. Jarvis, chairman of the committee said his committee's budget alone is up about $40,000 from last year due to certain heavy expenditures. These included a new truck for the town works department, road construction to the westerly approaches to the town under the connecting link agreement with the Department of Highways, storm sewer work in the Lake and Spring St. areas and an increase in employees wages.

Jobless In Trenton Up Slightly

TRENTON — Unemployed males numbered 483 at the end of March for the Trenton area; 377 women were registered for employment.

This compares with 520 unemployed males at the end of February and 311 females.

At the end of March last year, 460 males were registered for employment and 397 women were out of work.

The Trenton area covers a 650 square mile area.

J. E. K. White, field manager at the Canadian Manpower Centre, says employment will pick up this month with the milder weather when many construction and other "outside" workers, will be called back to the job.

Candidate Advocates Re-constituted Senate

TWEED (Special) — Canadians, burdened by misbrought-ing costs of government, could take a second look at their senate, Donald Joss, Liberal candidate in Quinte riding, said here last night.

"Historical institutions should be cherished and retained as long as they contribute to the life of the nation," he said. "But they must never become a drag to progress, either economically, politically or socially."

Mr. Joss, president of Black Diamond Cheese, was guest speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce Ladies' Night.

He made remarks on the Senate were part of an attack on wasteful spending in government.

It costs $10,000,000 dollars to run the Senate, originally set up as a constitutional safeguard to protect the principles of Federation.

"Long ago, it has ceased to do this," charged Mr. Joss. "It has become a retirement body for elder politicians."

"Wealthy in such a diverse country as Canada, where we have a federal system, we need a Senate, but — under no circumstances — do we need a Senate as it's presently constituted."

Mushrooming bureaucracy in government with attendant waste and inefficiency needs serious and immediate consideration from Canada's politicians, he warned.

The politicians "must have fortitude" to act upon recommendations of all the various commission, which investigated government spending and institutions.

"A major task for political leadership was to see the taxpayer get value for his money," said Mr. Joss.

Among other areas in which government could act to save money were:

Implementation of proposals by the Glassco Commission.

Elimination of provincial "embassies" abroad — which duplicate federal missions in foreign capitals.

Updating of government administrative machinery to more efficient levels of civil service operation.

Mr. Joss also cast a critical eye on the achievements of welfare programs to date.

In 1930 about 37 per cent of Canadians lived below the poverty classification.

"Today, a whopping 25 per cent still live in the group — and this allows for the depreciated value of the dollar.

If a similar number were unemployed it would mean a "national crisis" said Mr. Joss.

"This surely is also a national crisis when 23 per cent of the people of this nation are living below an income which accords them poverty and proper health standards.

"A re-examination of the welfare programs and social programs at all levels of government in this country seems long overdue."

"A program which gets at the root causes of poverty might be unpalatable to some, because it could well mean more government control in some areas and . . . far less subsidies in others.

Contract Negotiations Broken

TRENTON — Contract negotiations between Pycotexor of Canada and union representatives here broke off inconclusively on Tuesday.

The discussion, following strike action Saturday by 80 members of the International Electrical Radio and Machine Workers' Union (Local 537), were held under conciliation officer W. J. McGuire, Ontario Department of Labor.

Local president Cyril White said afterwards that discussions during the six-hour meeting were confined to "non-monetary issues" involved in the dispute.

"Some minor agreements were made," he said, but union proposals concerning several fringe benefits received an "adamant No" from the company, he claimed.

These included leave of absence, union security, right of the union to grieve on discharges, probationary periods and seniority.

"In view of disagreement upon so many of the important 'language items' Local 537 refused to discuss the monetary issues and the meeting broke off. No arrangements have been made for future meetings," he said.

By "language items" the union refers to phraseology of the new contract — which they contend is a main issue in the strike.

An IUE bargaining agent from Brockville, William Miller, joined three local union and three company officers in the talks.

Picketing continues without incident at the plant.

Family Accepts Call as Missionaries

Will Serve Five Years In Bolivia

A young Belleville area Baptist missionary with his wife and four young children will go to Bolivia, South America, next July, to commence five years service in that country.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wry, R. R. 1, Corbyville, were commissioned as missionaries at the Sunday morning Parkdale Baptist Church service and will leave for their new field of service about the middle of July.

Natives of the Maritimes, Mr. and Mrs. Wry came to the Belleville area about 13 years ago. Mr. Wry worked for CN until three years ago when he commenced study at the Central Baptist Seminary in Toronto. He studied there for one year and for the past two years has been at the New Brunswick Bible Institute from where he recently graduated. Mr. Wry will join a brother in Bolivia who is now working as a missionary in that country.

The Rat Race

"Simplify . . . simplify," said the American philosopher Thoreau, "We clutter our lives with detail."

How true. By the same token most of us are obsessed with material things, tyrannized by possessions, chained to suburbia, right in there among the madding crowd (though our neighbors may still be strangers to us) and far from any real sense of home.

Could this be the reason why two-thirds of Americans go to their family doctors for ailments that have emotional, rather than physical basis? And why one-third of American hospital beds are devoted to the care of the mentally ill?

At least, that is the word from Dr. Heinz E. Lehmann, professor of psychiatry at McGill University. He told a New York symposium on the emotional basis of illness that "emotions are a double-edged sword."

"Life would not be worth living without them, yet often they become runaway and dangerous and can cause disease."

Consider some other bleak facts: the mental ills of modern man, as typified by the wealthiest, most competitive, go-getting country on earth — the United States.

One American in 20 is a known marijuana smoker (there are 10 million known smokers of "pot" in the United States), 60,000 are heroin addicts and there are 5,000,000 alcoholics among 70 million who use alcohol to one degree or another.

The authority for these figures is Dr. Dukes Fisher, of the neuropsychiatric institute at the University of California. Dr. Fisher also gave some startling facts about the use of hallucination-producing drugs such as LSD. He said that in California, for example, it had reached "major epidemic proportions."

Originally used mainly by professionals, intellectuals, and artistic people, the LSD cult, according to Dr. Fisher, has spread to colleges, high schools, and even junior high schools as well as to all socio-economic classes.

For good (or bad) measure, the United States in addition has 10 million amphetamine and 20 million barbiturate users — with 3,000 deaths a year.

But to return to Thoreau and his theme: "simplicity." Or as Kipling put it: "Teach us delight in simple things . . ." The trouble is that society conditions us to complexity — and it either makes or breaks us. Clearly, many are breaking down under its strains. Even Canada's new "simplified" tax forms are producing a record number of errors, according to Ottawa.

To try and get away from it all may be equally undesirable. No intelligent person wants to sit around and do nothing. Idleness, as distinct from routine recreation periods, is one of the worst fates that can befall a man. People have to have things to do, they must have intellectual impetus and something on which to focus it.

The choice is clear — "rat race" or the simple (idle) life; total involvement or the aimlessness of places like Miami Beach. Really perhaps, there is a happy medium, where people are both happily employed and are adept in the wise use of leisure.

Arctic Saga

The rescue of bush pilot Robert Gauchie after 58 days on an Arctic lake brings to a happy outcome another saga of Arctic survival. A 39-year-old father of three daughters apparently had become lost en route from Cambridge Bay, NWT, to Yellowknife, through instrument failure in his aircraft.

Like Helen Klaben and Ralph Flores, who weathered 49 days in sub-zero conditions in the Yukon a few years ago, Gauchie had also faced the prospect of death.

Indeed, journal of such awesome feats of survival, achieved in the face of hunger and complete isolation, is the calm acceptance that a person of strong faith and integrity can bring to bear on such a situation.

The rest of us ordinary mortals, trapped in the daily round of suburbia, simplified income tax, or just "one damn thing after another," as John Masefield put it, might envy Gauchie his remoteness and human purity. They might envy too the philosophy that enabled him to pen this note to author Al Oeming of the Alberta Game Farm.

"I have your book here with me on my 47th day of Arctic survival. I don't know if I shall live to tell you in person so I am just making a note for you. The book has been wonderful reading and highly informative, and I have read it many times over, as the Lord knows I have had the time."

None of us would want to simulate pilot Gauchie's ordeal in its entirety. However, reading such a saga, we may wonder if some degree of solitude and escape from the materialist world of our own making should not be everyone's right and privilege now and again.

We, as poet W. H. Davies put it: "What is this life if full of care we have no time to stand and stare."

Life Was So Simple Before the Government Simplified It

Rhodesians Soldier on—and They Are Happy

Letter in The Globe and Mail

With much trepidation, after three years' absence, I have returned for a 10-day visit to Rhodesia. It is a beautiful country, almost exactly the size of Ontario, and with two-thirds of the capital, has a population of 2,000,000, of whom 80,000 are Europeans and the rest are Africans, except for a small but interesting rich group of Indians.

I had feared that sanctions had made life hard for both Europeans and Africans in Rhodesia. To my surprise, I found they had almost everything that was obtainable before sanctions and everyone was living as they had three years ago. Although prices were somewhat higher, sanctions have not affected people's daily life. Gasoline rationing is the most serious item, standing costs 40 cents (Canadian) a gallon, and can be obtained without difficulty for any reasonable travelling—entertaining an overseas visitor, for example. An unlimited quantity of gasoline can be obtained for pleasure driving at $1.20 a gallon.

Food prices seemed to be cheaper than in Toronto, in a downtown store the following prices were noted on March 2:

Eggs, large size, 42 cents per dozen; mald cured bacon, 80 cents a pound; two three-pound chickens, $2.25; best fillet steak, 50 cents per pound; milk, 22 cents a quart; sugar, 12 cents a pound; large (20-ounce) loaf of bread, 12 cents.

A complete range of made-in-Rhodesia breakfast cereals was available, from puffed rice to rolled oats. These replace imported products but I found at the breakfast table that they were not quite up to the quality of the foreign product.

For the situation in clothing, I went to Barbours, a large, four-story store on a par with Holt Renfrew in Toronto. Elegance is the keyword in this store. Ladies' clothing millinery, men's suits — in almost every line there were quantities in a wide range of color and weight. Materials had come, according to the labels on the goods, from Spain, Portugal, Austria, Japan, the United States and South Africa. Rhodesia itself exported over $16-million of clothing in 1941.

There are four good bookstores in Salisbury, with about the same quantity of books as the best four in Toronto, but for range of newspapers and magazines, Kingsway in Salisbury is definitely superior to any store in Toronto.

Both in clothing and books, store managers assured me that they had more difficulty in securing permits from the Rhodesian Government to import goods than in actually securing goods from those countries which had imposed sanctions. Of course, the effect of mandatory sanctions has been to greatly felt and difficulties may arise in the future.

However, Rhodesia is endeavoring to make itself independent by encouraging manufacture within its own border — everything from engines to rain gauges. Two complete fire engines have recently been made in Rhodesia and rain gauges for the weather service have been turned out at $16 each instead of $16.50 each from a British manufacturer. The Dunlop Rubber Co. is making 26 articles not made by them a year ago. Last week, acting Prime Minister J. G. Wrathall said there were 2,500 more Africans employed than there were a year ago. Property values have risen in the residential districts. Eight attractive, large, ranch type bungalows are being completed or nearing completion. The realtor quoted a price of $23,000 for one of the houses not yet built.

Motoring around the country, one gets the impression of general helpfulness to war economy among the Africans. In Salisbury there appeared to be fewer policemen than on the streets of Toronto and all that I saw were Africans. About 400 African and one European have been seleguered to remain in an isolated part of Rhodesia for training Africans to burn houses or to maim or murder other Rhodesians, white or black.

The good relations of the European citizens for the Africans is seldom referred to and is even maligned in our Canadian and British newspapers. For example, in The Globe and Mail for Jan. 16, 1942, in a book review article on Rhodesia, the following sentence had four serious errors. "At the present time, the school, in a hunary white residential district, attended by the children of servants, has been closed under the Land Appointment Act and 1,500 pupils have nowhere to go."

First, the "school" was a private school, maintained by private contributions, largely from the women of Highgate residential district, Salisbury, and Charlie Spalding only to mention two, could be comedians of a stature that would do justice to the burlesque stage. The wit and fun of the preparation and rehearsal created great gaiety to the club spirit during those years.

HARD WORDS

"It was president of the club in 1938-39. One of the highlights of my career as an actor was when was a visit to the district assembly at Elmira N.Y., with a former past president of ours who will leave nameless. My friend became involved with some Grand Assembly Rotarians in a discussion about the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack. One thing led to another and the first war came up and the delay of U.S. entry. He got himself in such a heated argument that he walked out, packed his bags, checked out of the hotel and left for home long before the end of the story in Elmira with no visible means of transportation. Through the kind consideration of the Kingston Rotary delegation, I was able to get back there and take in the last day's fun. The interesting apology for the incompetence and Canadian-American relations, except for Sherry Gordon and Rockefeller have been much improved ever since.

"When I became president of the club, we were desperate for a vehicle to raise money for our crippled children's ward. The minstrel show was a thing of the past and many of the old participants were not amongst us and those that were, were older and did not relish the fatigues and effort of long hours of practice and rehearsal to make them possible. Past President Lloyd Hicks, Harry Moorman and I, conceived the idea we thought at the time was a brilliant one to hold a speed boat regatta at Meadowvale. Past Lloyd was a power-boat enthusiast. He were approved by the American Power Boat Association for an authorized regatta . . . It was a tremendous success except for profits, but we were long on experience. The best performers of the day came to ada and the United States competed, including the famous Pop Keeper of Detroit. There expressing his appreciation of the Belleville regatta. However, this was carried on for a few years as an annual event, and I have a program here for the regatta of 1936.

"I was not here for the major period of the war and therefore, am not in a position to provide any detail of those years. Meantime, many of your ex-presidents were the general backbone of the club. Our honorary members have been received from documents to hand. The present club holiday has been established as an annual event. Our interest in crippled children is undiminished. I think that here, a special word should be said about those members of the club who during the first years of its life, were particularly active in this work. There have been others since, but during this period there were the late Charlie Symons, and Dr. Jack Gallbraith and Dr. Val Bleksley — the work which those men did is unrecorded, but it was done in both a generous and professional way and they are entitled to the undying gratitude of this club.

Before concluding, I think it should be said that probably one of the most outstanding events in the history of Rotary in Belleville has been the Deacon Essay Contest. Established three past presidents, the late W. B. Deacon, a charter member and Rotarian, his brother, Jack Deacon, president in 1943-44, and his brother the late Fred Deacon in 1945-46, and former president Rotary family has been the Graham family — the late R. J. Graham, his son George E. Graham, the late Col. Bob Graham, a past president in 1932-33 and his brother, a brother-in-law, the late Jimmie Bone, past president in 1934-35, past secretary and a former mayor of Belleville.

"With these reminiscences as background for the event we are paying today to Oswald Scott, a charter member and a member since 1930, Dr. Val Bleksley members since 1934, Bruce Coleman, member since 1930, Virgil James, member since 1932 and Bill Morrison, honorary member retired unfortunately since 1933. We are also recognizing those honorary members, Fred Chamberlains, Dr. Jack Gallbraith and Harry Moorman who have given many years of dedicated service."

The Gourmet In Britain

Christian Science Monitor

The time has surely come to get rid of national stereotypes. The kind of thing that assumed that French restaurants serve only elaborate gourmet meals, that German hotels always produce solid, nourishing ones of sauerbraten, dumplings, and that fat, gold beer, and that Spanish restaurateurs offer nothing but cold brussels sprouts week after week.

We won't go into the first two of these misconceptions but we think it only right to observe that the stereotype of the British is unfair.

A new edition of Posgate's Good Food Guide, listing what it has picked as the best French restaurants in Britain, draws attention to that country's diversified cuisine. Moreover French managers and chefs are as proud and jealous of their profession nowadays as those of our land. Profiles of some of them in the Sunday Times gave hints of their character.

For example there is the chef of a restaurant in Thornbury Castle, Gloucestershire who is known to have expelled a couple of peers who blazed he used margarine in the place of butter. And another chef—this case in the industrial centre of Birtle—who has educated his patrons to contemplate with the seasoning. If a meal should not be to their taste without first tasting it, he can expect a stern rebuke from the chef or possibly a savage interpretation of a bag of salt from the supply room. Guests apparently do not take offence. "It's my food they come for, not my smile," says the austere cook.

Cultivated people of this kind are in other lands have appreciation for the artistry of the kitchen. Their connoisseurship should be encouraged.

Nancy Greene Tops Skiers

Hamilton Spectator

Canada has had splendid sports heroes in the past—Lionel Conacher, Percy Williams, Jimmy McLarnin, Sandy Somerville, the "kid line" of the Toronto Maple Leafs, Barbara Ann Scott, Brenda Kidd, Marilyn Bell, Rocket Richard, Marlene Stewart Streit, Gordie Howe, and Bobby Hull—but none more so than that tigress of the slopes, slim Nancy Greene.

Nancy is Canada's "girl next door". She is wholesome, articulate, fiery, pretty, and magnetic. She's also the world's greatest woman skier. The fact that she won the global championship the hard way, on her last run in the final event of a gruelling season, by less than a half-second margin over her closest competitor, makes her a sports immortal at the tender age of 23.

Rotary's 47 Years in Belleville

Addressing Belleville Rotarians recently on the occasion of the club's 47th anniversary Past President A. McLean (Mac) Haig spoke of the early days of Rotary in the city and recalled the names of charter members and personalities at the time.

"The names are interesting and read like a 'Who's Who' of old Belleville of that time," said Mr. Haig. They reveal many connections with personal business associations both within and outside the club, and I will take a moment to read them to you."

Gordon Moffat, banker; Royal Bank; E. Gus. Porter, Lawyer and grandfather of the present city solicitor; Sandy Burrows, insurance, uncle of our own Freeman Burrows; Billy Doyle, inspector of income tax, and generally credited as the "father of the club"; Billy Deacon, Deacon Shirts and father of Jack Deacon; Bill Schuster, lumber and the original Schuster of Mohr-Schuster; Vean Hyman, furrier; Jimmie Boon, food manufacturer; Harry Robertson, capitalist whose bons is now owned and occupied by George Tustin; Fred Smith, plumbing; Tracy Doyle, druggist; Billy Adams, shoes; Stan Herman, hardware manufacturer; Fhay Wills, garage; Percy Allen, coal; Bill McCreery produce; Oswald Scott, hydro electric; Mackenzie Robertson, creamery; Jim Jenkins, Hotel Quinte; Harry Ashley, dentist; Lorne Marsh, hotel manufacturer; Charlie Reid, dry goods; Billy Hume, Corby's Distillery; and Dr. Robert W. Tennant, physician.

"There is a great history of information from then until the year 1931-32 when the names of the officers and directors are fairly well established. There was one event which occurred during that early period however which was brought to my attention by Oswald Scott. In 1936 during his term as president of the club he asked to put on a program at the annual assembly in Buffalo. It was broadcast over the Buffalo radio station and was the first time that any one or any group from Belleville w on radio. Col. W. N. Ponton was the speaker and Mr. Knight Mac Gregor was the soloist.

WIT, HUMOR

"There were a number of years when the club was brimming with wit, humor and fun — members like the late Jack Boyes, Ed Bernstien, Charlie Dolan, Charlie Spalding, H a r Robertson and others. The club could not help being funny and their contribution to the spirit of the club cannot be overstated.

"Jimmie Bone and Mac Robertson were great personal friends but they were never together one another in a humorous way for the amusement of the club. I remember on one occasion when Mac Robertson was introducing the speaker and was unduly long-winded. Just before the speaker could e v e n rise from his chair Jimmie was up thanking the speaker at the day — in fun of course.

"Any reminiscences of the Rotary Club of Belleville would not be complete without a sincere and complimentary reference to the great musical organization it once had. For many years the late Lee Riggs was the club's talented pianist and with the family Burrows was song leader for years with a huge robust voice and who knew how to sing. There was Harry Moorman with his beautiful bass voice and Al Stidman. The nucleus of musical talent which the club continued during this period was the surv of Jack Deacon, Bill Schuster, Fred Smith, Charlie Burrows was song leader for years with a huge robust voice and who knew how to sing. There was Harry Moorman with his beautiful bass voice and Al Stidman. The nucleus of musical talent which the club continued during this period was the surv of Jack Deacon, president in 1943-44, and his brother the late Fred Deacon in 1945-46, and former president Rotary family has been the Graham family — the late R. # Northern Ontario Faces Industrial Setback If Pipeline Delayed

TORONTO (CP) — Late in 1968 major customers of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. in Eastern Canada negotiated contracts for long-term supplies of 4.5 trillion cubic feet of natural gas, based on their virtual certainty of the Great Lakes extension to the pipeline being approved in 1966.

Now the pipeline project is almost a year behind schedule. Although both Canada and most of its customers are optimistic about early approval from the United States Federal Power Commission, which would enable the pipeline to be built, this is by no means certain.

Quick rejection followed by conditional approval of the line by the Canadian cabinet last summer undoubtedly added to the confusion and uncertainty now faced by eastern gas suppliers and their customers.

Some officials predict that unless added supplies from Trans-Canada are forthcoming soon, expansion of major Northern Ontario industries will be delayed, and new industries worth about $200,000,000 on paper won't get off the drawing boards.

The present Trans - Canada line from Alberta through Northern Ontario to Toronto and Montreal is bursting at the joints, and "normal" demand is growing by 10 to 15 per cent annually.

Northern and Central Gas Co., which supplied customers through Northern Ontario with about 28.6 billion cubic feet of gas from Trans-Canada last year, is probably the most concerned customer.

"We can't negotiate for alternative supplies because we aren't near any other source," says President E. C. Bovey of Toronto. He estimates his company could sell an added 50,000,000 cubic feet daily next winter if it's available.

Union Gas which serves customers through southwestern Ontario, got about 75 per cent of its supplies from Trans-Canada.

"If we are to supply major new industries we must have additional gas," F. R. Pelly, company president, said recently.

He said his company is negotiating with Panhandle Eastern Pipe Lines, a U.S. company, for added supplies but admitted the price probably won't be competitive with gas brought through the Great Lakes line.

Trans-Canada's largest eastern customer, Consumers' Gas of Toronto, is also looking for more gas by this fall, at competitive prices. The latter, company officials stress, are essential to Ontario's industrial development.

In its plans to build the Great Lakes line, Trans-Canada has said it would mean gas for three cents less per thousand cubic feet than the average Toronto-a-thousand Northern Ontario customers now pay.

But Trans - Canada admits that, if the Great Lakes line is vetoed or if a short delayed beyond this fall, its long-term contracts will have to be re-negotiated. The new prices would probably be higher than those now paid.

If the FPC approves the Great Lakes line quickly, Trans-Canada says it can bring new gas to Eastern Canada this winter by building a 185-mile pipeline from Sarnia, Ont., to Farwell, Mich., where supplies of a U.S. company can be tapped. The remainder of the 1,000-mile line from Emerson, Man., would be built the second year.

Without FPC approval Trans-Canada says it will still have time to loop its Northern Ontario line for 400 miles or so to bring more gas east this winter.

It must apply to the National Energy Board by May 1 for permission to do this.

Meantime, costs, like demand, are spiralling. The Northern Ontario section of the pipeline cost about $130,000,000 to build 19 years ago. Today it is estimated to cost around $400,000,000 to "twin" with 36-inch pipe.

Trans-Canada is committed to expanding E. But unless the Great Lakes scheme gets an early go-ahead, the company may be into the project far sooner than it expects, or face losing part of its potential gas market in Eastern Canada—perhaps permanently.

No Word on Premiums

OMSIP to Meet Increased Fees

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario's medical insurance plan will raise its payments to keep pace with the rising fees of doctors, but there is no word yet on what the move will do to premiums paid by the public.

Dr. Matthew Dymond, the provincial health minister, said in the legislature Tuesday he will introduce legislation providing for payment by the Ontario Medical Services Insurance Plan of 90 per cent of the fees put into effect April 1 by the Ontario Medical Association.

Dr. Dymond, who had earlier predicted a change in premiums if there was a change in payments, said it appeared the medical association would not change its plan to raise fees.

The original OMSIP legislation provided for payment of 90 per cent of the doctors' fees set under a 1965 schedule.

Premier Robarts told the legislature that a new law is on the way that will establish a bill of rights for shareholders and set a code of ethics for members of the financial community.

Commenting after the legislature committee on business law presented a report calling for far-reaching changes in the Ontario Corporations Act, Mr. Robarts said the legislation would be introduced this session—if it can be prepared in time—as a declaration of intent. It will not be proceeded with until businessmen have a chance to give their views.

In other legislature business:

1. The house voted 43 to 21, with the Liberals and New Democrats voting together, against a Liberal motion that would have eliminated Ontario expenditures on the Emergency Measures Organization.

2. Opposition members called on the government to ban—in hospitals, schools and public buildings—the paper ceiling tile blamed by fire officials for rapid spread of a fire last week in the Workmen's Compensation Board Hospital in Toronto.

3. Attorney - General Wishart indicated he will consider a suggestion by Bernard Newman (L — Windsor - Walkerville) that the province prohibit sale of clothing made of inflammable synthetic material.

4. Elmer Sopha (L — Sudbury) suggested that the government acted improperly in awarding a franchise for operation of the Ontario pavilion at Expo 67, Development Minister Stanley Randall told the opposition member. "You have a criminal mind."

5. The legislature sat until 12:13 a.m. as the government pushed through the $25,695,000 spending estimates of the attorney-general's department.

Conservatives To Organize Federal Riding

It has been announced today that a meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 19th at 8.00 p.m. in the armouries at Madoc, to formally launch the new Federal Riding of Hastings.

Prime purpose of the meeting is to adopt a proposed new constitution and elect a full slate of officers to serve as the new executive for the riding.

During the past several weeks informal talks and committee meetings have been held to lay the ground work for full organization. A committee composed of prominent party workers from the Northern, Central and Southern parts of the riding has carried out the preliminary work.

Delegates will be named on the basis of one delegate for every 100 voters from the municipalities of Tyendinaga, Thurlow, Hungerford, Elzevir, Madoc, Marmora, Grimsthorpe, Tudor, Cashel, Limerick, Wollaston, Mayo, Dungannon, Faraday and from the urban centres of Belleville, Deseronto, Tweed, Madoc, Marmora and Bancroft.

Party workers and members of Parliament will join with the delegates and the general public to give support to what promises to be an important and historic meeting of the Conservative party.

Five teams will be going to the Regional Bowling Tournament to be held this Saturday at Peterborough. One team from Tweed, three from Deseronto and one from Belleville.

The Sports Day ended in social get-together which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

SMALL SHOPS FLOURISH

MONTREAL (CP) — Boutiques have taken over the heart of Montreal's fashionable shopping area. More and more women are spending hours a week shopping for unique items to wear or to use in home decoration.

These two sweet rolls — Honey Twirls and Cinnamon Puffs — were made from one batch of dough. Only the finishes were different. But what a finish! Yeast bakers — here is an easy way to work your way deeper into the hearts of your loved ones. Mary Moore gives her usual careful directions today.

Kitchen Tested Recipes

Double-duty Sweet Roll Dough Makes Tasty Cinnamon Puffs

By MARY MOORE

"Keep the yeast recipes coming!"

Like did the reader who wrote that sentence at the end of her letter knew that that kind of admonition sets fire-balls ringing and this old fire-horse racing to the kitchen.

I do not have to be told twice. I am eating a Cinnamon Puff as I write the original longhand draft of this column and it is gorgeous!

Have you got a package of yeast on hand? Did you know they are no longer dated? They do not need to be for the formula has been made durable.

DOUBLE-DUTY SWEET ROLL DOUGH

¼ cup milk
1 pkge. granular yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 tsp. sugar
1 cup whole bran — not flakes (packaged cereal)
¼ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
2 eggs
2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour

Scald milk. In heater bowl add lukewarm water and 1 tsp. sugar to yeast and let soak 10 min. Remove scalded milk from heat and add bran, shortening, sugar and salt and let cool while you set and measure the flour. Stir milk, bran mixture and add to risen yeast. Beat. Beat in egg. Then add all flour and mix as well as you can then knead on floured board 200 times. Return to scraped-down bowl, butter top, cover and let rise until more than doubled. (I let mine rise in my cool kitchen overnight.) Punch down dough, knead 100 times on floured board. Cut in halves.

To make Honey Twirl roll one-half of dough under palms on lightly floured board into an even roll 40" long. Coil roll to fit buttered 9" round pan starting at outside edge and working to centre. Let rise in till light — about 1½ hrs. Spoon over top a mixture of ¼ cup each honey, sugar, chopped walnuts and 2 tbsps. each flour and melted butter. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. 30 to 35 min. or until baked at centre. The bubbles while baking so be sure you use a 9" pan.

TO MAKE Cinnamon Puffs, roll second half of dough into an even roll 12" long and cut into 12 pieces. Place these in a 12 - cup muffin pan — cups should be small, preferably 2" in diameter — to produce tall puffs. Let rise until very light — about 1½ hours. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. 30 min. (Bake at the same time as you bake the Honey Twirl but remove from oven earlier.) When Puffs are baked have ready in a deep cup ¼ cup melted butter and in a shallow bowl, ½ cup sugar and 2 tsps. cinnamon. Using a 2 tbsp. fork-ample each puff on it, dip it into butter to coat it and cover all over with sugar - cinnamon mixture. Let rest on large plate until you have dipped all 12 in butter then in sugar-cinnamon coating. Serve hot or warm — but they are good cold too. The Cinnamon Puffs won first prize here — but the Honey Twirl ran them a close second.

Mother Suffers From Schizophrenia Fears This Might Be Hereditary

DORIS CLARE

Dear Doris: I had a nervous breakdown a year ago and am being helped by a psychiatrist. Last month she told me that schizophrenia is hereditary. Doris, she upset me terribly. My mother has suffered from schizophrenia ever since I was small and when I broke down, what was bothering me was that I would be like my mother.

I came home and cried my heart out because I wouldn't want my children to have the kind of childhood that I had. My father drank a lot too, which didn't help things at all. She made me feel "What's the use?" If it's hereditary I might as well go and commit myself to a mental hospital, even though "I feel just fine now! — Depressing Thoughts

Dear Depressing: Stuff and nonsense! Most of us have a weak spot somewhere; tendencies to diabetes, to weak chest, to cancer, are thought to move through the generations. But we don't just fold up.

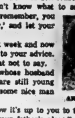
According to my psychiatric consultant: "Schizophrenia is hereditary only in the sense that the person who has a schizophrenic relative is more likely than the average person to get it.

"How much more likely depends on many factors, perhaps the most important of which is learning to lead one's life in such a way that undue strains and pressures aren't suffered, or if they are, at least not allowed to accumulate."

But this is good advice for anybody, with or without schizophrenic ancestors. And I would add my own suggestion that to develop faith in a wise Creator and the essential rightness of things can work greater wonders than any drug.

Dear Doris: Referring to the letter signed by Bermuda Practical Nurse: I would like to know if there is any possibility of taking this course in French in the Maritimes, and what would be the cost of it.—Nicholine.

Dear Nicholine: There is indeed. The Quebec School of Practical Nursing, 3465 Cote Des Neiges Road, Montreal, provides similar training in French. Costs about $200. You would have to go to Montreal for your intensive one-month training at the end of your home study.



Keep in mind that this is not a government sponsored course, and that not all hospitals accept graduates as trained people. But it is the only course I can find which provides most of the training by correspondence.

Confidential to Epileptic: You are on the right track. The more you learn about your handicap the better you can cope. So far we have no cure for epilepsy, but we have "precious" knowledge about controlling seizures by medication.

Many thousands of similarly troubled Canadians are holding down steady jobs and have been for a long time. And there are thousands more who are daily overcoming far worse weaknesses. So take courage!

Ann Landers

Funeral Faux Pas Should Be Forgiven

ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last year you had something in your column from a person who was self-conscious around grief-stricken people and didn't know what to say when he made a condolence call. As I remember, you said, "Be brief. Say 'I'm sorry,' and let your presence do the rest."

My father passed away last week and now I would like to add something to your advice. I would like to tell people what not to say.

Don't go up to a woman whose husband has just died and say, "You are still young and attractive. You will make some nice man and get married again."

Don't say to the sons, "Now it's up to you to take care of your mother. You must take your father's place." No one can take his father's place in the life of his mother and it's dumb to suggest it.

Thank you, Ann, for letting me have my say. — STILL GRIEVING.

DEAR S.G.: It's hard to believe people can be so insensitive. And the odd thing is that these lumbheads mean no harm. Forgive them, and learn from their mistakes.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am sorry your column doesn't appear on the front page. What I have to say ought to be read by everyone in town.

I have been married only a few months. The minute I returned from my honeymoon the women in the office began to ask me if I was pregnant. When I came home with the flu last week I received five calls from friends who said, "I'll bet you are pregnant."

This morning I wore a tent-type dress which, as you know, is considered very fashionable. Three girls came over and asked if it was a maternity dress. Then the office manager came and said, "The new styles are perfect for covering up pregnancy. You could be in the eighth month and nobody could see anything."

What is wrong with these people? Why don't they mind their own business? Can you come up with an Ann Landers' type answer that will shut them up? — NOTHING TO ANNOUNCE.

DEAR N.T.A.: Nothing will shut them up. For certain clodpate types, no question is too personal, no subject too delicate. No response is the best response. Silence can be deafening.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Usually your advice is right on the button, but recently you disappointed me. A young bride wrote and said she felt ill at ease calling her in-laws Mr. and Mrs. Jones. You suggested that she offer to call them either Mom or Dad Jones or by their first names.

I have been married for four years and I am still calling my husband's parents Mr. and Mrs. Jones simply because they have never asked me to call them anything else.

It is not up to the daughter-in-law to make the first move. The in-laws should ask the new member of the family to call them mom and dad. This is a sign of acceptance. I feel very much an outsider, and I am certain that this is their way of letting me know I am just that. — UNACCEPTED.

DEAR UNACCEPTED: You are right. It is up to the in-laws to suggest that the new member of the family call them mother and dad, or by their first names. This is unquestionably a sign of acceptance and I hope your in-laws see this letter and hop to it.

Points for Parents

By MARY BRYSON

Mother: "I wish the children enjoyed reading. Even when they start books, they seem to finish them."

Reed aloud to your children as often as you can. Then have them take turns reading to the family, or let them finish the story by themselves.

...ding for enjoyment is a habit that can be learned. A fam... reading session every evening can be a pleasant way to start the habit.

Sticks to Her Knitting

Mrs. Simon Fischman of Elgin, Ont., may be in danger of dropping a stitch as she applauds speaker and hangs onto her knitting at the same time during a session of the national Liberal women's convention at Ottawa. (CP Wirephoto)

Disinterest Said Reason MPs Scarce

OTTAWA (CP) — Putting more women members in the House of Commons is a do-it-yourself job, Immigration Minister Marchand told delegates to the National Women's Liberal convention Tuesday night.

"Don't count on men to do it for you."

It was not male discrimination but female disinterest that had resulted in so few women political candidates.

The 300 delegates gently objected to Mr. Marchand's remarks, delivered during a panel discussion on whether women could best serve government as legislators or background workers.

Agriculture Minister Greene, a fellow panellist, also aroused some objections with a proposal that policy planning, instead of campaigning, might fit in better with women's role as a homemaker.

Outnumbered by four women on the panel, including former MP Flora Isvent and New Brunswick MP Mrs. Margaret Rideout, Mr. Marchand stuck to his guns.

He said any law which would require appointments of women to the Senate or cabinet would be an artificial, reactionary measure.

Mrs. K. G. Montgomery, honorary secretary of the women Liberals, also a panellist, said men did discriminate against women, as female campaign workers discovered—when they found themselves in the front room while the back room boys discussed policy.

CLUB 4-H NOTES

HALLOWAY

KOTTON KITTENS

The fourth meeting of the Kotton Kittens was held at Sydney Baptist Church Hall on Saturday. The meeting was opened with the reciting of the 4-H pledge.

Those present who answered the roll call, "A line in clothes which suits me," were: Elizabeth Kuglin, Bonnie MacInnes, Carole, Lorraine and Barbara Dafoe, Linda and Lorrein Rose.

Mrs. Cook outlined the advantages of stay-stitching. She also showed how to make gathers by machine. For the home assignment, members are to prepare the dress as far as possible for fitting. This is to be done for the meeting on April 8.

Preparations in Full Swing for Ball

Preparations are now in full swing for the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment's Centennial Ball to be held next Saturday in the Armouries.

The first event of that evening will be the entertainment of the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Rowe at a dinner held in his honor by the senior officers of the Regiment at the Hotel Quinte. Present will be the Honorary Colonel, Brigadier D. C. Cameron and Mrs. Cameron, Honorary and Mrs. Howard Graham, QC, Mayor and Mrs. Ellis, Lt. Col. and Mrs. K. D. H. Willcocks, Major and Mrs. A. W. Cunningham, Major and Mrs. L. S. Pringhill, Major and Mrs. F. R. Allan. The Aide-de-camp appointed by Queens Park will be Lt. Col. P. MacEachren (48th Highlanders) who will be accompanied by his wife Mrs. MacEachren, well known in Toronto social circles.

Following dinner, His Honor will meet the remaining regimental officers and their wives in a special closed reception in the officer's mess.

Between 9.00 and 10.00 p.m. Lt. Col. and Mrs. Willcocks and Major and Mrs. Cunningham will formally receive all guests as they enter the ball room after being announced.

Just prior to 10.00 p.m. a lone piper (Mr. Ken McNevin of Deseronto) will start to play on the balcony. This will be the signal for the Lieutenant Governor and the honored guests to leave the officers' mess.

The group will be led to the vice regal dais by the piper. Guests will be standing when the honor guard of militiamen dressed in 1885 uniform present arms to his honor and the National Anthem is played.

Following the anthem, 15 beautiful young ladies will be presented to his honor. These young ladies have for the last month received instruction in etiquette for the occasion and also special dancing instruction. All will be dressed in full length white gowns and escorted by gentlemen in evening dress. Each debutante will be individually presented to his honor, having walked between the lines of militiamen in escorted tunics. When all have been presented, debutantes and escorts will perform an old fashioned waltz to the music of "Loves Dream After the Ball" for the Lieutenant Governor's pleasure.

The Argyll Chapter of the IODE has been responsible for the selection and training of the young ladies and their escorts. Under the overall direction of the regent Mrs. K. D. H. Willcocks, Mrs. Angus Duffy and her committee of Mrs. Birkenshaw, Mrs. H. Campbell and Mrs. Mac Smith have supervised the selection of gowns to be worn by the debutantes. Mrs. Ross Allan and her committee of Mrs. P. Till, Mrs. B. Milroy, Mrs. L. Smith and Mrs. A. Cunningham have taught deportment and the dance routines. Publicity has been handled by Mrs. McConnell. Selection of debutantes was made by the committee chairmen.

The names of debutantes being presented are: Allison Birkenshaw of Belleville, daughter of Harry Birkenshaw, escorted by Ray Monroe; Judy Lyon of Belleville, daughter of Fred Lyon, escorted by Jerry Grant; Jane Simmons of Trenton, daughter of Wayne Simmons, escorted by Dave Willet; Nancy Howell of Belleville, daughter of the late Stuart Howell and Dorothy Howell, escorted by Kevin MacLeod; Anne Ireland of Trenton, daughter of Bill Ireland, escorted by Peter Magoun; Donna Ridley of Belleville, daughter of Donald Ridley, escorted by George Porter; Susan Bennett of Carrying Place, daughter of Herman Bennett, escorted by Spencer Glazish; Ruth Ann Campbell of Trenton, daughter of Hugh Campbell, escorted by Hermann Miedema; Carol Ann Brant of Deseronto, daughter of Earl Brant, escorted by Rod Colquhoun; Heather Slade of Belleville, daughter of W. G. Slade, escorted by Earle MacDonald; Marilyn Hurst of Belleville, daughter of Harry Hurst, escorted by Paul Callaghan; Margaret Kehr of Belleville, daughter of Harold Kehler, escorted by Ross Huntley; Diane Bowman of Trenton, daughter of James Bowman, escorted by John Abero; Jacqueline Luxsberg, of Belleville, daughter of Jack Luxsberg, escorted by Earl Reid; Peggy Lee Ackerman of Trenton, daughter of Gordon Ackerman, escorted by Bob Farrow.

In addition to the previously mentioned important guests, several members of parliament and all three district mayors will be present to assist the regiment in making this a memorable Centennial event.

For the past weeks the officers and their wives have been making many non - military manoeuvres on the dance floor in their efforts to learn the Gay Gordons. However on Saturday night it is hoped that their performance will be perfect and guests will be invited to try their prowess at the end of the demonstration.

Catering for the buffet arranged by Major Ross Allan will be by the Royal Canadian Air Force Base Trenton. By kind permission of the commanding officer, professional cooks will prepare and display a superb buffet embellished with shining regimental silver and trophies.

Guests are reminded that the most spectacular events start precisely at 10.00 p.m. and are advised to arrive as soon after 9.00 p.m. as possible in order to move through the receiving line.

Committee on Company Law Urges Immediate Reforms

TORONTO (CP) — Sweeping reforms of Ontario's company laws, which could affect the actions of everyone from the smallest investor to the biggest director, were recommended Tuesday.

And, if the committee which drew up the proposals after two years of study has its way, more is to come.

The recommendations were contained in the report of the legislature's committee on company law, tabled in the legislature.

Written against a background of what the committee's 11 members call "recent notorious events" in Ontario's business community, it proposes in brief:

1. A code of ethics for company directors, backed by regulations making them responsible in law for their actions;

2. Wider and easier provisions for shareholders to use directors, in case directors do not follow the ethics code;

3. New powers for shareholders to start investigations of their company's affairs, remove directors from office or to demand shareholder meetings;

4. Auditors who are absolutely independent of management, clear of any conflicts of interest and available to answer shareholders' questions at annual meetings;

5. What in effect would be a new court of senior judges who would be available to handle shareholder complaints quickly and with a minimum of red tape, while at the same time building up a backlog of experience in what the committee calls the increasingly complex world of business regulations;

6. New provisions covering conduct of trustees to elevate their standards of behavior and care;

7. Incorporation of professional people such as doctors, lawyers and architects as limited companies, with the resulting tax benefits.

Committee chairman Allan Lawrence (PC — Toronto-St. George) told a news conference the results of the recommendations could be extremely far-reaching.

But he said the committee should be reconstituted so it can look into more than a dozen other areas it had to pass over because of a lack of time.

Mr. Lawrence said the report did not aim at presenting a specific piece of legislation, but rather was intended to point out "the urgent need for fundamental and basic changes in our corporation law."

He urged immediate action in four fields:

The role of directors, the rights of shareholders, the duties of auditors and the responsibilities of trustees.

". . . I urge the government to move quickly in these four fields particularly," the Progressive Conservative member told his party leader, Premier John Robarts.

Premier Robarts said that if the legislation can be drafted in time, it will be introduced at the present session of the legislature but not passed.

BC Government Gives $25,000 For Families of Mine Victims

NATAL, B.C. (CP)—The British Columbia government contributed $25,000 Tuesday to welfare funds set up for the families of 15 men killed Monday in a coal mine explosion near this community in the southeastern corner of the province.

The donation was announced by Mines Minister Donald Brothers, who said he made a personal plea to Premier W.A.C. Bennett for provincial assistance to the miners' families.

Mr. Brothers, who arrived at Crows Nest Industries Ltd.'s Balmer North Mine within hours of the explosion, left Natal Tuesday night to confer with the premier in Vancouver.

"My heart goes out to all the families of the dead and injured," the mines minister said. "At the present time we have no idea what caused the explosion and the mine is still full of gas."

"It's a miracle there was anybody alive."

Premier Bennett described the mine blast as "a terrible disaster."

The nine miners injured—three of them critically—remained in hospital today. Preparations for burying the dead started Tuesday and the families are considering a mass funeral Thursday.

The federal government announced Tuesday it is also considering aid for the victims' families. Prime Minister Pearson told the Commons there was sorrow and regret at the mine disaster, but did not indicate the size of the donation the government is considering.

Reeve Orlando Ungaro of nearby Sparwood, one of five directors of the inter-provincial fund, said he is pleased with the B.C. government's response.

Other directors of the fund are Mayor Vernon Uphill of Fernie, B.C., and the mayors of Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue in Alberta. The coal-rich Crowsnest Pass straddles the Alberta-B.C. border and several of those killed and injured came from the Alberta side.

Bank manager W. L. Revell, secretary of the fund, said "concerned people from as far away as New York and California have already called with offers of assistance."

A second fund, started in Cranbrook, east of the Crowsnest Pass, has collected more than $1,000. The fund was started by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and will be turned over to the inter-provincial fund directors.

Crows Nest Industries closed down its three other major coal mining operations in the area Tuesday as the government officials started their investigation.

Mrs. William Cydco of Sparwood, whose 41-year-old husband died, said Cydco predicted the explosion the night before it happened.

"He always talked about the gas in the mine," said Mrs. Cydco. "He said Sunday night 'one of these days that thing is going to blow and the whole top is going to come off.'"

Pete Rotolo, 57, of Fernie, related how he was shot out of the mine like "grapes shot from a cannon" by the massive blast.

Rotolo, wearing only a sore leg, said he went into the mine in search of a friend when the explosion roared up the 3½-mile horizontal shaft.

"I went up in the air and put my arms around my face so my eyes wouldn't get hurt," he said. "After a while I landed in some small trees.

"I saw some guys a little further down and I went to tell them about the mine."

NDP Gets His Wish For Probe

EDMONTON (CP) — Garth Turcott (NDP—Pincher Creek-Crowsnest) will get the investigation he has asked for in charges of impropriety against the Social Credit government.

Premier E. C. Manning said in the legislature Tuesday the government will introduce a motion for an investigation into the matter, but he did not say when the motion would be introduced or what form the investigation would take.

Mr. Turcott has repeatedly asked for a judicial inquiry into his charges against Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke and former provincial treasurer E. W. Hinman, who, he said, used or attempted to use their cabinet posts for personal gain.

POLICE IN PORT

The port of Toronto has its own police force, numbering 32.

Mafia Likes Expo

NEW YORK (CP)—Two detectives from the Montreal police department conferred with New York police experts and the FBI Tuesday on a renewed probe into Canada of racketeers believed connected with the Mafia.

The problem has long plagued Canadian police and is believed especially acute now with the world's fair in Montreal scheduled to open large this month.

RCMP Commissioner George B. McClellan said recently that U.S. racketeers took over the Montreal underworld by the mid-1950s, but were driven out by concerted police action.

The visit of the Montreal detectives, not identified, was officially described as one aimed at developing a closer liaison between local Canadian police departments, the RCMP and enforcement agencies in New York.

The Canadian police officials arrived here Monday. Their discussions also included meetings with officials of the customs bureau, the office of U.S. Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau and the New York City police department's criminal investigation bureau.

A U.S. government official said that the Canadian police report that more and more U.S. underworld figures are visiting Montreal and Toronto regularly.

These gangland figures meet in hotels and nightclubs, and in some instances the meetings have included Canadian underworld figures.

But in Toronto, top law enforcement officers denied there is an influx of U.S.-based Mafia hoodlums to the city.

"There is no decided change in the Mafia situation in Toronto or Ontario," said Herbert S. Thurston, adviser to the Ontario Police Commission.

Chief Superintendent J. G. C. Dewsoy, commanding officer of the Toronto Division of the RCMP, agreed that there was no Mafia influx in Toronto.

Big-time gambling, and the vending and juke-box business are believed to be involved in the Canadian underworld operation.

Canadian officials want law enforcement agencies in New York to furnish quick identification and backgrounds on visiting American racketeers. Canadian police are said to feel that while relations between Canadian enforcement agencies and New York authorities have been cordial they have not been as close as the Canadian police would like.

Melrose

MELROSE — The Messengers, under the leadership of Mrs. Don MacFarlane, held a successful afternoon tea on Saturday in the church basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Embury and family of Madoc spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. Embury.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Milligan of Port Credit spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Milligan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Milligan were guests Saturday evening at the reception at Parkdale Baptist Church, Belleville, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robinson on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cole and family, accompanied by Mrs. Cole's parents from Bland River, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. English.

Ten Veteran Provincial Members Won't Contest Next Election

TORONTO (CP) — At least 13 veteran members, including former Liberal leader Andrew Thomson, will be absent when the Ontario legislature meets after the next provincial election.

One New Democratic Party member, five Liberals and four Progressive Conservatives have announced they will not contest the election that Premier John Robarts may call within a month.

Mr. Thompson, 42, told supporters Monday night the heart condition that forced him to resign as leader last November will also prevent him from contesting the Toronto Dovercourt seat he has represented since 1959.

Two Conservatives, Kelso Roberts (Toronto St. Patrick) and Louis Cecile (Prescott), both long-time cabinet ministers, left some time ago for other jobs.

Also leaving are Farquhar Oliver, Liberal member for Grey South for 41 years; Dick Taylor (L — Timiskaming), a prominent businessman; Ross Whicher (L — Bruce), George Gordon (P—Brantford), Keith Brown (PC — Peterborough), Elmer Sandercock (PC—Hastings West), and Ken Bryden (NDP—Toronto Woodbine), one of the ablest speakers in the House.

Born in Solfest, Mr. Thompson came to Canada in 1940 and attended Queen's University and then the University of British Columbia where he earned a master's degree in sociology.

He was working in federal parole and immigration fields when Lester Pearson, now prime minister, enrolled him as a speech writer, researcher and aide in 1958.

The following year Mr. Pearson encouraged him to run in the provincial election for the experience. Mr. Thompson became the first Liberal to take Dovercourt since a Confederation.

Five years later he became leader after a Cold-Solid victory over broadcaster-businessman Charles Templeton, who does not have a seat in the legislature.

The Liberals will also miss Mr. Oliver, 63, whose love of public speaking and debating was born at rural School No. 7, Artemesia, in Grey County, where he graduated at the age of 13.

After working on the family farm, he was elected in 1926, at the age of 22, as a United Farmers Party member.

He joined the Liberal party when the UFP disbanded and in 1941 was appointed minister of public works and welfare. He resigned from the cabinet in 1943 but in 1945, the last year the party held power, he was re-appointed.

ELMER SANDERCOCK

Mr. Oliver was Liberal leader three times; the latest recent being after the September, 1963, election. His speaking ability kept him on his party's front bench from the 1930s onward.

Mr. Taylor, 54, elected in 1963 and appointed provincial campaign chairman two years later, will also be hard to replace. With his extensive business background, he was the Liberal's mining, economics and development critic.

Mr. Bryden, 51, who has spent a great deal of his time helping to establish the NDP in Ontario, feels the party is strong enough that he can return to his other interests.

He is working toward a doctorate in political science at the University of Toronto where he received his M.A. and taught economics in 1939 and 1940.

From 1940 to 1944 he served as a research economist for the federal department of labor, as secretary of the unemployment insurance advisory committee and secretary of the labor priorities committee of the national selective service.

During the next five years he was deputy minister of labor and chairman of the labor relations board for Saskatchewan. In 1949 he became research secretary for Ontario's CCF party and four years later was named provincial secretary of the party, a post he resigned a few months after his election in June, 1959.

In the house, he kept an eye on the treasury, public works, provincial auditor, economics and development, and the civil service.

Mr. Roberts, 69, resigned from the cabinet last November after seven years as attorney-general and four as minister of lands and forests and left the house last month to devote more time to his law practice. He was first elected in 1943.

Mr. Cecile, 62, left the cabinet at the same time, after serving seven years as minister of travel and publicity and 12 years as welfare minister. Elected in 1948, he resigned in February to become magistrate for Prescott and Russell counties.

Mr. Gordon, 79, and Mr. Sandercock, 73, both members since 1945, are resigning because of age. Mr. Brown, 41, elected in 1959, will devote more time to his Peterborough garage.

Mr. Whicher, 59, a member since 1955, loses his seat to redistribution in the next election and does not plan to contest another.

Overtime Reduction Requested

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Federation of Labor said today eliminating needless overtime by making it too costly would reduce the work week and create more jobs.

The federation, in its annual brief to the provincial government, called for a basic minimum wage of "somewhere closer to $2 an hour" to bolster the purchasing power of those in need.

The current minimum wage in Ontario is $1 an hour.

"High prices are stealing any benefits of the present minimum wage," the brief said.

It suggested that all work after 40 hours a week be paid at the rate of time-and-a-half with a limit of 100 hours a year of overtime.

"We believe that the best system of reducing needless overtime is to discourage it by making it more costly."

Stating a belief that the economy may be headed for a recession, the federation said the alternative to deficit spending at this time is to court recession, unemployment and a lower standard of living.

It called for government investment to stimulate house and apartment building to avoid a severe housing shortage in Ontario and overcome a slowdown in the economy.

ANAF News

Next Sunday will be the fiftieth anniversary of the successful attack on Vimy Ridge by the First Canadian Army Corps after the French and British had attempted to recapture the Ridge from the Germans since October, 1914. It established once and for all, that the Canadians were among the best fighting troops in the world. Later actions by successive Canadian Forces have worthily upheld this fact. There will be world wide church parades and services held to commemorate this great battle, with simultaneous services being held at the Vimy Memorial and at the Cenotaph in Ottawa. There will also be hundreds of commemorative services held across Canada to honor the ones who gave their lives and lay buried close around the Memorial in ground that shall be forever Canada.

The darts doubles had another good turnout with plenty of prizes being distributed. However the remarkably fine weather seems to have cut into the crowd as the comrades start to make preparations to clean up around their summer cottages in readiness for summer.

The coach of the ANAF Dukes Bantams passed along the information that the team had won again last Sunday by a score of 4 to 2 thus taking the round with a total score of 12 to 3. They will meet the winner of the other semi-final on Wednesday April 5th. They will be playing either the Amerks or the Aces and it is hoped the members who can do so, will turn out to cheer the boys to victory.

The sick chairman reports that the following comrades are still in the Belleville General Hospital: Joe Chapman, room 221, Ray Reid, room 114 and Bob Robinson, room 102. All have been visited and are resting as well as possible. Cde. Jack Cunningham is still confined to his home but hopes to get out now the nice weather is here.

The membership committee is pleased to note that over 80% of the dues have been paid and that new members are coming in to fill applications quite steadily.

Two dances are being arranged for April by the entertainment chairman and his committee. The next one will be on Friday, April 14th and another on Friday, April 28th. These very popular events are being well attended and are noted for the good music, unique prizes with lots of fun and good comradeship.

Thursday, April 13th is the date of the next general meeting. Among other important business will be the report of the Centennial Project Committee which all members will want to hear.

Take a few minutes out next Sunday to remember Vimy Ridge.

Questions and Answers On Highway Travel

Ontario Motor League
Eastern Ontario Club

QUESTION: We are taking a week this spring and going to New York for the first time. We would like to see some of the most interesting sights which are not too expensive. What is the average cost of central hotels and motels? We wish to go one way and return another.

ANSWER: The Metropolitan Museum of Art (Fifth Avenue and 82nd street), doesn't cost a penny and is the closest thing to the Louvre on this side of the Atlantic. It covers four city blocks and is an absolute must for anyone who heads to New York for the first time.

Statue of Liberty National Monument: Upper New York Bay on Liberty Island. The Statue, presented to the United States in 1886, can be reached by tour boats leaving hourly 9-4. Adults 90 cents; children 40 cents. Or you can board the Staten Island Ferry for a nickel. It takes you past the Statue and into the midst of the world's busiest harbor on its way to Staten Island.

While you're down in the south end of Manhattan make a free visit to the New York Stock Exchange (Broad and Wall St.) and watch thousands being made and lost before your eyes. The visitors' galleries are open from 10-3:30 on business days. Operations and history are given.

Many television shows want an audience and you can get free tickets at the convention and visitors Bureau office and at the Times Square tourist office.

Rockefeller Centre: Between Fifth and Sixth avenue, occupies 17 buildings on a 15-acre plot. Of special interest is Radio City Music Hall where you'll see the precision-dancing Rockettes, a stage show, plus a first run movie for 80 cents if you can make it in the morning on a week day. Also in the centre are the studios of the National Broadcasting Co. Tours from 9:30 to 5:30, price $1.75.

A walk down Fifth Avenue is free and you see the most elegant shops this side of Paris. This is best done on Sunday afternoons to resist the temptation of spending all your money.

If you have never been on an ocean liner and there is one in dock you can usually go aboard shortly before it sails for 20 cents. The big ocean liners dock along the Hudson River on the west side of Manhattan.

Empire State Building, 5th Avenue and 34th street. The world's tallest structure, 1,472 feet high. Elevators run to the observation tower on the 102nd floor. Open daily 9:30 a.m. to midnight. Admission $1.50, children 5 to 11 years of age 75 cents.

United Nations Headquarters, 42nd to 48th streets along the East River. Designed and decorated by the world's leading architects: open daily 9-4:45. Guided tours at 9:15 adults $1, students 50 cents.

Lincoln Centre for Performing Arts, between 62nd and 66th streets, 185-million dollar building. Tours 9-5 Adults $1.25, students 90 cents.

It would take a couple of pages to list the museums and art galleries of special interest which are free, but the American Museum of Natural History, with its replicas of animal and plant life from earliest times is worth at least a couple of hours. It's at 79th street and Central Park West.

Prices of hotels and motels: Average price ranges from $16 to $20 a day, double occupancy.

Route No. 1: No. 81 to Syracuse, N.Y., New York thru-way to Palisade Parkway, (this takes you into New York City via the George Washington Bridge.)

Route No. 2: Palisades State Parkway to New York thru-way to No. 17 to Binghampton, N.Y., and No. 81 to Ivy Lea Bridge.

Patterns Work Magic

The Real News for Spring Is.... "Prints Are In"

Silhouettes show variety — dapple, slim, swinging, with the fitted, baked look offering some first indications of a fashion revolution still in the future. Fabrics, too, are diverse, aptly described as "tender" in their gentle, romantic approach to texture.

But the single most important influence on fashion, the freshest idea, the real news for spring is: Prints!

Designers work their magic with pattern and more pattern as prints appear in dots, large and small; checks, from district to tattersall to houndstooth; stripes, wide and narrow, uneven and wavy, horizontal and diagonal and vertical; florals, tiny to huge; chalk prints; scarf prints; border prints; brushstroke prints; paisleys; geometrics galore.

There are two-tone prints, space prints, zigzag prints, bold abstracts and wild tile prints. "Jungle" prints range from African and Indian to native animals.

This predilection for prints is, by the way, a trend the whole family can share. There's rich new excitement in printed fashions for women, for men, for children. And it all co-ordinates perfectly with the current trend in interior decoration, where printed fabrics are being used inside the home in ever-increasing quantity and variety.

Color as well as print is riotously varied — from light to bright, with yellows, pink-purples and greens looking especially new. Black pairs with white, and there are many beigy off-whites, as well as many brown tones.

Shape news sees a continuation of the tent influence, while the high-rise feeling that's usually associated with spring arrives in the form of silhouettes with a lifted look. The short-cropped jacket often pairs with a dirndl skirt, and other skirts take to pleats, tenty floats, flares, as well as the A and the skimmer.

Pants suits go into spring and summer as culotte suits, with long or short-cropped culottes. The short pants suit (pants ending above the knee) has a young mood.

Some signs hint that a return to the fitted silhouette may be in the offing. A bit more fit, with more definition of the waistline, is evident in these trend fashions. Usually, fit combines with flare.

The all-together outfit, totally right, appears in a myriad versions, in pre-co-ordinated combinations of dresses with jackets and/or coats; suits with blouses; weskits; coats.

Sleeves are varied and newsy — short, puffed, long, skinny. Most new is the kite sleeve, a web of fabric linking a sleeve to the body of a dress. It's a cousin of the dolman.

Collars, when they are not cowls or hoods, trend to the vest and discreet. The mandarin collar marks many suits.

Side-wrapped and side-buttoned effects make frequent fashion appearances, as do asymmetric looks.

The Arabian nights influence inspires at-home party attire — the burnoose, the djellaba, the kaftan, again in prints.

The Beat

African print, bold and clear, is in fabrics for spring. Some are wild and startling, others are understated in color and size. This one is fashioned for afternoons and evenings in the cool linen-look of a rayon fabric. Background color is brown and the accents are in black and beige. The jacket opens to reveal a simple sleeveless dress which can go it alone, beautifully.

Abstract Distraction

For the young woman of action, a Puerto-printed long sleeved shirt with a softly rolled collar, in wild shades of orange, gold and pink, paired with Rico gold straight-legged pants. Both pants and shirt are of textured stretch fabric for better fit.

Slim Slacks Have Fresh Look

Low slung, slim - fitting slacks will give staple color traditionals stiff competition this spring.

Bold plaid, pin stripes and textured fabric models in a wide range of colors—including high shades—create the first really fresh approach in casual slacks since the Continental model.

Slacks producers have been flirting with patterns for several seasons. It now looks as if the time is ripe. There are "britches" available with tiger pattern, reportedly animal appeal.

Pocket Hats On Market

Men, if you ordinarily don't like hats yet sometimes feel you should be wearing one — take a good look at the good-looking lightweight crushable felts. Tuck it into your pocket — just gently shape it before donning — and look Beau Brummel to the top of your head when the occasion demands it.

Standouts for Spring

Fabrics Take on Added Touch of Versatility

Fabrics are standouts for spring '67. Surface textures go from the crisp and neat to the deeply-etched bas reliefs.

Cottons turn up with an almost upholstery finish by jacquards, with a flourish of pattern in matelasse, with texture on texture when Intricately striped with thick and thin yarns, silver threads.

Woollens are often almost three-dimensional. Their opish dotted jacquards are ready for framing; plaids are ropey, nubby; stripes are puffy; tweeds and checks are highly textured, look bulky yet are featherlight.

The delicate sheers, like voiles, crepes, chiffons and georgettes crinkle and rib with texture, pile on textures with strips of embroidery.

In cossing and suiting fabrics, the suedecloths and the felts look particularly fresh. There are worsteds with a new airiness, a spring-like feeling. Grosgrains and pettipoints add distinction, along with regimental and horizontal stripes, checks and plaids of different persuasions, geometrics.

Wool silk-linen and velours enrich the spring view of suiting fabrics.

Knits, from wool through acetate to cotton, have sculptured surfaces. Some light up with glitter effects.

Cotton knits weave new charm in intricate patterns that once belonged to wool alone. Cotton knit, in double face, flips its lid to reverse nest patterns, interchange colors, double the interest.

There's continued attention to homespuns, hopsacks, denims for the Western feeling they impart.

Gabardines and traditional men's wear weaves are newly important for the crisp, neat way they transform 'W styles.

For a young casual crispness, for fun and a rustic flavor, there are the twills, ducks, poplins, linen weaves and faster, wider cords.

Hair Is Curving Again

Hair is curving again for spring — straight geometrics is marching out, the wave to prettiness is rolling in.

Leading hair stylist designers are riding this wave enthusiastically.

"There will be movement in the shape," they predict. "Hair will have more wave, hair will have more luxury. Long hair came in because men like it — now it must be more feminine, not so strngy."

Stylists point out they don't recommend over-curly hair . . . just a feminine wave that moves softly. "Women will cut their falls to a more practical length, just below the chinline — and will finish the ends with soft unformed curls."

"And girls won't get away with pulling their hair back and tying it with a ribbon," the stylist says.

Models will have to start sleeping on rollers again — they just can't pull out 50 hair pieces and slap them on. Customers still want exciting romantic hairdos at night — the long curls that fall to the side.

"I am against torturing the hair with over-teasing — I am against one style for all women. The coiffure should always be adapted to the wearer. Hair should say something — it's the crowning glory and if it's cut too short there is no crown."

Says the salon expert: Customers will be more individual and go by what the boyfriend likes . . . and they like a feminine romantic look.

Knit to a "T"

It's the favorite young shape of spring — the kicky little T shirt in the newer slightly "A" shape. This one in party pink with dazzling lime and lavender stripes on the short sleeves and midriff.

Layettes Have Little "SA"

There's rarely much fashion news in items for infants. To most shoppers a layette seem doesn't have much "S.A.", (style appeal).

This spring you'll find a gay group of blanets, playwear, layette essentials and even crib coverings in co-ordinated licking-stripe knits, polka dots or "Little Angel" prints.

Even tiny tot pajamas come in cheerful prints and colors, with appliques and other trims on fine knit fabrics.

"You Don't Pay More For Quality — Because Quality Pays For Itself"

Remember Waistlines

The Shape Tells the Story

Moving in on spring, the dress moves in closer to the body, shaping up as follows: high and narrow with lots of fit and flaring in full or baby tent; low-belted and bloused; tank-topped and belted; high-belted and fluid; easy-shaped with never - ending flow of pleats; sparse little shapes like the baby dress; snappy military looks.

Dress news focuses on waistlines. Belts are returning; above, below and wrapping the natural waistline in silvers of leather, wide bands of fabric and leather. Not yet clucky the belt moves in that direction.

The "best-dressed" dresses are those with short, high-up, almost "mini" jackets or coats that follow the line of the body or of the dress.

But jacket shapes always look right when they complement their companion dresses. Easy jackets fall freely and loosely over easy dresses. A fingertip jacket has more fit when the dress has a fitted midriff, and soft, windowpane-checked shirt jacket goes on easily over a soft mild navy dress.

Coat shapes are good mixers, too. A smock coat can mingle with a shift dress, a swinging short coat gets along well with an easy dress.

Color and patterns zip, sing and clang on the various parts of the dress costume.

A pleided tunic coat covers a dress in a soimmy celer stolen from the plaid. A pale dress shelters under a bright peach coat.

Panels of color go a flaring, pleated dress are repeated on the flaring jacket. A pin-striped jacket flits casually over a pin stripe dress that's skirted in navy.

Newest looking once again is the coatdress, taking such fashion variations this spring as a loosely belted, "negligee" look, a one-shouldered version that buttons down the front.

Getting marks for added interest are long and puffed sleeves, the flowing sleeve, the "kite" and a widened shoulder that gives a cape effect.

Sleevelessness still holds sway in easy little dresses, often with jackets or coats.

To go with the wild fire of primitive prints are the dresses with removable hoods that have a burnoose or aftan feeling.

And for the lady who wants her fashion with ease, there are the step-in dresses, the culotte dresses and the dress that zips all the way up to the shoulder line.

Modified Tent

Riding high in fashion polls is the coat dress, photographed against the French Pavilion at Expo. A Montreal designer created this important one in shades of beige, orange and lime textured wool.

Knits Create Excitement In Color, Pattern, Checks

Greater than ever, knits appear in every phase of the spring fashion picture. Supple, free-moving double-knits and jerseys create the most excitement.

Colors and patterns are unbelabored. Stripes flash boldly every which - way or appear with glittering silver threads running through them for brilliant evening looks.

Checks are blazing new road in knit fashion with ingenious combinations that divide a dress half-and-half (on the vertical or introduce two or three or more colors) in contrasting sleeves, yokes and skirts.

The top of the knit dress silhouette is spare and high, with close-cut armholes that are naturally rounded or have a squared-off look. The body of these spring dresses, however, can vary from a flowing tent to an A-line to a straight and narrow skimmer.

Sleeves are showing a new importance in spring knits, in lengths ranging from short to the full-length skinny sleeve. Bare-arm dresses, still very much in evidence, are frequently set off by turtle collars that show up in a bevy of different depths.

The coat - plus - dress costume, the darling of spring fashion because of its' wardrobe versatility, has found its way to the knit scene in handsome textures such as ottoman ribbing, cording and tweedy surfaces.

Soft, smooth double-knit is seen by itself or combined with attractive textures to create smart knit costumes.

That old favorite, the wool sweater, has never had it so good, fashionably speaking. It has a new, long, lanky line, sometimes interrupted by an Empire or natural drawstring waist.

Knits are making the sportswear scene in mix-and-match shorts, slacks and tops. Double-knit pants suit and jackets adopt a military mood.

Ring Tops Ring Bell

Sure to be a run-away best-seller later in the Season — the free-and-easy "ring - top" dress. Breezy as the (pardon the expression)chemise, but keyed to today, this minute, 1967.

Usually short, inches above the knee, the ring-top dress will swing from the shoulders in an A-line Tent, caught high at the neckline perhaps with ribbon or fashionry cord.

Fabrics will be easy - care cotton, cotton-blend, nylon, triacetate jersey or any of a dozen beauties with various textured "faces."

You'll use yours for poolside, for pool-side, for all casual get - togethers (height of "comer" for the beach, letar and so easy to get in and out of!)

Swinging in the Rain

Full and side orders of tattersalls are being served up this spring by a Montreal designer. Left, fly-front style with double-decker flaps and broader collar. Right, double-breasted design uses the plaid to accent collar, pockets and flaps. In cotton and nylon, they're representative of the current slim shape.

Fashion Jewelry Leads Swinging Double Life

Just as Spring's clothing fashion leads a double life — sedatory by day, sweet by night — so does Spring's fashion jewelry. The "Fate Look" has a special effect flair — bold, bulky and very colorful — for a flash of drama. The "Real Look," on the other hand, is a style statement of ladylike allure, a modest answer to Mod. Both are musts for Spring's fashionable femmes.

The big and bold in jewelry is making a tremendous fashion splash. Magnificent ropes and chains of multi - colored stones and beads, huge bangles and bracelets, and long, dramatic earrings go way out to be way "in." Oriental arm bands and slave and spiral bracelets are bright and beautiful for an exotic Spring.

Gold-colored pieces of huge geometric patterns and shapes and "pop" plastic are colorful and ultra-contemporary for Spring.

In necklaces there is a greater variety than ever. Ranging from chokers to long, long strands, from delicate chains to multi-stranded ropes, from heirloom - type pendants to heavy "pendukuma," necklaces are giving a real fashion fling.

Bracelets too make the scene with multi - colored charms, gold-colored filigreed ornaments, and chunky, shaped stones. Favorite bracelet color combinations are gold and platinum — very rich! — and black and white, whether jet and crystal or black and white enamel.

Pins move up front with stunning style innovations. Enamel pins combined with gold in unusual motifs are rising in popularity, as are antique and heirloom designs. Whether textured, bejeweled, intricate or bulky, pins add a major dash of drama to the season's fashion.

And earrings have gone to dramatic lengths for Spring with designs, colors and shapes styled to delight. More and more designs are available in pierced earrings as their popularity seem to know no bounds. Rings too turn a round into a rage with new big, bold and beautiful designs.

For the "Real Look" bracelets, necklaces and pins make impressive imitations of precious jewelry. Tailored gold jewelry remains a fashionable frontrunner. Sprinkled lightly with colored stones to provide either harmony or contrast, gold colored jewelry is ideal for Spring elegance. And this year silver debuts into dramatic glamour; for the first time sterling silver jewelry enters the realm of exquisite evening wear. Spotlighting beautiful and intricate designs in pins, bracelets and necklaces, silver jewelry takes the stage this year.

To bewitch a fair lady is provided by terrifically tasselled mock-precious gold and stones in an ensemble that catches spring's spirit of fun. Colorful, chunky charms are gaily suspended from simulated gold chains in bracelet and necklace.

Mexican Styles Now Big Hit

Acapulco custom styles, hot Mexican colors and textured native fabrics have been attracting attention.

Sport shirt designers have revived the Mexican wedding shirt — in embroidered and pleated bib variations. And, after a dozen years, they are fresh and pleasant looking.

Embroidered chest stripes, serape beach cover-ups and bandana prints are within the concept. Bandana sport shirts, swim trunks and walk shorts have long been an Acapulco staple.

But, perhaps most significant are the colors themselves. The shades are eye appealing and very conjure up such appetizing names as Chili, Guacamole Green, Torero Red and Aztec Gold.

Smooth Knit Makes One Demand ...It Requires A Silky Skin

Sophisticate

The pared-down, uncluttered look is highlighted in this slubbed textured linen-blend dress for late spring/summer '67. Sleeveless, its only adornment is a wide leather pull-thru belt that rides low at the hipline. Dress it up with a necklace, dress it down when you use it as a jumper and pair it with a blouse or sweater.

If you're fashion wise, you'll greet spring 1967 in a sleek new knit. Knit dresses and separates have been updated to flatter every silhouette. They come in silks and synthetics, wools and cottons. They range in style from pastel pullover-and-skirt combinations to sheaths.

But to be at its beautiful best a smooth knit makes one demand: smooth skin. And winter, whose twin villains are steam heat and blustery wind, has left most skins parched, red and rough. Even the heartiest layer of paint and powder can't hide a complexion that suffers from wintery dryness. Before donning the smooth new knits, you must soothe your skin and restore its natural moisture.

This spring, an old friend, petroleum jelly, with a new look, can help repair winter's ravages. Petroleum jelly, available now in a flower-trimmed beauty jar, is a new beauty technique, aimed at soothing and smoothing your skin.

Here's the easy routine:

Each night, while you're preparing for bed, dip out a teaspoonful of the petroleum jelly. Warm it in an egg poacher, or rest the teaspoon atop a bowl of very hot water. Warm up a towel, too.

While the petroleum jelly and towel are heating, remove your makeup as usual, cleansing with cream or lotion or a gentle complexion soap. Don't use astringent; the alcohol it contains is far too drying for your moisture-starved skin.

Now, with the tips of your fingers, dab the comfortably warm petroleum jelly over your cheeks, chin, forehead and neck. Smooth it in, using light upward strokes. Be particularly careful to coat your eyelids, the delicate under-eye areas and the sides of your mouth, where dryness causes tiny lines to form.

Bury your face in a warm towel and relax. Ten to 15 minutes will do the moisturizing trick, and you can soak away tension in a scented tub in the meantime.

Then, remove the towel and tissue off any excess petroleum jelly. Just enough lubricant will remain to protect the skin from moisture loss.

The result? Your complexion will be delightfully soft, lavishly moist and — fashion-importantly — knit - worthy.

Flowers Stay Fresh Longer With Leaves

The first rule for maintaining tulip, daffodil, hyacinth and other spring flowering bulbs is never to cut off the leaves until they have dried and yellowed. Food is received through the leaves to rebuild the bulbs for new blossoms; therefore, if the leaves are cut, there can be no bulbs or blooms the next year.

Flower blossoms which draw food from the bulbs may be cut off as soon as the petals begin to fade. Petals should not be permitted to fall and remain on the ground because they might cause the soil to become diseased. To supply extra food for bulbs, cover the ground with a plant food, such as bonemeal, as soon as shoots start coming up in the spring.

Seams Moving Up

Seams are a newly important feature of hosiery styles this year.

Take Picnic Indoors

If you're in the mood for a picnic and the weather won't permit, have your "picnic-out" picnic indoors — in the rumpus room, den or on the porch.

Whether indoors or out, every good picnic needs lots of frankfurters, potato salad, mustard, pickles, relishes, cake and a beverage. These popular foods are just as easily prepared in the house as outdoors.

Instead of the outdoor fireplace, use a handy portable electric grill, a rotisserie or a large skillet.

Make use of the variety in the colors of different foliages, because it is an important aspect in home landscaping.

SPORTS SLICES

By Geo. H. Carver
Sports Editor

This is the week for the savants, the soothsayers, and seers; clairvoyants and crystal-ball gazers, prophets and pickers and all addicts, buffs, aficionados of the four finishers atop the National Hockey League.

In the hurly-burly and sometimes inarticulate jargon of the fans of the Black Hawks, Canadiens, Maple Leafs and Rangers, you'll find that records go by the boards in the main, and just plain loyalty to clubs regardless of flukes, rules the prophetic fooferaw of the faithful.

In a quick survey of some 24 men and gals on the street I discovered 11 chose the Black Hawks (and Bobby Hull), six favored the Canadiens, five the Maple Leafs and two liked the New York Rangers.

As a wire story puts it the 1966-67 National Hockey League season will be remembered as one of upset and injury, comeback and color with not a little surprise and disappointment liked in.

One thing appears certain — there probably will never be another season like it. For starting next year, after 50 years of more-or-less stable performance, the league doubles to 12 teams from the familiar six and under a new player draft system, old favorites will be turning up in strange and unfamiliar uniforms.

In addition television coverage of the game will follow the expansion from coast-to coast in the United States and Canada.

Contrary to some opinions, the Chicago Black Hawks proved they were not a "one-man" team despite the fact Bobby Hull set a 52-goal seasonal mark. The Hawks came up with a number of other best team performances in their long history, one that netted them almost a clean sweep of the awards lost, not to mention a bushel of team and individual records.

A highlight of Hawk performances was the emergence of Dennis Hull as a star, 23 goals and three bonuses, Dennis' performance this year brings him from out of the shadow of the club's stage wings into the spotlight of stardom. Figuratively speaking he is no longer the "brother of Bobby Hull". He is Black Hawk Dennis Hull.

The Montreal Canadiens picked by all least 99 per-cent of the pre-season soothsayers to take "all the gravy", dropped into a horrible labyrinthian slump in the first half of the season. Coach Toe Blake defied the "chart" gremlin and whipped his Habs back into game-winning form, being unbeaten in the last fourteen to finish in second place.

"Out of shape" said the Leafs "Punch" Imlach at the beginning of the season. This showed early in a welter of lnjuries although a number of tied games kept the club near the top in the early going.

Several of the team's top stars slumped with 20-goals scorer looking to be a nonentity. Then Imlach went out for three weeks with illness and his man Friday King Clancy took over. The Leafs staged a magnificent rally and started to roll under the "new management". Back in form they finished in third place and tangle in the first showdown with the Hawks.

Perhaps the most surprising performance — call it a big upset if you will — was the resurgence of the New York Rangers from drift behind skating of the league's Janlier's quarters with the Boston Bruins into the fourth playoffs spot.

The fire and desire of manager-coach Emile Francis — the return after two years' absence of Boom-Boom Geoffrion and the fine performances of Ed Giacomin, a desperation goalie after Cesare Maniago proved a disappointment, Red Gilbert helped give the Blues the scoring punch it needed.

A big disappointment in my books was the failure of the Detroit Red Wings to make a playoffs berth. The Wings had a fine scoring record but their goals-against signed the death warrant. Then, too they were without Bill Gadsby and Doug Barkley two of the best defencemen in the league.

The only semblance to a "one-man" team was the Boston Bruins, Coach Harry Sinden had little else than the sensational rookie Bobby Orr who provided the only color on the team and despite, injuries, scored goals and picked up a spot on the all-star team midway through the season.

The limb? I am likely putting the well-known whammy on them, but my crystal ball shows the Hawks quaffing the bubbly out of the Stanley silverware.

"Better On Defence"

Francis: 'Think We Can Beat Habs'

NEW YORK (AP)—"I think we can beat Montreal because we're better on defence," manager coach Emile Francis said Tuesday before his New York Rangers left town to spend a night in a Catskill mountain hideout.

They depart for Montreal today and will hold a practice at the Forum after the Canadiens, their Stanley Cup semi-final opponents, work out.

Francis appears to be counting on the Rangers' much improved defence to make New York's first hockey playoff appearances in five years a successful foe. The Rangers meet the Canadiens in Montreal Thursday night in the opener of their best-of-seven series.

EMILE FRANCIS

Francis' comments about his defence included goalie Ed Giacomin, his personal candidate for the National Hockey League's most - valuable-player award, "as Giacomin, we have a big edge," he said.

The second game is slated for Montreal Saturday afternoon and the teams come here for the third game next Tuesday.

The Rangers had a brisk mid - day workout Tuesday, lasting nearly two hours. Francis said he had no injuries. The team was in good shape, "physically and psychologically."

Although the four-place Rangers allowed 13 goals in their last two games of the regular schedule, a 5-1 loss in Toronto Saturday and an 8-0 loss to Chicago Black Hawks here Sunday, they ended the schedule with a fine defensive record that bore no resemblance to last year's.

The Rangers allowed only 189 goals this season, a record surpassed only by the scholastic record Black Hawks and Montreal. This stands in stark contrast to the 261 goals scored against the Rangers in the 1965-66 season, when they finished in last place. The steering roles in this feast of shooting 72 goals off the number given up were played, most observers agree, by goalie Giacomin and defenseman Harry Howell and Arnie Brown.

Up front, the Rangers' record isn't so impressive. The only team that did less scoring was last - place Boston.

Francis said veteran right winger Bernard Geoffrion is one of the men upon whom the Rangers are counting heavily in the playoffs. Geoffrion, who donned skates again this season after a two - year absence from playing ranks, got plenty of playoff experience in 14 seasons with the Canadiens.

The last time the Rangers were in the playoffs was 1962. Francis said veteran right the last time before that 1958.

Habe Confident

Blake; "Will Use The Same Lineup"

MONTREAL (CP) — Some players with Montreal Canadiens are grateful that club management did not ship them to the minors when things were rough during the regular season. Now the players hope to show their gratitude by winning the Stanley Cup.

There were times during the past National Hockey League regular season when it appeared as though the Canadiens might dip into their farm system in an effort to snap the club out of losing streaks.

"Let's face the truth," Ralph Backstrom said after a 90-minute scrimmage Tuesday afternoon. "There's hardly a man on the team who didn't deserve to be sent to the minors at one time or another during the season.

"Things didn't go well at all during the first half and even until the last six weeks of the schedule but management didn't panic by making a lot of changes," he said.

Team captain Jean Beliveau agreed that the confidence of management during the regular schedule could pay off in the long run.

"There's no doubt that many of us played poorly for a long time. We had many injuries, it's true, but the club stayed with the players here and the fellows came on very strong to finish second."

"Since most of the fellows regained confidence the last month of the schedule we're bound to be hard to beat in the playoffs."

The Canadiens finished the regular season with an 11-game unbeaten streak, taking second place in the standings. Now they start defence of the Stanley Cup they won last year over Detroit Red Wings.

Montreal opens its first game in the best-of-seven semi-finals against the conference of New York Rangers, fourth - place finishers in the standings in the regular schedule.

The game will be seen on the CBC Quebec network starting at 8 p.m.

Coach Toe Blake said after the skrimmage that he intends to open the series against the Rangers with the same lineup that beat league champion Chicago Black Hawks 3-4 Saturday in Montreal and won 4-2 over Detroit Sunday in Detroit.

Rookie goalie Rogatien Vachon, a big surprise in 19 games in which he has appeared since coming up from Houston of the central Professional Hockey League, is expected to get the call to start in goal against the Rangers.

Rough Riders In Tweed

The Ottawa Rough Riders football club is versatile, to say the least.

In the Off season, some play a mean game of bridge; others do muscle-bending in stiff battles of checkers.

It is not known if cricket is in their sports repertoire; but they like to play lawn tennis ball around; each to his own.

Collectively they have another physical yen. They play hockey.

At least they don the paraphernalia and go through the motions and put on a grand show at that.

They're in Tweed come Sunday afternoon tangling with the Land O' Lakes Allstars.. The proceeds go to Tweed minor hockey activities. The game gets under way at 2.30 in the Tweed Community Centre.

Football buffs should not miss the chance to see their Rough Rider favorites closeup, albeit in strange paraphernalia.

All the "big names" of the Riders will be there from Red O'Quinn down to the water boy.

They pulled Gary Schreiber out of retirement from behind his law desk. Gary used to be one of the best goalies around these parts when he was playing football and hockey.

Up front will be Russ Jackson, Bob O'Billovitch, Joe Poirier, Ron Stewart, Ken Lehman, Doug Speck, Moe Racine, Jim Dillard, Jay Roberts and other topnotchers.

The Riders put on a comedy act that is well worth watching.

Sunday afternoon at Tweed 2.30. Don't miss it.

Minor Softball Body Meets On Sunday

The Belleville Minor Softball Association will hold a meeting at the Recreation Centre, at 2.00 p.m., Sunday.

Plans for the fast-approaching season are being made and all interested parties are asked to attend Sunday's meeting. New coaches and team representatives will be welcomed.

Player forms will be sent out to the various city schools on Monday of next week and registration of players will be conducted on Saturday, April 15.

Flyers, Wings Tie

Marlies Rally; Nip Rangers

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto Marlboros turned the tables on Kitchener Rangers in their Ontario Hockey Association Junior A semi-final series Tuesday night.

The Marlboros scored a fluke goal on Rangers' goalie Robbie Irons in the second period that marked the beginning of a come-from-behind 3-2 win. The Rangers won 6-4 by using the same tactics Sunday.

The best-of-seven series is now tied 2-2 with one game tied. The ninth game will be played in Toronto Friday night with the seventh game set for Kitchener Saturday.

In the other semi-final series, goalie Gerry Cray of Hamilton Red Wings was outstanding blocking 37 shots on the Red Wings held Niagara Falls Flyers to a 3-3 tie.

Each team now has two wins with one game tied in the best-of-seven series. The ninth game is scheduled for Hamilton Thursday night and the series moves back to Niagara Falls Friday night.

Kitchener was leading Toronto 2-0 in the second period when the Marlboros' defenceman Chris Evans scored a bizarre goal as his shot from outside the blueline was deflected in off Irons' stick.

The Rangers dominated play in the first period as Tim Ecclestone opened the scoring on a power play goal. Wayne Gowing jammed in a loose puck less than three minutes later.

Richie Bayes scored the equalizer for Toronto in the second period when he lipped in Evans' shot from the point. Tom Martin's goal in the third period was the winner.

Kitchener has managed only one tie in three games at home while Toronto has lost both outings at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Woodstock Protest

OHA Rejects Claim

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association has rejected a claim by Woodstock Athletics that Kingston goalie Neil Perry was ineligible to play in the OHA senior finals.

The Athletics lost the best-of-seven final four games to one to Kingston Aces. Perry played the last three games after Kingston's regular goalie became ill.

Woodstock protested on the grounds that Perry had played professional hockey last December without OHA permission.

Bill Hanley, OHA secretary-manager, said Tuesday Perry played an exhibition game with a senior B Kingston team against Syracuse Stars, a maverick minor-pro U.S. team.

Hanley said the OHA' executive decided at a meeting Monday night that this didn't make Perry ineligible. Perry was suspended by the Aces after he played against Syracuse but was subsequently re-instated by the OHA.

The Aces open a best-of-seven Eastern Canada semi-final series at home Friday night against Morrisburg Combines.

Amateurs, Foreigners Strong!

AUGUSTA, Ga. (CP) — This could well be the year the Masters golf tournament is won by an amateur for the first time.

It also could be the second time in recent years someone other than a United states golfer—notably Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus — take the event.

For rarely in recent years have amateurs, and foreign entries looked as strong as they have in practice rounds this week for the 72-hole test that starts here Thursday.

Two of the foreign entries—one of them an amateur—are Canadians, neither to be taken lightly when considering championship possibilities.

In four practice rounds he has played, U.S. Amateur champion Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., has a 74, a 70 and two for a 288 total, while last year would have won the event by two strokes.

One of the most stirring performances in amateur ranks today, he still is short of the power of 170-pound, 19-year-old Bobby Cole of South Africa who drives within yards of Nicklaus' 300-yard specialty and is designed to favor the long, true players off the tee.

While Nicklaus and Palmer are conceded the favorite roles in the tourney on the strength of Palmer's four Masters championships and Nicklaus' three-bucking the only back-to-back wins in Masters history—neither has been playing his best recently.

The Canadian professional is, of course, George Knudson of Toronto, who has risen in the final Masters standing in each of the last two years and has appeared sharp in practice since taking three weeks off the U.S. pro tour to rest up for the event.

Knudson, 30th this year in money winnings since touring pros, finished 10th in the Masters two years ago and ninth last year.

As well as gaining experience and assurance every time out, he has a Canada Cup individual title under his belt heading into this year's competition.

The top foreign professionals entered are Gary Player of South Africa, who broke the Nicklaus-Palmer hold on the tournament in 1961, Bob Charles of New Zealand and Bruce Crampton and Kel Nagle of Australia.

Homer, Double

Frankie Up To Old Tricks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The slugging Pittsburgh Pirates, not satisfied with having the top hitter in the National League last season, unveiled their candidate for the best-hitting coach in the league.

He is catcher Ed Smith, known more for his defensive abilities with St. Louis Cardinals before a heart ailment sidelined him midway through the 1961 season.

Smith, who will be 36 on June 1, took bat in hand Tuesday and singled to start a three-run rally that stopped Boston Red Sox 3-1 in an exhibition game.

The Pirates, whose Matty Alou led the league at .342 last year, overlooked Jim Paglironi and Jesse Gonder for Smith, who opened the eighth inning with a single. George Spriggs later followed with a two-run triple.

Baltimore Orioles relied on old-reliable Frank Robinson to touch off their attack that beat Washington Senators 7-4. He drove in three runs with a home run and a double.

Jim Nornbrop of Detroit Tigers brought home five runs, three with a triple in an 11-run third inning that crushed New York Mets, whose Hank Svoboda homered, 14-10.

Gary Bell, Jack Kralick and John O'Donoghue stopped San Francisco Giants on four hits and came away with a 7-0 triumph.

Don Sutton sparkled with a three hitter for seven innings while Jim Hickman and Al Ferrara homered and Los Angeles Dodgers outclopped Houston Astros 10-4.

Tim Talton's bases - loaded single broke a ninth-inning tie and handed Kansas City Athletics a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati Reds.

Chicago White Sox outhit Minnesota 17-14 and outscored the Twins 12-7 with Tommie Agee belting his sixth homer of the spring for the White Sox.

New York Yankees joined Bob Bruce for four runs in the fifth inning and beat Atlanta Braves 5-4. Ray Barker's two run hit was the big blow in the rally.

Bob Tolan's two-run single sparked a five-run seventh inning against Jim Bunning and sparked the Cardinals to a 6-4 triumph over Philadelphia Phillies.

Centennial Ball Held by V.O.N.

NAPANEE — The calendar was rolled back 100 years for the setting of the Victorian Order of Nurses Centennial Bonnie Ball last Friday evening. The auditorium of the Napanee Secondary School was transformed into a 1903 century ballroom, with a parlor at that day set up on the stage. The balcony above the ballroom became a punch room, with fruit punch dispensed from two huge crystal bowls, by Mrs. Roy Armstrong.

In the games room, the guests could play bridge, or darts, or bean bag, or could scor candles with a water pistol.

The cafeteria was a candlelit dining room with the tall silver coffee urns and the many silver serving plates spread out on the three, long damask-covered tables. Guests chose what they fancied from the array of relishes, sandwiches and small cakes.

Fully half those who attended were in costume, several getting "down treasured bedrooms, and others faithful reproductions of gowns too precious to be worn. Nine pairs of girls were in centennial dresses they had made as part of the year's work. They assisted in the check room, the games room, and the cafeteria.

Guests were rem ded by the decorations of Canada's growth over the century. All provincial flags were used each in its standard, and usually in groups of four. A huge lighted centennial symbol was on the wall of the punch room. The east wall of the dining room featured a faithful reproduction of the coat of arms of Canada, the work of Mrs. Robert Noblin. It was at least eight feet high. The two significant dates were there, 1867 and 1967, one on either side.

The VON theme had its place, also. In the entrance hall the large blue flag with white lettering was the background for two mannequins displaying uniforms worn by VON nurses in 1894 and in the 1920's. Blue and white colors were used almost solely in the dining room.

Port of the Future

The Vancouver waterfront, bustling with activity as ships load grain, timber and ore concentrates, is headed for substantial redevelopment over the next 15 years. The port could pass Montreal to become the busiest in Canada in the not-too-distant future. (CP Photo)

Tax Rate Slightly Decreases

DESERONTO — Deseronto is more or less holding its own with respect to taxes for 1967. The tax rate was made public at the meeting of the council Monday evening. For industrial and commercial property the mill rate is as follows: public school, 18.74; high school 37.72; total for schools, 56.46; county 23.45; library, 1.62; general rate, 71.14, with grand total, 154.73.

Mill rate for farm and residential property is as follows: public school 16.87; high school 33.95; total for schools 50.82; county 23.45; library 1.62; general rate 62.74, with grand total 141.69.

This is a slight decrease over the rate set last year. For 1968 the rate for industrial and commercial property was 0.90 mills higher, and for farm and industrial property 0.71 mills above the rate for 1967.

Patty Duke Does Not Want Teen-agers to See Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What's Patty Duke doing in the movie Valley of the Dolls?

The question may be asked when fans learn that the star of The Patty Duke Show on television now is starring as the dimshote, pill-chomping singer Neeley O'Hara in the film version of Jacqueline Susann's best seller.

Here's how the character is described in movie ads: "Neely O'Hara—to her, stardom was too many minks, martinis and men."

And there she was portraying a scene under the direction of Mark Robson in which she seduced her press agent, played by Martin Milner. What will her youthful TV followers think of her when they see her new role?

"I hope they won't see it," she replied. "It's not going to be the kind of picture that tender minds should see."

Patty Duke, 20, a professional actress for 12 years, would like to continue in her craft. To do so, she realizes she must escape the double-images of the teen-age types—she played dual roles—of the Patty Duke Show.

"I liked doing the series in the first couple of years," she said. "Then it was my whole life; I had no romances, I wasn't going to school. And the show was very helpful in getting me over that difficult period for a young performer—the transition from child to grownup roles.

"The third year of the series was a drag. By that time I was married (to TV director Harry Falk) so I had an outside life of my own. I wasn't at all sorry to see the series end."

For almost a year after the cancellation of the ads, Patty experienced something she had never known: a private life.

After deciding it was time to return to her career, Patty Signed Valley of the Dolls would be the ideal image - breaking vehicle.

Council Briefs

BUDGET MEETING

CAMPBELLFORD — A special meeting to receive and accept budgets will be held April 10 at which local high school and public school as well as municipal budgets will be established. The educational budgets have already been received for approval. Due to a fire last March a new public school of 13 rooms is being built.

TREE PLANTING

Permission was sought by principal L. Campbell of Campbellford District High School to plant trees on the Ranney St. side of the new track and field grounds. The planting would be on the street land. Council expressed a preference for a tree with a high trunk, such as maple. The matter was left with the property, road and budget committees.

MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION

An invitation to become a member of the Town and Village section of Ontario Municipal Association was turned down. There will be no representative from Council at the convention in June.

STREET LIGHTING

The Campbellford Public Utilities Commission is planning an extensive change in street lighting on some streets. Bridge Street to the Hastings Road, Front Street to the new Community Centre, as well as smaller projects, will have the new lighting, all to the amount of $10,038.

PUBLIC MEETING

A public meeting will be held in the Masonic Temple April 24 at 8 p.m. so that anyone interested can ask and receive information from the Ontario Water Resources concerning the new sewage disposal plant being built this year.

BRIDGE DISCUSSION

As a delegation from Campbellford recently lobbied Hon. J. Pickersgill concerning

To Your Good Health

Pinched Nerve Causes Numb Hands

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a male aged 38, five feet 11 inches and 210 pounds. My question: My hands go numb quite often while I am asleep. I have been to doctors but they give me no satisfaction. Can you help me? — J. H. M.

While this is not an uncommon complaint, it is not an easy one to deal with medically. You may have better luck trying some simple experiments by yourself.

Here's the reason: As we get into middle age we can expect some changes in spine. That's perfectly natural. But sometimes there may be traces of arthritis, or some change in shape of the spine which under some circumstances can put a bit of pressure on a nerve.

The pressure may not exist during the day when we are up and moving around. But at night the bones of the spine settle into a different position. Pinch the appropriate nerve and it can result in numbness.

Cutting off circulation to some degree can have a similar effect at times. You know how your foot can "go to sleep" if you sit with legs crossed in a certain position.

There's nothing dangerous about that, and usually there is no reason to be concerned over numbness after you've been asleep, since the trouble stops when you wake and move about. Still, it's a nuisance.

The pinching of the nerve is very slight and does not exist when you are up. That's why it is very difficult for a physician to identify the exact trouble spot. Neither can he very well prove what good position you may sleep in.

So here are my suggestions:

Experiment with a higher or lower pillow, or none. The position of the neck and shoulders may well be suspected since it is your hands which have numb. Nerves serving the hands run from the neck spine through the shoulders and arms.

Too soft a bed, or sagging of it, can compress a nerve. A harder mattress might help. But a less expensive method to try first would be inserting a bed board (a sheet of ordinary plywood works well) between the springs and mattress, to minimize sagging.

Or you might merely try to correlate your sleeping position with numbness. Some particular position may cause it. This is somewhat difficult, however, because most of us change position repeatedly in our sleep.

X-ray examination of the spine, especially the neck, had neurological tests are necessary to determine the exact site of trouble. You are overweight. This might well have something to do with your symptoms, also your sleeping position, pressures on circulation to the arms. Try the simple methods first.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 15 and recently have noted a hard lump-like formation in my right breast. In the last two years I have had two chest X-rays and wonder if this could have caused it.

My mother thinks I should see a doctor and I am planning to do so as soon as I hear from you and find out if it is serious. — S. H.

Do as your mother says. Until your doctor examines it there is no way to guess whether it is serious or trivial. Maybe it will amount to nothing at all, but find out.

Note to Mrs. L. T.: Yes, it is possible for cataracts to exist from birth. It is not common, but it does occur. Your only recourse would be to consult a specialist to see whether surgery can correct the problem. Glasses can't.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Adex Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Nutra Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if refreshing pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More slim, youthful appearing and active.

You Can Pass Fish Right By Rescued Bush Pilot B. Gauchie

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—When you pass the fish right by Bob Gauchie, the 39-year-old pilot rescued Saturday after being stranded almost two months alone beside his downed plane.

Saying that times, he ate dried potatoes, eight pounds of rations in a survival kit and 40 pounds of arctic char—raw.

He had been transporting the fish—a delicacy among gourmets—from Cambridge Bay to Yellowknife in the Northwest Territories.

He said Tuesday that is "a pretty good fish, but I don't think I'll eat much of it in the future."

Mr. Gauchie was discovered by chance when two other bush pilots spotted him on Samandre Lake, 30 miles northwest of here and about 850 miles north of Edmonton. His own plane had run low on fuel Feb. 3 and he landed it undamaged on the snow-covered lake.

Mr. Gauchie admitted regretting his hospital room Tuesday but would say nothing about his trip or experiences on the lake. He has sold his story and a diary he kept to a national magazine.

He is suffering from frost-bitten toes and loss of weight. Temperatures during the 58 days he was stranded in the sub-Arctic dropped to 39 degrees below zero.

He said he had been told he would remain in hospital here another 12 days or two weeks before going to Edmonton for surgery.

"They're going to amputate three toes from the right foot and two from the left with the possibility of using plastic surgery to let me keep part of my left big toe. Without my toes, I'd have a hard time hopping around on all four, thanks to doing a lot of other stuff."

Mr. Gauchie was critical of a shortage of provisions on board his plane.

"There was only about $15 worth when there should have been $75," he said. "And there was no wood for me to build a fire. I didn't try to walk to the mainland to get some."

He landed the plane about 300 yards from land.

His employers, Bill Smith and Merv Hesse, co - owners of Northern Mountain Air Base, were quoted in one report as saying Mr. Gauchie was not out of food when found and had the guns to get a hot meal.

When found, Mr. Gauchie had a few packages of dried potatoes and beetroot remaining.

HAD NO RADIO

He said he had no radio of any type operating while down on the lake.

Mr. Gauchie said he is not "at all apprehensive" about flying again. In fact, "I'll probably get into helicopter work."

Of the immediate future, he said:

"I guess I'll get paid compensation for a month after (surgery in Edmonton) so I'm going to buy a car at Windsor, Ont., and then go to Saint John, N.B., where my wife is from. We'll drive out at Expo on the way down.

"Then we'll come back to St. Smith, N.W.T., where we have our permanent home, by way of the United States. I don't think I'll feel up to taking helicopter training."

Astrological Forecasts

By SYDNEY OMARR

For April 6

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): The more subtle you are . . . the better the results. What appears obvious may turn out to be something else. Much of what occurs is behind the scenes. Don't demand anything.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): Responsibility toward friends comes to the fore. Your fine, ambitions viewed today in realistic light. Keynote is accomplishment. Gain indicated — prejudice to real success.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Stress ability to see right people at right time. Study Taurus message. Have goal in mind . . . then express significant views. Superior is impressed — does something about it.

CANCER (June 21 — July 22): Creative resources are highlighted. Fine day to originate, express and apply stamp of originality. Don't permit skeptical associates to dampen enthusiasm. Go to it!

LEO (July 23 — Aug. 22): Your intuitive intellect today serves as reliable guide. Applies especially where investments are concerned. One close to you offers opportunity. Be a shrewd observer.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): Be willing to experiment. What you do today . . . do with a flair. Exhibit humor, enthusiasm. Opposite sex is intrigued. Fine evening for dining out, breaking routine.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): You may feel tied up with details. Desire for greater freedom is evident . . . but with free dom comes responsibility. Today you evaluate drawbacks and advantages. Learn lessons well!

SCORPIO Oct. 23—Nov. 21): Be gracious . . . especially in dealing with children. Remember promises, resolutions. Evening favors expression of innermost feelings. Don't hold back. Be frank, forthright.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Domestic relations accented. Combine idealism with realistic approach. Realize consequences of actions. Be aware of security requirements. Avoid throwing caution out of window.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): If perceptive, you can make significant gains. Neighbors, relatives, communications add up to complete story. But it is up to you to be analytical. Take time to think.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): Special products attract your attention. Check accounts. Be sure you can afford specific items. Chance to display money-making ability possible. Cycle continues high.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Stress personality, appearance. Don't lose opportunity through ultra-shyness. Speak up! State needs . . . finish project. Be proud of accomplishment. Exude confidence.

* * *

If today is your birthday . . . you are attracted to music and the arts. You are a natural diplomat. And if you have fight on your hands . . . you stand up for rights. Courage is your keynote . . . along with intellectual integrity.

* * *

General Tendencies: Cycle high for Aquarius, Pisces, Aries. Special word is Sagittarius: Home comforts, pleasure, family security — three areas deserve immediate attention.

Berlin Police Foil Bomb Plot

BERLIN (CP) — Vice - President Hubert Humphrey came to West Berlin today despite a police roundup of a group of youthful extremists fashioning explosive devices to disturb his visit.

The vice-president flew here to reaffirm U.S. support for the Communist - surrounded city after conferences with government officials in Bonn. He said the trouble convinced him the friendship between the United States and West Germany is strong and secure.

The vice-president landed here for a 30-hour visit after a flight from Bonn. He was accompanied by Foreign Minister Willy Brandt, former mayor of West Berlin.

U.S. Army tanks drawn up, at Tempelhof Airfield gave Humphrey a 19-gun salute as he started his Berlin visit under heavy security arrangements.

Shortly before Humphrey's arrival, West Berlin police announced that they had released three girls in the group arrested because their connection with the conspirators "could not be proved with certainty."

The announcement said 10 young persons had been arrested and 12 as yet unidentified.

Police said they seized the alleged plotters Wednesday night as they were preparing explosive bombs and plastic bags filled with chemicals for an assault on the vice-president.

It was reported that some of those arrested were members of the leftist German Socialist Students group.

Authorities said that a preliminary examination by police specialists showed that the concentrated chemicals "in the right mixture were suitable for the production of generally dangerous explosives" but that an exact analysis still had not been determined."

One source said the explosives were to be thrown along Humphrey's route and into the car he will during his visit.

A West German statement Wednesday on the alleged plot said 11 persons were arrested "on suspicion of plotting attempts on the life or health of Vice-President Humphrey . . ."

Horst Mahler, lawyer for the students, insisted that his clients were only using smoke bombs. He said they use no explosive material in the bombs and did not plot against Humphrey's life.

Authorities said the alleged plotters also planned assaults with "other dangerous instruments such as stones and so on." But they declined to label the plot an assassination attempt.

Humphrey, dining in Bonn with West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger when the news broke, was not deterred.

"There will be no change whatsoever in the vice-president's program," a U.S. embassy spokesman in Bonn said.

Humphrey, on a "listen and learn" tour of European capitals for President Johnson, was expected to get a cooling welcome in the divided city.

While the alleged plotters were being arrested Wednesday, about 50 students planning anti - American demonstrations attacked a police car in West Berlin. Police arrested two persons when the shouting crowd tried to overturn the car.

Informed sources here said police were aware for some time of planned student demonstrations during Humphrey's visit and began preventative action when they learned some students were given teargas grenades by the Chinese embassy in East Berlin.

Humphrey Wednesday spent 3½ hours with Kesinger and informed sources said their talks cleared the air after a period of unusual friction between West Germany and the U.S. The proposed treaty to stop the spread of nuclear weapons, a major source of dissent between the two NATO allies, was believed to be the major topic of the wide-ranging talks.

Satellite Flies Awry

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A $9,000,000 U.S. satellite raced around the earth in the wrong orbit today, its mission ruined by a misfiring rocket engine.

The satellite — officially called ATS for Application Technology Satellite — rode an Atlas-Agena rocket into space Wednesday night from Cape Kennedy.

The Agena upper stage hurled the 815-pound payload into a preliminary orbit ranging from 114 to about 7,000 miles high, but after it fired a fuel valve failed to close.

With the valve open, the engine could not re-ignite to shove the payload into a 7,000-mile-high circular orbit and it continued in the long elliptical path.

The ATS separated and deployed six long stabilization booms that gave it the appearance of a giant spider. The booms, extending to a span of 251 feet, were part of an experiment to use the earth's gravity as a means of keeping one side of the satellite always facing earth. But they were designed to operate at the high circular orbit.

Two major experiments dependent on good stabilization were hurt by the cigar-shaped orbit. These are two cameras to make weather photographs and a communications experiment to transfer color television, radio and telephone messages between ground stations.

Korean Truce Broken

SEOUL (AP)—UN and North Korean observers made a joint four-hour investigation today of an armistice line area where U.S. soldiers and North Koreans clashed Wednesday in one of the most serious gunfights since the 1953 Korean armistice.

The UN command said the North Koreans claimed four of their men were killed and two were wounded. But the North Korean central news agency said five North Koreans were killed and a ninth wounded. Before the investigation, the UN command had reported three North Koreans killed. There were no U.S. casualties.

A UN command statement said the North Korean observers were shown the bodies of two North Koreans killed on the south side of the armistice line and that these bodies were turned over to the Communists.

The Communists exhibited the bodies of two other North Koreans who they claimed were shot on the north side of the line.

The UN command said one of the bodies "apparently had been moved north" by the Communists during the night, but the North Korean observers claimed the bodies south of the line had been "dragged" from the north into the southern part of the demilitarized zone, patrolled by U.S. and South Korean troops.

The UN command said the North Koreans crossed the armistice line into the UN portion of the demilitarized zone, and after the American guards spotted them there was a 15-minute exchange of fire.

Shulman Ignores Cotnam

TORONTO (CP)—An inquest into the death of a patient who died in a fire March 31 at the Workmen's Compensation Board Hospital opened Wednesday in contravention of the orders of Dr. H. B. Cotnam, chief coroner of Ontario.

Dr. Eli Cass began hearing testimony in the death of Francesco Gualtieri, 36, of Toronto, the sole victim of the hospital fire, under instructions from Dr. Morton Shulman, chief Metropolitan Toronto coroner.

Jack Hall, chief executive officer for Dr. Cotnam, confirmed earlier that Dr. Cass had been ordered not to proceed with the inquest. He said he had notified Dr. Cass not to proceed because Dr. Cotnam himself would conduct it.

Dr. Shulman said it was an important fire in that there may have been negligence in the building and inspection of it.

Nuclear Body Makes Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new seven-nation nuclear planning group meets for the first time with discussion of the Soviet Union's movement toward an anti-missile system high on the docket.

The defence ministers of Canada, West Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Turkey, Britain, and the United States — all partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — are meeting for two days of secret talks opening today.

The group was established as a permanent body last December to advise the North Atlantic Council on matters of nuclear policy.

Creation of the group caps a decade of manoeuvrings within the NATO alliance on various formulas for bringing all 15 countries, particularly those without nuclear weapons, into fuller partnership in the planning of nuclear strategy.

Defence Secretary Robert McNamara, acting as host, said earlier this week the group will examine "NATO nuclear strength in all of its aspects, including plans for the development, production and use of strategic and tactical weapons systems."

In addition, McNamara said:

"We shall discuss the recent steps taken by the Soviet Union to deploy an anti-ballistic missile system, as well as the status of the U.S. program aimed at developing defence against enemy missile attack."

Viet Cong Frees Jailed Suspects

SAIGON (AP) — Communist troops assaulted at U.S. and South Vietnamese military positions and staged a jailbreak today at Quang Tri, a province capital 18 miles south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam.

They ringed the city in raids and attacked U.S. anti-aircraft gun positions and the headquarters of two South Vietnamese army regiments and shelled the U.S. military advisers' compound.

They freed more than 200 prisoners from the provincial jail — most of whom had been picked up as Viet Cong suspects.

Eighteen Canadians Share $1,230,000 Sweepstakes Pot

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Eighteen Canadians shared a $1,230,000 Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes Jackpot Wednesday, with four of them winning top prizes of $180,000 each. Prizes of at least $1,200 each went to 260 other Canadians who drew tickets on horses eligible for the Lincolnshire Handicap.

A total of 228 Canadian tickets were drawn last Thursday in the first of three lotteries held annually to aid hospitals in the Irish Republic. The other two are held on the Irish Derby in July and the Cambridgeshire Handicap in October.

Ben Novus, winner of the Lincolnshire, had four Canadian tickets riding on him. Two were held by Montrealers Eugene Bonhomme and Francois Dumoulin, the others by R. G. Hodgkins of Vancouver and George Whittlesey of Sarnia, Ont.

Seven Canadians held tickets worth $60,000 each on Aberdeen, who placed second, and the same number won $30,000 each with tickets on the show horse, Panella.

Sweepstakes tickets were drawn on all 53 horses on the original Lincolnshire eligibles' list. Of these, only 24 went to the post Wednesday. But holders of non-starters could be as well off as those whose horses ran out of the money. Their prizes are expected to be about $1,200 to $1,600 each.

Pembroke Jury Finds Hospital Failed to Give Patient Attention

PEMBROKE (CP)—A coroner's jury Wednesday night found that an accident victim might not have died in Pembroke General Hospital if he had been given additional medical attention.

The inquest was into the death of John Francis Perrigo, 76, of Golden Lake, Ont. He died in hospital Jan. 29, two days after he was struck by a car near his home during a snow storm.

The jury verdict said that complications might have been averted if "some medical attention had been administered at the proper time."

The jury recommended that hospital personnel be required to give closer attention to patients' condition and their condition be communicated promptly to proper authorities.

Dr. R. L. Reeves of Eganville, Ont., said he treated Perrigo initially at his home for broken ribs and arranged for him to be taken to hospital.

Dr. Gordon Hermiston, Renfrew County coroner, said Perrigo had gone eight to 10 hours without an initial hospital examination.

British Attacked By Arab Snipers

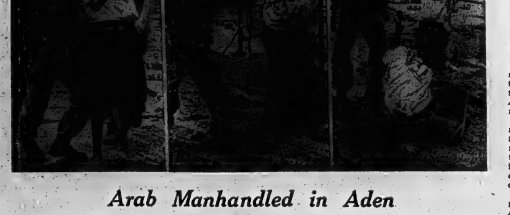
ADEN (AP)—Arab terrorist snipers pinned down British patrols in Aden today, although the troops machine-gunned one Arab firing at them from the minaret of a mosque.

The dome of the mosque and a Yemeni flag fluttering at the top were shot away and the man was believed killed. But the troops, forbidden to set foot in Moslem holy places, were unable to check or to pursue another sniper.

The incident came in a fierce gun and grenade battle in Aden's outlying Sheikh Othman district.



Armored cars thundered in to support infantry pinned down by heavy automatic fire from Arab snipers concealed in houses all around the mosque.

Maj. - Gen. Sir John Willoughby, Aden security commander, inspected the scene and left for consultations with British High Commissioner Sir Richard Turnbull and other service chiefs.

"We will have to decide whether to go into Sheikh Othman in force," he told reporters.

In another district, Crater, which has been a hotbed of nationalist violence, British troops were grounded from a local clash soon after dispersing a nationalist demonstration march. There were no casualties.

Weekend Council for SA Youth

A youth council expected to attract at least 300 young Salvation Army people from the Mid-Ontario district, will be held this weekend in Belleville.

Saturday evening a public musical will be staged at Belleville Collegiate. On Sunday three youth sessions will be held at Quinte Secondary School with the keynote address by Mid-Ontario Commissioner Edgar Grinstead.

The theme of the weekend council is "Centenary Youth Needs Living Truth." Delegates from as far west as Uxbridge and Whitby, east to Gananoque and from Picton to Pension Falls, will attend the council session.

The Saturday evening musical at the collegiate will feature a vocal trio from Toronto, and a divisional youth band, composed of senior band members throughout the district.

Classmates at Ontario Business College ply Barbara Ann Doxsee with notes after naming her centennial representative. The top Picton-area student was voted "secretary-most-likely-to-succeed."

A Young Girl With Designs

Meet Barbara Ann Doxsee . . . if she has time!

You could try to catch up with her at a Belleville business course where she is busily making her mark as an outstanding student of 1967.

You might meet up with her at a host of Junior Farmer happenings in Prince Edward County, where she is an active 4-H leader.

You could attempt to catch her attention at choir practice in her local church, or outside Sunday School where she's a teacher.

And, failing all else, try for Montreal.

This year all her busy trails lead to Expo.

Creator of her activity this year is Barbara's selection to represent the Quinte district as "secretary most likely to succeed" at a centennial event sponsored by the Association of Canadian Commercial Colleges.

Her activity to date justifies the title's prediction.

At 19, Barbara is a busy example of how to succeed in business by really trying.

In fact, she's so busy with studying and group activities she just made a startling discovery yesterday while her spare time. She doesn't have any.

"I sat down to draw up a list of all the things I do and I discovered I don't really have any pesonal hobbies," she says.

The girl-on-the-go is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Doxsee, R.R. 8 Picton and a Grade 12 diploma graduate of Prince Edward Collegiate.

She has represented Picton 4-H clubs at Ontario Fair and inter-club competitions at Guelph.

Last summer she was chosen dairy princess for Prince Edward County and went to the CNE.

Now she is at Ontario Business College, Belleville, taking an executive secretarial course.

It was OBC staff and students who chose her to represent them at the Montreal centennial event, which will draw top secretarial students from across Canada April 23-30.

Afterwards, Barbara returns to her busy routine hoping to graduate and become a private legal secretary.

Why?

"Because of the variety of work, and there'd be much more young on on a lawyer's staff," she says.

In other words, it would be busy.

Napanee Woman Now 100

NAPANEE — A daily reader of the Bible, Mrs. Dorcas Fowler yesterday celebrated her 100th birthday.

Born in Rutland, England, she immigrated with her husband George Fowler to the Quinte district in 1907.

After a brief stay in Deseronto, the couple moved to Napanee.

Now resident in a nursing home here, Mrs. Fowler still retains good eyesight and spends much time reading.

She was the mother of two sons, one of whom, George Fowler, died many years ago. The second son, Archie, lives at Vine's Corners.

She also has one grandson and two great grandsons.

More Floor Space

Stephens-Adamson Will Build New Addition, Contract Given

Construction of a new $1,9,000 building with 11,400 square feet of floor space for ultimate use as a machine shop, was announced this week by Stephens-Adamson Mfg. Co. of Canada.

The new building of concrete bloc and precast concrete roof deck construction will have a 70-foot wide clear span with a length of about 160 feet. The building will be capable of supporting a 20 ton overhead runway crane.

The Tatham Company of Belleville has been awarded the building contract with a July 15 completion date.

Company officials said the new building will supplant an existing structure which has congested working conditions. The new building will be 50 per cent larger in area and with more room and better layout more efficient production of bolt conveyor carriers, and improved and safer working conditions, are expected.

This year marks the 50th anniversary for Stephens-Adamson in Belleville and in the past eight years expanding production has made two other additions necessary.

The firm's fabricating shop with approximately 26,000 square feet was built and expanded in 1960 to its present age building of approximately 13,800 square feet was completed.

Manufacturers of bulk handling equipment and moving sidewalks, Stephens-Adamson now has about 130,000 square feet of factory space and employs 220 people.

Alhambras and Shriners Enjoy Sea Food Dinner

A most enjoyable sea food dinner sponsored by local Caravan 106 of the Order of Alhambras was held at Columbus Hall. This is an annual event which every year is gaining in popularity and the only disappointment was the "sold out" sign for those who failed to order tickets early.

Dancing to the music of the Troubadours was enjoyed from 9.00 till midnight, and then everyone had occasion to partake of their favorite dish — lobsters, shrimp, oysters, clam, scallop and the ocean fresh salmon and of course there was roast turkey, hams and salads; no name it, they had it in abundance.

The multi-colored fezzes of the local Shriners and the Alhambras added much to the gaiety and spirit of good-fellowship. Master of ceremonies Jerry Harrington and Sultana Erma, and their hard working committee made an all-out effort to ensure the success of the party.

Brief congratulatory remarks were offered by Grand Commander Gerry McAvoy and Shrine Club president, Bev. Quinney.

Caravan 106 have at their project the helping of the retarded children in this vicinity and the proceeds of this annual event are donated to this worth-while cause.

No Problem In Marketing Maple Syrup

Kenneth Holland of Crookston has been named as the first president of the Ontario District Maple Syrup Association which held it's inaugural meeting at the Belleville agricultural office.

Jack Wood of Ivanhoe is vice president, Burton Hubbke, R. R. 5 Belleville, secretary treasurer, and directors are H. Ruth of Dorland, John M. Kerr, R.R. 3 Picton and Max Humphries, R.R. 3 Hastings.

Formation of the Association remained from a maple syrup seminar held during the past winter at which time a steering committee was named.

At the inaugural meeting Mr. Holland told members that marketing of maple syrup products posed no problem for producers at the present time. However, doubling of the present production could result in disposal problems in the future.

The Association is made up of producers from Hastings, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington and Northumberland counties.

Edward P. Edson, forester from the Department of Lands and Forests at Napanee, explained the Woodlot Improvement Act to Association members. He said the act, passed last October, was designed to help farmers with five or more acres of woodland diversify interests in thinning, clean up and fencing and other improvement work on farm woodlots.

RESTORE CASTLE

HAMILTON (CP) — Restoration of Dundurn Castle, Hamilton's centennial project and home of Sir Allan Napier MacNab, premier of the United Provinces of Canada East and Canada West from 1854 to 1856 will be completed in time for the opening June 17, William McCulloch, centennial committee chairman, said Wednesday.

PC Women Elect Officers At Meeting

PICTON (Staff) — Mrs. Jack Hollingsworth was elected president of the Prince Edward Ladies' Progressive Conservative Association at the group's annual meeting recently. She succeeds Mrs. George Pitts, who resigned after serving as president for the past three years.

Mrs. Pitts will remain on the executive as past president and new chairman of the membership committee. Other officers are: first vice-president, Mrs. Ronald Church; second vice-president, Mrs. Dave Seymour; secretary, Mrs. Donald Grimmon; treasurer, Mrs. Ross Walker. Committee chairmen include Mrs. J. N. Bailey in charge of social committee; Mrs. Clifford Walker in charge of program; Mrs. Brock Hudgin in charge of publicity and Mrs. Grant Shannon in charge of sick and visiting. The members also heard a talk by Conservative candidate Walker, president of the Prince Edward-Lennox Conservative Association.

Union Members Offer Support To Strikers

TRENTON — Support from outside union members in the area is being offered striking workers at the Pyrotenax plant at Trenton.

Yesterday the driver of a CN delivery truck making a call at the plant honored the workers' picket line, while Cyril While, president of Local 537 of the I.U.E., said that representatives of two other unions had also offered their support. Volunteer pickets were offered, according to Mr. While.

Approximately 80 workers, about one third of whom are women, are on strike at the north Trenton plant.

Quinte Junior Radio Club Holds Session

The Quinte Junior Radio Club held their second monthly meeting at the E.M.O. Headquarters with 25 members in attendance. Seven new members were welcomed into the club making a membership of 32 boys.

Mr. B. Kirby had each boy introduce himself.

The boys were instructed on how to operate the Citizens' Band Radios. Four mobiles were taken out in mobile units and were given the opportunity to contact two base stations and the remaining three mobiles containing the rest of the club.

Thanks was extended to Mr. C. McFarland, Mr. W. Sclater, and Mr. R. Flower for their cooperation in this exercise.

The highlight of the evening was a lecture by Mr. J. Overend on the fine display of electronic equipment loaned to the club by the Erie Technological Products of Trenton. Mr. Overend answered questions and demonstrated the uses to which much equipment could be put.

As a project, club members were asked to design a crest which could be worn on a sweater or coat in order to designate the wearer as a member of the Q.J.R. Club. A prize for the best design will be awarded.

The next meeting will be held at the E.M.O. headquarters, 316 Dundas Street E. on Friday, April 21, at 7:00 p.m. All boys 9 to 15 years are welcome.

Water Supply Discussed by Commission

The Belleville Utilities Commission discussed a delay in bringing water from Lake Ontario to Belleville's raw water supply Tuesday night. It has been proposed that water be brought from the Great Lakes rather than being taken from the Bay of Quinte.

It is expected that it will be five years before this arrangement can be brought about. At this time the Utilities Commission is waiting for a report from the Ontario Water Resources Commission in Toronto.

A more immediate problem, however, is the replacement of the steel fabric on the microstraining equipment at the plant. New equipment is being sent from Scotland and has not arrived yet.

Key Club Wins Award

At a recent convention in London, Ont., the Quinte Key Club from Central Secondary School in Belleville placed second in the bronze division of the Ontario-Quebec-Maritimes district.

The bronze division includes all clubs with 23 members or less and involves all Key Clubs in secondary schools from the Maritimes to Ontario. To win this award, the club had to maintain a high standard in its monthly achievement reports. Achievements included attendance at meetings and following outings, projects for community and school, church projects and inter-club meetings.

Quinte's projects have included donating a trophy each to the school, distributing 1,000 church calendars to local churches, aiding with the United Appeal Drive and holding a Career Day. Numerous car washes and chocolate bar drives were undertaken.

A political assembly with local politicians in attendance is planned for April 19.

Probably Fireballs

2 Flaming Objects Seen

The unidentified flying object believed to be a meteorite) which lit up the Southern Ontario sky about 7.30 last evening was seen by at least two Belleville people.

Mr. Gerald Pringle, 18 Willard Street, and his 15-year-old son Frank, were walking on the Wallbridge Road near Tucker's Woodyard when two flaming objects appeared in the sky.

"They were really bright with different colors," Frank told The Intelligencer this morning. "I heard the "whish" as they passed over."

Frank said one of the meteorites burned out in the sky and he thought the other object fell into the woods, some distance from the highway.

The flaming object was also spotted at Ottawa with the Dominion Observatory there being flooded with telephone calls.

An observatory official said that on the basis of callers' descriptions the object "may have been a fireball."

The transport department control tower at Uplands Airport in Ottawa sighted the object at 7.33 p.m. The tower spokesman said it definitely was not an aircraft and speculated it might have been a meteorite.

Ottawa reports indicated the blue and white flaming object was moving from the southeast to northwest. This agreed with the observations of the two Belleville sighters.

There were no reports of the object being sighted at the Trenton Air Station.

Downtown Merchants Hold Meeting to Elect Officers

Belleville's downtown merchants last night showed little desire to patronize the organization dedicated to keeping business booming in their stores.

In fact, so few members of the Downtown Businessmen's Association bought the idea of an annual meeting that the session wrapped up its business and shut up shop in well under an hour.

Only 12 Front Street merchants were on hand for the meeting at the Hotel Quinte and five DBA members were approved as executive officers for the incoming year.

Incoming president Stan Albert said an unofficial Centennial project of the new association would be to rebuild the enthusiasm of other DBA members and seek their support when needed.

Immediate past president Gerry O'Connor congratulated his 1966 executive for its efforts, adding: "I think it's a pity we had to continue to put forth their best when some times it does seem as though we're crying in the wilderness."

Later, Mr. Albert said the DBA counted about 80 members, but the small attendance was no indication that the association was in difficulties.

Other community functions had siphoned off some of the possible attendance for the meeting, he pointed out.

Downtown businessmen needed the organization as a spokesman in difficult situations affecting their operations. At present, no "crisis" existed to draw an enthusiastic attendance.

"We all know business has been good — possibly never been better," he remarked.

Other executive officers named were: William Doyle, treasurer; William Dave, secretary; Les Wynick, membership chairman.

Y's Activities

The Belleville Family Y.M.C.A. is offering a 5 Minded mother of Sidney High School boys a course in canoeing. The course will include five sessions dealing with paddling, history, use, care and safety of a canoe. Each session will take the form of a weekend canoe trip in mid May.

Instructors for the course will be Mr. Murrey Bryhton, a teacher at Quinte Secondary School and Mr. Glen Mawhinney, Camp and Boys' Program Director at the Belleville Family Y.M.C.A. Any youth interested are invited to call Glen Mawhinney at the Belleville Family Y.M.C.A. 962-9543 for further information.

A YMCA senior life saving course will start Monday, April 17 at 8.30 p.m. at the Belleville Family Y.M.C.A. for the Belleville area.

The course will consist of rescue methods, artificial respiration and general water safety practices. Successful completion of the course and receipt of the senior life saving award qualifies those seventeen years of age and older to become lifeguards in the province.

Instructors for the course will be Mr. Grant Maidment and Mr. Jack Steadman.

Those interested in participating in the course are invited to call the YMCA today, phone 962-9543.

Toronto Man Remanded on Hunting Count

BRIGHTON — A Toronto man made a first court appearance here Wednesday on a charge of careless hunting in connection with the September 29 death of a companion.

Magistrate R. B. Batten, remanded Frank Schillaci, 33, to April 12 after defence counsel objected to the information laid by Brighton Provincial Police.

Mr. Schillaci was charged by police following the March 8 inquest into the death of 23-year-old Carle Trido of Weston.

The accused was hunting in Brighton township with Trido at the time of the shooting mishap.

Marmora Priest Named An Auxiliary Bishop

A Quinte district priest has been appointed auxiliary bishop by Pope Paul.

He is Rt. Rev. Francis J. Spence, 40 parish priest of Marmora, named auxiliary bishop to assist Cardinal Maurice Roy as Bishop of Catholics in the Canadian armed forces.

The appointment, announced by the apostolic delegation in Ottawa Wednesday, said Msgr. Spence will have the title of Bishop of Nova, following the custom of giving the title of an historic diocese to bishops who do not head a diocese.

Msgr. Spence has been parish priest of Marmora since February 1966. Today he was in Ottawa and it was not immediately known when he would assume his new appointment.

Born at Perth, his ecclesiastical background has been actively progressive since his ordination at Kingston in 1950.

He served in a parish at Smith's Falls and also as secretary to Archbishop J. O'Sullivan of Kingston. He obtained a doctorate in canon law after four years' study in Rome, returning to Kingston, where he was appointed to the staff of the Kingston Whig-Standard newspaper-in Kingston.

He also accompanied Archbishop O'Sullivan to Vatican ecumenical councils, following which he served at St. Patrick's parish in Ottawa.

Bishop-elect Spence succeeds Bishop N. J. Gallagher who was named auxiliary to Cardinal Leger of Montreal last August.

Legion to Provide Scholarships

Approximately 80 Legionnaires representing all 12 branches attended the Zone rally held in Bancroft on Sunday, Belleville Branch 30 and the Pfaff Wall Ladies Branch 527 had representatives present.

The meeting was the last to be presided over by Comrade Jack Rashotte as Zone commander. Mr. Rashotte will be succeeded by Comrade Earl Brant, Deseronto, the first full blooded Indian to assume the post. Mr. Brant, past president of the Deseronto branch will be officially installed at the Ontario provincial convention to be held at Sarnia in June.

All 12 branch presidents gave reports of branch activities during 1966 showing that active work was being carried on by members, especially in welfare, sports, membership and service work.

Comrade Brant spoke on the Legion Centennial Fund urging that all branches make every effort to raise their quotas.

He said that half of the $1,000,000 objective had now been raised. The money will be used to perpetuate future Legion programs and to provide for scholarships. Roy Madden of Belleville is chairman of the Centennial Fund for Branch 30.

Centennial fund trustees appointed by the national Legion headquarters include Lieut.-General Howard Graham, formerly of Trenton, and Brigadier James Arthur deLalanne, Montreal, Lew Price of Vancouver, R. E. MacIlraith, Dominion president R. E. MacIlraith and Fred T. O'Beirne, immediate past president.

During the meeting Jack Rashotte was presented with an electric wall clock.

"The Bert Armitage grubbage trophy was won by the Bancroft branch for the 13th consecutive time and now becomes the permanent property of that branch.

Reports were heard from Zone committee chairmen, while Zone poppy committee chairman Billy Tetley of Belleville appointing excellent sales for all branches. The Bancroft branch ladies auxiliary catered to the turkey dinner.

P.E. Farmers to Vote On Witholding Milk

Prince Edward County dairy farmers will have an opportunity to vote on withholding milk as a first step in a campaign to get the price of milk $5.00 per hundred-weight at a special meeting Friday night.

The meeting, sponsored by the Prince Edward Farmers' Union, will be held in Bloomfield town hall at eight p.m.

Other special speakers on the program of general interest to farmers will be representatives from the Income Tax Department and the Unemployment Insurance Department.

One reason why dairy farmers is how the government proposes to offer $4.75 per hundredweight, as a support price for present $4.32, as suggested by Federal Agriculture Minister J. J. Greene.

William Jones, President of the Prince Edward Farmers' Union said the total federal subsidy for Ontario dairy farmers last year was $90 million, plus another $20 million from Ontario or a total of $110 million. This year, Ontario will no longer get the subsidy as it has all been taken over by the federal government, which has budgeted $130 million, the same as the two combined last year.

"How does Mr. Greene plan to give any increased subsidy to all out of that?" asked Mr. Jones. "The only possible way appears to be an increase in the price of manufactured milk products to the consumer," he suggested.

The present price of milk at $4.33 per hundredweight means approximately 12½ cents a quart to farmers.

Mr. Jones said as far as the Farmers' Union is concerned it will be up to the farmers themselves to choose their course of action in their struggle to obtain a higher price for milk. He noted the Ontario Department of Agriculture has calculated that $5.00 per hundredweight is the minimum price at which farmers can produce and sell milk and still make a profit. The County Farmers' Union will be governed by the vote taken, Friday night.

SPRING CLEAN-UP

CITY OF BELLEVILLE

The Spring cleaning of streets will commence, weather permitting, Monday, April 10th. A schedule outlining the general area to be cleaned each week, will appear in Friday and Saturday issues of the Intelligencer.

Although, refuse from private property will be collected during the Spring clean-up, it should be noted that loose piles of debris placed on the street too soon before and following the clean-up operation, are only dragged to an unsatisfactory appearance for the street. You are therefore respectfully requested to place your loose refuse, as far as possible, in containers, noting that small amounts may be disposed of with your normal garbage. It should also be noted that the ashes from the burning of leaves and grass on the street, create an unnecessary mess, and you are respectfully requested not to burn same.

Ottawa Offbeat

Even Rasminsky Turns Pale Over Ottawa Spending Spree

By RICHARD JACKSON

OTTAWA — So you wonder how Federal Government costs can so spiral that Ottawa's current national spending Estimates approach a record $12 billion — a towering total of such extravagance as to frighten Bank of Canada Governor Louis Rasminsky, the Administration's very own No. 1 Money-man?

Wonder no more.

Simply take a look at where it all starts—the Prime Minister's Privy Council Offices—and see what's been happening.

Just 20 years ago, the Privy Council show was produced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his own personal hot-shot Trouble Shooter, Jack Pickersgill, with the aid of a few clerks and stenographers for a mere $742,975.

The payroll for Macking's and Pick's staff of 38 ran a mere $158,178.

Sixteen years later — in 1982, last of the Diefenbaker days — the Privy Council operation was costing $4,005,000, with the staff up to 108 and the payroll to $1,100,000.

But the perspective of what's been happening these last four years, Dief's budget for the Privy Council operation is hardly reasonable or at least controllable.

But then in '63 came the break-through to Bigness.

So what's happened in these last four years?

Everything's just about multiplied by two.

Privy Council costs are up to almost $8,000,000.

The staff is just six short of 200.

And the payroll has climbed to nearly $2,000,000.

Just ponder this — 30 new members are joining the staff, almost as many as worked for Macking and Pick 20 years ago.

The Prime Minister's own establishment sets the tone, the pace, the very fashion of things bureaucratic.

Where in the Prime Minister's staff, leads, the rest of Official Ottawa follows.

For in the Prime Minister's offices is the source of all the Federal power and glory.

How come everything there doubles in size and expense in just four years—giving the costs rise to the rest of the Federal team in the Ottawa game to Follow - the - Leader?

Well, day by day and year by year, the Prime Minister's offices are becoming less and less what they used to be, and more and more what a President's are.

Power polarises around the PM.

His shadow lengthens across more and more of the sprawl of government departments and a self-multiplying responsibilities.

Among other things the Prime Minister's office has had 11 Royal Commissions going, costing a shade over $2 million.

Then he's got the Science Council (part - altogether from the National Research Council or the Defence Research Board) bite some $300,000.

Under the Prime Minister's spreading test of power is the Commission for Confederal Site Visits, a $1,500,000 enterprise.

Then don't forget his very own Company of Young Canadians, whose anti-American antics, costing a current $2,445,000 operating last year's bill — so embarrassed him.

Remember, too, the Prime Minister has a two-pronged operation going for him in the controversial field of bilingualism and Biculturalism. One is a special Privy Council committee assigned to putting the Federal Civil Service on a 5 - language basis, the other is that Royal Commission which has been doubled from now nearly 2 to 4 years, currently running up another $1 million in operating costs.

List also the Prime Minister's own Special Planning Secretariat, which he assigned to fight what he chose to call "The War on Poverty."

Nobody but the inclusion of the Prime Minister's: "Task Force on Labor" headed by Dean Wood of McGill.

And in the growing army of "task forces" — a new "in-phrase" with the Backroom Boys of the Bureaucracy—count the one the Prime Minister assigned his former Finance Minister, Walter Gordon, to lead against foreign ownership of industry and investment.

Then there is the special Federal - Provincial Secretariat which the Prime Minister created for the expediting of inter-governmental conferences, the delicate task of tax-sharing, the cutting up of the taxpayer in 11 pieces for the financial nourishment of Ottawa and the 10 provinces.

Penny thing, though — while the Prime Minister's office grows in power and increases in cost, leading the Federal taxand-spend race — Ottawa's authority shrinks in inverse ratio to the expansion of provincial prestige.

So actually, if you look at the thing with a cold calculating finnancial eye — it is costing you more for less.

The Governor-General

A cardinal principle of the late Governor-General Georges Vanier was the need for unity in Canadian life — a unity that would transcend the cultural and racial differences that are part and parcel of this vast land.

It is this diversity of course that makes Canada interesting, and the unity which he sought was one of national sentiment — a pride in being Canadian whether one is English or French-speaking, or a native of some other country.

General Vanier's successor, Roland Michener, is a man in the same tradition. Currently High Commissioner to India, Mr. Michener has a distinguished background. He is a lawyer, scholar, politician, diplomat and administrator. Both he and his wife are bilingual.

Mr. Michener, 66, said on his appointment that "as governor-general, "as the visible evidence of Canadian federal unity, can do a great deal to bring the various regions of Canada together." To this end he plans to travel extensively in Canada.

The new governor-general is a worthy successor to General Vanier. The latter revred Queen and country well, but we may be sure Mr. Michener will add fresh lustre to this high office.

Signs and Portents

If New York state highway signs pointing to Canada have been removed only temporarily to permit the erection of new ones giving correct mileages that is all to the good.

Suggestions they were coming down permanently touched off a minor crisis in international relations, according to a story in The Kingston Whig-Standard.

The district engineer of Syracuse, J. G. Norton, earlier had been quoted as saying "the Watertown, NY, Chamber of Commerce had the view that if we showed how quickly people could get to Canada, they would not stop in Watertown."

However, the Watertown Chamber is quoted as saying the full facts had not been made known. It issued a statement saying: "Route 81 is now open right to the Thousand Islands bridge and the old mileage signs were incorrect and had to be replaced."

Moreover, the Chamber met Monday and authorized telegrams to Expo officials and Centennial Chairman John Fisher regretting the misunderstanding.

Ontario Tourist Minister James Auld has termed the affair "a tempest in a tea pot."

Be that as it may, we cannot let this opportunity of suggesting politely that the New York authorities, while they are at it, upgrade the status of the signs pointing to Canada. We noticed one on Highway 81 recently showing "Canada" in small lettering. The New York community of Theresa was on the same sign and Canada might just have been another small stateside town.

It would make for improved international relations if the Americans would either give Canada a sign to itself or else print the name in larger letters.

Expo and the Mafia

Some weeks ago we suggested that Expo would be too big an opportunity for the Montreal underworld to pass up, along with assorted tourists from the United States.

As it happens this is precisely what the heavies and sharpies have in mind. Two Montreal detectives are reported to have been conferring with New York police and the FBI on a renewed influx into Canada of racketeers believed connected with the Mafia.

A United States government official says Canadian police report that more and more U.S. underworld figures are visiting Montreal and Toronto regularly. Authorities in Toronto have denied there is any renewal of Mafia activities there.

Still, it would be a mistake to suppose the city is entirely free of gangster elements. Both U.S. and Canadian hoodlums, meeting in hotels and nightclubs, are believed involved in big-time gambling and the vending and juke-box business in Canada.

How all this ties in with Expo is best known to the gangland figures themselves. They are the experts in their field, but as we have already said the opportunities presented by such a combination of industrial and commercial venture as the world fair must be manifold.

From the public security point of view, and the protection of legitimate commercial interests involved in Expo, the less seen or heard of the underworld element the better.

To this end Canadian officials are reported anxious that New York authorities furnish quick identification and backgrounds on visiting American racketeers. Co-operation is said to be on a firm enough basis, but there is room for improvement.

This is a matter of urgency. Expo and Canada at large should not have to tolerate any nonsense from the Mafia or any other part of the underworld.

"We're compromising, fellows—we're going ahead with the execution but delaying the burial"

Planning Challenge

Making Best Use of Fixed Assets

Community planning is one of the most urgent needs facing Canadians as more and more move into urban areas. In the following article JOHN BEAVIS, planning director of the Belleville and Suburban Planning Board, discusses the task facing planners seeking to correct the errors and neglect of the past, and at the same time win a race against time in making adequate provision for the future.

Town and Community Planning is a matter of vital concern to us, our children and our grandchildren. By planning our cities, towns and villages we can exercise not only our choice of where we live, but also determine how and in what conditions we and they will live.

If we do not exercise this choice and do not exert our individual influence in determining the quality of our future environment we cannot blame anyone but ourselves when the air we breathe is contaminated, when the water around us is polluted, and the land is despoiled.

That the quality of these three basic resources of man will deteriorate is certain unless we choose otherwise. Air, water and land are our fixed assets. We cannot manufacture more of them; consequently, we are obliged to continually re-use them. How frequently we can use them depends on how well we control their quality. If we neglect to use these basic resources wisely and conserve them by planning for our future we shall ultimately have to pay the price of our omission. This price will be high because the cleanup of these resources is expensive

It is well for us to consider the why, what, who and how of community planning because it is our own interest we have to make many critical decisions within the next decade. The decisions we make will also determine what kind of inheritance we leave to our successors. Already the dice are loaded against us because of the rate at which our urban centres are growing.

It was about 5,500 years ago that man first began to live in urban groups. Two hundred years ago only two in each 100 people lived in Cities, towns and villages. At the time of Confederation, there were few Canadian cities; most people lived in rural surroundings. Now three-quarters of the Canadian people live in, or very close to, urban centres. This rapid rate at which people have moved to live in urban centres has caused us to abuse the quality of our basic resources. In building our cities and towns we have, by neglect, chosen to make an environment in which the air and water are contaminated. We have allowed land to be used unwisely; we are constantly embroiled in traffic jams. The many defects of our cities are evident. Yet they do represent the pinnacle of more than 5,000 years of man's urban experience.

The dispassionate opinion is that the rate of urban growth will continue to accelerate. Within the next 15 to 20 years, Canadians must construct more buildings than have been built within the last 250 years. Unless we use all of our wisdom and technical ability to decide how and where our new and expanded cities and towns are to grow we can expect no more than chaos. We are involved in a race against time. We must now take up the double task of correcting the errors caused by neglect and direct the future growth of expanding urban centres.

Community Planning is the process by which we determine the kind of future city we wish to live in. The most visible signs of a Community's desire to determine the pattern of its future growth are the Official Plan and the zoning by-law.

The Official Plan is the public document in which the people in a Community state their aims and outline their program for conserving and developing the resources of the community. The plan outlines the manner in which land is to be used. It proposes new major roads, water and sewage facilities. It states the principles whereby schools, parks and public services are to be provided. It also indicates where, and how many, people can be given a satisfactory urban environment on the basis of these public services. Lastly, the plan outlines how the community proposes to pay for these things.

The zoning by-law regulates the manner in which land in a community is to be used at a given time. It establishes rules for using land and constructing new buildings. It retains the best of those things which now exist, and from time to time it will be amended to make possible changes which are designed to achieve the stated objectives of the Official Plan. Other, lesser known, laws which owe their origin to community planning are subdivision control by-laws, occupancy and maintenance by-laws and building by-laws. These are the community laws which establish rules for dividing land into building lots, regulating the quality of building maintenance and standards of building.

We can take the opportunity to express our wishes with regard to community planning when the plan is being drawn up. We can start our influence when Council is considering adopting it or when the minister is reviewing it. However, very few in Belleville so far have cared enough for the future to do so. Is not Centennial Year a good time to change this?

Britons Try Bilingualism

Globe and Mail

The problem, we are told, is the attitude of the French-speaking businessman. He comes to town, or you go to see him, and he gets impatient with the fact that you want to converse in English. The managing director of a textile firm is all but fed up with the "impudence" demonstrated by the French-speaking customers he must do business with. Whenever he asks, he says, "you find out at the end of a conference that the chap you have been talking to can, in fact, speak English very well."

The result of it all is a proliferation of courses in instant French. For those who want to go beyond the beginners' level — and most personnel managers suggest that the representatives of their firms should — there are advanced courses of four hours a day for four weeks.

And where's it all this feverish activity underway? In Toronto? Winnipeg? Vancouver?

Wrong. Wrong. It's happening in Manchester, ducks, that's where it's happening.

Kennedy Mellows

LBJ Seeks Party Support for Hard Line in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (CP)— President Johnson began a peak load week to heal discord within the Democratic party and rally support for his harder line in Vietnam.

He personally wooed the senior statesmen — the eyes, ears and often brains—of the 533 members of Congress. He spoke frankly and privately to a Democratic dinner about the need for unity.

Senator Robert Kennedy of New York told the same audience the next day he would work hard for the 1968 re-election of the president and vice-president Hubert Humphrey.

This soothed feelings bolstered by the recent Kennedy dissent on the Vietnamese war, plus temperamental differences of long standing and printed reports of a Feb. 8 meeting of some heat.

But guerrilla warfare on the left wing of the party has taken shape.

John Kenneth Galbraith, the liberal-minded court intellectual, became president of the left-leaning Americans for Democratic Action. He warned that a war lasting five to 10 more years, as some predict, "can mean the death and burial of the Democratic party."

The former ambassador to India urged a halt to the bombing of the North as an initial step toward a peaceful solution.

The group now headed by the Ontario-born Galbraith now has split with President Johnson by expressing "disenchantment and dismay" over his Vietnam policy.

Martin Luther King, Nobel peace prize winner and the best known American civil rights leader, has warned that if the U.S. continues to increase the military pressure in Vietnam civil disobedience may be "necessary as a form of protest."

King, a comparative moderate in the movement, has been restrained in war criticism in the past.

He said Sunday the war is "slaying honor with one domestic destinies. . . ."

"In a real sense the great society has been shot down in the battlefields of Vietnam."

Both Partners Should Be Willing To Study and Strive to Satisfy Other

Dear Doris: Perhaps I was expecting too much from married life as far as love-making goes. We are both 22 and I have always thought it the right thing to save myself for the man I married.

In my husband's younger years, he had quite a reputation with girls, so he was far from inexperienced when we married. Yet now he seems to have changed. Perhaps he is tired of sex. But for me it is just the start and I am far from satisfied.

I have suggested reading books on such things but he seems to object and gets mad if I suggest it.

He says he does not know why he has changed but he loves me very much. Sometimes I wonder if I was wrong in saying myself, for I often think I must have missed a lot and it is now too late. — Married Seven Months.

Dear Married: Too late? Oh no. Love has grown, because it becomes more thoroughly satisfying over the years. With real love, both partners are willing to study and strive to satisfy the other.

There is no need to be ashamed of in not being completely informed; but it is folly for a man to take pride himself on his knowledge that he refuses to learn more — when his own happy marriage depends on it.

I greatly doubt whether he knows much at all about a woman's part in this, which is so different from a man's, and so dependent on his understanding. Start reading from the list of books I'm sending you yourself. Perhaps you can get him reading along with you.

Dear Doris: At least I know what I want to do; trouble is, where is the money? I want a ten month course at a hairdressing school.

If I took this course, I'd be a hairdresser in a year and I'd have another year to pay off my debt and get on my feet before we are married. Does the government give loans for such things? — Penny.

Dear Trudy: If by chance there is a shortage of hairdressers in your area, your Canada Manpower officer might recommend approval of a government training loan for you.

Or you might qualify for U.I. benefits while taking the course; in this case you would still have to pay fees. Then there is the three-year apprenticeship plan, during which time you could receive a partial salary.

Go to the local Manpower Centre and have a talk with the person in charge of such training programs. Don't give up your dream.

To Winnipeg Reader, and Miss E. V. in B.C.: Thank you both for sending us the delightful poem, "Mist reads Spring in Every Hurry". We've made copies now, ready for anyone writing in for them and enclosing ten cents and a five-cost-stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Are you in doubt about the proper etiquette to use for some special occasion? Ask Doris, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for her reply.

Kitchen Tested Recipes

Economical Marrowfat Peas Recipes

By MARY MOORE

My only acquaintance with marrowfat peas, up until yesterday, was hearing my mother spoil it for me when I was studying for a spelling bee and eating a grey-looking mound of them in the airport dining-room in Dusseldorf accompanied by pork hocks (and Matisses and Herbie and Gary!).

Yesterday I was hunting for green split peas to make split pea soup with which to use a leftover ham bone, when I caught sight of a package of marrowfat peas resting two for 33 cents.

Since I am still on an economy campaign and since I promised you a third ham recipe I bought them, and brought them home and wondered what I would do. I ended up preparing them three ways

NUMBER ONE:

PEASE PORRIDGE HOT

Wash in sieve then soak one pound marrowfat peas in 8 cups cold water 24 hours. Add 2 chopped onion (or 1-6 cup instant chopped onion), 1 ham bone with a little meat left on it, ¼ tsp. pepper, ½ bay leaf, 1 tsp. salt and simmer covered 4 hrs. or until perfectly tender. Mostly all water will be absorbed. To make the Hot Pease Porridge I removed enough peas to force through strainer to give me 1½ cups pease puree. To this I added an equal quantity of unsweetened mashed potatoes, then added ½ cup milk and beat over medium heat until hot and velvet smooth. I served this with boiled pork hocks. This would be old hat to my readers of German origin.

NUMBER TWO:

MARROWFAT PEAS AS A VEGETABLE

Since there was such a big portal of these lovely flavorful peas I reheated enough to serve with steak for the next evening's dinner. They were a success and oh so cheap!

NUMBER THREE:

MARINATED MARROWFAT PEAS — a relish

I tasted something like this at a smorgasbord, once and tried to copy it. I drained well 2 cups of the cooked marrowfat peas and barely covered them with well-shaken French dressing and stored them, covered, in refrigerator for 24 hrs. Then I drained them well and served them as a relish on a buffet table where we had roast duck and glazed ham. It was conversation - provoking and I noticed it was all eaten. Try it for a real change on your next buffet table.

And of course you can strain the cooked marrowfat peas as above (under Number One) through a colander to get a rough puree and add almost an equal quantity of milk and more salt to taste and serve as good old pea soup.

Glamorous Field of Fashion Draws Workers Like Magnet

TORONTO (CP)—The field of fashion, with all its ever-changing, encompasses one of Canada's largest industries. Though it seldom jobs are few and fiercely competitive, they act like a magnet, drawing people of the fashion-good many of them wind up doing jobs they hadn't known existed.

Laraine Scott, chief instructor for the fashion option at Ryerson Polytechnical Institute in Toronto, says if you are interested in fashion, you should find out something about the field and how qualified you are before you commit yourself.

"You should consider whether you are really creative. If you are, you should think about the production end, the actual production of the clothes. You will have to go to a big centre for these jobs—Toronto or Montreal in Canada, New York, London or Paris. These are highly competitive jobs. You must be prepared to fight for what you want and to live with, almost live for, your work."

Mrs. Scott says working conditions and low salaries often put off the beginner who hopes to work as a designer in Canadian garment factories.

She says she usually tries to discourage girls who want to be designers in their own custom shops, or at least recommends they try to get work in such a shop before they decide.

"Canadian women are not too couture conscious. You need a reputation, skill, experience, a good business head and usually a patron to give you a lot of financial backing."

The Ryerson course, part of the school's home economics department, concentrates largely on training for retail jobs and requires students to get working experience while they are taking it.

"If you are interested in retail leg you need retail and merchandising courses. This is design," Mrs. Scott says, "don't take a general course, go to a good design school."

"If your interested in retailing, you need retail and merchandising courses. This is what we give here. You must have sales experience. Any experience in sales work matures young people, they begin to know what it is to handle people."

Somewhere between the two are the counselling, co-ordinating, promotion and advertising jobs that may call for talent and training as an interviewer, photographer or copy writer. They may take detailed knowledge of some special area, such as textiles. All require knowledge and a sense of what's current in fashion.

FEW PROMOTION JOBS

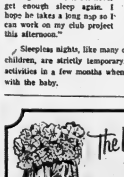
"Many girls are interested in fashion promotion, which is sales, but in a different way. There are few of these jobs, and they are hard to get into."

Promotion might mean a job in a retail fabric department as consultant, dealing directly with customers. It might involve co - ordinating fashion shows, organizing the garments and accessories.

There are people who work with pattern companies, fabric firms, other type manufacturers and associations. They travel, talk to sales people about their products, set up training programs or fashion shows, work with the press, women's groups and retailers to promote the products.

"The companies prefer people who have had some experience for these jobs. You should be older to convince people."



The jobs in advertising are in agencies, big retail stores, catalogue companies.

The other main outlet is teaching. There the requirements are the same as in any field, specialized training plus teacher training.

Mrs. Scott recommends a book, Your Future in the Fashion World by the New York Fashion Group, as a guide to someone considering such a future.

Points for Parents

By MARY BRYSON

Mother: "I didn't realize a baby could be so exhausting. He still has to have a 2 o'clock feeding. I feel as if I'll never get enough sleep again. I hope he takes a long nap so I can work on my club project this afternoon."

A new baby is the best excuse in the world for cutting out extra activities so you can nap in the afternoon. Let everything go and sleep when the baby sleeps if you possibly can.

Sleepless nights, like many of the problems of bringing up children, are strictly temporary. You can pick up your club activities in a few months when you're no longer up at night with the baby.

Ann Landers

Man Takes Sick Leave From Ailing Marriage

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are bottled. We don't know what to think. Our son-in-law decided he needed a vacation from our daughter. They had been married only 11 months and weren't getting along too well—I must admit she wasn't a good wife. She couldn't manage on his income, borrowed from her father and me and nagged her husband constantly about insignificant things that should have been overlooked.

Our son-in-law went to Mexico by himself — to "think things over." Our daughter moved back into her room as she wouldn't be alone in their apartment.

This morning we received a telegram from our son-in-law saying he will not be back for several months, and he is divorcing our daughter for reasons of illness.

What does this sound like to you? — STUNNED PARENTS.

DEAR PARENTS: It sounds like he is sick of her.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am fed up and disgusted with people who say, "Honesty is the best policy."

Twice this week I was asked to give an honest opinion. Well, I gave an honest opinion and both times I got into terrible trouble. I have made an enemy for life and I was kicked out of English class for the rest of the term. In our school when you get kicked out of class you flunk the course and have to take it over again next semester.

You hear all these high sounding phrases about honesty is the best policy, but I have learned first-hand that it doesn't pay. A person is much better off to lie and stay out of trouble. So why don't you come right out and admit it since you pride yourself on giving good advice? — TRUTH IS TROUBLE.

DEAR TROUBLE: I notice that you did not provide a single detail of the incidents which brought forth your sterling qualities and landed you in trouble.

Many people delight in tearing friends to pieces, leaving not a shred of dignity and they call the butchery "being frank" or "simply honest."

Yes, it pays to be honest, but it does not pay to be punitive and brutal. And this is probably your problem.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I wish those unhappy wives who have lost their husbands to "The Other Woman" would stop calling them "Trumps." True, some one-night stands deserve the name, but the majority of "Other Women" are intelligent, attractive and very much in love.

Sex alone will not hold a marriage together, nor will it sustain an affair. The Other Woman" provides something the wife doesn't, otherwise she would not be in the picture. It might be compassion, understanding, adoration, or just old-fashioned appreciation for his presence. Maybe he just wants to be around someone who doesn't nag him, or belittle him, or make his feel inadequate.

So wives, take stock of yourselves. If you want to keep your husbands happy don't give them any excuses to roam. There's an old saying that if you feed a man well at home he won't go to restaurants. — KITTEN.

* DEAR KITTEN: Some men prefer restaurants to home cooking just because it's different. The rest of your letter, however, makes a great deal of sense. Thank you for writing.

Wife of Governor-General Relishes Society, Travel

OTTAWA (CP)—When Mrs. Roland Michener becomes chatelaine of Government House she will become the country's No. 1 society hostess. She also will be called on to travel from coast to coast and into the North with the new Governor-General.

Mrs. Michener relishes both social society and travel. For five years her husband was Speaker of the House of Commons and for three years he has been high commissioner for Canada in India.

She showed an appreciation of history. While Mr. Michener was Speaker, she revived an old European custom of formal entertaining. She had an elaborate silver candelabra pared to that used by the Speaker of the British House of Commons.

She also found a precedent for the dining table with the country's extended governors in colonial days.

Mrs. Michener is the author of a booklet written for wives of members of Parliament soon after the Conservative sweep in the 1958 general election. Wives of some of the new MPs had found the formal side of capital life awesome.

The slim, erect, auburn-haired mother of three, now a grandmother, is a native of Manitoba who grew up in Vancouver and studied at the Toronto Conservatory of Music before her marriage in 1927.

After her family grew up, she decided she wouldn't just "vegetate," as she once put it. She embarked on a 10-year course of study for a doctorate in philosophy, awarded in 1953.

With music and philosophy, she also has an interest in gardening. Here, she is likely to be happiest as long in the elaborate rockeries and formal rose beds of the Government House grounds, along with its well-tended greenhouse.

She speaks French and some Italian.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD W. POLLOCK

Pollock – Chatten

Centenary United Church was the scene March 31, 1967, at 7.30 p.m. of the marriage of Barbara Joyce Chatten and Ronald Wayne Pollock. Rev. J. W. Hobbs was the officiating clergyman. Mrs. Douglas Keller played the wedding music and Mrs. Irwin Badgley was soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Jesse R. Chatten of R. R. 1, Corbyville and Mrs. Mary Chatten and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pollock of R. R. 1, Dartford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor – length gown of white organza over taffeta with long fitted sleeves and lace at the scalloped neckline. A petal – bordered headpiece held her shoulder – length veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses mingled with stephanotis.

Mrs. Ivey MacMillan was her sister's attendant. She wore a floor – length aqua brocade gown with matching chiffon falling from the shoulders, and a matching petal burst head piece. She carried a bouquet of mums sprinkled with aqua and silver.

Jack McMillan was groomsman and the ushers were Ronald Chatten, brother of the bride, and Gary Pollock, brother of the bird groom.

The reception at Carmel United Church Hall was followed by a dance in Canada. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Walter Smith of Lindsay wore a two-piece aqua blue linen dress with matching three-quarter length coat of lace. Her accessories were black and white and she wore a corsage of baby pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a three-piece aqua blue suit with matching hat, black accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

For her wedding trip to Nashville, Tennessee, the bride chose a navy blue and white linen suit, white and red accessories and a corsage of red roses.

On their return, the couple will live at R. R. 1, Dartford.

Hospital Auxiliaries Association Holds District Spring Conference

Hospital auxiliary members, whose hospital has lost its accreditation, should seek the full reason for the loss. They should become informed on hospital affairs by questioning their representatives on the governing board.

Mrs. George Raymond, president of the Ontario Hospital Auxiliaries Association, charged auxiliary executive members with this responsibility at the spring conference of district 8, Hospital Auxiliaries Association, held Wednesday afternoon in Education Hall, Belleville General Hospital.

Her challenge came on the heels of a suggestion made by Msgr. J. P. Sullivan, vice-chairman of the Belleville General Hospital Board, to Governors that auxiliaries "could exert pressure on boards to attain and retain accreditation." In view of the local hospital's loss of its certificate in January, Msgr. Sullivan's address on accreditation was termed "appropriate topic" by conference chairman Mrs. F. A. Beeby. Keynote of all speakers' remarks during the day-long sessions was the need for better informed members.

"Never be satisfied with the status quo, no matter how much it costs to improve it," Msgr. Sullivan told his audience. "Accreditation is the patient's right. The public remains a bundle of indecision regarding hospitals. Accreditation gives confidence that the hospital is measuring up to accepted standards of care."

The Canadian Council on Hospital Administration issues a certificate of accreditation only after an impartial survey of the administrative, medical and nursing aspects of patient care by a physician-inspector. Full accreditation can be granted for a three-year period, or provisional accreditation can be given for one year.

"You can't twist the council's arm to secure accreditation," Msgr. Sullivan said, "because if you could we would have tried it."

When checking hospital's administrative set-up the inspector looks for a good physical plant, freedom from the constant danger of fire and infection and proper housekeeping practices. Seventy per cent of the surveyor's time is concerned with the medical staff — the largest factor in determining if a hospital will be accredited. Not only must the nursing staff be properly qualified, it must also be provided with an in-service educational program for up-dating techniques.

Goal of the Canadian Council on Hospital Administration is the eventual accreditation of all hospitals. Now, one half the hospitals in Canada hold the certificate and these account for 75 per cent of the existing hospital beds.

"If hospitals fail to reach this goal on their own, the government will compel them by withholding some grants," the speaker said. "Its only purpose is to ensure best patient care."

Mrs. Raymond endorsed Msgr. Sullivan's suggestion for female pressure. Addressing the 75 executive members of auxiliaries from Brockville, Kingston, Napanee, Picton, Trenton and Belleville.

On the changing role of their members, she said: "At one time an auxiliary member was regarded as an extra pair of unskilled hands to do the mending and hold tees to raise money. Her acceptance of self-sacrifice kept her in that role. Now, the volunteer has the right to expect hospitals to offer her a meaningful job and an interesting experience that gives a sense of fulfilment."

"Overworked and understaffed professionals, who once jealously guarded against outside help, are beginning to face the reality that interested, intelligent, skilled volunteers can ease the present personnel crisis. The new complementary volunteer fills in, or makes up, an essential lack and provides semi-technical service."

"Many former hospital auxiliary volunteers have left our ranks to join the labor force, or elsewhere, because they are bored, seek a job that offers more challenge. It is a delusion to think that change can be avoided. The luxury of delay has disappeared."

Use of trained volunteers to offer social therapy for patients, in conjunction with a professional social worker, was one of Mrs. Raymond's suggestions. Greatest need for the service is in emergency departments, where a seven per cent rise in the accident toll last year put a heavy demand on the staffs. Volunteers are now assisting in eight Ontario hospitals, flowing recommendation for released, out-of-town accident victims, arranging the forwarding of their belongings and the notification of their next-of-kin. Kingston General Hospital is at present the only institution in district 8 using volunteer help in this way.

Mrs. F. A. Beeby, of Belleville, chairman of district 8, was in charge of the conference. Delegates were welcomed by Mrs. W. C. Harvey, president of the Belleville Women's Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. C. Clarke, Picton, Mrs. W. J. Finkle and Mrs. M. F. L. Jones, Belleville, conducted a question period and reports were heard from the ten hospitals in the district.

Msgr. J. P. Sullivan, Mrs. George Raymond of Brockville and Mrs. F. A. Beeby of Belleville (seated) discuss reports during a pause in sessions of the district 8 conference of the Hospital Auxiliaries' Association in Education Hall yesterday.

Family Night Concludes Vacation Bible School

FRANKFORD — Last Saturday evening "Parents Night" was held in Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle on the closing of Daily Vacation Bible School, a centennial project beginning Monday, March 27th to April 1st.

Sunday School superintendent Paul Spurrell welcomed everyone. Rev. J. Dunlop spoke briefly and gave the announcements.

Director of Daily Vacation Bible School was Mrs. Ethel Fisher; directors of handicrafts were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Peterson.

Primary class winners were: Ronnie Smith, Paula Spurrell; junior class: Berry Reilly and Maureen Lawson; intermediate and teen winners were: Eric Brookbank and Marsha Peterson.

Superintendent Paul Spurrell presented Ronnie Smith, the student who held the highest points for the week with a special gift. Paula Spurrell received for perfect attendance, bringing guests, completed work books, memorization of Bible verses plus handicraft.

During the week the children busied themselves with handicraft. They made mottoes, puppy note holders, Bible markers, workbooks, and the smaller children did coloring.

During the week the intermediate and teenage group studied the theme "God's Word For Me". Teachers were Mrs. Dunlop, Mrs. Lonnie Reilly and Miss Linda Fisher. The junior age group studied "Christ My Life" with teachers: Mrs. Wilbert Reid and Mrs. Paul Spurrell. The primary group studied "Bible Adventures" with teacher, Mrs. Mary Patrick. Pre-school group studied "Growing With Jesus" with teachers: Mrs. Austin Watson and Mrs. Gerald Curry.

Mrs. Ira Leach of Belleville was guest soloist and sang a selection for the children. Mrs. Ethel Fisher gave a few remarks.

Prizes were given to the following: pre-school children for perfect attendance at D.V.B.S., Donna Chapman; Pamela Spurrell, Colleen Dunlop, Pamela Smith, Dianne McDonald, Shirley Chapman and David Rowley.

Rev. Ira Leach of Belleville was the guest speaker for the evening who presented a Bible flannel graph story on "The Old Oakridge School".

The service closed and parents viewed the handicraft display in the Sunday School auditorium.

PC Advisory Committee Will Meet

The Ontario Progressive Conservative Women's Advisory committee, Eastern District No. 2 will hold their annual spring meeting in the Town of Trenton, Saturday, April 15th, at a luncheon in the Canterbury Hall.

Mrs. Dorothy Downing, National Director of the Progressive Conservative Women of Canada will be one of the speakers. Her address will be on the current workshop. The nine Conservative Parliament members from the Provincial and Federal ridings of the district had been invited to speak and take part in a panel discussion.

Representatives from the various levels to the meeting will include the riding presidents, president of associations within the ridings and members of the Ian Wahn's organizations of the district.

Eastern District No. 2 is comprised of the Provincial ridings of Hastings, Quinte, Prince Edward-Lennox, North Addington-Frontenac and Kingston and the Islands. Mrs. Audrey McFarlane of Kingston is the district chairman.

IODE Member Presented With 25-year Pin

A meeting of St. Julien Chapter I.O.D.E. was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. Bishop with the Regent, Mrs. G. Hume presiding.

Final arrangements were made by Mrs. Ellis for the presentation of the Eastern Ontario Concert Orchestra next Wednesday evening as the first event of the Centennial, Arts Festival.

Mrs. C. Bishop was presented with a 25-year pin by Mrs. Thompson.

Material and wool for layettes were distributed by Mrs. Whitemore and members were asked to bring magazines for the Fox Nursing Station and men's cotton shirts is be made into hospital gowns. Several members volunteered their services for the next Blood Donor's Clinic.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Gaskcar.

CLUB 4-H NOTES

BETHEL-ZION

Bethel - Zion 4-H Club is now well underway with five meetings already completed. The group has 17 members with Mrs. Ted Ray as leader and Mrs. Delbert Rowe assistant leader.

At the first meeting the election of officers took place as follows: president, Mary Tummon, treasurer, Marlene Tufts; press reporter, Brenda Stader, with a flowing secretary at each meeting.

The discussions have been on type of material and styles; personal measurements; proper way to read and use a pattern; posture and the last meeting how to fit a dress.

The name "Cotton Cuties" has been selected as the club name.

John Turner to Find Cabinet Role Tailor-made for Ambitions

OTTAWA (CP)—John Turner, 37, will direct the course of a small administrative and legislative revolution as registrar-general of Canada.

Rich, young, handsome, bilingual and politically ambitious, Mr. Turner could not hope to find a better job at a better time.

Weeks before his promotion Tuesday from minister without portfolio, the decision had been made to transform the registrar-general's department to a department of consumer and corporate affairs.

Now it is the Montreal lawyer who stands to gain credit for putting new strength into Ottawa's control over business in the service of the average shopper and investor.

The new name and functions of the department are expected to be announced in the throne speech opening the centennial session of Parliament later this spring.

It is understood that a host of consumer protection activities now performed by the departments of health and welfare, trade and commerce, fisheries and perhaps agriculture will be given to Mr. Turner's department.

On the corporate side, the registrar - general already has responsibility for legislation covering bankruptcy, combines, restrictive trade practices, trade marks, patents and copyrights.

Thorough reforms in almost all these areas are in the wind.

One of Mr. Turner's first tasks will be to join Finance Minister Sharp and Jean Chrétien, installed Tuesday as a minister without portfolio, in discussion April 19 with provincial ministers on new legislation covering securities and control of financial institutions.

The conference is expected to lead to a series of joint studies, with opportunities for Mr. Turner to direct federal initiatives.

The former Rhodes scholar, being mentioned in speculation as a potential contender for his party's leadership, can be expected to move quickly to identify himself with the interests of the consumer.

He has a limited time to project himself as a credible successor to Prime Minister Pearson, whose retirement is widely predicted as likely to occur in 1968.

Robarts Opposes Work Limit

TORONTO (CP) — Premier John Roberts disagreed Wednesday with the Ontario Federation of Labor that overtime should be limited by law to 100 hours a year a man.

"A lot of workers like overtime," the premier said in discussing the federation's annual brief to the government with reporters.

The brief called for time-and-a-half for work after 40 hours a week and a minimum wage of $2 an hour.

"We believe that the best system of reducing needless overtime is to discourage it by making it more costly," the brief said.

Powerful Blowers 'Cook' Reds In Air Heated to 1000 Degrees

LAI THIEU, South Vietnam (AP) — Powerful blowers that "cook out" Viet Cong guerrillas with blasts of air heated to 1,000 degrees are being used by U.S. 1st Division troops in the Thuan Giao jungle 10 miles north of Saigon.

The hot air technique utilizes the 30 - pound "mighty mite" blowers used normally in forcing tear gas into Viet Cong tunnels. The air is heated by a power generator working off a battery, and forced into a tunnel entrance.

The device is being used by a force headed by Lt.-Col. Robert Schweitzer of Chicago, who said the hot air technique is applied gradually to tunnels where Viet Cong are believed hiding. The tunnel inhabitants are warned by loudspeaker.

American "tunnel rats" can explore the tunnels soon afterward because they cool quickly. When gas is used, tunnels are contaminated for days.

The jungle area east of Lai Thieu is believed to be the base camp of a Viet Cong district company. Documents, including lists of party members and guerrillas, were discovered in underground rooms.

Schweitzer said that since May, 1966, 32 Viet Cong base camps have been discovered in the southern Binh Duong province area that stretches to the north of Saigon.

U.S. officials say that 621 Viet Cong rallied to the government side in southern Binh Duong since May last year, 280 were taken prisoner and 331 were killed.

Schweitzer says "we have brought under government control 25,000 people." A total of about 250,000 people are believed in the region and most of them are under Viet Cong domination.

A companion program is the farming of new lands, with U.S. assistance.

Liberal's Criticism Answered

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Roberts took exception Wednesday to statements by Elmer Sopha (L—Sudbury) supporting his contention that the premier is a close friend of Paul McNamara, whose Toronto firm won a franchise to operate Ontario government restaurants at Expo 67.

Mr. Roberts told the legislature Mr. Sopha had been quoted as saying outside the house that Mr. McNamara had shared a box at Maple Leaf Gardens for a recent hockey game and had tendered a $100-a-place banquet in the premier's honor.

The premier said the "fact behind the allegations" were that he had been invited to drop the first puck of the National Hockey League season and that Mr. McNamara had been in the arena as a director of the Maple Leaf Hockey Club.

He said the testimonial dinner had been held at a restaurant owned by Mr. McNamara but that the restaurant had been paid $20 a plate for the services provided.

Death of Hamilton Baby Found Due to Beatings

HAMILTON (CP) — A coroner's jury Wednesday ruled that Peggy Goddard, 2½, of Hamilton, died as a result of severe beatings probably culminating in a fall down a flight of stairs.

The child died Feb. 27 at the home of her mother, Linda Goddard, 25, and Gregory Neville, 24.

Nevilles brought the child's dead body to Hamilton General Hospital Feb. 27 and said she had been knocked down the stairs by the family dog.

Pathologist Dr. Herbert Foster said in addition to the internal injuries, he found at least 100 bruises on the child's body.

Evidence from several other witnesses, including Neville's legal wife, described him as a wife - beater and a man who cared for no one but himself.

The jury recommended that Nevilles be subjected to a mental examination, but was unable to attach any blame for the girl's death.

Municipal Changes Coming Within Two Years--Spooner

TORONTO (CP) — Lorne Cumming, special adviser to Municipal Affairs Minister Wishard Spooner, told a mid-term meeting of the Association of Ontario Counties that urbanization problems will force Ontario to change regulations affecting municipal government in the next two years.

Mr. Cumming, recently in charge of Ontario's local government review studies, said the changes will not be accomplished by major legislation but by acts tailored to meet the needs of regional government.

"We must face the prospect of writing legislation bit by bit, region by region," he said. Mr. Cumming said he believes an updated system of county government could make a worthwhile contribution to local government.

He said decisions will be made and legislation drafted to implement regional governments in the Peel-Halton, Ottawa - Carleton, Niagara and Lakehead areas, sites of completed review studies.

Engineers, Technicians Back U.S. TV Strikers

NEW YORK (AP)—Walkouts by engineers and other technicians in sympathy with the AFTRA performers' strike took hold today in several areas of network radio and television.

Officials of NBC and ABC admitted that "amateur" replacements were responsible for a night of wavering sound and blurred pictures.

"We'll have them returning to normal soon," a union leader said after engineers stayed away from work today at ABC and NBC in New York. Their ABC and NBC counterparts at Los Angeles said they too would refuse to work.

The engineers, members of the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians, were among 15 theatrical unions, including camera men, technicians, stagehands, set designers, musicians and electricians who voted Wednesday to support the strike of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, now in its ninth day.

The move "will obviously hurt us," a network spokesman said.

"An immediate jeopardy was weekend sports coverage, including the Masters golf tournament on CBS, although that network reported its engineers were on their jobs.

But an AFTRA spokesman in Los Angeles said men arriving at the Augusta, Ga., courses to telecast the event were being told not to cross AFTRA picket lines. As a result, the spokesman said, the tournament may not be broadcast unless CBS can assemble sufficient management personnel to handle it.

The executives of engineers pushed up some film sequences Wednesday night and caused some confusion in sound trucks — on one occasion there was no audio at all, and on another the voice of NBC commentator Chet Huntley was heard while a commercial was on the screen.

No negotiations to end the strike have taken place since last Sunday when bargaining in Washington broke down. At issue are AFTRA's demands for a $225 - a - week base salary for more than 100 local newscasters at network-owned stations and a greater share for them of sponsors' fees. The networks have offered $275 and a percentage arrangement making a weekly base pay of about $300.

Johnny Carson, who announced he would quit the Tonight show because NBC has used reruns of the program since the strike began, said Wednesday: "I have no intention of returning."

NBC officials indicated, however, that they expected Carson to return to the show after the strike.

Kidnapped Boy Returned As Large Ransom Paid

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The kidnapped 11-year-old son of a Beverly Hills financier has been returned home safely and $250,000 ransom paid, authorities said today.

Kenneth Young, son of Herbert J. Young, 35, financier of Gibraltar Savings and Loan Association, was freed in nearby Santa Monica after the ransom was left a few miles away in Westwood, said Beverly Hills Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson.

The FBI said the kidnappers picked up $250,000 and are at large.

The boy was bound and blindfolded and left in a car parked in the garage of a Santa Monica apartment house.

"He was told to wait a half hour before doing anything," said Wesley Grapp, agent in charge of the Los Angeles FBI office.

He said Kenneth waited, then freed himself and went to the nearest apartment to call home.

FBI agents and members of his family picked him up about 4 a.m. Grapp said the boy appeared to be well but was being examined by a doctor at the Youngs' Beverly Hills home.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, said the safe return of the child has been the primary concern of the agency in the kidnapping.

But he said an intensive investigation has been launched to identify and locate those responsible.

Hoover said the kidnapping was carried out Monday some time between 12:30 and 8 a.m. by means of forcible entry to the Young home. A ransom note demanding $250,000 for return of the victim was left in the boy's room, the FBI chief said.

U.S. May Use Lasers To Spot Red Hideouts

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A government scientist said Wednesday he had heard "unconfirmed rumors" that the U.S. armed forces are planning to use laser - powered range - finders on the Vietnam battlefields. He said he's worried any such use might pose a blindness hazard for American soldiers using such devices.

Dr. Alfred S. Ketcham of the National Cancer Institute, doing research on lasers as possible aids in surgery, made the statements in an interview after addressing a science writers' seminar sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

A laser is an instrument for deploying a highly concentrated beam of light. It's an abbreviation for light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation.

Ketcham said a laser beam—not the light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation. Ketcham said a laser beam—not the light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation. Ketcham said a laser beam—not a relatively low-powered one such as would be employed in a range-finder — could cause eye damage ranging up to "instaneous blindness," if not properly used.

SEEKS CHECK ON ADS

OTTAWA (CP)—Barry Mather (NDP—New Westminster) introduced a bill in the Commons Wednesday that would allow the Board of Broadcast Governors to regulate broadcast advertising of cigarettes. In a brief description of the bill, he said it would amend the Broadcasting Act to put cigarette advertising in the same category as liquor and other drug ads which the BBG regulates or prohibits. The bill was given first reading.

Take it easy.

As it happens, we can't. Making whisky that goes down this easy is a difficult job. It means selecting whiskies from our five distilleries across Canada (only Seagram's has five, by the way). Then blending and re-blending them to get 5 Star's easy taste. How can you find out if the taste is worth all the trouble? That's easy, too.

Red Cross Holds Course in Water Safety

Since the first National instructors' Course in May, 1946, the aim of the Red Cross program in swimming and water safety has been to reduce the toll of deaths through drowning and to promote a healthful form of exercise.

The whole structure of the Red Cross rests on the strength of the individual branches, and Belleville is very active in water safety. Murray Workman, chairman of the Belleville Water Safety Committee, arranges for the Red Cross Instructors' Course every year. This course trains competent swimmers in teaching techniques, water safety at all levels, and organization of a swimming program.

Mr. William Belanger, an Ontario Water Safety Supervisor, and Mrs. Belanger, a qualified instructor, put fourteen teenagers through the gruelling paces last, Monday through Thursday at the Tops Motel. Daily, the students endured 5½ hours in the pool, four hours of lectures, and innumerable hours of studying theory, or, of practice teaching.

It was a true crash course but the enthusiasm (and hilarity) of the students, and the fairness of instructors, combined with the co-operation of the people at the Tops Motel, made it a most enjoyable experience.

On Thursday night, Mr. Archie Lewis, president of the Belleville branch, presented the successful candidates with their instructors' qualifications. They were awarded on the basis of competence in water skills, water safety theory, and the practice teaching sessions.

The future "wonder workers" are: Sharon Wartman, Kingston; Suzanne Linscott, Belleville; Judy Little, Belleville; Lois Sulkwicinz, Batawa; Leslie Genejs, Corbyville; David Strachan, Picton; Brian Whitefield, Cobourg; David Richardson, Fred Ford, Jan Poole, Bottjane Mills and Mary Alice Paul, Napanee; Jourdaine Finlay, Strathcona.

The mental and physical demands of the course were exhausting, but all the candidates agreed that, if they had to, they would willingly put up with more fatigue, and fun, to win those precious cards, pins, and crests.

Farmers Stage Protest Meet

RICHMOND, Ont. (CP) — A strike by Ontario farmers that could include a massed tractor demonstration on Parliament Hill July 1 looms as a distinct possibility after a meeting of farmers here Wednesday night.

Of some 1,000 farmers from eastern and central Ontario at the meeting, 77 per cent voted in favor of strike action to back up their demand for a $3-a-hundredweight return for manufacturing milk.

A full busload of farmers from Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox and Addington counties attended the meeting, along with other farmers who made the trip in their own cars. Farmers from Northumberland county to the Quebec border attended.

A recent government increase in milk subsidies guarantees farmers $4.75 a hundredweight for such milk testing 3.5 per cent butter fat delivered at the factory.

The meeting ended on the note that other farm organizations across Canada will take similar strike votes during the next few weeks. If the over-all feeling is for strike, a national strike vote will be taken and the results forwarded to the government.

New Principal For Collegiate Is Acquired

PICTON (Staff) — Officials of the Prince Edward District High School Board announced yesterday that a new principal has been hired to replace J. H. Syrett who recently resigned his position.

The new principal is J. H. McNeil, currently with the Fort Francis High School. Mr. McNeil is expected to commence his new duties here sometime this summer.

The board also announced the resignation of the present vice principal, George Elson. Mr. Elson who is also chairman of the Picton Public Library Board, resigned at a special committee meeting of the high school board Monday night. In his letter he stated that his intentions is to seek a teaching position abroad, possibly in Africa.

The committee has authorized immediate efforts to locate a new vice principal.

Missionary Conference Will Be Held

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McInroy entertained a number of guests from Belleville Friday night.

Children's Show Goal For Trenton

TRENTON — As a centennial "treat" for youngsters, the Trenton Community Concert Association will try to bring the Children's Variety Show, to town. The show is now touring Canada.

The association also plans to present an "exciting new singer," a big - baritone, Simon Estes, who has appeared with Leonard Bernstein. The first concert will be held next season and will be a singing group with a "new approach."

A third concert hinges on the success of this week's membership campaign. Robert Smith is in campaign chairman. Ticket headquarters is David's store again this year and the campaign telephone number is 392-8433.

Rev. D. Burns Moved to Brockville

PICTON (Staff) — The Rt. Rev. K. C. Evans, Bishop of Ontario, announced this week the appointment of Rev. Douglas P. Burns as rector of Trinity Church, Brockville. Mr. Burns succeeds Canon H. K. Coleman who is retiring at the end of April.

Mr. Burns, who will be leaving his present post as rector of St. Mary Magdalene Church, to assume his duties in Brockville, has been in Picton approximately two and one half years. His appointment is effective July 1st.

Murray Gets School Approval

TRENTON — Tenders were called Tuesday for the construction of a new 10 room school in Murray Township. Teachers will close April 14.

The new school is to be named the Murray Centennial School and will cost an estimated $225,000.

Approval for the plan of the new school, (located on property originally owned by Vago Lampe on the New Development Road) was received by the area school board last week.

The members of the area board hope to have the school ready for classes next September.

Settlements Approved By Judge

Yesterday in County Court Judge W. S. Lane approved four settlements in suits involving the negligent operation of a motor vehicle.

Lyrics Sent to Committee

OTTAWA (CP)—A new set of lyrics for O Canada that can meet the test of peace or war have been turned out by two advertising men.

Tom Deachman of Vancouver and Lewis Lorrain of Montreal have sent the new English and French lyrics, along with a complete defence of them, to the special joint parliamentary committee on the national anthem.

The committee has recommended that the music of O Canada be officially adopted but is still deliberating on the words.

The Deachman-Lorrain version, in English, goes:

O Canada,
Majestic, sea to sea,
We pledge our hearts
To ever honor thee.

Fiercely proud, your sons
Faced the tyrant guns,
For our rights and liberty;
And we still do stand,
O, Canada,
We stand on guard for thee.

All tongues have voice;
All creeds have choice;
In Canada
A man will always be,
Under the Maple Leaf
Forever free.

The French-language version, not a translation, renders what the composers describe as the same sentiments.

Mr. Deachman, in an analysis of the English lyrics, says the word "loyal" can be changed to "free." If Canada goes to war.

He defends the last lines as "a final, electrifying declaration of principle and purpose . . . a guarantee to every citizen and a pledge to every potential immigrant."

It also gets in the name of the original anthem, the "ees to see" motto, the "stand on guard" pledge from the original anthem, a reference to the Maple Leaf flag, and the words "The Maple Leaf forever."

Model Railroad to Be Exhibited Here

Belleville model railroaders will have an opportunity of seeing the largest "roving" model train display in Canada, possibly in North America, during the Science Fair and Hobby Show at the Armouries April 21 - 22. Constructed for Canadian National Railways, the display has 500 feet of HO track and over 100 pieces of rolling stock, mostly freight equipment. The display also has a "Hump yard" that helps to illustrate how CN assembles trains in day-to-day operations.

Centennial Projects

Roller Skaters, Canoeists, On Way East

VANCOUVER (CP) — Clinton Shaw is having his troubles getting to Expo 67 in Montreal. The ball bearings dropped out of his roller skates Wednesday.

Shaw, 25, is just one of a veritable army of walkers, paddlers, riders—and roller-skaters —bold bent for Montreal despite rain, snow, sleet, hail, river rapids and bunions.

Shaw left Mile 0 of the Trans-Canada Highway in Victoria Tuesday and pulled into Vancouver with one of his size 14 roller skates out of commission. The vibration in your feet is not to be complained. "I've had a lot of trouble. Half the ball bearings from my skates fell all over the floor in a restaurant on Vancouver Island."

He planned to leave Vancouver today with a set of new ball bearings and a knapsack full of woolly socks.

Another roller skater, Chris Price, a 20-year-old Vancouver cook, limped into Salmon Arm Tuesday with a pulled leg muscle and spent the night recuperating in hospital.

He was on his way again Wednesday, skating full tilt toward the Rogers Pass crevice of the highway at Revelstoke.

Meanwhile, back on the Thompson River, Reklah Columbia's centennial canoeists were having difficulties maneuvering the treacherous springtime rapids Wednesday.

The canoeists, Ralph Brine, Dr. David Chisholm, Don McNaughton and Jim Reid, set out from New Westminster last Saturday on the Fraser River—just in time to buck the downstream spring run-off—and have spent almost as much time carrying their canoes as they have paddling them.

"They are having to walk alongside the Thompson River," said Alderman Doug Scott of New Westminster, one of the backers of the cruise - Canada trip. He said the canoeists—dubbed the Eastward Ho Expedition—are due in Kamloops late Friday.

Eleven riders from the Creston Valley Riding Club picked up the Expo-bound centennial scroll at Salmo Wednesday in the B.C. interior, meeting on the Creston - Salmo Skyway, B.C.'s highest road at 6,000 feet above sea level.

Riding clubs across Canada are relaying the scroll and it is due to reach Montreal in July, after 3,000 miles of riding involving more than 1,000 horsemen.

The scroll was scheduled to reach Cranbrook in the Kootenays today.

Several other persons have started walking from the West Coast but reporters have so far been unable to keep tabs on most of them.

One walker, 24-year-old Hank Gallant of Prince Edward Island, was believed to have been nearing Regina early today. He left Moose Jaw Monday on what he termed a "personal ecumenical project."

Gallant left Victoria Feb. 6 and hopes to walk all the way to Bonavista, Nfld. He averages about 20 miles a day.

Sunnyside Up

Don Rayner places this year's first pheasant eggs, some 1,500 of them, into electrical incubator. Codrington's initial Centennial pheasant chicks are expected to hatch around the end of this month.

Portrait of A Birddog?

Pheasant hatchery manager E. R. "Ted" Mound looks on as "Jasper" ponders some of the 2,000 prize English Ringneck pheasant breeders at Codrington.

Codrington Area Fishing Data

Trout fishing in areas 2 and 3, of the Lindsay District lands and forests office, served by the Codrington fish hatchery:

| Species | Regulations | Area 2 Season | Area 3 Season |
|---|---|---|---|
| Rainbow | 5 daily; no size limit | Apr. 29 to Sept. 15 | Apr. 29 to Nov. 30 |
| Lake Trout and Splake | 3 daily; no size limit | Apr. 29 to Oct. 10 | Not Stocked |
| Brown | 5 daily; no size limit | Apr. 29 to Sept. 15 | Apr. 30 to Sept. 15 |
| Brook (Speckled) | 10-lb plus 1 fish, or total of 15 fish | Apr. 29 to Sept. 15 | Apr. 29 to Sept. 15 |

NOTE: Area 2 covers the south half of Peterborough County, all of Victoria County, and those portions of Durham and Northumberland Counties lying north of Highway 2.

Area 3 includes those portions of Durham and Northumberland Counties south of Highway 2.

The World Is Egg Shaped

CODRINGTON — Eggs are the focal point of a "double-barrelled" department of lands and forests operation tucked in the rolling country-side of Northumberland County, about 30 miles northwest of Trenton.

Each year, more than four tons of trout and almost 30,000 pheasant are distributed from the Codrington hatcheries, which are associated with the fish and wildlife branch of the forestry department.

Fittingly enough, since both branches of the operation are operated at the public expense the "produce" yielded goes right back to the public. Both fish and pheasants are raised in controlled environments from the egg stage until distribution for public fishing and hunting throughout the province.

Thousands of tourists manage to find the rather out-of-the-way station, and another several hundred schoolchildren are conducted on guided tours each year.

But only relatively few Ontario sportsmen realize just how much preparation and care go into assuring that streams will be well stocked with speckled trout, and that woodlots will contain some of the finest ringneck pheasant shooting anywhere.

1,000 Eggs Daily Mean Pheasants For Park Areas

A thousand eggs a day, and none of them for sale. That's the routine mode of operation at Codrington's game pheasant preserve, where hatchery manager E. R. "Ted" Mound oversees the raising of some 40,000 English Ringneck pheasants annually.

The initial batch of small, brown-shelled eggs, about 1,200 in all, are now being electrically incubated in the hatchery, and Mr. Mounds expects his first centennial brood of pheasant chicks in 24 days.

After artificial brooding, the chicks are raised and distributed for public hunting. None are sold to private buyers.

About 75 per cent of the chicks are sent out and raised under the auspices of various gun clubs in the province; and 8,000 pooks (10-12 weeks of age) are similarly distributed before they reach maturity.

The hatchery usually retains 4,000 birds until they are "planted" in the fall in parts as far east as Gananoque, and as far west as Aylmer. For a day-licence priced at $3, a hunter can enjoy the best of pheasant hunting in one of the designated park areas, and can bag a daily quota of three birds.

Aside from the 2,000 ringneck breeders (a new group is kept each season), Mr. Mound and his staff of two assistants also maintain a token stock of 25 pair of Hungarian Partridge for breeding purposes.

"A smaller target than the Canadian Ruffed Grouse, they live in open fields, are faster flying, and make an excellent game bird," noted Mr. Mound. The birds were introduced here from Europe around 1925.

With his 30-years' experience at Codrington as a conservationist, Mr. Mound would like to see hunters see things his way a little more often.

"We don't have much luck in getting hunters to send in hands they may find on pheasants. They don't seem to realize it's for their own benefit. The whole purpose of the procedure is to pass on information to enable us to maintain, as close as possible, a natural game density. The more hunters co-operate, the greater the chances for them to enjoy the best hunting possible."

In the midst of all the eggs and feathers is Jasper, Mr. Mound's faithful Labrador Rourever.

The amiable canine can walk right into the midst of half a dozen plump pheasant, without so much as upsetting his composure.

An enigmatic birddog, if ever there was one.

"Come and Get It"

Trout fingerlings are fed one of three daily rations of ground liver by forestry officer Dave Cox.

Trout Eggs to Become Area's Fighting Fish

It doesn't require much room to store 12,000 dozen eggs — if they're trout eggs, that is.

Fish hatchery manager Georgs Grooodzit and forst technician Dave Cox look after this part of the Codrington lands and forests operation, which yields about 9,000 pounds of fresh trout each year to stock Ontario lakes and streams.

One of about 16 similar stations in southern Ontario, the Codrington fish hatchery specializes in trout species, and might more aptly be termed a "rearing" station. No actual spawning is carried out, but "eyed" (fertilized) eggs are received from other stations for hatching. In the case of Splake (a combination Speckled and Lake Trout species), the Codrington station receives them after hatching and completes the rearing process.

Despite a high mortality rate between the "eyed" and hatching stages — often as high as 30 per cent — there are usually 125,000 "fingerlings" flipping about in Codrington tanks by mid-January some four to six weeks after the delivery of eggs.

Spawned eggs are first disinfected, placed in trays, then put in special hatching troughs, where natural spring water flows through them. Just-hatched trout are called "fry," notes Dave Cox, but they become fingerlings as soon as they begin eating.

The same unregulated temperature spring water flown through indoor troughs is containing fingerlings at a rate of 400 gallons a minute. Fed three times daily, fingerlings dine on delicate portions of ground liver.

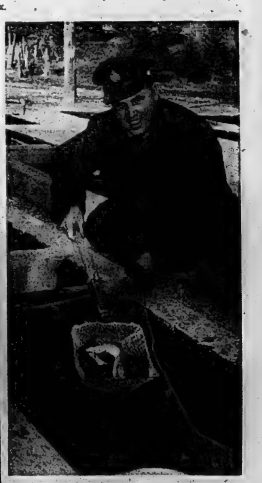
Most of the trout are kept until yearlings, at which time they are moved to outdoor tanks. And then, at the tender age of about 18 months, the young trout are taken away in tank trucks, either to be directly planted, or to be dropped from aircraft into inaccessible lakes.

"Most Codrington yearlings are distributed for public fishing between Trenton and Ottawa, and north to Algonquin Park," says Dave Cox.

From then on, they are on their own, free to vie with anglers bent on rendering them into a tasty trout fillet.

The same fish, purchased from privately-owned hatcheries, would command a price of up to 30 cents each.

It is likely that a number of Codrington trout (both the Speckled, (or Brook) and the Lake varieties) will be finclipped in the future. Just as with other forms of controlled wildlife, conservation officers keep close track of fish movement and population factors.



After working with fish year-round, what personal hobbies would a forestry technician favor?

"Not fishing," says Dave Cox. "I'd sooner play golf."

Worth 4 in Bush?

"All Be Out To Get Hull!"

CHICAGO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs won't put a special shadow on scoring ace Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks in the first game of the Stanley Cup semi-finals tonight.

"We'll all be out to get him, no matter what's wrong or how badly he's hurt," coach George Imlach said when the Leafs arrived here Wednesday night.

Hull, who missed the final three games of the season because of a knee injury after scoring 52 goals, expected to play although coach Billy Reay is to make an official announcement on the situation later today.

The second game of the best-of-seven series is scheduled here Sunday night before the clubs travel to Toronto for the third and fourth games.

The Leafs arrived shortly before midnight from their pre-series training camp in Peterborough, Ont. Expected to return there after tonight's game and come back to Chicago Saturday.

"Everyone will dress for the game," Imlach said. He explained that this meant the players who had gone through the regular 70-game National Hockey League schedule with club.

Autry Erickson and Milan Marcetta, who scored 40 goals in the Western League with Victoria Maple Leafs, are also travelling with the Leafs in case of injury to a regular player.

GoaKender Terry Sawchuk will start the first game, Alternate Johnny Bower will sit out the game because of an injured finger on his stick hand. However, he is travelling with the club.

Tonight's game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. CST (8:30 p.m. EST) and will be televised nationally by the CBC.

The other game of the series between Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers will be carried by the CBC Quebec regional network.

The Hawks went through a light morning drill Wednesday. All players were on hand, including Doug Mohns, who missed Tuesday's workout with a back injury.

Afterwards, Reay said he would not announce his starting lineup or goaltender until game time.

"There's no difference between DaJordy and Hall," he said.

Dennis DeJordy finished the regular NHL schedule with a 2.45 goals - against average. Glenn Hall had a 2.38 average.

Hall, who combined with DeJordy to win the Vezina Trophy, allowed 66 goals in 32 games and registered two shutouts. DeJordy allowed 104 in 44 games and recorded four shutouts.

DeJordy, 29, a native of St. Hyacinthe, Que., who played 29 2-3 games in three seasons with the Hawks before this year, said: "It really doesn't matter who gets the starting assignment.

"The Leafs are going to be tough, but our guys are furious Rinzbeckers. That's why we're the league champions. We forecheck every other team in the league into making mistakes all season. . . .

"The Leafs always start fast and if they score early, they're away. If their first line gets rolling against you, the second line will come out flying and that first goal is the key.

"You have to hold them off, or you can't stop them."

This city's first all-Ontario minor hockey championship looms over the sports horizon.

Championships in various classifications have sprinkled the district over the past two decades but this city's representatives in Ontario Minor Hockey Association playdowns have always met with elimination in early stages or midway through the drive for top honors.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the arena two sensational teams that fairly oose championship calibre will clash in the second game of the best-of-three titular series.

The Belleville Fuels meet the Sarnia Rotary Club in what could be glory for the Fuels and disappointment for the visitors. The home youngsters took the opening game in a hard-fought 3-1 thriller in Sarnia last week. If the third game is necessary it will be played in Memorial Arena Sunday starting one o'clock.

For Belleville the championship will carry with it the thrill of being, as was noted, the first minor hockey provincial title to come its way. For Sarnia, the titular thrill will be the same but records-wise it will be the fourth club from the "Oil City" to annex the OMHA peewee "A" series and the Conn Smythe Trophy.

Sarnia teams won it in 1961-62; 1962-63 and 1963-64 defeating Peterborough teams twice and Toronto the third time out.

Both teams have compiled magnificent records. The Rotarians have won over 35 tilts while losing some half-dozen notably to teams in the local bantam league in which they blayed. They stepped out of their class to play in the loop.

The Fuels under the masterful coaching of Tom Miller and general manager Tom Neill ran practically rough-shod over league opposition in the Belleville Minor Hockey Association schedule.

In league and tournament play they were beaten but twice in forty-five starts. Renfrew and Sarnia were the only clubs to beat them and in turn were beaten by the Fuels somewhere along the line.

A lot of the credit goes to Coach Miller himself a freshman in the art of coaching. He has a gentle but forceful way with his young proteges, won their confidence early and piloted them to the threshold of their first Ontario championship. The boys in turn have faith and confidence in Miller and "we would play our hearts out for him."

Saturday's game should be another thriller. It will be minor hockey at its best with the Fuels striving to wrap up the glory and the Sarnians going all out to force a third game and the chance to grab the titular gonfalon.

The odds slightly favor the Fuels with the game or games being played in their "own backyard" so to speak and before the hometown fans.

Hockey fans who have never seen minor teams, especially those of championship calibre in action, are due for the thrill of their lives. These youngsters play the game for keeps. They know a lot is at stake and winning will bring them the proudest moment of their hockey lives.

Trenton has developed more championship teams than any other district centres over the years. It won the juvenile "A" title in 1962-64 and 1964-65. It lost in "A" peewee in 1963-64 and the midget "A" major in 1961-62.

Stirling has had four runners-up to titles losing the finals in juvenile "C" in 1949-50; the bantam "C" in 1955-56; the juvenile "C" in 1963-64 and again to Dresden in 1964-65.

Wellington won two titles, the juvenile "D" in 1962-63 and 1963-64. It lost out to Belmont in midget "D" in 1963-64 and in bantam "D" to Belmont in 1959-60.

Madoc, Stirling and Marmora (twice) sent clubs to the midget "C" finals but lost all four games.

Quinte Hockey

Realtors Nip Saco 4-3

Grant Realty climbed back into the battle for Quinte Hockey League playoff honors last night by nipping SACO in a 4-3 affair.

SACO leads the best-of-seven titular set two games to one. Next two games of the series will be played Saturday at 7.00 and Monday at 8.00 p.m.

Earl "Sonny" MacDonald scored from a scramble with less than two minutes left to play to give Grant's last night's "must" victory. That came at 18.50, with Bill Lattimer and "Widget" Adams assisting.

SACO had roared back from a 3-1 deficit to tie the contest earlier in the third after the clubs split first-period goals.

Don Forsythe from Ken Forsythe gave SACO a 1-0 lead but Court Bradley completed a play with Terry Casselman and Keith Osborne to tie it for Grant's.

Adams scored the only goal of the middle frame for a 2-1 Realty lead, with MacDonald and Lattimer assisting, and Lattimer completed a play with MacDonald and Howard Skelly for the 3-1 count early in the third.

SACO struck quickly to tie it. Rob Barrows scored on a solo effort at 12.45 and Ken Forsythe aided by Jack Lucas and D. Forsythe, at 13.55 made it 3-3. Then came MacDonald's late winner.

The losers drew four of the minor penalties, three of them to Burrows.

Harness Racing

Drivers Out For Life

TORONTO (CP)—Roger Desjardins, 23, and Rheo Filion, 21, harness horse drivers from Angers, Que., have been ruled off North American tracks for life.

The decision was handed down Wednesday by the Ontario racing Commission.

Both had appealed to the commission against rulings by the Canadian Trotting Association.

The commission dismissed the appeal by Desjardin against his lifetime suspension and, after hearing new evidence, raised Filion's original five-year suspension to life.

Both were charged with possessing and administering drugs to affect the performance of a horse and race winner at Greenwood Raceway here.

The lifetime suspensions are effective within the jurisdiction of the CTA but the United States body recognizes CTA suspensions.

Raceway and ORC officials found vials and syringes in a search at the track March 17.

Both drivers still could appeal to the courts.

Commercial Softball Has 5 Entries

Five teams, four of them back from last year, entered the Belleville Commercial Softball League at that body's initial meeting of the year last night.

Stewart Warner, City Hotel, Belvedere Hotel and Black Diamond Cheese are the returnees while the one new entry to date is the Tbi Club. The league is hoping for at least six entries.

Point Anne was represented at the meeting but was undecided about an entry while Lighfoot Construction was not represented.

An election of officers was held and Bill Vallance is the new president, replacing Ross Empey. Chuck Rowbotham is vice - president and John Feeney secretary - treasurer.

No date was set for the next meeting.

Francis; "The Odds Don't Scare Us!"

MONTREAL (CP) — New York Rangers arrived in Montreal Wednesday, confident they can overthrow the Canadiens in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series which gets under way at the Forum tonight.

Montreal defencemen plan the Canadiens to win the series but it isn't bothering manager-coach Emile Francis of the Rangers, nor his star defenceman Harry Howell.

"It's nice to hear that we're 13-to-5 underdogs in this series. We've been underdogs since September and I recall that nearly all the experts picked New York to finish last," Francis said after putting his team through an hour-long practice.

The game will be seen on the CBC's Quebec regional network starting at 8:30 p.m. EST, a half-hour after the opening face off.

Howell, the veteran defenceman who is winding up his 6th season in 15 years with the Rangers, feels the club can come up with a solid performance.

"We're not overawed by Montreal power. We won three times here during the schedule and the whole team is confident we can do well again in the playoffs," the rugged Howell said.

The Rangers have six players who at one time or another belonged to the Canadiens.

The players are Phil Goyette, Don Marshall, Bernie Geoffrion, Reg Fleming, Red Berenson and Al MacNeil.

"The old Montreal players may be trying a little harder but who needs any more incentive than the pot of gold that goes with the Cup," Francis said, referring to bonus money that players get for winning the trophy.

"We have a lot of guys who never tasted playoff money," Francis added.

Only four players with New York today were on the last Rangers' playoff team in 1961-62 — Howell, Vic Hadfield, Earl Ingarfield and Rod Gilbert. Gilbert played only one league game that season but was a hotshot in the playoffs with two goals and three assists in four games.

Francis sees goalie Ed Giacomin as the key to the series but adds that the Rangers paid off this season on strong forechecking, positional play and defence.

"We had 209 goals against last year and cut that total to 180 this season. Our team is healthy and there'll be no excuses," he said.

Giacomin recorded a league-leading nine shutouts as the Rangers finished fourth with 78 points, three fewer than Toronto Maple Leafs and five fewer than the Canadiens. Chicago Black Hawks were first with 94 points.

Francis will revert to his original forward lines for tonight's game with the attack headed by the high - scoring unit of Goyette, Marshall and Bob Nevin, who accounted for 64 goals in regular season play. Orland Kurtenbach will centre for Gilbert and Hadfield. Ingarfield will centre Geoffrion and Fleming.

Coach Toe Blake of the Canadiens said after putting his club through a light skate at the Forum that the odds on tonight's opening game are way out of line.

"I don't see how they make those odds. These two teams were not far apart during the schedule. . . .

"The odds should be 6 to 5 and pick 'em," he said.

The Canadiens won seven, lost five and tied two of the 14 games between the two teams this season. They outscored New York 35-33.

After the light skating session, the Canadiens headed back to their Laurentian hideaway north of Montreal and won't return to the city until just before tonight's game.

The Montreal lineup presents no changes from the team that won twice last weekend to finish second in the standings. But veteran winger Dick Duff will be in uniform as the additional player permitted by the 19-man playoff rule.

"It (his benching) had to come," Duff said. I wasn't playing well and I didn't feel well."

Rookie Rogatien Vachon will start in goal for the Canadiens with Gump Worsley as back-up man and Charlie Hodge sitting in the stands.

10-10 Tie

"Game Called; Too Light To See"

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The score was 10-10 Wednesday when they called the game on account of sun.

California Angels pitcher Rickey Clark, his team locked in a fierce exhibition struggle with Chicago Cubs, leaned in, looking for the plate. But the sun, on the horizon directly behind the plate, was so blinding he could hardly see the batter.

Clark called umpire Stan Landes to come out to the mound to take a look. Landes agreed the situation was intolerable and called the game off.

Billy Williams batted in five runs for the Cubs, two each on a pair of home runs. The Angels scored four unearned runs in the ninth that tied the game. Elsewhere, Baltimore Orioles assigned Steve Barber to their Rochester farm club to see whether he can work into shape for the opening of the major leagues season next week. A mainstay of the Orioles' staff last season, Barber had been troubled with an inflamed tendon in his pitching elbow.

In a night game with New York Yankees, the Orioles took a 5-3 decision despite six innings of shutout pitching by Mel Stottlemyre for the Yanks.

Ken Henderson's run-scoring double in the 10th send San Francisco Giants to a 6-5 triumph over Cleveland Indians. Bob Aspromonte's three - run homer was the big blow in Houston Astros' 10-3 victory over Los Angeles Dodgers.

Washington Senators came up with four runs in the ninth, two on a single by Doug Camilli, and bounced Boston Red Sox 5-1. Jim Northrup hit a single with the bases full and two out in the ninth, driving in the winning run for Detroit Tigers, who downed Kansas City Athletics 7-6. Northrup also homered for the Tigers.

Atlanta Braves scored three times in the first inning and beat Minnesota Twins 4-3. Lee May's single in the 12th inning gave Cincinnati Reds a 1-0 win over Pittsburgh Pirates. Billy McCool gave up one hit in, six innings for the Reds and Woody Fryman allowed only one hit in five for the Pirates.

Track Closed 2 Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Aqueduct race track, where as high as $4,000,000 has been wagered in one day, has been closed for two days. The shutdown has cost the state of New York an estimated $800,000. The track has lost half that amount in revenue.

Irked by failure of the state legislature to pass a bill which would have added $3,500,000 to purses, horsemen have refused to enter their horses. The receipts would have reduced the state's share or the wagering to 9.5 from 10 per cent.

Officials of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, which claims an almost 100-per-cent membership among horsemen, point out that the $3,500 minimum purse was put in effect 21 years ago when it cost $8 to $10 daily to keep a horse.

"It costs $17 to $22 today," said Eddie Neloy, who trains a powerful stable for Mrs. H. C. Phipps and Ogden Phipps. "and that doesn't include some expenses as equipment, shipping, veterinarian, shoeing, jockeys and entry fees."

One trainer estimated a horse must win in excess of $8,000 a year for an owner to break even in New York.

The Tracks

TORONTO (CP)—Son of one of North America's top 1962 two-year-olds, Green For Go scooted away from his opposition Wednesday to break the two-furlong track record at Greenwood Race Track.

Green For Go, whose sire was Green Ticket, was hustled by jockey Avelino Gomez, to a 22-second finish, two-fifths of a second faster than Count Tyson ran in setting the record March 30.

The colt, owned by John Martin of Toronto, captured the fifth race ahead of Four Deserts and Nasty Amber. Green For Go paid $2.70, $2.20 and $2.10.

The exactor for Green For Go and Four Deserts paid $5. Lord Brunswick combined with Lil Eddy, owned by Frank Roberts of Buffalo for a $13.20 daily double.

Trainer Gord Huntley said that in 1961 he was dejected when he failed to buy Green Ticket, who later won close to $200,000 in 1962. He persuaded Martin to go after Green For Go.

ACRES OF FREE LIGHTED PARKING

THE KID LINE for Smith Fuels peewees, pictured above, consists of Peter Smrke, Grant Goegan and Mark Contes.

This Is It!

Up For The Big One!

When Smith Fuels take the ice against Sarnia Rotary here Saturday, at 2:00 p.m., they will not only be bidding to complete a fantastic season.

They will be trying to make history for Belleville.

This city has never won an Ontario Minor Hockey Association championship.

A victory Saturday, or Sunday if the game is necessary, will bring Belleville the peewee "A" championship — and in Centennial year at that.

The task won't be an easy one but Smith Fuel coach Tom Miller and his proud young athletics are aware of this. Sarnia has a fine club from goal out. The Rotary boys, with their backs to the wall, will be no pushovers. The two teams are so evenly-matched as is possible and the team that works the hardest is the likely winner.

Miller will, of course, depend a great deal on his high-scoring line of Danny Lupenette, David Smith and Jim Richardson, but what he calls "my kid line" will also see plenty of action.

The second trio has Peter Smrke centring Grant Goegan and Mark Contes and while the trio may be small, the boys take a back seat to none in hustle, ability and desire. This is the first year of peewee play for the trio.

Miller faces the choice of selecting between his two fine young goalies, David Rutherford and Terry Merak, to play Saturday's game, but two players who are sure to see plenty of action are defence stars John Mulvihill and Danny Coulson.

Mulvihill and Lupenette are the keys to Belleville's success, as are defenceman Mike Kegney (number 3) and right-winger Rick Cromheen (number 7) for Sarnia.

The largest minor hockey crowd in years is expected Saturday and the fans won't be disappointed in these two teams.

Minor Hockey Results

If the opening games of the BMHA Bantam "A" and "B" finals are an indication, there is not much to choose from between the clubs involved.

Wings and Police Rangers played a 3-3 tie in the "A" series. Second game of the two-game, total - goals series is slated for 8.00 tonight.

Amerks shaded ANAF Dukes 5-4 in their "B" opener and the wind-up game will be played Friday at 6.30.

Kerr was the difference for Amerks in their victory. He scored four goals including the winner. Easton notched the other one and added three assists. Meiers drew a pair. Duffy scored twice, Couregeas and Lebus once each for the Dukes. Semenik, McBride and Cairns had assists.

In the tie game, Goegan scored twice and Scantlebury once for the Wings. Tracey, Hunt and Clements collected single assists. Grant was a two - goal performer for Rangers. Simmons had a goal and assist, Scott and Bruce Lemmig an assist each.

The final game for the tyke championship, between Bruton and Rangers, will also be played tomorrow night, at 5.30. Friday's games will wind up the BMHA play for this season.

MONTREAL (CP)—A report commissioned by the Quebec parliamentary committee on the constitution recommends that Quebec issue its own visas and citizenship papers. The study, commissioned in 1963, said Quebec needs to exercise some control over immigration within its borders and increase the number of French-speaking and professional immigrants.

Ben Novus Captures Handicap

DONCASTER, England (AP) Ben Novus won the one-mile Lincolnshire Handicap in a driving finish at odds of 22 to 1 Wednesday—and the bookies breathed a huge sigh of relief.

Jockey Peter Robinson sent Ben Novus into the lead in the final one-eighth mile and held off a strong challenge by Aberdeen to win by a half length. Danella was four lengths away in third place.

The race carried the first Irish Sweepstakes of the season and millions of people all over the world anxiously awaited the result. Holders of Irish Sweep tickets on Ben Novus collected $150,000.

A leading British bookie said the race was a winning one for them.

"All the big spring doubles are down," he said.

The spring double in British parlance is one in which bettors try to couple the winner of the Lincolnshire with the winner of the Grand National Steeplechase to be run Saturday.

Twenty - four thoroughbreds contested the Lincolnshire on a turf course made hard and firm by drying winds.

QUALIFIES FOR FINAL

GLASGOW (CP) — Glasgow Celtic qualified for its 32nd Scottish Cup soccer final when it beat Clyde 2-0 Wednesday. Celtic will meet Aberdeen in the final April 29.

ANDY CAPP

No Feud With Imlach

Billy Is No "X-Reay"

CHICAGO (CP) — Coach Billy Reay of Chicago Black Hawks is a tired man.

He's tired of answering the same questions about Bobby Hull, tired of being asked to predict the outcome of the Hawks' Stanley Cup semi-final against Toronto Maple Leafs and tired of facing reporters after every game and practice session.

At 48, Reay looked his age Wednesday after the Hawks finished their final practice before tonight's first game in the best-of-seven series.

Then the questions began.

"No, there'll be no announcement about Hull's sitting here until right before the game.

"No, I never announce who's going to be in the nets.

"Yes, Bobby's going to see the doctor. No, I don't know what the doctor will say.

"Yes, we don't like practising in a small arena.

"No, I don't know how good the Leafs are."

Then one reporter asked him if there was a feud between him and Punch Imlach, manager-coach of the Leafs.

"Reay looked incredulous—then he sighed and said "no feud."

And that was it. That was how he summed up his relations with Imlach.

Reay went to Toronto in 1957 as coach of the Leafs. The team finished last in his first season, ending the year with 21 wins, 39 losses and 11 ties.

It marked the first time Leafs had finished last during the modern era of the National Hockey League which dates back to 1934.

Next season, Reay was again at the helm, but Nov. 28, 1959, he was fired by Imlach who had just been appointed general manager.

Imlach took over the coaching duties, guided the Leafs into the playoffs and has been their coach ever since.

Reay coached Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds in the now defunct Eastern Professional Hockey League and Buffalo Bisons in the American League before being appointed Hawks coach in 1963.

And now Reay faces Imlach again.

Tulsa Back Joins Riders

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Gene Lakusiak, of Sarnia, University of Tulsa fullback for the last two seasons, said Wednesday he intends to sign a contract with Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League.

Lakusiak advised athletic director Glenn Dobbs he will not be back with Tulsa next year.

Lakusiak was the team's leading rusher the last two seasons and was kickoff, extra point and field goal specialist.

The fullback said since he is 25-years-old he feels another year waiting might hurt his chances in professional football.

Masters Golf

Palmer, Cowan Pair To Beat!

AUGUSTA, Ga. (CP) — With the golfers swinging for real at last in the Masters invitational tournament today, there are just two men most people will be watching—four-time champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, three time winner and defending champion.

But Arnie's Army, the horde that follows golf's greatest money - winner, also will be watching the Canadian Amateur and U.S. Amateur champion, Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., who is joined with Palmer for the opening-round.

The other Canadian in the tournament, professional George Knudson of Toronto, will be playing with Bill Casper Jr., reigning U.S. Open King.

Both Cowan and Knudson can be conceded an outside chance of winning. They both have the ability and both are veterans of Masters competition and a variety of other pressure golf situations.

It is the fourth time out for Cowan, the hard-belter who last year challenged the best among U.S. amateurs and beat them. But his best previous finish was 26th.

Knudson on the other hand has been improving in each appearance, finishing ninth last year after a 10th-place finish in 1963.

He also is carrying the individual championship from the Canada Cup matches into the tourney and the benefit of a three-week rest from the winter golf tour.

But where the 6,980-yard, par-72 Augusta National course is laid-out to favor the long, straight hitter, Knudson is at a handicap now suffered by Cowan, able to hit off the tee with the best.

Gary Player of South Africa, who broke the Palmer - Nicklaus hold on the tourney title in 1961, said the narrow, sawdust fairways flair out as they lengthen, but only those who can hit in the 270-300 yard range can take advantage of the wider field of play there available.

Golfers who hit in the shorter ranges like himself and Knudson, Player says, are handicapped by having to be extra careful to stay out of the rough.

The top challengers to Palmer and Nicklaus in the field of 83 professionals and amateurs are conceded to be Doug Sanders, Casper, Player, Gay Brewer and Julius Boros. (1965.

TRAIN YOUNG SHOTS

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba government established its first hunter safety training program last year, open to anyone more than 12 years old. Six hours of training in gun safety, hunting, conservation and woodsmanship were required for certification. Three people were killed in 22 recorded firearm accidents in Manitoba in 1965.

Minor Baseball Planned

Plans for the coming season were announced following a meeting of the Belleville Minor Baseball Association last night.

It was decided that a registration fee of $3, with a maximum of $3 per family, will be charged per player this year, keeping in line with the city's other minor sport bodies.

Forms will be distributed at the schools and all boys wishing to play will be requested to attend a registration day on Saturday, April 22, at the Recreation Centre. Registration fees and proof of age must be presented then.

Plans were also announced for the annual baseball clinic for all coaches and players, with tentative dates May 13 and 14, and for a special umpires' clinic on the evenings of May 1 and 2, 8 and 9, under the direction of Al Kelleher.

Delegates were named from the BMBA to attend the EOBA organizational meetings at Port Hope on April 17 and 19.

With The Trotters

CAMPBELLVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Noral Gale broke from second position and slipped through on the rail for a nose decision over Wally Spencer in the sixth race Mohawk Raceway Wednesday night.

Noral Gale paid $4.50 and combined with Wally Spencer for a $13.80 exactor.

Leta Herbert won the first race to pay $5.60 And clicked with Belle Richards, winner of the second race, for a $10.20 daily double.

Belle Richards paid $5.20.

Speck Defence Tries to Shake Identification by Survivor

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Public Defender Gerald Getty is basing his defense of Richard Speck on an attempt to destroy Corazon Amurao's identification of the 25-year-old seaman as the killer of eight nurses.

Miss Amurao, 24, a nurse from the Philippines, faces cross-examination by Getty on her account of how the nurses were slain.

The young woman testified for four hours Wednesday. She sobbed twice but otherwise her face was expressionless.

Her voice was mostly calm as she told of the night in which her eight roommates were strangled and stabbed on the South Side of Chicago.

The confrontation between the survivor of the July 14 mass killing and Speck in the murder trial came after prosecutor William Martin asked: "Did you wake up at any time Wednesday night, July 13?"

"I heard a knock in our bedroom," the witness said. "It was about four knocks. . . . I went to the door and I unlocked it and I started to open it and at once there's someone pushing the door.

"I saw a man." At this point the four-foot-10, black - haired nurse cried.

Asked to identify the man, the girl, walked deliberately from the witness stand to the defence table. She raised her arm and pointed one finger at Speck.

"This is the man!" she said.

Miss Amurao said Speck told the girls he needed money to go to New Orleans and that each got out her purse and gave him some bills.

She said Speck pulled out a knife, sliced a bed sheet into strips, and began tying the girls' ankles and wrists.

She described how each of the victims was led or dragged to her death in other rooms of the house. She said the intruder was absent from the large bedroom 30 to 35 minutes with a girl.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"It has an interesting plot. It tells of one man's struggle for serenity and financial solvency against the forces of inflation and a spendthrift wife."

Napanee District News

Mrs. H. C. File — Phone 354-4090

Accident Rate Down This Year

NAPANEE — The accident rate for this area was 15 per cent lower for March, 1967 than it was last year, the public information release of the Napanee detachment of the O.P.P. for last week's activities reports. Last year 34 accidents were reported. This year there were 29.

During the week there were seven accidents, mostly property damage, with two others in which two people received minor injuries.

In his report, Constable Elliott, who is also the safety officer for the detachment, expressed his satisfaction at the enthusiasm of the Junior Farmers, whose meeting he attended last week. Forty-two young people between the ages of 11 and 22 saw the shock film "Wheels of Tragedy".

During the week officers of this detachment carried out 58 investigations. They investigated seven thefts; four break and enters, three of these of cottages and four disturbances. They complied with two requests for assistance. Nine investigations were made under the Liquor Control Act, with a charge laid in each case. Thirty-three minor occurrences were investigated.

The warning in this latest report to cottage owners. Many of them are paying their first visit to cottages since last fall, and may discover that these have been broken into. If such is the case, leave things alone until you have notified the local police detachment in the warning. "Investigations are greatly assisted if the owners refrain from touching or moving any articles disturbed in the break and enter," it was explained.

Special Services Are Held

DESERONTO — The Deseronto Pentecostal Church saw a series of special meetings last week, each with a different local speaker: James Green, pastor of the church in Marlbank, Rev. Morris Bailey of Napanee, John Craig, pastor of the Community Church at Hay Bay, and Lorne Shepherd of Kingston.

Special gospel music was presented Wednesday evening by Paul and Ronald Bailey and John Buchert, all of Napanee. Thursday evening's special music was given by local talent, and Friday's music by the young people of the church. Floyd Hodge, assistant Young Peoples' leader, conducted the service, with William Rendell leading the song service. Lorne Shepherd of Kingston offered two solos. The offering was received by David Moore and David McTaggart.

The inspiring messages brought by each speaker made a deep impression on who attended.

Arrangements for the week's services were made by the minister, the Rev. John McEwen.

Rose Show Slated For June

Belleville Horticultural Society plans to hold a rose show at one this year. The location of the show has not yet been determined.

This project, which is a part of the Society's contribution to Belleville's centennial celebration, was discussed at a meeting of the Society's Board of Director, held recently at the home of Miss F. Fitzgerald on Dufferin Ave. Competitions will cover all classes of roses as well as other kinds of seasonal flowers, and will be open to exhibitors from the general public as well as members of the Belleville or any other horticultural society. The local society is making a determined effort to stimulate interest in beautifying the city, especially for centennial year.

The president of the society, R. M. Patterson, is an enthusiastic rose grower and has had considerable experience exhibiting in Quebec.

The announcement is made at this time so Belleville gardeners can be aware of what is planned and can prepare themselves to participate. Further details will be available as plans develop.

The next regular meeting of the Belleville Society to be held April 11 will be devoted to a discussion of rose culture by members of the Canadian Rose Society.

Opposition Keeps Hitting Hard At Bill to Unify Armed Forces

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition MPs handed Defence Minister Hellyer and the government some other verbal pounding on armed forces unification Wednesday.

External Affairs Minister Martin backed his cabinet colleague with a speech maintaining that adoption of a single force is the considered policy of the government and will enable Canada to meet defence commitments better than ever.

There were no signs of any let-up in the determined opposition stand against the bill as it went through its third day of Commons debate on clause-by-clause study.

Gordon Churchill, former Conservative defence minister, said Mr. Hellyer was using the same "big lie" techniques as Dr. Joseph Goebbels, propaganda chief for the Nazi government.

Harold Winch (NDP — Vancouver East) blamed the minister and the government for the whole defence debate. If they had not been "so adamant, so arrogant" and had given MPs the information they needed to make up their minds, the whole question could have been resolved easily.

After Mr. Churchill said the "credibility gap" between Mr. Hellyer and the public had widened into a "yawning gulf," Mr. Martin said differences of opinion about the bill should not be used to launch such personal and partisan attacks.

MPs could have confidence in the minister's credibility and integrity.

Mr. Churchill, member for Winnipeg South Centre, said Mr. Hellyer "keeps repeating the same falsehoods time and time again" on unification. The Commons could no longer rely on his word.

In defence committee sittings, Mr. Churchill said, the minister had declined to be never said that unification would bring significant financial savings to defence. Mr. Churchill then read from the 1964 government white paper on defence which said sufficient savings would be made through unification to permit increased spending on weapons.

"Who can believe this minister? What credibility can you place in this minister?"

Mr. Winch wondered why the government wanted approval for unification now even though it admitted it would take another five years to bring the single service into being. What would unification accomplish that integration of the forces would not?:

Joe Macaluso (L — Hamilton West) was the only other Liberal spokesman during the day.

He said the rest of the world is following Canada's lead in integration. Whether it would also steal along on unification remained to be seen but some country had to start it.

Noting that many opposition MPs had mentioned the generally solid attitude of retired officers against unification, Mr. Macaluso said there was some question whether they were out of touch with current military thinking or whether their views had been affected by news reports since they left the services.

Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary North), another former defence minister, had asked Mr. Martin earlier whether he was aware that all retired senior officers who appeared before the committee had said that Canada would be unable to meet her defence commitments with a unified service.

Mr. Martin admitted that he had. But he added that officers now serving held a different view.

"The survivors," came a voice from the Conservative benches.

Two Confidential Naval Maps Found in Lockers of Pressman

OTTAWA (CP)—Two RCMP secret documents testified Wednesday that they found two address-graphic naval charts marked "confidential" and cryptic letters and notes in two lockers allegedly used by Rower Feschertoze in the government printing plant where he worked.

Feschertoze, 28, a pressman in the mapping branch of the resources department, is standing trial in Carleton County court on two charges under the Official Secrets Act.

He is accused of obtaining and retaining, for purposes prejudicial to state security, the two confidential charts, which are large-scale reproductions of the ocean bottom off Newfoundland's southeastern tip.

Such charts are used by navy ships as aids to how down foreign submarines and the Crown alleges they would be useful to Soviet subs.

Cpl. Paul Wendt testified that he and two other Mounties went to the map printing plant in Ottawa last Oct. 25 and searched two metal lockers after getting a master key from a resources department official.

An unsigned note found in a box of soya said, "Take bus current Brookfield and Riverside Drive. Hydro post corner Merivale and Gilmour. Next date March 27 at 9 p.m. on Shilington."

An opened envelope was found, with the address crossed out in ink and postmarked in Cornwall March 3, 1966. The letter inside was also dated March 3 and read:

"Dear Sir: In answer to your letter of Feb. 28, I wish to state that I have nothing to add to my last communication. It is not my intention to be discourteous, but I wish to decline to enter in any further communications."

The signature was crossed out.

Cpl. Wendt said he found a letter postmarked Ottawa, March 10, 1966, with the address erased. It reads:

"Dear Sir: This confirms your letter of March 3. Unfortunately, your cheque has just been returned by the merchandise will be sent in a few days."

It was signed "A. B. Pittaways."

Cpl. Harold McIlkahan of the RCMP said he led the party that searched the Feschertoze home last Oct. 25, after obtaining a search warrant.

The men had found a key ring with two locker keys. They went to the mapping branch building later that day and opened lockers No. 2 and 23 with the keys.

Maverick Ralph Cowan Invited to Quit Party

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal maverick Ralph Cowan was officially invited Wednesday to quit the party for accusing the cabinet of bowdling under the French-Canadian minority.

The suggestion to depart came in a pointed statement from Russell Honey, chairman of the Liberal caucus, which comprises the party's federal MPs and senators. Mr. Cowan, MP for the Toronto riding of York-Humber, says he'll stay.

Mr. Honey said he cannot understand how Mr. Cowan "can now in good conscience continue to associate himself" with the party.

The normal course for a Liberal MP who disagrees with the unity-strengthening policies of Prime Minister Pearson is to resign from the caucus, Mr. Honey said bluntly.

At the regular Wednesday caucus meeting, several MPs sharply criticized Mr. Cowan for his outburst. The Honey statement followed.

Mr. Cowan, 64, who has crossed the party hierarchy before, said he was astounded by Mr. Honey's statement. It was an attempt to become personal power. Moreover the caucus had made no decision on the matter.

The fiery MP started the intra-party dispute last Friday with a talk to the Canadian Bulldog Party, an English-speaking group which objects to the principle of bilingualism in Canada.

Mr. Cowan, a loud-voiced former Sunday school teacher, told the Bulldogs the cabinet does the bidding of the French majority. He objected to the policy of two official languages, adhere to by Mr. Pearson.

Mr. Cowan added he was given a false answer in the Commons on the subject by John Matheson, Mr. Pearson's parliamentary secretary.

"This talk about two languages is as false as a $3 bill," Mr. Cowan said.

Amplifying Wednesday, Mr. Cowan said the party had never discussed the two - language question. He supports policies enunciated by the party at open convention, but not necessarily those of individuals or the cabinet.

At the same time, Mr. Cowan denied a report he had labelled Mr. Pearson a weak leader at the Bulldog affair. He had not mentioned the leader's name.

Nonetheless, others interpreted it all as a slap at Mr. Pearson's, who told reporters philosophically:

"I've become accustomed to Mr. Cowan's outbursts."

Government Pilots First Reading On All-Encompassing Pollution Bill

TORONTO (CP)—Air pollution, housing and regional development kept the Ontario legislature busy Wednesday.

First reading was given a bill that would give the government power to police all sources of pollution in the province, including automobile exhausts.

Opposition Leader Robert Nixon brought up the other two issues, calling on the government to cut through red tape in housing and to stimulate regional development by decentralizing government.

In other business:

—Stanley Randall, economics and development minister, said the government hopes to reduce unemployment in the province to two per cent of the labor force by 1970. He said unemployment was reduced to 2.5 per cent in 1965 from 3.5 per cent in 1964.

—Russell D. Rowe (PC — Northumberland) called in a resolution for federal agencies to market farm products. He said farmers have little bargaining power because "70 to 80 per cent of the Canadian food trade is controlled by five chain stores."

The pollution bill, introduced by Health Minister Matthew Dymond, amends the Air Pollution Control Act that since 1962 allowed the province to control industrial sources of air pollution but not most other sources under municipal control.

Mr. Nixon told the legislature the government should "take a scythe" to red tape holding back provision of housing in the province.

He called for simplification of the present "jungle" of building bylaws, operation of public housing schemes by municipal authorities and extension of the principle of land leases in housing development to private schemes.

Mr. Nixon said regional development could be stimulated by the decentralization of government offices now concentrated in Toronto.

RCMP Commissioner Tipped To Become Alberta Ombudsman

OTTAWA (CP)—RCMP Commissioner George B. McClellan, 58, due to retire late this summer from his $24,840-a-year job, may become Canada's first ombudsman by autumn.

Reports from Alberta said the provincial government will announce shortly the appointment of the big, Moose Jaw-born policeman to the new job.

Meanwhile, the federal government confirmed that Commissioner McClellan will retire as soon as the pressure of world's fair duties is over.

The commissioner himself is vacationing in the Caribbean at Montserrat and could not be reached for comment.

The $20,000 - a - year Alberta post involves hearing public complaints about administrative rather than criminal injustices.

Prime Minister Pearson told the Commons a decision is due shortly on whether to appoint a federal ombudsman.

Commissioner McClellan joined the force in 1932 and becomes eligible for retirement Aug. 15 at a full pension of $17,500 a year.

His retirement would come after nearly four, stormy, pressure-filled years as commissioner.

He succeeded Clifford W. Harrison Nov. 1, 1963, and ran smack into a series of politically - charged royal commissions involving personalities like Hal Banks, Lucien Rivard, Gerda Munsinger and Vancouver postal clerk George Victor Spencer, who died of cancer after being netted in a spy case.

Solicitor-General Pennell said in an interview Wednesday that Commissioner McClellan has agreed to stay on beyond Aug. 15 if centennial duties require it.

A parade of emperors, queens, presidents, prime ministers and other important figures will begin arriving at the world's fair in Montreal May 30.

As the federal police force, the 7,700-man RCMP is responsible for their safety.

Commissioner McClellan has fond memories of Alberta. He met his wife—the former Betty Austin — in Edmonton in 1932 and they were married after a nine-year engagement enforced by RCMP regulations. They have three daughters.

An enthusiastic curler, the commissioner had early assignments in Westlock, St. Paul, Sylvan Lake, and Red Deer, Alta. His career also took him to postings in British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Ontario.

Convicted Killer Says Police Beat Him

MONTREAL (CP) — A convicted murderer testified Wednesday that he suffered a brutal beating at the hands of a dozen provincial policemen in 1965, and that one officer broke his nose after he appealed in vain to Claude Wagner, then Quebec justice minister, to stop the "massacre."

The witness, Jean - Jacques Gagnon, 34, is serving a life sentence for the slaying of Alberic Bilodeau, a key witness in one of a series of arson cases in Quebec City.

He was testifying at preliminary hearing for 11 policemen and four private investigators who are charged with wounding Louis Sicotte with intent to maim while questioning him about arson cases Oct. 20-21, 1963.

In telling Gagnon to testify, he Crown said it was seeking to prove similar acts on the part of all or some of the 15 accused of having tortured Sicotte.

Gagnon, an accountant, at times burst into tears as he related how police had, treated him during a period of detention he said he experienced at QPD headquarters in Montreal in late September and early October, 1965.

At one point in his testimony he referred to Mr. Wagner as "Himmler," and at another point he said he had been told by a Crown prosecutor that the justice minister had issued orders that "confessions in this case must be obtained at all costs."

Gagnon said he was punched, kicked, jumped upon and broken physically and mentally during the interrogation. Police had put him through ordeals they described as "operation garbage can," "operation spitting," "operation telephone book," "operation fire-station" and "operation play ball."

He named 12 of the 15 accused in the Sicotte case as "team members" who had taken turns torturing him.

Gagnon said he was first kicked and punched in the legs, body and head.

"Then they took a telephone book and put it on my head and started banging on it, at the same time whacking me simultaneously on both ears.

After the telephone book treatment, he continued, he was taken to a bigger room where his mouth was held open while the interrogators spat in it.

By this time he was lapsing into unconsciousness occasionally and one of the interrogators, Maurice Bloouse, another accused in the Sicotte case, kept opening his eyes to see whether he was all right.

Next a large garbage can was placed over his head and the officers drummed on it with what he thought were bats or sticks.

He was then turned upside down with his head in the can and the investigators pulled off his pants and proceeded to pummel and squeeze his vital organs. Then someone abused him with a broom handle, he said.

He was then punched into unconsciousness and woke up with the fingers of his right hand burned and in great pain. He said he was told that if he didn't talk "your whole body will be burned like that."

Gagnon said he finally broke down the next morning when another accused, Constable Pierre Ricard, told him that his wife and young daughters were receiving similar treatment downstairs in the same building. He said that in his delirium "I imagined this to be true."

CITY OF BELLEVILLE — LOCAL IMPROVEMENT NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE THAT:

1. The Council of the Corporation of the City of Belleville intends to construct; as a local improvement, the following sanitary sewer complete with pumping station, septic tank and tile disposal field; and intends to specially assess a part of the cost upon the land abutting the work and the balance against the Corporation at large as follows:

| Street | From | To | Estimated Cost | Corporation's Share | Owner's Share | Estimated Cost Per Foot Frontage | Estimated Annual Cost Per Foot Frontage |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| University Avenue | East End of Street | Lot 19, Reg. Plan 253 | $82,000.00 | $55,763.00 | $26,237.00 | $7.00 | $0.72 |
| Easement | University Avenue | Centre Street | | | | | |
| Centre Street | 25' South of North End | Adam Street | | | | | |

EXAMPLE: Lot with 50' frontage would be assessed as follows:
50' x $7.00 — $350.00.
If paid over a period of 15 years at 5½% per annum, the cost would be:
50 x $0.72 — $36.00.

2. The special assessment is to be paid in 15 equal annual instalments.
3. Application will be made by the Corporation to the Ontario Municipal Board for its approval of the undertaking of the said work and any owner may within twenty-one (21) days after the first publication of this Notice file with the Clerk of the Municipality his objection to the said work being undertaken.
4. The Board may approve of the work being undertaken, but before doing so it may appoint a time and place when any objections to the work will be considered.

Golden Girls of Britain Find World Suddenly Their Oyster

LONDON (CP) — Fay Vanessa and Lynn Redgrave, the Golden Girls of the British theatre, the world of stage and screen is suddenly their oyster—and it is crammed with pearls.

The fame of the Redgrave girls, already well launched in Britain, has taken off like a rocket since they landed at opposite ends of the United States to spread their talents on a wider stage—Vanessa turning slugger in Hollywood's version of Camelot and Lynn knocking Broadway flat with her portrait of a zany debutante in Black Comedy.

When the rapturously - acclaimed pair compete for a Hollywood Oscar April 10, they will be the first sisters to do so since Joan Fontaine and Olivia de Havilland in 1941.

On that occasion Joan Fontaine's award caused a bitter family rift. But whichever Redgrave wins — 30 - year-old Vanessa for Morgan or 26-year-old Lynn for the bouncing yet heart - touching Georgy Girl—it's a safe bet neither sister will begrudge the other's success.

It is possible each may win a major award, since both have been nominated as well for the April 24 British Film Academy award for best British actress of the year.

Products of a theatrical dynasty going back more than a century, Michael Redgrave's daughters appear to enjoy a remarkable lack of rivalry. Although Lynn, who always regarded herself as the ugly duckling, has in fact climbed to fame on parts discarded by her glamorous older sister.

"They're no different there is no feeling of competition between them," says Lady Redgrave, actress Rachel Kempson.

"We have no jealousy in our family. We share each other's triumphs and mourn each other's disasters."

Lynn puts it differently: "We're a mutual admiration society."

It's an impressive family by any standards, brilliantly talented, good-looking and remarkably tall for actors. Sir Michael, at 58 one of the world's finest Shakespearean actors, and son Corin, 37, are both well over six foot; blonde, blue - eyed Vanessa and auburn-haired, grey-eyed Lynn both top five-foot-ten.

The Redgrave children were raised in a theatrical atmosphere although it was by no means carefree. Lynn and Corin recall their family traditions. As a teen-ager Lynn suffered agonies because of her size. She was overshadowed by Vanessa and was so bored by the theatre she obeyed home to bear a radio program rather than watch her father play Hamlet.

An expert comedienne, she plunged into show-jumping in an attempt to score at something Vanessa couldn't, collecting an array of trophies.

Vanessa, on the other hand, was cleverly destined for the footlights with her romantic temperament and rich imagination.

Her father says she is "divinely mad, divinely inspired."

"She has her own particular kind of radiance that makes everyone adore her."

Lady Redgrave says Vanessa has a lunatic about her that ensures she will "never become bigheaded."

Vanessa herself, now a fervent ban - the - bomb campaigner, says she is "fantastically concentrated" and "fanatical" when working. She acclaims everything from the mind except her own little girls Josly Kim and Natasha, children of her broken marriage to movie director Tony Richardson.

She refuses to have a public relations man handle her "image."

"If I'm not a product that sells by myself, oh my own merit, that's that."

Vanessa has always sold on her own merit despite the natural advantages of being Sir Michael Redgrave's daughter. She made her debut at 21 with her father in N. C. Hunter's A Touch of the Sun and four years later was firmly established as Britain's leading young actress after a flashing, inspired performance as Rosalind in a Royal Shakespeare Company production of As You Like It.

Meanwhile Lynn decided the stage might be more rewarding than the saddle, and while Vanessa was being acclaimed as actress of the year for Rosalind, she made a hit in a small part Vanessa had turned down in A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Sir Laurence Olivier offered her a place in the National Theatre Company and as other Redgraves had taken off.

Lynn's first film role was one of the shortest speaking parts on record. As a freckled country wench in Tom Jones, all she did was shout, "Rape."

But her playing of an Irish Fifth Column in The Girl with Green Eyes brought out a fine comic talent which flowered richly, touching slapstick and pathos, in Georgy Girl, the tale of a plain, pudgy girl trying desperately to keep up with her glamorous friend.

Sir Michael Redgrave is supremely proud of the family's collective achievements, believing that a creative family background is the best possible seedbed for interpretative arts such as acting and music.

His only worry, he says, is that one day people may start to say: "Oh, those damned Redgraves again."

Broken Jug Criticized By Festival Adjudicator

KINGSTON (CP) — Brockville Theatre Guild's production of The Broken Jug, written by Donald Harron of Toronto, received a good deal of criticism at the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival Wednesday night.

Adjudicator Ann Wickham of Montreal criticized the set but said she liked the props and costuming.

She said the direction of the play was unimaginative at times.

Actor Ken Kramer, portraying a farming storyteller, gave a "solid performance", Miss Wickham said.

Actress Nancy Fraser was singled out for praise by the adjudicator who said her performance was consistently enjoyable.

Sam Mackey in a very small role was praised for turning in a performance the adjudicator termed as "a perfect gem."

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The Orion of Lionel Red by John Coulter is "more historical document than play," Essa Theatre Guild of the Western Ontario Drama Festival, said Wednesday night.

The production was presented by the St. Thomas More Players of Hamilton, whom Mr. Lynch recommended for entry in the provincial festival.

The play dramatizes the trial of Louis Riel, the half-breed who was hanged for treason in 1885 for leading two rebellions of Indians and Metis against Canadian military detachments in Manitoba in 1870 and Saskatchewan in 1885.

Stuntman to Get Special Award for Safety Devices

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'll go to the Oscars in a tuxedo, but I'll be darned if they'll get me in a set of tails."

This was the initial comment by Yakima Canutt upon learning that he is to be presented with a special Motion Picture Academy award this year. The citation to be read by Canutt's friend Charlton Heston:

"For creating the profession of stuntman as it exists today and for the development of many safety devices used by stuntmen everywhere."

Movie buffs recognize Yakima as a western star of the 1930s, later a stuntman, and more recently the director of action sequences in such films as Ben-Hur and El Cid.

Heston, who performed under Canutt's tutelage in the latter epics, has cited good reason for Yak's honored role.

"In the old days stuntmen were a disorganized bunch who could take a chance on anything. A lot of them got killed that way. Yakima came along and helped put work to a science. He could do greater stunts than anyone else because he developed ways of making them safety."

Still erect and firm-muscled at 71, Canutt is a man of action, not words. This has been true since his days as a rodeo star. His prowess as U.S. champion attracted movie interests and he was signed as a western performer.

"I was a pretty lousy actor," he admitted, "but I did star in 48 five-reelers that went pretty well."

When his starring career faded, he switched to heroics for name performers. Among the most memorable: riding through burning Adacts as Clark Gable in Gone with the Wind, and hauling the runaway team as John Wayne in Stagecoach.

Yakima's stunt career came to a close at 50 when he broke both ankles in a fall for Roy Rogers.

Safety for both actors and animals is a mania with Canutt and his rigs for harmless horse falls are used by movie makers throughout the world.

Astrological Forecasts

BY SYDNEY OMARR

For April 7

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): Conversation connected with work, associates, possible advancement leads to significant action. Listen and be perceptive. Steps in lesser future security are necessary.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): Disruptive influences likely in connection with pet projects. Friends may not be reliable source for information. Best to finish rather than start. Avoid taking unnecessary risk.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Emphasis today on initiative. If you procrastinate . . . loss could be incurred. Accent ambitious . . . let key people know you're ready to move up.

CANCER (June 21 — July 22): Others highlight discussion of possible travel, vacation plans. Controversy could ensue unless you are diplomatic. Be sure of instructions, directions. Take your time!

LEO (July 23 — Aug. 22): Disagreement concerning partnership, public appearance or contract is no reason for depression. Maintain dignity — and confidence. Alternatives do exist. Think; apply knowledge.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): The status quo not likely to hold today. Be ready for changes. There could be additional restrictions, rules, regulations. Obtain blast from Leo passenger.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): Study Aries message. Realize some work habit pressures are subject to change. Don't permit determination to change into stubbornness. Highlight adaptability.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23—Nov. 21): Obtain valid loot from Taurus message. No time to challenge or boast. Sources you depend upon are subject to revision. Gain indicated through pacing, proper timing. Easy does it!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Candid homes domestic, professional duties indicated. See persons, situations in realistic light. Overcome tendency toward self - deception. Check fine print, don't neglect details.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Not wise to run off in search of panacea. Stick to practical issues . . . then solution is forthcoming. Otherwise you land in waste basket, money, emotions. Act accordingly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): New projects require close scrutiny. Don't be in a hurry to spend money. Caution is key word. Keep eye on possessions. Person who talks of bargains may have ulterior motive.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Conflict of interest comes to forefront. Not so good now for keeping secrets. Express opinions. If fresh and articulate . . . you gain. Emphasis on partnerships, public relations.

* * *

If today is your birthday . . . you are serious, dedicated, open to reflection, but react well during emergencies. Your interest in law and religion indicates visionary broad idealism.

* * *

General Tendencies: Cycle high for Pisces, Aries. Special word to Capricorn: Take special care with reports, written material.

France Ignores Vimy Ceremony

LONDON (CP) — Canadians preparing to mark the 50th anniversary of the battle of Vimy Ridge have been stung by a second apparent rebuff by the French government, it was learned Wednesday night.

A Canadian official said France will not provide a guard of honor for Sunday's ceremony at the Canadian memorial on Vimy Ridge near Arras, northern France. Canadian and British guards of honor are taking part and a similar French 100-man guard had been expected.

The French decision — imparted by officials at Arras — came as a surprise to Canadian planners who were informed Tuesday that the French official political representative at Vimy will be a brigadier-general.

While Canadian planners had already given up hopes that President de Gaulle might be present, they were expecting a high-ranking representative for the occasion, particularly important in the context of Canada's Centennial Year.

"I can't see all this happening accidentally — it's deliberate," said a protocol expert, who said that Prince Philip will attend the ceremony, representing the Queen in her role as monarch of Canada.

His impression was that France did not want to provide a guard of honor for Prince Philip under the circumstances. In French eyes, Philip is seen only as the husband of the British Queen.

An informant said Tuesday the Canadian government had been warned that if it persisted in having Philip present, the French government would downgrade the observance into a strictly Canadian affair with no massive French government representation.

Canadian officials, however, sought to make it a big salute, marked in a special way because Vimy was a stunning victory, a climactic event in Canadian nationhood and a turning point in the First World War.

One official recalled that even for former ordinary annual ceremonies at Vimy the French have sent higher-ranking officers than now planned and have also extended the courtesy of a guard of honor to Jules Leger, Canadian ambassador to France.

He added that the French had decided not only to send no troops to the ceremony at the Canadian memorial but also to stay away from a planned Saturday joint memorial ritual for French war dead.

The official coolness apparently did not reach military serving officers and the public at Arras, where a big turnout was being predicted for the Sunday observance.

Canada's representative at Vimy will be Leo Cadieux, associate defence minister, while Sir Patrick Reilly, ambassador to France, will represent Britain.

In Ottawa External Affairs Minister Martin said Wednesday there are no grounds for suggesting the French government has not given adequate recognition to the Canadian observance.

$200,000 Target Set for Fund to Assist Miners' Families

NATAL, B.C. (CP)—A $200,000 target was set Wednesday in the campaign to assist families of 15 miners killed Monday in a coal mine explosion near this small southeastern B.C. community.

Reeve Orlando Ungaro of nearby Sparwood, campaign chairman, said $150,000 is needed for the education of the dead miners' children and $50,000 more is required to provide immediate necessities for the fatherless families.

"Some of these families are in dire straits," said Reeve Ungaro. "I was in several homes Wednesday and was shocked at the conditions.

"One widow with six children had virtually no food in the house and didn't know where the next meal was coming from."

He said another woman didn't even have a suitable dress to wear to her husband's funeral Friday.

Mr. Ungaro said the Salvation Army has done its best to handle many of the more pressing needs.

"A number of other persons are also helping but we can only provide a few essentials. W. have to depend on the fund to raise the money to provide the futures for those bereaved families."

He said that few of the miners killed carried life insurance, though several had group death benefits amounting to $1,500.

The Natal Disaster Fund was set up Wednesday after Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced a provincial government contribution of $25,000.

Fund officials are hopeful the federal government, Premier E. C. Manning's Alberta administration and other municipal governments in Alberta and B.C. will also make substantial contributions.

Several of the dead miners lived in Blairmore and Coleman on the Alberta side of the Crowsnest Pass. April 16 has been proclaimed a day of mourning in all Crowsnest mining communities and collections for the fund will be made in all churches.

Friday will also be a day of mourning among Natal's 800 residents. Seven of the victims will be buried in a joint Anglican-Roman Catholic service. School offices and businesses are expected to close for the funeral. Services will be conducted in a Roman Catholic church by a priest and Rev. R. G. Brey, an Anglican minister, for Eugene Lacky, August Wojtala, William Cyrin, Sam Tobey, Anton Gapolaschuk, Delfo Quaric and Gukin Vezzi.

In Fernie, B.C., John Brunner was to be buried today and Walter Parker will be buried there Friday.

Services will be held in Natal Friday for Eric Lotzkie and Saturday for Miles Bryan and Hugh Hopley. Ronald Prieg will be buried at Coleman Friday and Walter Gabalski Saturday.

The body of William Delorme, 18, the only bachelor and the youngest man killed, has been sent to his home in St. Boniface, Man., for burial.

Work at four other mines owned by Crows Nest Industries Ltd. was back to normal, Wednesday and all 550 men employed by the firm were working. The Balmer North mine, scene of the fatal explosion, remained closed while investigators sought to determine the cause of the blast.

The deputy mines minister, K. B. Blakey, and the chief mines inspector, R. B. Bonar, completed their preliminary investigations Wednesday and were to return to Victoria today.

"The mine will be closed for a number of days until special crews clean it out," Mr. Blakey said. "Then we will start our investigation into the disaster."

Paris Greets Humphrey With Riots

PARIS (CP) — Fighting broke out between police and anti-Vietnam demonstrators today as U.S. Vice-President Hubert Humphrey went from talks with President de Gaulle to the Arc de Triomphe to place a wreath on the tomb of France's Unknown Soldier.

A crowd massed around the arch when Humphrey arrived from Elysee Palace and sent up shouts of "U.S. murderers" and "peace in Vietnam." Some displayed placards with the same slogans.

Strong police reinforcements moved in and fighting broke out, but there appeared to be no serious injuries. Police hustled the demonstrators, including a number of students, into several police buses and took them away.

Police grabbed a young man with a loaded pistol at Orly Airport shortly before Humphrey's arrival.

But police who questioned the man said he was mentally deranged, and had no intention of attacking Humphrey. He was taken to an asylum, police said.

Humphrey came from West Berlin, where noisy young demonstrators threw flour, a firecracker and beer glasses and waved a North Vietnamese flag outside two receptions Thursday night for the vice-president. He was not hit and appeared unruffled.

At Orly Airport, a group standing on a roof terrace tossed out multi-colored leaflets protesting the vice-president's visit. Some fluttered toward the arrival salon several hundred yards away where Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville welcomed the visitor and his wife.

In an arrival statement Humphrey said the U.S. commitment to Europe "remains full and undiluted." Linking the 50th anniversary today of U.S. entry into the First World War and the 20th anniversary this year of the Marshall plan, he told the French:

"These two dates — 50 years ago French-American military co-operation as wartime allies, 20 years ago French-American economic co-operation as peacetime allies — should be remembered together. For they testify to the full commitment of the United States to Europe and to her well-being."

South Vietnam Threatens To Invade North

SAIGON (CP) — South Vietnam's chief of state threatened today to bomb Hanoi or invade North Vietnam if the North Vietnamese don't stop attacking the South Vietnamese half of the demilitarized zone.

The threat by Lt.-Gen. Ngu-yen Van Thieu came in the wake of a Communist attack on a South Vietnamese border post as well as the raid Thursday by perhaps 2,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops on the provincial capital of Quang Tri.

Reports indicated some 80 government troops were killed in the carefully planned night attack on the capital of South Vietnam's most northerly province. Ten American military advisers were killed and nine wounded, in addition to 15 American civilian casualties.

The attackers made their main assault under a heavy mortar barrage.

The guerrilla troops blew up the doors of the city jail, released about 300 prisoners — many of them Viet Cong cadre — and fired on the American military and civilian compound.

Bid Made to Avoid Race in Missiles

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States, meeting Thursday with six NATO allies, won unanimous backing for its efforts to head off a costly new phase of the nuclear arms race with Russia, informants say.

Meeting behind closed doors, the allies discussed nuclear matters generally and specifically the hazards of the Soviet Union and the U.S. deciding to match systems of rockets capable of shooting down existing nuclear missiles.

Farmers May Cut Buying

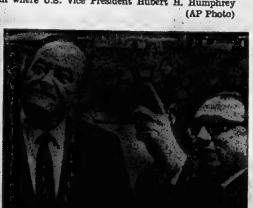
OTTAWA (CP)—The National Farmers Union today pondered whether to support demands for higher farm incomes by asking its members to halt purchases of farm equipment.

Roy Atkinson of Saskatoon, NFU president, told a Thursday press conference the farm organization's governing council will decide today whether to launch the buyers' boycott.

He said polls among some NFU members show widespread support for a boycott. The NFU is active in the four western provinces and Ontario. More than one-quarter of the farmers in these provinces are NFU members.

Mr. Atkinson met reporters after presenting a critical brief to the cabinet demanding an increased federal farm role to raise farm income.

The newly established dairy commission should be given the power to regulate dairies, allotting milk supplies and fixing prices at which the farmer sells his milk, the brief said. Dairies would be commission agents.



Critical of the new federal dairy policy, which took effect April 1, the NFU said the manufacturing milk price of 84.75 a hundredweight falls short of farm needs. It should be $5 as requested by every farm organization in Canada.

However, Mr. Atkinson told reporters later the cabinet gave no indication it intended to raise the price again. The reaction to allowing dairies to serve as agents was more favorable, but there were no commitments.

The NFU, whose Ontario branch is talking of milk dumping and a march on Ottawa to protest milk prices, said farm income has remained static for two years. Agriculture policy seemed designed to depopulate rural areas.

The brief claimed farm implement manufacturers had raised prices twice since the royal commission on farm machinery prices was established last year.

In addition, the government showed no apparent concern over increasing corporate control over poultry, hog and beef industries. A full-scale investigation of the inroads of food processing companies and others into farm production was sought.

Policemen Slain With Own Pistols

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A man killed two policemen on a downtown street Thursday, then begged the Vietnam war veteran who subdued him to kill him as well.

As several persons looked on, the man disarmed Sgt. William H. Fletcher, 52, and killed him with his service revolver. He then turned on a motorcycle patrolman, David van Ourler, 31, father of five, and killed him, using the patrolman's gun.

Police Chief William Barnes told reporters today that the shootings could have been stopped without bloodshed. "If just one person had stepped in, my men would be alive today," Barnes said, noting that women witnesses told him several men looked on and did nothing.

John C. Cooley, a 32-year-old unemployed Negro, was charged with first-degree murder. He was captured in front of the Fidelity Federal Savings and Loan Association as he stood over the dead policemen, a gun in his hand.

Cooley was subdued by Thomas Corbain, a decorated Vietnam war veteran who picked up van Ourler's discarded gun and got the drop on Cooley. Van Ourler's pistol had only one bullet in it but the other was empty.

With Fletcher and van Ourler lying dead in the street, Corbain held the gun at Cooley while onlookers yelled: "Kill him! Kill him!"

"Even the guy yelled, 'Yeah! Shoot me, I wanna die,' and I told him, 'You don't have to worry about that,'" said the 20-year-old army veteran who won the Silver Star by overrunning a Viet Cong machine-gun nest.

Jets Battle Over Syria

DAMASCUS (AP) — Syria claimed today its MIG-21 jets shot down two Israeli Mirage fighters in dogfights that spread to skies over Damascus, as fighting erupted along the desert border.

A third Mirage was shot down by anti-aircraft fire, said an army communique.

The communique said one of the French - built Mirages crashed on Syrian territory.

The communique said four Israeli planes flew over Syria at a low altitude. No Syrian planes were shot down, it added.

It said the fighting took place over the city shortly after a border clash between Syrian and Israeli tanks and heavy artillery.

The air fight was the first over the city since the Arab-Israeli war, the communique added.

In Damascus, there was no sign of damage and no panic among the residents. The city rested with the sound of guns and planes. Damascus radio had interrupted its broadcasts earlier for a communique from army headquarters on the fighting along the Syrian - Israeli armistice line.

It said two enemy tanks were destroyed in the fighting. "Our losses were confined to damages in the houses of some peasants in the hamlets of Nasareh and Izmdeh, with no casualties."

TEL AVIV (Reuters)—Israel claimed it shot down six Syrian MIG-21 fighter planes in a series of air clashes in the area of the Sea of Galilee today.

A military spokesman said all Israeli planes returned safely to base and denied a Damascus report that two Israeli Mirage fighters were downed.

The spokesman said there were three separate air battles, with two MIGs shot down during the morning, one downed four hours later and the last three during a brief encounter 25 minutes later.

The air battles came after a major new border flareup involving tanks and artillery near the Sea of Galilee.

The military spokesman said the morning's encounter came when Soviet-built Syrian MIGs tried to interfere with the bombing of Syrian positions on the heights dominating Israeli villages southeast of the Sea of Galilee.

The third MIG was shot down nearly four hours later when four Israeli Mirage jet fighters intercepted four MIGs above a former Syrian customs house south of the Sea of Galilee, he said. The Israeli fighters had taken to the air as silence Syrian artillery positions shelling villages, he said.

Some 25 minutes later, the Israeli spokesman said, three more Syrian planes were shot down during a fight took place over the city shortly after a border clash between Syrian and Israeli tanks and heavy artillery.

BC Wants Indians to Own Land

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia will ask the federal government to transfer the titles of all Indian reserves to the province, Don Campbell, municipal affairs minister, said Thursday night.

Addressing the Vancouver-Burrard Social Credit Association, he said:

"The aim of the plan is to abolish the present Indian reserve system by giving individual Indians full title to their lands and homes."

Mr. Campbell said he plans to travel to Ottawa with his proposal "very soon. He said any major reorganization of the reserve system—in effect since Confederation—would hinge on federal approval of land transfers.

UN Mission Leaves Aden, Assails British

ADEN (CP)—The UN mission to help the South Arabian Federation and Aden toward independence angrily broke off its visits today, charging the British with lack of co-operation.

The three-man mission's independent fact-finding a British airliner rerouted from its refused to deal officially with the British - backed South Arabian federal government and the government's consistency refusal to let the head of the mission, Manuel Perez Guerrero of Venezuela, make a policy statement on television.

Guerrero said his group would end its talks with the British as the administering power.

"We will offer the mission every co - operation, but they must deal with the federal government direct," said the acting information minister, Hussein Ali Bayoumi.

The mission's visit, which began Sunday, was accompanied by steadily increasing violence by rival nationalist groups boycotting the mission in an attempt to discredit the South Arabian Federation. The nationalists contend that the federation of 17 sheikdoms and sultanates is a British device to keep a reactionary, pro-British clique in power.

"We did not find here the co-operation which we were entitled to expect from the British authorities," said Guerrero as he and his colleagues boarded a BOAC VC-10 jet airliner bound for Khartoum, Rome and London.

"We asked for certain conditions, but we have not received the response."

The mission did not say where it was going, but a UN spokesman in Rome said the mission will confer with UN Secretary-General U Thant in the Italian capital tomorrow.

The mission was expected in Rome this afternoon where Thant will be staying a few hours on his way to the Far East.

Prices Still Climb

OTTAWA (CP) — The consumer price index advanced to 146.5 in March from 146.1 a month earlier despite the fifth drop in food prices in the last seven months.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported that the changes in food items restored over-all food costs to a level slightly lower than March, 1966.

A sub-index on food dropped to 143.9 from 144.1 in February. Lower prices were recorded for bread, some cereal products, coffee, tea, margarine, eggs, oranges, canned and frozen orange juice, raisins, canned pears and apple juice.

There were other price improvements for potatoes, cabbage, celery and lettuce, several cuts of beef, bacon, sausage roll and other meats including lamb, veal, wieners and meat loaf.

Prices were higher for most dairy products, flour, cookies and cake mix, sugar, most fresh fruits, root vegetables, tomatoes, canned peas, pork rib chops and shoulder roast and poultry.

The index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, moved higher mainly because of housing and clothing costs.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis: The weather over southern Ontario remains chilly and temperatures are unlikely to surpass 40 degrees today. Spotty falls of wet snow and rain in Michigan will likely move across lower lakes districts with sunshine in Northern Ontario, however, the thermometer is expected to rise to values not much different than those forecast for southern Ontario.

Saturday promises sunny weather with moderating temperatures in the south but increasing cloudy above Lake Superior.

Catholic Hierarchy Agrees to Freer Divorce--for Others

OTTAWA (CP)—An unprecedented statement on divorce Thursday by the Roman Catholic Church's Canadian hierarchy gave qualified approval to a widening of the grounds for civil divorce.

The statement does not change, however, the church's own stand that the marriage bond between two Catholics is sacred and indissoluble.

In a nine-page brief filed with the joint Senate-Commons committee on divorce, the bishops took note of a growing demand for widened divorce grounds with this key paragraph:

"Canada is a country of many religious beliefs. Since other citizens, desiring as we do the promotion of the common good, believe that it is less injurious to the individual and to society that divorce be permitted in certain circumstances, we would not object to some revision of Canadian divorce laws that is truly directed to advancing the common good of civil society."

Under present law, adultery is the only ground for divorce in nine of the 10 provinces. Nova Scotia also allows divorce for cruelty.

There have been various proposals for additional grounds, including desertion, cruelty and incurable insanity.

The bishops' statement, issued by the Canadian Catholic Conference which is holding a regular session here this week, added a strong plea for an entirely new approach to divorce legislation. It said the aim should be for preservation of marriages rather than its dissolution.

The bishops proposed:

—A government - financed agency that would work in co - operation with divorce courts to counsel couples in an effort towards reconciliation before a divorce is granted.

—Effective government support of pre-marriage counselling services, now carried on by many religious and private organizations.

—Extension research into marriage and its problems, plus help for families in discord and insecurity, the breeding ground for future marital strife.

McIntosh Brothers Switch to Sail... ...And 41-Foot Boat Is the Result

PICTON (Staff)—Practically an island, Prince Edward County has long been associated with sailors and boating and many of its sons have taken to the lakes. In the old days shipbuilding was one of this county's many industries and some of the finest great lakes sailing schooners were built in the Picton and Port Milford area.

Traditionally today, in 1967, the shipbuilding trade is still being carried on — with more modern equipment and materials, for sure — but..the same pride of craftmanship can be found in the builders themselves.

Two brothers, Raymond and Mel McIntosh, from South Bay (near the old site of Port Milford) for the past seven years have been building boats — but unlike their predecessors they work with steel. They are not, the old clipper ships and wooden hulls but nevertheless the variety ranges from today's sporty runabouts to 43-foot cabin cruisers and sailing craft.

It began at South Bay where the brothers produced their first few steel hulls for commercial fishermen working out of Point Traverse. These became so popular and practical the brothers continued making them and found they had a ready market.

Today many fine craft ply the Quinte waters bearing the McIntosh marks of craftsmanship. Some 300 boats in all have been built here and today the firm employs four men in a large barn in Picton which has been converted to a ship building plant. Today also the acetylene torches showering their spirits inside the building replace the steady pounding of hammer and spike.

The current project is a 41-foot sailing craft — the hull of which would make even the proudest sailor excited. The hull when completed and including the cabin superstructure will be 12 feet high and will weigh about 25 tons.

The two-master is being made for a Toronto man, Gerald Cox, who designed the vessel. Last year the brothers launched a 45-foot cabin cruiser built for a Kingston client.

The present boat is only the second sailing craft they have produced. The first was smaller but made a pretty sight on the water when the keel alone on this boat will contain four tons of ballast and at present weighs some 6,000 pounds.

To complete the boat, which has a 12 - foot beam, a four-cylinder diesel will be added for auxiliary power. Work began on the keel and hull in February of this year and has progressed to the point where now it is ready for the plates of steel.

The cabin and other woodwork on the superstructure will be completed by another member of the group, a Picton carpenter George Jones, who has assisted with this part of the work on some of the other cruisers and boats.

Many of the boats built by the McIntosh' have been of their own design for as commercial fishermen they well know the requirements for the lake. Also they operate a successful dredging business along with their boat building and still find time to do a bit of commercial fishing themselves.

When this new ship is launched later this year, her topsail mast will be clipper type and will be a feather in the cap of the men who built her.

Two Attempts To Start Fires Uncovered

Juvenile suspects have been apprehended and warned in connection with two attempts to start fires in the rear of a Front St. store. Five Chief Ted Poste said today that fires set Good Friday and last Tuesday night burned themselves out before any damage was done.

"We were lucky this time," the Chief said. "Either fire would have been serious had it got out of control. We are keeping a sharp watch on the area and will deal severely with the responsible parties if we catch them starting fires."

What A Little Leak Will Do!

When someone discovered an automobile parked on Front Street had leaked some gasoline Belleville fire department took no chances. Before declaring the spot safe they sent a fire engine with crew, a truck filled with sand — and, oh yes, a shovel!

Psychedelic Popsicle Trenton "Happening"

TRENTON — A number of the town's centennial projects were showcased at last evening's annual chamber of commerce banquet. Centennial committee chairman Robert Carleton said a fishing derby has been slated for the first week of May and what promises to be an outstanding air show program has been tentatively scheduled for May 23.

A three-day open canoe race will be run Aug. 7 weekend from Peterborough to Trenton with 4 canoe for the first prize winner. In conjunction with this the Trenton Kiwanis Club is planning a steer barbeque.

May 22 will be soap box derby day in town and about 50 entries in the seven-to-15-age group are anticipated. The event will be kicked off by a parade and it is expected a full day's activities will be planned.

Vern Wannamaker, representing Trenton's united fraternal organizations, gave notice of a "psychedelic popsicle" — a dance program to be held first week of May for the town young people.

Proceeds of the dance will go towards a fountain and wading pool for Centennial Park, the project of the fraternal group.

In Memoriam

WILLIAMS — In loving memory of a dear father Howard G. Williams who passed away April 7, 1965.

Always remembered by Cheryl, Laurie, Nancy, Dennis, Cynthia, and Brian.

BATEMAN, Annie Elizabeth — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother and grandmother who passed away April 7th, 1965. In our hearts your memory lingers, Sweet, dear mother, fond and true. There's not a day, dear mother, That we don't remember you. Sadly missed by husband Percy and family.

WILLIAMS — In loving memory of a wonderful son, Howard Garfield Williams, who passed away April 7, 1965.

Sadly we say a last farewell, Yet even sad goodbyes, Can lead you nearer to know it, And sorry God knows why.

—Always remembered, mother.

BELLIS — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother Mrs. Annie Bellis who passed away April 7, 1965.

God knew that she was suffering, That her pain was more than all, So He closed her weary eyelids, And whispered, "Peace be Thine." Away in the beautiful hills of God, Where the flowers never die, Where we hope to meet her when, God will call.

We wait . . . our loved one still . . .

—Always remembered by husband and family.

INSLEY — In loving memory of Ann Insley who passed away in Carleton, California, October 7, 1966.

Mother and family, Mrs. Wm. Insley.

CHAPMAN — In loving memory of our dear father Arthur Chapman, who passed away April 7 1967.

As angels keep their watch o'er us, Unseen.

Please God, just let him know, That we down here do not forget, We love and miss him yet.

Ever remembered by wife, daughters and son-in-law, Velma, Edna and Percy, Leola and Bill.

WILLIAMS — In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away April 7 1966.

Gone but not forgotten.

Sadly missed by wife Barbara and sons Brad and Howard Jr.

Farmers Consider Co-op To Truck Fluid Milk

The Belleville Fluid Milk Producers, numbering about 30 members, will investigate the feasibility of setting up a co-operative trucking service for the transport of milk to city dairies.

The decision to investigate the idea was made this week at a meeting held in the Carnahan township hall. A special six-man committee was named to investigate and report back to the producers.

For the past two years milk for the Belleville fluid milk market has been picked up by tank trucks owned by the city dairies.

However, producers feel that milk transport has been costing them too much money.

Spokesmen from two milk pick - up co - operatives in other parts of the province attended the Carnahan meeting and said their rate for trucking was 25c per cwt. and at this price they were still able to pay a dividend to members.

If the local milk producers group decided to set up the co-operative trucking venture, up to date equipment would have to be required. Milk for the Belleville market is received up to a distance of 20 miles although the big percentage of producers are in the immediate Belleville area.

Local fluid milk producers are also unhappy about the government's new dairy policy under which they claim they no longer receive subsidy on surplus milk shipped to the city dairy. Pay for surplus milk is at the lower rate paid for manufacturing milk.

And at least some producers claim that loans at the city dairies have been reduced resulting in more of their milk declared surplus.

Judge Allows Appeal Against Conviction

Yesterday in County Court Judge W. S. Lane sustained appeal by Joseph H. Gould. Mr. Gould had previously been convicted by Magistrate Y. J. Wills of failing to provide for his infant son.

Mr. Gould had been ordered to pay $20 a week to provide for his son.

The appeal was allowed after evidence was given that the infant's father had entered a bond for $226.75 and had received the $20 payments before Mr. Gould's conviction..

Bloomfield, Wellington Phone Service Disrupted

Telephone service in the Bloomfield and Wellington areas was disrupted this morning when an underground cable giving the two districts accidentally cut about 9.30 this morning. Bell officials in Belleville said that preliminary investigation indicated that service could be restored by one o'clock this afternoon.

No explanation of the cable break was given although one re port was that excavating equipment was seen in the gravel area.

As result of the break Bloomfield and Wellington were both isolated from outside areas. No calls were possible between the two centres although limited local service was possible in the two villages.

...Now That Spring Is Here!

And spring in the Quinte district today meant snow and low temperatures! — as English lass Joan Fryers discovered this morning. However, the Belleville business receptionist now is acclimatized to the fickleness of a Quinte spring, even if the weatherman did predict wet snow for most of today with a low tonight of 25 degrees.

Chamber Told Expo Visitors Seeking Industrial Tours

Trenton and other communities have the chance to capitalize on the presence of visitors from all over the world at Expo 67, clerk-comptroller O. W. Larry said last night.

Speaking at the annual chamber of commerce dinner, Mr. Larry said Expo business visitors tours are being planned for communities across Canada.

"As Expo visitors register they have been asked if they wish to see others parts of Canada and if so what are their special interests. Municipalities in various regions are being asked by the International Trade Centre in Toronto which industries are willing to open their plants for tours," Mr. Larry said.

He indicated this would be an excellent opportunity for Trenton to display its industrial advantages to some of the 5,000 Expo visitors from abroad who have listed their intention to see parts of Ontario.

It is hoped persons interested in export, import and Canadian investment will be attracted to the area.

Industries here are expected to be notified by the chamber of commerce industrial committee of the project in the near future.

Legion Will Observe 50th Anniversary

Memory will leap the chasm of time here Monday when vet erans of World War One will observe the 50th anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge.

The observance will be held at a Vimy dinner hosted by Branch 90 Royal Canadian Legion in their clubrooms here.

Veterans of the first great conflict will be special guests of the branch. A number of them are survivors of the Vimy battle.

A member of the branch, Mr. A. A. Fleming, will represent the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment at the special Vimy observance being held at the Canadian Vimy Memorial in France the same date.

Dinner chairman Everett H. Liddle says it is expected the dinner will be a sellout, but at the moment there are a few tickets left. They can be secured from Mr. Liddle, 3-6296 or from co-chairman Roy Madden, 3-6233.

Guest speaker at the dinner is Air Commodore Chester Hull commanding officers of air transport command, Canadian Forces base at Trenton.

1,000 Persons

Industries Promise Floats For July 5 City Parade

Plans for the Belleville Centennial Parade which is to be held July 5 are already in full swing. It is estimated that this parade will consist of 1,000 persons.

The parade will form up on the East Belleville playgrounds at Bridge Street and Bleecker Avenue and proceed down Bridge to Coleman and then on to Zwick's Island which will be opened on July 5 by the Premier of Ontario.

Invitations are being sent to various industries, Service Clubs and Civic Groups in the area.

Already the Ontario Hydro, Deloro-Stellite, Black Diamond Cheese and Northern Electric have promised to contribute floats. There are still many other industries to be heard from.

As well, 330 Brownies, Guides and Leaders will be marching along the streets of Belleville.

And let's not forget the bands and the Military. 200 Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment marching troops will be in attendance.

The Royal Canadian School of Signals and Trumpet Band and the marching troops from the CFB in Kingston and No. 325 Royal Canadian Army Cadet Corps Band from Madoc will provide some of the music.

The CFB Trenton Brass Band and marching troops will also play.

An artillery demonstration of 28 rounds of ammunition will be exhibited by the 30th Field Artillery Regiment in Cobourg.

These are still many industries, military groups and other organizations to reply to the invitations to attend. It should be quite a day for Belleville.

'Fire' Season Being Entered Says Chief

On October 31, 1966 a bylaw to prescribe the times during which fires may be set in the open air and the precautions to be observed by persons pitting out fires was passed.

We are now entering the "fire" season when many rules in the fire bylaw are broken, said Fire Chief Ted Poste.

The bylaw forbids the lighting of fires in the open air where such lighting would cause damage or injury to persons or property.

A fire in the open air may not be started unless a competent person is left in charge of the fire at all times while it is smouldering or burning and unless this person has efficient and proper equipment to prevent the fire from getting out of control.

An incinerator or a similar device cannot be constructed unless it is approved by the fire chief.

No fires may be started at any time without supervision except for camp fires, barbeques and grills.

Upon conviction the punishment for infraction of these rules is not more than $300 exclusive of costs.

It is impossible to catch all offenders, but fire inspectors patrol the Belleville area for fires which can cause damage and injury to people and property.

Although there have only been "a couple of fires" this year, Fire Chief Ted Poste cautions all persons to obey the bylaw for the safety of Belleville citizens and property.

Most of Ice in Bay Gone

There is still a bit of shore ice visible and a few patches remain in the bays, but the ice on the Bay of Quinte has about disappeared for another season.

For the past week or so an ever increasing expanse of open water has been in evidence east of the Bay Bridge, while west of the bridge the main body of ice disappeared around mid-week.

Today Harbor Master Don Barrett said he had heard nothing from the Department of Transport regarding the official opening of navigation on the bay.

Department personnel have been in to paint the buoys and other route markers stored for the winter on the government dock but so far there has been no word about the tender which places the buoys each spring.

The buoy tender usually comes up the bay some time after April 20th.

Out for A Jog

Fine young trotter owned by Everett Black is being exercised by teamster Al Vance, who thinks this mare will be a tough one to beat after a few more workouts. The track has been excellent for exercising all winter and the large contingent of horses on the grounds are far advanced in their training.

Ian Darling Heads C of C At Trenton

TRENTON — Merchant Ian Darling will be 1967 president of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Darling and vice president - elect Carl Weese were chosen by fellow directors at last evening's annual banquet.

The report of the nominating committee was passed accepting directors Douglas Adams, Robert Carleton, George Kempf, D. R. Fraser, Gerry Goldberg, and Eric KeMus.

They will join 1966 president Harold Clark, Mrs. Eileen Forsbrick and Gordon Shoniker to form the 1967 board.

Students Teach In City Schools

This has been another student teacher week in Belleville elementary schools.

Schools superintendent L. A. Kelly reports that there are 24 student teachers from the Peterborough Teachers' College in the city this week, while during the latter part of April another 25 teachers will come to Belleville schools.

Legion Chief

The appointment of Earl Brant of the Mohawk Indian band at Tyendinaga as zone commander of Quinte district Canadian Legion branches is a tribute both to Mr. Brant and the Indian community.

Mr. Brant is the first full-blooded Indian to hold such a post in Ontario. His appointment is all the more fitting in view of the distinguished war record of the Mohawks.

Their bravery is commemorated by a memorial in the grounds of Christ Church Anglican, Deseronto. It bears the names of Huron Brant, winner of the Military Medal, and twelve others from Tyendinaga who gave their lives in the last war.

Alberta Gives Lead

The idea of having an ombudsman in Canada, similar to the office that protects citizens' rights in New Zealand and in Scandinavia, is one which has been considered by authorities in Canada for some time.

However, by virtue of the country's size and governmental diversity under the federal system, the appointment of an ombudsman to deal with individual complaints would likely be too large an undertaking. Really to work, the office should be a provincial appointment, with each province having its own. This is what has been done in Alberta.

The western province is establishing such an office and seems confident that RCMP commissioner George McClellan may accept the new post on his retirement from the police force this summer.

If he does, Commissioner McClellan would be an excellent choice since he would have the wide legal and law enforcement experience that an ombudsman requires. He would investigate complaints from citizens who feel they have been wronged at the hands of Government.

New Zealand is perhaps the most notable example of the value of this office. The ombudsman there deals with many cases in the course of a year. The mere fact that without such protection many bureaucratic wrongs are permitted to go unchallenged. Certainly, where this country is concerned the Alberta experiment will be watched with interest.

Biblical Analogy

The Proliferation of Government in Ottawa

In a recent editorial, reprinted on this page, Montreal La Presse quoted some startling statistics revealed by Auditor-General Maxwell Henderson. He pointed out that during the the last four years the cost of the federal administration, far from being reduced, "has increased by some $325,000,000."

Since October 1, 1964, moreover, the number of civil servants, has increased by 71,445, and last year alone more than 10,000 new employees were hired by the Government.

In the following letter to the editor, Belleville lawyer KENNETH ROSS comments on this situation.

"Canada," he suggests, "is without a doubt the most overgoverned nation in the world."

* * *

The Bible which is in many places a very realistic and practical work, tells us that the wicked shall flourish like the green bay tree.

This is the only apparent explanation to assist one to understand the figures mentioned on your editorial page of April 3 in the great editorial "Shades of the Glassco Report."

Information of this nature should not be published in the tax paying issues of early spring. Apparently the Federal Government bureaucracy has expanded since October 1, 1964 by over 71,000 busy little busybodies and in the year 1966 alone more than 10,000 new employees were hired by the Government.

Four years ago there was one Federal Civil Servant for each 97 inhabitants and today there is one for every 76 inhabitants.

Canada is without a doubt the most over-governed nation in the world. We start with the bureaucracy at the Township level including various planning boards, etc., and work through County Government and City Government, and then Provincial Government before we ever get near the Federal bureaucracy.

If there is one Federal Civil Servant for every 76 inhabitants I am willing to bet that there is one Civil (some of them are even known to be uncivil if one recalls a recent income tax investigation locally), Servant, including the whole category of Municipal, Provincial and Federal bureaucracy for every 30 people, and if the Federal Civil Service employees by 10,000 employees last year one may safely predict that total Civil Servants increased by double that amount.

N. R. Crump, Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railway, yesterday became the current voice lost in the wilderness, crying out against the proliferation of Canadian bureaucracy and had the audacity to suggest that the Maritime Provinces area and population really did not require four separate Provincial Governments and that Saskatchewan and Manitoba might even unite.

Mr. Crump further suggested that we had too much municipal government.

Personally, I feel our city government is one of the few areas in which we have any say or control and is one of the last bastions of democratic freedom. However, since it doesn't affect me I am sure that it would be a good idea to get rid of much township government (which was set up in the days of horse and buggy and no telephone) and run everything from the county level; likewise in many parts of Ontario, county government could be amalgamated.

These amalgamations are always a good thing as they bring out the best in people, as witness the joyful consolation of citizens when it is suggested their local school merge with another church, and in a magnificent exercise in municipal diplomacy.

If one were to project the figures of increase of Civil Servants given above, I think it clear that we will all within 30 years be in some Government payroll which will be a refreshing change from private enterprise.

Seriously — there is an important problem here which apparently is not interested a say major Party so far. It is important not only in terms of bureaucracy vs. freedom, but also in terms of the economy of the country and also I think most importantly in terms of human happiness as I find it difficult to appreciate that any person with normal responses could really enjoy working for a Government.

I may say that the first political party which makes the above philosophy part of their official doctrine will find a new supporter in yours truly.

KENNETH G. M. ROSS, Q.C.

Thoughts on Spring

Pants are the "in" thing for women this spring, according to the current fashion news. And the news varied and multi-colored it is better. But weatherwise it is not too co-operative, so the male of the species is not getting much visual enjoyment from the distaff side's fashion choice as yet.

When the sun does struggle out, however, it will likely be the younger set who lead the way. On one pleasantly warm and sunny day recently, the scene on Bridge Street was enlivened by two bright-looking youngsters.

Both were contemporary-style pant suits and one favored a red-patterned style while the other was a real standout in an orange outfit. So much so that the one in red, who looked pretty good herself, evidently felt envious enough of Miss Orange to turn around and take a look.

But there was no doubt both girls were making the scene, as they say, with considerable flair and aplomb. They moved dissomely, casually, aware of their young womanhood and the glances they were attracting — and as has been noted, aware of each other, though going their separate ways.

What stars of their sophisticated young lives had these two reached? They were perhaps 12 or 13.

What else is new and fresh these spring days? Golfers and fishermen of course are looking forward to facing their Centennial Year prowess soon, and the earth itself is beginning to display all the manifestations of life and vitality and renewal that have encouraged and sustained mankind for ages past.

A woman at a downtown intersection the other day had a clump of pussy willow in her arms, and there are few shrubs as symbolic of the season as that. Unless it be cherry or almond blossom, or japonica, or the flowering currant you see in the magic Glens of Antrim where the silence of Ireland's remoteness is broken only by the sound of waterfalls and rushing streams.

So once again the phenomenon of spring is in the air. Cold and blustery one day, warm and mellow the next. Men and women go their several ways and if each has problems of one kind or another they should not be so pressing as to render them insensitive to the message of this time — that all things, spring included, come alike to all men and that this is the season of hope.

Immigration

Hungarians' Contribution

St. Catharines Standard

With but one exception, Canada's immigration policy traditionally has been selective and limited. The results are obvious: after 100 years of nationhood Canada remains but sparsely populated, its manufacturing hampered by the lack of domestic markets, its natural resources largely unexplored and undeveloped.

The one exception to the rule was the mass immigration of Hungarian refugees who poured into Canada — some 37,000 strong — during the three years following the 1956 Hungarian revolution. As soon as the first refugees steamed across the border into Austria, the Canadian government set up offices to assist those who wanted to come to Canada. The refugees were given free transportation to their new homes in this country, and they were provided with accommodation and maintenance until they could find employment.

It was the first time that so many immigrants of the same ethnic origin entered the country in such a short time without the usual high selection process. The results of this immigration of Hungarians have been most encouraging, according to an article in the latest issue of Culture, the publication of the federal government's citizenship branch. The article points out that the refugees have settled down well into the Canadian life. They have made themselves a good living, with many of them owning their own homes, shops and cars. And as they have gained by coming here, as has Canada gained by accepting them.

Because the refugees were fairly representative of a cross-section of Hungarian post-war society, large numbers of them were intellectuals, highly-skilled workers or students. Thus, Canada gained a ready pool of much needed, high-calibre manpower. Many of the qualified technical personnel, the engineers, technicians and draughtsmen, were little time finding employment in industry. Those qualified in the medical profession, and university laboratories, while doctors and nurses joined hospitals.

Undergraduates and high school students were encouraged with grants, scholarships and part-time employment to complete their education. An entire forestry school — 196 students and 28 faculty members with their wives and children — was moved to the University of British Columbia where it operated as a separate faculty until the last of the graduating students completed their studies in 1961. Of all the school's professors and graduates, only one returned to Europe.

Not only have the refugees added their impact to the country's economy but they have also made major contributions to the arts and sciences. Their achievements clearly edificate Canada's remarkable stroke of luck in gathering their talents.

This, we emphasize, was the result of mass immigration that had its origin in an emergency. Surely the obvious success of this experiment calls for a change in Canada's traditional approach to immigration — with out waiting for another emergency.

Today in History

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

April 7, 1967 . . .

The imperial Privy Council validated the Ontario Rivers and Streams Act 83 years ago today — in 1884 — ending a three-year battle between Ontario and the federal government.

Signed to protect public waterways, the bill had three times been disallowed by Ottawa and each time passed again by Queen's Park. At the same time Manitoba and Ontario were arguing with the federal government over the interprovincial boundary, eventually fixed by the British Parliament in 1889.

Maple Syrup

Techniques

Windsor Star

The other day in a central Ontario town a young man was spotted with a handful of spiles. He was going to have himself an experience. He had a few sap sugar maples in front of his house, he was going to tap them and make himself some maple syrup.

The traditional pictures of the maple sugar bush is one of huge pots, or vats, boiling, with a man and team hauling the supply of the sweet sap from the trees in the sugar bush. But, indeed, there always was much machinery used.

The first task was to go through the bush and select the trees to be tapped. Large, healthy trees would be selected. And the location of the spile (or spiles) was selected for each tree. This was preferably on the southern exposure where the sun would warm the sap quicker.

Then holes had to be bored in the trees and the spiles would be driven in. Each would have a hook upon which to hang the sap buckets. This placing of the spiles and the hanging of the buckets wasn't easy, especially if there had been a heavy winter of snow. One had to trudge through the deep snow. Subsequent visits to the trees would be easier because of the track already made.

The fellow with a few spiles wasn't going to much trouble. He would boil down the sweet sap on the kitchen stove and get a few pints of the amber liquid. But he thought it would be fun.

Vital Role

Fredericton Gleaner

Whether the Queen is performing her duties in person or is delegating them to her representatives, the Governor - General, constitution is an essential one. In the Commonwealth it serves as a link among the members. To each member, in the person of the Governor-General, it provides an impartial referee, a person who is above party politics and partisan or regional strife, a ceremonial head of the state who can be claimed by no faction or lobby.

Looking Ahead

The Cost of Living Spiral

Brantford Expositor

Amid the speculation as to what life in Canada will be like at the start of our third century as a nation, no one appears to be attempting to guess where rates of pay and the cost of living will be in 2067. Yet the protests are already plentiful.

Today's work week in Ontario hospital administrator forecast the advent of the $10,000-a-year teacher by the early 1970s and Ontario firefighters were told by their union leaders that within the same period their top pay will reach at least $8,000. Metro Toronto policemen have just rejected an offer that would raise first-class constables over the $7,000 mark. High- school teachers all over the province are trying to lift maximum basic pay in the highest category beyond $13,000. Soon their principals, many now at over $16,000, will move nearer the $20,000 they can reasonably expect by the early 1970s. And not long ago some Ontario plumbers signed contracts that will by three years bring them very near to $12,000.

But as incomes continue to rise and hours of work to shrink, the cost of living will go still higher. As recently as 1960, the low income family looking for a modest new home had some choice as under $12,000. Today, even with a bigger paypacket, it is priced out of the market, and there is official talk of lifting the income limit for NHA mortgages to $10,000 a year. If that has happened in seven years, what will the situation be 20, 50, or 100 years from now?

World Hockey for Canada

Hamilton Spectator

Canada, kept off the world winter sports championship every year for so many years, has finally hit the big league — it's to host the 1970 World Hockey Championships. Good for us and a bravo for those hard-working Canadians who managed finally to convince the International Ice Hockey Federation that we deserved the tourney at least once a century.

The only disturbing feature of the otherwise encouraging piece of news is the prospective history of the championship games when they are played here. Evidently the underground powers that be have decided that Winnipeg and Vancouver should receive the games, with perhaps one other city (probably Edmonton or Regina — both hockey hotbeds) getting in on the act.

This would be highway robbery of the most festering sort. Surely, with transportation so fast as it is these days, an Eastern centre like Toronto or Montreal could share in this exciting bonanza. A Russia-Canada game would pack either the Forum in Montreal or the Gardens in Toronto, and at NHL prices too. So would a game between the first - class teams representing Czechoslovakia and Sweden.

All Canadians should be upset to see at least one of the 1970 games "live", and by "live" we mean in person. We therefore suggest that at least one important match be played in Toronto and Montreal as well as in Vancouver and Winnipeg.

We're Lazy Says Briton

Edmonton Journal

As others see us department: a British producer filming a movie near Toronto has offered the New York Times an interesting observation.

Canadians, he remarked, "still have to learn that time is money"; they're lazy, in other words, the sort of epithet usually reserved for British workers.

That's the sort of press clipping Miss John Lalande didn't expect when she set about exciting movie-makers to Canada.

Rip Van Winkle's Fate

Christian Science Monitor

The Associated Press tell us of a 25-year-old German protest singer who is willing to let himself be put to sleep — and then thawed out 50 years hence. He believes that in half-a-century the world will be a better place to live in.

Would he, we ask, make such a bargain if he were over what that famous history, written well over a century ago, and which told the tale of a man who decided himself to be put to sleep for, not 50 years, but for a mere 20? Remember how it ended? When this man returned to his old haunts: "A troop of strange children ran at his call, mingled after him and pointing at his grey beard. The dogs, too, not one of which he recognized for an old acquaintance, barked at him as he passed. The very village was altered; it was larger and more populous. Strange names were over the doors — strange faces at the windows — everything was strange."

If this is what happened to Rip Van Winkle after only 20 years of slumber — and we have Washington Irving's solemn assurance for it — what would the world seem like to young Winfried Laurig in A.D. 2117? In three days it will be 2067, and we believe he would do better to grow used to such change gradually, like the rest of us. It's much easier on one, as old Rip discovered.

Bank of Canada Signals Easier Credit Policy Is Official

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada has moved significantly towards an easier money and credit policy.

Effective today, the central bank's rate for advances to the chartered banks is 4½ per cent. Since Jan. 30 it had been 5 per cent.

Making the announcement Thursday night, the Bank of Canada said the reduction was "in accord with the recent easing of conditions in the financial markets."

Interest rates have been declining since last November and the central bank's announcement served mainly to confirm publicly its belief that rates should adjust to a new, lower level.

The bank rate is rarely called into play? The chartered banks only infrequently borrow from the central bank, and then usually for short periods—rarely longer than a week.

But the bank rate is a significant one in that it indicates what the central bank believes should be the top rate charged on short - term credit. Prior to Jan. 30, it had been 5¼ per cent, regarded as a tight money signal.

Half - point changes in the bank rate are not unusual, but the two downward shifts in less than 10 weeks is regarded as a somewhat unusual.

The Bank of Canada's announcement coincided with a decision by the U.S. federal reserve board-the central banking agency of the U.S. to reduce its discount rate to four per cent from 4½. The comparable bank rate in the United Kingdom also was cut recently.

Lower interest rates so far have affected businessmen mainly, but the trend should spread to individual bank customers and users of instalment credit.

In its regular weekly auction of Government of Canada treasury bills Thursday, the Bank of Canada accepted bids from money market investors which would yield about an annual interest rate of 4.26 per cent a year for either three-month or six-month investments.

Traditionally, the yield on six-month bills is higher than the three-month rate, but they have been close together or identical for much of this month. Bankers say this is an indication that money market investors expect further reductions in the next three to six months.

The yield on three - month treasury bills reached a peak of 4.39 per cent last November. The rate has been steadily declining since then.

Long - term interest rates are also lower now than in November, declining to about 5¼ per cent from six per cent on the average of new long-term government bonds at market prices.

Some of the chartered banks have announced reductions in their prime interest rates—the rates charged to their No. 1 rated credit customers.

The chartered banks still are operating with a six-per-cent ceiling imposed by the old Bank Act. It is due to be replaced May 1 with a new Bank Act raising the ceiling to 7¼ per cent and ultimately abolishing the ceiling. The money market trend, however, is to lower interest rates. Well below the ceiling.

Bonds Set Record For Sales

OTTAWA (CP) — The new double - your - money Canada Savings Bonds have been a record - breaker in sales, but only because holders of earlier bond issues turned them in for the new one.

In the 21-year history of Canada Savings Bonds, nothing has approached the purchase of $2,236,000,000 scored by the centennial issue in the October-December sales period last year.

The closest year was 1962, at $1,000,000,000.

It was not primarily new savers who put cash into the Centennials. It was existing bond - holders, by converting part of 12 priests in special Maundey Thursday ceremonies each year.

TORONTO STOCKS TODAY

British Mortgage

Firm Said Well Managed

TORONTO (CP)—The president of British Mortgage and Trust Co. of Stratford, Ont., wrote a letter three months before the collapse of Atlantic Acceptance Corporation saying the corporation was well-managed and progressing well.

The letter, along with several others written about that time to the Ontario registrar of loan and trust companies, was tabled as an exhibit Thursday by the royal commission investigation into Atlantic's collapse in June, 1965.

British Mortgage invested heavily in Atlantic and was taken over by Victoria and Grey Trust Co., of Lindsay, Ont., shortly after Atlantic's collapse.

Wilfred F. Gregory wrote the letter to Registrar Cecil Richards after a telephone call advising him about some of his company's loans and investments. At that time British Mortgage had about double its capital stock, reserves and undivided profit invested in Atlantic and associated companies.

The Ontario Loan and Trust Corporations Act provides that all investments by trust companies in shares and debentures of other companies which do not fall within specific categories be limited to 15 per cent of paid up capital and reserves.

Mr. Gregory's letter said British Mortgage was following a policy of concentration and of not increasing its holdings in those companies where "we can exercise a close degree of influence."

The commission, which is winding up its hearings with an investigation of British Mortgage, was told the collapse of Atlantic left British Mortgage with $12,000,000 outstanding in loans and securities of the company and his affiliates.

Mr. Gregory's March 22 letter also said that the company's investments in various industrials were safe and that "practically every borrower is a millionaire."

The investments to individuals were shown to the commission as loans to people associated with Atlantic and its companies, secured by debentures, stocks and notes of these companies. They totalled $3,407,000 at the time of Atlantic's collapse.

A. W. Moreton, commission accountant, said about $2,847,000 had been recovered up to Dec. 31 of British Mortgage's outstanding bonds of $12,000,000.

He said it is expected another $2,700,000 will be forthcoming. This will leave British Mortgage with a net loss of $6,540,000 on its investment in Atlantic.

The quick takeover of British Mortgage by Victoria and Grey left no depositor or guaranteed investment certificate holder with a loss, Mr. Moreton said.

Shareholders received the equivalent of $2.50 a share in Victoria and Grey shares. British Mortgage shares had traded on the unlisted market at $33 in March, 1965.

Name Head of Ladies' Liberal Federation

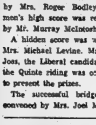
OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. Earl MacDonald of Charlottetown was incoming president of the National Women's Liberal Federation at a confused and sometimes chaotic closed session of the annual convention Wednesday.

In the beginning, there was a quarter-hour week while Ontario delegates collected their ballot books. The chairman at times could not be heard as the 321 women voting talked among themselves.

Also speaker from the floor suggested some delegates were voting twice, but a spokesman explained that they had been given the extra ballots by other delegates who had stepped out for a cup of coffee, leaving instructions on how to vote.

At the closing luncheon, where his wife was guest of honor, Prime Minister Pearson said his situation was the same as at home — "running second to my wife."

Women's Liberal Association Sponsors Bridge



A telephone bridge was held Thursday evening in Belleville, sponsored by the Belleville Women's Liberal Association.

High score for the evening in the ladies' section was won by Mrs. Roger Bodley. The men's high score was received by Mr. Murray McIntosh.

A hidden score was won by Mrs. Michael Levine. Mr. Don Joss, the Liberal candidate for the Quinte riding was on hand to present the prizes.

The successful bridge was convened by Mrs. Joel Maser.

WEDDING

BEAL — HUGHES

Dorothy Marie, daughter of Mrs. Ernest Hughes of Belleville and the late Mr. Hughes and Pte. Lt. Elson Taylor Beal of Trenton, were married recently by Rev. T. J. Boyle in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel. Miss Dorothy Grant played the wedding music and the soloist was Leo Holland of Belleville.

The bride wore a white floral length dress in brilliant crepe with the following sleeves held at the wrist by a band of organza. A large collar was edged with sequins and crystal beads. She wore a matching headpiece with shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of white lilies and pink roses buds.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Albert Kroetsch of Belleville, also wore a similarly styled dress in deep pink brilliant crepe with matching headpiece. Her bouquet was of white lilies and roses.

Pte. L.L. Grant Matheson of Trenton was groomsman.

The ushers were Ronald Beal, son of the bridegroom and Gordon Hughes, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at the Officer's Mess, Canadian Forces Base, Trenton. The bride's mother wore a teal blue two-piece dress in lace over taffeta with champagne accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

For her wedding trip to the Laurentians the bride chose a yellow Italian silk knit suit, yellow ribbon hat, black persian lamb jacket and black accessories.

The couple will live in Trenton.

Bloomfield Grave Digger Gets Mention in New Book

HAMILTON (CP) — A dozen years ago Jean Bazowman began collecting material for a book about Canadian women who have made important contributions or at least done something interesting in the last 300 years.

The result is Leading Ladies... Canada, 1639 - 1967, a 350-page, limited edition of which has just been published. And although it appears, appropriately, in Centennial Year, the Montreal author says it's just a coincidence that it happened to be ready now.

Here to visit Bruce and Ida Toffelmyer Carr, who have published the book, Mrs. Bazowman explained why she wrote it.

"It's partly because I got tired of history books that made it seem as if Madeleine de Vercheres and Laura Secord were the only Canadian women of note."

The book deals with nearly 300 women and material was collected on trips across the country. The 100 women whose lives are given in detail were pioneers who made some outstanding contribution.

Nearly 200 others were included because they have "done something interesting." Among them is the tiny grave digger of Bloomfield, Ont., who cannot afford time off from digging graves at $17 each to do her spring housecleaning.

Among women who accomplished things in the late Elizabeth Arden who made millions from cosmetics, and Dr. Mathilda Barrie, who practised medicine disguised as a man in the period up to 1865, because women were barred from the profession.

The author is a former Hamilton nurse who was an active clubwoman in Ottawa for 18 years when her husband Glen served as director of the Canadian government exhibition commission. He now is special adviser to Expo 67.

Club Activities

TRIMETTES CLUB

FRANKFORD — Sixteen members weighed in on April 3 at the Frankford Trimettes Club. Total weight loss was 18 pounds. Mrs. Dianna Ross was the winner for the week, losing six pounds.

WOMEN OUTNUMBERED

Men outnumber women in Tokyo, the world's largest city, by 8,638,583 to 5,601,717.

Ficker — VanRassel

Joanne Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew VanRassel of Kapuskasing and Manfred Karl Ficker, of Harrisburg, Pensa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Emil Ficker of El Paso, Texas, were married by Rev. T. Boyle in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville, April 1, 1967, at 4 p.m. Miss Dorothy Grant was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a straight sheath dress of mimic cord lingerie by a matching full, A-line coat with a three-foot train. The top of the dress and sleeves of the coat were of heavy embroidered scalloped lace. A lace headband held her short tulle veil and she carried a bouquet of white gladiolas.

The maid of honor, Miss Beverly Shaw of Belleville and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Rene Ste. Onge of Kapuskasing were floor-length gold nylon chiffon tent dresses with green leaf crown headdresses and bouquets of white Shasta mums.

Peter Cassidy of Kingston attended the bridegroom and Don VanRassel of Lebel-sur-Quevillon, Quebec, was usher.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue ensemble of printed silk dress with matching turquoise mandarin style coat and turquoise and gun metal accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue knitted suit, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following a reception at the Shrine Club, the couple left for a wedding trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico. For traveling the bride chose a turquoise double knit coat and dress ensemble with black accessories and a white gardenia and pink chrysanthemum corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ficker will live at 2700 Montour St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Mr., Mrs. G. Bradshaw Married 65 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Geddes Bradshaw, R. R. 4, Belleville, celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary March 26.

To mark the happy occasion a family dinner party was held at Front Road United Church Hall March 25, when the UCW of the church catered to a turkey dinner.

Glen Bradshaw, the couple's only son, was chairman for the evening and presented them with a gift certificate from the family. Fred Stone, eldest grandson, spoke on behalf of the grandchildren, after which Miss Debbie Stone, great granddaughter, presented them with a gift. Bill Stone spoke a few words. Don Leeming thanked the ladies for the dinner and Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw thanked all those present. Mrs. Kenneth Denyes showed slides of her trip to the Holy Land.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw were at home to their relatives, friend and neighbors at Front Road United Church Hall on the following afternoon. Pink and white streamers and bells formed a background for the tea-table, which was tastefully decorated with a white linen cloth, lily-of-the-valley centre, decorated in white and pink roseboads, centred the table. Pink candles flanked the cake, with silver tea-service at either end.

The couple's six daughters and one daughter-in-law poured tea alternately, while the granddaughters, Susan Murray Bradshaw, a grandson, invited all to sign the guest book.

Telegrams were received from the Queen, the Prime Minister, Lester B. Pearson, Hon. John Diefenbaker and Lee Grills.

Sixty-five years ago Charles Geddes Bradshaw took as his bride Emma Martha Jones, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Jones. They were married at the Methodist parsonage, Foxboro, by the Rev. Prosper Neville. They have resided on the Front Road for the past 58 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw have six daughters, Mrs. Charles Bedford (Gertrude), R. R. 1, Belleville; Mrs. Rous Spencer (Bessie), Moscow; Mrs. William Stone, (Gladys), Barrie; Mrs. Ross Snell (Alma), R. R. 4, Belleville; Mrs. Don Leeming (Lois), R. R. 6, Belleville, and one son, Glenn Bradshaw, Foxboro. Another son, Murney, is deceased. There are 19 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

U.C.W. Meetings

TABERNACLE UCW

The United Church Women of Tabernacle United Church were joined by the Holloway Street United Church Women for the regular March meeting.

Mrs. E. Cornish, the president opened the meeting with prayer and conducted the business. Following this, Mrs. D. Lockyer presented an informative talk on Nigeria, illustrated by the use of slides taken while she and her family were living there.

Mrs. Lockyer was thanked by Mrs. Conley on behalf of the Holloway group and by Mrs. E. Cornish for Tabernacle.

A social hour was enjoyed with lunch being served by Unit 3.

Women Move Clubs Out Of Parlor

OTTAWA (CP) — American women have moved their clubs out of the parlor into the conference room, the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of the United States said Thursday.

Mrs. D. Pearce, head of 11,000,000-member organization said in an interview modern clubwomen have lost interest in the social chatter that appealed to their grandmothers.

"We're and to change our programs to appeal to a better educated, better informed and more curious generation of women.

Mrs. Pearce is visiting Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal on a five-day tour sponsored by the centennial commission.

International understanding should be a top-priority aim of women's club programs, she says.

A club should be "home, with the walls extended" to include interests in the development of a woman's community, country and the world.

Church Groups

CHRIST CHURCH W.A.

Evening Branch

The monthly business meeting of Christ Church Evening Branch W.A. was in charge of the president, Mrs. A. Bonnett, who conducted the devotional service assisted by Mrs. J. Kilburn, Mrs. L. Mason, Mrs. E. Smith and Mrs. A. Smith. Mrs. L. Williams presided at the piano.

Following the various reports the members were reminded to bring in their thank-offering in preparation of the annual in Kingston, May 2. It is hoped, if enough W.A. members are interested, a bus will be chartered to attend this event.

A letter was received from the Social Community Services of Belleville and District Inc. concerning meals-on-wheels.

One of the members of the committee will speak to the group and give further information on the project.

An invitation was received from Roslin to attend a "Gay Nineties Tea" sale and antique display.

Members were reminded of their freshening tea and coffee night this Friday.

Next meeting will be a social evening.

Following closing prayers a quit game on Euster and the hour was thoroughly enjoyed.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. F. Goodfellow and Mrs. S. Bull.

Must Talk Frankly to Roomer Before Feelings Are Hurt

Dear Doris: We used our front two rooms to an elderly lady. During the hot weather last summer she baked me if she could take her meals with us to save her doing the cooking. What a grave mistake I made saying yes! — Jay Jay

Right after our evening meal she flops down in an easy chair in the living room and sits in front of the TV until 10:30 every night of our lives. Last night I had company and we sat in the kitchen in order to talk. Also, she will often refer to a telephone conversation which she has overheard and thinks nothing of inquiring about things that have absolutely nothing to do with her.

I have two teen-aged daughters. They resent her constantly climbing in when they are corrected. However, if I go out there is never any worry because I know she is there. Then, too, she is a very nice, kindly lady, not crabby or mean.

What would you suggest, Doris? I need the rent money, but am afraid our feelings towards her will deteriorate if this keeps up. If there was some way to say it tactfully — but I'm afraid she'd just sulk! — Needing a Little Peace

Dear Needing: Reminds me of the camel who gradually talked his way into the tent until his Arab master was crowded out.

Some day there'll be a blow-up and feelings will be hurt. You are the one who can prevent this by talking frankly now. Start by assuring your roomer that you like having her — as a roomer — and want her to stay on under the original arrangement.

Tell her you need time alone with your family and you need your living room. If she balks, she'll get over it. It's kill or cure now.

Dear Doris: Is it necessary to put the names of the parents of the groom on the wedding invitation? This issue came up in our family. — Interested.

Dear Interested: No. The formal invitation runs something like this:

DORIS CLARE

"Mr. and Mrs. Proud Parents request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Hopeful, to Mr. Young Canadian, on Saturday, the 8th of June, etc."

Confidential to Considering: There are plastic surgeons right across Canada who will perform surgery on a nose to correct a defect. The cost and the length of time it takes depend a good deal on how much work has to be done and how much healing has to take place.

Sometimes it is an office operation; but extensive work may require hospitalization and a longer time to heal. Your own family doctor is the person who can refer you to a specialist.

Confidential to Young Teen-Ager: Midnight is late for a girl 13. You could get into a tough spot and not know how to protect yourself. Your parents don't want this to happen, and neither do you. "Tough spots" do happen before midnight, but keeping good hours goes with good clean fun.

A man 21 is just not in your league. As you say, age isn't everything — but it is something, and a mighty important something. Has it ever occurred to you that he is nearly half as old again as you are?

Easy-to-Manage Coifs Begin With Pop-on Wig

By Reba & Bonnie Churchill

Travel-tamed hair-dos that dash from an airport to an art gallery are the face (and time) saving delight of the on-the-go set. The easy-to-manage coiffures begin with a pop-on-wig that boasts a fringe either short or trimmed ear-length, the other jaw length. The result of this asymmetrical styling is that you can have either a short or long hair look with a flick of the comb. Another travel trick, illustrated by actress Salli Sachse, is "frosting" a few of his undercurls in a contrasting color. Peeking through the hair, they appear as sun-glinted highlights, combed to the surface, they provide glamor streaks, or completely concealed, they disappear leaving hair monotone as before.

Windy weather and hectic schedules present no hair-raising problems when hidden under this "cap of hair." Worn like a well-fitted cloche, it hugs the head; then, dips a fringe of bangs onto the forehead. The latter provide quick styling variations with bangs teased full and long during daytime, sleek and parted for afternoon, thin and pointed for evening. Those quick changes do not alter the basic hairpiece. According to wig specialist, Joseph Marshall, usually once a month is frequent enough for a new set, every two or three months adequate for cleaning.

Since one out of eight girls own a wig, or some form of falsi hair, they are learning how to adapt them to their travel and fashion needs. For instance, a favorite is a covey of curls that cover the crown or the back of the head with equal ease. The softly styled ringlets can be dressed up or down by merely changing accessories. For example, Salli, who travels around 20,000 miles a year appearing in such films as American-International's "Thunder Alley," discovered a bandeau, bauble, or barrette can be packed in two inches of suitcase space, yet expand a coiffure for weeks of travel.

Points for Parents

By MARY BRYSON

Mother: "Johnny, you're spilling the milk. You're too little to pour milk from a bottle. Please go to the other room until dinner is ready."

Mother: "I'll put the milk in this small pitcher and you fill the glasses carefully. Then you can put the pitcher on the table. I appreciate your help."

Let the small child know that work is satisfying. Start him with small tasks and you will be more likely to get help with bigger tasks when he is older.

Ann Landers

College Girls Do Boy Friends' Laundry

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You are going to call this shot, Ann Landers, and if you are with "them" and not me, I will crawl back into the cobwebs and never offer another opinion.

Last weekend our daughter brought her roommate home from college. Our daughter always does her laundry when she comes home and her roommate brought her laundry, too, which was fine with me. I happened to see the roommate ironing a man's shirt and I asked whose it was. She replied, "My boy friend's. And darn it, I have seven shirts this week.

ANN LANDERS

At the risk of sounding square I told her I had never heard of a girl doing her boy friend's laundry. Both she and my daughter said it was the "in" thing and that any girl at college who wasn't doing a fellow's laundry was considered a cripple.

Am I crazy when I say this is contrary too chummy? — FORTY SEVEN AND AGING FAST.

DEAR AGING: If a boy is smart enough to find a girl who is dumb enough to do his laundry, why knock it?

I'll bet a giant-sized box of detergent that the hundresses end up with a ring around the washtub, and somebody else got the ring on the finger.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was fascinated by the letter from "Life Is a Ding Heap." The woman said anyone who has to write to Ann Landers for help has a screw loose, yet she had joined the throng without even realizing it. I address my remarks to her:

I am the "ramp" (?) who is seeing your husband. I would like to make one point clear, however, he is not keeping me. I make $200 a week. And I am not a dumb blonde. I have a master's degree from Columbia University and I'm a brunet.

I did not go after your husband. It was quite the reverse. He finds something in me that he did not find in you — principally a keen appreciation for life and the good things it has to offer. Until he met me, he thought life was a dung heap, too.

And now, because I'm a good sport, I'll give you some advice: If you want your husband back, lose some weight, stop complaining, and make your home a heaven to come home to. Spoil him, fuss over him, he deserves it. In fact, he's the finest man in the world and don't forget, he is your husband. I wish he were mine. — BRONXVILLE.

DEAR BRONXVILLE: Here's your letter, and if that wife is wise she'll take your advice. I couldn't have done better myself.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I had a little boy out of wedlock seven years ago. I knew I would be difficult to keep him but I couldn't bear to give him up, so I am doing my best.

I have told my family and friends that I was married secretly to an Army officer who was killed overseas. Only my mother knows the truth.

The boy keeps asking for a picture of his Daddy and I wonder if I should show him a picture of my cousin who was killed in the Korean War. It would keep him happy and solve the problem. Your answer will be my decision. — A.G.S.

DEAR A.G.S.: Don't add another lie to the one you now have going. It will complicate matters (lies always do), and you'll have to make up six more lies to cover it. Tell the boy you have no picture.

Peanut Brittle, Children's Delight

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Do you have a recipe for Peanut Brittle? I hope you do for my five children enjoy it immensely when they go to candy sales etc. — Mrs. Catherine J.

ANSWER: For the delight of your five children and many others here is —

PEANUT BRITTLE

1½ cups corn syrup
¾ cup granulated sugar
6 tbsps. peanut butter
¼ tsp. soda
1¼ tsps. salt
1½ cups peanuts with skins on

NOTE: If peanuts are salted reduce salt to 1¼ tsps.

Stir together the syrup and sugar and cook at 280 deg. F. (light crack stage). Have ready the soda, salt and peanut butter mixed together, also 8"x16" well-buttered pan, covered thickly with layer of peanuts. As soon as temperature is reached, remove syrup from heat and add soda, salt and peanut butter, stir quickly and well and quickly pour over peanuts evenly. Let harden until cold.

FRIDAY

Dinner Menu

Chilled Vegetable Juice; Broiled Fillets of Flounder; Lemon Butter; Fluffy Mashed Potatoes; Sliced Carrots in Parsley Butter; Frulted Jelly; Honey Twirl (see Wed.); Tea.

QUESTION: Last summer on holidays we ordered in a restaurant the "specialty of the house" which was "Pepper Pot Soup". This was most delicious and I have tried ever since to find a recipe for this. Could you please help me out? Thank you for printing so many wonderful recipes. — A Mother of Three ANSWER: Your request is a good one but again I must ask for names and addresses. I could have mailed this to you direct. However I feel other readers will welcome this for I have never given the recipe here.

PEPPER POT SOUP
(sometimes called Philadelphia Pepper Pot)

1 meaty beef soup bone, cracked
6 cups cold water
1½ lbs. honeycomb tripe (see below)
2 tsps. salt
¼ (or ½) tsp. black pepper (preferably freshly ground)
5 med. onions, chopped
½ green pepper
1 cup finely chopped celery
2 tbsps. butter
1 cup chopped potatoes
¼ tsp. thyme
¼ tsp. marjoram
¼ tsp. allspice

Milk or cream or evaporated milk (see below)

In soup pot add water to soup bone and add ¼ tsp. of the salt and ¼ tsp. of the pepper and simmer covered 3 hrs. Thoroughly wash tripe and cook in salted (½ tsp.) water to cover until tender — 2½ to 3 hrs. Drain and cut tripe into tiny strips. Strain beef stock and chill. Skim off and discard fat. Cut and chop meat from bone and discard bone. Gently sauté in butter, the onion, green pepper and celery until limp, not brown. In soup pot add to the strained fat-free stock the chopped meat, sautéed vegetables, strips of tripe, potato and all remaining seasonings. Cook, covered, until potatoes are tender. If soup is too thick add cream or evaporated milk, using your own judgment.

Sunday School Lesson

God 'Right Here', Not 'Out There'

By CLARENCE W. CRANFORD

These are days when science flings our minds into outer space as it pursues its program to put a man on the moon. These are also days when we are told that too many people think of God as being "out there," as if He were a kind of a cosmic astronaut who lives in some distant heavenly place instead of being in the midst of human events.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for April 9: "The Coming Of The Holy Spirit," John 14:15-17; 25-27; 16:5-11; Acts 2:1-13; Galatians 5:18-25.

Of course, if God is the Maker of heaven and earth, He is "out there." If God exists, He exists everywhere. There is no place where He is not. Men will not out-distance God by going to the moon. But what people really want to know is this: Is God "right here" to help in time of trouble?

The Bible answers, "Yes" as it tells about His Holy Spirit. The New Testament says that God manifests Himself in three ways. Just as water exists in three forms, liquid, solid and vapor, so God manifests Himself in three ways: Father, Son, and Spirit. As Father he creates us. As Son He redeems us. As Holy Spirit, He strengthens and sustains us.

The Holy Spirit did not come into existence at Pentecost anymore than ice came into existence when refrigeration was invented. Always there have been those who experienced the Spirit of God. Pentecost is when the disciples of Jesus felt the power of the Holy Spirit in a special way in their lives. (Acts 2:1-13)

Jesus' death was drawing near. Before it came, He promised His disciples that when He left them, God's Spirit would come to take His place. This Spirit would be their "Counselor," (John 14:16 RSV) or "Comforter," (John 14:16 KJV). The Greek word from which those terms are translated means "One called alongside." God's Spirit would be alongside to comfort and guide them.

This Spirit can only be seen by faith. Without faith, the world cannot "receive" God's Spirit. (John 14:17) It cannot see God under a microscope, or find Him with a telescope. It cannot prove God in a test-tube. God's presence is a spiritual presence. His presence can only be known by the practice of faith.

The practice of faith means obedience to God's will. Jesus had instructed His disciples to stay together in Jerusalem till they had received divine power. (Luke 24:49) They must have wanted to scatter. They were Galileans, and wanted to get back home. Jerusalem could even be a dangerous place for them to be. But Jesus commanded it, so they obeyed.

They spent much of their time in prayer. It was on the day of Pentecost when they were all together in one place that the power of the Holy Spirit came to them. Presumably they had been praying. The King James' translation says they were all "with one accord" when they felt the presence of God's Spirit. (Acts 2:1) They had not always been with one accord. Often they were quarreling, self-seeking disciples. (Matthew 20:20-24) John says that at that point the Holy Spirit was denied them. (John 7:39) It was not until they had prayed themselves empty of self and into a spirit of unity that they were filled with divine power.

Many persons are discovering that they have their deepest spiritual experience when they become a part of a small seeking group that comes together regularly for Bible study and prayer. Many churches have been revitalized by such groups. Such groups can become cells of spiritual power in churches where many of the members have become casual in their relationship to God.

They 120 disciples did not stay in one long-drawn-out prayer meeting. They rushed out into the crowded city to tell what Jesus had happened to them. (Acts 2:6-11) All barriers were down as they told their bold story. The barriers of race, even the barriers of language, did not stop them. Many did not understand what was happening. Some even thought the disciples were drunk. (Acts 2:13) All were impressed. When Peter interpreted their experience, and told the story of Jesus, as many as three thousand persons responded in faith, and were baptized into the new Christian fellowship. (Acts 2:41)

The enthusiastic witness of these first Christians is a far cry from the lukewarm devotion of many church members today. God might be in some distant planet so far as their lives are concerned. They give little or no evidence of a daily walk with God. But God will not be content to remain "out there." He wants to be alongside men in their struggle for truth, justice, and peace.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1967

A few years ago at a sports celebrities dinner in Toronto a darkly handsome young man walked into the spotlight on the guest dais. He acknowledged standing applause with a slight bow and said in a voice a scarcely above a whisper;

"Thank you".

He was Floyd Patterson then heavyweight champion of the world. White teeth flashed in a shy smile as he stepped down to shake hands with newsmen and other guests.

For a man then in the hot glare of sports publicity spotlights, Patterson it perhaps the most modest chap I have ever seen.In the sometimes weird and wacky realm of athletics.

The shy self-spoken Patterson is a gentleman of the first water. Not all the Clays or Alsopes in the world [illegible] that away from him. Talking with the media he never once raised his voice above a conversational tone.

There was nothing of the Clay braggart about him. His eyes swept slowly over the group as he answered questions in terse sentences. He added over...1,200 fans to his following that night.

Since that night, buffeted by the bludgeonings of chance and the fickleness of his fellow man, Patterson has slid down the heavyweight ladder.

In fact among fight fans there is not much respect for his ability any more. In recent years he was "tortured for 12 rounds by Cassius Clay and twice knocked out in the first round by Sonny Liston.

What probably will be his last chance to regain the respect of the so-called faithful occurs on April 25 when he meets the world champion Muhammad Ali in Las Vegas.

This much he remembers.

Patterson remembers, too, his "so-called friends."

"Sometimes you can know a person for years," he says, "or you think you do and then you meet him in person. You don't know that person at all. I'd say my friends, about a half dozen of them got more of my money than I did. Not that I'm bad off. I'm not. But they got plenty of money off me. And when they didn't think I was going to box again they wanted me to keep trying, so they'd still be around for me to give them money. Now they're too ashamed to contact me."

Patterson went into some sort of semi-retirement after his third knockout. He lived in a quiet hideaway in the quiet hills above Newburgh, N.Y., a virtual recluse in a white weatherbeaten wooden building.

He lived with one trainer. "No one else I loved it. The seclusion, the long walks ,the road work."

It was a throwback to his boyhood days in Brooklyn when he used to hide in an old toolshed, spread papers on the floor and go to sleep. "The total blackness," he recalls, "was my deliverance from the bitterness of the world. I found peace of mind there."

"I don't even have a home in New York" he said. "I live [illegible] here. I go to New York once a month...I'm managing the parts of my life that other people have wounded. I don't stay overnight. Back the same day."

Coming out of retirement Patterson has fought a few bouts with practical unknowns and has worked himself in to shape. His back has not bothered him since he started the comeback training.

The motivation behind his comeback, of course is the upcoming bout with Clay.

"And no matter what you may have read," he says, "Clay did not carry me. He just was not taking any chances with me after seven or eight rounds. The last few was carrying me was put into his head. But when I meet Clay this month I'd like to be able to put the face of any of my so-called friends on his head. Then I'd have no problem beating him. My mind will determine whether I can beat Clay, my mental outlook."

Clay has blabbed about Patterson being a "legend." Legend or not, I hope he cuts the cockerel's cackcomb. But don't hold your breath.

Orioles, Pirates Tops

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore Orioles and Pittsburgh Pirates were picked to win the 1967 major league baseball pennants Thursday in the annual Associated Press poll. Los Angeles Dodgers, defending National League champions, were tabbed to drop all the way to sixth place.

The Orioles were selected to repeat as American League titleholders by 83 of the 133 baseball writers and broadcasters participating in the balloting. The Pirates drew 85 votes for first place in the National League.

On the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third down to one for a last place vote, Baltimore collected 1,300 points followed by Minnesota Twins with 1,148.

Detroit Tigers was picked to finish third followed in order by Chicago, Cleveland, California, New York, Kansas City, Boston and Washington.

The Pirates accumulated 1,289 points. San Francisco drew the next highest total, 1,178. Then came Atlanta, Philadelphia, St. Lou's, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Houston, New York and Chicago.

Erase 4-1 Deficit ★★★★★ ★★★★★ Backstrom Won It

Habs Roar Back With 5 In Third!

By ALEXANDER FARRELL

MONTREAL (CP)—If hockey has a higher honor than the Stanley Cup, Montreal Canadiens can win it on the speed and power they showed in the last 11 minutes of Thursday night's playoff opener here against New York Rangers.

Tearing the Rangers' defence to shreds, the Canadiens, defending Stanley Cup champions, scored five unanswered goals in the third period to erase a 4-1 deficit and claim a 6-4 victory.

Second game of the best-of-seven semi-finals will be played here Saturday afternoon.

"When we were behind 4-1, I thought we'd had it," said Montreal coach Toe Blake.

In the other dressing room, Rangers manager-coach Emile Francis said: "When you're down 4-1, as the Canadiens were in the third period, you're looking for a lift. They got it on their second goal and after that, they just kept coming."

Francis said he could scarcely remember his team touching the puck after the 9:12 mark of the third period, when Canadiens got their second goal.

Claude Provost scored this key Montreal goal, poking a rebound at New York goalie Ed Giacomin of Dick Duff's rebound. Provost's shot trickled over Giacomin's glove and came to rest barely an inch inside the goal line.

In no time at all, it was apparent that Rangers had lost control of the game. Some 20 seconds later, Henri Richard won the faceoff near the New York net and passed to defenceman Jean - Claude Tremblay, whose quick shot took Giacomin completely by surprise.

Jean Beliveau set up the tying goal for Montreal, working the puck over to Giacomin's left from the centre of the blue line and firing a long shot that was tipped in by John Ferguson.

Ralph Backstrom got the winning goal on a blazing backhander at 14:15, his second score of the night. He got Montreal's first goal in the second period, after former Canadiens star Bernard Geoffrion opened the scoring for the Rangers with one of his patented booming drives from the right point.

Beliveau completed the scoring late in the third period on a drop-pass from Provost, who pulled the Rangers defence off to one side and zipped the puck back to the tall centre. Beliveau had it in the net before Giacomin could move.

There was one thing about the game from which the Rangers could draw satisfaction. "The power plays sure as hell produced for us," as Francis put it.

New York's first three goals, the scores by Geoffrion and two by Rod Gilbert, all came when Montreal was short-handed.

Defencemen Jacques Laperriere was off with a minor penalty when Geoffrion scored, and a major penalty to him for high-sticking Earl Ingarfield paved the way for Gilbert's first goal, which put the Rangers ahead 2-1 by the end of the second period.

During Laperriere's major, the Rangers fired 11 shots at Montreal's rookie goalie, Gogelias Vachon. They had only three in the rest of the period.

Dave Balon was in the penalty box when Gilbert, slamming in his own rebound, boosted New York into a 3-1 lead early in the third period. For a change, Canadiens were at full strength when Vic Hadfield got the Rangers' last goal just past the five-minute mark.

Rangers may be without one of their most reliable forwards, Phil Goyette, in the second game. Leaping to get out of Geoffrion's way when the veteran right winger took a fall late in the second period, Goyette tumbled and apparently pulled a groin muscle.

He took the opening faceoff in the third period but left the game 15 seconds later, complaining of pain.

Vachon, who made his first appearance in a playoff contest, said he wasn't nervous going into the game.

"I didn't think about it as my first playoff," he said. "I just looked at it as another game against the New York Rangers.

"But I don't mind saying that I'm glad to have the first playoff game over."

Vachon played in Canadiens nets for the last 19 games of the regular schedule and made an impressive showing. Canadiens lost only one of their last 18 season games and closed out the schedule with an 11-game unbeaten streak. -

Curry; Habs In Five

Floyd Curry, former right wing star with Montreal Canadiens from 1961-1963, later coach of Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League and now co-ordinator of player development for the Montreal club, was in the Forum Thursday night when Montreal defeated New York 6-4 in the first game of their Stanley Cup semi - final.

Written for The Canadian Press
By FLOYD CURRY

MONTREAL (CP) — I don't recall a team coming from behind in a Stanley Cup playoff the way Canadiens did tonight.

Actually the Rangers had only one good shot at winning and that was during the five-minute major to Jacques Laperriere in the second period. Up till the time he went off I think they only had three shots on goal in the first 13 minutes, but they finished the period with 14 shots.

In the first period New York appeared satisfied just to sit back and wait for Montreal to make mistakes. They kept shooting the puck in as if to challenge Canadiens to get it out of their own end.

The game had a couple of turning points. Early in the third Claude Provost got Canadiens' second goal. I think he was as surprised as Giacomin. Eddie seemed to help the puck into the net.

A lot of criticism has been levelled at Toe Blake for switching his lines around so much this year, but it paid off tonight.

He put John Ferguson with Beliveau and Yvan Cournoyer and then alternated Dick Duff and Gilles Tremblay at left wing with Backstrom and Larose. He juggled Provost in there and it made the difference because they scored goals.

I don't think Canadiens skated as well tonight as they did in the fight for second place. But if Rangers hope to win the series they'll have to skate with them.

You notice how Rangers bogged down after Phil Goyette suffered that groin injury there at the end of the 20 second period. They'll miss him if he's out for the next game.

Canadiens have the strength down the centre. Backstrom got two goals and Beliveau one and even though Richard didn't score he was moving all night.

If Canadiens play all their games the way they played this one — changing lines when it's necessary — I think you'll find they have too much bench strength for the Rangers.

But don't worry, the Rangers have been stung and they'll come out fighting Saturday. But I still call Montreal to win in five games.

New York had a bad break when the score was 4-4 and Kurtenbach got a breakaway, but Vachon came out and made him overskate the puck, and miss the open net.

Right after that Backstrom came back and got the goal that put Montreal ahead.

Leads Masters By Three

Course Fancy For Bert Yancey

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer went tromping through a muddy ditch, Jack Nicklaus floundered through woods and water. Billy Casper was bothered by the gusty, fickle winds.

But for Bert Yancey it was all clover, sweet lies and gentle breezes.

"It's a friendly course," he said Thursday after forging a five-under-par 67 and taking a three-stroke lead in the first round of the Stat Masters golf tourney.

A long ago Yancy, 28, hadn't even seen the 6,980-yard, par 72 Augusta National layout.

"Terrible," said Palmer, the only four-time champ and co-favorite with Nicklaus in the pre - tourney picking, who shot a 72.

"Not good," said Nicklaus, who has won the last two masters' titles and had a first-round 72.

"Difficult," said Casper, the reigning U.S. Open champion who recovered for a 70.

Casper, two over par in the early going, rallied to gain a share of second place with surprising Downing Gray, an amateur from Pensacola, Fla.

Julius Boros and Tony Jacklin, a 22-year-old English pro, were locked at 71 while Nicklaus and 10 others - including George Knudson of Toronto, San Francisco amateur John Miller and veteran Sam Snead — were tied with 72s.

Knudson had two rounds of 36, but Gary Owen of Kitchener, Ont., reigning U.S. Amateur king, didn't fare nearly so well. He finished five-over-par 41,77 with rounds of 38 and 39.

Yancey, a Talahassee, Fla., native, had six birdies, was error-free once, hit all 18 greens and 17 fairways in his excellent round. He came into his own on the pro tour last season, winning three tournaments and $42,938.

Palmer said the grass on the fairway was very deep "giving us a bit of greasy lies." Nicklaus made the same observation.

Both also complained of the wind, tricky, shifting and gusty.

"You just couldn't tell what the ball was going to do," Palmer said.

Casper had even more trouble. He was over par on the first hole when, on the backswing for his second shot, a spectator's hat blew to within a yard of the ball, he jumped and flubbed the shot.

Australian Bruce Devlin got only the second double eagle in the tournament's history, on the 535-yard eighth. After a big drive, he sent a four-wood to the front of the green, it bounced once and was in the cup.

The field will be trimmed today to the low 44 and all players within 10 shots of the leader for the last two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Flyers, Wings All Even

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Red Wings rallied for three goals late in the third period Thursday night to tie Niagara Falls Flyers 4-4 in the sixth game of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A semi-finals.

Each team now has six points with two wins apiece and two ties in the eight-point series. Seventh game is in Niagara Falls tonight with the eighth, if necessary, here Sunday.

Flyers spotted Hamilton the only goal of the first period and then scored the only two goals of the second. They had a 4-1 lead until the middle of the final period.

Clement Tremblay and Tom Webster scored a pair each for the Flyers.

Danny Lawson, leading scorer in the series, scored his eighth and ninth goals to spearhead the Hamilton come-back. Ronald LeClerc and Jim Adair scored one each.

Hull Key Figure

Hawks Whip Leafs With Power Play

By DAVID MILLER

CHICAGO (CP)—Bobby Hull said he felt like a man of 80 Thursday night and Toronto Maple Leafs would like to see him start collecting his old age pension today.

Hull, a doubtful starter because of a knee injury, was the key figure as Chicago Black Hawks defeated the Leafs 5-3 in the first game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-finals.

"They killed us on the power play," Toronto coach Punch Imlach said.

"That's the real story of the game. We had a couple of good chances but just couldn't put the puck in the net. We couldn't handle them when they got going."

Hull scored on a power play early in the second period and had an assist on Pierre Pilote's goal in the first period.

Stan Mikita, Ken Wharram and Lou Angotti got the other Chicago goals and Frank Mahovlich and Jim Pappin scored for the Leafs.

In the dressing room after sitting out most of the third period, Hull said:

"I played like a man of 80. The leg is sore, I took a couple of good shots out there, but I could have gone out playing my regular shift if they needed me."

The Hawks didn't need him. They outplayed and outclassed the lackluster Leafs, building leads of 2-0 after the first period and 4-1 after the second.

"The Leafs were a bit below par at times," said Chicago coach Billy Reay in the understatement of the night. "But they were very aggressive at times."

"I didn't expect we would win that easily. The last time we played them they beat us 9-3 in Toronto. But certainly they didn't play that way here tonight."

Chicago picked up nine minor penalties, one major and misconduct. The Leafs received eight minors and Mahovlich. But Reay wasn't surprised. "I expected a good rough game and it was no rougher than I anticipated."

The majors and misconduct both got five-minute majors. Imlach didn't mind the roughness, but he felt there were some cheap goals scored.

"Actually the Hawk's fourth goal (by Mikita) was the only good one," he said.

Mikita got it at the halfway mark of the second period when he slid a loose puck past Terry Sawchuk. The Toronto netminder had trouble seconds before on Wharram's breakaway slapshot and Mikita knocked in the fumble.

But Hull's was the most unusual goal of the night. He scored it early in the second period after taking a pass from Pilote at the blue line.

Hull swooped in on the left side, faked a shot, went by the Toronto net and passed back out toward Pilote. But the puck appeared to hit Horton and bounced into the net past a surprised Sawchuk.

"The puck hit my stick," said Horton. But Sawchuk denied it was Horton's fault.

"I tried to grab it but I knocked it right in with my glove."

The Leafs left Chicago today and plan to practice in Toronto Saturday before returning here Saturday night for the second game of the series Sunday night.

Imlach said he was making the long trek because of a lack of practice ice in Chicago.

"There is no ice here and if I left my group at loose ends for three days I'd never be able to find them."

With about 10 minutes to play in the game, Imlach removed Sawchuk from the ice in favor of a sixth attacker, with the Hawks leading 4-1.

"You can't stop trying," he said. "They took a penalty and we were three goals down. It could have backfired, but it really didn't make much difference at that point."

Chicago goalie Denis DeJordy made 40 saves, compared to Sawchuk's 26.

Blair Picks The Hawks

Wren Blair, general-manager of Minnesota North Stars, one of the National Hockey League's six expansion teams, and former manager of Memorial Cup and Allan Cup champion teams as well as manager of Whitby Dunlops when they won the world championship, was in Chicago Stadium Thursday night when Chicago Black Hawks dumped Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3 in the first game of their Stanley Cup semi-final.

Written for The Canadian Press

By WREN BLAIR

CHICAGO (CP) — I watched the first game of the Stanley Cup semi-finals Thursday night and I can't honestly see the team that's going to beat this Chicago Black Hawk club.

I don't think Toronto played especially well, but then you have to remember who it was playing.

This Chicago club is possibly the best team in the National Hockey League since the great era of Montreal Canadiens when Rocket Richard and Boom Boom Geoffrion were in their heyday.

If the Hawks are any less great than the Montreal maestros of that day it is probably because they have a weaker power play.

But the Hawks have all the depth and polish. Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita are the Geoffrion and Richard of today. And the Hawks have Pierre Pilote. I'm certain he's as great as Doug Harvey was 10 years ago.

I thought both coaches made some dramatic and courageous moves during last night's game. Chicago coach Billy Reay didn't fool around.

He took with his big guns. He didn't play Kenny Hodge and gave John Miszuk only a few turns after the game was wrapped up. But I was particularly impressed when Toronto coach Punch Imlach pulled his goaltender in favor of a sixth attacker when the Leafs were behind 4-1.

A guy like that has guts. You have to admire him.

I think the great difference in this Hawk club this season, however, rests on the fact that two men who had retired before the season started, goaltender Glenn Hall and forward Billy Hey, came back.

It really lifted the club.

Then, of course, Ed Van Impe came in to fill the gap left by the retirement of Elmer Vasko.

But, of course, the real reason for the Hawks' success is Mikita—he's finally decided to settle down and play hockey.

He was one of the bad men of the league during his early career, but this year he's both top scorer as well as top candidate for the Lady Byng Trophy.

Rangers Win Bantam "A" Championship

Police Rangers won the BMHA bantam "A" championship last night by virtue of a 3-1 decision over the Wings.

The two - goal spread was the difference in the two - game, goals-to-count series which the Rangers won by a 5-4 count.

Eighteen after goal and Rymaize picked up a lone assist.

Goegan scored the Wings' lone goal with assist credited to Tracey and Miex.

The game was clean and hard-fought although Adamson drew all three Wing penalties, including a misconduct in the final minute. Rangers took only one minor penalty.

The final game of the bantam "B" championship series will be played tonight, as well as the final tyke game.

Softballers Convene

By GARRY ALEXANDER
(Staff Sportswriter)

NORTH YORK — It is "moving year" in the Ontario Amateur Softball Association executive and one of the gentlemen hoping to step upward is Belleville's Clifford Belch Jr.

The 43th annual OASA convention commences here today with hundreds of softball executives and enthusiasts from across the province in attendance.

The general meeting is slated for 2.00 Saturday afternoon at which time the election of officers for 1967 will be held.

Peterborough's Harold Dormer is completing his second year as president and while he has been nominated again, it is unlikely he will stand.

Willowdale's Clare Butler, first vice-president for the past two years, is his likely successor. Andy Davidson, Stratford, has also been nominated.

Three vice-presidents will also be elected and Belch has been nominated for third vice president. He confirmed today that he would stand for the position.

Belch was elected to the executive committee last year after serving two years as a appointee. He has also been nominated for the committee again this year and should he fail in his bid for third vice president, he will stand for one of the six positions here. Twenty-three men have been nominated, including another Belleville man, Jim Tebworth. Tebworth will likely run for the executive committee if Belch gets the vice-president's spot.

Others nominated for third vice are Butler, C. H. Dunn of Galt, Harold Langabeer, of Kingston, L. G. Pickard, who will go back in as secretary, D. K. Prescott of Sudbury, S. Reeve of Sarnia and Charlie Russell of Oshawa.

W. L. Algaire will return unopposed to the treasurer's position as will Pickard as secretary.

Most amendments to the constitution going before the delegates this year are of minor importance.

Numerous Belleville and area persons are among the delegates here.

The truth about swinging Britain

Not all of Britain swings. There's still a traditional Britain that's truly unforgettable. It's simply a matter of choice. Some of our passengers fly to Britain for a swinging vacation. Others prefer the things which you find only in Britain . . . splendid castles, the changing of the guard, Hillsides ablaze with purple heather.

Only BOAC with Air Canada flies direct to Britain, and this summer we offer you the choice of up to 12 jet services a day from Toronto and Montreal. And there are several flights a week from western Canada; including direct services to London.

Plan your trip now. See your BOAC travel agent and he'll plan your kind of British vacation.

200,000 Will Watch Quarter-Finals

LONDON (Reuters) — More than 200,000 soccer - crazy fans will watch the quarter - final matches of the English Football Association Cup Saturday as the eight surviving clubs fight to reach the final at London's Wembley Stadium May 20.

The last few tickets were snapped up this week for the four games—Birmingham City vs. Tottenham Hotspur; Chelsea vs. Sheffield Wednesday; Leeds United vs. Manchester City, and Nottingham Forest vs. Everton.

The outstanding match will be at Nottingham where reigning cup - holders Everton faces a mighty test against the surprise team of the season. Forest has lost only once in its 29 games and is only two points behind league - leading Manchester United. Forest last won the cup in 1959.

Lone - serving centre - half Bob McKinley and tough-tackling captain and wing-half Terry Hennessey are the key men in Forest's defence. Even with the goals of red - haired England forward Alan Ball, Everton faces a formidable task.

Birmingham City, the only second division team left in the competition, faces revived Tottenham Hotspur, unbeaten in its last 14 league games.

Sharp - shooting Spurs' inside-forward Jimmy Graves will be taken to celebrate his recall to the England team with a goal-laden performance against Birmingham.

Spurs have yet to meet a fellow first division team in this season's cup campaign, but many experts feel the London team is well placed to repeat its cup triumphs of 1961 and 1962.

London's other representatives, Chelsea, will not relish its clash with Sheffield Wednesday. The well - drilled northerners knocked Chelsea out of the cup in the semi-final last season and won 6-1 when the teams met in a league match earlier this season.

Leeds United, a joint cup favorites with Spurs, are similar to Chelsea—a team on the verge of major honors for the last two seasons. Beaten finalists in 1965, Leeds looked a near-certainty to beat Manchester City, which is near the bottom of the league competition standings. Like Chelsea and Birmingham, Leeds never has won the cup. Manchester City has proved its defensive ability since being promoted to the first division last year, but seems to lack the top - class forwards needed in this type of cut-throat competition.

Predicted semi - finalists are Leeds United, Nottingham Forest, Chelsea and Tottenham Hotspur.

Five Selected

Brown, Rexe Join Aces

Two members of the Belleville Mo-Hawks were among five players selected by the Kingston Aces to join the club in their quest for the 1967 Allan Cup, it was learned here today.

Kingston won the OHA Senior "A" group championship recently and are allowed to pick up the players from their own group before advancing into the Dominion playoffs. The Aces open their next series against Morrisburg, in the latter's rink, tonight.

"As I understand the rule, Kingston can use the three forwards as of now but the goalies selected are for emergency use only," OHA vice-president Jack Devine said yesterday.

The Mo-Hawks picked up are left-winger Wayne "Wiener" Brown and goalie Steve Rexe.

The other forwards chosen were centre Dave McComb of Collingwood, and winger Jackie Price of Oakville. Collingwood goalie Chuck Jewell was also named.

McComb was the group's scoring leader, all-star centre and Most Valuable Player while Price finished well up in the scoring and was named to the first all-star team.

Brown was fourth in the Mo-Hawk club scoring with 13 goals and 21 assists but was especially valuable on the point in powerplays and led Belleville in the quarter-final playoff series with five goals and two assists.

Rexe enjoyed a brilliant season in goal with a 3.19 regular-schedule average and a 2.57 playoff mark. Jewell had a 2.37 schedule average.

Chuck Estrada was perfect—and that might be just good enough to get him back into the major leagues.

The veteran right-hander retired all 12 men he faced Thursday night in New York Mets' 3-1 10-inning victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

Estrada, listed on the roster of the Mets' Williamsport farm club in the Eastern League, most likely will move up to the parent club on the basis of his fine showing.

The former member of the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago Cubs, who spent most of last season with Vancouver Mounties in the Pacific Coast League, didn't pitch this spring until two weeks ago because of a blister on his pitcher finger. The Mets obtained him from Vancouver for about $20,000.

Woody Held's two-run double capped a three-run 10th inning burst as Baltimore beat Minnesota Twins' 6-3 in one night game while Chicago Cubs whipped Chicago White Sox 8-4 in another.

In day games, Washington Senators outbumbled New York Yankees but still won 5-3; California Angels edged San Francisco Giants 1-0; Atlanta Braves slugged Houston Astros 8-2; Boston Red Sox topped Detroit Tigers 4-1; Kansas City Athletics crunched Philadelphia Phillies 11-3 and Cleveland Indians routed Cincinnati Reds 11-4.

Terry Haney hit a two-run homer and Frank Robinson connected with the bases empty for Baltimore and the Cubs got five runs in the fourth in beating the White Sox.

Washington committed five errors and the Yankees three, including first baseman Mickey Mantle's first of the spring.

George Brunet and Bill Kelso combined to shut out San Francisco for the Angels at Fresno, Calif. Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly in the sixth drove in the game's only run.

Eddie Mathews's two run homer in the sixth sparked Houston against Don Drysdale, who also gave up a homer to Rusty Staub.

Boston scored three times in the sixth in beating Detroit who lost Willie Horton for 12 days with a severe strain of his calf muscles.

Ed Charles hit a three-run homer in the third for Kansas City; Willie Stargell and Duke Sims homered for Cleveland and John Edwards and Chico Ruiz homered for Cincinnati.

The 510-mile Macdonald-Cartier Freyway widens to 12 lanes as it crosses Metropolitan Toronto.

It seems like only yesterday this was a country road

Today, it's the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway—the world's longest toll-free highway . . . just one example of what's happening in Ontario.

Ontario is surging ahead by leaps and bounds. Our standard of living is now one of the world's highest and our unemployment figure is only 2.5%. More new jobs are being created every day. Earned personal incomes are 18% higher per capita than the Canadian average and takehome pay has increased substantially during the last five years.

Ontario's rapidly expanding transportation systems are helping the province grow. They provide the vital arteries to let us trade within our own boundaries and to export more than a billion dollars worth of manufactured goods every year. But other factors help too. Our highly developed manufacturing skills and the confidence we show in our own products helped bring Canada the prosperity we enjoy. The remarkable thing is—we're just getting started, the best is yet to come. Help keep Canada prosperous. One way: when shopping for price and quality, SHOP CANADIAN.

ONTARIO'S GROWTH RECORD

- In Ontario, we have one car for every three persons. Toronto, in fact, registers more cars per capita than any city in the world but Los Angeles.
- Did you know that our Welland Canal handles more cargo each operating month than does the famous Panama Canal? It's a fact.
- In Ontario, we spend close to $400 million a year to build and maintain 51,000 miles of road in first-class condition.
- Ontario has the world's most advanced railway freight handling yard. It can handle 6,000 cars a day.

Nerves Frayed By Long Debate

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons debate on armed forces unification was going on for fifth straight day today and jangled nerves are becoming tattered.

All to no avail is the hope of army and air force and create a single service that 65 cloture and assembly the Commons is on clause-by-clause study.

But not a single clause has yet been approved.

Works Minister McIlraith, government House leader, pleaded Thursday night for an end to the general discussion so that examination of the clauses can begin.

He coupled his plea with a charge that "opposition arrogance is getting completely out of hand" after Terry Nugent (PC—Edmonton Strathcona) attacked Defence Minister Hellyer, absent in Washington on government business.

Mr. Nugent said Mr. Hellyer "just cannot be believed in anything" and that there is "serious doubt he has any integrity at all."

Walter Dinsdale (PC—Brandon-Souris) suggested that the cabinet, during Mr. Hellyer's absence, bring in a compromise bill.

Associate Defence Minister Cadieux urged swift passage of the bill so that implementation can get on with unifying.

The Conservatives showed no inclination to accept Mr. Cadieux's suggestion.

Chester MacRae (PC—York-Sunbury) tried to soothe tempers with an evident accuracy.

He said he is reasonably certain that many Liberal MPs have serious misgivings about unification and that some Conservatives agree with it to some extent.

". . . It seems, to me we have backed into a position where this has become an almost purely political matter in which the government, the members and the cabinet have taken a fixed position, and in which we have adopted a similar posture. I regret that."

He said integration of the services, as originally conceived and implemented, is a good idea "objectively" but he is "not convinced that we should proceed with it at this particular time and certainly not with the haste with which the minister and the government seem to be proceeding."

Mr. Meltzer on Real Estate

"What's Your Problem"

By BERNARD C. MELTZER

Most buyers think that the broker of whom they are purchasing is their representative and is thus duty-bound to look after their best interests. Many brokers do just that without being aware that they are reversing the agent-principal relationship on which broker-age is based.

Dear Mr. Meltzer: For over 30 years I have conducted a responsible real estate brokerage business. In my last sale, because I tried to be fair, I am now being sued by an unethical act and even being threatened with disciplinary action. Your comments on my case would be welcome.

An attorney listed his home with my office for $35,000 asking price. I knew the price was too high and told him so. When a prospective buyer saw the house, I told him to offer no more than $30,000 because that was the value of the property. The owner accepted and an agreement was signed.

At settlement, the buyer told everybody present of his delight with the purchase. He said he would never have been willing to pay more if I had not advised him to offer only $30,000.

After settlement, the owner-attorney sued me on uncovered terms that I was an incompetent, unethical agent and that he would report my actions to the real estate commission. Since when is being fair considered unethical act? This is the way I have been doing business for all these years. I know better than the attorney what real estate is worth. — Mr. H. F.

ANSWER: It would appear, at first glance, that the real estate broker acted in a responsible manner toward all parties in the transaction.

Many reputable brokers conduct their business similarly and are proud of their role. However, they are wrong because a real estate broker does not owe the same degree of duty to all parties.

In the typical real estate transaction, the real estate broker is the agent of the owner and not the buyer. As an agent, he owes his principal (the owner) the duty of faithful and exclusive service. By telling the buyer to pay a better price (even if he thought it was the right price) he was breaching the agent-principal relationship and thus, is subject to criticism.

The broker can be fair, but he must be most fair to his principal. In simple English, it means he is the duty of obtaining for him the highest price at the best terms, even if it be at the expense of the buyer.

Dear Mr. Meltzer: Ten years ago, when I built my house, the family spent over three months in a motel because the builder was late, in consequence I'm about to start a new one. What would you do if you were in my shoes and wanted to guarantee completion on time? — Mr. N.A.

ANSWER: The best way that I know of to guarantee completion on time is not by means of the usual warranties contained in the building contract, but to insert a penalty clause. I have found that a penalty of about $100 per day (and that is considered reasonable in a building contract) will somehow almost always deliver the house on time.

Dear Mr. Meltzer: Isn't there a law that says a landlord has to paint at least every three years? We have been living in a rented farmhouse for over five years. It's now shabby. The landlord refuses to paint. We are dissatisfied with its appearance, to paint the house ourselves. Is there a law, that the landlord always every three years. Read your lease! If the lease says nothing about the landlord being required to paint, then he does not have to paint. It is true that some states require paint their properties every two or three years as part of a good maintenance program. But this is voluntary on the landlord's part. In some cities, there are municipal ordinances under their sanitary codes should require periodic redecoration. I do not know if such ordinances applicable to rural areas.

* * *

Dear Mr. Meltzer: A year ago I spent over $700 and completely repainted the outside of the house. It now looks dirtier than before I painted.

The painting contractor says it is not his fault that the paint did not dirt, but mildew. I say it just plain dirt. How can I check? — Mr. B. T.

ANSWER: For a layman, it's very hard to tell the difference between mildew and just plain dirt. Newly painted houses with wet paint films are specially vulnerable to attack by mildew during hot, humid weather. An easy test to determine if the cause of discoloration is dirt or mildew is to apply a few drops from a fresh bottle of bleach, bold bleaching solution to these stains. If it is mildew, the stain will bleach out in a few minutes; if it is dirt, there will be no visible effect.

* * *

Dear Mr. Meltzer: My children kept playing with the thermostat. I had the plumber move the thermostat to an opposite wall high over a window. Since that time, the heating system has gone crazy; we are either roasting or freezing. Could a simple thing like moving the thermostat be responsible, for the trouble? — Mr. H.

ANSWER: The improper location of the thermostat is responsible for the trouble enumerated. A thermostat should be located about 5 feet up from the floor for maximum room comfort. It should be located on an inside wall, never on an outside wall or near a window or door. Also, it should never be installed behind furniture, drapes, doors or any other obstructions.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make up this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to less bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if unsightly pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way ordered by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blast disappears, how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Many Angry Citizens Protest Tax Increase

NAPANEE — Monday evening saw one of the longest and certainly the liveliest Town Council meetings held here in many years. Members of the Napanee Ratepayers Inc. were joined by angry citizens, with questions to be answered, chiefly with regard to the increased tax rate for this year. The residential rate is now 22.5 mills, an increase of 16.5 mills over 1966, and the commercial and industrial rate of 30.8 mills is 18.8 mills more than last year.

Clarence Milligan was spokesman for the Napanee Ratepayers, whose chief usefulness appears to be in prodding the Town Council for improvements.

Each question was examined and answered, perhaps not to the satisfaction of all, but at least each matter was carried. It seemed to boil down to this: you can't have your cake without paying for it.

In keeping with all other town employees, salaries of all the officers were raised. The ratepayers, and others, now have what is proving dynamite meat than any other town of the size. The increase in salaries is over two years, be pointed out.

Operating Expenses Requested

DESERONTO — The Deseronto Public School Board has asked the town for $18,000 for operating expenses for 1967. The total cost is estimated at $113,827.62, but the board had a surplus of $3,126 for 1966, and grants of $90,000 are expected from the province. The budget had been set at a special meeting the week before and was made public at the regular meeting early this week.

Early this year the Board set up a retirement policy, with retirement for men at 65, and for women at 62. This has brought protest from the Ontario Teachers' Federation and two letters regarding this matter were read at the meeting. A letter from Inspector A. W. Anderson on the subject decided the Board to seek legal advice to clarify the situation.

The former high school is now the property of the Public School Board, and the problem is what use to make of it. A proposal to use it as a recreation centre was brought up, but the question of maintenance arose. Mrs. Ruth Thomas Richmond, Mrs. N. F. Burke, John Elliott, Gordon Treacy, Roger Todhunter, Mrs. John Monroe and J. D. Mayhew.

Council representatives are Ewell Huff, Chas. Bonn, Harold Creighton, and Glenn Herrington.

Mrs. F. S. Whitfield and Lloyd Woolsey were lauded for their work in connection with the activities of the Society over the years.

Cecil Baker conducted the election.

TO INSTALL PLAQUE

NAPANEE — At this week's meeting of the Town Council Mrs. Norman Hutchison on behalf of the Historical Society requested permission to have a plaque installed at the town hall honoring Sir John A. Macdonald, who made his last speech from the steps of that town hall in 1891, shortly before his last illness. The request was placed in the hands of William McAlister and his town property committee to investigate. Representatives of the Historical Sites and Monuments Board will be here Saturday to make recommendations.

TAG DAYS

Council gave permission to the local branch of the Canadian Cancer Society and to the local Odd Fellows Lodge to hold tag days.

* * *

TOURIST INFO

The Napanee Chamber of Commerce was authorized to move its tourist information booth to the Centre St. section of the Market Square. It is now situated on Highway 401 but this situation has many drawbacks.

* * *

DAYLIGHT TIME

Daylight saving time was adopted for the town from April 30 to October 29.

* * *

HEATING FOR ARENA

The board of the Memorial Arena requested financial assistance for heating the curling section of the arena. The request was referred to the finance committee of which Deputy-Reeve Glenn Herrington is chairman.

Consider Auto Pact Review

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said Thursday the government will consider requesting the U.S. to cancel automobile free trade agreement if it has violated an undertaking for study.

Michael Starr (PC—Ontario) said the Canadian auto industry is troubled with large layoffs in manufacturers are asking for relief from effects of the pact, signed early in 1965. He also noted that the Canadian Manufacturers Association has asked for a review.

Mr. Starr asked whether the government would not consider it wise to refer the pact to a committee for detailed study and public hearings.

Mr. Pearson said Mr. Starr's question should be examined carefully, and that he would look into the subject.

Works Minister McIlraith, replying to a question asked Wednesday by Wallace Nesbitt (PC—Oxford) said the auto pact was not responsible for a decline in the industry's first-quarter output as suggested by Mr. Nesbitt.

Because of safeguards in the agreement, Canadian production had declined at about the same rate in the United States, indicating the success of the agreement.

Meanwhile, in Toronto Stanley Randall, minister of economics and development, Thursday denied a charge that auto manufacturers have benefited from the automotive agreement.

Ken Bryden (NDP — Woodbine) said in the legislature the pact has thrown thousands of persons out of work. Car prices had not been lowered and the provincial government had taken no steps to help displaced workers.

Mr. Randall said the agreement has produced these results:

—Motor vehicle production has risen by 6 per cent.

—The price differential on comparable cars sold in the U.S. and Canada has narrowed to between three per cent and five per cent from about 20 per cent.

—The expanding deficit balance of trade in automotive products has, in 1966, begun to improve. . . .

—New capital investment, resulting from the autochlusive free trade agreement, has been valued at $568,000,000.

—New employment generated from the automotive expansion amounts to 20,500 person-years.

. . . In Ontario, where about 90 per cent of Canada's automotive industry is situated, "we have estimated that 302 automotive plants and equipment valued at $468,000,000 have been taken place . . . This new investment has given rise directly to 15,000 jobs."

Four New Senators Named

OTTAWA (CP)—The political reward of Senate seats was given Thursday to a former federal cabinet minister, Maurice Lamontagne, and the former Ontario Liberal leader, Andrew Thomson.

Prime Minister Pearson also named Mrs. Mary Bonner of Port Colborne, and Keith Laird, a Windsor, Ont., lawyer, to the upper chamber.

Mr. Lamontagne's appointment vacates a fifth Commons seat. A series of byelections to fill the vacancies, and Keith won by the Liberals in the 1965 election—is expected in a matter of months.

Negro Humor of Hundred Years Portrayed in Program

NEW YORK (AP)—The first gag in Thursday night's A Time for Laughter on ABC had Negro comedienne Moms Mabley asking a mirror on the wall: "Who's the fairest of them all?"

From the mirror came the answer, from Negro comedian Redd Foxx: "Snow White, and don't you forget it."

About an hour later, Dick Gregory, in a set simulating a jail crowded with civil rights demonstrators, told his cell mates:

"The next time you demonstrate, if one of those dogs bites you, bite him back. We'll come to jail with their rabies. And they'll go home barking 'we shall overcome.'"

If the ABC Stage 6 program, with Negroid leaving Negro humor of the last 100 years, is accurate, this humor seems to be bitter, sharp and straight. Much of it is like the scene with George Kirby dressed as Santa Claus sitting with a Negro child on his knee and asking: "You're dreaming of a What Christmas?"

Supervisory personnel turned in excellent jobs Thursday as the behind - the - scenes technicians at the three TV networks, now further cropped by walkouts of technical - union members in sympathy with the performers' strike, now in its 19th day.

Occasionally sound disappeared or a cut from one segment of a news show to another was ragged. On the whole, however, things went smoothly.

Recommended viewing: Saturday—A Venetsky Sails Across Europe, CBS, 8.30 - 9.30 p.m. EST, a national geographic special; Damn Yankees, NBC, 8-11, adaptation of the hit musical comedy, with Phil Silvers, Lee Remick and Jim Backus.

Vancouver Actress Wants To Defect From Peyton Place

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another defector from Peyton Place?

Barbara Parkins of Vancouver, who has played Betty Anderson in the night-time soap opera since its start, indicates that she does not.

The British Columbia beauty would be following the example of Mia Farrow, who left the cast to pursue other careers as a motion picture actress and as wife of Frank Sinatra.

One of Hollywood's most notable girls - about - town, Miss Parkins has no marriage plans. But she has abandoned ambition for her career, and she figures that continuing on Peyton Place will not be to her advantage.

"I was very lucky to get the series; it has been good for me," she said.

"But now I have been in it for three years. We have made the equivalent of 10 yeafs of television shows — Peyton Place had been shown once a week in a regular-length seasons. . . .

"I've come to the point where I don't want to work every day; I want to travel and see the world. Besides, I have done everything possible with the character of Betty Anderson. Now it becomes mechanical."

Miss Parkins said she hadn't imparted her feelings to the 20th Century-Fox management — "I have an agent for that." If she does seek a release from the series, her cause may be aided by another present assignment: she is one of the pallid addicted wretches in Valley of the Dolls.

One of Miss Parkins's first scenes in the film called for her to appear in the nude despite director Mark Robson's claims he is aiming at prestige, not sensation with Valley of the Dolls. But the topless scene is not new to Barbara.

She will be starring next month in Playboy magazine, unclothed accordingly.

Why do some actresses agree to strip for the girlie mags

"I wanted to show my body," was Miss Parkins's explanation.

"I don't think the viewers of Peyton Place even think that Betty Anderson has a body. I do, and I wanted to prove it."

Mustangs Capture "Gas" Title

Mustangs completed a sweep of the Gas House Hockey League's championship series last night with a 4-2 victory over the Marysville B.A.

The victory completed a sweep of league honors for the Mustangs as well since they finished in first place. They were presented with the league trophy last night, too, that the players from the league purchased themselves. Mustangs won the Wisher series four games to none.

Rod Turner was the Mustang sparkplug and was in on all of his club's scoring plays. He netted two goals and earned assists on the other pair, scored by Pat Armstrong. Pat Hetherington and Tom Meeker added an assist each.

Jim Woodcock had a goal and assist and Bill Richmond potted the other goal for Marysville. Doug Olson and Terry Flynn had an assist, each.

Cassius Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Cassius Clay was named Fighter of the Month in Ring Magazine Thursday.

Clay earned the honor by knocking out Zora Folley in the seventh round of their title fight March 22. It was Clay's ninth successful title defense.

George Chuvalo of Toronto was placed sixth among the heavyweights.

Floyd Patterson, who will have another chance at Clay in Las Vegas April 25, was listed by Ring as the third ranking contender. The negative made Ernie Terrell the No. 1 contender and Karl Mildenberger No. 2.

Ottawa Play Gets Fine Review

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Two remaining groups in the Eastern Ontario Drama League Festival face exceptionally stiff competition after the Cloves Drophin Players' brilliant performance here Thursday night.

Adjudicator Ann Wichham of Montreal described the group's presentation of Lister Sinclair's The Blood Is Strong as "finely tuned and meticulously directed."

The Cornwall Theatre Guild presents Donald Harron's threeact play The Broken Jug tonight.

World Wheat Traders Facing Possibility of Free Market

LONDON (CP)—The pressure is on world wheat traders to ask bitter differences quickly or face the likelihood of dealing in an uncontrolled market for the first time in almost two decades.

Led by major growers including Canada, a majority of countries represented at a current meeting of the International Wheat Council rejected proposals to prolong existing agreements on price scales and trade quotas beyond their scheduled expiry July 31.

At the same time, Australian Trade Minister John McEwen attacked wheat - buying countries for attempting to force exporters into long-term agreements binding exporters "to sell at a loss."

Major exporters — especially Canada, the United States and Australia—have been pressing for an increase in world price scales.

Exporting countries feel collapse of agreements on price and quotas would hurt farmers more than spiters. Heavy demand in the last four years has created a sellers' market. Canadian officials believe strong demand will hold, despite record crops in Canada and Russia and a U.S. decision to increase wheat acreage by one-third.

The three-day wheat council session announced it has decided to extend the existing International Wheat Agreement for one year from July 31 in "administrative" form only.

The agreement, established in 1962 and extended twice, is based on a minimum $1.62¼ a bushel and a maximum of $2.02¼, U.S. funds, basis No. 1 northern at the Lakehead. The current price has tended to settle just below the ceiling.

Bulk of world sales are made under the pact, adhered to by some 50 countries, but in recent months there have been sharp demands by growers in both Canada and the U.S. for higher prices.

In Ottawa Thursday the National Farmers' Union called for renegotiation of the agreement to raise the ceiling to $2.50.

Under the council's weighted voting system, bellots are split equally between the 10-member exporting bloc and the 45-country importing group. Nine countries were absent.

The council decision increases pressure for agreement in protracted negotiations at Geneva for a new deal on trade in all trade could revert to free-market conditions. Even a Geneva agreement would require months' more bargaining before it could be enforced. Fewer than one-third of the wheat council members are associated with the GATT talks.

Continued access for their grain into the six-country European Common Market.

The talks are scheduled to wind up by the end of April. The wheat council will meet here again July 19-21.

Unless there is a change of heart by July, world wheat

General Tendencies: Cycle high for Aries, Taurus. Special word to Aquarius: If you are sensitive to feelings of others there is real progress.

Canada and France In Mineral Dispute

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada hopes to resume negotiations soon over a French claim to offshore mineral rights around St. Pierre - Miquelon, France's tiny colony off the south coast of Newfoundland.

An oil search now is under way in the region.

Initial exchanges of views took place in Paris in January. They were renewed without a definite renewal date.

A spokesman in the external affairs department said Thursday the discussions are being continued through diplomatic channels and Canada is hopeful that direct negotiations will resume "sometime soon."

Under a 1958 Geneva convention, coastal states have a right to exploit minerals under the ocean floor along the continental shelf.

Canada claims its huge surrounding continental shelf and the Supreme Court of Canada currently is preparing an opinion on whether control of the mineral rights claimed to be vested in the federal or provincial governments.

France, however, is claiming a chunk of the Atlantic shelf by virtue of its ownership of the St. Pierre - Miquelon island group.

Fishing is the only industry for the 5,000 residents on 93 square miles of land.

France pin its claim to offshore rights on a section of the Geneva convention that states: "Where the same continental shelf is adjacent to territories of two adjacent states, the boundaries of the shelf shall be determined by agreement."

Canada has challenged this interpretation. It says only common sense is needed to understand that the convention does not apply to this kind of situation.

Roblin, Stanfield Meetings Interpreted as PC Leadership Bid

ROBLIN

OTTAWA (CP) — The Stanfield-Roblin conference in Winnipeg this week stirred considerable speculation among the committed and uncommitted in the Conservative party on the national leadership.

One veteran observer with a high batting average on trends read it as a bid by Nova Scotia Premier Robert Stanfield for support from Manitoba Premier Duff Roblin at the Sept. 6-8 leadership convention in Toronto.

Mr. Stanfield said in Winnipeg he has no interest in federal politics and intends to stay on in Nova Scotia.

Nevertheless political sources here say there is nothing to prevent him changing his mind if he gets a provincial election successfully set of the way before September.

Other quarters see the Stanfield visit as a plea from the Nova Scotia premier, with the support of National President Dalton Camp, either for Mr. Roblin to run or, possibly, back a move on the leadership by Mr. Camp.

Mr. Roblin is said by intimates to be angered at the latter interpretation.

Unlike Premier Stanfield or Premier John Roberts of Ontario, he has never said he's not interested in the federal leadership for himself.

Mr. Roblin is said to have earned down chances to switch to the federal scene at least twice — four times by some counts. He is being urged by some of his advisers to accept this time.

Mr. Roblin is thought by some Conservatives to be better known nationally than Mr. Stanfield and to be sufficiently bilingual to carry some weight in Quebec. Having just been through a provincial election, he is in better shape to make a move now than a federal politician.

Mr. Camp, now in Europe, has disclaimed leadership ambitions. Activity on his behalf for the leadership is not as open as for such candidates as Davie Fulton, George Hees and Michael Starr and potential candidate Alvin Hamilton, all former Diefenbaker ministers and members of Parliament.

Mr. Fulton has formed committees in many provinces, set up a headquarters here and has hired a staff. Lowell Murray, 30, formerly his executive assistant and as justice minister, heads the campaign.

Mr. Murray has Michel Cogger, a young Quebec City lawyer, as liaison between headquarters and the Fulton committees in Quebec, which has been divided for organization purposes into nine regions.

Paul Champagne, former executive assistant to the Senate opposition leader and 1965 prime officer for Mr. Diefenbaker's election campaign, looks after arranging maximum exposure for Mr. Fulton in key areas between now and the convention.

So far the Fulton campaign has concentrated on Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba, Alberta and New Brunswick.

Mr. Hees and Mr. Hamilton, on the other hand, have displayed no visible organization with a central headquarters. But they have been unveiling widely with the apparent intention of lining up commitments from voting delegates by increasing constituency organizations.

Mr. Starr has suffered under two handicaps. His first announced his intention of running only if Mr. Diefenbaker decides against contesting the convention. Later he made the full commitment to run.

As his party's House leader, Mr. Starr has had to stick much closer to the Commons than either Mr. Fulton or Mr. Hees. Thus he has had less time on the road.

Farmers Plan Buying Boycott

OTTAWA (CP) — Farm organizations moved Friday to use pressure on the federal government to giving farmers a better financial break.

The National Farmers Union decided to ask its 30,000 members to halt indefinitely the purchase of automobiles, trucks and farm equipment.

The aim is to dramatize the farmers' case for higher income through a sharply increased role in the farm industry by both federal and provincial governments.

The NFU's powerful Ontario branch decided to organize a mass demonstration at the Parliament Buildings to protest what President John Delmer called the inadequate federal dairy policy.

The new policy, in effect since April 1, gives the farmer $4.75 a hundredweight for manufacturing milk, 25 cents short of the price sought by many farm organizations.

Both the boycott and demonstration plans were launched at Ottawa during talks of the organizations' top officials.

The NFU's national rival, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, sent 20 officials to a meeting with Agriculture Minister Greene to seek a review of the dairy policy, but said later there was no hope for much improvement in funds allotted to the industry.

The CFA says cream shippers suffer discrimination because they lack the federal support for skim milk powder.

The CFA also told Mr. Greene the proposed $4.75 to dairy producers will not materialize under the new policy, but will fall 10 cents or more short.

On the bright side, the government did not rule out a second look at the problems of farmers who produce both milk for industrial use and the table.

These farmers lost their industrial milk subsidy under the new policy.

On the buying boycott, Roy Atkinson of Saskatoon, NFU president, told a press conference that pledge cards are being circulated among farmers to allow them to sign up for the boycott. It starts now and will continue until the government changes its approach.

Mr. Atkinson said the CFA had not been asked to co-operate in the boycott, but he hoped farmers outside the NFU would do so.

Boycotters would continue to buy "soft" goods such as fertilizer, seed and so on to keep the farm going but they would make do with old equipment by pooling resources.

NFU membership accounts for about one-quarter of the farm force in the four western provinces and Ontario.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis: Temperatures will rise in the 50s in most localities as fine spring sunshine warms the air today. A storm under way in Colorado and Wyoming will head toward northern Lake Michigan late Sunday and bring rain to much of the province.

Plane Kills 42 Koreans In City Slum

SEOUL (AP)—A twin-engine South Korean Air Force transport plunged into a teeming slum and exploded today. Rescuers reported 42 dead and 30 injured, and feared that the toll would go higher.

The crash set off a huge fire that trapped many victims inside their wooden houses. The injured included 13 high school students who jumped from second-floor classrooms after the plane exploded 50 yards from their school.

Among the dead were the pilot, Capt. Suh Keun-joo, two crew members and 11 passengers on the plane. Besides the students, 17 persons were severely burned or injured.

Authorities said the C - 46 transport belonging to the 5th Air Transport Squadron fell shortly before noon, five minutes after taking off in a drizzle from Yokio air base on a flight to Taegu, 130 miles to the southeast.

Already at Work Gathering Staff

The Quinte area Loyalist campus of the College of Applied Arts and Technology has its first president. He is John Kenneth Bradford, 57, director of placement and career counselling at the University of Toronto.

His official appointment dates from June 1. However, the new president already has started preparing campus administration for its September opening in temporary quarters in Belleville.

Rev. H. J. Maloney, Bancroft, chairman of the college's board of governors, said Mr. Bradford is "fast putting together a staff" in readiness for the first term.

The campus will be initially housed in vacant quarters at Centennial Secondary School.

No decision on a permanent site has yet been announced.

Mr. Bradford's appointment follows within a week the announcement of a president for the college's Peterborough-district Sir Sandford Fleming campus.

He was chosen from a list of more than 40 applicants who sought the post after it was advertised in recent months.

His professional associations with the University of Toronto dates from 1948.

Born in England, he came to Canada with his family in 1914 and received his early education at Ottawa.

He graduated from University of Toronto with his B.A.Sc. in 1932, taking his master's degree there in 1936.

Between graduation, Mr. Bradford was first in business, then war service.

He was employed by the Canada Wire and Cable Co. Ltd., before he went on active service in 1939 with the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers.

He commanded the corps as lieutenant-colonel, taking part in the invasions of Sicily and Italy. On his return to England he was posted as an assistant quartermaster general and coordinated waterproofing of all Canadian army equipment for the Normandy landings.

He was invalided out of the army and awarded the OBE.

On his return to civilian life, Mr. Bradford resumed his association with Canada Wire until 1948. That year he was invited to establish University of Toronto's placement and career counselling department and appointed its director.

The new campus president also has been actively associated with various technical and community institutions in Toronto.

He is a member of the Metropolitan Toronto Board of Trade; the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers; secretary-treasurer, Canadian Guidance and Counselling Association; Personnel Association of Toronto and a member of the department of labor's committee on professional manpower.

He also is the Canadian member of the International Commission for Professional Development of career counselling.

Shulman May Run As Liberal

TORONTO (CP) — Friday was another hectic day in the hectic life of Dr. Morton Shulman, Canada's most famous coroner.

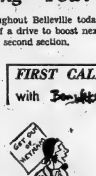
Dr. Shulman, 55, was fired as chief coroner for Metropolitan Toronto by Attorney General Arthur Wishart but promptly announced he wouldn't leave the job until forced out by an order-in-council.

Mr. Wishart said he has an order in council.

Later in the day, Dr. Shulman told a news conference he may enter politics — but not as a Conservative. He said he's a Liberal.

"The government has got to go," he said at a press conference. "It is completely insensitive. It keeps everything under the rug. It wants secrecy. It covers up medical situations.

"This government tries to cover up anything that's embarrassing to it and its friends. This government is arrogant. This government cannot tolerate the truth."



Waving a sheaf of correspondence in front of him, Dr. Shulman said the folder contained proof of some of the injustices of the Roberts Conservative government.

Dr. Shulman's latest of many appearances in the public spotlight began when he called an inquest into the death of Francesco Gualtieri, 30, who died last Friday in a fire at the Ontario Workmen's Compensation Board hospital here.

Dr. H. Beatty Cotnam, supervising coroner for Ontario, said the inquest was called against his orders but Dr. Shulman said he ordered Dr. Elie Cass to go ahead with the inquest because he thought a delay might conceal some facts.

Mr. Wishart said in the legislature Thursday that Dr. Shulman would be told he must be responsible to Dr. Cotnam. However, after Dr Cotnam's charges were made public, Mr. Wishart informed Dr. Shulman by courier letter that he had been fired.

The four-page paragraph letter accused Dr. Shulman of damaging the integrity of the Progressive Conservative Ontario government and its officials.

"We were marching past Macy's and I saw the cutest hat. . ."

News Briefs

AINTREE, England (CP) — Foinavon won the Guard National here today. Honey End finished second and Red Alligator third. Forty-four horses ran. The win was considered one of the biggest upsets in the 130-year history of the Grand National steeplechase. The winner was a 100-1 shot.

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Syria charged each other with aggression after fighting Friday the sharpest Middle East air battle since the Arab-Israeli war of 1948 in a dispute over border farmland. Israel claimed it shot down six Syrian MiG-21s in three-dog fights. It said no Israeli Mirage fighters were lost, but one man was killed and one wounded in fighting with tanks and artillery. Syria claimed it downed five Israeli planes and killed at least 70 Israelis, and acknowledged losing four of its own planes.

Public School Budget Rules Out Mill Rate Hike

Despite the fact that estimates for 1967 are up more than a quarter of a million dollars over last year, public school supporters in Belleville this year will not face an increased mill rate for public school support.

Estimates for the year are set at $1,731,330 or an increase of about $261,000 over 1966.

After several weeks of preparation by board officials, a survey of building and staff requirements and special meetings by the budget committee the Public School Board held a special meeting Friday to set financial estimates and today board chairman MacDonald Smith announced public school supporters will not face an increase in the school rate.

Board finance committee chairman, W. A. VanTassel, said that increased assessment, a surplus from last year, and a substantial increase in expected grants from the provincial government would result in no increase in last year's school rate.

The estimated revenue from surplus, legislative grants and other income for 1967 is set at $1,087,440, as compared with $801,170 for last year.

The cost to local taxpayers is estimated at $484,005 for current operation of schools and $200,000 for debenture payments, for a total of $684,005. Local cost estimates last year were $630,817.

Schools superintendent I. A. Kells said today that salary negotiations with teachers and the custodial staff were not yet completed. However, an allowance to cover expected increased costs is provided in the year's estimates.

Instructional salaries for 1967 are estimated at $1,145,283 as compared with $882,460 for 1966.

Employment News

By J. R. STAVELEY,
Manpower Counsellor

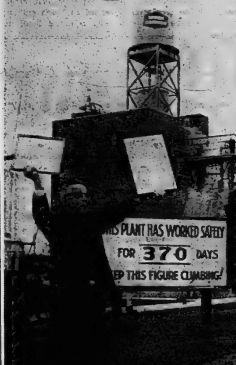
Much has been heard, these past few months of the problems confronting agriculture and its allied industries. Anyone connected with agriculture, whether as a primary producer or in the food processing industry is well aware that one of these problems is that of obtaining an adequate and suitable supply of workers when required. The degree of difficulty varies according to a number of factors and is especially critical in those areas having a high level of economic activity. It is recognized as essential that the harvesting and processing of our agricultural crops be accomplished with the minimum of spoilage and wastage.

In recognition of this situation, the Minister of Manpower and Immigration has approved a movement of "off-shore workers" from the Caribbean to assist in agriculture and food processing work. In addition to Jamaicans, negotiations are being carried on with Barbados, Trinidad and Tobago. It is noted that this year tobacco growers are eligible to participate in the program.

There are several conditions which must be met by the employer before these workers may be admitted such as duration of employment, wages and hours of work, living accommodation and transportation costs. If any employer in agriculture or related processing fields is interested in this source of agricultural labor, the Canada Manpower Centre should be contacted as soon as possible.

This year a greater than ever number of university undergraduates and high school students will be seeking temporary summer employment. The Canada Manpower Centre has already registered some 125 undergraduates who are returning to their homes in this community within the next month to seek temporary work of from four to five months' duration. These undergraduates are presently studying as far afield as Nova Scotia and Alberta. In practically every case, all of these young men and women require a paying job in order to continue their education. Any employer having a temporary labour requirement calling for qualifications possessed by these young people is invited to contact the Canada Manpower Centre at their earliest convenience.

No doubt now that spring is here many residents of the community are thinking of the casual spring chores to be done — house and window cleaning, preparation of flower beds, lawns and gardens. The Canada Manpower Centre invites listing of these casual labor requirements by calling 962-8631.



The following employment opportunities are now available at the Canada Manpower Centre.

In the female division locally, a lady with a flair for dress fashion and a knowledge of selling can find interesting work in sales with a quality dress shop. An experienced cosmetician is required by a retail outlet. The person preferred must be able to meet the public, possess a pleasant personality and know how to demonstrate the correct use of cosmetics.

Required also is someone with a good knowledge of cooking to take charge of a retail cafeteria. This position would entail supervision of the cooking, preparation of the menus and the ability to organize and supervise the staff.

An opening is also available in the foundation garment division of a large chain retail organization. Here, although experience is preferred, training would be given for an inexperienced salesperson otherwise suitable. In the motel and hotel field there are vacancies for experienced waitresses and a hostess who will also act as cashier. Urgently required are registered nurses and registered nursing assistants.

In the male division locally, the following job opportunities are untilled. An experienced bindery operator, a qualified cylinderical grinder operator, an automotive machinist and a maintenance mechanic in addition to a man with combined millwright and machinist background. Other vacant positions cover an experienced crusher operator, an asphalt plant worker and a bricklayer for out of town contractor. As in the past there is a constant demand for young men possessing a Grade XII or better education for entry to positions in the banking retail and financial fields.

Million Hours of Safety

Union Carbide employees in Belleville have completed one year without an accident. Production manager Fred Catton holds aloft a certificate noting the over one million man hours worked without a compensation. Howard Graham, chairman of the Belleville and Trenton section, Industrial Accident Prevention Association, declares plant manager Bob Icely and his workers 'champs of safety.'

PE County Milk Producers Vote to Withhold Milk

Prince Edward county milk producers last night at the Bloomfield town hall voted strongly in favor of withholding milk from the market in support of their demands for a satisfactory dairy policy from the government.

There were close to 170 farmers at the meeting called by Local 213 of the Ontario Farmers' Union, and only 16 of the members present were opposed to withholding milk.

At the same time however it was the farmers' feeling that withholding of milk would be a last resort.

Farmers are asking $5.10 per cwt. for manufacturing milk.

The meeting was the regular monthly get-together of the Prince Edward Farmers' Union and saw two federal government department officials from Ottawa.

Join Fund, Group Asked

"The door is open", emphasized Maurice J. Stotesbury, the president of the United Community Services. He has invited the Canadian Cancer Society to participate in Belleville's joint annual campaign for operating funds.

Mr. Stotesbury reminded the Canadian Cancer Society that the Belleville and District united fund supports agencies such as the Belleville, Bernard Hoey, and Cecil Husser speak on income tax and unemployment insurance.

Mr. Sotesbury added that the Cancer Society could achieve even greater support from the contributing public the united way knows.

It has been the practice of the Cancer Society to collect its own funds instead of joining forces with the United Community Service.

Hydro Managers Meet

Area hydro managers were included in a group of 77 Ontario Hydro managers who met in London, Ontario, last week. The meetings were designed to keep management staff up-to-date on late advances in the development of Hydro. Area delegates were, M. H. Howat, Arnprior; D. H. Keeler, Picton; C. T. Hunt, Bancroft and H. J. Cox, Tweed.

Maple Syrup on Market

Maple syrup was in keen demand on the local farmers' produce market this morning with the supplies of three vendors being quickly snapped up by anxious buyers.

The price quoted was $7 per gallon or $1.75 per quart.

Maple sugar sold at three cakes for 25 cents.

SA Building Fund Committee Appointed

Committee chairmen for the forthcoming Salvation Army building fund campaign were named yesterday at a luncheon meeting by Col. G. M. Best.

Honorary chairman for the campaign are His Honor County Judge J. C. Anderson and Mayor J. R. Ellis.

General Chairman of the campaign is Mrs. J. Marsh; special names — A. McLean Haig, business firm; A. A. Dolan, professional — Stan C. Wiggins; industrial — Col. Augus B. Duff; residential — Mrs. Herbert McCabe; publicity — W. Bran Humphreys, honorary treasurer — J. R. Blackbourn; organizer — Captain J. Driver, and director — Col. G. M. Best.

The Salvation Army appeal to raise $60,000 towards a new citadel on Victoria Ave., gets underway on May 1st and will continue for one month. The residential blitz is set for Monday evening, May 15.

In its 83 years in Belleville, this is the first time the Salvation Army has made a capital fund appeal to local residents.

Two Trenton Girls Missing From Homes

TRENTON — Two 16-year-old Trenton girls, Donna Thompson and Sherry Berry, have been reported missing from home since March 25.

Police are uncertain if both girls are together or whether their disappearances are coincidental.

Donna Thompson is five-feet, six inches, weighs 135 lbs., has a fair complexion, short dark brown hair, blue eyes.

Police say she was wearing a dark Persian lamb jacket with a grey fur collar and navy-blue skirt.

The Berry girl is five feet, two inches, 100 lbs., has a fair complexion and light hair.

She last seen she was wearing a white nylon jacket and black leather boots.

IN MEMORIAM

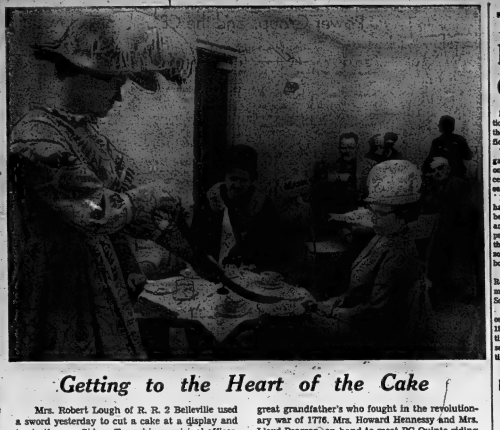
ALFORD — In loving memory of our dear wife (Cora) who passed away April 8, 1961.
Always a smile, never a frown,
Always a kind word from you.
Always true, thoughtful and kind,
Wonderful memories we shall be find.
Sadly missed by her husband John.

BARNHART — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Jacob M. Barnhart, who passed away April 8, 1962.
Dad, you left us your memories,
Lonely is our hearts today,
For the one we loved so dearly,
He too soon was called away.
We think of him in silence,
No farewell we said to him,
When our hearts to Heaven did flee,
Sadly missed and always remembered by Daughter Mabel, Son Walter, Conrad, David, Jos, Joyce and family.

BARNHART — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Jacob M. Barnhart, who passed away April 8, 1962.
Dad, you left us your memories,
Lonely is our hearts today,
For the one we loved so dearly,
He too soon was called away.
We think of him in silence,
No farewell we said to him,
When our hearts to Heaven did flee,
Sadly missed and always remembered by Daughter Mabel, Son Walter, Conrad, David, Jos, Joyce and family.

GRAY — In loving memory of our dear father Fred Gray, who passed away April 8, 1963.
Sweet memories are treasures,
No friends on earth like him will find.

For all of us he did his best,
He left us memories to be cherished,
In our hearts he is sweetly resting,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true.
Memories are dear dad forever,
That with us will think of you.
Sadly missed by daughter Ethel, son-in-law Ken and grandchildren Joan and Glenn and families.



LOCKWOOD — In loving memory of our dear father, Albert Edward Lockwood, who passed away April 8, 1960.
One year has passed since that sad day,
No one knows how we have ended away.
God took him home — it was His will,
But why our hearts he hath still.
While memory keeps his face in view,
We'll remember and never forget you.
Sadly missed by daughter Florence and family.

WESCOTT — In loving memory of our dear husband and father Wescott, who passed away April 8, 1963.
In memory, a daily thought,
In heart a silent sorrow,
Ever remembered by wife and family.

Getting to the Heart of the Cake

Mrs. Robert Lough of R. R. 2 Belleville used a sword yesterday to cut a cake at a display and tea in the new Sidney Township municipal offices. The sword, belonging to George McCauley Ketcheson of Wallbridge, was once his great, great grandfather's who fought in the revolutionary war of 1776. Mrs. Howard Hennessy and Mrs. Lloyd Pearson, on hand to meet PC Quinte riding candidate Dr. R. T. Potter, watch the cake cutting.

Township Plan Now Official

In various stages of preparation and revamping since 1957, the Ameliasburgh township official plan is now "official."

The Ontario Municipal Board gave final approval to the plan on March 31st and it was received back by the municipality early this week.

Reeve George W. Cunningham said the official plan had been signed by the minister and from the time of its approval became "official" for the township. The plan sets out zoning bylaws and sets up the board of appeal.

Members of the board are Robert McCullough, Mrs. Harmon Montgomery and Don Southern.

Mr. Cunningham said work on the official plan began in 1957 and 1958 and since that time had been revamped on several occasions, the last time being about a year ago.

Four From Area Dairy Winners

Gerald Brunton, Campbellford student in the three-month dairy course at the Kemptville Agricultural School, has been awarded first prize in cheese manufacturing.

Other district students receiving awards included Donald Gordon of Carlowville for top marks in dairy and microbiology award; Gordon Pound of Corbyville, who showed "best attitude in dairy work", Hugo Vos of Trenton, and Ronald Reid of Stirling who won top proficiency in grading butter, cheese and milk.

Two Quinte Army Veterans In France for View Service

ARRAS, France — Two Belleville-area men have returned as spectators where once they were participants in an epic of Canadian heroism.

They are Norman Bean of Foxboro, and Earl Fleming, Belleville, both survivors of the bloody World War 1 victory at Vimy Ridge.

With other survivors of the crucial battle that made world history they flew from Ottawa yesterday to participate in a special remembrance service at Vimy Ridge on Easter Monday of 1917.

Mr. Fleming represents the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment and Mr. Bean the 21st battalion of Montreal.

Advance arrivals for the remembrance tribute began arriving in the Vimy area Friday, including a group of 40 British Columbia veterans who had travelled 7,000 miles for the service.

The anniversary organizers were surprised and delighted when the British Columbian veterans turned up in advance of the official group who came from Paris today. Other advance arrivals were Brig. Gen. J. A. Clerk of Vancouver, 72nd battalion, Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, and Sgt. H. F. Hines, also of Vancouver and the same regiment.

One of the few surviving battalion commanders, Clark recalled that only 62 men were left standing in his unit—eight of 11 officers having been wounded and four killed when the Germans were routed from Vimy Ridge on Easter Monday of 1917.

The fight saw all four Canadian divisions go into action together for the first time and achieve victory where the British and French had earlier failed.

It had been described as the crucible of Canadian nationhood.

Today the veterans stood on the ramparts beneath the towering white stone pylon of the Vimy memorial, while Clayden pointed out landmarks on the plains below.

The B.C. men—including A. E. Perry and P. N. Pederson, Victoria, and A. E. Maloney, Parksville—arrived in London Friday and came here by boat and bus.

ROAD DANGER GROWS

Highway accidents in Canada increased 6.2 per cent in the first nine months of 1966, while deaths increased 10.8 per cent.

OPEN A "ROLLINS" SAVINGS ACCOUNT THIS WEEKEND

You don't have to be a financial genius or even a penny pincher to save each month. Simply invest your monthly housing money in a "Rollins" Home.

WHY IS A "ROLLINS" HOME A GOOD INVESTMENT? Because it's worth more right way due to Rollins Construction technique and tremendous volume.

Rollins has built more than 1500 homes and uses high quality lumber, insulation and other materials, but buys them in volume. And the savings are passed on to you in lower prices.

The house then becomes the highest interest paying savings account any family can enjoy.

A "ROLLINS" HOME IS WORTH MORE IN FUTURE YEARS TOO. If and when you sell it you'll find there's important value in the brand name fixtures, weathertight windows and other quality features.

BONUS: "Rollins" builds homes in neighborhoods carefully selected for their increasing market value. All this means that the money you put in a "Rollins" Home is money you can get out. Wouldn't you like to save money every month and live in a beautiful home at the same time.

START NOW. The first step is the one you take into a Rollins model. This weekend? Call our new sales office and make an appointment with Mr. Jim Cathcart to discuss your housing requirements.

Drug Costs

The report of the Commons committee on the drug industry, and its recommendations aimed at moderating the cost of drugs to the consumer is timely.

In these days of rising prices, of consumer items ranging all the way from food to cars, the additional burden carried by persons who must take drugs for reasons of health, is an unsatisfactory state of affairs to say the least.

True, the drug companies (one of which incidentally is a major contributor to the economy of Belleville) and medical researchers are indispensible to community health. The public is in their debt for the products that enable thousands to lead useful and productive lives who might otherwise be severely handicapped. These products are developed at a price, like anything else; and yet in an era when society at large is assuming much of the burden of hospitalization and medical supervision the fact that drugs are not included in such a structure is an anomalous situation.

Medicare may remedy this problem, but its adoption is still a year away and meanwhile the drugs which individual users take must be paid for out of their own pockets.

Consider for instance the victims of epilepsy, whose numbers down the years have included such personalities as Julius Zezsar, William Pitt and Alfred Nobel. How they and others managed to survive the incapacitating effects of this disease of the nervous system is tribute enough to the inner strength and stability of the human species. Indeed, the whole history of mankind is one of triumph against odds.

Nowadays epileptics in many instances can all but eliminate their problem with regular intake of drugs. But in Canada it costs the individual anything from $5 to $15 a month. In countries where national medical plans are in force, such as Britain and New Zealand, these drugs are obtainable either free or at a nominal sum.

But to return to the inquiry into this issue. The Commons committee report, tabled Monday by Dr. Harry Harley (L—Halton) suggests price competition, not product rivalry, is the road to lower drug costs to consumers.

The report makes a number of proposals to lessen the protective barriers enjoyed by major drug manufacturers from cheaper drug imports. They would also steer doctors away from prescribing mainly by the more expensive brand-name drugs.

Dr. Harley, chairman of the 24-member committee which spent 13 months studying the drug industry, told a press conference he estimated the consumer drug bill could be cut by one-quarter or one-third if the committee's recommendations are implemented.

Significantly, the report urged quick action to further prices because of impending medical care insurance and other welfare measures, which may cover drugs.

The committee has performed a useful service in a sphere which represents a continuing drain on the pay packets of numberless Canadians to whom properly-prescribed drugs mean the difference between disablement and leading a near-normal and useful life.

Terrorism in Aden

British troops in Aden have been pictured wrestling and even kicking apparently unarmed Arabs into custody following disturbances in the South Arabian colony.

But as British troops long accustomed to the colonial terrorist grind know only too well, these are no occasions for kid glove treatment.

For one thing, they were being fired at by Arab snipers concealed in mosques and houses surrounding the holy places which were out of bounds to the troops.

At a recent reception in the colony two women, one of them the wife of a British official, were killed by a terrorist bomb explosion.

Once it was Cyprus where British troops were gunned down almost daily, in the streets of Nicosia and Famagusta. And there too British women were shot in cold blood.

Aden seems to be evolving in the same disastrous fashion. The colony and South Arabian protectorate at large have been promised independence next year, but the terrorists are trying to hasten the course of history in a manner that cannot help but hurt their cause.

"Watch yourself, Ho-Chin-Dief—we've got THE BOMB!"

Santiago Parley
The World Population Crisis

Vancouver Sun

The world conference on birth control, to be held in Santiago, Chile, this April, inevitably will lead to expectations which will not be fulfilled. It is shaping up as a unique gathering of concerned professionals — there will be participants from 80 countries, including Canada — but this is both its strength and its weakness.

As the recent national pollution conference in Montreal demonstrated to Canadians, the professionals in these fields of crisis don't have to be converted. It is the politicians, the dogmatic and the ignorant masses who must be swayed if the twin explosions of pollution and population are to be dampened in time to save the world as we know it. The hope for Santiago, then, is that the studies, the reports, and the interchange between the professionals can be communicated to governments and peoples and put to use.

While the medical men discourse on such exotic topics as "inhibitory action of human hypothalamic extracts on ovulation in rats," it will be the politician makers who, to large extent, will determine whether the world meeting's message gets across.

This is not to say that immense value would not be derived from the discussions on the economic problems of population growth, abortion, methods of contraception and family planning programs.

The hope with a world population forecast at double its present figure by the year 2000 will require more than science.

This is why the conference's consideration of prevailing attitudes to birth control, and schemes devised to break through traditional resistance may prove its most important offering. And why men such as Lord Caradon, the permanent British representative at the United Nations, who will make the key-note speech to the conference, may hold the key to its success.

It was Lord Caradon who warned: "If tackling the problem (of over-population) is left too late, all our political and economic achievements will be swept away, like sand castles before the advancing tide."

What transpires at Santiago will be not so much a battle for men's bodies as for men's minds. For this reason, Canada can do no better than have its new, humane birth control law enacted in time for its delegates to present as a model, for all countries, in Chile.

Ads "Unfair" To Jobless

Vancouver Province

The employment of boys and girls, says the B.C. Department of Labor, is improper. Well, maybe.

The department complains that many employers contravene the Fair Employment Practices Act in newspaper advertisements that discrimin ate against boys under 21 and girls under 18. The aim of, discriminating against the young is as bad as discriminating against the old. It says: "Under this legislation words which are clearly improper are: 'boy wanted,' 'girl wanted' are 'boy', 'girl' or 'young' and phrases indicating preference for age are under 45."

This could be pretty tough on the young. Will it put go-go dancers out of business? Young girl go-go dancers especially?

But no doubt employers wanting to continue discriminating between the sexes and the age groups will find an answer.

Will they frame ads like these? "Wanted. With good refs., conscientious person, in no way resembling young girl or old man, for job with good prospects. Forty years' experience no recommendation."

Or: "Topless go-go dancers in demand. Any sex, any age."

Cabinet Shuffle
Pierre Trudeau, Maverick

OTTAWA (CP) — The staid justice department has a swinging intellectual for a leader in Pierre Elliott Trudeau, a latebloaming politician with a yen for fast cars.

Mr. Trudeau 46, stepped up to justice minister from parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister Pearson in a cabinet shuffle Tuesday. The move raised a few eyebrows.

One Commons oldtimer termed the new incumbent the most unconventional holder of the portfolio he has ever seen. Few would argue with that assessment.

A slim and elegant bachelor, he drives a Mercedes - Benz sports car — sometimes quite fast—and has a continuing love affair with the outdoors.

At the cabinet swearing - in ceremony, he was conservatively dressed in a grey, well-cut suit with vest. A grey-bordered handkerchief protruded from his breast pocket.

It's not that he's stuffy. He just does things with a verve that sometimes leans to the offbeat.

He has appeared in the Commons in slacks and sneakers with a silky, brightly-colored scarf around his neck. The costume caused a mild stir in the chamber where suit-and-tie is almost mandatory.

Power Groups and the CBC

Kingston Whig-Standard

The CBC is becoming a vehicle for the preservation of an "image" of this country which exists in the minds of the Members of Parliament. This image also exists among what Donald Braithwaite, the broadcasting and arts critic, calls "mid - in - the - points pressure groups like the Canadian Broadcasting League, the Federation of Home and School Clubs and the Society for the Advancement of Fun", as well as "succeeding hordes of bureaucrats and politicians."

"The recent investigations of broadcasting in Canada by the Fowler Commission and by the authors of the White Paper and all the rest simply confirm that broadcasting is the child of broadcasting. But Mr. Braithwaite knows that this will not come about and thoughtful Canadians will share his belief.

The Fowler Commission said that politics should be kept out of broadcasting. Mr. Braithwaite observes, and on the same day Mr. Jarvis Pollon said that he wanted to see the CBC made more "responsive" to Parliament.

Ours is a country which is dominated by power groups who use their influence to impose upon the citizenry whatever pattern it is deemed should prevail at any given time. Flags, anthems; Confederation; our history; our traditional forms and symbols — everything is talked about, changed, re - studied under our noses, with the idea that we should conform and not the other way about.

Today in History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The United States Supreme Court ruled the Income Tax Act of 1894 invalid 72 years ago today—in 1895. First levied in the U.S. Civil War, income tax had lapsed in 1872 and a constitutional amendment, the 16th, was needed before it could be enacted in 1913. The rate then was one per cent on incomes over $3,000. The United States now raises a higher proportion of its revenue by income tax on individuals and corporations than any other country—78 per cent in 1953. The Canadian government first levied income tax in the First World War but British Columbia led the way in 1876.

1863 — London's first Savoy Luna Theatre opened.

1896 — General Kitchener's army beat the Dervishes at Atbara.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1917 — Germany - Hungary severed diplomatic relations with the United States; Panama declared war on Germany; civilians were ordered to evacuate Reims because of German bombardment.

Financial Scandals

Victoria Colonist

The collapse and failure of two important Canadian financial corporations; the lawless activities of many mining promoters, of whom only a few have been brought to book, and the apparent failure of the federal and the provincial authorities to tighten up company regulations are creating grave concern among Canadians.

It can be said that the hassle between the Canadian government and the U.S. owners of the Canadian Bank of Canada is harming trading and economic relations between the two countries, but the damage which is being done here is small in comparison with the loss of confidence caused by the impact of failures, and sheer swindles upon the investing public.

The uncertainty that an investor in Canada can get a fair run for his money is holding back risk capital from other countries. Canadians themselves are losing faith and are generally investors in life insurance, government securities and other "safe" securities.

It is, therefore, a great mistake to believe, as many legislators do, that it is tougher on securities standards is to discourage the investment of new funds in private financing of an exploratory and development nature.

Indeed this is so far from the case, that the thousands of honest enterprises which exist and operate in Canada are being given a bad name by the actions of the few whose economic morals are loose.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today — in 1942 — the British aircraft carrier Hermes and the destroyer Vampire were sunk by Japanese aircraft with the loss of 311 lives; Gen. George C. Marshall and Harry Hopkins arrived in London for war planning; Japan invaded the Admiralty Islands.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1917—the battle of Arras opened with the Canadian Corps' capture of Vimy Ridge; the British hospital ship Salta was sunk by a mine in the English Channel; Brazil severed diplomatic relations with Germany.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1942—the Japanese lost 21 aircraft over Trincomalee, Ceylon, and in more defending an aircraft carrier in the Pacific Ocean; 11 of the Allied troops on Bataan withdrew to the island of Corregidor.

Labrador "Folklore"

Prince George Citizen

The Canadian Press has made a valuable contribution to the Centennial year by simple clarification.

The news - gathering agency points out: "A curious bit of folklore arose when Premier Bebeau about the 1927 Privy Council decision on Labrador.

"Anyone who has discussed the Labrador issue in Quebec is likely to have been told, frequently with great heat, that the Privy Council didn't realize how much land it was granting Newfoundland.

"The story has it that the law lords simply decreed Newfoundland should have a land strip 60 miles wide by rivers leading to the Atlantic. It was only later that the rivers were found to extend to run more than 300 miles inland in places."

But CP recalls that Newfoundland set out its claims precisely for the territory it wanted and that these were upheld almost to the Privy Council. Both sides had very narrow limits in the exact areas of territory involved.

The decision included a map of Labrador defining the area being granted. It is the area that Newfoundland still rules to this day.

The casual observer looking at it from the West can help wondering whether Quebec's current claims on Labrador are not of the same quality and kind as its claim on the English-speaking part of Canada.

Neither appears to be based on historical truth nor on the contemporary facts of life.

Still Hewers Of Wood?

Letter in Globe and Mail

We noticed, recently, an article by some of your reporters, John Picton, in which he writing that Minoru Yoshida, Commercial Secretary of the Japanese Embassy in Ottawa, stated that the main exports from Japan to Canada are textiles, machinery, and iron and steel products (Textile Group Arming Against Japanese Fibre Invasion — March 22). He added, Canada's exports to Japan are mainly forest products, ores, copper ore, pulp, rapeseed and pulp.

Shades of the past — we are in the same position when Sir John A. Macdonald, as Prime Minister of Canada, fought and won his approbation from the public to raise the duties against England, particularly, which said that Canada should be hewers of wood and drawers of water, except the raw material to us (i.e. England) and we will send you the manufactured product.

However, today, it is not England, but Japan with its low-cost labor, that is practically taking over our manufacturing industries; and it is Canada's labor and economy who are the sufferers.

Congratulations — Japan has now done what England could not do.

A. M. HUTNER,
Toronto.

Air Canada's Fine Record

Montreal Gazette

Every Canadian has a proprietary interest in Air Canada. The fact that the public corporation showed a profit in 1966 of $1.12m profitable year in the last 16 — is of no little concern to Canadians.

The vital statistics in this year's annual report show some encouraging trends. But the ability of a company to handle its revenue, and still maintain a profitable position, is a real test.

It is a test which Air Canada has consistently met. The airline business has gone through a period of radical change in the last decade. It will likely go through even more radical change in the next decade.

Asia Subject For Students

Windsor Star

A department of Asian studies to be inaugurated at the University of Windsor will be an asset to the university related to many young Canadians. Knowledge about Asia, and Africa also, is much too limited in this country. Yet these continents, and probably Asia in particular, will be of ever increasing importance to the world.

World War II in the Far East and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts have placed the attention of the world on that area. One Canadian in three has been that very few in the Western world have any exact knowledge of how Asians think and why. That has been at the root of much of the problem, simply a lack of understanding.

Combined with this has been a lack of knowledge of Asian languages, as a method of communication by which greater understanding can be developed. Young men or women, especially those who have ambitions in enter the fields of diplomacy or foreign trade, have need for knowledge of Asian history, philosophies, tractdnes, etc., because all have been a part in how Asian peoples think and what they do.

Intellectual in Justice Post

His maverick touch has led him to pick holes in the ruling bar's sacrosanct domain but he's a charter member by virtue of his wealthy Montreal family.

A competent athlete in his youth, he was a brilliant student, getting his law degree at the University of Montreal.

Later he was post graduate study at prestige schools — Harvard, the London School of Economics and the University of Paris—and a career as practising lawyer and university lecturer in Montreal.

Although he became a federal MP only in middle age, Mr. Trudeau has always been politically minded. He got his MA in political science.

He helped found Cite Libre, the Quebec opinion journal that attacked the policies of Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis in the days of Union Nationale in the 50s.

Left-leaning, he was a known supporter of the New Democratic Party, but changed horses to run and win a Commons seat for Montreal Mount Royal as a Liberal in the 1965 federal election.

Mr. Trudeau, labor leader Jean Marchand and journalist Gerard Pelletier opted for the Liberal party in the same election. All were federal neophytes, and only Mr. Pelletier is outside the cabinet now.

Anthology Of Prayer Is Offered

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canonized Anthology of Prayer, a milestone in religious literature, might have been high and mighty.

Instead it is as humble as The Prayer for Elevator Operators, one of his 125 invocations.

"Lord, you understand my problem," begins the prayer of the elevator operator.

It goes on to an acceptance of the inviolable ups and downs of the job and of life.

Publisher of the anthology is the Canadian Interfaith Conference, which has 34 member faiths. The editorial committee included Roman Catholics, Jews, Anglicans and United Church clergymen.

The conference is so broad that the word ecumenicism, which refers to a Christian movement of unity, is avoided by deference to Buddhist, Muslim, Jewish and other non-Christian members.

Even the cross can't be used as a personal symbol by the conference. Instead, the imaginative cover of the anthology carries the white swirl of a galaxy in the blue-black depths of space.

Editor Ramsay Armitage, an Anglican who is principal emeritus of Toronto's Wycliffe College, was swamped with material by enthusiastic members.

The foreword contains a candid admission that not all the poems, prayers, benedictions, litanies and even playlets "are on the same level of creativity."

"The sense of unity of all Canadians praying together was what we hoped to achieve," writes Montreal businessman Lavy M. Becker, the conference chairman and a former rabbi.

Though more than one-third of the contents is in French, the anthology generally avoids translation.

"Everything suffers in translation," says Mr. Becker. "Protestant prayers written in the Elizabethan era didn't make very sense translated into French."

An exception is The Lord's Prayer, rendered not only in English and French but in Zacinco syllabics, Mohawk, Cree, Gaelic and Esperanto.

The editors dug deep to come up with prayers appropriate to Canada's 1967 celebrations of 100 years of Confederation.

Even Shakespeare contributes something, with the following lines from Henry VI:

"Bless this food, O Lord, we pray
"On this glad centennial day.
"May this land be strong and free
"As we live O Lord for Thee."

The anthology bounds unevenly at times from beauty to banality. Amen, Alfred Schweitzer, Mary Baker Eddy, Karl Barth, Reinhold Niebuhr and Cassandy Cardinal Newman," as one entry is signed.

The Interfaith Conference headquarters have mailed more than 30,000 copies to clergymen across Canada during the winter, with order forms through which more can be had at $1 a copy.

The anthology may become the definitive work for interfaith services. Besides prayers for Expo and the Centennial, there are more for Parliament, the provinces, industrial workers, scientists, travelers, writers and broadcasters.

Midway through the anthology is a page bearing a series of dotted blank lines and the heading Prises pour vos Cent-Desirs—I Prize for Every Canadien. The idea is that the reader write his own.

Ecumenism Not Popular In Scotland

EDINBURGH (AP) — Whatever progress it is making in the rest of the world, ecumenism is deeply hogged down in Scotland. In fact, in many areas it's almost a bad word.

Some ministers are almost vitriolic on the subject. And when they get out of control, the Vietnam war off the front pages.

In Scotland the state-established Church of Scotland — Presbyterian — is numerically overwhelming. It claims more than 1,250,000 adult members out of Scotland's population of 5,000,000. Next, but a long way behind, come the Roman Catholics, Anglicans, who are called Episcopalians in Scotland, the Wee Frees, the Pentecostal churches, the Mormons and Jehovah's Witnesses.

Because the Church of Scotland can count on something like 80 per cent of the church-going population, it feels it must emerge the dominant partner in any scheme for church unity. It would certainly resent some bishops imposed on it by the numerically small Episcopal Church, an outpost of the bigger Church of England.

One who thinks the ecumenical movement will burn out is Rev. Dr. Henry C. Whitley, minister of the High Kirk of Edinburgh, better known as St. Giles's Cathedral. The man who spoke today from the pulpit of John Knox, the 16th century Scottish reformer, can be sure of outspoken thgs his while hair and twinkling eyes suggest.

"The ecumenical movement began at the wrong end—from above with the bishops, instead of from below with the people," he said in his cathedral study. "We have had the same faces drooling the bishops' one — step for the past 20 years.

"I think they are naive to think there can be union. They should be realists."

Dr. Whitley said most Scots are opposed to the World Council of Churches and the British Council of Churches.

"There are plenty of carpet-bagging theologians flitting from capital to capital and sitting on endless committees," he said. "But we in the Church of Scotland don't like being told how to manage our affairs. If we have got to have changes, then we want to make them on our own.

"We know that in Scotland there is no possible chance of Scots buying the papacy—and the Roman Catholics here know it.

"And we don't like the political implications of what seems to be a Church of England takeover bid, political because more nearly based on establishment and monarchial considerations."

Exploratory talks have been held between the Anglican Church of England and Scottish Episcopal churches and the Presbyterian churches of Scotland and England.

Another church leader gloomy about the ecumenical prospects is Very Rev. George MacLeod, former moderator of the Church of Scotland.

"Our society is a dying shell and only as the church is dead-set shall we find ourselves together," he says.

"Right now the church is missing all the big issues — the killing in Vietnam, the population explosion, the world monetary crisis and so on. It's time for the new reformation. The church must concern itself more with the world — such things as peace and war. What does it matter about the apostolic succession when we have these real problems to tackle?"

A large number attended the euchre party sponsored by the Cancer, Polio and Tuberculosis Welfare committees of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs held on Wednesday evening.

Winners of prizes were as follows: ladies, Mrs. Kay Carson and Mrs. Eva Murphy, low, Mrs. O. Adams; men's, Mr. F. Codling, Mr. S. Cherry, low, (playing on man's ticket), Mrs. E. Goodman. The door prize was won by Mrs. H. Way.

Centennial Coffee Night Held by WA

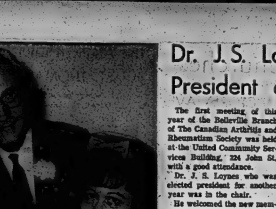
On Friday evening Mrs. J. Lloyd's group of the Evening Branch WA of Christ Church sponsored a most successful centennial pie and coffee night. Many were in attractive centennial dress carrying out the theme of the event.

Guests were received by the president, Mrs. A. Boogard. Mrs. L. Mac Innis was treasurer.

The homemaking table with an appealing array of delicacies was well patronized and was supervised by Mrs. S. Beggs, Mrs. A. Cooper, Mrs. A. Smith and Mrs. L. Williams.



Mrs. L. Mason, Mrs. A. Gilroy and Mrs. G. Devotin had a fine display of handmade aprons, knitted goods and fancy work.

A centennial display in charge of Mrs. J. Kilburn and Mrs. J. Spencer was an added attraction with a collection of books, a family Bible, stereoscope, pictures, silverware, records and many other articles.

Individual guest tables were centred with crystal bowls with a single centennial rose. Those who served were Mrs. P. Burton, Miss F. Reid, Mrs. J. Curcuric, Mrs. I. Read, Mrs. J. O'Connor and Mrs. H. Stevens.

Others who assisted with the tables were Mrs. W. Eagle, Mrs. E. Green, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. W. Edwards, Mrs. H. Reeve, Mrs. A. Wilson, Mrs. E. Copeland, Mrs. L. Markle and Mrs. F. Goodfellow.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE N. REED

Reed – Partridge

St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Belleville, was the scene April 7, 1967 at 7 p.m. of the marriage of Dorothy Charlotte Partridge of Belleville and George N. Reed of Burlington. Rev. S.W. Gentile was the officiating clergyman and Mrs. Ralph Bletcher-ford played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by Jack Partridge, the bride on the floor - length apple green sleeveless corded silk gown with Empire waist and short shoulder cape. Her headdress was a matching wedding ring band and short veil and she carried a white Bible crested with a mauve orchid.

Miss Bonnie Partridge was her mother's attendant. She was dressed in a floor-length gold crepe gown fashioned with Empire waistline, sweetheart neckline and cape sleeves. Her headpiece was a matching gold ring band and short veil and she carried a nosegay of white and pale mauve 'mums.

George Thomas Partridge, son of the bride, was groomsman.

Following a dinner in the Moira Room, Hotel Quinte, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to the southern United States. For travelling, Mrs. Reed chose a yellow wool two-piece ensemble with black accessories and an orchid corsage. On their return, they will live in Belleville.

Dr. J. S. Loynes Again President of C.A.R.S.

The first meeting of this year of the Belleville Branch of The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society was held at the United Community Services Building, 224 John St. with a good attendance.

Dr. J. S. Loynes who was elected president for another year was in the chair.

He welcomed the new members serving on the board for the first time, and introduced the board of directors for the year 1967: vice-president, Mr. D. E. Grant; secretary-treasurer, Miss Gladys H. MacDonald; director, Mr. J. Bryson Leslie, Mr. D. W. Goodsir, Mrs. J. N. Hart, Miss Hilda Collier, Mr. Enos David, Mr. A. Mashyra, Mr. G. A. Daugherty, Mr. R. Freeman, Mrs. A. W. Hume and Mrs. E. E. David.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Zimmels were named associate members of the board. Early for the past ten years they have been members of the Board but due to ill health were unable to be active in the society and the board wished to honor them in this way.

Dr. Loynes regretted that the treatment clinic at the Belleville General Hospital which had been held Tuesday and Thursday evenings had to be closed temporarily.

Mrs. Kathryn Brown, staff phiotherapist had been granted leave of absence for three months, and a replacement was unable to be found to take over during her absence, so the clinic would reopen as soon as Mrs. Brown could take up the position again.

Dr. Loynes introduced the Campaign Director who had been recently appointed to the Ontario Division of C.A.R.S., Mr. J. Ross Morrison.

Mr. Morrison gave an informative talk on the reorganization of the Society on the Provincial level into six regions. He stressed the responsibility of the local branch and each volunteer on further-ing the Society's objectives.

He said that a field representative for Region 2 which includes the Belleville Branch has not yet been appointed and for the present Mr. Rose Sawrenko of Ottawa from Region one will be serving this region also.

Mr. Morrison announced that the annual meeting of The Ontario Division will be held on the Westbury Hotel, Toronto on Saturday, April 22nd at 10.30 a.m. There will be representation from all branches in the province in attendance.

The meeting will concentrate on organization, fund raising, and will include an interesting visit to the Wellesley Hospital Division of the University of Toronto, Rheumatic Disease Unit.

It is anticipated than many of the directors plan to attend this meeting, they are interested in this Rheumatic Disease Unit as many patients from this area have been hospitalized there.

The following directors were appointed as conveners of various committees: Mrs. E. David and Mr. R. Freeman, coin boxes; Miss Hilda Collier, Mrs. A. W. Hume, treatment clinic; Mr. Enos David, representative from the board on the United Community Services of Belleville and District Incorporated, and publicity, Mrs. E. David.

Holy Rosary CWL Holds Centennial Year Tea

Knights of Columbus hall was the scene of activity Wednesday when Holy Rosary Catholic Women's League held its centennial tea.

Entrance to the hall was eye catching with an array of red, white and blue streamers forming an arch. Guests passed through the arch to be welcomed by the president, Mrs. Milford Walker, assisted by the convener of the tea, Mrs. Ray Eves, and Mrs. William Smith, co-convener.

The hall was attractive with centennial colors and flags.

Girls in ladies were charming in their dress of grandmother's day in gay prints and mob-cap effect.

Mrs. W. J. Sargent from Hastings County Museum was there in ladies' dress prior to the decor of the tea as they visited with the guests in their authentic dresses of a century ago.

The individual tables were covered with white cloths and carried centennial motifs.

The guests were served fruit salad plates with old fashioned tea biscuits and Jack Darlington and Mrs. Ed. McGuigan were conveners.

Mrs. Ralph Bletcher had charge of the tea tables. Mrs. Albert Bessett and Mrs. John Snider were joint conveners for the old fashioned sugar and oatmeal cookies.

Mrs. Alma Kerry assisted by Mrs. Lorne Boyd was kitchen convener.

The home bake table was well patronized with tarts, cakes, loaves, muffins, breads, cookies and every appealing centennial cake for sale. This table was convened by Mrs. Douglas Fudge.

Fudge was in great demand and this was sold quickly by Mrs. Norman Fox.

Mrs. Fred Bedard was busy busy at the variety booth, which featured children's summer pyjamas, pillow slips, luncheon cloths and other articles. The apron table was in charge of Mrs. Bruce Thompson.

Many onlookers were attracted to an antique display which included a spinning wheel, old Bibles, family portraits and one baby's petticoat 85 years old.

Those pouring tea were: Mrs. Joseph Foberi, Mrs. Patrick Brennen, Mrs. Donald Eves, Mrs. Loretta McEvoy, Mrs. Jim McQuaid and Mrs. Robert Schreiber.

Mrs. Donat Clement was treasurer for the day.

Mrs. Vince Baker sold tickets on a corn beef dinner which will be held on Mrs. Steve Garvin. Mrs. Joseph Foberi won the door prize.

The prize winners were: euchre, Mrs. Doris Joudwa, Mrs. S. O'Brien, Mrs. L. Dongé, Mrs. Wm. F. Coles and Frank Short; bridge, Mr. Flola, Mrs. Featherstone and Mr. MacDonald.

Door prize for the evening was won by Jerry Mervin.

FISHERMEN'S PARADISE

(Conclusion)

"For angling may be said to be so like the Mathematicks, that it can never be fully learnt . . . " — Izaak Walton in The Compleat Angler.

* * *

"New Zealand is perhaps better known for its freshwater fish and fishing," says Dr. E. D. Lane of Belleville, formerly connected with the Department of Fisheries and Marine Life of New Zealand.

"This small country separated from Australia, the nearest major land mass, by a thousand miles of the Tasman Sea, has evolved many unique freshwater native fish.

"The most unusual is the torrent fish, a small sculpin-like animal which lives in rapid streams and rivers. There are other unique species of families of fish, the families sharing species with Australia and South America. Such are the New Zealand smelt, the bullies and native trout.

"The latter are an interesting group. All are rovers and have evolved the habit of living in wet mud during drought conditions and hence are called mudfish. A fourth species is considered a gourmet delight in the larval state. This fish, whitebait, is caught in small nets when it is an inch or so long and cooked fish cakes and deep-fried. Any Kiwi will tell you how delicious this fish is. Eels, the largest native fish are other freshwater species.

"Some of the best rainbow and brown trout fishing in the world can be found in New Zealand streams and lakes. The North Island Lake Taupo and the Tongariro River are a world famous among fly fishermen.

"The rainbows average 6 pounds from 5 to 10 pounds and catches are usually good. Rotorua Lakes are also famous for it is said that in one area you can catch a rainbow on one side of the boat, then cook it off the other side in one of the many hot springs and upwellings.

"The rivers and lakes on the South Island almost all contain large brown and rainbow trout. Rivers like the Waiau, Eggington, Matarata and Wrimakariri come immediately to mind. Lakes of unsurpassed beauty as Te Anau, Manapouri, Alexandrian, and many others will also give excellent sport.

"Chinook salmon may also be taken in many rivers with Maori names such as Rakaia, Waitaki and Rangitata. Salmon fishing here, however, is often taken more as a prestige match than as a sport both between angler and fish and anglers and other anglers.

"For non - fly fishermen there are many areas to catch all tackle, so superb trout fishing is available to anglers of all bents.

"Interesting books on freshwater fish and fishing are, New Zealand Trout and Salmon Fishing On Thursday by E. G. Webber and Freshwater Fishes, Native and Introduced, by C. E. Woods, available through Whitcomb and Tombs, of Wellington.

Dr. and Mrs. Lane were asked if they would like to return. Mrs. Lane said, Perhaps "After the children are educated and away" while Dr. Lane most enthusiastically said "Yes!"

IDEAS FOR AN IMPORTANT PART OF YOUR HOME

TOMSETT

Here are some tips for you on decorating one part of your home that's often neglected — the entrance area. This is an important area because it is here that a visitor gets the first impression of your home.

One of the most important jobs for the entrance area is to say "welcome". Therefore, it should be inviting and cheerful.

If you have an attractive entrance area it increases the atmosphere of hospitality in your home. Bright, cheery, warm colors are usually best.

There are practical considerations for this area, too. There usually should be some place to put wet, heavy, gloves, etc. If the area is not big enough for a table, you can consider wall shelves that require no floor space.

It's usually a good idea to have a mirror in this area. For one thing a mirror will add depth and make your entrance way seem larger. For another, a mirror is practical for folks who want to take a last check at themselves before going out.

This area should be well-lighted, and if you do use furniture, remember to place it so it will not interfere with free and easy movement.

And here's one last tip for this area. Try some wall planters or floral arrangements. This will add one more bright, lively touch for you and your friends on entering your house.

MARMORA CWL

MARMORA — Annual report was given at April meeting of Marmora Council of the Catholic Women's League Monday.

Missions convener, Mrs. Charles Lajoie, stated that 72 boxes of used clothing had been sent to missions at Comber, mere, as well as stamps to Holy Redeemer College. Nine subscriptions to the League magazine were obtained by Mrs. Bill Meehan, Jr., and articles from the magazine were read at each meeting. Spiritual convener, Mrs. Charles Brady, noted that five rosaries had been sold by members at funeral wakes, three masses were held for deceased members, 12 masses were held for living members, spiritual readings were given at each meeting and two study group meeting were held in Lent. Social convener, Mrs. Kingsley stated that nine gifts and 23 cards had been sent during the year by the social action committee.

Education convener, Mrs. Donald Shannon, Sr. included on her report the $100 CWL scholarship given to the highest standing Catholic student in grade 13, prizes amounting to $10 given for high standing separate school children, a donation of $10 given for education of seminarians. Seven members attended group discussions.

Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Breen O'Connor, followed by a rosary gasbord meal in the parish hall. The Feast of our Lady of Good Counsel will be observed with a High Mass for members April 28. A motion was passed that, the council be forwarded to the centennial committee to assist in purchasing a coffee percolator for the town hall. The president reported highlights of recent centennial meeting she had attended. Additional cook books were sold at the meeting by Mrs. John Clairmont.

Members will entertain at a Holy Name banquet in May. Discussed also was the possibility of a reception on April 28 to give parishioners the opportunity of meeting Archbishop J. L. William when he is in Marmora for confirmation.

Officers for 1967-68 are: past president, Mrs. Breen O'Connor; president, Mrs. Bill Monk; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Charles Brady; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Hugh Brady; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Charles Crawford; secretary, Mrs. Joe Maloney; treasurer, Mrs. Bill Meehan, Jr.; councillors, Mrs. Tom Brady, Mrs. Roger Nesbitt, Mrs. Joe O'Neill, Mrs. Don Shannon, Sr., Mrs. Jim Shannon, Mrs. Arthur Sheridan.

The new executive was installed by Monsignor Spence who complimented the former executive on their accomplishments during their term of office and presented Mrs. O'Connor with a gift from the parish for her work as president.

Will Speak At Canadian Club Meeting

A most timely and interesting address on the topic "The Shape of Canada in Its Second Century" will be given by Hon. J. T. Thorson P.C. when the Canadian Club of Belleville and District holds its meeting Monday evening at 8:15 p.m., in Sir Winston Churchill Public School.

Mr. Thorson was born in Winnipeg, the son of Icelandic parents who had recently emigrated to Manitoba. He graduated in Classics from the University of Manitoba and was appointed a Rhodes Scholar, after which he proceeded to Oxford and took his Jurisprudence. He was called to the bar of the Middle Temple, London, and in Manitoba.

The speaker served with the Canadian Army overseas from 1916 to 1918. Upon entering politics, he represented Winnipeg South Centre and Selkirk. In 1935 Mr. Thorson was appointed Canadian delegate to the League of Nations and in 1941 was appointed to the cabinet as Minister of War Services.

After among the many appointments and honors he has received are: president of the International Congress of Jurists, president of the Canadian Citizenship Council, 7-yr-in which he resigned in 1966; 1st president of the Canada Foundation, in 1957 he was elected president of the Canadian Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament, and from 1942 to 1964 was president (Chief Justice) of the Exchequer Court of Canada.

It has been announced by the president of the Canadian Club, D. L. Bell that this will be an open meeting and all who wish are invited to attend. A special welcome is extended to non-members.

Club Activities

CAMERA CLUB

Enthusiastic photo-bobbyists met at the Kiwanis Centre, to complete the final arrangements for their contribution to the presentation of "Arts Festival '67," in which they will participate with the Canadian Federation of Art groups of artists, and the Belleville Arts and Crafts Club, in connection with exhibition of the work done by these three groups next Thursday evening, April 13th at 8.30 p.m., in the Centennial Secondary School in Belleville.

Continuing this year's project of making available to all Quinte residents, a good knowledge of photography, the Eastman Kodak Company has arranged an instruction program on "how to take better color pictures," accompanied with a batch of music, and some light conversation.

The group was taken on a tour of Montreal, Expo Ontario, Yosemite - National Park, and many other fascinating, and educational trips, all at no charge. At the same time really helpful hints were provided for better - picture - taking which should be of real assistance in this centennial year.

Once again utilizing the knowledge and skills, of the members, Gordon Buyers presided and interesting program, which illustrated the rewarding enjoyment one of Quinte residents finds, in the hobby of collecting old time music machines. The colored slides of these instruments, accompanied with taped music of that era, proved a most enjoyable diversion.

The evening concluded with refreshments being served, and all members looking forward to next week's centennial display.

Know Your Antiques

By RALPH and TERRY KOVEL

Early in the 19th century, Martin Guillaume Biennais, a French silversmith, made a set of silver. It included a teapot, coffeepot, hot water jug, vegetable dishes and other pieces.

In 1833, President Andrew Jackson bought the silver set from the Russian Minister Baron de Tuyll for $4,300.32.

Biennais was one of the most famous French silversmiths of the 19th century. He worked in the classical Empire style popular during the days of Napoleon. The Emperor favored Biennais, and many historic silver services made by the silversmith have survived.

The coffeepot from the White House service was made with three paw feet, an ivory handle, hinged lid, and chased classical ornaments. It is inscribed "President's House."

Q. In 1814, I dug a hole in the back yard and found a glass jar. I knew it was a treasure and saved it. The top had an elephant made from frosted glass. It is the only treasure I have, ever found by digging.

A. If the elephant on your glass lid holds a glass log, it is probably the top of a sugar bowl. If the elephant has a square seat on his back and the name Jumbo on the side, it is the top of a butter dish.

Jumbo, the elephant, was part of the Barnum circus in 1882. He was killed in a railroad accident in 1885. The glass pattern was made about 1884 by a glass company in Canton, Ohio. It was not a popular pattern of pressed glass but is now in demand by collectors.

Q. We own a cradle that has been in our family for over 100 years. The original finish has worn off. It is stained and dry looking. Would it lose its value if it were refinished?

A. The original finish is always to be preferred on any antique. If the original finish has gone off, refinishing is the best solution. Try to restore the old finish by rubbing the cradle with a solution of boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and white vinegar mixed in equal parts.

Q. BIMAL bottle, a recent article said. What does it mean?

Q. BIMAL is the abbreviation used in some collectors' publications for a type of bottle. Blown in Mold, Applied Lip refers to the method by which the bottle was manufactured.

If you have a small antique, a button or box, that you think is made from animal hoofs or horns, it can be tested. Hold a red hot needle against the antique in an inconspicuous spot. If the smoke smells like burning feathers, it is from an animal. If it smells like acid, it is bakelite, and if the smell is like camphor or moth balls, it is celluloid.

BOOK REVIEW

Glass collectors always seem to need color pictures to study. "Art, Colored, and Cameo Glass" is a 32-page booklet with 200 pieces of glass pictured in color. (Harry Whitlow, 17438 Poplar, Riverview, Mich.)

Ralph and Terry Kovel regret that they cannot research and provide personal answers about antiques you may own. They do appreciate your questions which can be answered in the column.

Pictures and drawings cannot be returned.

Ann Landers

Laundered Money Sign of Sick Mind

ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I nearly laughed myself sick when I read that letter from the woman who was so clean she washed a bandage before she ate it, even though she had peeled it herself.

When I remembered a neighbor I had a few years back. She was even wackier. This woman used to wash her paycheck every Friday, bring the money home and wash it with soap and water and hang it in the bathroom to dry. She said money had germs on it and she didn't want her to be responsible for any one's illness.

It takes all kinds of people to make a world, doesn't it? — MAID LEARN.

DEAR LIVE: It sure does. And the woman who washed the money so people wouldn't get sick had a sickness herself.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is not speaking to me today. Please tell me if I deserve this deep-freeze treatment.

Last night Jerry was figuring his income tax report. He was having trouble with a long-term gain and a loss due to a bad purchase. Suddenly he asked me to telephone a woman we had seen at church affairs. Her husband is a tax-consultant. I barely knew her well enough to call her by her first name. We have never been out with them socially. Jerry said I should call her on the phone, chat a while and then ask her if her husband could answer a couple of questions for me.

I said I would feel like a fool — that I, thought it would be impossible to bother a man at home and try to pump him for information.

Jerry said I was silly, that it would only take five minutes. When I refused, Jerry got mad, gathered up all his papers and shouted, "Well, then I'm going to pay you for your time, for doing the whole job and it's a ridiculous waste of money."

He has been silent since yesterday. Was I wrong? — ICEBERG HAYWARD.

DEAR HAYWARD: Your husband has no right to expect a casual acquaintance to make him a gift of information which took him years to acquire. Pay him.

All a tax consultant has to sell is what he knows. Why expect him to give it away? You were right to refuse to make the call. I only wish you had have made both you and your husband look like chiselers.

*

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter ran off and married five years ago, at the age of 16. She hated school and wanted to lead her own life. Now I wish she would lead her own life and let us know how she is doing.

This girl has been a financial drag on us ever since she was married. We have four other children. My husband makes a good salary but we are far from rich. I feel that a married daughter should manage on what her husband makes and leave her parents alone. She says a daughter is still part of the family, married or single, and we are abnormal people. When she asks for financial help we can't seem to say no. What is right? — JUST CHECKING.

DEAR JUST: You should have made your position clear when your daughter married. Often, when teen-agers are told "Once you marry you are on your own," they have second thoughts and stay in school where they belong. Most people are not inclined to jump when they realize there is no net below. Even though you are now beyond that point, it's still not too late to insist that your daughter meet her responsibilities.

Wife Has Never Given Up Trying To Understand Psychopathic Husband

BORIS CLARE

Dear Doris: My husband is what is known as a psychopath. A medical social worker said there is no treatment or cure for this type of a person. Is there no help at all and can you tell me more about it?

We separated two years ago and last fall he came to see me. We got along swell in spite of his drinking and he worked. Now he is back again. While I was out for groceries he came and took all his clothes.

I have never given up trying to help and understand him. No matter what else he is, he is still the children's father. — Willing To Hope

Dear Willing: A true psychopath has had his trouble (a mental illness) since birth or very early childhood. The usual methods of treatment can make little impression on him.

He has more or less lost touch with his conscience can tell lies, enjoy hurting people, be destructive, perhaps, and not feel any real pangs of guilt.

I question whether it is good for your children to learn to depend on him, with his habit of letting them down. It would be better for them to understand that he is not quite right mentally, and to just enjoy him in a detached way while he is there.

Perhaps there is another male figure in the family they can look up to for their example.

* * *

Dear Doris: He the letter from Carver, B.C.: There are no books on antler carving. If there were I would have them. I have some fine writings on taxidermy and could send him one or tell him where to write.

I suggest he change over to mounting these things. There is actually no carver of antlers. They are mounted as they are to be but that in a natural way. — R. J. W.

Dear R.J.W.: Thank you. Perhaps what Carver really wanted was instructions about how to show off antlers at their best, after all.

* * *

Dear Doris: Was it proper for my daughter to go to her boy friend's place for the two weeks' Christmas holidays? They both go to university, and he was going home for the holidays.

It is hard to know when you are being too "pushy" or too "mean". These two have been going steady for a year now and plan marriage. — Right or Wrong?

Dear Right or Wrong?: Your daughter is old enough to be away at university. So is he. You say they are planning on marriage later.

As long as the invitation came from his mother, I'd say o.k. to the trip to his home. Obviously you consider his family acceptable as in-laws. You aren't being pushy—even though, underneath, your overanxiety may seem to you to sway your judgment.

Doris cannot begin to answer all your questions in the column. To make sure of your reply, remember to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kitchen Tested Recipes

Liver in Creole Sauce

MARY MOORE

LETTER: I have been clipping recipes of yours from my newspaper for years now and this is the first time I feel that I can offer a recipe that I know will please. I'm one of your readers. Dorothy R. asked for liver casseroles and you gave her one in the paper.

Here is another which is delicious, and may appeal to some who do not like the mushroom soup in yours. I have used this recipe for a long time now and it is a firm favorite around our house. I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for all the wonderful ideas I have gathered from your column; my husband wishes that I didn't cook so well, as I intend to over-weight, and yet I go on trying new recipes on my patient family. Have you ever printed a cookbook? The recipe that I am enclosing is one that I got from the extension department of the University of Saskatchewan. — Joan M. K.

1 lb. sliced liver
2 tbsps oil
2 cups diced celery
1 large chopped onion
2 tsps. salt
2 tbsps. sugar
4 tsps. flour (to thicken)
One 20-oz. can tomatoes

Sear the sliced liver in hot oil in a pan, remove and cut into large chunks in a casserole.

To the hot oil add the celery and onion and stir around until limp but not browned.

Add the salt, sugar and flour to pan, stir until flour is blended with the oil, and then add one 20-oz. can of tomatoes, stir gently until thick, then pour into the casserole with the liver. Lift the liver up a little to allow tomato sauce to flow under. Cover and bake for 45 min. at 325 deg. Fahr.

ANSWER: Your recipe is wonderful! It reminds me a lot of the Baked Liver and Onions given here in March, 1960 which my son Pete and his roommate Dan concocted in their final college year.

My cookbook? A dream ever so slowly becoming a future reality.

CLUB 4-H NOTES

THE CALICO CATS

The 31st meeting of the Wallbridge 3 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs. Omar Chisholm on April 4, 1967. Eight members attended this meeting and 1 guest with Mrs. Horace Knight and Mrs. Omar Chisholm saying the 4-H Pledge.

For roll call, each member had to demonstrate a good posture by sitting and standing straight to the rest of the class.

The business consisted of Joan Chisholm reading the minutes of the last meeting, note books were reviewed, 4-H displayed, and plans for Achievement Day were made.

During discussion, inserting a zipper, making button holes, and sewing buttons on a garment were discussed.

For the demonstration Mrs. Chisholm showed the members how to insert a zipper, and how to sew on a button. Mrs. Knight also demonstrated how to make a button hole at this meeting.

There was no group work at this time.

Five Days, 39 Speeches and Hellyer Bill Still on First Clause

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Hellyer and his bill to convert, Canada's three services into one finished up a rough week in the Commons Friday.

After 39 speeches, five days of clause-by-clause study and references to Mr. Hellyer as a Nazi - type dictator or propaganda agent, the bill was still stalled of the first clause under study.

But there was speculation outside the House that the opposition—mainly from Conservative MPs—would not be sustained enough to keep the government into a financial corner on the bill. That would require a walkout that would keep the bill stalled until mid-May.

Only a handful of Conservatives carry the main burden for the official Opposition against the bill. Included in the group are Douglas Harkness (Calgary North) and Gordon Churchill (Winnipeg South Centre), both former defence ministers, and Michael Forrestall (Halifax) whose riding counts heavily on defence expenditures.

Others who have taken a special interest are Terry Nugent (Edmonton Strathcona), Jack McIntosh (Swift Current-Maple Creek) and Heber Smith (Simcoe North).

Informants said Friday that Opposition Leader Diefenbaker was preparing to debate.

Transport Minister Pickersgill tried to take a light approach Friday, referring to his own abortive military career as a "frightful" one that ended in 1922 when, as a member of the officer training corps at the University of Manitoba, he was unable to hit the target with a Lee-Enfield rifle.

Under regulations of the day, he added, no man who was not proficient with the rifle could lead troops and a brilliant military career may have been nipped in the bud.

Mr. Pickersgill said the idea of unification could not be referred to the military experts because unification had not been tried in modern times. It was time for younger men with modern ideas to supersede the military men who kept fighting past wars.

"I could have sheltered in a university in the First World War," Mr. Churchill fired back. He was "fed up" with criticism from people who had not seen combat about the feelings of military men.

Mr. Pickersgill quickly apologized.

Mr. Forrestall said Mr. Hellyer had reneged on a pledge that consolidation of forces bases in the Halifax area would not result in economic hardship.

He said civilian technical employees of defence — related firms have been ordered out of HMCS Shearwater, the naval air arm base, by April 17. This affected about 100 employees and their families.

"Stop acting like Hitler did," Mr. Forrestall said. "Don't be afraid to admit you've been wrong once in a while."

Family Planning Expanded

TORONTO (CP) — Health Minister Matthew Dymond said Friday new public health measures be introduced in the legislature will put family planning clinics within reach of all Ontario homes.

The province will put $5,000,000 into local health services in the next 12 months or twice the amount present government subsidies provide, he said.

Within a year, all of Ontario's 43 local health boards and main will be en-couraged to open family planning clinics.

The minister said he hoped that every mother in the province will be able to consult local doctors in clinics on family planning methods and the use of birth control pills.

Rather than promoting birth control, he said, the government is trying to make available an efficient family planning service.

Later at a news conference he said: "There is no reason why a family should not plan for nine or 10 children."

In other news, the minister said Friday the price of cyclodine, a drug used in some heart conditions, has dropped as much as 50 per cent since May, 1966.

This was in reply to NDP Leader Donald MacDonald who mentioned "widespread reports that persons suffering from heart trouble are now faced with 500-per-cent increases in prices for quinidine through price management by an international cartel."

Ontario Liberal Leader Robert Nixon described Friday the establishment of 12 advisory committees by Health Minister Dymond as "a pathetic attempt to hide the government's ineptness over the past four years."

Liberals J. B. Trotter, Toronto - Parkdale and Elmer Sopha, Sudbury, said Friday the government ignores the underdeveloped north while encouraging the developing of prosperous southern Ontario.

Mr. Sopha said the government is content to have Americans "rape our resources and cart them away." "We must use the resources for our own people," he said.

During a discussion on department spending estimates, Minister of economics Stanley Randall said the government agency had committed 2,000 persons last year.

REMEMBER POETESS

ONONDAGA, Ont. (CP) — More than 10,000 persons from 18 countries visited Chedworod, birthplace of Indian poetess E. Pauline Johnson, during the seven months it was open last year. Joyce Smoke, curator of the building, told the Six Nations Indian council Friday that Chiefswood, near this community five miles east of Brantford, was open from May 1 to Dec. 31 in 1966 and will open again April 15 for this season.

Banks Highlight Otherwise Dull Sessions on Exchanges

By LARRY DWORKIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Banks highlighted an otherwise dull performance on Canada's major stock exchanges this week as profit taking snuffed out attempted rallies.

Brokers and investors are optimistic about the profit outlook of banks under the new Bank Act.

The Toronto exchange's bank index gained 3.30 to 135.12. At Montreal, it moved up 1.43 to 133.43.

Toronto-Dominion announced plans for a five-for-one split in its stock, subject to shareholder approval. Bank of Montreal made a similar announcement in January and other major banks are expected to do the same.

At Toronto, Royal Bank climbed 2¼ to 81¼, Toronto-Dominion 2 to 68½, Montreal 2¼ to 67, Nova Scotia 1 to 77 and Imperial Commerce ¼ to 71¼.

In the last month the market's performance has slowed down and this week was no exception.

Brokers are divided as to the immediate outlook. Some say the market will have to go through a period of correction to account for declining orders for durable goods, production cutbacks and labor settlements.

Others are more optimistic and say the market is beginning to discount a turn around in business in the latter half of the year and "soaring corporate profits throughout the late sixties."

The Bank of Canada's late week cut in its bank rate to 4¼ per cent from five per cent was welcomed by brokers who said the reduction can only help stimulate the market over the long run.

A similar move towards easier money was adopted by the U.S. federal reserve board.

The industrial index, which measures the price movements of key stocks, edged up .34 to 167.43—following the New York trend.

Bouvier Lumber, which recently announced a sharp increase in its 1966 earnings, climbed 3½ to 39¼. Mosaic Corp. added 1¼ at 10¾ and CPR 1¼ at 68.

Brantisco Light and Power advanced 1 to 13¾ on about 120,000 shares. The company announced Friday it was participating in a bid with Investors Mutual of Canada Ltd. and Jonlab Investments Ltd. to buy back control of John Schlitz Brewing Co. of Milwaukee.

Brantisco's president, J. Grant Glassco, said Schlitz has accepted the offer, but the transaction needs approval of the U.S. courts.

Schlitz bought the 1,700,000 Labatt shares in 1964 at $22 a share. The Canadian group is offering about $21 a share. Labatt closed down 1 to 23½.

Brantisco also reported its 1966 net profit totalled $36,779,000 in U.S. funds compared with $19,480,000 in 1965.

Asbestos Corp. said 1½ to 32½ after the company announced it had suspended development operations at Asbestos Hill in northeastern Quebec. B-A Oil and DuPont each fell 1 to 34 and 20½.

Golds tumbled 4.37 on index to 143.77, reflecting the general weakness in the industry. Dome was off 3½ to 41½, Campbell Red Lake ¼ to 19 and Giant Yellowknife 40 cents to 7.65.

Western oils beat their wings clipped in profit taking as Canadian Superior declined 2 to 37, Scurry-Rainbow 1¼ to 23¼ and Dome ¼ to 38. Home B moved up 1¼ to 34.

On index, western oils were off 1.07 to 157.03 while base metals rose .73 to 81.11. Volume was 13,028,000 shares compared with 14,887,000 last week.

At Montreal, industrials were down .41 to 163.39 while utilities gained .39 to 148.29 and papers .39 to 123.33. Volume was 4,004,000 shares compared with 4,180,000 last week.

Mandatory Health Units in Offing

TORONTO (CP)—An expanded program of public health services and new provincial controls over waste disposal are provided for in amendments to the Public Health Act given first reading by the Ontario legislature Friday.

Under the program, the government will:

1. Require all municipalities not now providing full-time public health services to establish a health unit or join an existing unit.

2. Permit Indian bands to receive services from local health units.

3. Introduce a new 25 - per-cent grant, retroactive to April 1, to all municipal boards of health which provide satisfactory health services under the use of "full - time qualified staff."

4. Boost grants to cities within health units to the level of 20 per cent now paid to rural municipalities in the units.

5. Encourage the formation of health districts incorporating several health units by the introduction next Jan. 1 of a 75-per-cent grant to such districts.

Health Minister Dymond said the boundaries of the new health districts will be prepared by his department in consultation with local authorities in Northern Ontario, they will generally follow territorial boundaries.

He said the bill will also provide for a system of capital grants to local boards of health similar to grants provided by the Ontario Hospital Services Commission for the provision of community health facilities.

Under the proposed waste management program, waste disposal will be prohibited anywhere in the province unless the health department approved both the site and the method of disposal.

The minister said the legislation will empower the department to force municipalities to institute garbage collection or make changes in their existing waste disposal systems.

Private operators of waste disposal systems will have to furnish deposits to ensure that sites are maintained satisfactorily.

Fines of $100 to $2,000 are provided for contravention of the provisions of the waste disposal program.

The same bill permits the cabinet to pass regulations for the licensing, regulating and controlling of all public health and medical laboratories, radiological clinics, prosthetic orthotic establishments and a variety of other health facilities.

Dr. Dymond said the provision is directed "toward the orderly development and maintenance of essential health facilities in the province, providing a high quality of care to the people."

Dr. Dymond later told a news conference that the section of the bill on licensing regulations will permit the government to license hearing - aid salesmen.

Meet the best reason in the world for having a Cascade 40 electric water heater

It's surprising how someone so small can be so hard on hot water.

But, tiny as he is, this little fellow will go through four or five thousand diapers in his first eighteen months. Not to mention coveralls, sleepers and loads of other pint-sized apparel. With very little effort, he can conjure up many other ways of increasing your need for hot water. For instance, stubborn little finger marks caused by sticky little fingers. It all adds up to a whale of a lot of hot water.

If your present water heater can't meet your growing needs, perhaps your home could do with one more addition—a Cascade 40 electric water heater. It will provide all the hot water you're ever likely to need . . . for only a few cents a day.

Take the sensible step to lots of hot water. Get a Cascade 40 electric water heater.

Festival '67 Most Ambitious Arts Program

By HARRY MULHALL
Staff Reporter

Four nights from now the stage lights go up at Belleville's ultra-modern Centennial Secondary School auditorium.

They will shine on for four consecutive nights.

Reflected in their glow will be Arts Festival '67, one of the brightest, certainly the most sophisticated, spangles highlighting the city's centennial-year program.

It also peaks months of backroom work for a number of artistic organizers, busily harvesting talent by the bushelful.

For the ambitions of the four-day program are matched in depth by the pool of individual talent Arts Festival '67 revealed.

It also emphasized something of a modern social phenomenon: The community whose citizens' off-hour engagement with art contribute to a broad spectrum of cultural inspiration, gradually enriching the community environment.

The fact most times goes unrevealed until an enterprise like next week's festival suddenly puts it in a collective spotlight.

Quinte district dwellers for instance will discover, perhaps for the first time, in their midst are trained and competent musicians by the score; artists, sculptors and inspired photographers, actors and composers.

Add to this assembly the technicians, the hostesses organizers and enthusiastic all-round helpers and you count the festival's participant, not in scores but in hundreds.

The festival opens and closes with the sounds of music.

Theatre and the visual arts hold the focus between times.

Heralding the opening Wednesday night is the Eastern Ontario Concert Orchestra conducted by its organizer-conductor Stephen Chomas.

Soloists are the well-known Belleville artists, Hazelanne and Robert Reid.

The program selected by Mr. Chomas might be termed a community presentation, chosen with an eye to meeting most tastes.

It ranges from classicism of Glock to the contemporary light repertoires of Richard Rodgers.

Thursday night sees the scene shift from the auditorium to the school gymnasium where three groups combine to put the visual arts on view.

The talented amateurs of the Belleville Art Association, the city's Camera Club and the Belleville Arts and Crafts Club, present the products of their inspiration for public showing.

One of the most talented efforts could also be the least noticed — simply because it forms the backdrop to the various collections.

Creating the settings for the exhibits has been the responsibility of Ron Vandervelde, young local sculptor who now works out of studios at his riverside home in Corbyville.

His task has been to highlight the displays by surrounding them with settings which capture the theme of the show.

For this he set himself the stipulation of using only local products — crushed marble from a district quarry, wood from old neighborhood barns.

There's even a local association in the Friday night Festival event as the program moves back to the auditorium and the Belleville Theatre Guild's production of At the Heart's Core.

The Robertson Davies comedy set in the Peterborough district settlements of 1837 counts Susanna Moodie among its dramatic characters.

The author of classics on early Canadian immigrant life, later moved to Belleville and the time of the play predates her departure.

The play, guided by veteran Guild director Deirdre Warren, tells of the humor — and bitterness — of settlement life in the Canadian clearings.

Ringing down the curtain on the four-day gala Saturday night will be the Belleville Choral Society.

Again, there is emphasis on community originality.

Included in the program will be works by two Belleville composers — Alec Gordon and Mary Deacon.

Mr. Gordon, a church organist, has contributed a variety of musical settings through the years for recitals and choral groups.

Mrs. Deacon, whose music has been published in United States, has written a Centennial-year theme Awake Men which will be performed by the society.

Festival Playbill

Every night brings something new for Belleville audiences at Arts Festival '67 at Centennial Secondary School — as this ready reference shows:

Wednesday — Eastern Ontario Concert Orchestra; conducted by Steve Chomas; soloists, Hazelanne and Robert Reid.

Thursday — Visual Arts Display: Belleville Art Association Canadiana '67 presentation; Belleville Camera Club "Focus Canada" exhibit; Belleville Arts and Crafts Club.

Friday —Belleville Theatre Guild's At My Heart's Core by Robertson Davies.

Saturday — Belleville Choral Society; conductor Phyllis May; program includes music by Belleville composers Mary Deacon, Alec Gordon.

Opening cue each night: 8.15 p.m.

The Play's the Thing!

Hercules? Hardly...

That rock's not for real but its originator, Ron Vandervelde has played a strongman's role arranging visual arts setting, where stone will be placed.

UN Trio Heading To Geneva

ROME (AP)—The three-man UN mission on Aden flew toward Geneva today despite the British government's invitation to go to London to talk over the mission's charge that the British had not co-operated with it.

The mission's chairman, Manuel Pereznguerrero of Venezuela, said "We have not yet decided whether to accept the invitation to go to London."

With Perez were the other two mission members, Abdunassar Shalizi of Afghanistan and Mouses Leo Keita of Mali.

The three flew out of the British South Arabian protectorate of Aden Friday, cutting short their fact - finding trip after five days. Their visit was rejected by violence by Arab nationalists trying to discredit the South Arabian federal government.

The mission went to Aden to seek stabilizing factors in the political turmoil preceding independence for the area planned in 1968. They said they wanted to deal with British authorities in Aden but that the British insisted that they see federal officials.

Perez and his aides consulted briefly at the Rome airport with UN Secretary-General U Thant, who arrived a few minutes later for talks with Pope Paul and Italian officials as he headed for the Far East.

ADEN (Reuters)—Two Arabs, including a nationalist labor union leader, were shot to death by unknown gunmen today but the situation in this British protectorate appeared to be gradually returning to normal.

...and Then There's Music

Members of the Belleville Choral Society practise harmony with director Phyllis May. Presentation comes on final night of festival at Centennial Secondary School.

Water Bombing Planes Refitted by Province

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont, (CP)—The provincial air service of the department of lands and forests this year will launch the most powerful fire-fighting force in the province's history with many of its 42 planes equipped for automatic pickup and delivery of water bombs.

The department's water bombing force has not been increased in numbers but the planes have been refitted to make them more potent than ever, said Reg Parsons, chief pilot, in an interview.

All water - bombing planes (except the standard - model Beavers, have been fitted with 145 - gallon tanks inside their pickup of water supplies and more rapid delivery to fire targets. Previously, water probes had to be attached manually after a fire was spotted, forcing the pilot to land and make fittings before he could attack the blaze.

The new all-electric system permits the pilot to scoop up a water load and drop it on target in the same flight.

The first two fire-patrol Otters were flight - tested this week. Regular flights are two weeks behind normal because of cold weather.

Fifteen Turbo - Beaver bush planes have had the new water system installed, Mr. Parsons said.

"They've got a reserve of power, a considerable increase in performance and they'll get you there 25 per cent faster.

Twelve standard Beavers are to be replaced soon with turbine-powered planes.

The air service also has two twin-engine, turbine - powered Otters and expects them to be in service shortly, Mr. Parsons said. They now are being used for transportation and testing purposes. When equipped for fighting fire, they will carry 500-gallon tanks.

The department believes it will need all the punch its fire-fighting planes can deliver. Forest predictions are for a hazardous 1967 fire season.

Two on a Note

Hazelanne and Robert Reid will be soloists at Wednesday night's festival opener with Eastern Ontario Concert Orchestra.

One Day Plan

South Vietnam Seeks Ceasefire

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnam proposed today a one-day ceasefire despite the threat of expanded warfare in the demilitarized zone, and offered to discuss with South Vietnam the possibility of a longer truce.

With concurrence of the United States and her other allies, South Vietnam proposed a 24-hour truce for May 23, the birthday of Buddha. It proposed meeting representatives of North Vietnam in the demilitarized zone at the Ben Hai bridge to consider a possible extension.

Expanded fighting in the zone has been a matter of mounting concern.

The U.S. mission revealed that six nurses were evacuated from Hue, biggest city near the zone, and that preparations have been made should it be necessary to evacuate about 50 other American civilians in the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese are known to have some 35,000 soldiers in the immediate area of the demilitarized zone.

Tension began to mount when the North Vietnamese attacked the South Vietnamese civil police post Wednesday and followed the next day with a wave of pre-dawn attacks on Quang Tri City just 19 miles to the south.

South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky formally protested the 24-hour truce. Buddhist groups around the world had appealed to South Vietnam to observe a truce on Buddha's birthday.

The South Vietnamese statement said the truce proposal was made with the concurrence of all the powers which took part in last year's Manila conference — the United States, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand, South Korea and South Vietnam.

The air war over North Vietnam and off her coasts continued unabated despite the lull on the ground.

American pilots flew 102 missions over the North Friday and four destroyers bombarded the coast—including the Turner Joy which was hit by a shore battery. She suffered an 18-inch hole in her superstructure and one sailor was slightly wounded.

Thirty-One Die While Hunting

QUEBEC (CP) — Thirty-one persons were killed in hunting accidents in the province during 1966, the department of tourism, fish and game announced Friday. There were 38 non-fatal accidents. A statement said this compared with 18 fatal and 26 non-fatal hunting accidents in 1965.

SPORTS SLICES

By Geo. H. Carver
Sports Editor

"I shot an arrow in the air — and where it fell . . ."

In the figurative sense, the above quotation fits Mrs. Carol Armstrong, top feminine member of the Belleville Archery Club, exactly.

A couple of years ago Mrs. Armstrong fitted the arrow of determination to her bow of ambition — and it has paid off handsomely.

Prior to that time archery was a sport for the sports nuts — and the fun of it, for Carol. She decided to enter the serious competitive phase of the sport.

A natural ability with the "long bow" so to speak, coupled with a fierce desire to reach the top has stood her in good stead. She is not as yet the best woman archer in Canada but the beast is not beyond her grasp.

In her second year of competition she placed third in the Ontario Outdoor Championships held in Galt. She bowed to the present Canadian woman champion.

She practices faithfully every day. This winter her ability proved itself when she set a new Belleville club record of 287.1 out of 300 defeating the best of the men and women members of the club.

In the Provincial Indoor Mall matches she turned back all comers to assert the Ontario Mall championship.

She set her sights as higher targets. She entered the Curling Tournament at the Sports Show in Toronto and came through with flying colors defeating all lady competitors including the current Canadian lady champion in a fire-to-face, arrow-for-arrow duel.

Then came the hardest test of her archery career.

She entered the Canadian Indoor Mall Tournament in which the highest eight scores in 10 competitions are averaged to decide the winner.

Today she is rated as the Canadian Indoor Mall champion. She defeated the best woman archers in the country with a score of 268.3.

The next target? The test matches slated for Fort Arthur where she will face the top female archers in Canada to decide Canada's team in the World Archery Tournament scheduled for Holland this July.

The top four archers in both men's and women's division will comprise the national team.

In August she will compete in the Canadian national women's championships in Toronto and later the provincial championships for women. She hopes to bring home the top award for outdoor competition.

Carol is Mrs. Floyd Armstrong residing at 264 Moira street east. She has a son, Tony 8 and a daughter Donna, 6. But she finds time to put in hours of arduous practice both summer and winter.

In the summer time you will find her in the family backyard. If it is near tournament time Carol practices from three to four hours daily. If not, an hour does the job.

In the winter time she practices indoors. "I lock the outside doors so that people won't come in. I open the indoor doors and shoot through the rooms."

She took up the sport three years ago and finds it the best for her in the athletic realm. She tried bowling "just once — and that was enough".

Play Sunday Night

Leafs Must Win One In Chicago

By DAVID MILLER

CHICAGO (CP) — Denis DeJordy looks comfortable in the nets of Chicago Black Hawks—as comfortable, as a man planning to stay there until the end of the Stanley Cup series.

Before the lively National Hockey League champions, began their semi-final against Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday night, DeJordy had only played 1-1.3 games of Stanley Cup Hockey.

When Chicago coach Billy Reay announced Thursday he would start DeJordy instead of Glenn Hall, he surprised the experts. But DeJordy quickly took care of any second guesses by performing brilliantly in the Hawks' 3-2 victory, handling all but two of the Leafs' 41 shots effortlessly.

"Glen Hall and I had a meet-

ing, and we decided to start Denis," said Reay. "Actually, the decision was made three days ago."

In the last games of the regular season Denis shut out New York Rangers 4-0 and had played well in all of the games near the end of the season.

"There wasn't any point in switching from the hot goalie at this time," Reay said.

There had been speculation that Reay was resting Hall during the last five games of the season and using DeJordy as a springboard to the first game of the semi-final, but Reay said Hall is DeJordy's most ardent booster.

"Glen would never vote him-self to play, but I can count on him any time he's needed."

Reay called an early drill Friday and 11 of the 20 Hawks turned out. Bobby Hull, Stan Mikita, DeJordy, Doug Mohns, Ken Wharram and Chico Maki were among those missing.

"They earned the rest," said Reay. "Some of the boys are still hurting, but we'll all be ready for the next game."

Second game in the best-of-seven series is scheduled Sunday night. It will be televised nationally in Canada by the CBC.

Hull, a doubtful starter in the first game Thursday because of a knee injury, will play, Reay said.

"His knee was sore during and after the game, but he'll be OK."

Mohns, victim of a recurring back ailment during the latter part of the regular NHL schedule, will also play.

"His back bothered him Thursday night," Reay said, "but he's one of the best old men with a sore back that I know around this league."

Meanwhile, Leafs returned to Toronto where they worked out Friday. Another workout is scheduled for today before they return to Chicago tonight.

Punch Imlach, Toronto coach and general manager, said the team returned to Toronto because of lack of practice ice in Chicago.

"And besides, I couldn't leave my team at loose ends for three days in Chicago. They'd never show up for Sunday's game."

The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. CST (8:30 p.m. EST) and after it both teams will travel to Toronto for the third and fourth games Tuesday and Thursday night.

If Leafs hope to capture the semi-final, they must win at least one game in Chicago, where they haven't posted a victory all season.

Amerks Win Bantam Title

Orval Thornton's and Gordon Coy's Amerks are the Belleville Minor Hockey Association's bantam "B" championship last night, defeating Johnny Semark's ANAF Dukes 4-3 in the second game of the goals-to-a-round series.

The Amerks won the round 9-7 after winning the first game 5-4.

The report of the game stated the score was 3-3 but only four goals were listed with the final count noted at 9-7.

Kerr was the big gun for the Amerks scoring three of the four goals. Reid got the other.

Mains and Bates had two assists each with Folly and Gay getting singles.

McCaffry, Haines and Duffy scored for the Dukes with Courneyea, Dalzard, Sewark, Lecky and Gardiner drawing assists.

The Amerks had all of the three penalties assessed during the game.

Bows Out Of Masters

Nicklaus; Shocks Golf World!

JACK NICKLAUS

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, who came into the 1967 Masters golf tournament as champion, bowed out Friday while underdog Bert Yancey says he is going to win his first slim coat-stroke lead as a reduced field, including one Nicklaus, goes into today's third round.

Nicklaus, the 210-pound Columbus, Ohio, strongboy who set the Masters record with a 271 two years ago, did not make the cut at 150 for the last two rounds.

His 79 gave him 151 for two rounds over the Augusta National course and represented one of the great collapses in golfing history. It also eliminated the last chance of making the Ryder Cup team.

"Everything I did was wrong," Nicklaus said after he finished the first defending champion to fail to make the cut. He was shooting for an unprecedented third straight Masters' title.

Yancey, who led by three strokes the first day, said he had some bad luck.

"I was playing well enough to increase my lead, not decrease it," he said after an errant round of five pars, six birdies and seven over-par holes.

That gave him a 73 for 140 and a one stroke lead over Bobby Nichols, Gay Brewer, Julius Boros and 22-year-old English pro, Tony Jacklin.

George Archer, who had Friday's best round at 67, was alone at 142. Tommy Aaron and Doug Ford were bracketed at 143.

Gary Player, the South African who was the Masters in 1961, was at 144 among with Paul Harney, Australian Bruce Devlin and U.S. Open champ Billy Casper.

One of Canada's two entrants survived the cutoff. George Knudson, the Winnipeg native playing out of Toronto, added a two-over-par 74 to go with his opening 72 round 72 to stay in contention.

Knudson is in a group at 146 that includes Arnold Palmer, 73-73; Doug Sanders 74-72 and Gene Littler, 74-72.

Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., the U.S. Amateur champ-pion, had his putting miseries again and missed the cut when he shot a 74 to add to his first-round 77.

In all, 55 players made the cut for the last two rounds.

Ask Replacement

"19 Millionaires"

NEW YORK (AP)—Aqueduct remained closed today, and its closeness is causing anxiety among the state's legislators.

The big track shut down Wednesday when owners refused to enter horses in protest over legislative failure to increase purses.

For a time Friday, it looked like racing activity would resume today with a unique one-race card. George D. Widener entered Ring Twice and the Jacky Sabin of Dr. Leon Levy entered Model Fool in the $50,000 added Excelsior Handicap, and the New York Racing Association announced a one-race program would be held.

But later it was NYRA president Edward T. Dickinson issued the following statement:

"There will be no racing at Aqueduct Saturday due to the fact that both entries in the Excelsior Handicap were withdrawn by their owners because they felt no useful purpose would be served."

Seymour Thaler, Democratic state senator, has called on the state racing commission to replace the "19 millionaires" who are NYRA trustees because the trustees not only run the track and fix purses but also run their own horses and win most of the purses.

In the state capital of Albany, aides of Rockefeller and Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, a Democrat, continued to meet in an effort to find a solution without calling a special session.

Quebec Playoffs Renewed

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Henri Crochetiere, president of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, said Friday that Eastern Canada intermediate A playoffs are being held this year for the first time since 1942.

Teams from the Maritimes, Quebec, Northern Ontario, Ontario and Ottawa branches of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association are to take part in the playoffs.

Mr. Crochetiere said there had not been many intermediate A teams before and the request for playoffs in that category had not been made in several years. The only team in playoffs were junior A and senior.

Port Erie of the Ontario division is to play at Fredericton, N.B., today in a best-of-three semi-final series.

The winner of the Fredericton-Port Erie games meets Kapuskasing of the Northern Ontario district next week. The following week, the winner of the Fredericton - Kapuskasing contest meets the winners of the Rimouski - Rockcliffe game in the finals.

Bruins Take Tyke Crown

Bruins won the Belleville Minor Hockey Association tyke championship last night playing the Rangers to a 5-1 tie.

Bruins captured the title 7-2 on the two-game, goals-to-count round having won the first tilt 6-1.

Barry Bear scored for George Beech's Rangers with an assist going to Bob Crawford.

Peter Coates was the marksman for Gilbert Grout's Bruins with Louis Scanlan getting the assist.

Centennials Meet Bata In Final Game

The Belleville Centennial hockey team winds up its first season in Trenton Sunday evening.

The team meets the Bata Braves in the final game of the year, starting 7:30 in the Community Centre.

The Centennials are proud of their record. They won 12 of 13 games losing one to Picton.

Lose To Morrisburg

Aces Drop Opener 8-5

BROCKVILLE (CP) — With their first five goals scored on power plays, Morrisburg Combines downed Kingston Aces 8-5 Friday night to take the first game of their Eastern Canada Allan Cup best-of-seven semi-final series.

Morrisburg led the Aces 3-2 at the end of the first period and went into the third with a 6-3 lead.

The Combines opened scoring with a goal by Bob Aube at the 6.26 mark and added another goal less than two minutes later by Ed St. Louis. Derek Holmes scored at 11.13.

Kingston retaliated with goals by Davey Jones at the 13.29 mark and Bob Rawson at 16.29.

BREAK TIE

Tom Carty tied the game for Kingston at 3.32 of the second period only to have Morrisburg again take the lead with goals by Doug Casselman, Jim Forrest and Mel Tomalty.

Bob Rawson put Kingston back in the game with a goal at 4.23 of the third period, while Morrisburg responded with goals by Pat Brophy at 9.20 and Bill Craig at 11.55. Kingston's final goal was scored by Charlie Coovery at the 12.11 mark.

Morrisburg outshot Kingston 40-33 and received five of the 16 penalties handed out during the game.

The second game of the series will be played Sunday afternoon in Brockville with the third and fourth games in Kingston Tuesday and Wednesday.

Marlies Edge Rangers

Wings Oust Flyers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It took Hamilton Red Wings more than an hour to get through the third period Friday night but it was worth it.

The Red Wings made it to the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A final by defeating Niagara Falls Flyers 4-3 to win their semi-final with eight points — on three victories and two ties.

The Flyers had won two games.

The third period took more than an hour to play because of fighting on the ice and an attempt by fans to attack Hamilton coach Eddie Bush.

In the other semi-final, Toronto Marlboros got superb goaltending from Bob Whidden to edge Kitchener Rangers 3-2. The Marlboros have three wins, two losses and one tie. A tie in Kitchener tonight would give them the series with eight points.

Down Two To Barons

Americans On Brink

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Rochester Americans, defending Calder Cup champions, are on the brink of elimination in their best - of - five American Hockey League quarter-final series with Cleveland Barons.

The Barons scored on four of their first seven shots Friday night to defeat the Americans 4-3 and take a 2-0 series lead.

In the other quarter - final game, Quebec Aces downed Baltimore Clippers 6-1 to even their series at one game apiece. Pittsburgh Hornets defeated Hershey Bears and face a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven semi-final.

Rochester took a 1-0 lead on Eddie Joyal's goal in the first period but the Americans came with goals by player-coach Fred Glover, Tom McCarthy, Wayne Schultz and Bob Lilwall.

The third game will be in Cleveland tonight and the fourth there Tuesday, if needed.

Claude Laforge scored three goals to lead the Aces. Guy Gendron scored two and Bill Sutherland, Andre Lacroix and Noel Price added the others. Jean - Marie Cosette scored for the Clippers with 40 seconds remaining.

Third game of the series is to be played in Quebec Sunday afternoon.

Unshaken Rangers Seek First Win!

By ALEXANDER FARRELL

MONTREAL (CP) — Apparently unshaken by a spectacular defeat Thursday night, New York Rangers seek their first playoff victory over the Canadiens in 39 years when they meet the Montreal club here this afternoon in the second game of their best - of - seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

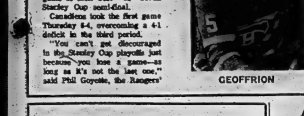
Canadiens took the first game Thursday 3-1, evened the 4-1 deficit in the third period.

"You can't get discouraged in the Stanley Cup playoffs just because you lose a game—as long as it's not the last one," said Phil Goyette, the Rangers' top point - getter and playmaker.

This is the first time in Goyette's four years with the Rangers that New York has made the playoffs, but he had seven playoff games with the Canadiens before they traded him.

Today's game, to be televised nationally by the CBC, starts at 1:30 p.m. EST.

Canadiens, defending Stanley Cup champions who are seeking to win the cup for the 15th time, returned to their Laurentian mountain hideout north of Montreal after a brisk workout at the Forum Friday.



Defencemen Jacques Laperriere, nursing a sore left leg, was absent from the practice and will miss today's game. Coach Toe Blake plans to draw Carol Vadnais.

The Rangers had a doubtful starter in Doyette. He pulled a groin muscle in the second period of Thursday's game when he tumbled over Canadien Bernard Geoffrion.

Geoffrion fell while trying to stop Jean Beliveau from behind as he was breaking in on the New York net. Goyette left the game in the first minute of the third period and he watched from the sidelines while the Rangers practised at the Forum Friday.

Francis said Goyette would skate before today's game to see whether he could start and stop without pain. If Goyette doesn't play, he said, Red Berenson may take his place on a line with Don Marshall and Bob Nevin.

The Rangers actually have an edge over the Canadiens in post-season competition, gained principally in the 1930s, when the two teams met in four playoff series and the Rangers won three of them. Over-all, the Rangers have taken four of seven playoff series from the Canadiens.

Outdoor Tips And Tricks

BY BOB BLAIND

This is the time of the year when just about all outdoor sports come to a standstill for a couple of weeks.

Ice fishing is over, rabbit hunting all through, pickerel and pike season is not open, brook fishing for speckled trout is slow due to high water, muskie fishing is a few days away, in fact snow and ground hog shooting is just about all that is left.

The Bay of Quinte is almost completely ice-free with just a few small coves holding any ice.

Ducks and geese are returning to our area from their country vacations, all in full plumage. Whistlers, bluebills, mallards and black ducks are in good shooting trim in the Quinte district awaiting their northern flight when all northern waters will be frozen.

Fishermen by the score are looking over new tackle for 1965, purchasing new lines and checking new lures for fish approval.

A new item on the market this year is the fish lure retriever, and let it down (tied to a thin, strong rope) to travel down the line to a snagged lure, pull and jerk and it is free.

Another new item is the new Centennial spincast reel by Shakespeare, a real good one.

French made spinning lures have always been good, with the top spinner for sure catch's the last couple of years has been the Mepps spinner.

This year a new spinner, made in France, called Techno 1000 Miller is on the market, tried and tested by a Canadian firm and proven to be a sure bet to compete, in catching fish, with the Mepps or ABU.

Several good spinning lines are on the market but the best there seem to be Trilene, Stren and Shakespeare 7000.

As for the good spinning reels the tackle survey used each year list, Lucas, Ambidex, Mitchell, Intrepid and Shakespeare as tops for value and service ability.

There are many good rods on the market but my good Canadian made rod such as Major, Shakespeare, Great Lakes or Blanchard stock rods will fill your needs in value.

Most of the blanks from which these rods are manufactured are built by one or two major rod companies and shipped to all the manufacturers in Canada and United States but some companies use a second or cheaper blank in some of the "special" rods not stocked by anyone really in the tackle or sporting goods business. They are made for a price to sell at a price.

The outdoor fishermen have not had a chance to try their luck as yet but it won't be long now.

Some small specks have been caught in local creeks this week but high water still will let you fish properly for these tasty little fish. Another week or so and lower water conditions will make for better fishing.

Lake trout trolling is only two or three weeks away, so time is really flying.

Just as the ice goes out of these lakes in the north is the best time to fish for grey trout with a spinning outfit from the shore- Small Williams, RCB's, Daredevils, Flashbacks or Banabees produce good results for this type of fishing.

At Washington Monday

Yankees, Tigers, LBJ Open Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Major trades, a few retirements and a mastering of injuries add up to a talent shuffle of about 33 per cent from the 1964's opening lineups when the big leagues start the baseball season Monday and Tuesday.

Washington Senators will jump the gun, as usual, with their special presidential opener as with President Johnson invited to throw the first ball.

New York Yankees, who ousted the Senators from their traditional house by the Potomac, will provide the opposition Monday afternoon at D.C. Stadium opening the non - presidential play at the American League game will be the unveiling of Mickey Mantle as the Yankee first baseman.

Cincinnati Reds open the National League season at home Monday. The usual sellout crowd at Crosley Field will get its first look at manager Dick Bristol's new triple shift lineup with Pete Rose in left, Deron Johnson at third and Tommy Helms at second.

The Cincinnati face also will be the first to view the local Los Angeles Dodger mixture, without Sandy Koufax and Maury Wills.

Rookie Gene Michael, obtained from Pittsburgh Pirates in the Wills deal, will play shortstop and Bob Bailey, another former Pirate from the same transaction, will be in left. Wes Parker, the first baseman, will be in centre because of Willie Davis's sprained ankle, and Ron Fairly, the right fielder, will play first. Jim Lefebvre, former Met, will be on second.

Baltimore and Pittsburgh have been established as the two favorites by the sports writers, the sportscasters and the pros at Las Vegas. Minnesota Twins and Detroit Tigers are supposed to furnish the most opposition to the Orioles. San Francisco Giants and Atlanta Braves are expected to challenge the Pirates.

After the two Monday games the 16 other clubs will swing into action Tuesday.

Baltimore, the defending champion which won the pennant by nine games and then swept the Dodgers in a four-game World Series, opens at home against the Twins, strengthened by the addition of pitcher Dean Chance from the Angels. It will be Jim Kaat, the 25-game winner, who will oppose Jim Grilliam in the opener.

Mayor Smith, the new Detroit manager, will send the Tigers against California and the Los Angels in Anaheim, Calif., in a night game.

Joe Adcock, the Angels' first baseman last opening day, will be the dugout as new Cleveland manager when the Indians open at Kansas City in another night game.

Dick Williams, the new Boston skipper who formerly managed Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, also will have many changes from the lineup Billy Herman sent out last opening day when the Red Sox open at home against Chicago White Sox.

Pittsburgh visits Shea Stadium to face New York Mets. Philadelphia Phillies will bump Ken Hokaman, already being billed as new Koufax, when they face Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field.

The Atlanta powerhouse will be in the Astrodome to take on Houston Astros. The night contest will be the first National League game for former Yankee Clete Boyer, now the Braves' third baseman.

St. Louis Cardinals will also have night action in what figures to be a free pitching duel between the Cards' Bob Gibson, a 21-12 performer, and the Giants' Juan Marichal, the $100,000 dandy with the 25-6 record.

Two Against Marichal

Batters Blast 25 - Homer Barrage!

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty-one home runs were hit in five exhibition baseball games Friday, including a pair by two outfielder sluggers against Juan Marichal, San Francisco Giants ace.

Homers accounted for all of the runs in Atlanta Braves' 4-3 11-innings victory over Minnesota Twins and Philadelphia Phillies' 8-7 triumph over Pittsburgh. Those two games provided 14 of the day's long shots.

Hank Aaron's second homer of the night won the game for the Braves, his 3rd had tied the score in the bottom of the ninth with his first.

Mack Jones and Joe Torre also connected for the Braves and Rich Rollins, Harmon Killebrew and Zoilo Versalles for Minnesota.

Johnny Briggs tagged a pair, the second with two on in the ninth, lifting the Phillies past Pittsburgh Pirates. Don Lock and Doug Clemens also homered for Philadelphia.

The Pirates got homers from Bill Mazeroski, Andre Rodgers, Roberto Clemmine, Manny Mota and pitcher Pete Mikkelsen.

In Friday's other games, San Francisco defeated the University of Santa Clara 7-3, Cincinnati Reds downed Cleveland Indians 6-3 and Houston Astros shaded New York Yankees 4-3. The game between Chicago White Sox and Chicago Cubs at Oklahoma City was rained out.

Marichal, the Giants' $100,000 right-hander went seven innings in a final tuneup for Tuesday's opening day assignment against the Cardinals and was tagged for homers by Santa Clara's Al Strange and Rod Austin. Jim Davenport, bidding for San Francisco's shortstop job, clubbed a three-run homer and a single.

Pete Rose and Dick Simpson hammered homers for the Reds with Simpson's a three-run shot in the second inning.

Larry Dierker worked seven scoreless innings for Houston against the Yankees. The Astros pushed across the game's only run in the third inning.

Knudsons World Of Golf

By GEORGE KNUDSON

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Ashamedly to tell you something about just small those magnolia blossoms look at that dogwood in bloom!

There is nothing else quite like the Masters.

Augusta, Ga. is a long, long way from Winnipeg where it all started and to get here I had to walk.

That's right — the equivalent occasionally, aided on golf courses across Canada and later across the U.S.

What's it like for a Canadian on the tour? Well, this author will give me an opportunity, and I hope, to pass on a few tips that may help you improve your game.

It's one thing to play on the professional tour and an entirely different thing to be invited to play this Augusta National course. This is it — every golfer's dream.

To win it would be realizing every ambition.

I started swinging a golf club when I was 16 years old and a caddy at Winnipeg St. Charles Club. Little did I realize where it would lead.

I learned soon as many tournaments as I would like, but golf has provided me with a good living. I consider myself to be one of the few individuals fortunate enough to earn a living doing what they like best.

It was in 1955, when I was 18, that I realized it wasn't impossible for a Canadian to make a career in golf.

That was the day I heard the news that Al Balding of Toronto, now my close friend, had won the Sanford Open. That was the first victory by a Canadian on the tour and the thing that gave the rest of us confidence.

That same year I played with Stan Leonard of Vancouver in the Canada Open and asked him if I could caddy for him the next win'er. I saved my money from working around the pro shop at Winnipeg and headed for California.

I was labeled a caddy in the Crosby in 1956 and caddied for Balding in the Los Angeles Open that same week. Although I had just won the Canadian junior championship, the tour looked a long way from home.

But in 1957, instead of caddying, I paid my way to the U.S. and played in a couple of tournaments as an amateur.

My big break came when I headed east, to the Oakdale Club at Toronto and won the British American Motors Burnary. This money helped me to play the U.S. tour in 1958 and I was fortunate enough to win the Burnary, then sponsored by McNaughton-Brooks, for the next three years.

This, plus financial help from Oakdale, gave me my start on the tour.

I was very disappointed when the Burnary was cancelled and did some work between tournaments this year trying to get it started again.

Continue next week all the help they can get to make it in big time golf.

Should a "non-swinger" visit swinging Britain?

Yes. Very definitely! Because Britain is just as lively or leisurely as you care to make it. It's simply a matter of choice. Some of our passengers fly to Britain for a swinging vacation. Others prefer the things which are uniquely British—the friendly pubs, the gentle countryside. The pomp. The pageantry.

Only BOAC with Air Canada flies direct to Britain, and this summer we offer you the choice of up to 12 jet services a day from Toronto and Montreal. And there are several flights a week from western Canada; including direct Western Arrow services to London.

Plan your trip now. See your BOAC travel agent and he'll get swinging with all the necessary arrangements.

Morton Shulman: Misguided "Sir Galahad"—Dr. Cotnam

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Morton Shulman, fired Friday as chief coroner of Metropolitan Toronto, is a practising physician who has devoted much of his recent life to raising the blood pressures of fellow officials and doctors to unhealthier levels.

He is a kind crusader for such things as better medical procedures, automobile highway safety measures and liberalized abortion laws: a connoisseur of fine art, amateur politician, world traveller, near - millionaire and author.

He combined the last two callings in 1962 by bringing out a book called "Anyone Can Make A Million," though he said later no one should be allowed to.

His financial acuity was legendary heretofore long before the book came out, and in a $1,000,000 court case involving stock market procedures a few years ago he was called as a witness to explain the intricacies of the "put and call" system of playing the market.

Dr. Shulman is a slender, youthful-looking man of 42 with a ready and guileless smile, has tangled indiscriminately with political and professional friend and foe alike. He was a Conservative appointee who had the occasional clash with Liberal federal officials, but his biggest concussions have been reserved for his superiors in the Ontario Conservative government.

One of his headline-making targets since he became chief coroner four years ago has been sloppy work on the part of his medical colleagues, and he has probed unsavory doings among some in a series of searching inquests into deaths that otherwise might have been passed off without publicity. Results have included the disciplining of several doctors and changes in hospital procedures. He pictures himself as a Sir Galahad on a white horse trying to clean up all the corruption at once," Dr. H. Beasty Cotnam, supervising coroner for Ontario, once said. "It was a first tangle with Dr. Cotnam that put Dr. Shulman out Friday.

Before that, he had busied heads over a period of years with a miscellany of officials up to and including a couple of attorneys-general, each time coming out unscathed. A former deputy attorney-general tried to get his job abolished, but that didn't work. Premier John Robarts summoned the battling coroner to his office during one uproar a couple of years ago, only to emerge to announce he was not being fired.

The incident came after the publication of Dr. Shulman's annual report, which was so explosive that civil servants would not publish it and he had to pay the printing cost himself.

All the incidents have contributed to make Dr. Shulman the best-known coroner in Canada, though he contends that he has merely been doing his job the way it should have been done all along, without cover-ups for doctors' lapses. The job pays $9,000 a year, somewhat more than adequate to cover the salary of the gardener at the doctor's $70,000 home.

"If I had to live on that salary," Dr. Shulman once said, "I'd have to think a lot before I upset anyone's applecart."

Your Car

Keep Close Watch on Tire Wear

By EUGENE B. MILNOE

How can you tell whether or not a tire is safe? According to rubber industry research and test-engineers, there are several conditions which should be checked.

Tread wear is the first factor. Anything less than a minimum tread groove depth of 2/32 of an inch is now termed unsafe. Next on the experts danger list are sidewall cracks, scuffs or cuts which bare any part of the cord. The same warning applies to tread damage deep enough to expose body cords. Finally, excessive tires for bumps, bulges, knots or separations, and replace any which reveal such defects.

When you've made certain tires are in safe condition, don't stop there. You must also be sure they're kept properly inflated and that they are not endangered by overloading.

From N.B.: "I can hear a clanking sound whenever I quickly feed gas or slow down. Sounds like it might be the transmission or rear axle. Can you advise?"

My guess is that it's due to universal-joint trouble.

L. N. asks: "Ever hear of an 8-cylinder '65 model that runs smoothly, economically and with pep at all times, but has a top speed of 75 mph? That's the car I just bought."

This is probably due to faulty throttle linkage adjustm e n t which causes the gas pedal to hit the floorboard before the throttle can fully open.

B. T. writes: "I always use premium gas and my dealer says ignition timing is set according to factory specifications. Yet, I've been getting a spark knock since I bought this '66 sedan a few months ago. Would appreciate your opinion."

Engine overheating can cause this. If that's the case, try having the timing retarded a few degrees. This is sometimes the remedy, even when the original setting is exactly as specified.

From H.P.: "In 43 years as a driver, I've never heard anyone but you say that carburetor trouble can cause engine overheating. Just how can you explain this?"

If carburetor adjustment or condition is such that the fuel mixture is much too lean, engine temperature can climb to abnormal levels. In fact, if extreme, even burned valves might result.

RC Bishops Extend Plea For Political Enlightenment

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's Roman Catholic bishops capped a week of precedent-smashing actions Friday with an eloquent plea to politicians to rise above passion and seek fair solutions to ethnic conflict.

The bishops called on Canadians in a 4,000-word centennial message to banish hatred, injustice and prejudice.

"The chief malady of Canadian society" was described as deep and growing discontent among French - Canadians and resulting "uneasiness" among the English - speaking Canadians. This called for enlightened politics.

". . . Men must take account of the truth that political and legal structures are a means, not ends and therefore susceptible, as history shows, of constant reform."

The 85 bishops urged Canadians to "find a political setup" by fair compromise that would protect the autonomy of Quebec and the rights of minorities.

No peace could come to Canada until the existence of the French - Canadian people was recognized as a social fact. Quebec had a right to provincial autonomy, so long as the province respected "the greater common good" and the inviolable rights of the English-speaking minority.

The bishops appealed for fair treatment of all ethnic minorities, including Indians, Eskimos, mixed-blood peoples, mixed marriages involving a non-Catholic partner, but time ran out and the topic will be the subject of conferences in Montreal in May, 1968, to urge the government to step up foreign-aid and the domestic war on poverty.

—Set up a national relief fund for medical and educational aid to developing countries everywhere, regardless of the religious beliefs of the recipients.

—Drop the traditional Roman Catholic boycott of the Young Men's Christian Associations, provided YMCA religious programs are prepared by interfaith committees.

—Request the Vatican to permit detailed news coverage of the world synod of bishops, to open in Rome Sept. 29.

The bishops also discussed relations with Canada's Protestant churches and Eskimos have often had to endure, and sometimes still endure, the effects of disease, the ethnic conflict, prejudice, ignorance, soldier-settlement and even injustice.

A new political structure was needed to "allow the French community of Quebec, more and more aware of its own identity, to obtain the conditions necessary for its own development, while respecting the well-being and the rights of other Canadians."

Attack Missiles 'Best Defence'

WASHINGTON (CP) — Eurolean members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization appersonally back U.S. Defence Secretary Robert S. McNamara's contention that the best defence against nuclear attack is a potent missile offence.

Defence ministers of seven NATO members, including Canada, were reported to have shown little interest in anti-ballistic missile defence systems during the two-day meeting of NATO's nuclear planning group which ended Friday.

Instead, sources said, ministers forming a NATO nuclear preparedness committee, urged expansion of the U.S. missile striking force. McNamara is said to have told them the U.S. has five to six times as many deliverable nuclear warheads as the Soviet Union.

Some members of Congress are urging that the U.S. deploy an anti-ballistic missile defence system to shield key American cities. Their interest is spurred by deployment of a Soviet ABM system around Moscow.

But McNamara, who estimates cost of ABM deployment at about $40,000,000,000, has argued that the U.S. best defensive bet is development of more effective offensive missiles.

He has said deploying ABMs would only add fuel to the offensive arms race by repairing the U.S. and the Soviet Union to develop more sophisticated offensive weapons.

At President Johnson's request, the U.S. and Soviets recently opened negotiations with U.S. envoys aimed at forestalling an ABM race between the two nations. But the Soviet are believed to have insisted that the talks include limiting offensive nuclear weaponry as well.

McNamara is reported to have told other NATO defence chiefs the U.S. now possesses 1,446 intercontinental ballistic missiles, both land- and sea-base, plus nuclear weapons that can be delivered by 630 long-range bombers.

He is said to have estimated Soviet nuclear strength at 470 ICBMs and 155 intercontinental bombers.

Other members of the nuclear planning group are Britain, Italy, Turkey and The Netherlands.

The committee said in a communique NATO's offensive nuclear capability is adequate. The emphasis now would be on exploring "ways of preventing a further spiral of the arms race."

The committee was set up to give non-nuclear countries such as Canada — but particularly West Germany—more access to nuclear military information.

Most powerful fertilizer ever developed —
7-28-28 IS THE ANSWER TO HIGHER CORN YIELDS

Take our high analysis 7-28-28, and compare it to 8-20-20. Add up the plant food units and you find 40% more plant food in Agrico 7-28-28.

What does this mean in savings for you?

First, your handle less fertilizer. You can see the difference in the two piles, yet both piles contain the same amount of plant food.

Second, you can make more rounds in the field with the planter, without refilling. Where you apply 6-20-20 at 280 lbs/acre, you need only 200 lbs/ acre of Agrico 7-28-28 to get the same amount of plant food into your soil.

Third, Agrico 7-28-28 is agronomically sound for the major crops and soils in Ontario. It's just right for corn and spring grain. Agrico 7-28-28 is high in phosphorus for early maturity and high in potash for sturdier stalks. Talk it over with your Agrico dealer now. He'll get you started on an Agrico 7-28-28 program right away. You can get it in bulk or 80 lb. bag.

Association for Mentally Retarded Plans Campaign

NAPANEE —Members of the Lennox and Addington Association for the Mentally Retarded heard Mr. Percy Rennerstein tell of life in Trinidad at their meeting this week in Happy Day School. Mr. Rennerstein, whose parents were born in India, is himself a native of Trinidad. He is now in the English department at the NDSS. He dwelt on the daily life of the people of Trinidad, and especially of the facilities in education. He himself founded a high school there.

The question period which followed was much appreciated.

Much of the attention during the business meeting was focused on the forthcoming Flowers of Hope campaign, of which Mrs. Fritz Juhlusen is chairman. Members and friends are now busy packaging the between six and seven thousand packages of common seed, which will be mailed out prior to the opening of the campaign, the week of Mothers' Day, May 14. Canvassers will visit the homes in the county that week soliciting donations for the Association, which is establishing a building fund. At present the school is being held in a one - roomed school on the Loyalist Road, known as the Richmond Area School Authority. Ten pupils have been receiving instruction there this year from Mrs. Forman Martin. This is the maximum for one teacher, and a bigger school is necessary, as there are many more children who should have the benefit of this training.

Mr. Juhlusen is now organizing the campaign, but so far has not secured captains for North or South Frederickburgh, nor for rural Ernestown nor Adolphustown. President Harold Todd announced that Mrs. H. C. Pile had consented to be the honorary chairman of the campaign.

"Open House" will be held at the school May 10, just prior to the opening of the campaign. The tea...

Witness Says Speck Made Comment Nurse Killer "Was Sex Maniac"

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Richard Speck, accused of killing eight nurses, was the subject of his trial as talking tavern acquaintances a few hours after the massacre: "Whoever did it must have been a sex maniac."

The testimony came Friday as the state strove to prove that Speck, 25, spent July 14, the day of the killings, trying to hide his identity on police who already were on his trail. He is charged with strangling or stabbing the nurses in their townhouse dormitory.

Robert (Red) Cavrald, who shipped briefly with Speck on an oil tanker, identified a beer-tavern with the defendant less than eight hours after the girls were slain.

They visited one bar, Gerrald said, where a woman and man "had brought up about three nurses being killed," Gerrald said.

"So Richard, he made a statement to the bartender, 'Whoever did it must have been a sex maniac.'"

Gerrald said the drinking coincided with the Shipyard Inn where Speck had a room. The witness said he was lying down in Speck's room when the defendant entered and said he had received a telephone call and that he had a job.

Gerrald said both men left the inn in a taxi and that he last saw Speck at 87th Street and Ewing Avenue, where Gerrald left the cab.

William Olson, an employee of the National Maritime Union, testified that he received a call from Speck at 3 p.m. July 14. He said he told Speck that he had a job for him and that the defendant said he would arrive at the union hall across the street from the dormitory in which the nurses were slain, an an hour.

"I remained there until 5:30 in the evening," Olson said, "and Speck failed to appear."

A police sergeant testified that the union hall was watched for three hours by police who had arranged with Olson to try to lure Speck there.

Vacant School Topic of Discussion

DESERONTO — Like many other communities, Deseronto has a vacant school and is wondering what to do with it. The school Keefe is the only building on a large lot a town block in area, with Highway 2 bordering on the south side. Most of the Deseronto high school pupils have been going elsewhere, most of them to Napanee. Two years ago Deseronto joined the Napanee and District Collegiate Institute area.

At Monday night's meeting of the Town Council, a motion was passed to make an offer to the Public School Board, now the owner, to purchase this property. The property committee headed by Councillor Robert Huffman, will open negotiations with the property committee of the school board, headed by Henry Rands. The question is complicated by the fact that if and when the property is disposed of, a high percentage of its assessed value will be turned over to the Department of Education.

At the same meeting, Councillor Huffman reported that several tenders had been received for installing a tile floor in the town hall, and a new roof on the fire hall. Also, Councillor Brooks chairman of the police and fire department, has received several tenders for a police cruiser. Both men were authorized to open the tenders and to bring the recommendations of their committees to the council meeting April 17.

Negotiations are continuing with the Township of Richmond regarding the cost of fire protection for the west section of that township, it was reported. Two bylaws were passed. The first authorized the levying of the tax rates, and the second established daylight saving time from the end of April to the end of October.

Two Bowlers Roll 400's

Three weeks ago in the Bridge Trail League at the Bowl-O-Drome Harry Ridley and Leo Lurcicis established a record when they both rolled a 400 plus game, Harry 410 and Leo 403 (the first time ever for two in one night.)

It happened again in the same league last night and the stars this time were Jim Nicholls with 417 and Jack Calnan an even 400. Jack's 400 came in his first game of the four-game league. Jack had 8 hits, missed for a spare in the ninth and came back with two more strikes.

Jim's big game came in the third of his four games when he came up with 10 beautiful strikes then punched a head pin with his eleventh ball.

He then started his fourth game with 7 consecutive strikes followed by a head pin, strike and corner pin for 337.

Jim's 417 is now high single for the league.

Y's Activities

Whiteman Celebrates By Dancing

NEW HOPE, Pa. (AP)—While a small combo played the songs that made him famous, bandleader Paul (Pops) Whiteman toasted his 77th birthday with dancing and champagne.

Whiteman told about 300 persons who honored him at the annual dinner-dance of the New Hope Historical Society one night of the night in 1924 when he band introduced George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue.

Gerrald said the drinking coincided with the Shipyard Inn where Speck had a room. The witness said he was lying down in Speck's room when the defendant entered and said he had received a telephone call and that he had a job.
